

CHRIST CHURCH GRAMMAR SCHOOL

THE MITRE

Title page: These art works, found outside the refectory, are used here as an illustration of the achievements of the past. The ceramic mural was created by Year 10 students in 1996 under the supervision of the ceramic artist-in-residence who is also our art technician, Charlton Sadlo. The sandstone sculpture was created by Andrew Taylor, a Year 12 art student in 1997.

Every year the challenge for the editor is to find a predominant theme running through The Mitre, a focus. 2001 presented a mix of ideas which, when viewed as a whole, suggests an interesting continuum: a celebration of things past, hope for the future and a continued striving for excellence in the present, while still trying to keep perspective and maintain a balance.

It is this concept of finding and maintaining a balance in the life of every boy at the School that echoes through these pages. The Headmaster's educational approach of 'nurturing the cognitive, emotional, spiritual and physical development of students and colleagues' clearly supports this notion. The School Captain recognises that this philosophy is adhered to at Christ Church in that 'boys are encouraged to achieve a balance between their activities - to find time, not only for our academic life, but also for our cultural, sporting and social life'. A similar sentiment is presented by the Deputy Headmaster who suggests that a 'sense of belonging helps to foster a happy school environment in which our boys can grow emotionally, socially and in all aspects of curricular and co-curricular pursuits', while the Dean of Curriculum expresses the hope that 'in these pages ... you will find evidence for identity and integrity, for the heart, spirit and community that resides in our classrooms' as well as 'the technique and skill of good practitioners'. In all instances the old adage mens sana in corpore sano - a healthy mind in a healthy body - is taken to the ultimate level of its meaning.

This hope of achieving balance is also represented in reports written by a number of boys and staff members: being able to win graciously is as important as being able to lose with dignity; the participation of very boy should be valued, no matter what his ability or area of interest; balance in all things past, present and future is to be admired.

We have tried to reflect some of these ideas in our choice of photographs: our title page represents the accomplishments of the past, our cover page looks to the infinite possibilities that lie in the future and through the pages of The Mitre of 2001 we celebrate the diversity of the present.

In compiling this publication, I have been supported by a team of hardworking boys who have revelled in the opportunities for creativity. They have shown imagination and flair; determination and dedication to their task. They too have understood the need for balance. Thank you, boys, for a great Mitre year; you were an effective team and I have enjoyed working with you.

As a committee our thanks goes to all who have provided lists, reports and photographs - your contributions are very much appreciated. There are some who must be singled out for our thanks. To Sarah Dobb who spent countless hours on the Records; to Jamie Fagan who was responsible for the Preparatory School section; to Wendy Hillman for her advice and to Ralph Baker, our formatter, who is full of ideas and patience - as in the past, you have made our work so much easier and so much more enjoyable.

It is with mixed feelings that I end this editorial and pass the responsibility for The Mitre on to Helen Oke, the editor for 2002. In seeking balance, I know it is time for me to move on and try something new. Just as it is time for the boys on the team to devote themselves to their studies in Year 12 as they strive for the excellence which will take them into a promising future. We wish the new Mitre committee the best of luck.

To be honest, this speech has been on my mind for a very long time. What to say at my first Speech Night? Would I fill it with words of 'quotable' candour, a list of event highlights for 2001, some provocative comments on current educational issues, or just try to be funny for a while and then sit down? The last thought was dismissed by my children who continually remind me I have no sense of humour! However, the first drove me to think of who to quote in a year which is concluding with such violence and disharmony in our world. With this in mind I was drawn to Gandhi and Jesus Christ - those who have put non-violence and sacrifice before us as an option. Given that we hear from the latter on a regular basis in this place of worship, I chose to share some thoughts from the former tonight as a guide for what I have to say.

Gandhi suggested that true education is that which helps us to know our self, God and truth. There is little doubt that in this sense the School has pursued 'education' with vigour throughout 2001. It has been a year of remarkable success both in and out of the classroom as boys and staff have worked tirelessly to achieve their best. Each Thursday I sit here in Assembly absolutely in awe of what has been accomplished by this combination of interest, skill, enthusiasm and effort. It is this that has brought the School a plethora of rewards ...

The beginning of the year saw the TEE results with four boys awarded General Exhibitions and an array of Certificates of Distinction across all faculties; since then a State Champion debating team, a rock band called ramJET second to none; a Corr Cup winning tennis team; a rugby side holding the Brother Redmond Trophy; a group of Year 11 boys national and international winners of the Model Solar Car Challenge; a musical about pirates that had a cast of hundreds and entertained thousands; a 'Venture' involving some thirty staff and two hundred boys who survived snakebite and storm and much, much more.

Although not endless, the list of achievements is quite simply impossible to complete in the time I have available tonight. It is also a list that would exclude too much, for I cannot report on the unrecorded - the special moments that are the crystallisation of that truth and knowledge of self that we strive for in boys through our processes at Christ Church: that moment in the library when a quiet comment makes understanding dawn; that perfect cover drive in the nets, that magic 'click' on the final piece of a D&T project; that key piece of advice during a tutorial period, from that special friend or teacher. It is through these moments that we come to where we are as individuals and boys come to know themselves. Christ Church throughout 2001 has allowed boys to seek self-knowledge, search for the truth and consequently touch our God through action and through the relationships those actions forge.

Gandhi further suggested that education and character should be regarded as 'convertible terms' and this perhaps allows me to break into that part of where we are 'at' at this moment in time in a bigger picture of education.

Challenges facing young people today require that they have character which reflects values that will carry them forward no matter what the future might bring. Schools must work with parents to ensure that children have a sense of their worth, know what is right and pursue meaningful goals. I hope that the parent support network we establish next year will allow this community feeling, so much the Christ Church experience, to be enhanced and developed. We must keep the souls of our boys healthy through action, experience, reflection and love. It goes without saying that as an institution we must ensure that our students are taught in ways that give them skills to cope with the modern practical world, but as important is the development of character to cope with the emotional and unpredictable. As educators we are now charged to enhance the 'Spiritual' Intelligence that gives all of what we do some sense of wholeness and place. I find it distressing indeed that in the main, schools are still caught in the drive toward post-school places and, as a consequence, our breadth of offering is so narrowed by numbers and expectations of results. I look forward to the day when entry into post-school options is not quite so dictated by subject choice and standardisation. With so much of our school time focussed by pressures 'beyond', children often don't enjoy the journey as much as they could if they were allowed to grow and learn for its own sake. Balancing these demands of external measures with the needs of young people is a challenge for educators.

A second and similarly significant issue for us is untangling the media version of life which is so much a part of how young people grow and learn. Reality TV and the thirty second 'grab' culture needs to be balanced by an exposure through a breadth of offering in the curricular and co-curricular life of schools and families. I am proud of the programme that this School currently offers and I look forward to an emphasis on enhanced service based learning into the future. There is so much for us to gain from contact with others with a focus on giving, not receiving.

This was exemplified for us this year at what was a highlight of the school year for me. Founder's Day 2001 was indeed a special occasion for this School for it brought into our midst Old Boys and members of the broader community who had received Honours for Queen and Country; men who had acted on their character and 'squared their conduct by ideals of duty'. They were the embodiment of lives well spent but focussed on service and commitment. Schools as organisations demand this sense of service from the entire community. In this context I would like to thank members of our various support groups who have worked so tirelessly throughout the year to help us; particularly our Old Boys' Association under the presidency of Mr Alan Boys, our Parents'

Association under the presidency of Mr Bill Carmody and our Parents' Auxiliary under the presidency of Mrs Val Glover. This School would not be the community it is without the incredible contribution of its volunteers which these groups broadly represent.

Nor would this School be as it is without its magnificent staff who have done so much in 2001 to enable the pursuit of character that is the essence of a Christ Church education. This service of staff - reflected in the rich life of this School - is very special and, as I now highlight changes, I hold up to you each and every member on the teaching team and those support staff who work with them. They are the instruments through which boys grow and change and they are the reason Christ Church is unique in its offerings and its outcomes.

At the end of 2001 we farewell for a year Mr Rob Manning to sail the world, Ms Sheryl Gardner to different challenges at Great Southern Grammar School and Ben Hodsdon to travel and work overseas. We wish them well and look forward to their return in 2003 - refreshed, revitalised and possibly a little windswept. Their significant contribution to the life of the School will be missed by many boys.

After short-term contracts, Mr Luke Dwyer will leave to take up a position at Trinity and Mr Joseph Hekeik will return to Sydney. Both have created the most positive of impressions. We wish them well and say thank you. We farewell Mr Peter Ruscoe from our grounds staff. His contribution to our Mt Claremont ovals has been noticed by many.

Koorringal assistants, Brayden West, Campbell Read and Nic Alvarez, move on from 'base camp' after magnificent contributions to the programme. Their youthful enthusiasm has been wonderful.

Dr John Baines leaves to become the Head of the Senior School at Kormilda College in the Northern Territory in what will be a wonderful experience. We wish him and his family all the best and thank him for his contribution in the Science Department.

Swimmers, Jeremy Chang and Guy Greer, inspect the drilling process with the Headmaster in anticipation of the geothermal heating of the swimming pool.

Marriage has called Ms Emma Clement next year and as she resigns we wish her well for her new life on the farm and thank her for all those dramatic moments ... we have certainly been 'bewitched' by her talents. Ms Christy Dangerfield has also resigned this year to stay in Sydney. Christy's time at the School has been very special for those who have worked with her both at Koorngal and in Biology.

Significant to the heart of Christ Church, literally and metaphorically, is the Medical Centre. At the end of this year, after twelve years of dedicated service, Sister Margaret Murphy leaves to relax a little more (or so she tells us!) and Sister Lisa Eddy - who for six years has looked after every second weekend - leaves to take up a career in law. The centre will not be the same without these two fine nurses and we thank them for their service and care of the boys and staff.

Retiring from the School after twelve years of outstanding commitment, Mr Peter Brien will be missed from rowing, hockey, Venture, the Society & Environment classroom, the Common Room and for a vigorous fitness regime that leaves the rest of the staff gasping. Thank you, Peter, for such a fine contribution and example to us all of a balanced life.

Also leaving the School after a similar period of time is our Bursar, Mr Vince Evans. Vince's contribution to the School is significant in so many ways: from paving stones to science blocks, from air conditioning controls to 'lakes' in the car parks. I know that Vince has spent hours of balancing budgets and working for the best outcome for the School, sometimes in difficult circumstances. Being the 'no' man is not always easy. Thank you, Vince, for all you have done and all the best for doing much the same in Bunbury. We wish you and Judy well. Vince's support of me this year has been significant, as has the help and guidance of the other members of the School Executive. This fantastic team has led the School this year with great expertise. I could not have survived without them doing what they do so well, ably supported by their teams in the curricula, co-curricular, marketing, development and administration. It is the unique combination of the skills of these key management personnel within the School that enables so much to happen. Thank you all.

Particularly I need to thank our Deputy Headmaster, Mr Ray House, and the Head of the Preparatory School, Mr Geoff Matthews. Their tireless efforts in managing the machinations of their parts of the School have allowed me to try to come to terms with the School as a whole. Thank you, Ray and Geoff.

I would also like to thank Mrs Terrey Fisher, my secretary. Four headmasters and Terrey can still smile. Her help to me this year has been immeasurable.

There are a number of changes in roles next year which will be of interest to you all. After fifteen years as Director of Koorngal, Mr Andy Froude has been appointed as Property and Works Manager based at the Claremont campus. Andy's contribution to the success of our Outdoor Education programmes cannot be understated and I know that he is looking forward to the challenges ahead. Mrs Michelle Gore has been appointed as Director of Staff Development to enhance the School's already effective development and appraisal processes for all members of the organisation. Mr Roger Bayly will take up the position of Director of Planning and Co-Curricular, a position formally known as Senior Master. As a previous Head of Department, Head of House and Venture Co-ordinator, Roger brings experience and enthusiasm to this new role. Ms Marguerite Crawford will be the new Head of Noake House, Mr Dean Shadgett the new Head of Romsey House and Miss Nicola Dunn will act as Head of Hill for 2002.

Mr John Norris, who for the past eleven years has been the School's Senior Master, will become our Director of Admissions. John is a special person who has worked tirelessly in his role over the years to enable a balanced programme of activity to emerge. His capacity to liaise with our community and to communicate so effectively will see him thrive in his new role. Thank you, John, for what you have done and what you will do as the new face of Christ Church Grammar School.

The Headmaster with the Teacher-in-Charge of Athletics, Mr Paul Jepson, at the very wet House Athletics Carnival.

The position of Director of Admissions has become available due to the retirement from the School at the end of January, 2002, of Mr John Leach. John has been part of Christ Church since 1958. My final reference to Gandhi this evening touches on the essence of John Leach the man and Christ Church the school. "My life is my message" Gandhi suggested - and "all our philosophy is in vain if it does not enable us to rejoice in the company of fellow beings and their service". The life of John Leach for this school is one to rejoice and is a message for us all. As teacher, member of the Executive (Head of the Middle School for seventeen years), as head of House, as Registrar, as colleague and friend - John's influence at the School has been exceptional. To John and Helen we wish all the best. It is appropriate then that John is the first staff member to receive a gold service pin which depicts the Chapel Cross for thirty years or more of service on retirement. This gift to John is the smallest of tokens for his outstanding contribution and I would ask him to come forward to receive it now as we, on behalf of generations of boys, thank him for all that he has done for them and for us.

The School faces considerable challenges over the next five years as we strive to balance our breadth of programme with financial realities and imposed change in key elements of our offering to students. Academic staff will begin to introduce the Curriculum Frameworks in the Senior School at the beginning of 2002 while still awaiting the final outcome of the Government's Post-Compulsory (Years 11 and 12) Review and associated plans.

Continually under review, the School's Physical Master Plan will unfold further with our desire to provide the best facilities for the most boys. My confidence in the School being able to face these challenges stems from my observations this year of the capacity for work and talent of our School Council as well as the flexibility and willingness of the staff always to move forward to do what is right for the boys. I am humbled indeed by those around me and I would ask you to join with me collectively thanking the Council and staff for their efforts.

At the beginning of the year I showed many in the School a video about geese. This bird has worked out that you can achieve much more together in your journey than by trying to 'go it alone'. It is timely to remind ourselves that, as it has been in the past, encouragement and support for each other - in all our relationships - is the true key to the success of the Christ Church community into the future.

To that community I say thank you for your support of me during my first year. I have felt uplifted by you all and by the spirit of this great school.

My final words tonight are to thank my family for their patience and love. I look forward to celebrating Christmas with them and trust that the period brings happiness and peace to each and every one of you.

Student Editors, Yi Zhan Wey and Naroot Foo, compiled this report after research and an interview with the new Headmaster, Mr Garth Wynne. We thank Mr Wynne for taking time to talk to members of the Mitre team.

In August 2000, the Acting Chairman of Council, Mr David Craig, announced the appointment of Mr Garth Wynne to the position of Headmaster of Christ Church Grammar School from 2001. Mr Wynne was previously a Senior Boarding Housemaster at The Southport School in Queensland. He also served two terms on the Senior Management team in the position of Acting Dean of Students responsible for pastoral discipline and care, and the organisation and management of co-curricular activities.

Before that he was a Boarding Housemaster, Master-in-Charge of Cricket and Head of History at The Armidale School in New South Wales. His teaching experience extends to a number of independent schools in Australia and overseas.

Mr Wynne's approach to education involves nurturing the cognitive, emotional, spiritual and physical development of students and colleagues. He contends that 'effective education is characterised by a sense of social responsibility and a high respect for personal endeavour'.

Over your years in education, you surely would have discovered some of the importance related to dealing with the life of a school and the interactions that occur between students and teachers. What is your view on this?

Well, the most important thing about schools is that they are a combination of relationships. They're microcosms of the society of which we are a part, and the most important things in our society are honesty, integrity and the core values which underpin the community. If we can have an environment where people are willing to listen, willing to learn and always remember that the issue is the quality of the relationships that we have with each other, then that will make a good school, as it will make a good community. I remember speaking during one of my first times in the chapel; I talked about the fact that I would like our school to be the way we would like our ideal society to be.

What were your initial impressions of Christ Church Grammar School when you arrived last year?

The initial impression of Christ Church is that it is in a very beautiful place - the chapel and the river view are absolutely stunning. Obviously the resources and facilities, quality, energy and enthusiasm of the staff and their willingness to do a whole lot both inside and outside of the classroom for the boys was very impressive. The variety of the programme and the intensity and quality of care that teachers give to all the students also made a very good impression.

What influenced you to accept the position of Headmaster at Christ Church?

I think that this particular school, its values, the way that it is inclusive of all types of experience and that it celebrates individuality within the context of being a part of something else were all elements which attracted me to the School. Having lived at Guildford Grammar School and having worked in Perth, I knew of the School's reputation and therefore was attracted to that. Five years ago I visited the School and was very impressed by the Centre for Ethics and the Pastoral Care system that existed - the vertical House system that I heard expounded by Mr Madin and a Head of House at a conference - these had stuck in my mind. It was a place that had a lot of what I feel is important in the context of a school and therefore that was something that made me think about applying. I also think the lifestyle in Perth was very good for my family and that was an issue in making my decision.

What do you wish to achieve as Headmaster at Christ Church?

Most importantly, being part of and creating a community that enables the students 'to be what they want to be', find their talents and achieve their potential - I would like the School to provide a rich, motivating and rewarding experience for all. What I achieve is reflected only in the ability and capacity of the boys to go out into the world and be special.

What is your view on the current participation and contribution of ideas from students at Christ Church? Do you think the student body as a whole can incorporate new ideas such that participation in activities in all fields is increased in the School?

I think there's a good variety of contribution from students in the areas that are available at the moment for boys. Obviously, with our pastoral system and House structure, students have the capacity to influence what goes on in the School through communication with their Heads of House and Tutors. So that's one avenue. Heads of House meet regularly with the Deputy Headmaster and are able to discuss these ideas. I believe the Student Senate is another very constructive way for students to communicate their thoughts and ideas. If the Senate is proactive and it looks for ways to influence me and the way I make decisions, then I think it's a constructive and good thing. Through participation in the programme that exists, students actually promote further participation; if a particular student has a particular passion, other boys will follow in the future.

Do you think Christ Church has a balance in academic, sporting and cultural activities?

I think there is a very effective balance and all you need to do is come to assemblies on Thursdays to see that. Sometimes, if you pick a particular point in time, the balance may seem skewed; but we are talking about a balanced life rather than a balanced moment. As you go out into your life, there will be times when you are intensely focussed on certain things and that may mean you do not put effort into other things, but at another point in time that balance would be addressed. The School strives to find a balance over time.

What in the School do you find needs improving?

The word 'improvement' tends to suggest that something is wrong. I like the word 'enhance'. So much of the School is doing so well that obviously the intention is to try to 'enhance' the elements of the School that we can, to make the things that we are doing better, rather than to propose 'improving' them. My point will be that everything in the School can improve and we strive to improve everything that we do all the time. We need to reflect always on what we do and try to improve.

What are your hobbies?

A lot of my leisure activities involve me in supporting my children and their activities. At the moment, this is the most important leisure activity. I also enjoy reading, playing my guitar and refereeing rugby.

Alex Barbour completed an apprenticeship in Fitting and 1st Class Machining before qualifying as a secondary teacher in Design and Technology. He has taught in both the independent and state education systems in WA. He comes to Christ Church Grammar School after completing two years at Guildford Grammar School.

Ghylene Crouche completed her Bachelor of Arts at UWA in French, Italian and Japanese. She then went to Florence on a university scholarship to further her studies in Italian. Later she worked at the Information Services Branch of the Health Department for about two years. She has been working at CCGS since October 2000 and is currently pursuing studies in Information Science.

Linda Curlewis has taught languages other than English at secondary school level in Africa and at various independent and state schools in Western Australia. She completed a year's study in Switzerland and France before leaving Africa in 1985 to live in Western Australia. Linda was the treasurer of the Teachers of French Association of Western Australia from 1999 to 2001.

Rose D'Cruze joined Christ Church in April 2001 as Administrative Assistant – Foundation. She has extensive secretarial experience with her last position as a senior secretary with WMC Resources Ltd where she worked for 18 years. Along with her family Rose lived in Kalgoorlie until she transferred to WMC's Perth Office in 1995. She was involved in many community activities in Kalgoorlie including serving on the Skills Formation Advisory Panel in the development of a new Certificate in Office and Secretarial Studies for Kalgoorlie College. She also assisted the WMC HR Corporate Training and Development Department define course scopes for Secretarial training modules in 1998.

John Dimmer has been involved in sport development throughout his working life as well as in a voluntary capacity with various community clubs. In 1995 he was awarded a Churchill Fellowship to study sport development in England and in the USA. He has worked as a PE teacher and as a sport administrator at the Ministry of Sport and Recreation. His other interests include football. He played in the WAFL for Subiaco and East Perth as well as representing WA and coaching West Perth between 1995-1999 including two premierships. John has also been a P&C President, the President of a little Athletics Club, the Chairman of the WA Football coaches Assoc, a committee member of the WAFL Umpires Board, a coach of numerous junior sporting teams and enjoys golf, lazing at the beach, cricket and athletics.

Luke Dwyer graduated from Edith Cowan University after completing a four year Bachelor of Education degree, majoring in Physical Education. His first teaching appointment was at Mercedes College, after which he joined the PE Department at Christ Church. He has accepted a full time position at Trinity College as of next year. Luke coached both football and athletics during his time at CCGS and very much enjoyed his role as a Wolsey House Tutor.

Joseph Hekeik came to Perth in 2001 from Sydney. Having taught Geography and Economics at Ursula Frayne College in Term 1, he taught Social Science to Years 9 and 10 during Semester 2 at Christ Church. Joseph has worked in a number of schools in Sydney during the past twenty years and has held positions such as Head of Department and Head of the Senior School. He leaves CCGS to return to St Vincent's College at Potts Point in Sydney in 2002.

