"BREAK DOWN THE BARRIERS"

1981 has been the "Year of the Disabled" and to develop an awareness of the disabilities of people within the community came the slogan: "Break Down the Barriers." This is a motto which we might apply for different reasons to ourselves within the School.

The School is a specialised community dealing with the education of students for life in society. As a community it is made up of segregated groups; each Year is separated from the next in its outlook, in degrees of maturity, understanding and achievement. There also tends to be a segregation between the staff and students, a barrier which does, however, tend to break down as the student progresses towards Year 12.

The way in which we can best break down these barriers is firstly through communication and secondly through school spirit.

Ideally communication should be sought through the tutorial system in which all years in the senior school are drawn together in five small groups with one staff member withing the larger group of the House.

The Year Representative system which aims at providing "feed-back" from Years 8, 9, 10 and 11 to the prefects, is also geared to increase communication within the school. These systems, however, can only be as effective as tutors and boys make them.

Well, what of school spirit? What is this quality which all schools desire? It is a pride and interest in the achievements of the school, that is of ones fellow students.

Many people think of these achievements solely in terms of sport, which is only partially correct. It is true that when a school's first teams are winning, every member of the school takes an interest in the success of the team and there is a pride in belonging to the school, but other achievements in which we can take pride are those in the academic field.

The individual can gain success in such things as the Science Talent Search, Mathematics competitions or the Duke of Edinburgh awards.

Achievements need not necessarily be gained in competition of course. There is a sense of achievement for those who sing in the choir, play in the orchestra, paint, perform in the school play or take part in cadet training.

Most of us tend to play down these achievements while placing the sporting successes on a pedestal. It may be the regular emphasis placed on sports in the Friday Assembly because of the sports reports and first team lists which are read out, but surely this is an attempt to increase school awareness and communication. In any case student success in other fields does receive recognition in School Assemblies. The problem may lie elsewhere — perhaps in the competitive nature of the Australian culture, the general interest in outdoor activities, the feeling that cultural pursuits are of little real value.

Maybe when we take an interest in all the activities of our fellow students and breakdown the barriers of sectional interest between them we can achieve a true pride in our School's achievements and obtain this "School Spirit" to a marked degree. Again it is left up to the individual to decide what he wishes to put into the School so that himself and the School may benefit.

MR. PETER MOYES,
THE RETIRING HEADMASTER

"I suppose the thing I hoped to do was to create a school where young people could learn to think for themselves . . . the thought of turning people out in a particular mould horrified me and horrifies me still. I hoped to create a community where there was tolerance and understanding of the needs of other people, an environment where there was a real interest in learning and a love of it and where the students could come to appreciate the problems of the world."

P.M. Moyes in a student interview in 1975.

A TRIBUTE

Peter Moyes was born on July 9th, 1916 and educated at St. Peters College, Adelaide, and The Armidale School, N.S.W., completing his B.A. at St. Paul's College, Sydney University just prior to World War II. He was an assistant master at Canberra Grammar in 1939-40, and then joined the A.I.F., where he served with distinction in the Middle East and New Guinea until 1945. He then resumed his teaching career at King's School, Bruton (1945) and Winchester (1946-1948) before returning to occupy the post of Senior History Master, Geelong Grammar in 1949-1950.

For Christ Church Grammar School the immediate post war years had been a period of considerable flux and uncertainty. A small school of 200-250 students, it saw rapid changes of headmasters and staff in this time and its future had been the subject of considerable debate until an independent Council was appointed to take control of its affairs. It was with hopes for a period of both stability and growth that this Council welcomed the young Peter Moyes as Headmaster in 1951.

No doubt the strong Christian upbringing of this son of Bishop J.S. Moyes, his education, and his service to both country and schools, contributed to the formation of a most clearly defined philosophy of education in which the ideas of personal fulfilment and service have ever been dominant, and which cannot be better described than in his own words, quoted above.

The early years saw him carefully assemble a staff who were to gather inspiration from him and share in the development of the community he envisaged. From the outset it was apparent that academic excellence was to figure largely in the programme for development of the individual, and within a very short time of his arrival the results of this became apparent to the people of this State. His careful selection of staff, not only of scholastic and teaching ability, but those who identified largely with the perceptions he had of a good church school, led to the formation of a strong team. As the reputation for scholarship grew, so did the influx of able students, their parents seeking an environment of stimulus and growth. These parents too were to form a strong arm of the developing team that was to support and nurture Christ Church. From the earliest times, in his Speech Night reports and through his many meetings with them, Mr. Moyes succeeded in filling them with confidence in the future of the fast developing school.

The results became rapidly evident. Following the first exhibition winner from the school in 1957 another forty-three came in the next twenty-four years. Moreover, the school has produced four Rhodes Scholars in recent years, again a testimony to the development not only of excellence but also of service that the Headmaster has promoted.

Mr. Moyes obviously realised from the beginning that in a world of accelerated change, the nurture of scholarship and personal achievement demanded an environment that offered the best of facilities in modern education and this called for a massive reorganization of buildings and grounds. From the time of his appointment the school has not ceased to change and renew itself. Moreover his tireless energy, devotion and conviction were such that the Appeals launched to finance the expansion and renovation of the school received enormous support.

Starting with classrooms, and continuing with modern Science Blocks, a swimming pool, a superb Physical Education Centre, new grounds and facilities at Mt. Claremont, improving boarding facilities culminating in the new McClemons House, the activity in this area has been of such extent that old scholars returning here after a lapse of years found the place transformed. And in keeping with his views on the central place of Christian thought and practice in such a school as ours has been the siting and construction of the School Chapel in its lovely and dominant position in the grounds, a focus for worship and assembly within the School.

In harmony with our Headmaster's ideas of the development of the whole person, his contribution to the development of sporting ability in the School has been no less substantial, although we would have no doubt that in his philosophy of education, the development of the mind and spirit carried the greater emphasis. From his earliest years at the school he showed a special interest in training long distance runners and ability in this area has become an athletic tradition at Christ Church. The spectacular development of Rowing on entry to the P.S.A. in 1957 is a highlight in the School's sporting history, and Mr. Don Fraser, who contributed so much at this time, will testify to the keen interest and great encouragement from Mr. Moyes in this area.

Moreover boys in all age groups and all sports have come to expect him as a spectator throughout their school careers and value the touches of personal encouragement so often they have received. Be it the Year 8B Cricket team, the 4th XI Hockey, the school gymnastics teams or the 1st XVIII Football, each team and its members has known and appreciated his care and interest.

Many a student and old boy can ascribe his own success in Music and the Arts to the stimulus received at the school where Mr. Moyes through his policies has given continued encouragement.

In Australian education, much is expected of the Independent School Headmaster in the way of public involvement and commitment. Despite his tremendous devotion of time to the School, Mr. Moyes has in addition made a contribution to State and Commonwealth which demands admiration and gratitude.

Space does not permit one even to list all the areas in which he has been involved but his contribution to the work of Independent Schools' Education Committee and its teacher development activities, to the Headmasters' Conference of Australia, and to the Schools' Commission on funding and development of education throughout the whole country have been outstanding and brought Australia-wide recognition. At a time when this country has seen unparalleled interest in and devotion of resources to education we can be proud of and thankful for his tireless work.

Moreover, in an era where public debate on education has often been narrowly based and at times acrimonious, his insistence on co-operation between all systems of education as the only logical way to operate has been refreshing and it was indeed fitting that in a tribute to him at Synod in October, Mr. Kim Beazley should emphasise his dedication to improving education for all Australians.

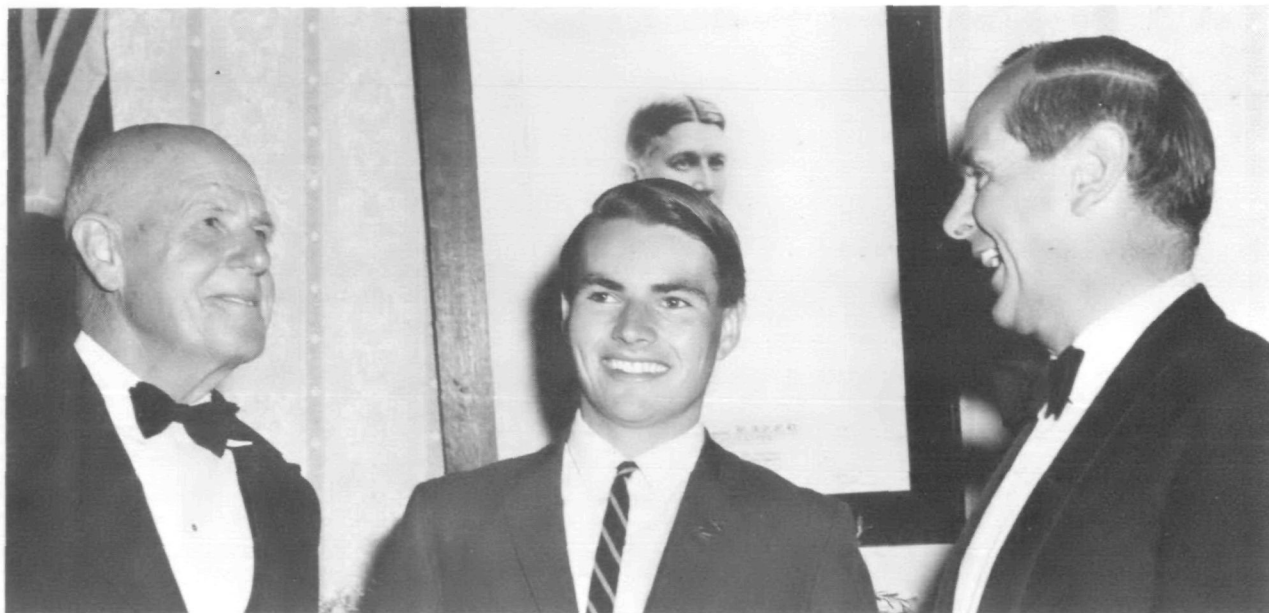

Many staff, students, and parents have in troubled times sought Mr. Moyes' guidance, and found strength and help in his advice, understanding and compassion. This is surely the hallmark of a fine headmaster. As this December brings 31 years of dedicated service as our headmaster to its close, we join with all those who have already spoken at many functions during the year in thanking him for all he has done.

May retirement bring him and his gracious wife, Judy, all that they would wish, a blend of the activity that has always been part of their lives and the serenity that must surely be part of their reward.

The photographs on the following pages record some of the memorable occasions during thirty one years' service.

1958. A sporting triumph when Christ Church wins the Head of the River for the first time. With the Headmaster of Scotch, Dr. Maxwell Keys, after the presentation.

1967. The Old Boys' Association Jubilee Dinner. H.N. Boys (School Captain 1915-16) and J. Allen-Williams (School Captain 1967) join the Headmaster.

1967. The Headmaster assists Mrs. McHenry in the naming of the "Jimmy Allen".

June, 1967. A major Building Fund Appeal is launched. With the Headmaster and the Campaign Chairman, Mr. W.K. Witt, and its President, Sir Eric Sandover.

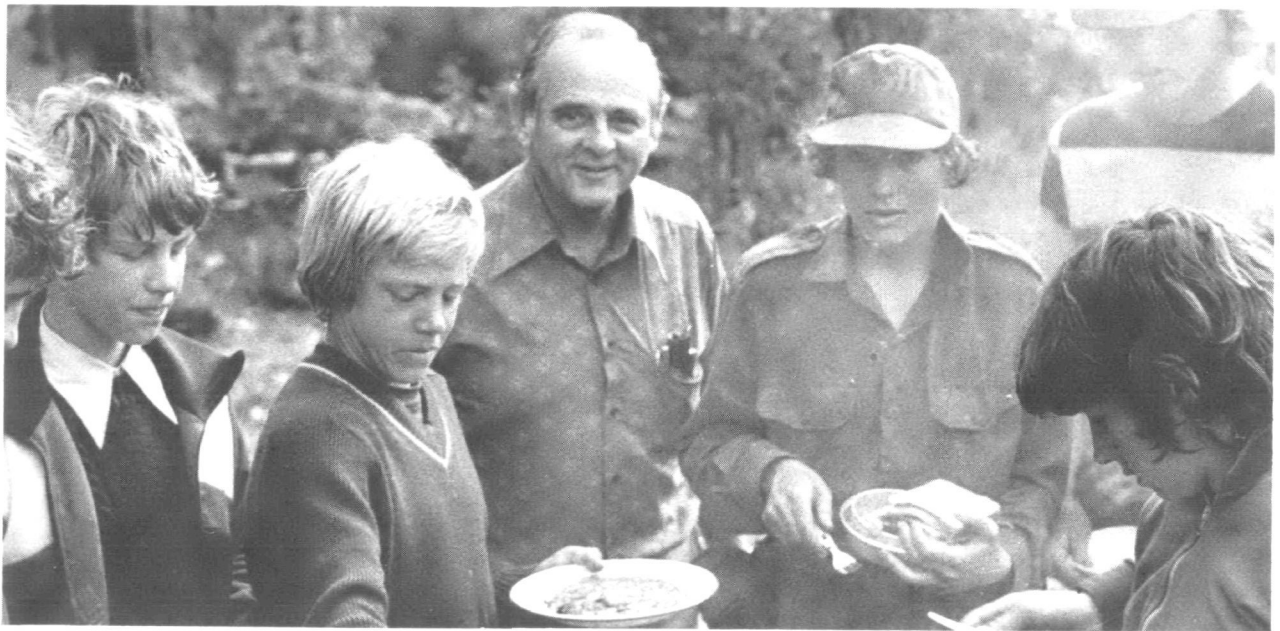

August, 1970. At the Diamond Jubilee Dinner with Sir Norman Giles and the Chairman of School Council, Mr. J.H. Lord.

May, 1970. A moment of joy and pride. The late Archbishop Sambell, assisted by Rev. G. Harvey, dedicates the School Chapel.

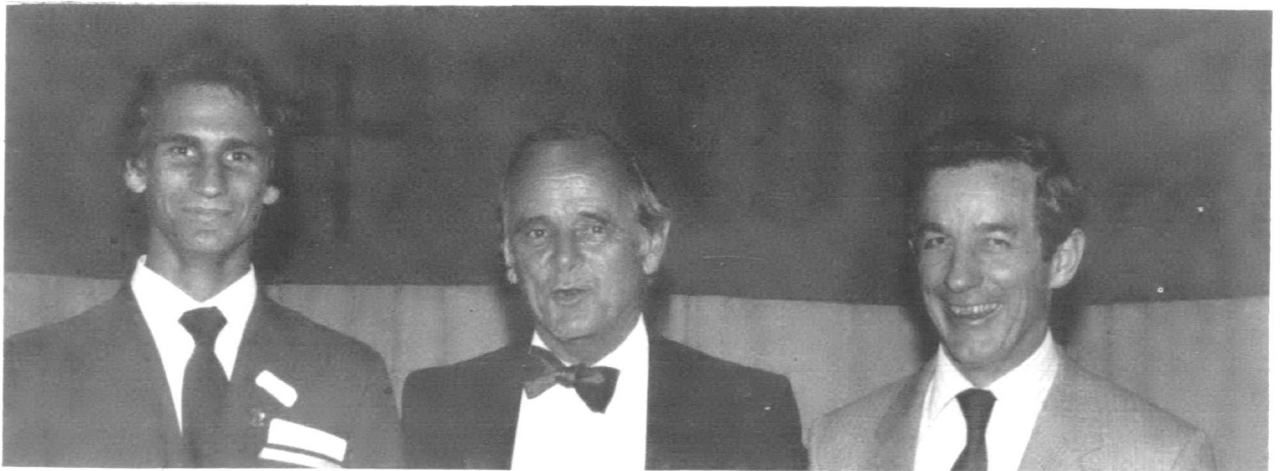

April, 1976. With Mr. A. Prior and Mrs. Bullmore at the door of the new Selwyn Prior Library.

1979. A more informal occasion — the Year 9 camp at Koorngal.

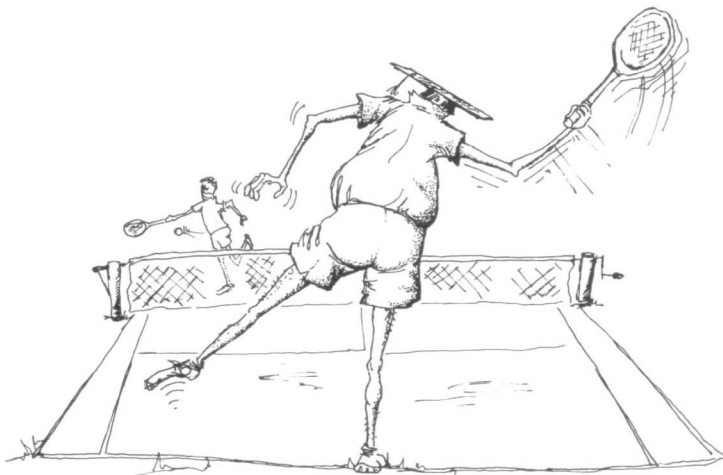

August, 1981. 31 years of service honoured at the Old Boys' Dinner. With Dr. L.E. Ward (Captain of School 1952) and R.P. Cullingford (Captain of School 1981).

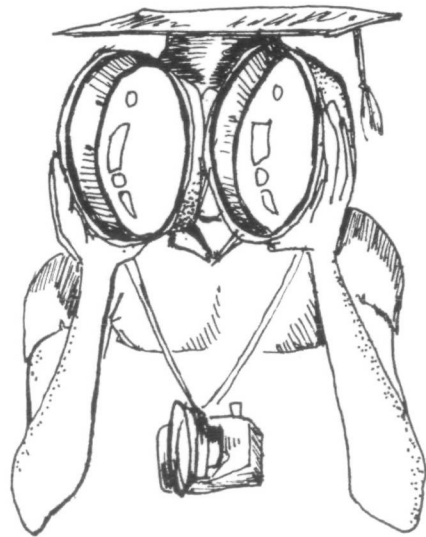

... and in a lighter vein.

David Gulland who also retires this December after five years of illustrating his own and other boys' files, accepted our commission to present a student's view of 'The Boss'.

He is obviously seen as a man of many parts.

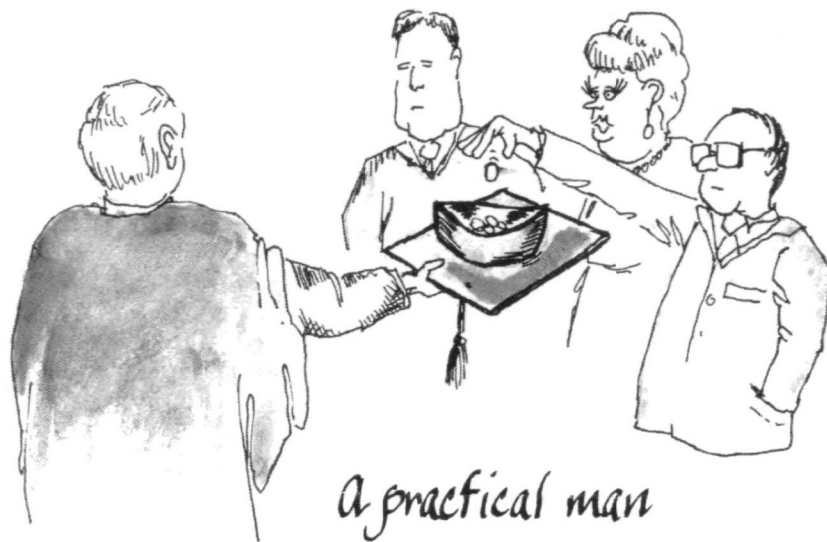

an active sportsman,

a man who does not miss much,

and who cares about the environment;

a practical man

who exerts his influence in many subtle ways.