Ron Jensen returns to the school after 15 months away with the Yachting Association of WA and working as a Sessional Lecturer at Edith Cowan University. His passion for boating and in particular sailing sees him return to the role of Teacher-in-Charge of Sailing as well as teaching in the Design and Technology, Year 10 Marine Studies and Year 12 Nautical Studies.

Simon Lawford was assistant organist at Peterborough Cathedral from 1980-86 and taught music at Oundle during this time. Subsequently he held the post of assistant organist at Christ Church Cathedral, Oxford, before spending a year at the Centre de Musique Baroque de Versailles. On returning to England he was organist of Hampstead Parish Church. He moved to Australia in 1994 to take up the post of Director of Music at St George's Cathedral.

Sean L'Estrange joined the Economics and Commerce Department following several years as a Head of Department in the Catholic school sector. He commenced his teaching career at Wesley College and broadened this experience while teaching for a year in London. He was the head coach of athletics and swimming at Wesley. Sean completed a Masters Degree in Education (Leadership) in 1995. He remains an active member of the Australian Army Reserve, where he serves as a Company Commander with the 16th Battalion and holds the rank of Major.

David Neville joins us to teach religious education. He has taught in both Perth and Sydney. David's other interests are gospel studies, ethics and tennis.

Rob Manning arrived at CCGS in 1997 and has spent an enjoyable and very busy five years in the English Department. Before this, he had taught in a variety of places including Guildford Grammar, Esperance and Japan. Rob's extracurricular interests are concentrated around Rugby and Sailing, where he has coached in both areas and has been MIC of Rugby for the past two years. Rob counts, as one of his enduring highlights, the gradual development of nine Year 8 Rugby players who began in 1997, and who were part of the team which won the Brother Redmond Cup in 2001! He also accompanied the 2000 Rugby tour to Hong Kong and Thailand. Sailing is a passion for Rob and he claims that he was very lucky to be able to take the mirrors or red witches out twice a week and call it sport training! Next year, the Norlee will be Rob and Diana's home in which they will be sailing around Australia to explore a very different way of life.

Phillip Williams is a CCGS Old Boy who graduated in 1979. He then trained in audiovisual photography before becoming a Medical Illustrator with UWA where he worked for 13 years. His next position was as a medical photographer and graphic designer for three years with the Audiovisual Production Unit at Sir Charles Gairdner Hospital. He qualified as a microsoft certified professional in 2000 before joining the School as an IT and audiovisual assistant in April of this year.

Sheryl Gardner commenced teaching at Christ Church in 1992. Previously Sheryl had taught in schools across the state from the Kimberley to St Norbert's in Cannington.

Sheryl's involvement over a decade at Christ Church has been enormous. She has been a popular Romsey House tutor, Assistant Head of the English Department, founder of the Environment Club and for a number of years the Teacher-in-Charge of the enormously successful Debating Academy. In this time she has also managed to write and have published a successful young adolescent novel entitled The Peppercorn Tree. Since 1997 Sheryl has been Head of Hill House and has brought to that community her vibrancy, panache for organisation, enormous energy and wonderful capacity to care. In this way she has positively affected and enhanced the lives of many boys who have enjoyed her wit, wisdom and good counsel. Perhaps above all else Sheryl has been a dynamic, insightful and, undoubtedly, excellent teacher of English. She has enthused countless boys with her love of books, media and language.

Sheryl leaves Christ Church for a year's leave in which time she will be teaching at Great Southern Grammar in Albany, living in Denmark on the banks of the beautiful Wilson Inlet and indulging her passions of writing, reading, listening to great music and walking her dogs through the tranquillity of the ancient karri forests and the rugged coastline of the Great Southern.

John Baines was born and educated in England. He moved to Singapore in 1982, the year in which he received his PhD. His appointment was as a teacher of International Baccalaureate Physics courses. During his thirteen years at that school, he was promoted a number of times and in his last five years there was Head of the High School. After a relatively short time at Christ Church, he is moving to Darwin to take up his appointment as Head of the Senior School at Kormilda College.

Ben Hodsdon joined Christ Church Grammar School as a teacher in the Mathematics Department and as a resident tutor in Parry House. Ben was in Parry House for four years until he became a Tutor in Queenslea House. Ben then took on the role of Tutor in the newly formed Moyes House until 1996, when he was appointed Head of Noake House. Over the last six years Ben has earned the respect and affection of all in the Brown House.

As a long serving member of the Mathematics Department, Ben has been Assistant Head of Department and Acting Head of Department. In the co-curricular domain, Ben has been involved in a diversity of areas: cricket, football and cross country coach, Teacher-in-Charge of Debating from 1986-1995 and Co-ordinator of Rowing for fourteen years.

Ben's contribution to the Christ Church community is undeniably awesome. We wish Ben well as he prepares for new challenges during his year's leave in the Northern Hemisphere.

Megan Pentony returned to Christ Church after a year at Perth College. Her appointment for 2001 was in a relief position while Christy Dangerfield was on leave for a year.

She has been appointed to the permanent staff from 2002. Megan has once again been busy coaching swimming and hockey. She has played a significant role in the Peer Support Programme in which has accepted the position of School Co-ordinator from 2002.

Mid way through the year Dr Simon Clarke departed the school and the State to take up a position in the Education faculty of Macquarie University in Brisbane. In doing so he fulfilled an ambition to move into tertiary education which has guided much of his work over recent years and which has both directly and indirectly benefited his colleagues at Christ Church.

Simon joined the school as a teacher of Social Science and History and was a driving force behind the redirection of the Middle School Social Science Curriculum forging strong links with institutions such as the Fremantle Maritime Museum along the way. His effectiveness as a teacher of all ages and ability levels is well recorded and his drolle sense of humour will no doubt remain etched on the memories of many of his students and most certainly will be missed in the Senior Common Room.

As Professional Development Officer, Simon Clarke worked tirelessly to provide opportunities for all staff to keep themselves abreast of the rapidly changing landscape of pedagogical research and method and in the area of Enterprise Bargaining he was instrumental in negotiations which have placed the school at the forefront of industrial relations in education. His significant contributions to staff development and industrial relations means that Simon leaves a lasting legacy at Christ Church and, as he takes on new challenges in tertiary education, he leaves with the thanks and gratitude of many students and all of his colleagues.

In April 2001 David Smith was engaged in a practicum with the Christ Church Library. Since then he has joined the staff on a part-time basis. David is continuing to study towards his Bachelor of Science in Library Technology at Edith Cowan University.

Lisa Eddy is leaving the Medical Centre team for greener pastures. She has been with us for six years and during this time has been studying for her third and fourth degrees in commerce and law. From the latter she has just graduated with honours. Her original degrees were in General Nursing and Midwifery. She has nursed throughout WA and has brought to CCGS Medical Centre a wealth of experience and a very sound understanding of the needs of adolescents.

At the end of Term 1 the School lost Martin Whitely to State politics. In saying goodbye to Martin we celebrate his achievement of a lifelong ambition to be a member of parliament. In Martin's life, the election result is a watershed which, as a member of the Labor Party, he has worked towards for two electoral campaigns, both at the Federal and State level. Martin is passionate about issues and prepared to back his beliefs.

Martin has been a member of the School community for six years during which time he has made a strong contribution as a teacher in the Economics & Commerce Department, tutor in Noake House, sports coach and staff representative.

Emma Clement leaves CCGS to enjoy her new married life in the country. She joined the Drama Department as a teacher four years ago, after teaching overseas. She was no stranger to us, as she had served her major teaching 'prac' with us and, even before that, was a member of the Midnite Youth Theatre Company when a pupil at PLC.

Right from the start Emma gave her whole self to the School. The dynamic and innovative Year 9 drama course which allows our boys to see drama as something that challenges them, something that allows them to succeed and something that is fun to do, is very much of her making. She has also put much energy into the Year 8/9 production and she undertook the Company Management of the Midnite Youth Theatre Company. Emma was ever watchful for those who were tired, uncomfortable or just plain 'out of sorts'. Of course, these qualities find excellent expression in the way she works as a Tutor in Romsey House. Her Venture leadership too is legendary; while as a committee member of the Staff Association, Emma's contribution never faltered. Apart from all that, she is a very fine teacher and a great friend and colleague.

Margaret Murphy has been at CCGS for 11 years. Her nursing experience has been wide and varied with positions held at Sir Charles Gairdner Hospital, Fremantle Hospital and Hollywood. Margaret is well known to many boys for her compassion, wisdom and sense of humour. She is leaving CCGS to spend more time with her retired surgeon husband, Charles. When the world settles again her ambition is to spend more time in her favourite overseas country, France, improving her language skills and enjoying French provincial life. She will be sorely missed by all in the Medical Centre and the CCGS community.

Christy Dangerfield has resigned after taking this year off. She started at Christ Church in 1988 as a prac student and was so impressive that she was employed in the Biology Department from the following year. Having spent a number of years on the Claremont Campus, Christy took on the challenge of Assistant Director at Koorlingal in 1995, where she remained until 1997. At Koorlingal, she introduced the Ribbons of Blue programme, looking at micro-organisms in the Murray River and the environmental impacts of human activity on it.

Christy returned to the Claremont campus in 1998, where she got involved in the Peer Support Programme as leader and then co-ordinator. She continued to support the Venture programme, walking as a leader and then subsequently, as the "Food Queen" (organising, ordering and dropping food out to the hungry masses). She took Cross Country for sport and tried to enhance her own fitness by running with the boys, though she often checked on those down the back. She was a staunch supporter of Queenslea House. Christy was also the Vice President of the Staff Association for a number of years. Her love of Science and, in particular, Human Biology, helped to make her an innovative and enthusiastic teacher in our Department.

Now living near the beach in Sydney, Christy is continuing her love of the outdoors, has become a part-time wildlife rescuer and is enjoying teaching computing packages to adults.

During the year we were sorry to say farewell to Ground staff members, Richard Read (at the Claremont campus) and Peter Ruscoe (the cricket curator at Mt Claremont). Their efforts in keeping the grounds of the school both beautiful and functional are much appreciated. We have subsequently welcomed Tom Mortley and Trevor Scott to this efficient team.

In the Maintenance Department, Winston Pascoe is the new recruit. He is frequently seen around the campus, busily fixing things. We are pleased to welcome him to the staff.

The key points in John Leach's forty-three years in the service of Christ Church were well highlighted in the November 2002 edition of Chronicle. The 1996 Mitre also touched on some of these in featuring the farewell given to John by an appreciative Romsey House when, after fourteen dedicated years at its Head, he moved to the position of the Schools' Registrar of Admissions.

It is worth remembering that the four years John has spent in this post leading to his retirement, is the only time in his time with the School that he has not also been a classroom teacher.

It is the particular role of teacher that has been the basis for all that John has done. It has enabled him to maintain the balanced perspective that characterised the opinions he would offer at meetings - administrative, academic or pastoral; that informed his judgements as Master of the Middle School and as Housemaster; that enabled him as Registrar to clarify issues raised by parents of potential students.

Coupled with this, and equally appreciated, was John's humour. He has a keen awareness of the ludicrous, and ironic, often self depreciating, wit which he used to great advantage in his public speaking and certainly to the delight of his colleagues in some meetings. A most noteworthy member of Christ Church has left us. His years of selfless service has given much to so many and we thank him for it.

Vince Evans leaves Christ Church after eleven years as Bursar to take up a similar position at Bunbury Cathedral Grammar School. During his time at the School, Vince has had a significant role in many major projects including the rebuilding of Walters Boarding House, the redevelopment of McClellans Boarding House, the heating of the School swimming pool, the airconditioning of the senior school, and the introduction of enterprise bargaining agreements, to name but a few.

Vince explained that the decision to move was a lifestyle decision for him and his wife, Judy. It is their long-term plan to retire to that area and the opportunity to make the move now was too good to miss. He looks forward to making a contribution to his new school while enjoying the new life style.

Stop Press

Sue Gordon, who for 20 years has played an important support role in the Chemistry Department, tendered her resignation after the end of the academic year. She will be working in a part-time position at All Saints College from 2002. In addition to her duties in Chemistry, Sue has played a pivotal role in setting up radio communications for Cadets and the Venture. Her contribution in all areas will be very much missed.

Another end-of-year surprise was the news that Graham Moncur would be taking a year's leave to teach various subjects at schools in Albany. For Graham, this is obviously good news as he will be able to spend the year with wife Sheryl Gardner as she takes her leave. Graham's expertise will be missed in many areas of the School during 2002, but particularly in Swimming where he has played an important role as Teacher-in-Charge in recent years.

Peter Rickey almost managed to slip away without anyone noticing. During 2000 he was on leave, filling the role of Sports Secretary for the PSA. Then at the end of last year, he decided to resign from Christ Church to take up this position permanently. Having been deprived of an opportunity for a proper good-bye, we had him back this year for a formal farewell from the staff. Peter worked at the School for 28 years, first as a Manual Arts teacher and later as Sports Master. His organisational skills and ability to arrange celebratory staff lunches or post-carnival get-togethers for almost every occasion helped to make life easier and more enjoyable for his colleagues. We wish him well for the future and are pleased that we have and will continue to see him often at inter-school events.

Over his 12 years at Christ Church Peter Brien has made a significant contribution to the life of the School. Indeed, he has seemed almost omnipresent as a supporter, in the audience, on the sidelines, at poolside - where the action has been, there Peter has been too. He has always been at hand to help colleagues and students and through his unassuming contributions and informal involvement, he has quietly added to the effectiveness and success of a myriad of school activities.

Of course, Peter has reserved his major injections of energy for his passions. As Teacher-in-Charge of Hockey, he leaves an influential legacy, while boys in swimming, athletics and rowing have also benefitted from his tireless involvement. In addition to this he has been a respected teacher of Social Science and has often been seen proudly sporting the red of Queenslea House as a wonderfully supportive tutor. The Common Room will miss his enlightening conversation, humour and energy.

This year has marked a turning point in the lives of all. For the Year 12s, it has marked the end of a beginning; for Years 9 to 11 it has been an increase in workload, responsibility and maturity; and for the Year 8s and our Headmaster, it has marked the start of the Christ Church way of life. But, for the whole of Australia, it has marked the Centenary of Federation.

In 1901, the Australian people realised the importance of synergy; that so much more can be achieved by working together, as one. Now, 100 years on, Christ Church preserves this aim of co-operation and teamwork throughout its activities. Through open integration between year groups and great cohesion between staff and students, Christ Church provides a community with amazing warmth and success.

The School provides a learning environment that reaches well beyond the classroom, with so many different areas of interest available to us, from the sporting field and the stage, to Koorringal and Venture, to the Ethics Centre and the ESU. Christ Church has inspired and developed us, by encouraging diversity and by creating an environment in which each individual is able to discover his talents in life and, in turn, it has allowed everyone to find out who he really is.

Throughout our years, we have been taught the significance of teamwork and collaboration, skills that will be so important in our adult lives. At the same time, we have been encouraged to assume responsibility for our own learning and to recognise that there are many occasions when we must be able to work independently.

Opportunities

Christ Church prides itself on the opportunities that it provides for us to express our uniqueness and to develop in confidence. We have been encouraged to get involved in as many activities as possible since Year 8, in order to diversify our experiences. Boys are encouraged to achieve a balance between their activities - to find time, not only for our academic life, but also for our cultural, sporting and social life. It is this time management and balance, which has produced such amazing TEE results in the past and I am sure that this will hold true this year.

Year 12

Christ Church has enjoyed many successes during 2001. The senior teams saw an amazing amount of wins, while the lower years proved that, they too, will carry on the strong school spirit that was shown throughout the year. This school spirit is not just reflected in how many wins we had, but in the immense participation in all of Christ Church's opportunities. Take, for example the cadets, where there were so many Year 10s wanting to get involved, that a fourth platoon had to be formed and, amazingly, there are even more signed up for next year. This just goes to show why we are the most successful unit in the state.

This year, we savoured the advantages of synergy, as we excelled as a team. This was emphasised by the huge success in team activities this year; with Rugby, Tennis, Badminton, Debating and the 2nd VIII in Rowing all winning; while Football and Hockey finished in the best places for years. Mock Trials once again proved to be strong; while both Music and Drama were major successes, with their brilliant performances throughout the year.

Defeats

School spirit, however, is easy to achieve when you are winning, yet, it was also through the pain of losing that we stood strong. We learned from our defeats and were determined to right our wrongs. A moment that typified this was when the 1st XVIII Football Team saw the Alcock Cup fall out of our grasp, when we drew '87-all' with Aquinas. Although bitterly disappointed, we kept our heads up and came out the next week to win that game, finishing second in the Cup.

But, what is winning?

Legend, Dr Romeo Charles, raised this at the Cricket Dinner earlier in the year. He argued that it is not so much what is seen on the scoreboard, but what he sees every day of the week - so many boys out on the oval and in the nets, enjoying themselves with all their mates. That is what it is all about - this is winning!

Friendships

This defines the most significant thing that this school has provided and which I will take with me when I leave tonight. Friendships: friendships, which I have built up over the years.

Since we arrived at Christ Church, we have been meeting up with each other almost every day of the year. It is my Christ Church mates who have had the greatest influence over me. It has not just been within my own year group. There is great inter-year group integration throughout the School and this allows for the high spirited community which is Christ Church.

And, thanks to the Old Boys' Association, these friendships will not end here, with many functions available for us to reunite and to stay in touch with the school community.

Thanks

Tonight, on behalf of the Class of 2001, I would like to thank those who have given us this great opportunity.

To the staff, we thank you for your ongoing support and guidance. You have helped us through the challenging times and have celebrated our successes. It is thanks to your guidance and friendship that we can hold our heads up high as we leave here tonight.

To Mr Wynne, we thank you for your inspiring leadership, which has provided Christ Church with such strong spirit and direction.

To our parents, we thank you for your undying support; you are the reason that we are here tonight. Over the years, you have kept us on the straight and narrow, supported us through challenging times and rejoiced when we've succeeded.

To the prefect body, and especially the senior prefects, you have led with great willingness and pride and have been a great example to the rest of the students.

Personal

On a personal note, I would also like to thank a few people who have made my year so much easier.

To Mr Norris, Mr House and Dr Lewis, I thank you for your extra support and organisation.

To Mr Morrissey and Mrs O'Brien, I thank you for your ongoing help throughout my five years in Moyes.

To my mum and dad and my sister Ali, I thank you for being there for me. For your loving support, guidance and enthusiasm. You are the reason for my successes.

And finally cheers to Shaun Hardcastle, last year's Head Boy. Since Speech Night last year he has helped me out in my role as School Captain. He has provided me with the insight and advice that has allowed me to lead with confidence.

Conclusion

Over the years, Christ Church has brought us together to create this tight-knit community. It has given us the skills to face the real world. Many of us are already in the workforce, finding out what it is all about. Christ Church has shown us who we really can be and how, by being persistent in reaching for our goals, we can achieve anything.

This is emphasised in a quote by Emily Dickinson:

We'd never know how high we are till we are called to rise; and then, if we are true to plan, our stature touch the sky.

We will come across challenging times along the way, but we must use the skills that Christ Church has developed in us to overcome them and become stronger.

Remember that, whereas the pessimist sees the difficulty in every opportunity; the optimist sees the opportunity in every difficulty.

Good luck to the Leavers of 2001, take on this world with your heads held high.

Thank you Christ Church for bringing out the best in all of us, and for giving us the best start in life.

The Student Senate continued to represent the student body in a number of areas and on a range of issues this year, meeting once a week to discuss ideas relevant to day to day school life and to search for ways to improve curriculum, sport and culture for all members of the School community. Also of importance were regular briefing sessions with the Headmaster,

Mr Wynne, and Deputy Head, Mr House, which enabled the students' views to be heard at the highest level.

The sub-committees for public relations and maintenance were again effective in their respective roles this year. The Senate also had a representative, James Marangou, whose specific brief was the health and well-being of all people at the School. James was to play a major role by putting forward the ideas of the Senate on such issues as the bullying policy and (of the utmost importance) the current state of the school's toilets.

The Senate was also consulted on school building plans, changes to the dress code, and a proposed Year 12 'hang out' room. It also played an important part in the launching of a fund raising drive to help treat people with cataracts in Bali. Students and staff were allowed to wear sunglasses for the day in exchange for a donation and a substantial amount of money was raised.

Staying on a 'health' theme, the Senate was instrumental in replacing the much loved thickshake, which was accused of containing more sugar than the average child should consume in a week, with a healthier, more nutritious version. This, hopefully, is a step towards making the canteen even more of a health haven and increasing the overall fitness of the campus.

The smooth running of the Senate was very much the result of the indefatigable enthusiasm of Mr Duncan MacLaurin. Without his quirky sense of humour and finely tuned organisational skills, many of the ideas generated by the Senate would remain just words without being put into practice. Thank you also to Year 11 Senator of 2000, Tom Carlton, who, as a result of his previous experience on the Senate, was willing to provide some of the ideas for this report.

The Senate has indeed enjoyed a successful year and those of us who are leaving encourage next year's Senators to continue with the improvements, new ideas and pizza-eating which make the Christ Church Senate such an indomitable force.

TOM CASSIDY
Year 12 Senator

As is our custom, the Chapel Report is combined with that of the Centre for Ethics.

February visitors to the chapel included Archbishop Peter Carnley and Bishop David Murray. The latter was on a pastoral visit in preparation for confirmation. The archbishop came for the commissioning of Mr Wynne as headmaster. We were also pleased to welcome the archbishop's secretary Father Sean Mullen to this ceremony. Also in February, Old Boys from the era of Mr Peter Moyes attended a chapel service. During this service, John Sears, the School Captain in 1951 read the lesson.

One of Mr Wynne's earliest initiatives was the establishment of House Chapel. In first term, each House had a service where the focus was on Sidney Carter's much loved Lord of the Dance. Mr Duncan MacLaurin spoke about the rich theological content within this hymn. We heard biblical readings on the theme of dance and spirituality. Members of each House were invited to write a prayer about dance.