MR. MOUNTIER RETIRES

For many years, Mr. Mountier was a very active member of the Gilbert and Sullivan Society and made quite a name for himself in the role of Koko the Lord High Executioner in the "Mikado".

We offer no apologies to those who may miss the allusions made in this article but merely advise them to amend the fault by referring to that particular Savoy Opera. — Ed.

"YOU'VE A VERY GOOD BARGAIN IN ME"

It was Third Term, 1967 when Mr. A. A. Mountier, no doubt wafted by a favouring gale as one sometimes is in trances, joined the school staff.

Called upon to act professionally, he showed his versatility by teaching English, Geography and History. It was not only in the academic field, however, that he was to shine. By 1977 he had got a little list of musical productions to his credit as well: 1972, "The Boy Friend"; 1973, "The Pirates of Penzance"; 1974, "The Mikado"; 1976, "Nicholas Nickleby"; 1977, "Salad Days".

His flair for classroom discipline also stood him in good stead in 1968/69, his two years as Quartermaster with the School Cadet Unit. All funny fellows, comic men and clowns of classroom life — they'd none of them be missed; he had them on the list, if any of them dared to interrupt an apostrophe!

Mr. Mountier officially took over the Boatshed in 1968 and the actual coaching of the First VIII in 1980 and 1981. It was fitting that his final year should have been crowned by winning the Head of the River. Success for him, however, was always measured in terms of team effort, an attitude he imparted to the boys. When told, as he sometimes was, that his professional conscientiousness was highly creditable to him, but it placed others in a very awkward position, he would quote, "My good sir, the awkwardness of your position is grace itself compared with that of a man engaged in the act of cutting off his own head!" It was a reply in character. Those who have heard him from afar know that, in spite of all his meekness, if he has a little weakness it's a passion for a flight of thunderbolts.

Now the School wishes him well on his retirement. We wish he would wait until he was "eighty in the shade", but no doubt he himself thinks he is "sufficiently decayed for a ruin that's romantic". Therefore, I shall close this valediction, or I shall hear the famous Mountier bark: "Will you refrain from putting in your oar?", but not before I wish him, on behalf of the School, a fulfilling and productive retirement. The School has indeed had a very good bargain in him.

ROWING

1981 proved to be a very successful year for the Christ Church Boat Club, with the 1st VIII winning the Head of the River and the 2nd VIII achieving a well-deserved second.

This year saw the return of the rowing summer camp. This camp, held on the Murray River near Pinjarra, was a great success. It moulded the rowers into the basis for a fine boatshed. Much credit must go to all those who helped organize the camp, especially Mr. Holloway, Mr. Dixon and Mr. Mountier who gave up seven days of their holiday time to organise and run the camp. I hope that such camps will be continued in future years.

The club continued this season to participate in Association events and met with mixed success, with the younger crews trying hard to improve their times during the season. The 2nd VIII proved themselves time and time again in these events, winning a pennant at Canning Regatta and taking out their event by two comfortable lengths at the Wesley Regatta.

As the Head of the River approached it became apparent that the day would see some very keen rowing. Race day finally arrived and the high spirited Christ Church fleet took to the water. Again all crews tried desperately hard and results were very pleasing despite the appalling weather. When it came to the second VIII's, the race was started but it had to be stopped midway through, so badly had the conditions deteriorated. The first VIII, determined to halt Aquinas' run of an undefeated season prepared for the start. The water was rough, and after two aborted attempts and one false start, the race began. We were in the leading crews until the 600 metre mark when the series of incidents began which were to make this particular race the most controversial in the history of the event. At this point the Wesley coxswain blew a whistle to signal his crew and simultaneously Hale, the heaviest crew in the race, sank. In the confusion that followed, Aquinas, Scotch and Trinity all faltered, enabling the Christ Church crew to gain a length on Aquinas. We held on to win by the narrowest of margins.

Our victory was a very fitting reward for our coach, Mr. Mountier, as he is leaving us at the end of the year after many years of fine service to the Boat Club. It is Mr. Mountier who deserves much of the credit for the crew's success. his constant and tireless efforts enabled the crew to develop its full potential just at the right stage in the season and become winners of the Head of the River. He will be very much missed in the boat shed next season.

Our thanks to the many coaches who helped us during the season, to Mr. Ninham for his work with the second VIII, Mr. Scook the coach of the under 16 VIII, and Mr. Hammond and Mr. Oxnam for their efforts with the fours. A special tribute should be paid to those who work with the Middle School rowers, for it is from the ranks of Years 8 and 9 that the Head of the River crews of the future come. Thank you, Mr. Ryder, Mr. Grant, Mr. Hutchinson, Mr. Mountier and Dr. Downing. Thanks also to Mr. Grant for his efforts in the endless task of maintaining the fleet throughout the season. Finally, our special thanks must go to the Master-in-Charge of Rowing, Mr. Holloway, for his organization throughout the year.

To next year's crews and coaches, good luck and good rowing.

SWIMMING

The season began in first term with R.P. Cullingford being elected captain, A.G. Salom vice-captain, J.W. Horton committee man. With these formalities observed the training was ready to begin.

Our coach, Mr. Bowker, assisted by Simon Martin and the multi-talented Mr. Grist, pushed us through the first month of cold mornings.

The first event on the calendar was the house sports. These were conducted in high spirits and produced some outstanding efforts. Rob Cullingford broke the Open 50m Freestyle and Breaststroke records. In the under 16 Gavin Michael broke both the 50m and 100m Breaststroke records. as usual of recent years Craigie came out on top at the end of the night.

The individual champions were: R.P. Cullingford, Open; G. Michael, U/16; A. Brogan, U/15; B. Beresford, U/14; N. McDonald, U/13.

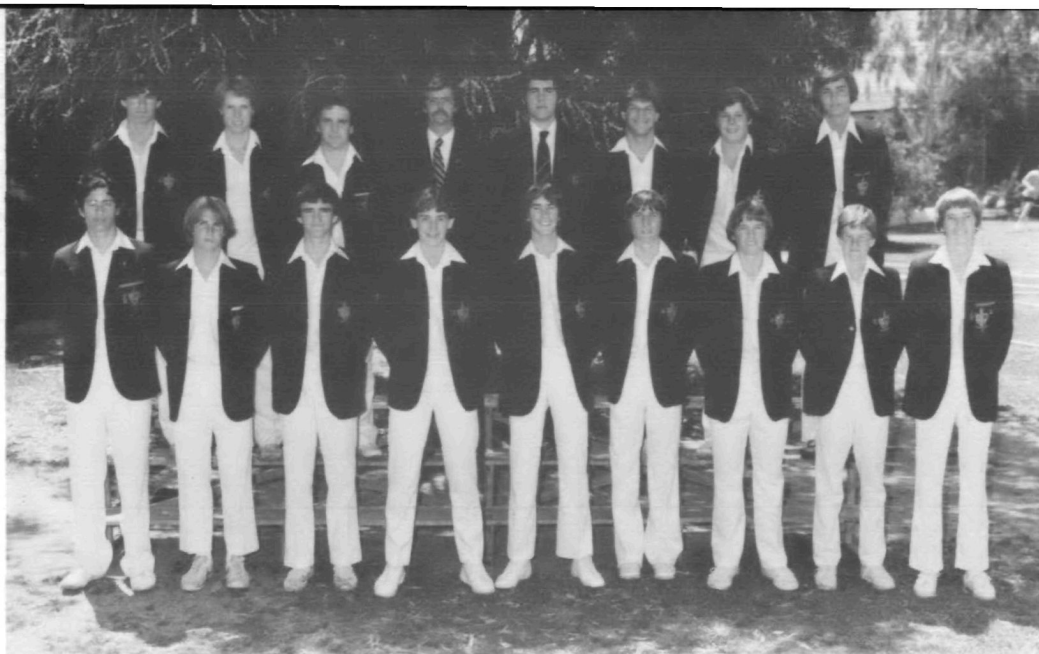

Our next event was the Quadrangular sports conducted at Christ Church. This was an eventful night with many swimmers doing well, especially Y. Mah. Wesley ran out winners. This was followed by our annual swim meet against M.L.C. which was rated as the second most important event on the calendar as far as the team was concerned. It wasn't bad as a swimming carnival either.

The Big Event on 21st March came and the team was fired up for a good night. While Wesley, Hale and Scotch battled out first, second and third, Christ Church firmly secured fourth position. Notable swims were recorded by D. Burton in the U/16 Backstroke, and B. Beresford in the U/16 Backstroke. In the last event of the evening, the open freestyle relay, Christ Church ran first, the team of R. Cullingford, T. Plester, A. Salom and Y. Mah breaking a 10 year old record.

And so the season drew to a close with both tears and cheers. Our sincere thanks to Mr. Bowker for his time, effort and organisation, and to Mr. Martin and Mr. Grist for their work with us. Finally, good luck to all next year's swimmers and see if we can't gain third position next year. Good swimming.

CRICKET

Returning from England at the end of January, I was delighted to find the 1st XI squad already training hard in preparation for the Darlot Cup season. Many players displayed excellent early form in the nets and one could sense the confidence of the senior members, led by captain Julian Johnson, vice-captain Todd Jenkins and selector Adrian Pate.

Unfortunately the trial match against the "Old Boys" shattered some illusions! The weaknesses in the team were soon revealed. The batting was brittle, the general fielding poor and there was a lack of discipline among the players. These factors were to plague us all season.

In fact, I am disappointed to report that the 1st XI has had their worst season on record. The team did not win a single match and moreover lost three matches outright. This was all the more disappointing when one considers some of the individual talents in the team and that the XI had won several matches in 3rd term, 1980.

Despite our poor overall results, there were some great individual performances during the season. Lewis Green bowled extremely well throughout and should develop into an outstanding fast bowler as he gains more experience. His 6-53 against Wesley and 4-44 against Taverners being his best performances. Todd Jenkins produced a fine 52 against Aquinas and bowled well against Scotch to take 4-37. Ben Constable scored a fine double of 59 and 29 not out against Hale and fielded consistently well throughout, taking some great catches in the gully. Brett Wrightson improved as a keeper with every game, and showed form with "the long handle" scoring a good 30 and 27 twice. James Clarke had an impressive debut scoring 38 against Guildford and then 22 and 32 against Wesley. Simon Johnson scored 35 against Wesley, while brother Julian always looked like making runs but unfortunately only managed a top score of 35 for the season. Other players tried hard and many will have benefited from their first season with the 1st XI and are expected to perform well in the coming Darlot season.

It is highly significant to note that the senior players were unable to reproduce their performances of the previous year, which always left the young players under pressure. Equally crucial is the fact that during the season 30 catches were taken, yet at least 24 were dropped!! "Catches win matches!!!"

The 1981/82 training programme must focus on physical fitness, development of teamwork, fielding skills and the achievement of consistent performances by each player. We all look forward to the challenge.

I could not close this 1st XI report without expressing my sincere thanks to Tim Richards who has been our reliable and enthusiastic scorer, and to our magnificent band of mothers who always produced the finest afternoon teas. Many thanks.

Other Teams

Firstly I would like to express my gratitude to all the coaches who have assisted during the season. Your enthusiasm and coaching advice have been greatly appreciated.

It was most encouraging to see some of the excellent results achieved by individuals and teams throughout the school. I especially congratulate the Yr.9A team on their excellent season. Keep it up!

TENNIS

The First VIII Tennis for 1981 continued where the 1980 team left off — losing. In fact, the only match we won for the season was against an invitation VIII and this by the margin of one game.

When it came to the P.S.A. tennis — the opposition almost invariably proved too strong for us. There was one occasion when we managed to stave off the threatening arms of defeat, this being against Guildford — the match was drawn.

For the rest of the season our efforts were constantly thwarted by our lack of consistency of form. This not only plagued the lower members of the team but also our highly acclaimed top four players, including State Squad member Tony Marsh and the team's two smallest members Scott McGregor and resident Year 9, Robbie Phillips. It became a disappointing habit to be leading after the first round (top four singles and lower two doubles) only to go down at the end, often by rather large margins.

Tennis was not all bad, however, for Christ Church this year. The Year 8 first team shared exceptional skill and determination throughout the season and finished in first position in the competition. Stars abounded in this team and although the whole team played consistently well, the top four, Kelly, Venerys, Hart and Gillam, stood out.

The second best team performance was by the Year 10 VIII who played soundly and consistently all year to finish in fourth position.

Rear (L-R): A.K. Grose, H.G.R. Willis, A.P. Marsh.
 Row Two: Mr. P.J. Rickey, M.V. Hogan, C.W. Bradshaw, M.W. Diffen.
 Front: A.J.H. Cole, T.L. Watts, S.M. McGregor, R.S. Phillips.

The Year 9's, after a good start to the season, were unlucky to lose a few close contests, and their sixth placing was not really a good indication of talent. The loss of Robbie Phillips to the First VIII was a severe blow but performances by Cameron McGregor, David Elsey and David Anderson were excellent.

The Second VIII also came sixth in their competition and tried hard all season.

Thanks must go to all coaches, especially Mr. Rickey, the First VIII coach, and I would like to thank the First VIII committee of Tony Marsh and Andrew Cole. All outgoing tennis players would like to wish next year's teams the best of luck.

Throughout the 1981 football season most Christ Church teams struggled to find determination and the necessary ball skills to beat the better disciplined opponents, and results as a whole were largely disappointing.

The 1st XVIII season started during the May holidays with the holding of the Interstate Quadrangular Carnival. This is an annual event and for this year Christ Church played host. The competition was with Peninsular School, our good friends from Victoria who were billeted by Christ Church boys, Guildford Grammar and Scotch College. Football, although the main sport, was not the only one, others included tennis, basketball and volleyball. The football team managed to win their only game of the season during this carnival when a magnificent last quarter fightback saw us clinch victory against Scotch in the dying moments. The enjoyable social activities that backed up the days' sports sent the Peninsular guys back home dead on their feet but as always, all concerned had a great time.

Results during the season proper were poor in the senior school. Taking into account all P.S.A. football fixtures only one match was won during the season in the upper school, that being the U/16 A team's opening game. The first XVIII shared a disappointing lack of intestinal fortitude in many of their matches but results might have been better had it not been for a maddening habit of starting to play at quarter or half-time instead of when the first whistle blew. We were also plagued with illness and injury to players which severely depleted both morale and talent. These unlucky ones included Philip Shephard, Mark Bonadeo and Mayne Pegus. Among the best performers in the team during the year, three stood head and shoulders above the others in terms of dedication and performance. They were our captain Ian Putt, committee man Craig Lawrence, and No. 1 ruckman, Mal Thomson. The team had a majority of Year 11s and this lack of experience may have affected early performances of the team but these members, having gained experience, should give the competition a real shake next year.

The Seconds and Thirds U/16 As and Bs seemed to fluctuate from good to bad in their attitude to the game but the majority of matches were well fought.

In the middle school the results were many times more pleasing. The Year 9A team was the most successful football team in the school. They managed to defeat all teams they played except Aquinas, which is a top-class effort. Perhaps the older boys could follow their example for guts and determination. The other four teams in the middle school, the 9Bs, 8As, 8Bs and middle school Cs all shared great spirit and splendid fighting qualities, and these were rewarded with wins.

All teams, I am sure, would like to thank their coaches for putting in the work they did during the season. I would also like to thank Mr. Watkins and Mr. van Kempen on behalf of the 1st XVIII for not giving up on us when you went unrewarded by success.

Good luck to all teams for next year and we can only hope that next year's report will not be quite so depressing.

 J.R. Johnson (Vice-Captain).

The 1981 Rugby season was somewhat disappointing after the winning spree of last year. The 1st XV team had ten players left from 1980 including three State under 16 representatives and we understandably felt that at long last the Redmond Cup lay within possible reach. But it was not to be.

The first game was played against the old Boys who fielded the strongest and most disciplined side for many years. Although we lost, it was a good test for the team and the new players fitted in well.

To start the P.S.A. season we held a fitness camp at Koorinal. This was very helpful and forward instruction by Mr. Tom Price, the 1980 State Under 16 coach, was very beneficial.

The first three games of the season were very successful and we recorded convincing wins against Hale, Scotch and Wesley. Then against Trinity our fortunes changed and we lost an unsatisfactory game by a narrow margin. Teamwork and spirit declined and injury and sickness exposed our heavy dependence on one or two experienced players. But after further discouraging losses, particularly to Scotch, we fought back and recovered some of our earlier form in the last two matches of the season.

The forwards were set a fine example by Gordon Raitt and in his absence due to injury, Rory Butcher and hooker Bradley Lyons led well. Our scrummaging improved over the season but we did not have the weight and experience to exert the necessary control. At their best the backs displayed a high level of skill and enterprise to score some brilliant tries but they lacked consistent concentration and determination.

Rugby is above all a team game and a persistent streak of individualism was responsible for many of our problems. But one aspect of the game dependent on individual skill is goal-kicking and special mention should be made of the outstanding contribution in this regard of Julian Johnson over the three seasons he has played for the 1st XV. In twenty-nine games he was responsible for 109 points, of which 101 came from his kicking skill.

We were well represented in State teams this year and our congratulations go to Julian Johnson, Bradley Lyons and Gavin Thomas on their selection for the W.A. Schoolboys team which travelled to Melbourne, and to Luke Jones and Simon Johnson on their selection for the State under 16 team which played in Scone, New South Wales.

A young and inexperienced 2nd XV team played with great heart against stronger teams but was frequently disrupted by calls on players to assist the 1st XV. David Welch was an able captain and he was well supported by Derek Hodge and Mark Fraser. Aaron Wilson won the award presented by Nedlands Rugby Club for the most improved player and Brett McKenney was the fairest and best.

We could only muster a 3rd XV on four occasions but on these the team showed considerable promise and scored two convincing wins.

The Middle School was an entirely different story. The Year 9's remained undefeated after two seasons, recording three victories by over 100 points and beating Trinity in the last game of the season by 202 points to nil which is only 12 short of the score by Rudford School in 1886 which is featured in the Guinness Book of Records. All players played well. The best were David Raitt, Paul Jenkins, Martin Harland, Neil Bowman and Andrew Moore. The Year 8's also had a good season and their determination and enthusiasm won many games. The best were Simon Temptra, David Trembath, Andrew Rumfitt, Thomas Warden and Jarda Stienstra.

Finally, thanks must go to the coaches of the teams, to Professor Pate and Messrs. Woollett, Gardner, Clarkson and Hammond for their efforts in the Senior School, and to the Rev. Jarvis and Mr. Lund for theirs in the Middle School.

HOCKEY

With only three members from last year's First XI squad returning for the 1981 season, we faced a difficult season. This provided opportunities for many younger players but it also presented problems.

The task confronting our coach, Mr. House, was considerable. He had a squad of individuals and so he began the slow, difficult process of channelling our youthful "exuberance" into constructive play, i.e. moulding us into a team.

This was further complicated because our basic skills were not up to standard necessary to perform well in First XI matches.

Success was very limited this year but we did finish the season better than we started. After failing to score a goal in our first two matches we recorded two wins in the second half of the season reversing losses to Hale and Wesley in the first round.

The experience of this year's First XI should serve as a lesson to all hockey players. We learnt the hard way — that the basic skills of hockey must be continually practised. This applies to hockey players of all ages, and if the skills are learnt thoroughly and practised constantly at an early age the game becomes more challenging and rewarding. Modern hockey is a game of possession and all players must be able to perform basic skills such as trapping, pushing, hitting and creating space if the team is to retain possession of the ball.

Matches are won on the training field — "you play as you train". During the 1981 season our victories — only two — followed excellent training sessions.

In other teams there were many players with considerable potential. The Year 8A team finished the season well and there were some promising moments of play from both Under 16 teams and the Year 9A team. It is to be hoped that for the future of hockey at Christ Church they learn from our experiences.

GYMNASTICS

The 1981 gymnastics season was again, as in previous seasons, successful in many areas.