As part of the Centre for Ethics programme, Li-Anne Carroll, Youth Development Officer with the Nedlands Council spoke to Year 11 on "A Street Cred. Community Co-op". Li-Anne asked the students to suggest initiatives the Council might take for a more inclusive local community. There was a lively and helpful response.

Ken McIntyre from the Cottesloe Marine Protection Group put the case to Year 11 as to "Why we should preserve the Cottesloe Reefs". Again, the students responded with enthusiasm and insight to this discussion of a local ethical issue. Ken McIntyre returned to the school for evening talk and the showing of slides.

We were delighted to welcome back Old Boy Alex Fletcher who spoke to the senior school of his experiences in East Timor during a placement as part of psychology studies at Notre Dame University. Given the prominence of East Timor in the national conversation, it was splendid to have Alex add a personal perspective.

In March, the Music Department provided us with a Choral Evensong featuring heavenly sounds from Herbert Brewer and Ralph Vaughan Williams. Another event featuring our singers and musicians had its sequel in the chapel when Mr Peter Holland and Shanti Graham were here to receive $1500 for Save the Children. The money was raised at a jazz concert, an initiative of Old Boy Jonathan Watts, in December 2000. The presentation of the cheque reminded us of how people can bring together their creativity and compassion to achieve a worthwhile result.

A talk for the Centre for Ethics at this time featured Mr Duncan MacLaurin on King Lear. A week later, the Chaplain built on some of Mr MacLaurin's ideas to discuss the book Contentment: a way to true happiness. In that book, the authors Robert Johnson and Jerry Ruhl reflect on Shakespeare's masterpiece as they examine the ancient connection between ethics and happiness.

The Centre for Ethics was again happy to support the Pastoral Care Seminar organised by Sister Trish Cahill. In 2001, the topics were suicide prevention, bullying, anger management and learning difficulties. On a related theme, we had an evening with Dr Paulien de Boer about "Young People and General Practice". Dr de Boer dwelt on important ethical questions such as confidentiality, consent to medical treatment and barriers to young people using general practice.

In April, we had a magnificent Easter Sunday service. The sound of organ, trumpet and beautiful singing filled the air in celebration of the resurrection. Soon after, we continued to reflect on the theme of hope and new life with the visit of Rebecca Coombs who spoke to a large number of senior students about "Choosing Your Attitude". She told us of her struggle with leukaemia and of her decision to be positive in the face of adversity. It was a marvellous address, followed by an enriching exchange with the students. Rebecca then gave an evening talk on the same theme.

The notion of resilience was taken further by Melbourne based Professor Michael Carr-Gregg, an Adolescent Psychologist working at the Albert Road Centre for Health. Dr Carr-Gregg spoke to all senior students. He then gave an evening talk on "Demystifying Adolescence" to a huge and appreciative audience in the chapel.

House Chapels in Term 2 focussed on the sanctuary cross. In paying attention to this work of religious art we were greatly assisted by the reading of Year 12 student Alexander Bennett's poem The Sculpture in the Chapel.

The renowned author and lecturer Dr David Tacey visited us again in May to question accepted orthodoxies about the so called impasse between religion and spirituality. Father Brian Morrison told Year 11 about his work with refugees in various parts of the world. It was a fascinating insight into the practical application of Gospel values on the part of one Perth's great characters.

The Centre for Ethics and the Parents' Auxiliary combined for a film evening in the chapel. This was to raise money for an orphanage in Cambodia run by an extraordinary person called Geraldine Cox. Geraldine's journey from the comforts of suburban Adelaide to the erstwhile killing fields made for compelling viewing. It was also the first step in a link between Geraldine's support group in Perth and the Centre for Ethics. Geraldine herself visited us in August. We were glad to welcome a valiant woman whose loving heart and fierce determination has made all the difference in the lives the vulnerable children who would otherwise have had to fend for themselves on the streets of Phnom Penh.

Towards the end of May, another of Mr Wynne's initiatives took place in the chapel. The Year 8 Service gave us an opportunity to observe the transition made by these boys into the senior school. Around this time, the Gideons visited us to make their annual presentation of a bible to each Year 8 student.

Bishop Murray returned in June for the confirmation service. His special way of relating to the students and their families makes for a delightful atmosphere. This year, two parents were confirmed as well as nine boys

The Centre for Ethics hosted the launch of an important new book by University of WA academic Dr Beverley McNamara. The book, Fragile lives: death, dying and care, explores the experience of terminal illness and care in ways that encourage readers to examine the fragility of human social life.

The final offering for Term 2 was a talk by the Chaplain on Patrick White's novel A Fringe of Leaves. The theme of the talk was "A Woman's Journey into Prayer".

In July, Dr David Hay, former Director of the Religious Experience Research Unit at Oxford University, spoke about the spirituality of people who do not attend church. This was followed by a forum, run in conjunction with Anglican Social Responsibilities Commission, entitled "Refugees: Faith and Hospitality". Speakers included Mr Ken Arkwright from the Jewish community, the Rev'd Margaret Tyrer from the Claremont Uniting Church and Dr Samina Yasmeen an Islamic scholar from the Department of Political Science at the University of Western Australia. We received considerable support from the Coalition Assisting Refugees After Detention (CARAD).

Just as the State Drug Summit was held, the Member for Nedlands, Sue Walker, spoke to almost half the senior school on the importance of this event.

In early August Founder's Day was celebrated in fine style with the choir singing the beautiful Mass for St George by our own Mr John Bates. As well, the choir sang the anthem Let us Now Praise Famous Men and Non Nobis, Domine.

Young Australian of the Year, James Fitzpatrick, addressed the senior school on his vision for this country. Graham Hyman spoke to Years 10 and 11 on the subject of "Leading Yourself, Leading Others". Mr Hyman also presented an evening workshop on "Understanding Your Teenager".

House Chapel for Term 3 saw us visiting Christ Church across the road. Our school was founded from the church by the then rector, Canon McClemons. The chapel services were structured a way that allowed the building to speak to us. The current rector, Father Greg Davies, welcomed each House and spoke about the link between this prominent church and our school.

In early September, Dr Judith Thomson spoke about the social and ethical aspects of patenting life forms with regard to the Human Genome Project. This was a brilliant presentation by one who is widely respected for her work in the area.

During September, Mr Justice Einfeld gave two stimulating addresses on human rights, racism and Australia's approach to refugees.

Following the events of September 11, Mr Wynne and the Chaplain addressed the senior school during a service in which we prayed for the innocent victims. Mr Wynne spoke about the need to focus on the light and on the power of love. The Chaplain spoke about the ability of people to draw on an inner strength. Given some of the reactions to the destruction of the World Trade Centre, we asked our good friend Dr Samina Yasmeen to speak to senior students about the true nature of Islam. Dr Yasmeen told us of the Five Pillars of this religion. Her own compassion shone through. We were enlightened by her presence. She came back a few weeks later to participate in a seminar on "Care for the Soul in a Time of International Anxiety". She was joined by clinical psychologist Steve Runciman.

With the new location for the Centre for Ethics in Q Block Mr MacLaurin has introduced lunch time discussions. These sessions, entitled "Philosopher's Corner", have been well attended. Nic Averbuj who is studying philosophy at UWA led a particularly interesting conversation around the question of "Good and Evil".

During fourth term we were joined for a week by the writer and literary critic Michael McGirr. This visit was made possible by a generous grant from the Parents' Auxiliary. Michael has written the best selling book Things you get for free. He has also written a study of Tim Winton. Michael came into a number of classes and spoke about Tim Winton's work. He also addressed a chapel service and spent a lunch time talking with an interested group of students on aspects of writing. It was a delight to have Michael with us. Two weeks after his visit we hosted an evening with Tim Winton. Tim spoke to 500 people about his new book Dirt Music. He gave us some fascinating background and answered a range of questions with his customary insight and good humour.

Towards the end of the year, we had ceremonies to farewell Year 12 as well as a magnificent Advent service with our choirs in full voice. A nativity play on Christmas Eve was followed by a joyful service that evening.

The chapel is used for weddings and baptisms. At 9.30 am on the first Sunday of every month we have a communion service. At 5.30 pm on every third Sunday there is evensong.

FRANK SHEEHAN
Chaplain

Japanese Tour

We left Perth for Singapore (and ultimately Tokyo Narita Airport) late afternoon on Sunday. From the airport in Tokyo we took the train to our place of accommodation, the Ryokan Toki, a traditional Japanese inn where you sleep on futons on tatami, Japanese mats made of reeds.

We spent three days in Tokyo, during that time we went shopping in various areas including Akihabara (Tokyo's electronics district), visited Tokyo Disneyland and a Sumo museum.

After Tokyo, we took the 300 km/h Bullet Train to Kyoto, a city famous for its plethora of old shrines and temples. At our hotel we wore yukatas (light cotton kimonos) between our rooms and the bathroom, redefining style.

Whilst in Kyoto, we all hired out bicycles and rode around trying to get 'proof' of having gone to at least three temples or shrines. Some people saw Kinkakuji, a temple totally covered in gold, whilst others opted for Ryoanji, a temple with an immaculate Zen rock garden. However, the highlight of the day for five lucky students (William Holmes, Andrew Morrigan, Brendan Mackay, Daniel Dempster and Roland Pain) was becoming national TV celebrities on a live interview for the lunchtime news.

After our couple of days in Kyoto, we took another Bullet Train (or Shinkansen) to Kobe. After a few train switches, we arrived at our brother school, Hotoku Gakuen, and met our host families with whom we would be staying for the next week. We had a few free days with the families before going to school, so the families took us hiking to Osaka Castle and to Eigamura (the place where the majority of Japanese Samurai movies are made) among other places.

School started and the experience continued. At Hotoku Gakuen we attended some classes with our host brothers and ate lunch with them in their classrooms. Spread over a few days, we visited a number of different club activities after school including: Kyudo (Japanese archery), Judo, Shorinji Kempo (Japanese pressure point Kung-Fu), Kendo and Sumo. At the Sumo club, Mr Turkich and two students (Roland Pain and Daniel Dempster) joined in, furthering their cultural experience. "Turkich Sensei" and "Daniel-Sama" managed to do Christ Church proud by chalking up a couple of awe-inspiring wins.

On the last day we said goodbye to our respective families and caught the bus to Narita airport. Some people were sad to leave (except Andrew Morrigan, who didn't leave as he still had three months of exchange ahead of him), but everyone left with great memories of the land of the rising sun.

French and Anzac Tour

April saw a group of 38 students from Years 10, 11 and 12 at CCGS and Iona Presentation College leave Perth for a tour that included participation in Anzac Day ceremonies at Villers-Bretonneux and Bullecourt in France.

The French students spent some time with host families in Fraguignan, in the south of France. By seeping up the French atmosphere, attending the local school and going on numerous excursions, their knowledge of France and its culture was heightened. History students, however, journeyed to the sites of famous battles in Belgium and France. They visited Crecy, Agincourt, Waterloo, Ypres, Flanders Fields and the Normandy beaches.

Later, both groups met in Paris before heading for Albert, a small town on the Somme River. French students were once again billeted with local host families. Others stayed in the beautiful Chateau de Becourt, which served as a hospital to 120 wounded Diggers during the Great War. Students took part in Anzac Day ceremonies through poetry reading and wreath layings. Commanding Officer, Lt Col R.B. Peterson RFD, led our cadets in a march in the parades at Villers-Bretonneux and Bullecourt.

Draguignan host families provided the French students with a wonderful time, as they took their billets to nearby tourist attractions of Monaco, Avignon, Nice, Aix-en-Provence, and Marseille. Some were given the opportunity to ski on the Alps. Another highlight was a group trip to a number of Roman sites at Frejus on the Riviera, followed by a few hours in St Tropez. Hikes and tours became other significant highlights.

Other memorable trips included visiting Paris, which involved sightseeing experiences at the Eiffel Tower, the Arc de Triomphe, Napoleon's tomb, the Champs Elysees, Notre Dame, admiration of the Mona Lisa and visits to Versailles and Disneyland; also of interest was the trip to the Valley of the Somme, which caused everyone to reflect on the war.

Surfing Tour to Bali

Memories of the CCGS Surfing Tour to Bali at the end of first term will not be forgotten.

Accompanied by Mr Simon Hunn and Mr Shane McGurk, twelve Year 11 boys experienced the exotic lifestyles of Bali. They spent the majority of their time conquering the surf at Uluwata, Dreamland, Bingan, Balian, Cannugu and the more prosaically named Middle Reef. Their base was Legian Beach, a prime tourist attraction.

Balinese culture was also explored, with a traditional meal prepared by the group's guide, Soody, being a highlight. The boys also gained insight into some of the problems experienced in Bali with a tour of Denpasar's Rotary Eye Hospital and a meeting with an Australian who runs a government sponsored detoxification clinic for heroin addicts.

Thus a wonderful trip, with an enjoyable surfing focus, also provided some education about the Balinese culture for our intrepid travellers.

Hockey Tour to Sydney

A mixed team of Firsts, Seconds, Thirds and several Year 10s played in Hockey Fest 2001 in Sydney. The teams Christ Church faced came from England, Canada, USA, RSA, NZ, Adelaide and Sydney.

Our home for the week was Hurlstone Agricultural College. We were happy with our location, close to the train station and shops.

Our matches began with us playing on what is perhaps the world's best turf at the Sydney Olympic Hockey Stadium. After one draw, we did not look back and went into the next games with passion and spirit. The most notable performance was Christ Church's draw against a formidable English side from the Havant Club. After a hard fought match, both sides enjoyed relaxing in the spas, saunas and pools provided at the Homebush stadium.

After a few days in the competition, CCGS was in second position, closely followed by the Canadians and a local team, McArthur. Unfortunately, losses to McArthur and home rivals, Hale, cost us a spot in the top four, but we bounced back to victory against two Adelaide teams to win ourselves a minor trophy.

Besides hockey we enjoyed shopping at the colourful 'Paddy Markets', the nightlife of Manly Beach, an educational exhibition in Centre Point Tower and Sydney's marvellous views.

Many thanks must go to Mr Peter Brien for organising and managing the tour and to Mr Murray Robertson for his fine efforts as coach. The trip would

Abrolhos Diving Trip

This year saw two groups of nine students venture north during the October vacation to explore the clear coral waters of the Abrolhos islands on the 20 metre charter boat, Sea Trek, owned by Diving Ventures of Fremantle. The first trip was led by Matt Berry and Headmaster, Garth Wynne, the second by Don and Mark Morrissey.

After familiarisation with the boat and its capabilities, we took the brief trip into Geraldton from the fishing boat harbour to find some suitable 'delicacies' for our evening meal. The seafood diversity was tempting with the endless list including crayfish, Jewfish, Coral trout, squid; but the final delicacy of choice by the students was KFC!

The next day we awakened to the throb of the diesel engine as we headed across the 60 kilometres of ocean to the sanctuary of the coral islands. The weather was cloudy and the wind a light offshore, making for smooth sailing. The trip across included some sightings of the migratory humpbacks on their way back to the southern ocean too. On a number of occasions we saw whales jumping their full length out of the water, rolling and crashing back into the ocean with huge explosions of spray.

The low flat isles emerged on the horizon, seemingly out of nowhere, and the excitement and anticipation built for the diving experience. Gear was organised and equipment checks performed. We anchored in the lee of islands to get shelter from the swell of the open ocean and all divers found the waters clear and the marine life prolific.

As part of the annual trip both groups visited the anemone lump, a large coral mountain rising out of 30 metres of water, coming to within about eight metres of the surface. The top of the lump is covered with thousands of anemones and their companions, the brightly coloured clownfish. Many large fish species congregate around the lump, seemingly aware that this is a sanctuary area and therefore free of danger from humans looking for a fish meal.

The weather for both trips proved to be pleasantly warm, a little windy but not excessive, and the sky was clear with the odd patch of cloud. Certainly there was time between dives to soak up the sun and to put a line in the water to see what might be biting. A number of boys landed edible baldchin grouper, pink snapper and some other smaller species.

Some even ventured into the water for some spearfishing in between Scuba dives.

All great things come to an end and leaving the island paradise was not easy. Once again the diving trip proved to be full of activity and excitement. The enthusiasm for this annual visit to a sub-tropical paradise with its magic diving, only 400 kilometres from Perth, is building and there are already students and staff looking forward to the 2002 trips.

Singapore Water Polo Trip

Water Polo players take tea with style.

A group of fourteen players, accompanied by Ms Gates, Mr Hodsdon and our coach, Tom Jasper, spent a week in Singapore to train and play games with five other schools. It was a great success due to the superb organisation by the teachers, parents and boys from the host school, The Anglo-Chinese School (Barker Road).

The games against the schools were definitely a good experience and we learnt some valuable lessons, such as coping with different umpiring and styles of play. As most of us had not played together as a team before, the training sessions were great preparation for us in the next two seasons of PSA water polo. We all learnt how to play a more physical game and we became fitter, faster and stronger.

As well as playing water polo, we had plenty of time to shop and spend time with the boys from the host school. Six Christ Church parents accompanied the tour and they enjoyed meeting ACS parents at the sumptuous Welcome and Farewell dinners organised by the host school. We all enjoyed the sport and the new friendships made and we are looking forward to seeing the Singapore students in the next few years.

ARCHIVES

In the International Year of the Volunteer the Archives was delighted to welcome Maureen Jackson to its team. Her efficiency, organisational skills and interest in conducting research and mounting displays were much appreciated. Indeed, so much so, that she was the obvious person to succeed Rita Willard when she decided to relinquish her part-time position in the Archives in favour of a full-time secretarial position in the Preparatory School.

Mrs Maureen Jackson joins the Archives team.

We thank Rita for all she has done for the Archives since 1996. She has witnessed the collection grow from a few yellow crates of documents and boxes of photographs stored on wooden shelves to ordered series of documents, photographs and museum items located in a compactus. Fortunately her enthusiasm for all things archival and her dedication to "ensuring the record is right" will not be lost to Christ Church. It is hoped she will now be able to devote some of her time to organising and managing the archival records in the Preparatory School.

The year was punctuated with the traditional Old Boy Reunions, Founder's Day Services, House, sporting and cultural functions. More often than not the Archives was required to produce a display for these occasions. Highlights included displays for the Parry Years Reunion (1923-1932) and the Founder's Day Luncheon in honour of Old Boys who have been awarded Imperial and Australian Honours.

The Archives was also asked to mount a photographic display of the Class of 2001 for the Valedictory Dinner. Sarah Dobb and Maureen Jackson brought the notice boards outside the swimming pool to life with a dramatic display depicting boys who had won academic and extra-curricular awards as well as those who had been involved in athletics, football swimming, rowing and rugby. Boys, parents and staff were delighted with the result.

Each year Old Boys, parents and friends of the School donate numerous items to the Archives. 2001 was no exception. Donations ranged from a pith helmet worn as part of the School uniform in the 1940s to a recording of the radio commentary of the 1958 First VIII and Second VIII Head of the River races. Each has a story to tell and is a wonderful acquisition for Christ Church. The challenge for the archivists is bringing these stories to life.

Transition

The transition from primary school to secondary is a special time in the life of a young person. It signifies an important step in the passage to adulthood, and usually means moving from a relatively small community of learners where they were seniors to juniors in a much larger community. There are many unfamiliar faces without a name and places that have names that have no meaning. Further the location of each place may be a complete mystery. In many cases the secondary school is a new environment, some distance from home and involving another challenge, travel. While in primary school most activities took place in one room under the direction of one teacher, the transition involves a different range of activities under the control of many teachers in various places. This places more responsibility on the learner to be organised and to make more decisions affecting their future.

The CCGS transition programme is built upon the perspective that a boy who is happy will learn more concepts, more quickly. In Year 7 a considerable amount of background work goes on, clarifying the challenge ahead in broad terms. Year 7 teachers and parents play an important role in this. A letter sent to parents in the semester before enrolment provides information about the forthcoming process. At the same time the School seeks to find out more about each boy so that we will be better prepared to make the start of secondary schooling a happy experience for all.

Our focus for boys making the transition revolves around their needs. For each boy priorities are to:

- meet and get to know the people who will work most closely with him and his family;
- give him a sense of belonging;
- help him feel valued and safe;
- make new friends;
- feel that he is supported by older boys;
- feel secure and not lost;
- be able to find his way around the school.

Orientation Day is one of our most significant transition activities and marks the first time all boys new to the School come together. The day centres on meeting new people, getting to know a face, being able to put a name to the face, answering questions and allaying any anxieties of boys and parents. The boy's House will be "home-base" for the next five years, so it is pivotal to orientation and a successful transition. Key players include School and House Prefects, Peer Support Leaders, Tutors and Heads of Houses. New boys in Years 9 to 12 have a 'buddy' from their Year group to show them around.

The House staff and Peer Support Leaders continue to spend considerable time focussing on the challenges facing the Year 8 boys over the next half term, along with subject teachers and sport coaches. The emphasis is on being friendly, making friends, taking one step at a time, being patient and making clear what the expectations are.

Getting to know other boys in Year 8 and having fun together was the theme of a fun beach day this year when boys, Peer Support Leaders and House Peer Support Co-ordinators, Heads of House and some Physical Education teachers joined in a day of fun activities at Floreat Beach. So successful was the beach day that it has been decided to extend this into a three-day Year 8 camp in 2002.

We regard our transition programme as being of the utmost importance in the integration of new boys and their families into the Christ Church community. It is the first step in creating that 'sense of belonging' which I wrote about in last year's Mitre. This in turn helps to foster a happy school environment in which our boys can grow emotionally, socially and in all aspects of curricular and co-curricular pursuits.

RAY HOUSE
Deputy Headmaster

Peer Support

The Peer Support Programme aims to support the transition and integration of our Year 8 students into the busy world of the Christ Church community while providing our Year 11 students with important leadership opportunities.

With this aim in mind, the Year 10 boys who had volunteered to become Peer Support Leaders for their Houses, underwent a two day leadership training course in November 2000. Father Frank Sheehan addressed the boys about the need for the programme, Ms Mary-Jo Morgan ran a workshop on effective communication, Mr Sergio Guazzelli's workshop discussed safe and effective trust exercises, Mr Paul Jepson's session dealt with group management skills and the boys listened to our dynamic guest speaker, Mr Andrew Horobin. They also spent time with their House Co-ordinators discussing the content of the five sessions they would run during the first few weeks of Term 1. The boys left having been informed, inspired and motivated to begin 2001 as effective Peer Support Leaders.

The Year 11 leaders had their first meeting with the Year 8 students in their House on Orientation Day and were charged with showing them around the campus. This provided the leaders with an opportunity to get to know the boys and to allay any fears about what might lie ahead. The first of the five Peer Support sessions began on the Friday of Week 1. The leaders and House Co-ordinators planned these sessions to not only discuss issues dealing with bullying, decision making and self assertion but to also provide a range of activities to facilitate friendships between the boys within each House. These activities also benefitted the Year 11 leaders because they had to work together, plan, organise and take responsibility for running an effective session. They were assisted and guided in this by the staff co-ordinator for their House. Later in Term 1, many of the groups organised an excursion to places such as Q-Zar and these proved to be very popular.

This year a new event was included early in Term 1 to assist in the transition of our Year 8 boys and involved a series of activities at Floreat Beach. These were designed by the Physical Education Department who were on hand to assist, as were the Heads of Houses. Everyone agreed that it was indeed a fun day, but the real success of the day was the interaction that occurred between the Year 8 boys and their Peer Support Leaders and it certainly set the tone for what has been a most successful Peer Support Programme.

2001 provided new and exciting opportunities for the happy and successful integration of Year 8 students and thanks must go to the Year 11 leaders and their House co-ordinators for all the hard work and commitment to the Peer Support Programme.

Medical Centre

Our year, as always, has been very busy with the never-ending flow of coughs, colds, large and small physical and emotional traumas that beset any normal boy.

Along with this and all our usual health programmes, we have continued our focus on making the boys more aware of looking after their skin in the sun. Since 1995 a group of present Year 7 children have been involved in skin testing by the University of Western Australia, Public Health and Curtin University, aimed at reducing children's sun exposure and thus the problems associated with it. Via the Medical Centre, the last of this testing was carried out. At the end of the study children who received the Kidskin intervention had fewer moles on all body sites than children in the control group. This programme certainly needs our support in future years.

Our involvement with the Building Resiliency Seminar has continued in conjunction with Rotary, Catholic Education and the Education Department of Western Australia. A very successful seminar was held at the Esplanade Hotel in Fremantle and another is planned for 2002.

It is with much sadness that we say farewell to our two long serving staff members, Margaret Murphy and Lisa Eddy. Margaret, who has worked in the Medical Centre for twelve years and has been my right hand support, is very much looking forward to her retirement, while Lisa leaves us to pursue a career in Law.

To all the boys who are leaving us this year, we wish you well and thank you for the privilege of sharing a small part of your lives.

If you are looking for a House of superhuman athletes, extraordinary swimmers or all round world-beaters, then keep looking. On the other hand, if you want to see a House that has a great bunch of guys who give a hundred percent in anything they are asked to do and who have smiles on their faces while there doing it, then Craigie is the House for you!

The year began with the prefect group determining goals for Craigie in 2001. The two main aims were participation and enjoyment.

The first official event of the school year was Orientation Day, where we welcomed the new boys and their parents into the House. After spending just a few hours with these boys, we realised that we had a great new intake of lads. Their transition into the daunting Senior School was made that much easier with the help of the Year 11 Peer Support Leaders, Sam Alexeeff, Will Dowling, Chris Dunn, Naroot Foo, Chris Le Messurier and Ben Mather.

By this time, Craigie had primed itself for the first Beatty Cup competition of the year, the House Swimming Carnival. The Craigie boys strolled into Challenge Stadium supremely confident but, after two years of total dominance of the Swimming, the boys were ordered to take it easy on their opponents and let one of the other Houses win for a change. At the end of the night, we finished a hard fought fifth, which was largely due to the Herculean efforts of Todd Skipworth, who won the U/17 age group championship. Out of the water, Craigie excelled, filling the stand with every boy from the House. These boys were superbly co-ordinated by the Year 12s along with the Craigie head cheerleader, Tom Baker.

The boys were happy to be back on terra firma and were ready for the next event, the House Arts. Over the years, Craigie has turned into a dominant force in the House Arts and this was again the case this year as Craigie took out first place overall with consistent performances in public speaking, debating and chess. The captains of these three disciplines, Richard Edwards, Rob Olivier and Will Sandover did a superb job, encouraging all boys from the House to be involved, whether it was in a participating or supporting role. Special mention must be made of Chester Tulloch (in just Year 9) who led our chess team by assuming the Number One position and won all his matches; also of the Nock brother combination in the public speaking who wowed the judges and audiences alike with their great performances.

Next was the dreaded cross country run. Two Year 9 boys in particular were in their element out in the bush-land of Perry Lakes: Nick Johnson and Yannick Dedigama. Overall the House finished in eighth position with Andrew Cameron leading the way with a great run in the senior school event.

Amongst all these House events, 80 boys from Years 8 to 11 collected money for the Salvation Army, giving up their time on a weekend. It was a great effort and was appreciated by all.

As the rain came, so did the House Winter Carnival. In the middle school teams Andrew Ogden, Josh Annear, Nick Shea and Mitch Thomas all put in great performances for the House; while in the senior school, Peter Ruse, Tom Baker and Ben Saunders led the rugby to first position and Mohamad Bustari, Sam Hammond and Michael Smith all put in huge efforts for their teams. Overall Craigie came seventh.

With the House effectively out of the running of the Beatty Cup and the pressure off, the boys ventured into the House Athletics with high hopes of a great finish to the year. However, these hopes were soon crushed after the House finished last or second last in each of the first fifteen events. Our cause was not helped by the late arrival of the buses, which were carrying some of Craigie's star athletes. There were, however, some highlights to the day such as the efforts Darren Wong, David McNaughton, Michael O'Shea and Richard Newnham. In the U/17s Will Sandover took out second place in the overall championship, while in the Open age group, Tom Quirk and Rob Olivier led from the front, performing well in the 400m and shot put respectively. The willingness of every boy, no matter what his athletic ability, to step into events at the last minute and compete for his House, was the most pleasing part of the day.

For this, I would like to thank every boy in the House, from Years 8 to 11, and especially the Year 12s, who have shown amazing leadership over the year. To the Craigie prefect team of Will Sandover, Peter Ruse, Sam Hammond, Chris Dix and the vice-captains, Rob Olivier and Tom Quirk, thanks for the support and encouragement you have given me and for the outstanding job you have all done. The House could not be run without the tireless work of the six tutors who have given us genuine care, great advice and encouragement throughout the year. To Mr McGillivray, Mr Jepson, Mr Hallett, Mr Lindorff, Mr Mailes and Mrs Oke, you have made this our home away from home. Finally, to the man who runs the House, Dr Charles, your humour, advice and approachable nature have made every boy who comes into the House feel welcome. On behalf of the Year 12s I would like to thank you for the support you have given us in our final year.

The conclusion of 2001 saw Hill House seriously considering changing the House's emblem from the orange bull to a dark horse, as a result of our performance throughout the year. Hill emerged victorious, winning the ultimate and most sought after prize - the Beatty Cup - in a tie with Romsey House. Persistent performance contributed to the end result, emphasising the depth and spirited commitment evident amongst the Hill House team.

The year began with the House Swimming Carnival, in which we managed a respectable fifth place after leading the pack at the beginning of the competition. Usual outstanding performances came from Guy Greer, who for the fifth year in a row was age group champion. Although Hill may have lacked the strength in the pool, the energy and spirit shown in the stands was second to none.

Next on the competition calendar was the Arts. Hill House holds a reputation within the School for excelling in this domain; however, despite valiant efforts, we were able to manage only eighth place. Jayant Kumar, Darryl Chua, Perry Ward and Paul Solomon must be commended for their willingness and spirited participation.

The ultimate test of commitment is seen in the gruelling challenge of the Cross Country. The boys dug deep and we finished fourth overall. Special mention must be made of David Kordic, who won the competition in the middle school, and David Graieg who was third in the senior school. Congratulations must also go to Campbell Mackenzie, Arjun Kumar, Charlie Angliss, Tom Hobbs, James Adams, Daniel Gammell, James Balfour and Arno Rohwedder, who ran well.

Hill then got the first taste of sweet victory in the Winter Sports Carnival; albeit tying with Queenslea House. Not traditionally recognised for sporting finesse, Hill went beyond the critics' expectations. The speed, skill and fitness was exemplified in the sport of sports - soccer. The senior school side, former premiers, met arch rivals Walters in the final for the second year in a row. In true finals style the game went to penalty shootouts in which Hill won their back to back premiership.

With this demonstration of sporting strength and depth of talent within the House, Hill looked poised to take first place in the Athletics Carnival. The day was packed with stories of bravery and commitment. Nevertheless, the pursuit of victory never gets in the way of our main focus - participation. The Open Division 200m presented a problem, with George Grover leaving the majority of the skin off his arm and shoulder on the track, in his desire to win first place. This commitment was mirrored in the next race by Guy Greer, who pulled a ligament half way through the race, but still somehow managed to finish first. Then elemental forces intervened to cause a premature end to the competition and we finished in second place. The transition from last place in 2000 to second place this year goes to show the effect determination and House spirit can have.

Next came the Summer Sports Carnival. With the Year 12s knuckling down to their trial examinations, the Year 11s stepped up to assume leadership roles, with successful consequences. Hill again showed itself to be strong in all age groups, clinching an all important second place in the competition. With this added to our earlier results, no one could quite believe their eyes or ears when confronted with the news that Hill, the dark horse of the Beatty Cup, was equal first overall! An outstanding result!

The House bestowed several awards for incredibull involvement to the following boys: the Advance Award for Years 8s went to Perry Ward, Tom Hobbs and Eric Mackenzie; the UnstoppaBull Award for Year 9s was awarded to Tim Greer, Campbell Mackenzie, Arjun Kumar and David Kordic.

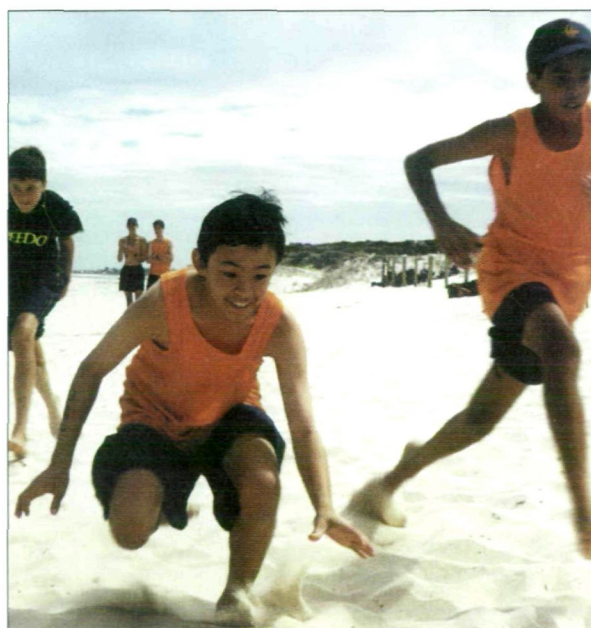

The conclusion of third term saw mixed emotions in the House: we were overjoyed at our victory and yet deeply saddened by the news of the imminent departure of our Head of House, Ms Sheryl Gardner. It was especially emotional for us Year 12s, who started in Hill in the same year Ms Gardner came to lead the House. We now see her depart at the end of our final year and feel fortunate that we could spend our time in the Senior School under the guidance and leadership of such an understanding, approachable and compassionate person. Many in the House see Ms Gardner's tireless devotion as the backbone of the House's greatness. The current Year 11 group in our House has, however, always been seen as a very strong year and, under the leadership of Darryl Chua, Daniel Gammell and David Shirley, they are sure to carry the success of the House into the future. May the spirit of Hill continue to grow, while the House remains a compassionate and warm place for all members of the Hill community. As Ms Gardner would say, "Hill is indeed unstoppaBULL."

2001 was once again a year of excellence for Jupp House. The good-looks and intelligence of the members of this House are evident too in the Head of House, Bob 'The Colonel' Peterson. With his support, as well as that of the exceptional Jupp House tutors, it often surprises people that Jupp does not win every competition! The truth is, we in Jupp believe that everyone should have a go, making sure that everyone gets the opportunity to do something for the House. No-one is alienated and everyone wins.

The year has been fruitful for Jupp House. We have consistently been placed in the top five in most of the Beatty Cup competitions. It is this consistency that makes Jupp a formidable opponent on any playing field.

The first competition of the year was the House Swimming Carnival. It was an evening of brilliance and teamwork. After a very successful evening, Jupp finished fourth, a very respectable performance. In the most important race of the evening, however, Jupp was triumphant - the House Captain's race was an eagerly awaited and fiercely fought event, although it did remind everyone that House competitions are not about winning, but having a good time.

Next was House Arts: public speaking, debating and chess. Again, Jupp performed to a high standard. The Arts Festival was also a very successful for Jupp. Julius Jeppe led the Juppian artists to victory in the mascot design and construction. In addition, Jupp did very well in the murals and wheelie bins. Unfortunately, the drama competition was not held this year, much to the disappointment of many members of Jupp. Having won this trophy in the past, it was a pity to not be able to defend the title and give new meaning to the word 'thespian'.

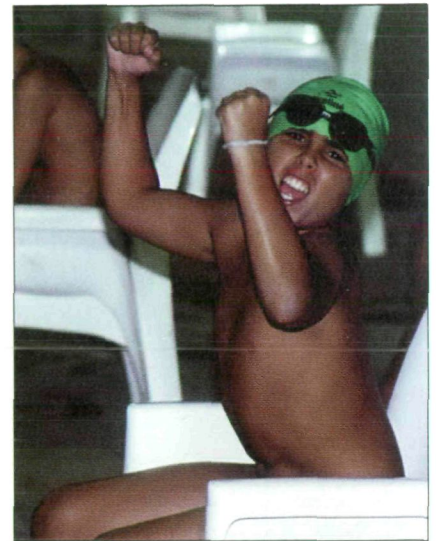

The next major competition was the Cross Country. This is a discipline in which Jupp excels. In the top three finishers, Jupp took out first and third with excellent performances by Jack Leeder and Tim Cribb. Fitness and finesse were the order of the day, as Jupp led from the front. The event was proof of Jupp's philosophy: even those who were not competing came along to support the team. Everyone's efforts were commended and acknowledged.

Winter Sport came and went, and yet again some brilliant Jupp performances were witnessed. The hockey team did very well and came away with first place. There was great endeavour from all involved.

Competitions, although an integral part of the House System, are not the only reason people are placed in a House while at school. By being part of a House, one is placed in a community of young men of various ages and backgrounds. In this way, spirit and a sense of teamwork are inspired. Jupp House is no exception here. It is very much a House based on team spirit and support. It is these traits that give every member of Jupp a head start in life.

To the tutors and Mr Peterson, we say thank you for your ongoing support and those little things you do that you think no-one notices. I can tell you that they are noticed and very much appreciated! To those taking on leadership positions next year, I hope that leading Jupp will give you all the great experiences and pleasure it has given me, and may your year be at least as successful as 2001. Finally, to the 2001 Year 12s of Jupp, I wish you good luck in the future and entreat you not to forget what had you here: five blissful years under the guidance of the Jupp Black Panther. Wherever you go, you will be leaping forward.

As I reflect on 2001, I am sure that McClelland can be proud of the efforts made by everyone this year.

The year started off with high expectations as this was seen as our year, the year McClelland would beat arch rivals Walters in the Beatty Cup.

As the House Swimming Carnival neared, McClelland was eager to crawl out of the depths of last place. At the end of the night it was once again clear that this was not to be. We weren't winners on the scoreboard but we were winners in spirit as everyone had given of his best and the cheer squad had created a great atmosphere.

With the Arts next, McClelland was desperate to regain some face by showing our cultural finesse. The debaters started off well but could not put the icing on the cake resulting in McClelland achieving eighth place, while chess and public speaking tried gallantly with little success. Overall though, McClelland defeated Walters, which fitted in with our goals for the Beatty Cup.

As the formidable Cross Country neared, Mr Wray had the junior boys out for gruelling morning runs to give McClelland a competitive edge. Their fitness was apparent on the day, with Andrew Reynolds achieving a great seventh place. The seniors struggled to match the high standard set by the juniors but still had four in the top fifty, led by Steven Turpin in second place. McClelland finished in a strong sixth place.

The next opportunity to go head to head with the other Houses was the Winter Sports Carnival. Once again our middle school boys led the way, coming first; but the seniors, with diminished numbers, struggled, finishing seventh overall. The rugby players, lead by Joshua Walley, could hold their heads up high after recording a memorable fifth place. A determined soccer team registered a respectable seventh place. These encouraging efforts were still not enough and McClemans ended this event tenth overall.

After last year's great effort the athletes of McClemans were set the challenge of doing well in the House Athletics. The day brought a mixed bag of results with some great individual performances. Steven and Stuart Turpin achieved a rare feat, both winning their age group divisions. David Tunnicliffe broke the 100 metre record and with Casey O'Connor soared to second place in the high jump. It must be said that even though McClemans dropped one place to eighth position, everyone gave of his best and in some cases boys volunteered for events that were not even their strengths. This highlights the great spirit of McClemans House.

With the Year 12s absent due to their Mock TEE, the Summer Sports Carnival was the first chance for the Year 11s to lead the way and finish the year off with a bang. A bang it was with great results coming from all sports. McClemans did well in speedball, achieving fourth place. Badminton/tennis followed closely behind with fifth position along with basketball in seventh place. The courageous volleyballers gave it a dig and finished setting up ninth place. Their efforts contributed to McClemans finishing in seventh place, our second best performance of the year. Well done, boys! Despite this effort it was not enough to pull McClemans off the bottom position but there were some encouraging signs that suggest that McClemans will be a House to look out for in the future.

2001 was a challenging year in the Beatty Cup Competition but the boarding side of life was much smoother. This was largely due to the tremendous effort of the staff which ensured that the House functioned efficiently. Mr John Dimmer was a welcomed as a tutor at the beginning of the year and we thank him and the other tutors for their care and encouragement. Many thanks must go to Mr Neil Sagers whose hard work meant that McClemans was always well organised. Mr Peter Wray's efforts with the junior boys were reflected in the wonderful results that they achieved. Our ever-reliable Housemother, Mrs Carol Holloway, proved again why she should be Mother of the Year - her tireless efforts are very much appreciated by all.

Finally, thanks to the boys of McClemans for their spirit, enthusiasm and willingness to participate. I would also like to congratulate the House Prefect team for their outstanding contribution and wish the House Prefects of 2002 the best of luck. May McClemans House achieve much success in the future.

Continuing in the vein of recent times Moyes House had yet another successful year. With achievements across the board and great enthusiasm to participate, the boys of Moyes House made sure the year was one to be remembered. Led by a strong prefect team with a variety of strengths, the House was in good hands for 2001. For those who feel that an achievement must be validated by some statistic, Moyes House finished fourth in the Beatty Cup rankings, a position that does not reflect the effort put in or the enjoyment gained from the members of Moyes House in 2001.

The first event in which the Moyes boys could strut their stuff was the Inter-House Swimming. Proving that we could talk the talk and walk the walk, Moyes House came out on top, winning the Lapinski-McCoubrie Cup for the first in its short history. Michael Cottee and James Erbe were champion boys for their respective age groups, whilst Tim Cottee was runner-up in the Open Division.

Intent on proving that we were not just buff, superhuman athletes, we were keen to put in a good effort in the cultural aspect of the Beatty Cup. Moyes performed admirably in the House Arts, coming an overall seventh. In debating and public speaking, the final result did not reflect the strong effort put in by all involved. Debaters Andrew Gannon and the Strzina brothers showed promise for the future, while public speaking, lead by Tom Cassidy, ended up eighth overall. Chess was undoubtedly the highlight of our cultural activities, with Gerald "Kasparov" Teng and Raymond "Spasky" Kwan guiding the chess fraternity to victory. Special mention must be made of Joseph Luo, Kenny Chew and Rowan France, the young guns, who will ensure success in chess in years to come.

Putting away their palm cards and pawns, the Moyes boys then picked up paintbrushes and palettes ready to unleash their artistic talent in the Arts Festival. Lead by Jack Lee-Steere and Jacob Kendall, Moyes was placed seventh overall which saw some fine pieces produced in the name of Moyes. Our artists showed their outstanding talent by achieving second place in both the wheelie bin and mascot categories. With young artists like Robert Merriam, Tom Cocks and Michael Cottee, Moyes' creative flair is sure to continue for years to come.

The Winter Carnival saw the House achieve a mixed bag of results. The senior boys proved to be very competitive in both football and hockey while, the middle school shone through in rugby and soccer, winning both. The final result was an outright win in rugby and a commendable fifth place overall.

The House Cross Country was a great success, with all boys keen to do the best they could for the House. Moyes got off to a great start with our the middle school team coming first overall. Moyes runners who made this possible were James Erbe, Jamie Fini, Sam Wallace and Gavan Cruise who all got places in the top thirty. Spurred on by their younger brethren the senior boys put in good performances, with top ten finishes from Jack Lee-Steere and Stu Copeland, to come third in their division. With these two results Moyes was just pipped at the post for the overall win by Romsey and had to settle for second.