First term was spent in hard preparation for the on-coming season. Training continued throughout the two week break as the major phase of the competition season neared. Invitational competitions were held at Christ Church in final preparation for major "meets" in the early stages of second term.

The first major competition was at The Len Fletcher Pavilion on the level six and seven State titles.

Results: Level 6 — 2nd Peter Salom, 3rd John Anderson; Level 7 — 5th Peter McSkimming, 7th Novak Jol.

The following weekend the Level 8, 9 and 10 (Level 10 — Olympic Level) State Championships were held.

Results: Level 8 — 2nd David Kitchen, 3rd Cameron Robinson, 4th Douglas German, 5th Warwick Wilson; Level 10 — 2nd Scott Isbel (no optionals; injured).

Next on the agenda were the "Home" championships.

U/15 Walkers Cup — 1st P. Salom, 2nd M. Taylor, 3rd J. Anderson, 4th D. Stone.

Levels 6, 7, 8 Rear (L-R): N.A. Jol, D.A. German, D.J. Kitchen, P.N. McSkimming.
 Row Two: C.L.A. Scott, Mr. A. Kovacs, S.P. Ferguson.
 Front: P.C. Salom, O.J. Stone, J.M. Taylor.
 Absent: J.S.D. Anderson, F.J. Vallentine, M.C. Michael.

Level 5 Rear (L-R): D.E. Boerlter, P.G. Blake, Mr. A. Kovacs, T.A. Ingleton, J.A. Maslen.
 Row Two: D.S. Bloomfield, C.C. Sprogog, W.K. Elischer, J.P. Dodd.
 Front: J.M. Jacobs, P.J. Riley, D.R. Giles, M.A. Sparco.
 Absent: G.A. Anderson, P.B. Hirsch.

Preparatory School Rear (L-R): Mr. A. Kovacs, T. Ingleton, E.C. Wilson, A. Petrelis.
 Row Two: S.J. Power, A.A. Miller, T.D. Bayer, P.J.I. Dale, P.O. Maraldi, T.J. Kuehlmann.
 Front: J. Mann, A. Eldred, G.P. Dodd, A.W. Giles, H. Bell.
 Absent: L. MacNamara, M. Eilon, M.P. Miller, C. Maher, P. Kish.

Open McLagan Cup — 1st D. Kitchen, 2nd D. German, 3rd P. McSkimming, 4th N. Jol.

The last but perhaps most important competition of the year for Level 17 and upwards gymnasts, who had been selected in the State team, were the National Championships in Melbourne. It was an exciting experience and all Christ Church gymnasts competed admirably:

In Level 7 — P. McSkimming — placed.

In Level 8 — D. Kitchen — placed 5th, D. German — placed 20th (Doug German had suffered injured fingers in warmups but competed bravely throughout).

Once again the success of the Gym Club can be attributed to the unceasing efforts and dedication of Mr. Kovacs. His patience, determination and encouragement have been reflected in the positive attitudes of his gymnasts towards the sport.

It may be interesting to note the return of one of Mr. Kovacs' star pupils, Olympic gymnast, Lyndsay Nylund, who is recuperating from knee surgery but hopes to be back in action next year.

Thanks must also go to Mr. Moyes and the teaching staff for their support and interest throughout the year. Also we must gratefully acknowledge the continued support of parents, judges and students at each competition.

In closing I would like to wish Mr. Kovacs and the Christ Church Gym Club good luck for the coming year.

Captain of Gymnastics

CROSS COUNTRY

The 1981 Cross Country season was one which allowed the sport to find its rightful place as a premier winter activity.

The senior school runners provided the most successful winter sports team, coming second to Aquinas by winning all but one of ten races. Unfortunately this meant the newly inaugurated Peter Moyes Cup went to Aquinas instead of Christ Church, which would have been very appropriate in Mr. Moyes' last year.

The team was made up of highly dedicated and spirited "lads". Such runners as J. Carrington-Jones, V. Conlan, D. Egginton, R. Heinrich and M. Reilly, all of whom were willing to give their all to conquer "The Mighty Hill". N. Drayton maintained his strong talent and was always placed high, winning several races.

The middle school was equally successful, coming second to a very strong Trinity Team. T. Drayton, G. Birchmore and D. Shalders were among the more prominent members of the team.

For yet another year Mr. Marsland's expertise has helped to develop our young runners which will ensure a high standard in the future. Mr. Marsland deserves a large round of applause from all.

The State Cross Country Championships held at Perry Lakes saw the true strength of our school lead the way. In the individual events over 4000 metres the under 13 team came first, with D. Shalders coming fourth. The under 15 and under 17 came second, despite tough competition. The open event over 8000 metres was yet another win. The following day saw the under 13, under 14, under 16 teams all finish first in a tremendous effort in the four 1600 relays.

It was a great weekend for Christ Church and a special mention should be made of E. Warburton who was selected in the W.A. State team.

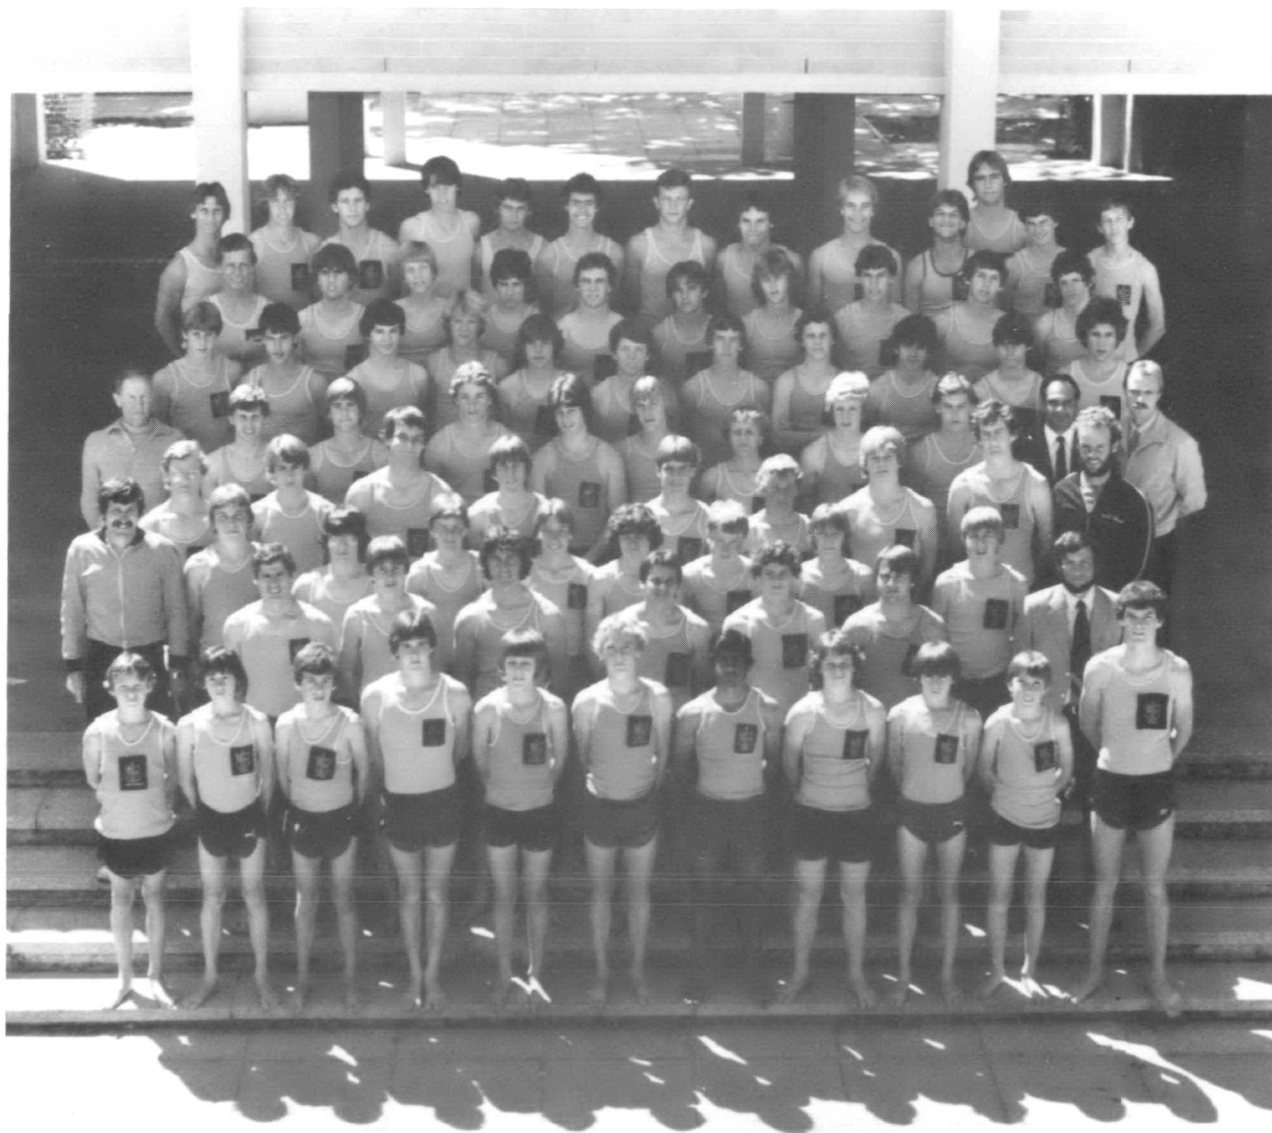

I have been very privileged to be able to captain the team which was moulded by one man, Mr. Merrells. His enthusiasm and general spirit carried us a long way. On behalf of the team I thank him for everything. I hope to see Mr. Merrells and all you fine men next year, so until then, "Keep on your feet".

ATHLETICS

The 1981 athletics season was a very undulating one for Christ Church. There were many excellent performances but over all the team lacked application. Training started in a low key with few people turning up consistently; this slowly improved towards the end.

The House Sports was once again won by a boarding house team. This year it was the turn of Walters who won narrowly from Noake.

New records at the House Sports were set by N. McDonald and T. Drayton in the U/14 High Jump and 1500m respectively, C. Bowman in the U/16 Discus, T. Thomson in the U/17 High Jump, R. Davies in the Open Discus and K. Forrester in the Open High Jump.

The Quadrangular Sports at Scotch College showed the importance of training when Christ Church finished a disappointing fourth after having won last year. The team lacked depth which had a marked effect.

New Quadrangular records were set by T.M. Thomson who cleared 1.88m in the High Jump, C. Shenton who ran 4.34.95 in the U/15 1500m and T. Drayton who set an inaugural record in the U/14 1500m.

A week later saw Christ Church lift themselves and manage a creditable fifth at the Inters. Best performances were by T.M. Thomson who amassed 117 points, which included wins in Division 1 High Jump and Hurdles, V. Conlan's double in winning the Open Division 1 1500m and being equal first in the 800m, A. Wilson's Division 1 win in the U/16 High Jump and S. Cox proving to the sprinters that hard work reaps rewards with his magnificent win in the blue ribbon event the Open 100m.

What would athletics be if we didn't have coaches? They form a very important sector of the team in organisation and training and are very much members of the team. On behalf of the squad members, I convey warm thanks to all the coaches for their time and effort.

To sum up, I have learnt from this season that there is no substitute for hard consistent training which Christ Church clearly lacked in most areas. However, this only leaves room for improvement which I am sure will come.

Vern Conlan
Captain of Athletics

BASKETBALL

The second year of official P.S.A. basketball was a great success with the first team coming a good third, beating Scotch, Aquinas and Hale.

Rear (L-R): G.J. Saggars, D.J. Moyes, T.M. Thomson.
Row Two: G.S.M. Raitt, N.M. Boyd, J.B. Carrington-Jones.
Front: A.J. Saggars, G.J. Ryan, C.A. Lawrence, I.J.W. Putt.

Once again three other Christ Church teams were fielded in the competition with all of them trying hard and playing some good basketball.

A whole new team was produced for this season, with Malcolm Thompson recruited from the tennis courts, and showing that his jumping abilities are not confined to the athletic field. Gordon Raitt capped off another tremendous season at the centre position, with high-leaping aggressive play. Aggressiveness also typified Neil Boyd's game, and along with Greg Saggars, both became valuable assets to the side. The smaller version of the Saggars brothers, Adrian, became our main link man with excellent ball control. The ever reliable Craig Lawrence was also a key person in the side, with incredible long shots and our main attacker with the fast break. Craig finished the season with a fine display of basketball against Aquinas.

Glen Ryan and John Carrington-Jones are both players with excellent skills and attitude, and both should be good players for next year.

This season the first and second teams both received new singlets, making us the best looking team in the competition.

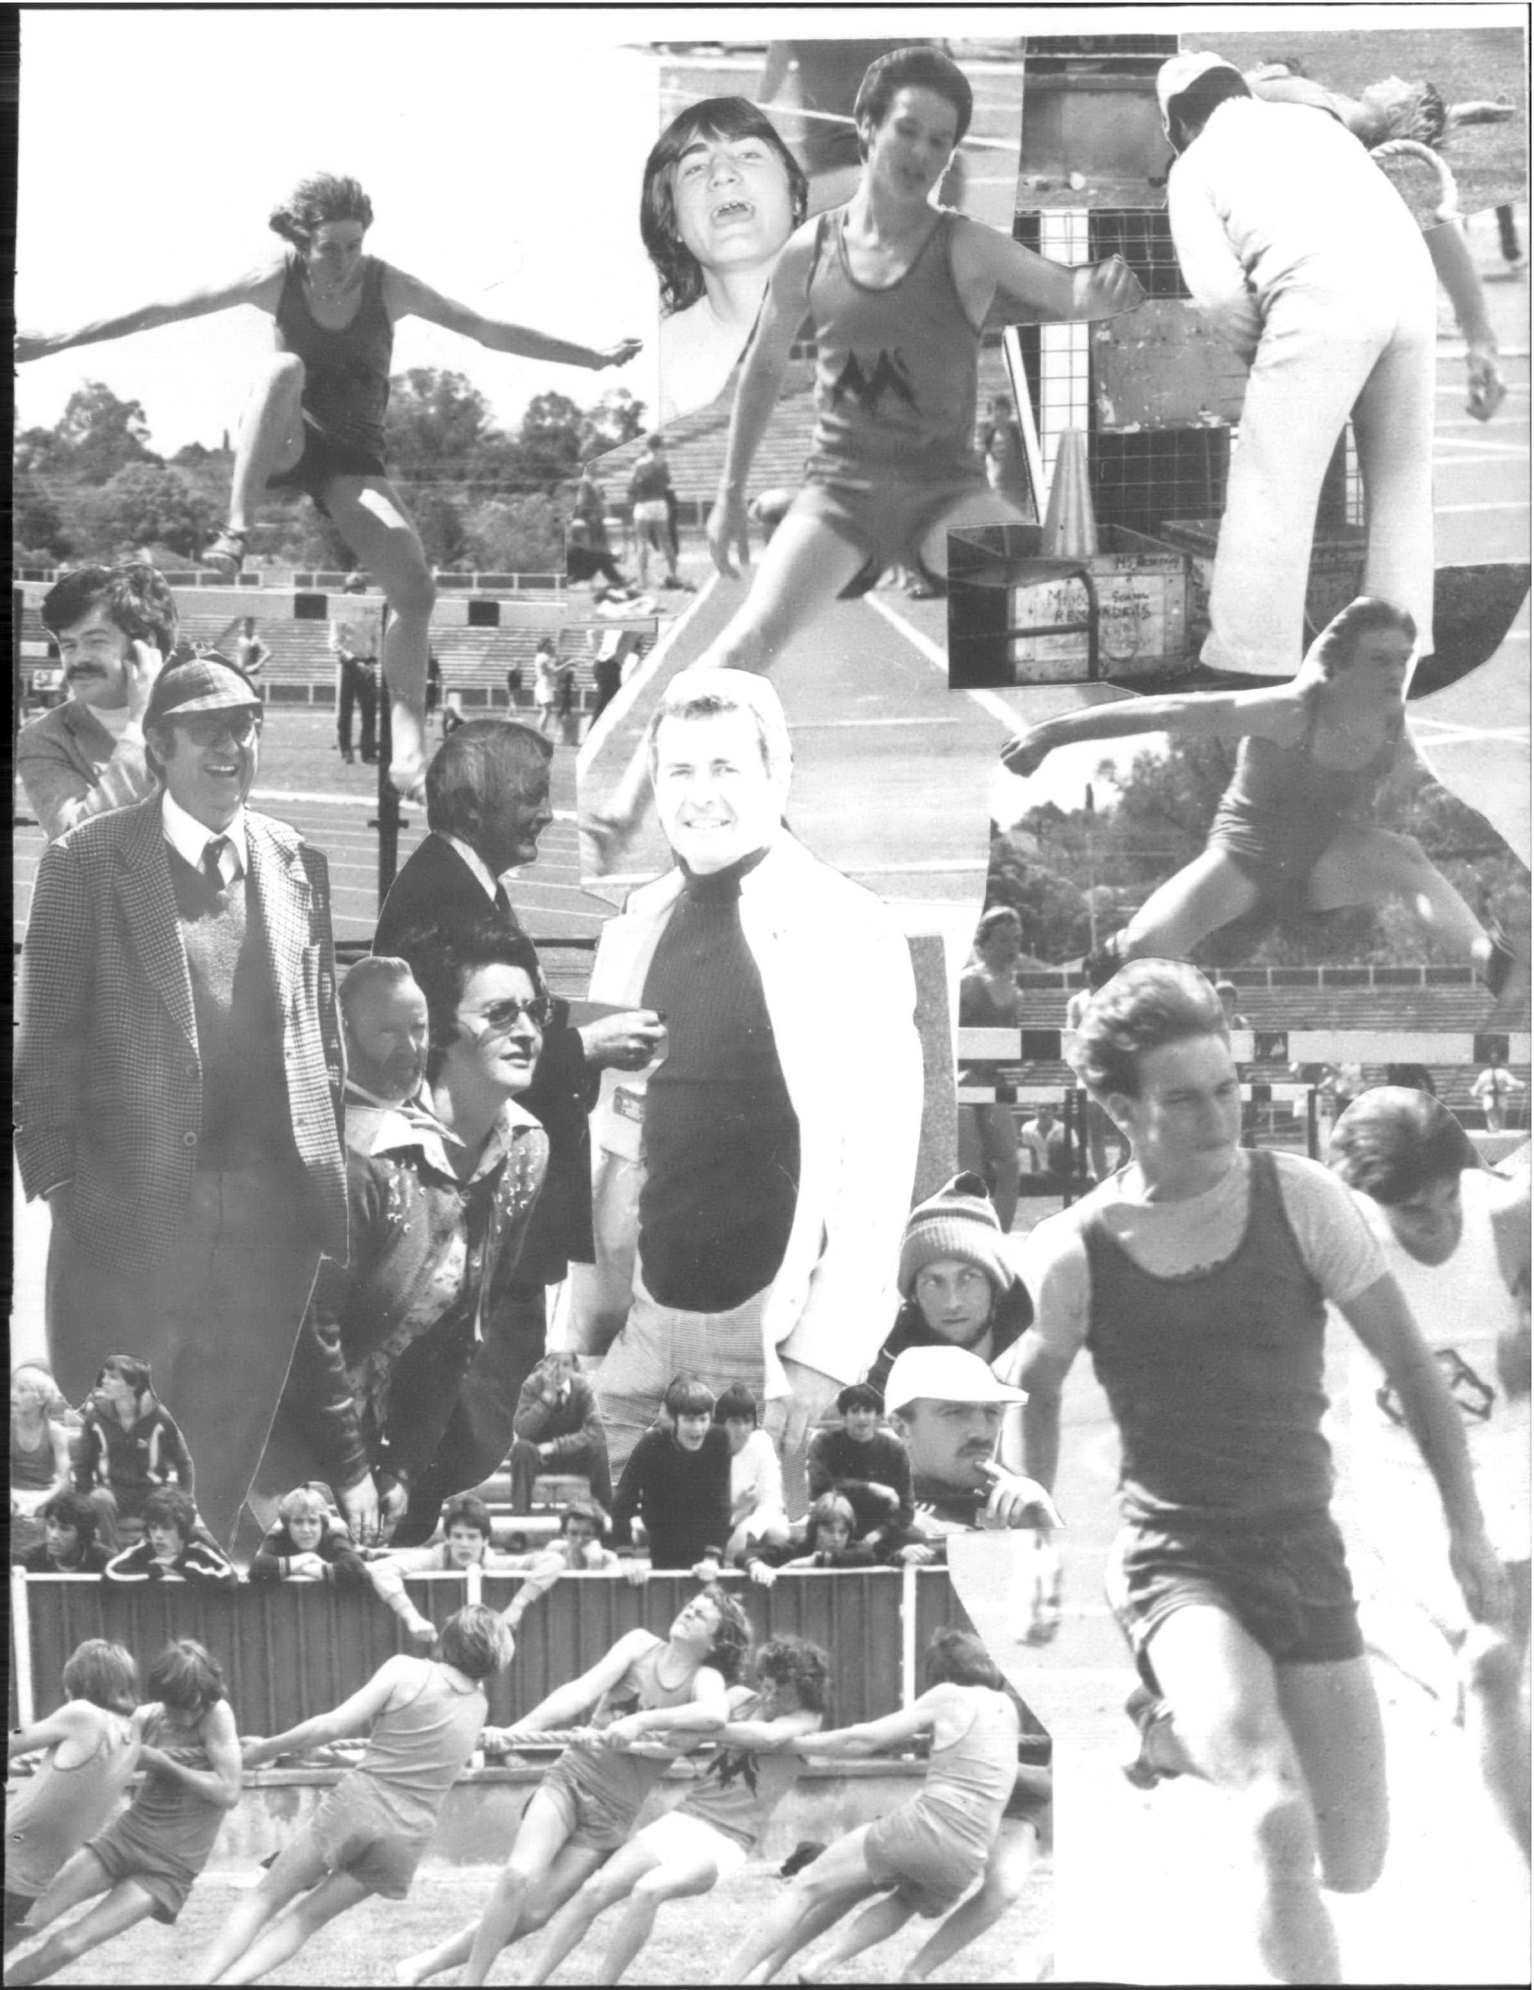

This has been one of our best seasons, thanks to coaches Mac Hall, Jerry Packington, Mr. Morrissey and Mr. Sibson. Mr. Clarkson, who coached the Middle School teams, gave up a lot of time and his efforts were much appreciated by the boys.

With the great potential developing amongst the younger players, it won't be too long before Christ Church wins the competition. Good luck for all players next season.

HOUSE NOTES

CRAIGIE

House Masters: H. Woodall, P.J. Rickey, P.J. Lund, D.M. van Kempen, D.M. Southwell, Miss J.M. Luke.

House Officials: A.G. Salom (Capt), D.A. Jeary (V.Capt), S.R.G. Cox, J.A.C. Lee, D.G. Ormonde (House Prefects).

Once again Craigie got off to a flying start by winning both the House Swimming and House Lifesaving carnivals. It was a great team effort to win both of these competitions. Our stars were Simon "Piggy" Cox, Tony Salom, our House Captain, and Tim Hawson. In the younger age groups our little "Surfers" did very well. They were led by Peter Salom, Tim Walsh and Richard Saleeba.

After these two initial wins we went into the Tennis and Cricket Competitions with confidence. With the aid of our star tennis players Tony Marsh and Robbie "Blond Bombshell" Phillips, we gained second place. Our cricket stars were Anthony "Greek God" Palassis, J.A.C. "Shovel" Lee, Wade Dunne and a new discovery in Roddy Ormonde.

Second term saw the departure of our House Master, Mr. Woodall, on Long Service Leave and as a consequence we missed our "Three Cheers for Craigie" ritual at House Meetings. However, under the leadership of Mr. Rickey and with the usual strong support from Craigie boys we did fairly well in the winter games competitions. The hockey team came second with strong support from players like Adrian "Banger" Grose and Hamish Jolly. In Rugby our team, captained by Chris Reid, fought hard but could only manage fifth place. In football we should have done very well. We had a star coach in Dick "Barrassi" van Kempen and players like Terry Vinci and Marc Diffen. However, we came third. We also managed third in Debating and Chess, our debating star being Don Ormonde and our chess master Patrick Saint.

The major event of third term was, of course, the House Athletics Competition.

We gained fourth place as we did in 1980. Simon Cox was our outstanding athlete. He won the 100, 200 and 400 metre sprints and was the Open Champion for 1981. James Rees was a great competitor in our Middle School athletics team. A special thank you to Miss Luke who not only made the new House Banner, but made us the envy of all the other houses.

Under the captaincy of Tony Salom we have had a very good year and at the time of writing this report Craigie is leading in the House Competition by 5½ points. With some wins in the remaining minor games competition we should win the coveted Shield.

David Jeary

JUPP

House Masters: Miss L.F. Day, Messrs. K.W. Hopkins, C.H. Watkins, C.J. Williams, R.T. Woollett.

House Prefects: R.G. Butcher, R.A. Nagappa (Sec), T.J. Plester (Capt), D.A. Smith, T.L. Watts (V.Capt).

1981 started fairly well with the Inter-House Swimming in which Jupp came sixth. This was followed by the Lifesaving in which we recorded a fifth. Tim Plester, our illustrious leader, put in a fine effort in the gruelling Iron Man event and this together with a fairly good team effort gave us a respectable position in the final placings.

An excellent performance in the Rugby competition placed us third overall but a not so good performance in the Football saw us finish in sixth place. The Senior School Hockey result was surprising to say the least, because we were thought to be one of the weaker sides and our fourth place was well earned (we even managed to get David Gulland to play!) However, we ended up in seventh place overall.

The Cross Country Championships revealed our lack of athletic talent. We came over the sand dunes in seventh place. The lack of athletes was confirmed in the Inter-House Athletics in which we ran toward the end of the table. However, despite the result, Jupp's younger members proved they could be depended on while half of the Open members went home before the end of the day! Tim Plester did well in the Open Hurdles to become the champion in this event and Linden Timms won the U/15 100 metres.

In contrast, the intellectual talent of the House continues to flourish and on the academic side of the House Competition Jupp has done well. Barry Lim, Paul Bucens, and Chris Tann finished fourth in the Chess competition, and Garry Downs, Jeremy Ludlow, Paul Archer, Chris Shenton and Chris Kelsall between them achieved the best results of the year by sharing the Debating Cup with McClemans and coming second in the Year 10 "It's Academic" competition.

And finally, I would like to thank the tutors, fellow Prefects, and others who have assisted with the organisation of the various teams and helped the administration of Jupp affairs run smoothly. Although not very successful, the year has been profitable in that many of us have done our best and enjoyed some good competition. It's a pleasant feeling to win but these are the things that ultimately matter.

McCLEMANS

*House Masters: R.H. Dixon, P.M. Draper, K. Holloway, M.R. Hart, P.H. Nicholls.
House Officials: D.B. Barton (Capt), M.W. Price (V.Capt), Secretary: T.J. Richards.*

Greek legend has it that the inhabitants of ancient Sparta were inspired to mighty physical feats due to the harshness and frugality of their daily lives. This, perhaps, sheds some light on the secret of the continued team success of McClemons. Alas, our accomplishments under the guiding hand of omnipresent "RHD" must be condensed to 300 words.

After our bold but ill-fated attempts (even with the efforts of Rohan Whittington) at mastering the water early in the year, Pete Shilling, Scott McGregor and Dave Marshall led the cricket and tennis teams to successful placings. By some devious twist of fate, however, no house rowing competition was held; but two of our number, "Frank" Tyson and Vern Conlan rowed to a victory in the Head of the River.

Perhaps not purely physical promise, but profound prowess proved to be present in our Purple participants. Purposeful debating pros such as Lawrence Swan, Shane Shalders, Rob Heinrich, Chris Handley, Stuart Arndt plus James Beck presented powerful points to pull off the prestigious position of equal first, pointwise.

House footy emulated the best, first place being gained through the tireless efforts of such potential Cazalys as Dave Barton, Mayne Pegus, Mark Bonadeo and the mighty Cam McGregor. Not to be outdone, Mark Price and Tim Powell led an effective team effort in hockey; and the much-derided senior rugby team won a game!

It was at this point that our secret cross-country training programme (daily runs up to the dining room) began to manifest itself in success. The house stayers, John Carrington-Jones, the Drayton brothers and Ray Tanner had this event in the bag from the beginning.

The military section, especially Frank Vallentine and Nygal Brooks, further manoeuvred a victory in the shooting competition. And then to the Athletics. More can be read about Mal Thomson elsewhere, but suffice it to say that he, Dave Syme, the Turnbull brothers and Stephen Briggs helped secure a valuable third placing for the house.

And the final result? At time of writing we seemed poised to take off the volley-ball and softball, and to take a comfortable position in squash. No doubt our basketball success will be assured by the inclusion of "Mang" Moyes.

All in all a good year, some notable successes, a few disappointments, but a lot of companionship and House spirit.

T.J. Richards

NOAKE

*House Masters: J.A. Pemberton, R.E. Merrells, H.C. Ryder, P. Coroneos, B. Tingey, L.W. Hutchinson.
House Officials: P.C. Shephard (Capt), G.M. Raitt (V.Capt), J. Sullivan (Sec).*

1981 was another fine year for Noake; in what is becoming a yearly ritual, Noake has become the strongest House in showing character and depth through all age groups.

The swimming and lifesaving showed the webbed wonders of our House go into gear and Alistair Brogan showed his gills to draw the House into a commanding position.

Cricket seemed to be a bit disappointing in the Senior School when we had exactly two cricketers who actually played, the rest consisting of basketballers and Year 10's. Against McClemons we were all out for 9 runs, both John Sullivan and Howard Rae scoring for us. The Middle School brought some responsibility back to the team by doing well, however. The tennis also did well in both competitions, Andy Cole playing well for the Seniors.

Winter saw the Senior School blitz the footy with Brad Lyons scoring 13 goals over the four games. Peter Adam, Ian Crane, Gordon Raitt (of Rugby fame) and Lewis Green also showed up well.

Rolly Tennekoon, Andy Cole and Dougal Burton assaulted the hockey fields to bring us victory. Campbell, Bussell, Hart and all Middle School players showed what a Noake bloke is made of by consolidating our scores in the football; Kelly in the hockey led the team well.

We all ran well in the Athletics and were just pipped by Walters at the end. Vern Conlan won the 800, 1500 and 3000m, Bussell won the discus, and Gordon Raitt (our Vice-Captain) won the shot-put. Nearly forgot, David Raitt and the Holmes' (Chris and Simon) who easily annihilated all Middle School rugby foes. As captain, I thank all members of the House, Mr. Merrills Mr. Hutchinson, Mr. Ryder (for lending us his tutorial for house events), P.C. for constant charm and perseverance, and Mr. Pembo our leader.

Phillip Shephard

WOLSEY

House Masters: P. Tooke, J.R. Oxnam, R.H. Dettman, D. Grainger, B.D. Clarkson.

House Officials: J.W. Horton (Capt), R.P. Cullingford (V.Capt), M.H. Leary (Treas), H.K. Welch (Sec).

The competitive year began with the inter-house Swimming Carnival. Fluctuating between second and third for most of the night we faded towards the end to come a close fourth. However, the night was to see some fine individual performances from the Wolsey competitors. Notably Neil McDonald the U/13 champion, Dallas Dempster coming fifth in the U/14's, David Nairn fifth in the U/16's and Rob Cullingford gaining second place in the Open.

Inter-house Life Saving met with greater success for Wolsey, finishing second. The highlight of the day being Rob Cullingford's win in the Open Champion Lifesaver "Iron Man" event.

Nicky Rose and Chris Johnson captained and starred in the Middle School cricket and tennis respectively.

The Senior School's brilliant cricket showing can be credited to the star-studded team. Such as "big hitting" Todd Jenkin and Jamie Carew-Reid, pace bowlers Hugh Welch and Luke Jones and "Iron Gloves" Andrew Johnson.

House debating met with moderate success but the chess team, well led by Luke Jones, finished on top of the table.

The winter games competition day saw below standard efforts from Wolsey, coming fifth in the football, seventh in the rugby and eighth in the hockey.

House cross-country was not one of our better moments for the year, finishing sixth overall. Special mention must go to C. Butler who won the U/14 age group championship in a time of 6min. 67.4secs.

The highlight of third term was the School Athletics Carnival at Perry Lakes.

Brilliant performances came from Dominic Lane winning the U/13 championship, closely followed by Neil McDonald.

Other notable performers were Chris Johnson, Dallas Dempster, Luke Jones, Adam Brewer, Alistair Hutchins, Henry Willis, Ricky Scolaro, Rob Cullingford and Jamie Carew-Reid.

The most enjoyable part of the day was the Tug-of-War event in which our Senior School team proved themselves the physically strongest house in the School. This event has been dominated by the boarders for years, and made victory all the sweeter!

Presently the minor games competition is being contested, with the Senior School softball team showing particularly good form.

After a very eventful year special thanks must go to all

ROMSEY

House Masters: Mr. A.L. Pate, Mr. M. Cole, Mr. L.S. Owen, Miss E.A. Clairs, Rev. J.W. Jarvis.

House Officials: R.J. Davies (Captain), J.J. Dixon, J.R. Johnson (V. Captains).

Romsey met with varied success throughout 1981.

Our fifth place in swimming belied some outstanding performances. Brian Beresford won both his breast-stroke and butterfly events and won the Under 14 championship. Chris Michael was runner-up, winning his freestyle event. Gavin Michael swam brilliantly to win the Under 16 championship and break both 50m and 100m breaststroke records. James Kish and Geoff Forgan swam well in their respective events. Life-saving saw us take third place, boosted by strong swims from Gavin Michael, Jeff Forgan and Brian Beresford.

Romsey managed equal first place in cricket, led by distinguished first eleven cricketers Julian Johnson, Stephen Oxley, Alistair Wilkie and Simon Johnson.

The inter-house winter games competition for second term gave Romsey a chance to prove its worth in senior school rugby, with a close, hard-fought win over Walters. Gavin Thomas, Greg Saggars, Julian Johnson and brother Simon all played aggressive games.

Romsey came second in the inter-house chess competition, ably led by David Kitto. We came fifth in cross-country, with a record-breaking run by Adam Tetlow in the Under 15 age group.

Performances in the house athletics were encouraging. However, the team lacked cohesion. Geoff Blacklock won the Under 13 hurdles, Adrian Saggars won the Under 16 400m and Greg Saggars, Jeremy Dixon, Dennis Smart and Steve Peterson combined well to take out the prestigious 4 x 100m Open Relay. James Doig won the Under 16 long jump and also gained the Under 16 championship.

The results of 1981 reflect in many ways performances of previous years. There are a few dedicated individuals always willing to participate and contribute to the house. My thanks to them and to Mr. Pate for his organisation throughout the year.

Robert Davies

the tutors for their considerable effort. Many thanks also to Rob Cullingford, Ian Putt, Mick Leary, Jamie Carew-Reid, Hugh Welch, James Twentyman, Brett Wheatley, Rob Hurley, Angus Buchanan, P.K. Smith, Andy Rose and Tim Hutcherson for their great help.

J.W. Horton

QUEENSLEA

House Masters: C.G. Hammond, D.J. Morrissy, A.A. Mountier, A.D. Froude, B.H. Downing House Officials: Mark Fraser (Capt), Adrian Pate (V.Capt), Michael Samuels (Sec).

The year 1981 started off very well for Queenslea, with a well fought second in the house swimming. Stars such as "Jack" Mah (Open Champion), Andrew French, Garth Jones and Mark Barboutis all performed their best. Life Saving saw a similar situation, with the House coming fourth, noteworthy performances coming from Aaron Wilson, Michael Rose and Jirka Just.

Summer games, however, were not so successful, with the cricketers only winning two of their games, although we did have good representation in the 1st XI, with Adrian Pate, Ben Constable, and the man behind the stumps, Brett Wrightson. The tennis was even worse, with no games being won, though Clark Hood did try hard.

Second term was one of mixed success. Adrian Pate captained the successful hockey team to first position, and with players such as Glynn Llanwarne, Seth Eggleston and Ben Constable, it was no wonder. The middle school hockey also won, a mighty fine effort.

Rugby had mediocre success, with the middle school coming fifth or sixth, and the senior school second. The Moore brothers, Mark Nicholas and Mike Powell represented us in the 1st XV, while Jon Kerr hovered around the 2nds and 3rds.

Both of our football teams came last, but it wasn't a completely wasted effort. John Usher put on a pair of boots for the first time in four years and played for us, while Brett Wrightson gave up a promising volleyball career to help out. The cross country team also came last, mainly because of the number of injuries sustained during the minor games.

So far this term, we have managed an impressive win in the softball. The senior school hasn't been quite as successful, losing both the first volleyball and softball games. We did, however, jump up from last to fifth in the athletics. Colin Walker did well in the U/15, and the U/16 team also did very well.

Thanks must go to Michael Samuels, whose persistence in the house collections made the social service very happy. Graeme Sutherland also did a marvellous job in organizing the swimming and lifesaving on the day. A big thanks goes to our illustrious leaders, Mr. Hammond, Mr. Morrissy and Dr. Downing, Mr. Froude, who not only gave us his fullest support, but helped coach our football team, and Mr. Mountier, who unfortunately has spent his last year with us after many years of valuable service to the House and the School.

WALTERS HOUSE

Housemaster: Mr. K.J. Parish.
Tutors: Mr. O. van Kampen, Mr. P.S. Hopper, Mr. M.S. Brackenreg and Mr. M.J. Sibson.
House Prefects: P. McKenzie (Capt), C.A. Lawrence (V.Capt), C. Bradshaw, K.B. Forrester, V. Middlemass, A. Murray, A. Rendell and B. Ross.

As usual the inmates of the great white house on the hill showed exceptional spirit and ability on and off the sporting field. The year began slowly with low places in the lifesaving and swimming. Peter McWha and Simon Mitchell and Alf Staines all did well. The climax of the term was Walters' win in the house tennis 1st VIII. Representative Colin Bradshaw led the senior team while Anthony Latham and David McKenzie played well in middle school matches.

Second term saw Walters show more of our true potential. We showed our great depth by providing nine members for the 1st XVIII footy team at some stage during the season. We were unlucky to only finish equal second in the football but did well to finish a gallant second in the rugby. Andy Murray led a rather depleted hockey side to sixth place. In the cross-country competition, Walters again showed depth to cover losses through sickness and end up in third place. This was mainly a team effort rather than that of a few stars.

The debating team of Clive Bowman, Jens Berger and Mike Verma showed great potential by beating a virtual school 1st team and going on to win the competition.

Towards the end of second term Walters took off the coveted Social Service Golden Dollar Sign for having made the largest House collection. This exemplified Walters' generosity although some members had to be convinced of this hidden trait.

The highlight of the year was Walters' runaway victory in the athletics. The team contained many stars including Kim Forrester (who equalled the open high jump record), Craig Lawrence, Clive Bowman, Jeremy Law, Craig McDonald, Gary Ryan, Grayden Lang, Garry Page and Neil Bowman.

With minor games unfinished Walters is sure to be up at the top for the Beatty Cup.

Finally, our thanks to our new Housemaster, Mr. Parish, for his organization and interest in the House this year. Best of luck to Walters for 1982.

ACTIVITIES . . .

OUTDOOR ACTIVITIES

This year Christ Church introduced outdoor activities as an alternative to the more traditional competitive winter sports such as football, rugby and hockey. Why? What is this thing called outdoor activities?