Keen to prove their athleticism once again the Moyes boys were fired up for the House Athletics Carnival, an event on the Beatty Cup calendar in which Moyes has traditionally done well. This year would be no different with Moyes coming third. As usual Jack Lee-Steere, Steel Scott and David McMorrow were great contributors to the Moyes tally with Steel Scott winning his age group. One significant aspect of the performance was the willingness of House members to participate in events in which they were not naturally gifted and the enthusiasm to help the House in non-competitive roles such as marshalling. This emphasis on participation is one of the hallmarks of the Moyesian spirit.

The last fixture of the Beatty Cup was the Summer Carnival. Contrary to athletic performances towards the beginning of the year, Moyes came a lacklustre eighth. A shining star was the basketball team, which ended up a creditable second.

As well as competing in the Beatty Cup, boys from Moyes House raised money for and donated their time to the Make-a-Wish Foundation. Instead of selling chocolates this year Moyes House raised money from the embroidery of their jumpers and singlets.

The atmosphere of openness and support that surrounds Moyes House is only possible because of the tutors that perpetuate it. Led by our very own cartoon character look-alike, Mark "Barney" Morrissy, the year proceeded flawlessly, as his organisational skills came to the fore. Under the guidance of Mr Morrissy, I have nothing but the utmost confidence in the student leadership of the coming year and hope that they too can enjoy the success of which I was lucky enough to be a part during my years in Moyes.

While in terms of competition, 2001 may not have been the most successful for the House, it was inspiring to note that losses on the scoreboard could not crush, nor even dent, the colossal spirit of Noake.

In recognising the calibre of this House, it came as no surprise when one of tutors, Mr Martin Whitely, was elected to the State's Lower House early in the year. Torn between his love for the House and his duty to the State, Mr Whitely decided to spread the Noakian vision beyond the campus, allowing for Mr L'Estrange to join the ranks of Noake. Also accepted into the House were our eager new recruits, the Year 8s - the future of Noake.

First on the Noake calendar was the Swimming Carnival. Trained in the murky brown lake at the foot of Mount Noake, elite swimmers Chris Wiener, Jesse McDonald, Nic O'Halloran, David Somerville-Brown, Tenghin

Chan and Matthew Boyce all found the Challenge Stadium waters comparatively mild and cruised the pool in impressive fashion. However, in complying with Noake's sacred writ whereby all House members are obliged to participate, anyone who could float and flap their hands got their chance to represent the House. Consequently, our final eighth position was a reflection of broad participation.

Having flexed their muscles, the time had come for the academic, the artistic and the persuasive brains of Noake to dominate the House Arts Competition. The public speaking team achieved an amazing fourth overall, turning the tables on the defeats of previous years. The debaters, under the guidance of Ross Dinsdale, were also placed in a respectable fourth position, testament to their ability to improvise. Peter Birmingham, wielding the House Duty Roster with venom, undertook the unenviable task of transforming the Noakian warriors into calculating chess-masters. This team sent shock waves through the school as Noake, in unprecedented fashion, made fifth place, which quite frankly was as sweet as a victory. Overall, Noake was placed fifth in the House Arts Competition, as we crept slowly up the Beatty Cup ladder.

The House Winter Sports Carnival followed and Noake performed well across the range of sports offered. Football turned out to be the jewel in the Noakian crown, as the Noake team dominated to take first place. The hockey, rugby and soccer players all represented the House proudly and their results reflected this effort.

Finding themselves in unfamiliar territory (the top half of the Beatty Cup rankings), the Men of Noake determined to use the House Cross Country to return their feet to the ground. Even the highly secretive advantage of the 'Stansbury Plan' could not stop the Noake squad from achieving a three-way tie for last place, despite strong performances of Chris Wiener, Nic O'Halloran, David Somerville-Brown and David Khouri. The supreme efforts of these valiant individuals were rewarded with vials of Noakian Holy Water (Noaka-Cola) collected from the muddy fountains in the valleys below Mount Noake.

Every true Noakian understands that our founding forefather, St. Francis Assisi, could not run, nor even flounder on the rocky shores of Mount Noake. Thus it came as no surprise when the hours of training, toil and commitment on the muddy flats of Hoddo Plateau (near the summit of Mount Noake) finally paid off at the House Athletics - Noake placing last. Although there were some great performances from lightning sprinter Ian Cameron, gallant Sean Geelhoed and specialist hurdler David English, in strict accordance with the First Noakian Commandment, "Thou shalt not win at any sporting contest", the Noake Blokes placed tradition before glory and generously allowed the lesser Houses the chance to shine.

The Summer Sports Carnival, under the guidance of the Year 11 leaders, saw great success for the House as the only event which truly counts on the year's sporting calendar, the middle school volleyball competition, was dominated by Noake's victorious team. Noake performed well in each of the other sports to place fourth overall.

Thus, come the end of the year, Noake successfully maintained the long-standing tradition of finishing in the bottom half of the Beatty Cup Competition, with a pleasing ninth place overall. Best of luck to the next year's Head of House, Ms Crawford, as well the prefect body of 2002 in upholding this convention.

Thanks to all of this year's House Prefects, in particular Vice-Captains

James Hunt and Andy Sadler for their leadership in guiding the Noakian flock. The greatest of thanks, however, must be saved for the man who, for years, has taken the young Noakians under his wing, who has guided the House since we can remember, who truly encapsulates the spirit of Noake and who has an unnerving resemblance for the cartoon character Wally - Noake's Head of House, Ben Hodsdon. With the leaving of Hoddo a golden-brown era comes an end and his efforts will be etched in Noakian folklore for generations to come. One thing is sure: the question "Where's Wally?" will forever be echoing down the tunnels of Mount Noake.

The year, like every year, has seen every Noake Bloke given the chance to represent the House in any capacity he chooses, regardless of ability, age or experience. It is this that makes Noake so tight-knit, so proud and the greatest House to which one can belong.

Yours, forever in Brown,

CHRIS HEYES

When we reflect on the year that has passed, it is difficult to ignore the presence of change. In such an environment, it is a House like Queenslea which offers that sense of stability, of belonging and of purpose.

This has been so evident in 2001, particularly in the efforts of the Peer Support Leaders and the expanded programme to allow greater interaction between Year 8s and senior students. It has been enormously refreshing to see our Year 8s develop into confident, positive and outward-looking young men.

Indeed this is true of all members of Queenslea. Their awareness of our society and its needs is reflected in the overwhelming response to a request from David Burridge, a Queenslea Old Boy serving in East Timor, for sporting equipment which would bring joy to the local people. Our first fundraising activity was our annual Red-Cross Door Knock where approximately one-third of the boys in the House offered their door-knocking services. Other fundraising objectives were met through the sale of chocolates and these funds were directed towards research into disease transmission between penguin colonies in Antarctica. Tim Macpherson presented a cheque to Dr Chris Curry (another Queenslea Old Boy and former Captain of School) who is conducting the project.

Our House Sundowner, held in the early part of Term 2, provided an opportunity for parents to meet the staff in a relaxed atmosphere. This was a considerable success and thanks must go to the mothers who co-ordinated the event.

It would be naive, however, to suggest that our focus on a happy and spirited House rendered us uncompetitive. Success was already in the making from the early in the year, though not immediately.

The Swimming Carnival was the first of a series of competitions against the other Houses. Traditionally, this has been an area where we have excelled, but a combination of factors meant that despite valiant efforts by Nick Van Leeuwen, James Mansfield, Aden Chrystal, Luc Tasker and Alistair Price we came away with a somewhat unexpected seventh.

This issued us with a wake-up call and we went on to record an outstanding performance in the House Arts Competition. Our chess players were brutal in the opening rounds, with Andrew Kim and David Seggie leading the way. Our public speakers experienced similar success with Mark Desebrock a stand-out performer. We became somewhat complacent after this early success and dropped our guard in the later rounds, resulting in a sixth placing for chess and a still impressive third for public speaking. Our special strength, however, was in debating, and we powered our way to the final, held in the Chapel. It was a grand affair, with Michael Watson, Sek Tan and Tom Carlton launching an impressive and winning argument against Wolsey on the topic "That School is Cool".

Success carried us through to the Cross Country, notorious for causing the ill health of many in the days preceding the event. To our credit, Queenslea embraced the challenge. Strong performers included James Mansfield, Aden Chrystal, Tim Macpherson and Paul Norman, but it was the whole House effort which resulted in our overall third place.

In the Winter Sports we once again proved our mettle, particularly in rugby (lead by Alex Macpherson and Tom Carlton) and in middle school football. Hockey and soccer also showed great promise. In the end, we were overall the best performing House, receiving the Winter Sports Cup.

The day of the House Athletics started off wet, but with Hill House establishing a cracking pace. Through the morning we slowly caught up and by lunchtime were not far behind. Three outstanding performances by Paul Norman resulted in his winning of the E.B. Kerby Cup for the Distance Champion. Other solid efforts came from Trygve Guyton, Michael Dolan, Steve Martin, Andrew Storer and Matthew Milner, so that by the commencement of the relays, we had established a considerable lead. Though the last few events had to be cancelled due to wet conditions and lightning, we came away as the winner of the Akos Kovacs Shield.

For the first time in the year, we were in the lead in the Beatty Cup competition with a small one and a half point margin. A strong performance in the final hurdle, the Summer Sports, would ensure victory. All teams fought valiantly, but we were inconsistent across the competition and had to settle for ninth place. This meant we had to swallow the somewhat horrific thought that we had lost the Beatty Cup to Romsey and Hill. Both these Houses must be congratulated for their consistency throughout the year and eventual success.

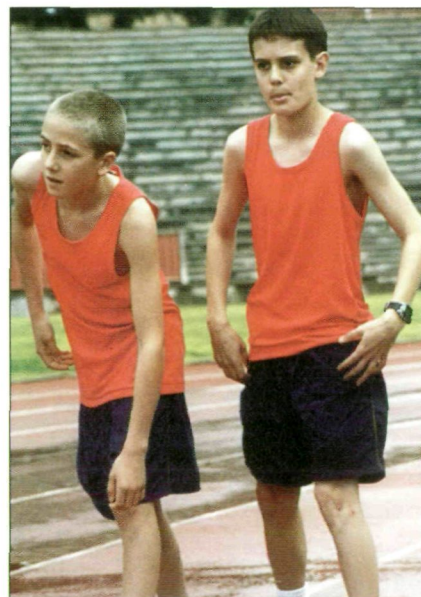

Still, our third place overall is an achievement of which we can be proud. Winning the Beatty Cup, after all, is not our primary objective. True success is about achieving a happy and friendly environment in which we are all purposefully involved.

We are much indebted to our veteran Head of House of some 18 years. Mr Draper's experience, understanding, compassion and dedication are legendary. So too have our tutors been of enormous assistance to us all. To Mrs Matthews, Mrs Pentony, Mr Morrissey, Mr Brien and Mr Evans, we sincerely thank you for your support. Personally, I would also like to thank the prefect team of Cameron Boys, Aidan Cooper, Alex Fisher, Griffin Grounds, Matthew Milner and in particular Tom Carlton and Tim Macpherson.

As the cycle heralds a changing of the guard, the Year 12s wish next year's leadership team the best of luck. We are privileged to have travelled this road together. It has not been easy, nor will it grow easier, but it is our journey together which we will cherish in years to come.

The performance by Romsey in 2001 was equal to, if not better than, what most people have come to expect of the House in recent years. For the fourth time in five years, the navy blues took out the Beatty Cup; this time sharing it with Hill. This success reflects the enthusiasm and pride with which all members of Romsey represented the House in a range of events.

First on the calendar was the exciting House Swimming Carnival. History suggests that Romsey boys are more comfortable on land. We were, however, eager to improve on our seventh place from 2000. Improve we did and at the end of the night found ourselves finishing third behind Moyes and Wolsey. This excellent performance was aided by some significant contributions from George Wong, Michael Bingemann, Chris Allan, Andrew Wong, Sean Carter and Derek Cheung.

The swimmers had shone, now it was time to exhibit our talent in the Arts: chess, debating and public speaking. George Wong lead a strong chess outfit to fourth, Varun Ghosh starred in the debates in which the team finished a creditable sixth, while the House finished fourth in public speaking with a large number of willing competitors. Overall, Romsey came fourth in a very closely contested Arts competition.

Romsey was sitting second on the Beatty Cup ladder and headed into the Winter Sports with a great deal of confidence. It was soon realised that we had gone in with a seriously undermanned soccer team and, despite heroic efforts from Dan Sheehan, Svein Van Oyen and Rahn Goddard, we managed to complete the round robin ahead of only one House in that sport. On the other hand, we had very strong football, hockey and rugby teams which finished fourth, third and third respectively. AJ Ewers and Glenn Thomas led the footy, Andrew Glasson and George Wong proved to be a formidable combination on the hockey field, while Jonathan Chambers and James Marangou worked tirelessly for the rugby team.

Romsey had now pinched the lead and was approaching the event which we had dominated in recent years, the Cross Country. Reabold Hill is traditionally a place where Romsey boys rise above the rest, and things were not about to change. Navy blue singlets were prominent at the front of the pack, both in the middle and senior schools, with Adrian Tarca (6th), James Marangou (10th), Rahn Goddard (12th) in the senior event and Sean Carter, Toby Dight and Chris King leading the way in the middle school race. The tradition was maintained with Romsey runaway winners in the toughest physical event of them all.

Our lead was now stretched with the Athletics next. The depth of Romsey's talent was showcased all day, at least until a thunderstorm forced the school to abandon the Carnival just before the relays. Despite the difficult conditions there were several notable contributions from Romsey boys with Glenn Thomas, Andrew Browne, Chris Allan, Adrian Tarca and Chris King standing out.

Our eventual fifth place was commendable, but Queenslea's victory saw the lead in the Beatty Cup switch hands with only the Summer Sports Carnival remaining.

The Romsey boys knew the importance of this final event, but we also knew that the Summer Sports are not our greatest strength. There was nothing else to do but give one hundred percent in the sports of basketball, speedball, volleyball, badminton and tennis, and hope for the best. At the end of the round robin, we were pleased with our endeavours and quite pleasantly surprised by the results. A huge effort by the volleyballers to finish second contributed to the creditable sixth overall placing for the event.

The Queenslea mob did not have the greatest day, finishing ninth, which allowed Romsey to zip past them in the Beatty Cup standings. However, there was a scare from another House. Hill, out of nowhere, came second to leap up the ladder and possibly take the cup. After the calculation of points, it was revealed that Hill had claimed equal top spot with the mighty Romsey, resulting in the sharing of the Beatty Cup. It was a fitting end to a very well fought year of intense competition and great spirit.

I would like to thank the whole of Romsey for yet another memorable year but, in particular, the tutors: Mr Peter Turkich, Mr Dean Shadgett, Ms Kate Bevilaqua, Ms Emma Clement, Mr Robin Dunn, Dr Simon Clarke and Mr Joseph Hekeik, and of course the man who has done so much for Romsey's outstanding reputation, Head of House, Mr Roger Bayly. It has been a pleasure to be a part of Romsey and an absolute privilege to lead it.

The beginning 2001 marked the start of what was to be a spirited and eventful year for Walters House. Although results on the scoreboard do not reflected the boys' enthusiasm or their contributions, they must all be commended for their efforts and achievements.

The boarders' orientation day for all new boys and parents began with a short introductory assembly followed by a tour of the boarding houses. The boys were then treated to a barbecue, where they could mingle with other boys and staff in the relaxed and comfortable setting of Walters House. After spending their first night in Walters, I am sure the boys and parents knew that this place is as much a home as it is a House.

The first of many Beatty Cup competitions was to be the House Swimming Carnival. Once again the House was confronted with some tough competition that proved to be a challenge for the inexperienced and undermanned Walters House swimming team. To the boys' credit, the House pulled off a gallant ninth place with some individual highlights for Jeremy Chang, Keita Suzuki and Bam Suppipat, as well as our open division medley relay team that won its race in a nail-biting finish.

Also in first term, the boys from Walters participated in the local Red Cross Door Knock Appeal. An outstanding number of boys volunteered and raised a very respectable sum of money. The organisers were exceptionally pleased with the boys' manners and willingness to support such a worthy cause.

The next Beatty Cup competition was the Winter Sports Carnival. It was clear from the start that the men for Walters House were there to win. The senior soccer team, eager to avenge last year's upset, fought hard to draw the game in the dying minutes of the grand final, unfortunately going down in the penalty shoot out. Congratulations to all boys for a good effort in a final third place overall!

The House Cross Country followed. This is an event in which Walters House has become renowned for its strength. The early morning runs at 6:00am paid off and the team finished in a respectable fifth place. Special mention must be made of Ian Simper for his fourteenth place in the senior school event and Kim Newman, who finished in an awesome second place in the middle school.

The House Athletics Carnival saw the end of Beatty competitions for the Year 12s. This gave us a last chance to have a crack at beating our arch rivals McClemons House and to go out with one last shebang! We started off the day with flying colours, competing well in all events. Callan Bleechmore excelled in his 200m finishing third and blitzed the 100m coming second. Worapat Setsompop found his secret talent coming second in shot put for his age group. When a thunderstorm halted the competition just before the relays, we knew that our score was very close to that of McClemons House. After sitting on the edge of our seats all the way back to school, it was confirmed that we had in fact clinched a courageous one point victory, finishing in seventh place and once again leaving McClemons in our wake.

Concluding the Beatty Cup Competition was the Summer Sports Carnival. The Year 11 boys worked hard preparing the teams for the day. The badminton teams must be congratulated for their outstanding win-loss ratio, ending on top of the ladder, unbeaten. In the speedball the results were very different. Having only just enough players plus one reserve, made it difficult in a sport that requires constant speed and energy. Congratulations to those boys for a spirited effort. A final fifth place overall was pleasing.

On a sad note, it is now time for the Year 12s to say their final farewells and to thank the staff and boys of Walters House who have helped to make this House such a great environment in which to live and prosper. Firstly, to Mr Shane McGurk, who joined us at the beginning of the year. Your enthusiasm and commitment is greatly appreciated and does not go unnoticed. To Mr Alistair McNeil, who also joined us at the start of the year, we thank you for your humour and support, making Walters a more enjoyable and brighter place in which to live. Also thank you to Mrs Jenny Ridsdale, who puts in endless hours of work, and to all the tutors and resident tutors who have supported us in so many ways. Last but not least, I thank the prefects who have supported me and made my job so much easier. So thank you Walters House for all those opportunities and congratulations on a successful year - finishing eighth in the Beatty Cup is no mean feat.

Good luck to next year's leaders and I hope all House members enjoy 2002 in Walters - a house overflowing with courage, spirit and determination.

The challenge for some in the first year of the new millennium was to see how high Wolsey could climb the ladder of inter-house competition after last year's sixth place. The mighty men of Wolsey set about meeting the challenge. In some areas we excelled, but others still need work. We were, however, pleased to finish in overall fifth place in the Beatty Cup Competition.

The great start to the year for Wolsey, finishing second in the House Swimming Carnival, set the pace for the rest of 2001. Special mention must be made of James Moffat in Year 9, who won the U/14 age group championship, and of the Open Freestyle relay team, consisting of Peter Dunn, Peter Woods, Paul Coni and Sam Basile, which gained first place for the fifth year running.

The great result in the Swimming was backed up with a tie for second place in the House Arts. Public Speaking lead by Reece Carey finished first, Ian Larkins' debating team ended second and the chess team lead by Kenny Tang managed sixth place. Although everyone does not have the ability to be a good speaker, it was fantastic to see so many Wolsey boys give up their lunchtimes to support the participants in these activities.

The Peer Support programme ran well throughout the first half of the year, with the Year 11 leaders giving the new Year 8s of the House a very warm welcome and much needed guidance. While, the new leaders of the House, the Year 12 group of 2001, settled in quickly and established a core for the spirit and enthusiasm seen throughout the year.

The most physically demanding race the School has to offer, the Cross Country, for some unknown reason is the most testing for Wolsey. An extra special effort in the Cross Country this year saw us finishing in ninth place rather than tenth, but also showed that the sky blue boys have a lot of potential and one day will succeed in this event. Ben Clark, Christian Leach and Sam Basile all finished in commendable places; while James Lee, Nicholas Bloor and James Moffat were the best of our middle school runners.

The Winter Sports did not bring us much fame and we finished in a three-way draw in eighth place; however, it was great to see lots of talent and plenty of enthusiasm, especially amongst the younger boys.

A good result in Athletics, compared to past years, had Wolsey attaining a respectable fifth place. However, disappointingly, lack of commitment of some boys to their races saw no light blue running in a few events. This could have cost us a place, for every race counts. On a more encouraging note though, there were a number of Wolsey boys, both athletes and non-athletes, who were prepared to 'give it a go', putting valuable points on the board for the House. We also took the opportunity to make use of the hundreds of hungry boys available to support our annual sausage sizzle. All profits went to our charity - Anglicare's Step 1 Programme. A special thank you goes to Mrs Kristine Moffat and her band of hard working parents who helped to organise the event and supervised the Wolsey boys who were sizzling and selling.

In the Summer Sports Carnival the House, especially the younger boys, showed their spirit, persistence and commitment, putting in a huge effort. The final result was a fitting first place! This win shows that Wolsey has fantastic depth in spirit and talent, and the potential to rise to great heights in the near future.

In the five years I have been in Wolsey House, we have not won the Beatty Cup. However, this seems insignificant compared to the life long friends I have made and the great times I have had. Looking around the School, I can see only smiling Wolseyans, and I would like to think that if there are any sad faces, they could trust and talk to one of the prefects or teachers. Although the prefects for 2001 are departing, I am positive that caring, determined prefects will be appointed for next year's role.

I must thank all the Year 12s and prefects of the House for uniting as a body, which resulted in great achievements throughout the year. On behalf of the boys of Wolsey I thank our Head of House, Ms Robertson, and the tutors, Mrs A'Court, Mrs Ramsay, Ms Gates, Mr MacGill, Mr Haskett, Mr Marsland and Mr Dwyer, for their nurturing care which makes them so easy to approach in times of need and for their tireless enthusiasm and support. I also especially thank all the boys of Wolsey for their support, patience, participation and spirit during the year. It was an honour and a privilege working with such great people and it was a most enjoyable year. Thank you and good luck!