Outdoor activities provide students who may not be suited to, or "turned on" by, normal team sports with a stimulating means of exercise. It involves the development of skills, both mental and physical, useful for leisure activities, both now and later in life. The term outdoor activities offers a wide variety of activities from simple bushwalking, to canoeing, to rock climbing, to sailing, to scuba diving, to mountaineering, and so on. The majority of these activities enable the student to proceed at his own rate, competing with no one but himself.

This year we concentrated on three main areas of activity — canoeing, bushwalking and orienteering. The canoeing was done in the Swan near the school boatshed with students practising capsize drills, rescue and paddling techniques under the ever watchful eye of Mr. van Kampen. Orienteering exercises were carried out at school and at Reabold Hill using "homemade" courses, and at Walyunga National Park using established courses. The bushwalking unit involved the development of skills associated with map reading, bushcraft and cooking. The programme ended with a two day hike in the Koorinal area with staff and boys carrying all their food and gear. This hike served to test how well the boys had learned their lessons during the training sessions.

My sincere thanks must go to Mr. van Kampen for his continued support and assistance throughout the programme.

WHAT THEY SAID

"I enjoyed it because it was something out of the ordinary and gave me a chance to try something new."

"I really enjoyed the canoeing most of all."

"I would like more canoeing and more camps but less capsizing in the river."

"I learnt about my own limitations and where I could improve."

"I learnt that I should take more food on camps."

"Next time I won't take as many cans."

ART CLUB

The Art Club is not an organized club in as much as it does not have a club captain or a club membership.

The club is an art-room which is open four nights a week from 3.45 till 5 p.m. Boys who do not take art as a subject or who wish to engage in extra curricular art may let loose their creativity.

This year the Art Club was regularly patronized by Year 8 boys and prep-schoolers who spent many hours getting their hands muddy trying to master the pottery wheel. The other popular pastime was silk-screening onto T-shirts.

Perhaps the easiest way to judge the success of an after school Art Club is to view the products made, however this is impossible because the artists took their work home to hang on walls, decorate tables or act as presents. The other way to judge the success then is to look at the attendance. The large percentage of younger boys in encouraging, and one hopes that they will continue to use the Art Club as they progress through school.

SOCIAL SERVICE

We took office at the end of 1980 and realising it was impossible to embark on any spectacular community aid programme at that stage, we decided merely to keep the ball rolling by running a toy collection for orphans through the 6PM-Hungry Jacks Christmas Toy Appeal. The Prep school rallied to the cause valiantly, depositing their sisters' dolls — amongst other things — in our collection box; the senior school showed some reluctance to part with theirs!

1981 got off to a great start with the first few lunchtime meetings being attended by a great many enthusiastic students. It wasn't long before the committee made history, staging the first Casuals Day for 14 years, and the nominal fee of 20c produced a grand total of $196. Everyone entered into the spirit of the thing and it was a case of off with the inhibitions and on with the exhibitions, with many teachers providing a laugh in their old school shorts, ties and caps.

It was decided early in the year to continue visits to Wanslea Home for children in Cottesloe, as has been the tradition in past years. In addition to this, as one of our specific contributions to the Year of the Disabled, we inaugurated visits to the Riding for the Disabled Association in Graylands.

Visits began in March and continued every Wednesday afternoon without fail throughout the year. I would personally like to thank Richard Humphry, who proved to be the most willing member of the Social Service committee, for his continual efforts in organising and participating in this most valuable service. Also thanks to his small band of dedicated offsidiers, including Miss Day who provided transport and enthusiastic support.

After listening to Sir George Bedbrook whom we invited to address the school on the International Year of the Disabled, the committee decided that our funds this year would be directed to handicapped people. House collections became quite competitive with the reintroduction of the golden dollar-sign trophy, awarded to the house raising the highest amount each term. The total raised in this way was $426.

At our first meeting John Horton put forward the idea of sending get-well messages on behalf of the committee, to those members of the school community unfortunate enough to be spending time in hospital. This thought was much appreciated by those who received cards throughout the year.

After much organisation and hours of prize collecting, the Social Service Quiz night proved thoroughly successful, raising $265. The prizes kindly donated by local businesses including a clothing voucher to the value of $30 and four 'dinner-for-two' vouchers at assorted restaurants.

Unfortunately, as the year progressed, our committee suffered from an age-old complaint and many "members" having fallen victim to apathy or exhaustion, were lost along the wayside. Participation in the Forty Hour Famine seemed to come mainly from Year 8, with only five people from Year 11 and 12 supporting it. However, there were about twenty people involved altogether. Thanks are due particularly to Ben Patrick and Geoff Blacklock (Year 8) for their meticulous money-raising efforts before and after the Forty Hour Famine.

The Year 11 Rock Group "The Swindle" gave two highly successful lunchtime "recitals" in the chapel, increasing our funds by $158, and our thanks go to them.

At this point I should mention the Prep School, which, while having little to do with our general activities raised the healthy sum of $571 from their own efforts, and this formed a good proportion of our total funds.

In third term we were granted permission for another Casuals Day. This time however, we capitalised on the rather 'inelastic demand curve' for Casuals Days, and increased the charge to 40c, making a total of $289 on that day. The production of 500 Social Service '81 stickers proved popular, especially on the Prep School and we profitted $60 from their sale.

The grand total raised by the Social Service by October, 1981 came to $1,942 — a new record. A cheque for $500 was given to the W.A. Association for the Blind and $212 was used by the World Vision organisation to sponsor a young Indian boy for 12 months, and we hope next year's committee will continue this project. The remaining $1,200 was donated to three worthy causes: $500 bought two sound boxes for the Speech and Hearing Centre for Children, $200 bought much-needed feed for horses at the Riding for the Disabled stables, and $300 bought a large selection of equipment for Wanslea Home.

Another important form of service was our provision of man-power for the Red Cross Doorknock (in which we raised $2125 with a record number of collectors) and also the Red Shield Appeal. Year 8's and 9's were thrown into the deepend when they knocked for the Austcare Freedom from Hunger Campaign — the only Society which uses this age-group for collections. We also helped various societies with Street Appeals on Friday afternoons.

Finally, I would like to thank Robert Davies for his un-failing administrative assistance with correspondence and records, Mr. Williams for his patient attendance at meetings, and his guiding hand, our Treasurer John Sullivan, and our productive poster committee namely Dave Gulland and Michael Samuels for making our projects more appealing and generally enhancing our image.

Chapels are built so that communities can gather, and while they are gathered, they can worship God. The liturgy, the "services", that happen in the Chapel celebrate what the community believes to be of value. As a Christian school, we worship God as we see Him expressed in the life of Jesus Christ. As a School, we celebrate the things of importance to us. Chapel is not something put on "for the boys" — only, nor something that belongs to the staff — only. What happens in Chapel should be, in our own opinion, important for all of us. The Chaplains and the Chapel Committee hope that each member of the School finds that the Chapel is a place in which he is enabled to do something he finds important — whether it is meeting and gathering with friends, whether it is playing a musical instrument or whether it is specifically praying and offering worship, giving or listening to a Sports Report or a Bible reading. The success of the Chapel is the degree to which your values and my values are expressed. The list of events below reveals some success. Behind the well-prepared Family Services or the magnificent Founder's Day Eucharist are the preparations made by musicians, Chapel Prefects and Chaplains — all, through their service, doing something of value to them. Behind the headings of Baptism and Confirmation are the individual stories of boys setting out from where they were on a new path of following Jesus, and so on.

EXPERIMENTAL PLANT CULTURE

This project was established at the beginning of this year as a Year 11 Option and is supported by a grant from the Commonwealth made under the Innovations Program of the Schools Commission.

The school administration had kindly allowed the use of a plot of land on the school grounds (next to R block) and also the use of the Solarium for the project.

The basic aims of this Option are —

- to introduce students to theoretical and practical aspects of plant propagation under various conditions.
- to develop an ongoing student interest in areas such as plant growth and development, organic gardening and vegetable propagation, and
- to provide students with practical experience in formulating and testing hypotheses through systematic research and experimentation.

This year the emphasis has been on experimenting with different ways of raising crops, rather than merely following established practices, although the latter is often used as a starting point from which individual variables are then altered as the project proceeds. Thus the pattern has been one of constant refinement of technique, with an ongoing evaluation of results at each step of the way.

More specifically, the project was designed around three distinct techniques of plant culture, in the hope that each method would provide a contrast to the others, thereby providing insights into plant performance under any one regime. The three culture techniques used were . . .

1. GREENHOUSE PROPAGATION — whereby a relatively constant ambient temperature and humidity are maintained and water supply to individual plants can be closely controlled.

2. HYDROPONICS PROPAGATION — here plants are grown in a liquid nutrient medium, aerated by pumps — this method allows levels of nutrient availability to be carefully monitored, and

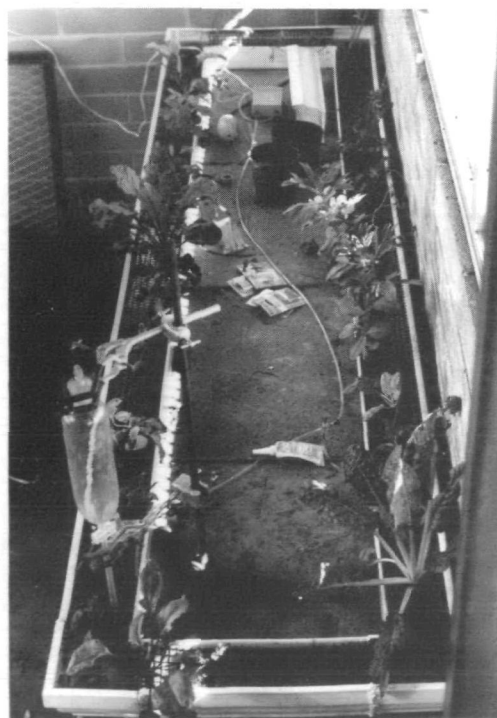

3. OPEN-FIELD PROPAGATION — this is used mainly as a control for the preceding two techniques although separate experiments are being carried out within this environment to study the effects of soil type, soil salinity and light availability on crop performance.

The level of student participation in the project has generally been high, and for those involved the experience has been most rewarding.

COMPUTER CLUB

1981 has been a period of rapid growth in the Christ Church Computer Club, not only in facilities but also in membership and programming expertise — especially in the Middle School.

The school computing facilities greatly increased in first term with the addition of five new System-80 Microcomputers to the Computer Room in Q-block. Parallel to this expansion the club membership trebled to an all-time high of about 60, making the club one of the largest in the school.

Of course with five new computers available, computer programming lessons have taken a large step forward with every Year 8, 9 and 10 student now receiving a two-week “hands-on” computing course as part of their math syllabi. With the occasional visit of Prep. School classes, this is giving every student the opportunity to get some computing experience — a very important skill in today’s society.

The year started well with the combined Social Service/Computer Club “Space Invaders” lunch-times, for which we employed several willing bouncers to control the crowds. No wonder! At 10c a game it was a steal!

The big event of the year, though, must have been the theft of one of our new computers — with only sandy footprints and a smashed door as clues to the thief. Mr. “Sherlock” Merrells felt that it was an inside job, and in the next week I received several offers of computers “going cheap” — all in fun, I hope. The C.I.B. were called in but the case still remains unsolved. Later in the year the stolen goods were replaced by a TRS-80 Model III.

Unfortunately, a club the size of the Computer Club does not run itself, but thanks to the help of our illustrious leader Mr. Merrells, David “Bouncer” Rees and Geoff Bartlett, a civilised standard of behaviour and sanity prevailed for most of the year. Thanks must also go to Darryl Cooksley, an old boy, who showed much interest in the Club and took on the servicing responsibilities of the computers.

ALL IS NOT LOST

In the year of our lord 1980-81 the Lost Property Commission was handed down to six young inexperienced lads (of the then Year 9). We faced a challenge to set up and operate the lost property office (we dislike the use of the word “pound” for it is a place for stray dogs). Elections were held and D. Hodge emerged as president. We were newly located in an office with all modern amenities (well within striking range of Mr. Fraser).

We prospered, and according to Mr. Fraser, we were the most prosperous of all committees.

I would like to thank this year’s committee (D. Hodge, D. Osborne, M. Giles, J. Harris, B. McKenney, J. Fletcher) and Mr. Fraser for letting us run the committee with little outside assistance.

Also our thanks to all you people who lose things. You have made it a prosperous year and we feel that we have rendered a worthwhile service to the school community.

ARCHIVES

The Archives Committee has renewed its work this year with formation of a new committee of eight members from Years 10 and 11 who began the job of maintaining the archives for the next two years.

The previous committee contributed to the collection and organisation of the archives as well as setting up numerous displays in the Library, the most impressive being for Western Australian week in second term.

The Archives Committee is responsible for the collection and cataloguing of anything that will contribute to the school's growing history in this our 71st year, and also in documenting various topics such as cadets, sporting, history and past school figures, for future reference.

Our main work in third term was directed to the Open Day display which was a tribute to Mr. Moyes and the growth and successes of the school under his direction over the past 31 years.

We would also like to express our thanks to the Librarians for their patience, and to Mr. Hopper for his valuable support and organisation, and we hope that anyone with some information on the school's history could donate it to help expand the records we have of the school's heritage.

THE PHOTOGRAPHY CLUB

During the year our members have enjoyed the use of some new equipment in the darkroom. A new print washer and three large developing trays have combined with the existing equipment to increase the overall efficiency of the club.

The membership has decreased since last year, so this year's members have found more opportunities to use the darkroom and have been able to give a greater level of personal tuition to the younger members of the club who are taught the basics of black and white photography.

Some of the senior members of the club have delved into the creative world of special effects with montage, solarization, multiple exposure, and other graphic design work having been practised.

The club has also been heavily involved in covering the many school sporting events during the year. Club members have also contributed to various library displays featuring creative and sports photography.

Due to the consistent support of James Twentyman, Rob Heinrich and Carl Williams the school has been able to have a camera at every major school function. Thanks must also go to Mr. Tingey and, more recently, Mr. Nelson-White, for their valuable advice and encouragement to all the club's members.

CHESS

It was an exciting year of mixed results for the School Chess Club. During the May holidays Christ Church managed to regain the Sheard Trophy awarded to the most successful participating school, which we had held for most of the seventies. Luke Jones won the Under 16 Division and Paul Bucens the Under 15. In all we entered seven competitors, who all performed creditably.

In the Inter-School competition, the A Team with Luke Jones (Captain), Mark Aylmore, Ross Taplin and Steven Cooper had a disappointing result, finishing in the middle of the table with four wins, one draw and four losses. We fielded a strong team but had too many narrowly lost matches to achieve the result our talents deserved. After their poor showing last year, the B team set the world afire with an unbeaten series of eight matches to win their Division. Congratulations to Stephen Lawrence, Stanley Khoo, Paul Bucens and David Kitto, with occasional help from Gus Ingenluyff and Laurie Watt. The newly-formed C squad of Middle School players (D.A. Conners, J.T. Hamilton, R.B. Issel, K.W.H. Keating, P.L. Manuel, C.M. Nadason and J.J. Webb) finished well with three wins, one draw and three losses. These Teams will remain virtually unchanged next year and we expect a clean sweep in all divisions.

During a busy year many tournaments were played, of which one was the School Championship. The Senior School section was won by Luke Jones with Mark Aylmore runner-up, and the Middle School section by C. M. Nadason with Ken Keating runner-up. During Third Term a handicap tournament is being conducted with 28 participants and this is to be followed by a Lightning Pairs event.

The Club wishes to thank Mr. R. Dettman who really got the Club started again this year, allowing us the use of his classroom and giving us so much of his time in organisation and transport to our inter-school matches.

DEBATING

Hood, A.J. Pate.
Front: Mr. H.C. Ryder, Rev.
E.P. Witham.

This year the Debating Society has had another entertaining and successful season.

Tuesday lunchtime activities in room M1 have been well attended and activities have included a visit from Mrs Sue-Anne Macknay, a member of state and national debating teams. "One Minute Please" sessions and spot speaking competitions as well as informal debates involving members and staff have kept the activities lively throughout the year.

House debating this year was keenly contested at both senior and junior levels. The junior competition ended dramatically when Jupp defeated McClemans. Walters (Senior), led by Clive Bowman, (who exhibited rare confidence) defeated fellow boarding house McClemens, led by Robert Heinrich, in a verbose but tense final in L1 before a large crowd of boarders.

Four school debating teams entered the interschool debating competition sponsored by the Commonwealth Bank. The junior team, with stars Robert Wall and Paul Archer, debated admirably, and won two of its four debates. The Year 11B team, featuring Romit das Gupta, Chris Tann and Adam Brewer, won three of its five debates. The Year 11A team, with Jens Berger, Clive Bowman, Niels Stienstra and Anthony Robins won only one debate this year, but the experience gained from competing against many Year 12 teams will prove invaluable next year. The Year 12 team, making the most of the wintry conditions had a rewarding year, winning its division, though the team's run of success was ended in the quarter finals by Hale school. The Year 12 team proved to be the most impressive C.C.G.S. team for four years, partly due to the ability of Adrian Pate, James Twentyman, Mark Fraser and Clark Hood to plumb the inner depths of topics such as "The Place for Knockers is on the Door", but also due to the ability of Father Ted, Mr Pate and Mr Ryder to inspire the team through their effective coaching.

We hope that next year the society, (or the Academy, as its members affectionately refer to it) led by Niels Stienstra, will enjoy more cool, dark nights, further success and will retain the title, "Glamour sport of 1981".

STUDY TOUR OF FRANCE MAY 1981

Les professeurs de francais de plusieurs ecoles privees de Perth organisent chaque annee un voyage en France. Nous avons eu la chance d'y participer et nous sommes donc partis le 5 mai; notre premiere destination; Francfort. L'avion a fait escale aux Indes et en Yougoslavie, puis, une fois arrives en Allemagne, nous avons pris un train pour Besancon — la Belle France enfin! La, les familles francaises qui devaient accueillir les membres de notre groupe nous attendaient impatientement a la gare.

La premiere semaine, on a passe la matinee a faire du travail scolaire au lycee local et, l'apres-midi, on a fait des excursions en ville et a la campagne. Chacun passait le weekend chez sa famille francaise.

Pendant la deuxieme semaine le groupe est alle vivre a Aix-en Provence, jolie ville dans le Midi. Nous avons visits Avignon, les Baux, Marseille et le Camargue. Il y avait toujours du travail scolaire a faire le matin, mais nous nous sommes bien amuses quand meme.

Plus tard, nous avons pris le train pour Paris. La nous avons vu beaucoup de monuments: le Louvre, Notre Dame, la Tour Eiffel, l'Arc de Triomphe, la Place de la Concorde, les Champs-Elysees, les Invalides, Montmartre, Pigalle et, finalement, Versailles. Nous avons achete pas mal de choses aux superbes magasins de la capitale.

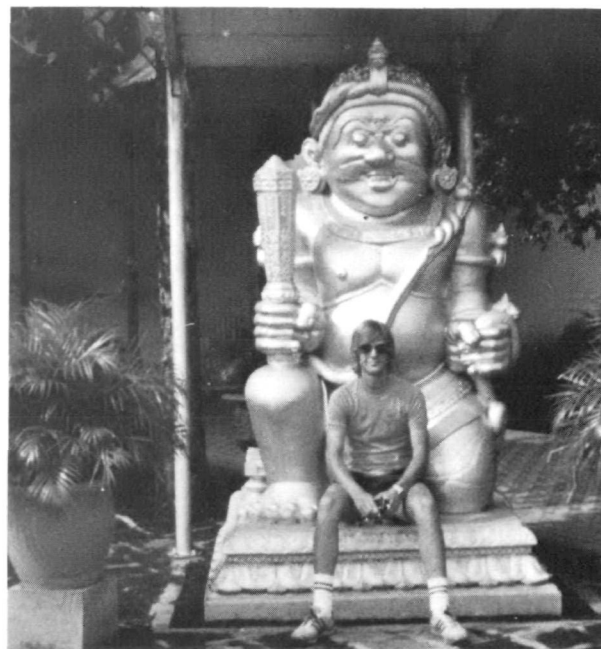

Nous avons beaucoup aime la France, et surtout Paris. C'etait donc avec tristesse que nous avons retrouve notre Boeing 747 pour retourner en Australie. Vive la France . . . et le francais!

INDONESIAN TOUR

Tim Richards explains all about Buddha to a local while Jason Parish demonstrates the Lotus position.

Marc Diffen seeks the protection of a guard demon.

On the 16th January, 1981, nineteen intrepid Christ Church adventurers set forth from Perth Airport to represent their school in a foreign country. No, it wasn't the Olympic Games, it was the 1981 Tour of Indonesia.

Headed by the bilingual "Pak" Parish, and ably assisted by the incredibly punny Mr. Pate, the group spent an enlightening fourteen days meandering through the exotic culture of our northern neighbour.

First stop: Jakarta — bustling metropolis and capital city of Indonesia. Greeted by the afternoon rain that we would come to know so well, we were transported by bus to our home away from home, the Sabang Palace Hotel.

The next three days revealed such mind-boggling experiences as the thrill-packed National Museum, the monumental National Monument (topped by a sixty kilogram gold flame), and that concentration of all kinds of Indonesian culture: Taman M'ini Indonesia — a conglomeration of artifacts from all Indonesian societies.

Then on to Bogor, for a brief visit to the world renowned botanical gardens. Our bus arrived, besieged by innumerable souvenir pedlars; but firmly grasping our wallets, we made ti through the gates alive.

Bandang: High in the misty mountains of Western Java, the Dutch administrative capital in pre-revolutionary days. Here we stayed at the sumptuous Savoy Homann Hotel, receiving, among other things, the benefits of an early morning wake-up call, in the form of the local Iman calling the faithful to prayer.

Near this fabled city we descended into the depths of Tanguban Prah, a volcanic crater over a thousand metres in depth. The hot springs at the bottom of the crater were the first of many we were to see on the tour, but as the old saying goes: "You ain't seen nothing yet!"

To those of us who were used to the lonely Australian highways, the epic ten hour journey to the Central Javanese town of Wonosobo was a rigorous test of body and soul.

The Hotel Surabaya, promised by Mr. Parish to be the best hotel in Central Java, was: it had rooms John Sullivan could barely fit into and it even had "squat down" loos! The highlight of that evening was the inaugural "cricket match" at the Wonosobo Amateur National Cricket Association ground, actually the front verandah of the hotel. This game — played without bat or ball — proved to be a success until Mr. Parish "Don"ned his underpants (on his head?) in a classic impersonation of Bishen Bedi.

On to sunny Yogyakarta, the batik capital of the universe. After dropping into the Sultan's Palace (the Kraton) for morning tea, we spent the afternoon probing the ancient Buddhist mysteries of the "lost temple" of Borobudur. Like the Hindu temple of Prambanan, this religious centre was swamped by the wave of Islam that swept Indonesia in the thirteenth century.

Our subsequent visit to the beautiful but dangerous Parang Tritis beach near Yogyakarta provided a welcome opportunity to practice our body-surfing techniques on the waves rolling in from the Samudera Indonesia (the Indian Ocean).

After an exciting four hour wait for our train at Yogyakarta Central Station, and an intriguing journey to the eastern city of Surabaya (where we spent a whole six hours), we spread our wings for that island paradise — Bali.

The last stop of our tour, we spent an action-packed three days sampling the delights of the local culture, while contributing significantly to the Balinese economy.

Sad was the day when we left Indonesian shores, flying into the sunset, home to the sunburnt land from whence we came.

However, we were shortly treated to another form of vacation — school.

SKI TRIP

Trying to keep warm.

It was an eager mob of students who met at Perth Airport on the first Friday of the August holidays. With dreams of shooting down snow covered slopes and performing perilously skilful feats for the crowds of, not so talented females, firmly fixed within their minds, the gallant band of would-be skiers boarded the aircraft which would whisk them away to their destination, Victoria.

Breakfast at Tullamarine airport was followed by a morning's tour of Melbourne, after which we set off on the long journey to Bright. It was a weary mob who stumbled into this small town about 10 o'clock that night, and few wasted too much time in getting to sleep.

Eager as they were, it was the same, weary mob who stumbled to breakfast early next morning. A relatively brief pause in Bright and all were now equipped with skis, then it was off up Mount Buffalo for the first day's skiing.

The weather proved ideal, and most of the group resorted to wearing T-shirts, naturally assuming they would not fall over. The mass of our group had little, or no, experience, and for these people lessons were provided. The students proved very fast learners, and by the end of the second day most had acquired enough skill to tackle Mount Buffalo's harder slopes. The teachers, however, proved very sorry cases (except Mr. Tooke who had previous experience), not so talented and progressing at a much slower rate than their younger, fitter, counterparts. But wherever possible the students would kindly stop to assist the poor, helpless teachers who, by way of spectacular displays of gymnastic tumbling would usually find themselves closer to the snow than they would have liked.

Not all the students were newcomers though, and already possessed the necessary skills that allowed them to tackle the slopes on the first day!

After invading the slopes of Mount Buffalo we decided to set our sights on another unsuspecting ski resort — Falls Creek. Buffalo had proved a marvellous location for learning, but we soon found Falls Creek much better suited to our newfound talents. The slopes were fantastic, the snow in good condition, and because of the large number of slopes available, the mountain was less crowded.

Under these conditions, and with the additional guidance of Mr. Tooke, our talents quickly expanded. We found the long, steep slopes catered well for all levels of skiing ability, from the shaky efforts of the older members of our band, to the light footed talents of Mr. Tooke.

Our fourth day skiing also brought our first experience of a snow storm. Although this hampered skiing, most of us gallantly persisted throughout the afternoon. For those who chose not to ski, Falls Creek catered very well. A large number of Inns, Restaurants and Taverns (ooops) dotted the lower slopes in which our troops could secure warmth, food, drink, and also the attention of the swarms of dainty young female skiers who swooned with our every move.

The last day also saw snow storms and mild blizzards, and many less capable skiers concluded their skiing early. Yet most could not resist the thrill of shooting down the slopes, and skied to the very last moment. It had been a week of fast, furious action, immensely enjoyed by every member of our group. Thanks to Messrs. Tooke, Froude and Draper, and also the lady members amongst our group of 42, no serious problems were encountered. Gear returned and boys packed, it was an exhausted mob of skiers who climbed into the coach on Friday morning, ready for the long trip home.

Despite the many spectacular falls and crashes, no serious injury was experienced. Every participant firmly agreed that they had fully enjoyed every minute of the trip, from terrorising Bright by night, to conquering the slopes by day.

It was a wonderful success, and most of us look forward to going on next year's skiing trip.

MUSIC

The School Orchestra

This has been an exciting year, musically speaking. There have been many events in which the choir and orchestra have taken part — inside the school and out. And what is more important, those boys participating have enjoyed the experience and gained some benefit from them.

The senior school orchestra has been faithfully working away on Monday afternoons, and the rise in standard has been most noticeable. We have a reasonable nucleus of string players, four good oboe players, good flutes and clarinets, and some fine brass, and these boys are gradually learning what ensemble playing is all about. The tone has improved as the repertoire has widened. For the school concert, we played the Leopold Mozart/Haydn "Toy Symphony", including the cuckoo and nightingale calls, as well as the Mozart "Allegro in C", from the "Church Sonatas". We have learned the "Eine Kleine Nachtmusik" of Mozart, and the not-so-easy accompaniment to the Benjamin Britten "Psalm 150", which the choir has also learned. During the year, we have played for hymns in school assemblies, and visited three parish churches to provide music for morning worship.

The choir has been reformed this year to include altos, tenors and basses. It is good to have the four parts, although the lower voices still need strengthening. By for our most exciting venture this year was the annual "Founders' Day" Service, at which we sang Handel's "Zadok, the Priest", with orchestral accompaniment, together with the Vaughan Williams' arrangement of "The Old 100th". For the Thanksgiving Service for the work of the Headmaster, we sang the Benjamin Britten "Psalm 150" and the marvellous Vaughan Williams' anthem "Let all the world in every corner sing". Some of the choir were formed into a special group, the "Ad Hoc Chorale", which specialises in unaccompanied singing, and for the school concert, performed the "School Rules" set to Anglican psalm chants.

During the year Mr. Hutchinson was asked to be musical director of a series of stereo records and cassettes, covering all the hymns of the new Australian Hymn Book. The school choir and the Ad Hoc Chorale learned and recorded five of the Christmas hymns for the first recording which will be sold Australia-wide. Although this first recording featured six choirs from the Perth area, later recordings will use choirs from all over Australia. The recording sessions were tiring, as we had to work at night, but the final result was very pleasing, and we hope to be associated with the project again.

There were several concerts held during the year, which were generally well attended. Mr. Southwell and Mr. Hutchinson gave an organ recital in the chapel. Some of the T.A.E. music students played through their pieces with other soloists at a later concert, and then there was the School Concert in October, at which choir and orchestra performed, as well as a number of soloists. Next year, it is hoped to build up a series of subscription concerts.

Although now incorporated in the school choir, the Preparatory School choir has performed on several occasions during the year. One of the most exciting was their participation in the Music Teachers' Association Eisteddfod, in which they gained first place, for singing "The Jumblies", "New Year Carol" and "Jazz Man". There are thirty-two boys in this choir, which works away on two lunchtimes. The tone and range is improving all the time.

Mention must be made of the Year 11 rock option group, "Swindle", which has worked away, not so silently, during the year, and given two concerts to raise money for the social service. They are certainly talented players and we thank them for their efforts.

Most of the choir and senior orchestra visited the school camp, "Koorinal", for four days at the start of third term. All the boys were very well-behaved; they were so engrossed in music making, that they had little time for much else. We learned all of the music for the third term in those few days, just leaving polishing up for the time back at school. We had several of the visiting staff, and two mothers — Mrs. Craig and Mrs. Lee, to help us out. The days were taken up with rehearsals, games of volleyball, table-tennis and relaxing. The evenings were music, films, quizzes and other fascinating entertainments. The final night concert was unbelievable. The demands for a place at next year's camp were most encouraging.

The choir and orchestra have sung at three churches during the year, and on 18th October took part in the R.S.C.M.'s 25th Jubilee Eucharist at Guildford Grammar School. We have attended two ABC Schools Concerts in the Concert Hall, and have had social cricket and soccer games with the choirs from Guildford Grammar and St. George's Cathedral (both of which we won!). Three boys took part in a concert at Holy Trinity, York, as part of the York Fair in October, with Mr. Hutchinson.

Finally, a vote of thanks must be made to various people: the Parents' Association for their splendid gift of a Yamaha grand piano for the chapel, the visiting staff for their efforts, and staff and boys for their encouragement and participation during the year.

DRAMA NOTES

First Term this year was spent in strenuous rehearsal for the June performance of "South Pacific", in co-operation with St. Hilda's. The Director of Music, Mr. Hutchinson, also undertook to direct the action on stage and to organise the production. He wore the three hats of Producer, Director and Musical Director with tremendous skill, suffering no other ill effects than an occasional headache.

On his arrival at the school this year Mr. Hutchinson remarked on the great deal of untapped talent among the students. The audience of "South Pacific" could not help but agree, if its applause was any indication. After all, who would have imagined Ian Van Driel, normally a mild-mannered musician, capable of heaving himself around the stage in a side-splitting parody of a belly-dancer, complete with slipping coconut shells? Who would have dreamed that Christ Church Year 10 and 11 boys had the potential to be good chorus line dancers? As Mr. Hutchinson put it, "Despite the last-minute panics and the occasional sleepless night, 'South Pacific' was indeed worth it."

As another aspect of education in drama, the Senior English Master, Mr. Dixon, organised numerous theatre-going excursions. They included "Pygmalion" at the Playhouse, "Our Town" at the New Dolphin, "The Importance of Being Earnest" at the Octagon and "The Dresser" at His Majesty's — not forgetting, on the lighter side, "The Boy's Own McBeth" at the Regal.

The year's drama activities concluded with "Space Escape", a one-act operetta staged in conjunction with "Pied Piper" (for which see the Preparatory School section), and featuring the enjoyable music and playing of Mr. Hutchinson, with the attractive voices of selected Year Eight choir members.

Before the actual training year began in first term, the unit's potential rank structure for both Senior and Junior Company embarked on a week-long promotion course. As in past years, the N.C.O.'s promotion camp was held at Koorungal. This camp was of sound instructional quality and proved a great success. In addition, the annual W.O.'s and C.U.O.'s courses were held at Rottnest, and were attended by Christ Church for the first time. Michael Leary topped the Rottnest course, scoring 293 out of a possible 300, making him the senior C.U.O. in W.A. — a great honour.

On February 18th training began for the unit. We were pleased to welcome back Captain Tooke, who returned from England to his post as commander of Senior Company. Junior Company saw a new Officer of Cadets in their midst, Lt. Simmons, an Army Reservist.

First term training for Junior Company, known as B Company, took the form of drill, military procedure, map and compass reading, hoochie erection, living in the field, and an introduction to knots and lashings. For Senior Company, known as Adventure or Support Company, training took the form of the Marines (who became quite professional in the handling of their canoes), Pioneer-Rescue (who were seen throughout the term carrying out such construction projects as ladders and flag-towers), Scuba Diving (in which Year 11/12 cadets had a chance to gain their C class certificate), and the Signals and Radio Section.

All of this basic yet extensive training contributed to the great success of the bivouac at Koorungal at the end of the term.

Second term saw more intense and intricate training being undertaken. Both companies shot the .22 rifle at the school range, to establish the best shooting house and best rifle shot. More specifically, B Company learnt the component parts of the rifles and the techniques of shooting. Additionally, radio theory and practice was carried out, first aid was taught, there was orienteering and a practice course, and finally cadet exercise procedures such as day-night movement, section formations, and camouflage and concealment. Adventure Company extended their first term training as well as participating in the annual City to Surf Fun Run and other vigorous activities such as wind-surfing. This year's camp, shorter than previous years, contained some cut-backs. There was no Regular Army instructor, no orienteering and no M-16 rifle shoot. Nevertheless we entered the cross country competition (coming second) and the confidence course competition (coming first). In fact, the camp turned out to be just as enjoyable as in previous years, thanks largely to the work of the Officers of Cadets.

Another feature of the year was the parade held in honour of the Unit C.O., the Headmaster, Mr. Moyes, as a tribute to his loyal support over the past 31 years — over two-thirds of the Unit's history. His presence will be sadly missed, and once again we express our sincere appreciation of his efforts on our behalf.

Grateful acknowledgement must go to the Officer Commanding, Major Fraser, for his enthusiasm; to O.C. B Company, Lt. Corse; to Capt Tooke, who handled Adventure Company, ably assisted by Lt. Froude; and to Lieutenants Bishop, Simmons, Hudson and May.

Unfortunately, Lt. May is leaving us. No vote of thanks could adequately express our gratitude for the great work he has done over his seven years' service.

We wish next year's cadets the same success as was enjoyed in 1981.

DUKE OF EDINBURGH AWARDS

The Duke of Edinburgh's Award Scheme is open to any member of the Commonwealth between the ages of fifteen and twenty-one. The Duke introduced the scheme when he saw the lack of social involvement of the world's youth.

The aim of this scheme is to give young people a sense of social responsibility and involve self-motivated people in today's society.

The scheme contains three levels: Bronze, Silver, and Gold. Each level contains the same type of requirements, but each becomes progressively more difficult.

At the Bronze level, candidates are required to fulfil four areas of responsibility: training for, and making an expedition; playing a sport; having a worthwhile interest or hobby; and doing a service.

The moment Year 10 boys join Cadets they begin qualifying for their Service section (although participation in the scheme is not limited to cadets only) and at the same time they train for the Expedition section. In August, an expedition is undertaken at Northam and cadets practice bushcraft and the country code learned during the year.

The Interest section, like the Service, must be followed for six months, while the sports possible range from any team games to individual sports.

The Silver award format is similar, except that training must be more thorough, interests and services must be followed for nine months, and the candidates help assess the Bronze expedition.

About seventy Bronze and twenty Silver awards are gained each year at this school. The Gold awards are another matter. The Sport section is much more rigorous, the Service and Interest sections' minimum requirement is twelve months and the expedition must be planned solely by the candidates. Another section is included: the Residential, where candidates spend five days away from home and their families.

Not surprisingly, there has been only one recipient of the Gold award from Christ Church. However, this situation is about to change. Students of last year's Year 12 were presented with their awards by the Duke of Edinburgh himself in October, and this year nine Year 12 students are attempting their Gold.

Looking at these facts, it seems that the Duke's aim has been achieved at Christ Church, and hopefully the large participation in his scheme will continue in later years.

THE BOARDING COMMUNITY

The most obvious change up on the river bank this year has been the rise of the Claremont annex of the Sheraton to be operated under the McClemons insignia. Unfortunately all the buildings put up to house the support facilities - valet services, entertainment centre and caretakers' residences have completely swallowed the Bowkers' front lawn and even pushed into one of their upstairs bedrooms. It has been decided as a result to demolish Parry and move the inmates to the old McClemons. When asked to put a date on this event a spokesman for the C.C.G.S. hotel chain replied that Father Witham would be in touch with a Higher Authority and let us all know.

In the meantime the McClemons boys are keeping the House together, or at least picking up the bits that keep dropping off. It should hold if Paul Richards doesn't walk through any more wardrobes and bump into the walls too often and if Peter Tyson keeps his voice down.

There have been a few other changes around the place. "Bapak" Parish moved into Walters and immediately promoted a few people who he thought earned their "stripes". Mr. Dixon took the overseers job when Mr. London defected, and seems noticeably greyer, Sister Moss tried to leave but only got as far as St. Hilda's, and in her place we found the familiar face of Mrs. Valentine complete with apprentice orderly, Beau. Welcome to both.

The House Master situation has been fairly stable this year. Mr. van Kampen has taken his clogs and gone and in his place is someone who keeps saying "O.K. you guys get into your socks" which apparently is American for "Right-oh chaps time to get up". Welcome Mr. Sinkovitch. American?? Mr. Crotti has settled in well, Mr. Cameron ("I can get it for you cheap") looks like competing with Mr. Ruddle for the title of Oldest Inhabitant, that is if the McClemons TV viewers don't put him off the air first. Parry Boys had three new faces to welcome them. Messrs. Palmer, Burgoyne and Archer. It is likely that Mr. Burgoyne will be asked to go if he insists on keeping bees in his room. And then there's Mr. Coffey so named because of his habit of bringing the McClemons lads hot beverages in bed to get their day started right. Mr. Donners is still with us and wishes it to be known that it is not true that he owns a double bed so that he can sleep with his motor bike.

There have been a few changes too in Restaurant de George. It was farewell to Chef Doug and welcome to Chef Brian in second term. We also lost Rebecca's smiling face but never mind, Auntie Joan is still with us. The most confusing change was in McClemons where Mrs. Leonard reappeared in February as Mrs. Holloway — but even David Canning gets it right now.