During Term 1, the Houses of Christ Church put their strategical and oratory skills to test as they competed for the House Arts Trophy. The usual enthusiasm and vigour across the fields of chess, debating and public speaking was evident at all times, with Queenslea, Moyes and Wolsey doing well, but Craigie coming out on top.

Chess, a highly complex game which requires intense concentration, attracted a skilful field of intellectual gurus. The early round robin was fought with determination and the grand final was contested by the winners of Pools A and B, with Moyes ousting Craigie in the end. Craigie did consistently well in the public speaking too, but were defeated by an entertaining Wolsey team in the final. The Wolsey boys were obviously good at speaking with their debaters eventually falling to a talented Queenslea side in an outstanding debate held in the Chapel as part of the Arts Festival Week.

During this week the Houses also competed in visual arts. Competition was fierce with artists from all Houses creating colourful wheelie bins, spectacular murals and clever, sometimes even amusing, mascots.

A pleasing element of both the traditional events for the House Arts Trophy and the revamped visual art competition was the interest, participation and support of a large cross section of the School.

As the sun went down on a cool Tuesday evening, competitors, spectators and officials slowly filled the Challenge Stadium stands, ready for a night filled with excitement, entertainment and most of all swimming. As many expected, it was a night that proved to be full of fantastic races and rivalries in the 2001 House Swimming Carnival.

The swimmers were fit and ready, each brandishing his respective House colours and mascots. Banners, flags, bandanas and even barracking teddy-bears were out in force for the night. However, swimming and stuffed toys were not to be the only outstanding aspects of the night, with overwhelming support from the stands that could easily equal that of previous Carnivals.

As the night wore on, the score tallies slowly grew from House points earned by each swimmer regardless of his final position. Whether it was first or last, each and every point was important as the end result proved. With the final scores added, only two remaining events were yet to take place - the announcement of the winners and the Annual Pool Pony Race. With the ten House Captains each dressed in their most respectable swimming outfits, the traditional one lap event proved to be somewhat challenging for some. However, this was quite understandable as some of the inflatable ponies were most unco-operative.

With the scores finalised, Moyes ended the night on top of the ladder by the barest of margins to Wolsey, followed by Romsey. Congratulations go to the age-group champions as well as new record holders, Guy Greer and Chris Wiener.

Swimmers prepare for the relays as the competition 'heats' up.

Non-runners manning the statistics table.

On Tuesday the 3rd of July 2001, the House Cross Country was held at the picturesque setting of Perry Lakes. The gun was fired and the athletes dashed across the oval. Soon, however, it became apparent that the course had not become any easier and the infamous Reabold Hill loomed ahead. As some slowed to a walk, others pushed on, encouraged by the supporting comments of the teachers posted along the way. Next came the long and tedious (exhilarating for some) run down Oceanic Drive, the cooler stretch around the lake and then the finish line, as the runners jostled for the better position.

Once the race was over and every runner (or walker) had crossed the line, the points were tallied up to reveal the winning House - Romsey - followed closely by Moyes and Queenslea.

Thanks must go to Mr Drew McDonald and his assistants for the expert organisation of the event.

Despite the less than favourable weather conditions, the atmosphere at the 2001 House Athletics Carnival proved to be intense to say the least. As the Perry Lakes stands slowly filled under the clouded skies, many were unsure what to expect from the day ahead. When it was not raining, the cooler conditions were ideal for track and field events, but in the end the weather won. The efforts produced by all Houses created a fierce jostle for positions but, due to huge squalls and horizontal rain, those not sheltered by the stands found themselves dashing for cover. Finally the event had to be brought to a premature end because of the possibility of lightning striking staff members and, yes, even competitors!

Although the event was cut short, there still had to be a winner and it was later discovered that Queenslea House had won, followed closely by Hill. Credit should go to Mr McDonald and other staff members who assisted throughout the day. Congratulations should also go to all of the competitors who battled on bravely.

Winter Games

With only two further inter-house competitions before the Beatty Cup was awarded to the Champion House, the Winter Games provided an opportunity for the leading house, Romsey, to extend the lead and for the others to catch up. The atmosphere was charged with House spirit and rivalry as the ten Houses fought against each other in games of hockey, football, soccer and rugby.

Noake dominated in the football, finishing first and fending off a determined Queenslea team. On the hockey field, Jupp proved to be the team to beat and won the ten points with Hill taking nine points for second and Romsey coming third. The soccer games were very competitive, with each team fighting it out tooth and nail on the pitches. However, Hill emerged as the victors stealing it from determined Craigie and Walters teams. Finally, in rugby, it became clear that it was going to be a two-horse race, with Queenslea and Moyes performing very strongly and finishing equal first.

Summer Games

As the weather got warmer and the year was coming to an end, it was time for the final inter-house competition to gain points for the Beatty Cup. It was to be the decider with Queenslea, Romsey and Moyes, the top three Houses, being separated by only three points.

In the end Wolsey came first winning both the basketball and speedball and coming second in badminton/tennis. The exciting climax to the Beatty Cup, however, was that Hill and Romsey both gained enough points in the Summer Sports Carnival to overtake Queenslea who had coming first to this point.

Overall the Summer Sports Carnival was characterised by a high level of sportsmanship in all Houses.

2001 a Curriculum Oddity?

What a year! A new administration computing package to deliver timetables and other important information about boys, a new timetable direction to begin accommodating the idiosyncrasies of implementing the Curriculum Framework. A revamped marketing approach that is transforming the curriculum, reporting and assessment information we provide for parents. A plethora of committees and working parties to consider matters such as transition from primary school into Year 8, the implementation of outcomes focused education for Year 8 in 2002, and the strategies that might be implemented to provide comparability for different subjects in the new curriculum. But is student learning improving through all of this?

A duck moving smoothly over a pond gives the outward appearance of calm, purposeful direction. However, the feet below the water line are paddling furiously to keep up the momentum. What happens in individual departments at Christ Church is very much like the feet of the duck, paddling furiously against a variety of obstacles to ensure that to the external observer everything seems to be in place and operating efficiently and effectively.

In previous years poetry has been used in this report to provide a different perspective. It has not been easy to find any poems about departments! Nevertheless, I did happen upon a poem titled Departmental in an anthology by Robert Frost. The poem focuses on the happenings in and around a colony of ants and begins ...

Ran into a dormant moth

Of many times his size.

His business wasn't with such.

And was off on his duty run.

The theme of "following rules" premised upon duty continues through English Second Language students, Sherwyn Chin, Michael Mawikere, Rayson Lo, Steve Gunawan and Johan Suriadibali, on an outing to Murdoch University.

the rigid protocols and procedures that the "hive" institutes to deal with a dead ant, leading to the final stanza.

But how thoroughly departmental.

In this new age of public relations in education in which the medium is certainly the key to the message, it is very easy to be caught up in the gloss of the presentation as we endeavour to transmit an image of stability, certainty and predictability – the outward appearance of the hive as one of purposeful, efficient, task-focused activity. Yet if this comes at the expense of creativity, innovation, compassion and risk-taking then are we really making a difference? Do we want our teachers, having found with their students the equivalent of the moth encountered by the ant in the poem, to pass by in pursuit of the externally contrived directives of others, or would we prefer our teachers to take what might be a one-off opportunity to explore new horizons that the "moth" opens up for the group?

It is my hope that the departments contributing to the academic curriculum at Christ Church transcend the hive mentality of the ant colony. In your own experiences as students and parents you will decide whether we take the time to innovate, to explore boundaries, to take academic risks in the "what" and "how" of curriculum delivery. In the pages of Mitre you will also find evidence of such initiative. Good teaching cannot be reduced to technique and a set of classroom skills. Good teaching comes from the identity and integrity of the teacher. In these pages I trust that you will find evidence for identity and integrity, for the heart, spirit and community that resides in our classrooms and not just the technique and skill of good practitioners.

PETER LEWIS
Dean of Curriculum

Mrs Michelle Gore.

In January 2001 Dr Simon Clarke returned from a year's leave at Edith Cowan University to resume his role as Professional Development Officer at Christ Church Grammar School and to convene a new professional development committee. This committee has two main focuses: to identify and organise professional development to meet the needs of the teachers and to support teachers in their review and appraisal processes.

During Semester 1 Dr Clarke and the committee were particularly busy organising the annual staff conference held on Monday 23 July 2001. The conference entitled Making Judgements: Implications for the Contemporary Classroom had three substantive outcomes:

- to present to teachers appropriate strategies in the light of current assessment demands and contemporary theories of learning and motivation;
- to examine reporting procedures in students' learning which are amenable to the philosophy and objectives of the Curriculum Framework; and
- to further the collaborative culture that helps teachers develop professionally and increase their ability to understand new responsibilities and roles accompanying major curriculum change.

The keynote speaker for the day was Professor Geoff Masters, Director of the Australian Council of Educational Research. He provided a theoretical overview of the complexities of assessment and identified the current emerging issues in assessment and reporting. In addition to his keynote address Geoff conducted a workshop on values in education recounting recent research conducted at John XXIII College.

The rest of the day was devoted to workshops conducted by a variety of speakers who work in both primary and secondary sectors throughout Western Australia. These included Ms Denise Macmillan, Curriculum Coordinator, Mackillop Catholic College; Chris Sandri, Principal of Highgate Primary School; Dr Tony Herrington, Lecturer in Education Teaching and Learning, Edith Cowan University; Rees Barrett Director of Accreditation and Moderation at the Curriculum Council and Cherie Lewis and Sue Moss from our neighbour school, MLC. The practical emphasis of many of the workshops was welcomed by Christ Church staff as the presenters provided realistic insights into many of the challenges they faced in implementing outcomes-based education in Western Australian schools.

In addition to using outside expertise, the members of the Christ Church Grammar School teaching community shared their work with their colleagues. Murray Robertson, Deputy Principal of the Preparatory School, facilitated a discussion on portfolio reporting in the Preparatory School. The Year 10 Action Research Group related their experiences in trialing the implementation of the Curriculum Framework and making links across five learning areas, English, Mathematics, Science, Health, Society and Environment and Technology. The work of the seven teachers, Dr Simon Clarke, Ms Nicola Dunn, Mrs Jane Ferguson, Mrs Michelle Gore, Dr Monica Mackay, Mrs Lorraine O'Brien and Mr Shane McGurk, was well received. Two further action research groups were formed in Semester 2 and they examined the implications of programming, assessment and reporting in outcomes in Year 8. Reports of this school-based action research were presented at conferences organised by the Catholic Education Office and the Centre for Excellence.

Another key role of the committee was the conducting of workshops to assist teachers doing the appraisal or review process. Mr Dean Shadgett and Ms Gillian Croston are to be congratulated for achieving the status of Senior Teacher 1. Seven teachers successfully completed the review process, and six probationary teachers were awarded permanent status.

After his tireless work in Semester 1, Dr Simon Clarke decided to return to academia and Mrs Michelle Gore once again assumed the role of Acting Professional Development Officer.

Acknowledgement must be given to the work of the committee, Mr Ruari Reid (Chair of the Committee), Ms Hilary Brooke, Ms Anne Ramsay, Mr Tim Evans, Mr Greg Lindorff, Ms Lorraine O'Brien, Ms Kerry Robertson, Mr Geoff McPherson and Mr Peter Wray, who offered such valuable advice and ensured that the views and ideas of the staff were recognised and enacted.

MICHELLE GORE
Acting Professional Development Officer

Year 10 Action Research Group ponders over Curriculum Frameworks.

2001 was a year of change, especially change of personnel. With the retirement of long standing Head of Department, Mr Howard Moore, at the end of 2000, Mr Geoff McGillivray was appointed to the position of Head of Department. This opened the door for Mr Ron Jensen to return to the fold to resume his multi-faceted role as the Teacher-in-Charge of Sailing and teacher of Design and Technology/Nautical Studies/Marine Studies. Mr Peter Rickey, who had been on leave from his position as Sportsmaster, resigned to take up a permanent position as the Secretary of the PSA. In his place, Mr Alex Barbour (previously at Guildford Grammar) was appointed as a full time teacher of Design and Technology. Mr Drew McDonald has been the one link of stability within the Department, maintaining his dual role as Sportsmaster and teacher of Design and Technology.

These changes have resulted in a refreshing blend of youth and experience, knowledge and enthusiasm, manifest in a hive of activity in the workshops and the design/drawing centres. The accompanying photos provide a clear illustration of the productivity that has taken place in 2001. The upper school students have produced an impressive array of products in both Furniture Design Technology and Metals Technology. Mr McDonald's Year 12 students designed and manufactured a variety of furniture items, including beds, cabinets, coffee tables, speaker units and even a rocking chair. Mr Barbour's industry experience as a fitter/machinist came to the fore in his Year 11 class in Metals Technology, with the students producing everything from off-road buggies to motorbike trailers, model field bins to model rockets. Mr McGillivray's and Mr Barbour's Year 11 Furniture Design and Technology classes produced an assortment of furniture, including stools and chairs, indoor and outdoor tables, and a variety of cabinets. Away from the workshop, the Year 11 and 12 Nautical Studies students, under the watchful eyes of Mr McGillivray and Mr Jensen, have developed their boating skills and knowledge in dinghies, small keelboats and power boats.

The lower school classes have been equally productive, with students revelling in the opportunity to design and manufacture projects in plastics, wood and metal, or a combination of these resistant materials. An exciting innovation that has been well received by Mr Barbour's and Mr Jensen's Year 9 students was the Mouse Trap Challenge - a project designed to examine the power and drive systems that can be developed with a simple household mousetrap.

The Design and Technology exhibition, held in the refectory in the final week of school, saw an amazing collection of the best of student work across all year levels. Prize winners were as follows:

2002 will bring more changes. Mr McDonald will be taking well earned long service leave for the first semester. Western Australian Murdoch University Business Summer School delegates: Gabriel Khaw, Jim Mussared, David Ong and Ronald Chan.

It has been a vintage year for the Economics & Commerce Department with individual and team awards being achieved at national and state levels.

The excellent TEE results of our 2000 student group provided great impetus to the start of Term 1; with the well above state average performance in Economics and Accounting. Congratulations to Dinusha Chandratilleke, John Ding and Andrew Thackrah for their Certificates of Distinction in Economics.

The 2001 academic year began early for four Year 12 Economics students. Ronald Chan, Gabriel Khaw, Jim Mussared and David Ong were selected to represent the School at the Western Australian Murdoch University Business Summer School. Activities during the weeklong residential programme ranged from analysing a series of lectures presented by guest speaker representing various specialist commerce disciplines, through to simulation exercises, problem solving and a group based competition.

At the beginning of Term 2 we welcomed Sean L'Estrange to the teaching staff to replace Martin Whitely who was elected to State parliament. In the transition period Andrew Jefferies took control of a Year 11 Economics class. Impressed by Andrew's enthusiasm for the subject and passion for his students, we are delighted to be able to extend his teaching in the department in 2002. Unfortunately, we are to lose our elder statesman, John Norris, who steps out of classroom teaching at the end of this year. John has been a willing contributor to department activities, particularly the Business Studies Tours, and his unique teaching style will be missed by all.

Whilst individual awards for excellence rightfully gain attention, it has been the efforts of nearly all of our students in their course work which has been most pleasing. The inquisitive manner in which students have explored issues such as the volatility of the Australian exchange rate, fiscal policy implementation and the ongoing impact of globalisation versus protection on Australian producers (particularly relevant to students from rural areas) has made for excellent and relevant learning experiences.

Entrepreneurial spirit flourished in our students through their participation in the Australian Stock Exchange Share Market Competition. This simulation activity tested the student's investment skills with syndicates being allocated $50,000 to trade in shares over a period of three months. Despite the difficulties of an uncertain market, the Year 11 syndicate of Timothy Johnson, Jimmy Ng and Yi Zhan Wey was able to win the Western Australian ASX Game. (It is rumoured that the boys are currently operating lunchtime investment strategy sessions!)

A major component of course instruction is the use of information technology. Examples this year included the computer simulation exercise, Managing the Australian Economy which proved challenging but enjoyable for the aspiring federal treasurers. Congratulations to Alex Thompson who achieved the highest welfare score in the competition phase. The Year 11 Accounting students concluded their course work with the MYOB accounting package. They were able to apply the knowledge developed throughout the year to an electronic accounting environment.

In the Australian Economics Competition, for the University of NSW and AMP Awards, the Year 12 students produced the best collective result in the history of the School's participation. Certificates of High Distinction were awarded to Jack Allen, Chris Miller, Jim Mussared, David Ong, Gerald Teng, George Wong, Richard Edwards, Philipp Schartau, Sek-Loong Tan and Ronald Chan. This placed them in the top one percent of the country. Special mention must be made of Sek-Loong Tan and Ronald Chan who not only achieved a Certificate of High Distinction but were also awarded prizes as outstanding Western Australian performers in the competition.

For the first time the Year 11 students competed in the Business Studies Competition, a junior version of the awards. Congratulations go to Matt Harley and Charles Werren who were awarded prizes for being placed second and fifth respectively in the state.

Fieldwork experiences were again used as a basis for the teaching of course theory. The visit of Year 9 Commerce and Enterprise students to the Small Business Corporation and the Year 11 Economists to the Swan Brewery were both educational and enjoyable.

As planned the focus of curriculum development centred in the middle school where the department established its new courses for the 2002 transition to outcomes focused learning. Staff engaged themselves in numerous professional development activities including Curriculum Council and industry seminars and in-services. The highlight was the 30th Annual Conference of Economists attended by Kim Bolto. While on the sport scene, Sean L'Estrange, Peter Wray and myself were able to narrowly defeat the P.E. staff in the cross-country challenge.

Thank you to the staff for their efforts in creating learning environments which have produced such success and enjoyment for their students.

Tim Morison at horse riding classes.

As I write this preparations for the annual ESU Leavers Dinner are in full swing. This year three students are in the spotlight as Simon Beveridge and Matthew Calkin will be joining the workforce and Nic Turner is off to Narrogin Agricultural College. The staff will definitely miss Simon's expertise with the computers and Matt's knack of locating all the items that are frequently misplaced as well as informing me when I am on duty! Nic is our practical handyman who also reminds me of things that I said I would do!

Reflecting on the activities and achievements of 2001, I must admit it has been a year of endeavour and ease! Endeavour is exemplified in the accomplishments of our students and ease has resulted from general student co-operation.

This year we welcomed new students Nick Bold, Jessie Gilliland and Michael Hansen in Year 8 and Michael Bunney in Year 9. It is a tradition in the ESU for new students to participate in a camp with older students and Camp Quarunup was such a success that we have booked in for 2002!

We also enjoyed a variety of other activities during the year - visited the Science Museum, played cricket on the beach, went on a harbour cruise and even managed to capsize one of our dinghies on a fishing trip. Nic Turner was the hero of the moment, remaining cool in the emergency. In spite of the mishap, we managed to catch a few edible fish and Jessie Gilliland won the prize for catching the most.

There are other notable mentions this year:

- We welcomed Mr and Mrs Wynne at the annual Parents' Sundowner at which Simon and Matt were wonderful as waiters;
- Matthew Webb was appointed a House Prefect for Walters;
- People 1st Programme, under the direction of Mrs Ramsay, provided an excellent opportunity for students to learn skills that will help with social relationships;
- We won a trophy at the Ten Pin Bowling Competition at Fairlanes in September;
- Tim moved into Walters when his parents moved overseas (We now have five boarders - a record!);
- Matt Bovell, Michael Bunney and Tim Morison showed ability at Horse Riding under the careful guidance of horse lover, Mrs Norris;
- Matt Calkin and Simon Beveridge beat Andrew Browne and Stuart Copeland in the traditional challenge of carpet bowls at the Prefects' Morning Tea;
- Jujitsu classes in Terms 3 and 4 enabled all our students to gain self discipline and self control; while Simon Beveridge did particularly well, receiving the highest award of First Grade;
- The Andrea Tickle Appeal Fund sent us a letter thanking us for our generous donation - this was raised by selling soup to staff;

- Our students continue to gain excellent skills from INSTEP and job appreciation. Students involved in INSTEP this year were Ben Clark, Matthew Webb, Simon Beveridge and Matthew Calkin, while Charles McDonald prepared for INSTEP in 2002 by successfully completing work experience at the Claremont Golf Course;
- Simon Davies made a wonderful effort with the video camera at The Pirates of Penzance - and a special mention must be made of the performance of the two nannies (Mrs Ramsay and Mrs Matthews) who managed to make the most of their two minutes on stage;
- Great determination was shown by all at the Soccer Challenge which demonstrated Jessie's ability to run all day and Matt Bovell's improved kicking. We were the Runners-Up for the second year in a row.

At the end of Semester 1 we had a special farewell party for Mrs Frida Rossi (Mrs Whitmore's replacement) and presented her with a Christ Church rug. We also gave her Eddy Teddy so that she can take photos of him in far places - Thailand, Italy and Turkey - where she intends to live. There was much excitement at the start of Term 3 when we welcomed Doc and Mrs Whitmore back - they are very important ESU family members and we missed them during their year's leave at Harrow.

Finally, in the Year of the Volunteer, it would be remiss of me if I did not mention the significant contributions of parent volunteers, Teresa Scott, Lyn Greer, Cathy Wiese and Peta Fuhrmann. Even though I single out these special helpers the whole school is our support system and our grateful appreciation is extended to the staff, students and parents of the Christ Church community.

The hurly burly is almost done, as another busy year draws near enough to a close to review English Department activities in 2001.

The year started off positively with news of the 2000 TEE results. This saw a very solid cohort performance in English Literature with an average of over 70%; the outstanding individual result being from Andrew Thackrah who scored 98%. The English and ESL results were sound and there were some good performances from our Senior English students.