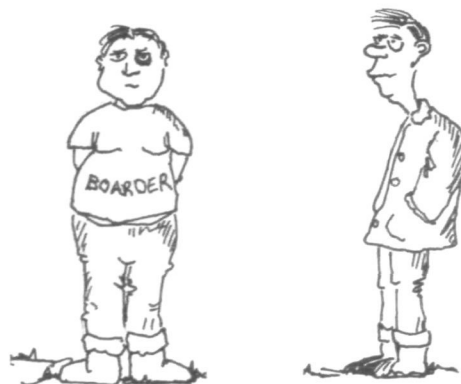

Every year brings forth its crop of House Personalities and nominations for 1981 are: "Ten-cent Kent" so starved he ate his phone money, Glen Palmer for his economical use of water, Raymond Tanner the Wool Board award, Jamie Mellor who failed his flight test while playing Superman down the river bank; Hath and Brad for going off their faces, the "musos" Ansell and Law for their explanations to Mr. Blackwood as to why they were absent on occasions, Danny "Lace-Lungs" Danks, the Marlboro Award, Adam Rendle rude of the year for his loud attacks of "indigestion" in the dining room. Best Kept Cubie Awards to Jens Berger, Michael Forehan, "Mang" Moyes and Jon Raad. Wooden Bra Award, Ian van Driel. On the Social Scene six were played at home and seven away. Our thanks to the Social committee for its work and in particular to Tim Davies for his efforts ably supported by Simon Mitchell amongst others. The others who also served the Boarders well were Shane Shalders, M.P. (Movie Projectionist), and the crew, Gary Page, Stephen Moore and Nick Eynon who kept the films rolling.

Mesdames Abbott, Stoffels and Holloway battled against all odds to keep us all decently clothed. We do appreciate your efforts and don't stop nagging; it makes it seem homely. To Matron Thompson for dispensing disprin and understanding, thanks. To George and the kitchen staff and to Mrs. Murray and her helpers who clean up after us also go our thanks.

Walters have all benefited from the guiding hand of Mr. Parish and the Year 12s in particular greatly appreciated the Parish family hospitality. Their counterparts in McClemons owe a debt of thanks to Mrs. Dixon for her lavish suppers (and to Tim Richards for ordering cheese cake) and the cakes for those who celebrate their birthdays "inside".

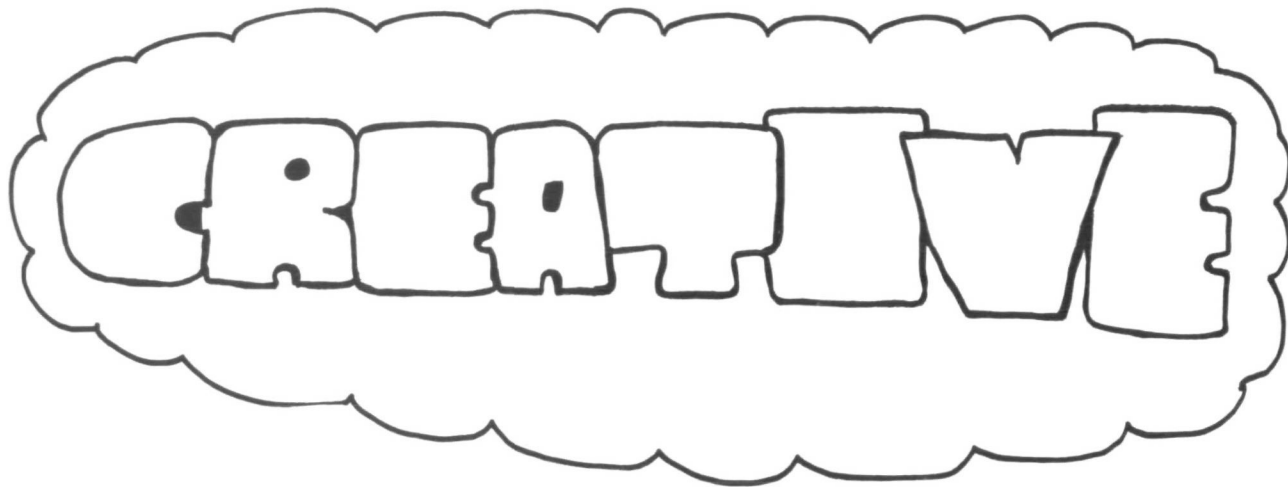

To Mr. and Mrs. Bowker, the Parry boys all say thanks for a good year under difficult conditions! To all nine Assistant House Masters — we hope it hasn't been too traumatic and thanks for your efforts.

A final thought — the Boarders represent about 20% of the school but it's the section that we feel really does understand what the word community means.

THE SWAMP CREATURE

Slowly, silently, it moved through the swamp. Its big hairy hands taking firm grip on the small fluffy bullrushes. It crawled through the deep stenching slime of its natural habitat. The feet were webbed and knew where there was or was not solid ground. Big and shining was the one eye in the centre of its forehead as it slithered towards the bright lights being emitted from the black castle on the hill.

The castle stood out like a silhouette in the moonlight, its mighty towers standing tall and proud.

The men in the castle were no match for the swamp creature, except one, Sir Galahad.

Sir Galahad stood in shining armour at the head of the table, a very knightly image. Not one man in the land dared to oppose him, except Baron von Hylerdorf.

The two were bitter enemies. Their two mighty armies had fought for seven long, weary years. Finally, von Hylerdorf had fled and Galahad and his men were in the mighty hall of his castle celebrating.

The swamp creature was close, very close. It could see the shapes of the men standing at the drawbridge. They didn't stand a chance. Dirty, hairy, black claws ripped the flesh like a scimitar, cutting silk. Their skulls were crushed and their faces distorted at the first blow. They were dead but the creature didn't care, it still ripped and tore at their bodies until the whole drawbridge was red, then it advanced.

It was a massacre. Four hundred men asleep or drunk, all ready to be destroyed. But the creature couldn't care. Galahad was who it was after. Galahad the brave, Galahad the strong . . . but Galahad the man who had banished all the mutations and evil creatures of von Hylerdorf to the swamp. He would pay.

The great wooden doors to the hall were shut, but that didn't deter the creature. Galahad was at the far end of the hall and all his subjects at the near end. The mighty swamp creature smashed the doors and splinters of wood flew into the hall. Panic struck everyone in there but one, Galahad. For seven years of his life Galahad had fought creatures like this and he did not panic. Instead he reached out a strong powerful arm and took up his huge two-handed broad sword. The mighty sword of Galahad it was called.

Those that were away from the doors tried to flee but only a few got away. The creature moved at a surprising speed for its size.

It ploughed through all those that tried to stop it to save their great leader. The hall was like a slaughter house. Finally the swamp creature reached Galahad. Galahad stood firm.

Like a grizzly bear it reared onto its back legs and struck with its other legs. One blow from those huge paws would send any man's head flying. Mighty claws the creature had and they too would cause fantastic damage.

Galahad stood there, placed his feet apart, braced himself and swung that mighty blade.

The arms fell to the ground, blood spurting from the severed arteries. Again and again Galahad hacked, but the creature stood firm.

With one last titanic effort Galahad swung. This time the creature fell, its massive body separated from its head. It had tried but failed.

AT PEACE . . .

As I sit beneath the massive pine
 I portray my true feelings to the Earth.
 The placidity of the bush slowly entering my mind,
 Prying its way through my conscience to my sub-

 Numbness creeps into my brain
 Blotting out the worries of my heart.
 The outside world feels far, far away,
 Distance in my level of consciousness.
 My mind has no need for their worries,
 It refuses to bother about them.
 They melt away, leaving bare my true self.
 The grand finale of emotions, complete truthfulness.
 There is no need to sacrifice yourself to being bottled up.
 No need to hide away any fantasies.
 Here they come out, are released,
 For the world to thrive on.
 It is my place, entirely personal.
 Secluded in all its majesty.
 There is no need to occupy one's self.
 Just relax and hypnotise yourself
 Into the supreme relaxation of the mind.

THE CHASE

The harsh sun throws violet rays on the landscape where the elephant grass hides the animals who dare to live there, and the umbrella shaped trees provide the only shade. Overhead the vultures hover in eager anticipation.

A herd of antelope peacefully feed on the body shoots of acacia. They alone break the silence, as they munch on the goodness and delicacy of the thorny bush.

The antelope are always alert and ready, their ears pricked, listening, aware of possible danger surrounding them. A yawn from a cheetah, waking under a nearby tree, makes the antelope scatter, running away from the threatening sound. They come to settle some distance away and start feeding on the grass, but are now even more alert. The cheetah, rising to his feet, catches their scent and prepares to investigate. Downwind from the antelope he starts his approach. Swiftly he sneaks through the grass. Every move is exact. Not a sound is made. He is getting close now. The antelope stop eating, with their ears and noses raised in the air, listening, smelling, sensing the danger. The cheetah pauses, not a movement, not even a blink from his shiny brown eyes. It even looks as though he has stopped breathing. The antelope nervously resume feeding.

The cheetah moves nearer, the golden colour of his coat blending with the brown grass. Already he has selected his victim some fifty metres away. He starts to trot, picking up speed as he goes. The chase has begun. The antelope, realising danger is approaching, start to run away in the opposite direction, but as fast as they are, the powerful and athletic figure is catching them up. The hopping movement of the antelope is not fast enough to jump the rocks, tree stumps and holes which litter the ground while the cheetah moves as if he is gliding over them. In seconds the cheetah pounces on his prey, driving his talon into the tender flesh. Bright red blood erupts from the withering beast.

The powerful jaws ravage the antelope's neck. The mauled body lies still amid the dying brown grass. The vultures wheel above the body and one prematurely lands on a log nearby. The cheetah in blind anger chases it away and returns to devour his victim with greedy impatience. Replete after his meal, he then lopes away to lie under a tree. The vultures in jubilation dive on the remains of the carcass and pick the bones clean.

He is silent
As he moves.

But as he swims,
He is followed.

Is always in pursuit.
He is a wonderful creature,
Yet nobody cares.

To the majority
He is perfume,
Soap,

Is this a reason?
(Of course not!)

He is kind,
Yet he is captured.
He is crying,
Yet he is slaughtered.

I know the secret of the waterfall.
One day I saw a lifeless doll
Falling down alongside the falls
And I felt myself rushing towards it,
The wind running bony fingers through my hair;
And things contracted
And I began to twitch and struggle
(for that body was I)
And fight to scull the air about me
And keep myself aloft.
It was then that I noticed the waterfall
Like a mural of violence beside me
And it stood still
Because I fell with it.
You will not divine the secret from my bones.

Then quite without warning he spreads his wings; they slice the quiet air and suddenly as he came he has

ON SCIENCE FICTION

"The science fiction writer writes only to entertain, he has no other purpose."

Firstly, it should be noted that there are two ways of interpreting this statement, one is that a science fiction writer writes only to entertain his readers. The second way of interpreting the statement is that he writes only to entertain himself, and has no interest in entertaining anyone else.

Obviously, entertainment is not the science fiction writer's only purpose, as he must earn a living, usually by selling his stories to magazines, or by publishing novels.

Science fiction is often grouped together with fantasy, meaning mature fantasy, rather than children's fairy-stories. This grouping is completely erroneous, as the writer of fantasy may write whatever he likes in his stories, while science fiction must be based on fact. If a science fiction writer was to write a story in which some scientific principle was ignored, his fans would create an uproar. Therefore, another of the aims of a science fiction writer is to introduce science to the layman.

Science fiction writers are not generally interested in entertaining people, most want to "try something new, revolutionary, exciting, different". This attitude makes most science fiction writers change their style almost constantly, which is something that the science fiction community and not the general public welcome.

With the sudden boom in science fiction, many "pulp" writers and magazines have sprung up and have begun to give science fiction a bad name, most true science fiction writers are concerned with preserving science fiction's good name.

Another rather different role played by the writer of science fiction is that of prophet. Jules Verne is a classic example of this role. When his stories were printed, they were considered to be read by persons of doubtful sanity. Now, however, he is considered a great science fiction writer, as it can be clearly seen in stories such as "20,000 Leagues Beneath the Sea" and "From the Earth to the Moon". Another such prophet was H. G. Wells who in "The Shape of Things to Come" describes such things as the pocket computer, which is with us today. Another author who one hopes will not turn out to be prophetic is George Orwell, who wrote "1984", a masterpiece of anti-utopian science fiction.

There are certain science fiction writers whose names will not be mentioned, who are only interested in making money and who churn out a seemingly endless supply of utter rubbish to this end. Thankfully these writers are in the minority, but I feel that this sort of attitude is completely unforgivable and should not be associated in any way with the good science fiction writers, however it is sometimes these very authors who are read by the layman wanting his first and usually his last taste of science fiction.

Most science fiction (excepting children's science fiction) is written for a very specific group of "fans" who are connoisseurs of the material which they read. Most of these "fans" gain their entertainment from material which the general public could not even read let alone understand, therefore some science fiction writers write to entertain their small group of fans and no-one else.

In science fiction, a newcomer to the field can find an audience that recognizes his or her name after only a couple of stories or illustrations have appeared in print. Feedback between the audience and the author or artist is strong in science fiction, almost instantaneous and inescapable.

It is this feedback that has made science fiction the exciting movement that it is today. No literary or artistic movement can exist in a vacuum. Writers and illustrators must have a demanding, vocal, knowledgeable audience to satisfy before a commercial genre can grow into a full-fledged intellectual movement.

In the final analysis, then, it is the reader who makes science fiction as good as it is. All roads lead to you. You are the star of this intergalactic show.

MONDAY MORNING

"Wake up!" said Mum cheerfully, battering me around the ears with a shoe, "it's five o'clock".

"Five o'clock? Five o'clock" Why are you waking me up, you old witch?"

Flattery", she said coyly, if not originally, "will get you nowhere. I have woken you up so you can do your homework."

"I have done it," I said through my clenched teeth. This was not successful as she could not understand me.

"Eh?" said Mum.

"I have done my homework," I repeated in loud clear syllables.

"Oh", she said, momentarily silenced, "sorry", and went out.

I heard her whistling down the passage, the noise stopping abruptly when she fell down the stairs. I gave an ironic chuckle and went to sleep.

"Wake up", said Mum again, "it's seven o'clock".

"Fair enough", I said, not one to bear a grudge.

With a cheery wave, Mum waltzed off singing "Colonel Bogey March", a feat that requires some skill.

I sighed, got out of bed and made my way to the bathroom. My monogrammed school clothes were neatly laid out. I took off my monogrammed silk pyjamas and had a shower, sauna and my masseur gave me a short massage. I got into my school clothes and made my way down to breakfast.

"Morning, good morning, good morning, good morning", said Father, a trifle unnecessarily.

"Morning", I said and sat on the chair the little black slave offered. I inspected the meal.

"Not caviar and truffles again", I cried in horror.

"Sorry, son", said Mum, good cooks are so hard to get."

"What happened to the last one" I inquired.

"Your alsatian ate him", Mum said.

"Poor thing", I gasped horrified, "did you take him to the vet?"

"Yes, he's quite all right", said Mum reassuringly.

I crunched the truffles moodily. Why are Monday mornings always so depressing?

The door flung open, crushing a slave behind it. My sister stalked in. She had hibiscus flowers in her hair, chains of flowers hung around her neck. She wore a flowery bikini and a kilt.

"Something", Mum commented astutely, "does not fit".

"Who", ground out my sister, livid with rage, "has taken my grass skirt?"

"Sorry", I answered meekly, "I've fed it to my horse".

Beatrice let out a growl, most unbecoming to her person, and picked up a handful of caviar. She rubbed it deeply into my hair and stalked out.

"Poor boy", said dad, "what shall we do?"

"Call the sturgeon", cried Mum wittily.

I gave her a crushing glance and got up.

"Time's awasting", I said grandly. "I've got to go".

The six-door Daimler is being repaired, we'll have to take the Rolls", murmured Dad apologetically.

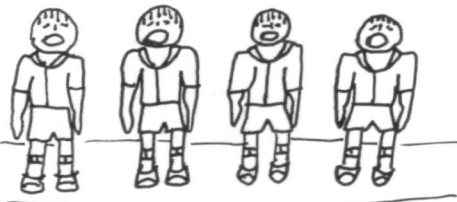

The Rolls! How embarrassing! I fumed. Curse Monday mornings! Then I sighed philosophically. One has to make the best of things.

At The Gymkhana

On Saturday I went to a gymkhana. I was in the dressage and jumping. Before I went into the arena I had to see the judge. The judge asked me what my name was. I said, "I am John Dandie and I am riding Sheridan."

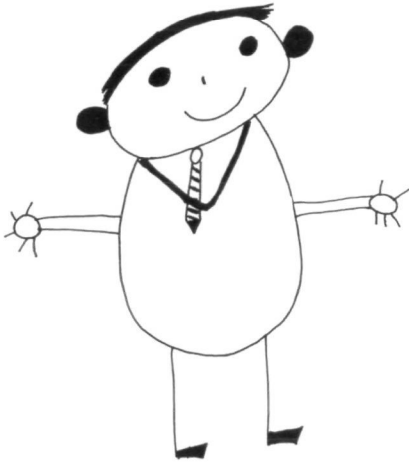

I went into the arena and started trotting, I was going well. I won the advanced dressage and got a trophy and a ribbon. After the dressage I went straight to the jumping and before I went in I went around the course and there were eight jumps. We had a clear round over the jumps with no faults. I was really pleased with Sheridan. And we got another trophy.

After the jumps I sat down with Tim, Luke and Simon. Then my name was called for the relays. I went in the flag race and the can race. My team came second in both races.

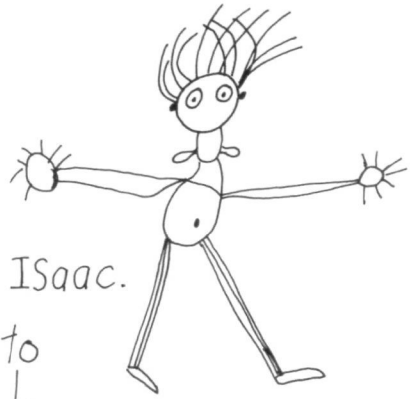

Then Santa Claus came and gave everyone presents. I got an abacus which I gave to my baby cousin Robert. Then I came back and rang Mum with the good news.

Diabetes

Diabetes is a disease. If you have diabetes you will be called a diabetic. If you were lost and didn't have your afternoon tea and fainted, someone would find you and would see your bracelet and would take you to the hospital.

Stuart Haluszkiewicz

Deaf

If I was deaf I would hear strange noises but one way I could know what they were saying would be the way the lips move. I wouldn't be able to hear good noises like a train going past and a bird.

Christopher Hall

Retarded

If you saw a retarded person you would make friends with him. He might tell you that he goes to a special school. When he was born something happened to his brain.

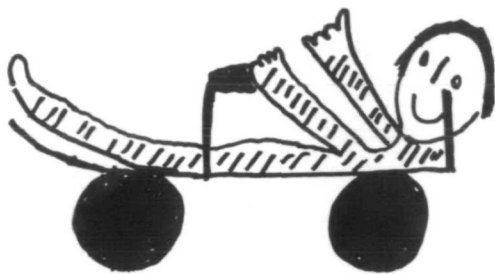

Phillip Mak

Blind

Once there was a boy who was completely blind. His name was David. He was a cousin of a little girl. One day David came to the little girl's house by plane. The first thing he did was to ride the little girl's bike. He rode it! He rode the bike round and round. INCREDIBLE!!! Unusual! How could David do it? Then after that he did some Braille language.

Marcel Loois

Jenny's Deaf

This is what it sounds like when she's deaf b z z z z z. She can not hear the teacher. I would hate to be deaf.

Sebastian Kendrew

If I Were Blind

If I were blind I couldn't see a thing. And I would only know the difference between day and night. I couldn't see colours like pink, lavender or orange.

Rusty Hubbard

Diabetes

If I was a diabetic I would need an insulin needle. And I would wear a bracelet.

Kerry Day

Spina Bifida

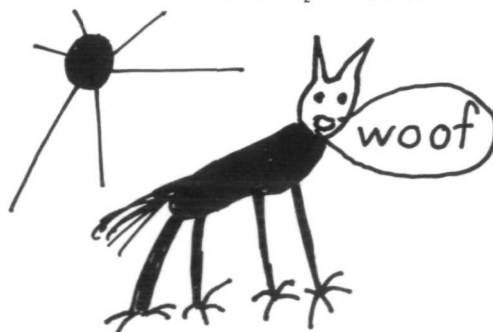

It is very hard to cope with spina bifida but this boy Peter can cope with it. He has a handy ro-car for when his legs are tired at school. He was in a rolling down the hill race and he went to hospital.

Christopher Hall

Deaf

I wouldn't like to be disabled because it would be terrible to hear the funny sounds from the hearing aid. And I'd miss the nice noises like the noise of my nice dog, but at least I would be alive.

Philip Frenis

Diabetes

Diabetics are who have problems with sugar. They eat things like bananas and at night they have a test of urine and water.

My Uncle Joseph

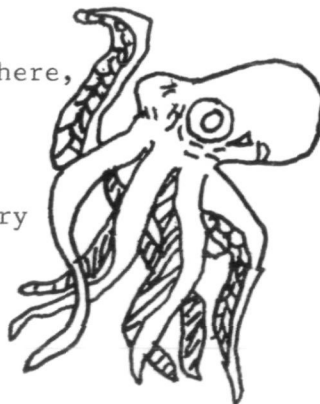

My Uncle Joseph lives deep in a jungle in darkest Africa. He is the District Commissioner in Bundo at the foot of Mount Magabu. He has a very important position there and lives on a native mission on the edge of the forest. My Uncle who was fearless walked about the jungle alot, that had lots of lions. One day when he was walking in the shade of the tall trees he heard a roar. He walked faster to get home because he did not have a rifle. As he rounded a turning of the jungle path, he almost bumped straight into the lion. The lion gave a huge roar. My Uncle knew he would have to act fast. Uncle Joseph plunged his hand down the lion's throat, grabbed his tail and pulled him inside out and took him home and he had lion pie for dinner.

The next day I tried putting them together, it started to look like a dinosaur skeleton. When I put the last bone in place, it started to move.. Then it said: "Hi I am Dringy the Dinosaur, and I've been waiting for someone to put me together for over 15 sextillian years." I just stood there in surprise. Then it said "Do you want to play?" So I agreed. We went outside and played for a little while. Then I told him to hide again because my Mum was coming the next day. I went looking for him, but I couldn't find him anywhere. I looked and looked but I never found that Mysterious Dinosaur.

S. Sun AH!

THE SHRUNKEN PERSON

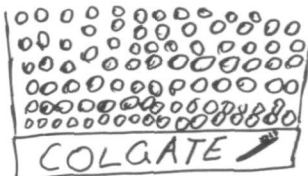

One cold dark frosty morning, when the moon is just going down, and the sun is just rising. From a dark house there is a scream, a very high pitched scream. A man comes running from his house to the dark house. He knocks on the door. Nobody answers, the door is locked, so he runs straight through it. Another scream sounds. SUDDENLY the bloke hears MEOWW, FITZZ. I heard them because I live next door. I came running to the house. I walked through the broken and squashed up door. By the time I had got there the man had gone into the bedroom. He saw the cat in the corner ready to pounce on something. Nervously I ran to the bedroom, by the time I got there he had pounced. I saw something run across the floor, about as big as a mouse. I then dived at the cat, but I missed it. The cat magnificently jumped onto the bed, and lay there, as if it was saying "m-m-m-m-m-m, what a delicious breakfast." The little thing came out of his hiding spot, he tripped and something went into his mouth. He started to grow, it was a person. The cat skattered, the person grabbed his torch and ran after it. The cat might have been in the Olympic Games, I don't know but it was fast. The person ran back and took his fox traps and salt gun and a tin of poisoned whiskers to get the cat. He grabbed his salt gun. BOOM, BOOM, BOOM - MEOWWW FTTT MEOCH. The cat was no longer living.

Sydney: A Ford Escort's brakes failed to work on the Sydney Harbour Bridge. The car then collided into the back of a Holden van. The Ford then spun out. Half of its front was sticking over the bridge. The police were right on the job. All traffic was stopped while the men freed both drivers. They were both unharmed.

Assassin Kills Reagan!

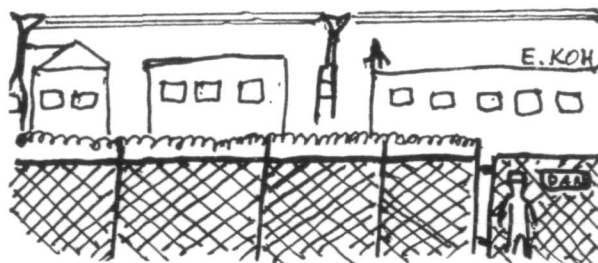

Washington DC: Early yesterday morning while Mr Reagan was attending a military parade three men ran across the road and opened fire on him. The President ducked but was too slow. The bullets pierced him in the heart and he died instantly. It was about 10 o'clock, just before the President was about to attend a press conference about "Nuclear Power". It is believed he was shot by a West German Anti-Nuclear man.

A spokesman said: "I was 10 metres away from the President when a machine gun sprayed us with bullets". He went on to say "It was lucky that no-one else died". E. Koh

Man Brutally Slaughters Wife

Melbourne: Yesterday a 37 year old man was charged at the Supreme Court for brutally murdering his wife. He hacked her head off with an axe despite her violent attempts to get free. He claimed that he had been out playing cards with his friends at the pub. When he came home he had found a headless, fingerless and naked body lying amongst blood stained sheets and blankets. After being proved guilty he later confessed that he had killed his wife. He has been sentenced to life imprisonment and will appear again at the Supreme Court Wednesday. His name has not yet been released.

Manhattan Murder

NEW YORK: Yesterday a man found a dead body of a woman while cleaning on the top of the I.S. building east of the World Trade Centre. The name of the lady has not been released. Officials say that the body was pushed off the World Trade Centre's South Building, and had fallen on the I.S. building. A relative said that suicide could not be possible because an eye witness saw a man leaving the scene just after it happened. The man's dead body was found a few blocks away. The eye witness didn't know what was happening and so didn't bother. The relative Mrs. Peacock said that an argument developed between the dead ladies husband and herself. The officials say the man committed suicide after he murdered his wife. His body was found two blocks away from the I.S. building with a gun lying next to him, having two shot wounds in the heart. P. Man Killed In Gun Fight

Perth, Sun: A man was killed and two men badly injured when robbers were cornered in a lane-way. It started when three men were seen robbing a bank. The patrol cars and a couple of foot men were called in. They chased the men into a lane on Main St. The fighting went on for half an hour. One of the robbers was shot dead and another one badly hurt. A policeman was also injured. The third man surrendered after his pals had been hit. One patrol car was blown up in the action, and the other damaged. P. DALE

WHAT IS RAIN?

My son asked me
"What is rain?"

I said, "Well it's very plain,
A person up there whose mouth is dry
Needs a drink or he might die.
His burp is called thunder,
The lightning is his power,
He leaves the water running
And has a very short shower.
It waters all our plain,
Is that wetty substance called rain?"

THE PRISONER

The escaped prisoner lay flat on the ground,
Cold sweat dribbled down his dirty face.
Siren shrills rang in his ear
The howling of dogs sends a shudder through his body.

Torch lights shone everywhere.

The noises drew nearer,

He knew he could not remain any longer,

He leapt up off the ground,

And raced on into the night.

On and on he ran

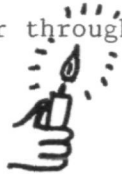

Until he came upon a stream.

He splashed and stumbled up the stream.

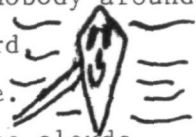

The dogs could not follow him now.

He kept going till he reached a hut

Where he spent the night, thinking of one word - FREEDOM.

Freedom is flying by yourself,
In a glider with nobody around.
Soaring like a bird
Flying like a kite.
Gliding amongst the clouds,
Is what freedom is to me.

THE FUTURE OF P. POTTER

Sometimes I wonder about the future. More so, about what I am going to do after school. Maybe, I will go to University or even go to Europe. I've always wanted to see Europe. Everyone says how great it is. Paris, London, Scandinavia, Germany, Switzerland and Austria. Wouldn't it be a great life - skiing and living like a king. Of course I must start saving, if I want to go.

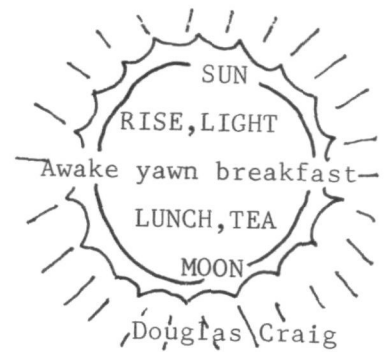

Then there is University. Will I go straight to the University or have a break? Even now I'm not sure whether I will be an architect, a pilot or even a teacher. Questions like these come into my mind every night - in bed. Architecture is my main interest at the moment. I enjoy drawing and like designing things. It's good fun doing these two subjects. I know architecture is more detailed, but I like it. The only thing is... I like to be able to go outside and be active. Being a pilot is a minor interest. I would like to have a family, but to be a pilot it wouldn't be worth even having a wife! As you are a teacher - What is it like?

The main reason I would like to be a teacher is to gain or regain knowledge about various things. Most teachers are out and about sometime during the day, which I like.

It's too early to think much of marriage, but I do want a family. I don't want to be a millionaire, but I do want to have enough money, a decent house and family.

The massive boat comes charging through the water,
Like a bull that sees red.
The engine slows down the tall peak of the cabin,
As it gracefully swirls around to the left,
Very tranquilly in the placid water,
The sun blazing down mercilessly.
The grass and trees rustle,
As the wind breathes in and blows through the banks,
Around boulders,
But the water takes no notice,
And keeps on, as if ignorant.

CANDLES

Lighting candles can be fun,
When its shining like the sun.
Up and up there is one aim,
To make a bright and beautiful flame.
Candle wax melts with the heat,
Then slides down the sides till the bottom
it meets.
Candles can be tall and thin,
Like a soldier made of tin.
Candles can be short and fat,
Like a lord's new top hat.
Now the candles wearing down,

THE RIVER

The beautiful water, rippling and moving
Its depth of the dark blue water and the sight
The sky, blue and beckoning
And the boats, the boats, so many!
Opposite you the banks, and the shrubs.
You begin to feel relaxed and tired
Sleep overcomes, and when you awake,
The water has changed, and the waves are angry
Their foam splashing against the rocks,
You're waiting for something to happen.
The clouds darkening, and a boat coming towards you.
Unable to stop, speeding, with the wind
It capsizes and slowly, surely sinks to the bottomless void.

You panic, noises around you,
Wind, rain, and the shouts of the people.
Paranoia overcomes you, and the trees seem to be creatures,
Creatures of Hades, trying to stoop down and grab you.
The Legions of Satan seem to be around you.
And you collapse, unconsciousness follows.

And dies in agony on the ground.

he turns with a smooth smack.

Pulls the trigger with a clack

TO THE CHAPEL.

"Ring, Ringgg," the ear piercing bell which called us to chapel blared. I dropped my dictionary on the desk which rocked the desk considerably. After pushing myself through seven lots of people I finally made it out of the wooden framed door. I found myself in the corridor going out the front door with the Christ Church insignia stained on the glass with acid. I carefully jumped down the steps avoiding the spray coming out of the green, leaky hose. The hustle and bustle of the other boys advancing to chapel as if it was the last resort made me lose my balance three times. Seeing the lovely tall trees against the ear-bashing trucks gave me a sick feeling in my stomach. I ran up the last minute made steps (again because of the trucks). Doing this I had a film of a mixture of limestone and dust. I was ahead of time for once so I could see the Forrest line forming like ants rushing into dine on a dead grasshopper. As I moved closer to the line I pulled my socks up and rubbed my shoes against them, the latter mainly being habit. I my hands up and measured the right distance. Then stood up straight and waited to move inside the ominous structure.

This year the First X1 enjoyed a relatively successful season. We only played four matches, winning two and losing two.

Our first game of the season was against Hale. We bowled badly and consequently Hale made 100 runs. The following week we batted and only made 84. Paul Jenkin made 23.

We also lost the second game which was against Newman. We made 50 runs to Newman's 52. James Barrie top scored with 14. The last two games of the season saw victories for us. Against John 23rd., C.C.G.S. scored 73 runs to their 38. Jenkin made 32 and took 4/4. Griffin made 10, took 1/9. Conners took 1/4.

In the final game we defeated Scotch 59 to 43. Jenkin taking 3/4 and making 18, with Conners scoring 8. The side was well led by Peter Conners and Scott Griffin. The best players throughout the season were - Paul Jenkin, Peter Conners, James Barrie, Jake Minear, Todd Ridley and Scott Griffin.

Basket Ball Report

A very enthusiastic basketball team failed to prove its worth this last season. Unfortunately only two other schools were involved in the competition and this lack of game involvement was our greatest handicap. Hopefully, the competition will strengthen next year.

The chess team had an excellent year. Firstly, the team won easily against John XX111rd. - Winning 23-1, then at Trinity - 44-0.

Because of the fact that there was little opposition in the teams, our A team won every series, most of them by a large margin, except when we met our match at Guildford Grammar School, losing 4-2½.

Overall it was a great season.

FOOTBALL REPORT

Our start to the season was most encouraging with an excellent victory over Hale followed by an exciting win against Scotch. Unfortunately we were unable to produce the type of football required to defeat sides like Newman, Aquinas and Trinity. Another good win against Hale lifted the players spirits.

The Lightning Carnival at Scotch proved to be a completely different story. Showing renewed enthusiasm and great courage C.C.G.S. won all four of its qualifying matches defeating Guildford, Scotch, Hale and Wesley. This put us in the Grand Final against Aquinas. It was a tightly fought contest but unfortunately Aquinas were just a little better in the dying stages of the game. This proved to be one of Christ Church's best performances in this carnival for some time.

This year Christ Church swam very well at the Zone and Relay carnivals. Many of the boys had to train very hard following their relaxed holiday break. The Inter-house carnival was held in March, during First Term, and was won by Queenslea - (now Stirling).

Thanks go to Mr. Matthews, Mr. Ranger, Miss Burns, and Miss Lindsay (coaches), and P.G. Cohen (Vice-Captain). Good luck to next year's team.

The 1st. X1 Hockey Team had a most successful season, being undefeated throughout the mid-week competition. Teams we defeated were Trinity, Scotch, Guildford, John XX111 and Newman. We were hoping for similar success in the Lightning Carnival at Scotch at the end of the season, but unfortunately we drew all the early games and this was enough to prevent us from finishing near the top. We all enjoyed the season, and thank Mr. Matthews and other helpers for their coaching and encouragement.

RUGBY

Twenty boys fronted up for Rugby this season. Of these, only two had played the game before and this lack of experience told against both our 9-aside teams in the early stages. Nevertheless, both teams did improve as the season progressed. The A Team captained by Christian Webb finished 4th. in the Lightning Carnival, and the B Team led by Alex Downer won 4 matches during the season. The rugby boys are grateful to Dr. Craig and Mr. Frazier for helping with the coaching.

TENNIS REPORT

1981 has been another good year for tennis. We had a large number of boys trying to get into our team. The team, which was larger than usual, played well against all the other schools.

The school tennis championships are being played and we look forward to the finals.

S.C. Collis D.J. Gibson I.A. Marshall M.A. Heidenreich
M.I. Shephard T. Usui Mr. R.H. Hancock M.A. St. John Ayre

Both softball teams fared very well in the summer season and had many convincing victories. This success can be attributed to the enthusiastic approach of all team members and the conscientious efforts of both A and B team captains - Simon Collis and John Payne respectively.

ATHLETICS

Five schools competed in a track and field Carnival at G.G.S. this year. Our team performed very well winning 22 events coming second in 22 and third in 17. The relay teams were very strong in their events. They won seven of the 12 contested.

There were some outstanding performances on the day. Ryan Turnbull broke the 10yr. old 60m. Hurdles record and also the 10yr. old 200m. record and Peter Dodd broke the 11yr. old Broad Jump record. All in all it was a great team performance from a very strong and enthusiastic team.

It had been many years since the Prep. School had produced a musical or play, so it was decided to present "The Pied Piper" in Third Term.

One hundred and fourteen boys had a great deal of fun each Wednesday afternoon with Miss Denney and Mr. Southwell when rehearsals got underway.

These rehearsals culminated in two exciting evening performances in October. The success of this production was due to the involvement of the whole Prep. School - both staff and boys. Well done!

RUGBY — P.S.A. FIRST XV MATCHES

DATE	OPPONENTS	H/A	RESULTS	SCORERS	COMMENT
30th May	Hale	A	Won 10-7	Johnson 1 Try Johnson 1 Conv. Lyons 1 Try	This was a spirited effort by the whole team. The forwards played particularly well against heavier opponents and Johnson scored a brilliant individual try.
6th June	Scotch	A	Won 31-0	Johnson 1 Try Raitt 1 Try Cullingford 1 Try Saggers 1 Try Johnson 4 Conv. Johnson 1 P.G.	The forwards had a hard struggle in the scrums but won enough ball in the loose, particularly in the second half, for us to use the superior pace in our backline and finally dominate the game.
20th June	Wesley	H	Won 10-0	Leary 2 Tries Johnson 1 Conv.	This was an impressive effort by the whole team against lively, enterprising opponents. Raitt tackled vigorously and Leary had an outstanding game.
27th June	Trinity	A	Lost 6-9	Saggers 1 Try Johnson 1 Conv.	After scoring an exciting try in the first five minutes we allowed the Trinity pack to gain control and deny us possession. We never gave up but failed to lift our game sufficiently at any stage.
4th July	Aquinas	H	Won 3-0	Johnson 1 P.G.	Again we did not win enough ball and the backs failed to use the opportunities they did have. But we tackled well and probably just deserved the narrow win.
8th July	Guildford	A	Lost 9-23	Raitt 1 Try Johnson 1 Conv. Johnson 1 P.G.	The forwards played well, particularly in the second half, but the backs made some costly errors in defence and were ineffective in attack.
18th July	Hale	H	Lost 6-16	Johnson 2 P.G.	Against a much improved Hale team, the forwards held their own but the backs lacked any determination or thrust.
25th July	Scotch	H	Lost 7-16	Johnson 1 P.G. Plester 1 Try	Hard hit by injury and sickness we played far below our best but all credit to Scotch who played with great spirit and determination for their first win of the season.
8th August	Wesley	A	Lost 13-21	C. Moore 1 Try Butcher 1 Try Johnson 1 P.G. Johnson 1 Conv.	A crop of technical errors and poor passing marred our game, but after the recent decline it was a heartening performance. In a fast, entertaining game, the lead changed hands four times.
15th August	Trinity	H	Won 13-6	G. Moore 1 Try R. Cullingford 1 Try Johnson 1 Conv. Johnson 1 P.G.	We at last recaptured our early season form to play some good rugby against rather provocative opponents and secure a well deserved win.

FIRST XI HOCKEY TABLE

	RESULT	COMMENTS
v Hale	0-3	We started well and played well at stages during the match but our position play lapsed too often.
v Scotch	0-4	We fought back into the game after the first 20 minutes and made some promising attacks. Much work still to be done.
v Wesley	2-4	More understanding between halves and forwards evident. We still need to work hard.
v Trinity	0-1	Our best performance to date against the second top team. We just couldn't finish off our constructive mid-field play.
v Aquinas	1-5	A good first half but we lost all co-ordination in the second half.
v Guildford	1-1	We became rattled and lost the will to win.
v Hale	2-1	Our teamwork was excellent in the first half and a brilliant goal by Andrew Cole. We persevered in the second half but lost a lot of impetus.
v Scotch	1-6	We lacked purpose in the first half. Our second half was an improvement against a very good team.
v Wesley	2-1	An impressive performance from the whole team.
v Trinity	0-4	We played well after a slow start but could not score.