First term saw frenetic activity in a number of areas. Many of our upper school Literature and English students attended the PIAF production of Henrik Ibsen's Ghosts, directed by Ray Omedei. Visiting lecturers, Associate Professor Chris Wortham from UWA and Mr Mike Hughes from Tuart College, addressed our Year 11 and 12 literature cohorts on Othello and Oedipus Rex respectively. Perhaps the highlight of the term, however, was the residency of award winning writer Dr Ken Spillman who worked with classes from Years 8 to 11 and conducted writers' workshops over the course of Arts Festival Week. Dr Spillman, author of the novel Blue, various short stories and social histories, went a long way towards demystifying the writing process and allowing boys to see that "creativity is inseparable from personal identity and fundamental to a sense of being human". His efforts inspired a plethora of creative writing much of which found its way into the editorial hands of Lorraine O'Brien and appeared in Impressions. Worthy of special mention in this regard is the poetry of Alex Mossop and Mathew Costin and the marvellous short stories of the Bennett brothers, Elliott, Theodore and Alexander, who scored a trifecta by winning their year group awards in the English Department/Impressions Creative Writing Competition. This explosion of creativity climaxed in a record number of entries for the annual P.D. Naish Poetry Prize which was won by Mathew Costin.

Another important residency took place in fourth term involving the writer and critic Michael McGirr who, under the auspices of the Centre for Ethics, visited various English classrooms from Years 8 to 12. Mr McGirr talked to our students on writers as diverse as Gerard Manley Hopkins and Tim Winton and discussed both adult and children's literature as well as film.

2001 has been an intense year for the English Department in working towards the implementation of a Frameworks/Outcomes friendly Year 8 course in 2002. Much professional development time has been spent developing an integrated programme. This approach will carry on into Year 9 in 2003. A great deal of work has also been put into honing our system of literacy support for Years 8 and 9. In 2002 such support will be available both in the English classroom and through a combined English/LOTE initiative to be called Language and Culture.

Time has also been spent this year in examining and responding to the Post Compulsory Position Paper which proposes major changes to post compulsory education and the system of tertiary entrance. The English Department has responded critically to some of the proposals outlined because of the apparent focus on functional literacy to the detriment of the important areas of critical and cultural literacy. We believe that the move to make English a non compulsory subject in Year 12 will mean that access to notions of critical and cultural literacy for all students will disappear and we believe that, long term, this has serious social and cultural ramifications.

These comments offer only a tiny snapshot of what happened within English at Christ Church this year. As usual the pace has been frenetic and the activity frenzied for both staff and students alike but certainly the pleasing results and the creative and critical endeavour that has ensued suggest that it is all worthwhile.

Writer-in-Residence, Dr Ken Spillman, with Mr Simon Hunn and upper school creative writers.

Sadly Ms Sheryl Gardner leaves us at the end of this year after a decade of outstanding English teaching. Her energy, intellect and enthusiasm have inspired many students at Christ Church. I thank her for her fine work and wish her well in her new endeavours at Great Southern Grammar.

In closing I once again thank my departmental colleagues for their diligence, enthusiasm and vitality. I am confident that they continue to challenge and invigorate their students, equipping them with the intellectual and creative skills they will need as they face the future.

SIMON HUNN
Head of English

Staff and students from the Karalundi Aboriginal Education Centre visit the Christ Church IT centre.

2001 has once again been a busy year for the IT department. We started the year off by upgrading the Preparatory School's Computing laboratory – all of the Acorn computers were replaced with the latest iMacs to bring it on to the same platform as the rest of the school. We see this as being an advantage as the ICT skills and experiences developed in the Preparatory School will be reinforced and continued elsewhere in the school. It was also decided that it would be advisable to give the Prep Computing lab a complete "make over" during the early part of the year. This room started life as a science centre and over time developed in to a multipurpose room serving many and various requirements of the school and students – but items such as stoves, fish tanks and the storage of science items did not readily lend themselves to a functional IT environment. A lot of hard work, thought and planning on the part of Mr Geoff Matthews and Mr Jamie Fagan resulted in the development of an extremely versatile and functional IT centre for the Preparatory School that will serve the students well for many years. Special thanks must go to the maintenance staff whose advice, innovation and skill added to the quality of the project.

in the library. Thus students can send and receive email, research using the internet and access their files from anywhere in the library. They do not have to use the computer in a fixed location but take the computer to where they are working and still retain all the network function. The students in the Senior School experience similar flexibility working with the twenty iBooks provided in the Senior Library.

We also have plans to extend our radio network to other parts of the school and at the same time provide additional iBook computers for use by classes. This will mean that teachers will be able to bring the computers into the classroom for use rather than having to relocate to the IT department and the radio network means that we can provide network access without having to go to the expense of hard wiring classrooms around the school. In preparation for these pods of laptops for classroom use we have instigated a programme whereby teaching staff are provided with a laptop computer and are engaged in professional development to develop IT skills and activities for use with their classes.

This year a number of groups have been involved in the production of digital videos using the new iMovie technology. Examples are: the Generous donations from the CCGS community via the Annual Giving Appeal enabled the installation of five iBook laptop computers in the Preparatory Library supplementing the desktop computers that are already there. One exciting feature of these light weight yet powerful computers is that they come built-in radio networking. This means that they can connect to the school's local area network via the AirPort base station that has been placed presentation to the senior school during assembly one week documenting the CCGS athletics season, the cadets video of their final parade and the opening movie for the Year 8 and 9 drama production The Witches, as well as the creation of movies in Year 10 English classes and by Year 11 and 12 IT students.

We continue to make valuable use of our innovative email package, FirstClass, with all senior school students having their own email addresses in the system and staff using it as a means of communication and curriculum delivery. 2002 will bring an increased focus on its use within the curriculum and students can expect to make use of FirstClass as part of their normal school day.

Last year we established a link with one of the local primary schools – Claremont Primary – by encouraging them to make use of our IT facilities after lunch on Fridays when our students were either at sport or involved in activities. This has continued in 2001. An interesting spin off from this was a request from the first Claremont teacher to be involved, Mr Linton Graffin. He had left Claremont and had been working with the Karalundi Aboriginal Education Centre near Meekatharra. He asked if we were able to donate some of our old computers to the school – we were and we did. Our Year 12 Industry Information Technology students were able to satisfy a number of the outcomes for their portfolios by reviving a number of old computers for donation.

I would like to thank all those in the IT department who by their enthusiasm, innovation, energy and hard work make my job a lot easier and more enjoyable.

This year has been a busy one in the Languages Department at Christ Church.

Our Japanese assistant from Kobe, Fuji (Ryo Fujiyama), arrived at the beginning of the year. He has spent many hours taking the students of Japanese for individual lessons, which they have all appreciated greatly.

Our Japanese students had a double opportunity of being involved in the Japanese exchange programme this year. Mr Armstrong and Mr Turkich led a group of ten CCGS students from all year groups. They toured Japan, sightseeing in Tokyo and Kyoto and visiting our brother school, Hotoku Gakuen High School, near Osaka, where our students participated in a home-stay programme. One of the highlights of the tour was Mr Turkich's sumo wrestling challenge at Hotoku. Stripped down to the traditional mawashi belt the "Turkinator" took on the best wrestlers of the sumo club. He has been only too willing to demonstrate his technique since returning to Christ Church. The next tour is proposed for the end of Term 1 in 2002.

We would like to thank the parents and students who hosted the Japanese students from Hotoku Gakuen in August. Their visit was very successful and the feedback was most positive. The success of the exchange programmes relies heavily on the generosity of parents, which is greatly appreciated.

Two students from Year 10 have participated in three-month exchanges with Hotoku Gakuen High School. They are Andrew Morrigan and Andrew Winterbottom. Their host brothers who have spent a similar time with us at CCGS are Masayoshi Otani and Keita Okagami. All boys have been good ambassadors for their respective schools and have benefitted greatly from their experiences.

For French, we have been delighted to welcome Mrs Linda Curlew to the Languages Department in 2001. Although she has taken only one class in French this year, she will be taking classes in both French and German next year.

Two Year 11 boys, Benjamin Mather and Ben O'Driscoll, took part in the four-week exchange to the Island of Reunion this year. Both boys brought back unforgettable memories, along with increased confidence and fluency in the French language. They are looking forward to hosting two students from La Reunion at Christmas this year.

The tour to France took place in April. There were eleven boys from Christ Church Grammar School who went on the French tour, while another six boys took a two-week history tour around Belgium and northern France. The French tour boys were joined by twenty-one girls from Iona Presentation College. One of the most successful aspects of the trip was the fact that the boys and girls forged very good friendships with each other – their concern for the welfare of all in the group was most pleasing.

The stay in Draguignan was full of all sorts of great adventures – like arriving in a train strike-bound France and being stuck on a hot, airless, jam-packed train going south to Draguignan for three hours longer than planned, taking a hair-raising hike in the gorges of the Verdon and fishing on the Riviera. The French tour met up with the History boys and Mr Hillier and Mrs Drew in Paris. Mr Peterson also joined the group in Paris. The tour then turned its eyes to the commemorative services for Anzac Day in the north of France. Our cadets and Lieutenant-Colonel Peterson looked magnificent as they marched with the dignitaries, and it was very moving for a number of students and Mr Peterson himself to be able to visit the graves of members of their families who had died during World War I.

During the course of the year the upper school French boys went to films and restaurants, and the lower school boys enjoyed quiz nights with the girls from PLC.

In July we were very sad to have to say goodbye to Mademoiselle Maud Guy-Mariez, our first full-time French assistant. Maud was an outstanding assistant, bringing that little bit of "je ne sais quoi" into the department. We hope very much to be able to find an assistant on an annual basis.

Coming to work every day is something I greatly value. I derive great pleasure from working with youth and being a part of their school lives. The pleasure is only intensified by being able to work with such a very professional, loyal, dedicated, creative and just that little bit 'wacky' library team. My thanks to the them for the energy, excitement and humour they bring to the library work environment.

Since the last Mitre two new staff members have joined our team – Ghylene Crouche and David Smith. Then there is the group of dedicated mothers who come in every week. Their regular help allows time for the Library team to do special projects that benefit all our library users.

Thank you also to the school staff in general, and to the IT staff in particular who have enthusiastically embraced a co-operative planning program. The joint effort has resulted in many new links on the Intranet and culminated in boys presenting better quality assignments to the teachers.

A focus in the library this year has been the promotion of reading for pleasure throughout the school. Narelle Beebe and Ghylene Crouche have put together numerous displays and organized many activities. The most notable of many were the Library Week and Book Week displays and the associated activities. They were both very successful. Many thanks to all the teachers who participated in the Library and Book Week activities.

Jeremy Irwin, Jonathan Warne and Darren Wong take the opportunity to read during Book Week.

The Information Process Intranet site is progressing well. This will be of enormous benefit to the boys as it will focus their questioning and research techniques, and provide them with additional information in their quest for knowledge. This site, plus the new Internet Inquiry Module, will be of great benefit to your boys.

The MenRead Intranet site was established this year. This site is being used to promote reading for pleasure. The "Reviews and Recommendations" link is there for students, staff, old boys, parents, family, friends and relatives to promote great books they have read. Make a powerful statement to your sons about the importance of reading next year and send in some reviews. Ring me for details.

A portion of the Annual Giving money will be used to trial the Accelerate Reading package in 2002. It motivates students to read, instills positive attitudes towards reading and improves reading comprehension and vocabulary knowledge. The package has been evaluated by RMIT and has also received many accolades from other schools throughout the world.

The dream of a new library is even closer. Deadlines have been set, and many decisions have been made. The library staff has been involved in many meetings deciding on the design of the new library to ensure it meets the needs of future students, staff and Christ Church Grammar School community members. The Headmaster and I have had numerous meetings with the architects to create a fantastic library complex.

As you would be aware the Library is open from 8am to 9pm Monday to Thursday, and 8am to 4pm on Friday. Did you know however that we are also trialing opening between 1pm to 4pm on Sunday afternoons? Did you also know that anyone belonging to the Christ Church Grammar School community can use the Library facilities during these times? I would like to encourage you drop your son(s) back to the Library after dinner or allow them to remain after school for an hour or so to do some intensive study and homework.

Competitions and Enrichment

537 boys tackled the Australian Mathematics Competition for the Westpac Awards. CCGS results were again impressive, with nine Prizes, 30 High Distinctions, 121 Distinctions and 198 Credits. Of the prize winners (Rowan France, Campbell Mackenzie, Joseph Luo, Timothy Greer, Shaun Lee, Zhi Wei Kng, Thomas Lawrence, Varun Ghosh and Vincent Wong), Shaun Lee was the top Year 10 student in WA.

In the Maths Challenge, conducted in after school sessions throughout the year, some fifty boys attended sessions, with outstanding results achieved by Gregory Yap and Ken Low of Year 8 and Daniel Kim of Year 9 who were in the top forty-five in Australia. Ten others were awarded Distinctions in this difficult programme.

In the MAWA Have Sum Fun Mathematics Teams competitions, our Senior team of Sek-Loong Tan, Gerald Teng, Jim Mussared, Sam Salman, Yi Zhan Wey and Rowan McAllister came second, while the Year 8 to 10 team of Shaun Lee, Kit Buckley, Campbell Mackenzie, Tom Lofthouse, Michael Thomas and Kevin Kalani were a close third, with our other team fourth.

The Australian Mathematical Olympiad Senior Contest was attempted by Sam Salman, Charles Werren, Yi Zhan Wey, James Beresford and Rowan McAllister. They all found this very difficult course a little too testing, although Sam just missed a Credit for his performance.

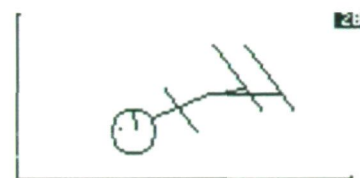

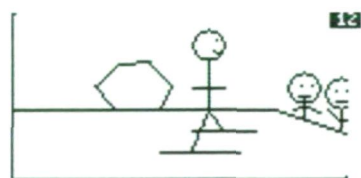

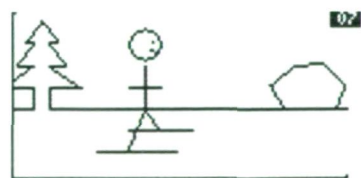

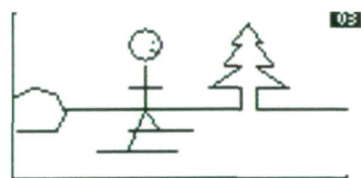

The Junior Olympiad was run as a team event and CCGS came third in WA with Campbell Mackenzie, Joseph Luo, Timothy Greer and Daniel Kim in the team. Seven boys were also invited to sit the Tournament of the Towns, conducted by the Russian Academy of Science, and in this Shaun Lee and Sam Salman again performed well.

In these competitions there is an abundance of opportunity for our talented students to be extended and to prove themselves against the best in Australia.

Mathematics and Technology

2001 saw the introduction of the inaugural graphing calculator evening for Year 10 parents early in Term 1. The focus was on how mathematics is done in the classroom today compared with how it was done years ago. Some topics covered included: equation editing, generating lotto numbers, general graphing and looking at mortgage repayments.

Throughout 2001 the mathematics staff were involved in a number of in-service activities relating to the graphing calculator, culminating in the boys producing some magnificent "slide show" presentations at a Year 10 level. The screen captures that follow give an example of one such show, the entire show is made up of 37 screens which, when viewed sequentially, seem animated.

This year the staff also embraced the new laptop scheme. With all mathematics staff expected to possess their own laptops by mid 2002, the in-class implications are numerous. A piece of software known as Graphing Calculator 2.7 will be installed on most laptops with the expectation that they then can be used to display, among other things, three-dimension graphs, previously very difficult to imagine or draw (see Figs. 1 and 2). Eventually, remote access will enable staff and students to explore the internet and display projects on the white board in every classroom.

With technology constantly changing and traditional mathematics remaining the same, the challenge is to find the right balance of new methods and traditional ways. The ultimate goal is to have the technology complement the traditional mathematics.

Mathematics Support

During the year Mr Jefferies and Mrs Ferguson assisted Year 8 students who were experiencing difficulties with their work. Mrs Ferguson's small Year 9 class enabled some students to gain extra help in the standard course while others worked on individual programmes. The Modified Year 10 course was popular with twelve students successfully completing Stages 4.3 and 4.4. Mrs Norris's support in this class was invaluable.

University Students

The partnership with the Graduate School of Education (UWA) continued this year. Twenty Dip. Ed. students attended our school for weekly work experience where they linked education theory with practice. Each CCGS teacher mentored two or three UWA students. Later in the year, our teachers ran workshops for the UWA students where they discussed a wide range of educational issues.

Study Lab

Study Lab was well attended this year, with after school sessions held three times each week. Students received help in many different areas, including academic subjects, study skills and personal development. The teaching team included Mrs Ferguson, Mrs Ramsay, Mrs Matthews, Mrs Tunmore and the Year 11 Peer Tutors. The growing demand for extra help has been addressed and next year Study Lab will be expanded and function as the Homework Café.

Challenges for Mathematics at CCGS

Two major challenges face us: the introduction of the new Curriculum Frameworks at Year 8 in 2002 and the increasing number of boys who need support in mathematics.

This latter problem seems to be on the increase, with more boys than ever with serious problems being identified. There may be no one cause, but a lack of male teachers in primary schools has been suggested as a possible factor by researchers. If so, the problem will only become more pronounced in the future. We are making progress - with Study Lab already bursting at the seams and Homework Café to start in 2002, we are optimistic.

The former issue, the introduction of Frameworks at Year 8 in 2002, is being extensively addressed. Some schools have already thrown themselves into this and the consequences are not encouraging. Work loads have leapt, students have been put under even more pressure and parents have been confused. We will be adopting the Frameworks in mathematics with some caution, and will be adapting our present teaching and assessment regimes to maintain the best of our current practices and results, while incorporating some new and different assessment techniques. As we need to introduce the Frameworks to Year 9 in 2003, next year will be an exploratory one, with a requirement that we do not compromise our current high standards and sense of co-operation between staff and students.

BILL MAILES
Head of Mathematics

Students from Pre-Primary to Year 12 were again involved in a wide and diverse Physical Education and Health programme in 2001. As in previous years the PE Department was committed to skills learning in the early secondary years, culminating in a challenging and games based programme in Years 11 and 12. To that end, Years 8 to 10 students were taught the basics of a wide array of physical skills and activities, ranging from the traditional pursuits such as football, cricket and hockey to the more diverse activities including badminton, boxercise and netball.

The lifesaving units were again a feature of the Physical Education programme, with Year 8 boys trying out for their Accompanied Rescue Certificate, Year 9s were involved in the Bronze Star and the Year 10s were faced with the challenge of the Bronze Medallion. From this group, we had a total of 117 boys attain their Bronze Medallions and qualify as pool lifeguards. A fine achievement, indeed!

On the theme of water, the heating of the pool was an eagerly awaited event and, despite a few hiccups in the drilling process, the end result is superb - a year-round facility from which all CCGS students can benefit. It is envisaged that in the future the pool will be able to provide a host of different aquatic activities for all students from K-12. Indeed, it was a delight to see students utilising the pool in Terms 3 and 4 for the first time in the pool's 33 year history! The sight of steam rising from the water on a cool spring morning was a just reward for the parents, friends, students and staff who had worked so hard for so long on the project. The PE Department would like to thank all of those people who helped make the dream of heating the pool a reality and we look forward to many years of productive and exciting aquatic programmes in this first class facility.

The Year 11 PE Studies group enjoyed a mixture of theoretical and practical based activities, taking an in-depth look at the workings of the human body and how to apply this knowledge on the sporting field. Students were involved in extended units of badminton, European handball, surfing and rowing which not only provided plenty of fun, but were excellent adjuncts to the theoretical components of the course. Congratulations to David McMorrow for winning the 2001 Year 11 Physical Education Studies Prize.

The Year 12 PE Studies group was introduced to the fundamentals of sports coaching, combining theoretical concepts with practical applications. All students obtained a Level O in tennis coaching and, as their skills and confidence grew, they completed a series of coaching clinics with the Year 8 and 9 CCGS sporting teams. By the conclusion of the year nearly all students in the group were awarded the Australian Coaching Council Level 1 for volleyball coaching, a fine effort and just reward for their hard work throughout the year. Congratulations, also, to Keegan Scott for winning the 2001 Year 12 Physical Education Studies Prize.

The WAIS Talent Search Fitness Testing Programme was back again in 2001, with students from Years 5 to 12 being tested on a variety of fitness components, including strength, speed, power, flexibility and aerobic endurance. Compared with student norms across the nation, CCGS students continue to achieve better than average results. Also, a handful of students were identified by WAIS and have received opportunities to train with their elite talent identification squads.

PAUL JEPSON
Head of Physical Education

Health Education in Years 8, 9 and 10 focussed largely on the topics of Drug and Sex Education, utilising "harm minimisation" as its major theme. This year all Year 8 classes used the computer labs extensively throughout the year, tackling a range of assignments and using the web to research many topics. The Year 10 students responded very well to the talks given by presenters from the WA AIDS Council and the Year 9 students concluded their year by completing a 'local' study of sports injuries and potential hazards that exist in the school grounds.

2001 has been another very interesting, productive and rewarding year for the Science Department as we finalise our courses and assessment procedures to introduce Curriculum Frameworks and Learning Outcomes to Year 8 in 2002. We have spent considerable time in all the science disciplines taught at the School agonising about assessment and levels of achievement with the conclusion that a lot of our misgivings and problems will be solved by actually teaching in the so called outcomes environment next year. As teachers of Science we do not envisage what we teach and the way we teach it to change radically in 2002.

With respect to staffing we said farewell to Christy Dangerfield when she came back from Sydney in September to tender her resignation. Christy, who was appointed in 1988, became a much loved and respected member of the Biology Department and we will miss her greatly. Her farewell is found under the Staff section of this publication. Megan Pentony, who covered Christy's year of leave, has now been appointed to a full time position and we are delighted with this. We were pleased to welcome back Peter Whitmore from his exchange at Harrow and to congratulate Nicola Dunn on her appointment as Head of Hill House.

Our students experienced considerable success again this year in the Australian Schools Science Competition with Ronald Ng of Year 12 all topping the state and receiving a gold medal. As well as this our boys received 12 Certificates of High Distinction and 45

Certificates of Distinction - a great effort!

In Biology the major focus this year has been on developing the Curriculum Frameworks for Year 8 students in 2002. No major changes were made to the lower school course this year due to the changes required to meet Curriculum directives next year. As such, the Year 8s continued to enjoy the microscope work and activities with snails, the Year 9s loved their dissections, especially of the heart, and the Year 10s continued to improve their skills in biotechnology, with Plant Tissue Culture and Recombinant DNA technology. The ethics of these technological advances has continued to be discussed, especially in light of greater community awareness on the topic.

Marine Studies in lower school has continued in fine form, with the small boat handling and SCUBA certificates being gained, as well as an appreciation of marine life.

In upper school classes, the fight to continue to do practical work given the time constraints of the year has been won, with positive acknowledgement from Curriculum Council during the moderation process.

I would like to thank Sue Jensen and Margaret Rickey for their work in preparing practicals and running Biology behind the scenes, as they make the lives of staff and students that much more interesting.

In the Chemistry quiz, CCGS entered 145 students with 46% receiving High Distinctions, 27% Distinctions and 13% Credits. Gerald Teng of Year 12 received a Plaque and Certificate of Excellence for scoring 100%. Four students, Michael Thomas (Year 8), Campbell Mackenzie, Adon Metcalfe (Year 9) and Sam Salman (Year 11) have been awarded plaques for being in the top 700.

In the Chemistry Olympiad National Qualifying Examination we entered five students, Yi Zhan Wey, Sam Salman, Darryl Chua, Yohan Oetomo (Year 11) and Gerald Teng (Year 12). Results for this exam have not yet come to hand.

Everything continues to bubble along nicely in the Chemistry Department with no innovations except ongoing development of "Investigating Scientifically" in Years 8 - 10.

For the Physics Department the year started with the good news that Dinusha Chandratilleke, Paul Chia and Eu-Jinn Teh gained Certificates of Distinction, which are awarded to the top 0.5% of the candidates in each subject in the TEE. The overall average for Physics was a very reasonable 74%, which is almost a standard deviation above the WA State mean for Physics. We seem to be maintaining the levels of achievement despite the almost 20% loss of teaching and learning time since the introduction of the new ten day timetable.

Once again during the year some Year 11 boys were involved in extra tuition in preparation for the Physics Olympiad selection examinations. Gerald Teng was awarded a High Distinction and Sam Salman, Yi Zhan Wey, Hugh McCann and Rowan McAllister did very well. At the time of writing Gerald is still in line for selection for the team of four to represent Australia and he will once again go to Canberra after Christmas for a week of intensive training.

It is recorded elsewhere in this publication that Christ Church came second in the State Solar Model Car and went on to win the National and International Challenge in Adelaide. The Physics Department was again heavily involved in this activity.

Curriculum Framework is upon us and it will mean a great deal of preparation by staff for Year 8 next year. The challenge is to maintain the academic rigour and practical orientation of the subject while integrating a new approach. By also encouraging students to consider the philosophical aspects of Physics, we hope that they will both strive to achieve their potential and become aware of the fundamental nature of this subject, once called Natural Philosophy.

DON MORRISSY
Head of Science

Although they are mentioned elsewhere in this publication, it is appropriate to open by recognising the contributions of two members of the Social Science staff who leave after lengthy periods of service at the School.

Dr Simon Clarke left Christ Church at the end of Semester 1 to take up a position in the Education Faculty of Macquarie University in Queensland. Dr Clarke's contributions were significant in redirecting the department's middle school curriculum in anticipation of the arrival of the Curriculum Framework and his teaching of senior history challenged many an inquisitive young mind.

Mr Peter Brien's legacy goes well beyond his classroom teaching where his high standards and expectations have been a strong influence on hundreds of boys during his twelve years at Christ Church. His insistence on thoroughness and commitment has strengthened the character of many a boy and will serve as good conversation for future Old Boys' dinners!

To sum up in a few words the depth and effectiveness of the contributions of two people who have been such significant contributors to the Social Science Department and to the School is impossible. For both their departure has a strong sense of 'Carpe Diem', but unlike the sentiment expressed by Horace in that classic line, they have both, for totally diverse reasons, placed their 'trust in the morrow' and we wish them well.

Mr Joseph Hekeik also leaves us after a brief but fruitful semester. Joseph's willingness to participate in planning and programming action groups has been of considerable assistance in the formulation of plans for 2002 and his warm and outgoing personality has been appreciated by his colleagues and his students.

In the wake of departures, the Department has been able to confirm the positions of new staff, Mr Digby Gibson, an Old Boy of the School, and Mr Ian Hardy, well before the end of the 2001 academic year. These early appointments have allowed a smooth transition and integration of personnel, and Ian and Digby join us with a clear idea of the School's operations and of its demands.

Next year sees the introduction of Ancient History into the senior school. Mrs Heather Tunmore has a strong reputation in the teaching of this subject. She has developed a keen interest amongst middle school classes where a visit by Professor Gay Robins from Emory University, Atlanta, and the participation of Year 8 students in the Greek and Roman Drama Festival were highlights.

Student involvement in extension activities, workshops and conferences has once again been an important aspect of the Social Science staff's commitment to offering the boys as broad a range of experiences as possible. Adam Laitt represented the School at the Sir Charles Court Young Leaders' Programme, upholding the School's excellent reputation in this event. After his successful participation in the United Nations Youth Association Conference in Perth, Varun Ghosh was chosen to represent Western Australia at the national UNYA conference held in Sydney. Varun, Daniel Sheehan and Jonathan Begley were highly commended for their contributions to the State conference. Clement Chan and Alastair LaGrange attended the Western Australian Schools Constitutional Convention held in September; while Hugh Singe and Mark Gibson attended the Youth Commonwealth Heads of Government Meeting in the same month and Sam Brophy-Williams represented the School at the UNISUMMIT held for Year 11 Social Science students at Melbourne University in October.

In Geography Campbell Mackenzie carried off the Western Australian title in the Australian Geography Quiz and was ranked third in the National Finals, whilst Year 12 Geography student Chris Pearce completed the year having gained third place in the John Forrest Award; a competition based on practical Geography skills.

Finally, as the year closed, Year 8 history classes benefited from a visit by Herr Fritz Englemann, a member of the crew of the Kormoran, who was in Western Australia to participate in commemorations of the sinking of HMAS Sydney.

The picture of the year is one of variety and challenge at all age levels and the atmosphere of encouragement and support created by the Social Science staff is once again at the heart of the experiences and opportunities provided. I thank them for their devotion and dedication and congratulate all the boys who have made the most of the opportunities provided to them.

Work Experience

Boys from Years 9 and 10 have the opportunity to do work experience, often in preparation for the INSTEP programme offered in Years 11 and 12.

Jeremy Irwin of Year 9 writes:

During the October school holidays, I had the pleasure of doing work experience with Cathay Pacific in the Engineering/Maintenance Department at Perth International Airport. For two weeks I worked seven hour shifts with the maintenance crew on the Airbus A330. I was given a security pass to allow me access to the tarmac and other areas where I needed to work.

I learnt an amazing amount about the aircraft as I was involved with all aspects of the maintenance work such as checking the electronics management systems in the cockpit, structural inspections of the plane and its engines, refuelling and inspections of the cabin in-flight systems. I met some fantastic people who have worked all their lives in the aviation industry and love their jobs. The maintenance crew was extremely helpful to me and never made me feel as if I was there for just two weeks.

Although this not the job to which I aspire (I would like to be a commercial pilot), it was within the aviation industry and gave me much insight into the workings of an airline and the airport. It was an enormously rewarding two weeks and I hope to repeat the experience during the Christmas holidays.

Thirty students in Years 11 and 12 were accepted into the INSTEP programme this year. This programme is designed to offer students the opportunity to undertake structured workplace learning in a wide range of areas such as Animal Care, Hospitality, Multi Media Design and the Automotive Industry. It gives students the opportunity to gain experience in a career area in which they are interested and gain nationally accredited further education units whilst still at school.

Adam Hancock, Year 11, completed his first placement at Captain Cook Boat Cruises and was offered casual work. His second placement was at Waterfront Marine Services and was marine engineering and maintenance. Adam spoke to the prospective INSTEP students and their parents at the information evening and said:

"INSTEP is a great way to check out this area and make sure it is what I want to do or, on the other hand, what I definitely do not want to do. I hear stories, get advice and find out the availability and demand of careers in the marine industry. With INSTEP you are in a workplace environment and experiencing workplace situations. You are exposed to an adult environment and all that this entails."

2001 was a productive, challenging and successful year for Art and the boys involved with the Christ Church Art Department. With the schedule busy at all times, we saw some outstanding works and much talent.

It is tradition for the Art staff to organise a camp for Year 11 and 12 artists early in the year, as it provides a solid beginning for the senior students. This year, we ventured down to Kooringal, where for two nights and three days we drew, painted, carved and created, with Artist-in-Residence and Old Boy, David Brazier, demonstrating natural art techniques that fitted well with the camp and its themes.

The camp's highlight for the boys, however, was the "Art Comes to Life" competition, where students were required to imitate a famous painting, using only the materials at hand and themselves. There were some very successful entrants, with works such as Da Vinci's Mona Lisa and Matisse's Blue Nudes being represented by students. The Competition was judged by the new headmaster, Mr Garth Wynne, and was a great chance for the boys to get to know each other and have some fun.

The camp was a great start to the year and, with the art students in overdrive, we began preparing for the Arts Festival Week, held at the end of Term 1. This year's theme was "Ahead of Their Time". The Arts Festival shows a culturally diverse school, with Music, Drama and Visual Arts on display for all to see. A theme dress day, guest artists and a sausage sizzle were just some of the events. This year, the Visual Arts took a different approach, combining the House Arts Competition and the Anniversary Art Awards into one exhibition. This proved to be a great success, with the Houses' 3D mascots and murals on display, as well as a collection of works from art students from Years 8 to 12. It was great to see so much talent in the younger years, while congratulations go to Jupp House, the first winner of the House Visual Arts Cup as well as to the individual winners:

Multiple excursions, including a visit to Monet and Japan, provided students with inspiration and ideas. As well as this, two life drawing classes were held during the year, where senior students drew live models and were able to get a better insight into the human form.

The year ended with a final exhibition, marking the opening of The Madin Gallery, in honour of our previous headmaster. Held in the School Refectory and The Madin Gallery, viewers could see a variety of promising works from the younger boys, as well as the studio works of the entire Year 12 class. The Year 2001 art agenda was colourful and active, with a new burst of enthusiasm that we hope to see continue in the future. The artistic talent in the younger years is amazing and the next year's Year 12s show great promise. Special thanks must go to Mrs

Sue A'Court, Mrs Gisela Zuchner-Mogall, Mr Trevor Richards and Mr Charlton Sadlo for their vital support and advice throughout the year; without them the school would be a much less colourful and happy place. Art is a very rewarding and exciting subject and I encourage anybody who has ever doodled or dabbled to pick up a paintbrush and join in.

The Christ Church Cadet Unit of 2001 has had a very successful year. Again, due to the popularity of Cadets at CCGS, the Unit found itself as a four platoon infantry company with the complement of a cadet band.

From the outset, training was intense and efficient. First term marked the beginning of drill training; a rather daunting task in the hot summer months, but nonetheless a necessity when moving a body of troops from Point A to Point B. These sessions, usually torturous, give the new recruits their first taste of cadets and sets them on their way to becoming the hardened, focussed individuals they are by the end of the year. The term's training culminated in the first bivouac of the year in Muchea, an RAAF training area. The highlight of the camp was the famous night activity. This involved the cadets attempting to penetrate a heavily guarded compound under the cover of darkness, using their newly acquired skills in camouflage, concealment and covert movement. The next day involved a round robin activity that consisted of lessons in judging distances, radio procedure, methods of obtaining water, other field survival skills and first aid treatment for bites and stings.

During the first term holidays a number of corporals attended the Adventure Training Course and, as expected, excelled. They returned with some new skills in bush survival, including water rationing, snares and trapping, hunting and the preparation of a wild animal for food.

Second term saw the introduction of theory lessons with a focus on improving a cadet's knowledge of navigation, ratel, first aid, health and hygiene in the field. Band training also commenced. The senior non-commissioned officers squad began their own training under the guidance of Pte Williams in preparation for the course in July. Again the term's training ended with a bivouac, this time at the army training area of Bindoon. The weekend was focussed around a 24-hour activity that involved the seeking and retrieval of a 'nuclear weapon'. Two platoons were given the task of protecting their respective nuclear weapons by constructing and setting bunker systems, booby traps and early warning devices. The two remaining platoons had to hunt down the other platoons' installations, infiltrate them and seize the weapon. The attacking platoons used recon patrols, observation techniques and assaults to complete their missions. Neither was successful due to the exceptional defence of the resistance platoons.

While school broke for the holidays a number of Year 11s attended the SNCO promotion course at Leeuwin Barracks in Fremantle. Once again the CCCU dominated in the final rankings with Cpl Hugh Singe taking out dux of the course. Thanks must go to CUOs Carlton and Sadler for attending the course as instructors.

Third term was spent refining the broad skills, as well as an introduction for the recruits to the Australian Army's F88 Steyr rifle. The third term bivouac started with another night activity. This required cadets to traverse a section of heavily guarded road, avoiding trip wires and various pyrotechnic deterrents. The next day required cadets to complete a route march in marching order, with their heavily laden backpacks, over a good 20 kilometres. Along the way they had to deal with an emergency medical scenario and avoid various 'harassment' parties. The weekend concluded with a range shoot using the F88 Steyr for the first time with live ammunition.

The next hurdle for the Unit was the infamous Annual Camp - eight days of fire and brimstone in the battle for state supremacy. Christ Church once again performed very well at all levels.

Competitions were scattered throughout the week with every team working hard to keep CCCU on top. First was the Skill-at-Arms competition. Tested in a set time period, the activity incorporated most of the field skills taught to cadets such as team skills, observation and tracking, search and recovery, first aid and ratel. Next was the state range shoot. Again Christ Church did very well but, unfortunately, we were unable to win as the best shot went to a cadet from another unit.

Following the shooting was the navigation competition. This involved teams moving through the bush under the direction of a compass only and arriving at particular checkpoints, each with respective point values. The activity runs similarly to the rules of orienteering and has traditionally been CCCU's best competition. This year was no exception with the CCGS teams scoring an unbelievable aggregate of 96.6. The next day was one of rest and rehabilitation, with non-competitive activities such as the exciting abseiling at the SAS complex.

The following day was Competitions Day. The CCCU confidence (obstacle) course team did extraordinarily well, finishing just five seconds short of our own record! We moved to the drill competition with high hopes.

Unfortunately, due to a misunderstanding, CCCU did not undertake the correct procedure for the drill, but we still managed to come second by a very small margin.

As the troops returned to Perth for home cooked meals, they could be satisfied with their efforts over the week and, come what may, could be proud of their achievements.

The year came to a close rather quickly following Annual Camp. The Headmaster's Parade went off without a hitch and was a great spectacle for all. Congratulations go to the trophy winners. The Unit Dinner (the same evening) was a fitting finale to three years of cadets for the senior members.

The Unit of 2001 had achieved the goal it set at the beginning of the year: to strive for success and put in our best. This would not have been possible without the continued assistance of Lt Col Peterson, the RSM: WO1 O'Sullivan, Lt Law, Lt Barbour, WO2 Hutchinson, Pte Williams and Old Boy, Lt Andrews. We thank them for their efforts and wish the leaders and cadets of 2002 all the best.

2001 saw some outstanding results in the JSS Inter-Schools Chess Competition, with the Premier Team achieving second place, the Secondary As coming third and the Secondary Bs and Cs finishing in fourth and sixth positions respectively. However, the real success of the Chess Club this year has been the increased profile, interest and participation which was evident in the packed chess room during lunch times - despite temperatures to the contrary, S10 really did become the coolest place to hangout. This success would not have been possible without the help of our Teacher-in-Charge, Mrs Hewson, whose enthusiasm and leadership was a driving force behind a great year of chess.

The first event was the annual House competition, where teams of seven prepared to do battle, willing to sacrifice themselves for the greater cause of the team. After the preliminary rounds, Moyes finished on top of Pool A and Craigie on top of Pool B. They subsequently played off for first and in a tight contest in which the favourites, Moyes House, emerged victorious. The competition was played to a very high standard and many talented chess players were discovered. With the emergence of some very good Year 8 players, in particular, we knew that Christ Church would perform well in the inter-school chess competitions.

The Premier Team, consisting of Gerald Teng, George Wong, Raymond Kwan, Kenny Tang and Alan Hsiao (all in Year 12), did exceptionally well coming second, with four wins, a draw and a narrow loss to the eventual champions, Hale. At the beginning of the season expectations as to how we would perform had been uncertain, since we had lost two state players from the previous year. However, all members played exceptionally well in the first round fixture against Guildford and the win gave the team the confidence they needed to perform well over the course of the competition.

Due to the large number of students interested in playing inter-school chess and the limited number of positions in each team, the Secondary A, B and C teams operated under a rotational system. Thus the great performance of the teams was all the more incredible and underlines the depth of talent within the Chess Club.

The middle school chess championship was also an indication of the greater participation, with a record number of entrants. After an exhaustive Swiss-style round robin competition to find the future grand masters of the game, Nick Tay emerged victorious, with Joseph Luo as runner-up.

The enthusiasm that the Year 8s brought to chess was amazing. This was particularly demonstrated when Blair Slack-Smith and Chris Scott organised a chess tournament, which was eventually won by Blair, for Year 8s. Also, the Year 8s have started a chess afternoon, where Christ Church takes on the best from MLC. Alex Thompson also deserves mention for setting up a chess tournament for Year 10s, which was eventually won by Kit Buckley and Brendan Mackay.

Chess at Christ Church has climbed to a new level of popularity and, with the talent and leadership shown by the players in Years 8 to 11, I have utmost confidence that the Christ Church chess club will continue to flourish. I would like to congratulate Blair Slack-Smith, Chris Scott, Shamil Abzalov and Kit Buckley for taking part in the Allegro State Championship. Blair came second and Chris and Shamil came equal third and, with such talent coming up through the ranks, I am sure that Christ Church will win the inter-school competitions sooner rather than later.

Finally, thanks must go to vice-captains, Raymond Kwan and Kenny Tang, and the committee consisting of Darryl Chua, Yi Zhan Wey, Paul Pracilio and Andrew Wong, for their hard work during the year. In particular, we all thank Mrs Hewson, who put in a huge amount of time and effort.

The 2001 debating season has been most prosperous, not only with regard to our many victorious teams, but also to the great participation and enthusiasm shown by the 176 members of the Academy.

We began the year with our annual workshop which familiarises our new members, particularly those in Year 8, with the art of debating; while our senior members are exposed to better techniques and advanced styles. The support of the Old Boys who assisted the debating committee in the running of this event is much appreciated.

The first debating competition on the calendar was that of the Western Australian Debating League. Six teams of Year 8 debaters displayed their talent and, much to our delight, two of these were divisional winners and progressed to the finals. They were very unfortunate not to make it through to the grand final. We also enjoyed much success in the Junior Division, in which we fielded eleven teams. One of our teams won its division and progressed to the finals, but was also unlucky not to get a place in the grand final. Our senior teams were representative of the depth and talent that Christ Church has to offer in the debating domain and one, consisting of Varun Ghosh, Jayant Kumar, Darryl Chua, Adrian Tarca, John van Bockxmeer, Nicholas Wilson and Christopher Karas, went on to win the WADL Senior Trophy in convincing style over their Perth College opposition. Varun was also awarded the trophy for the Best Speaker on the night. This is the fourth year in a row that we have won the Grand Final and I hope to see Christ Church's

In the competitive arena of selection for the State debating team we were fortunate to have Paul Solomon and Varun Ghosh proceed to the second round. Varun then went on to become one of the State representatives for the National Debating Championships at which he performed admirably.

After the hectic WADL season, the AHISA competition got underway with our academy fielding teams in all divisions. We once again performed exceptionally well with three teams as divisional winners.

To end such an eventful and successful year, we held our annual debating dinner, where we reflected on a fantastic season and presented awards to debaters in Years 8 to 10. In Year 8, Orators Awards were given to Jake Jackson, Kristian Barron, Robbie Cock; the Year 9 Best Speaker Awards went to Alex Nock and Nikolas Barron; while Tom Lawrence and Alex Thompson received the Year 10 Outstanding Contribution Awards.

It has been a year of great achievement and enjoyment. This, however, would not have been possible without the hard work and enthusiasm from all teams in every division. Our thanks go to Ms Sheryl Gardner, Ms Marguerite Crawford and Mrs Jodie Clarke - it is as a result of their dedication and organisation that we were able to field and manage such a large number of debaters. I would also like to thank our vice-captain, Sek-Loong Tan, and the debating committee. Their efforts are much appreciated.

I wish all the best to the Captain of Debating for 2002, Varun Ghosh, and the new committee, and sincerely hope that the Debating Academy continues to enjoy further growth and success in the future.

From the time the Drama Department was established sixteen years ago, each year has seen something new occur. Underpinning this has been the continued evolution of drama in the School; an evolution which has seen the academic and performance areas grow and merge together. Each 'wing' of the dramatic experience enriches the other. The classroom and the production company (which we call "Midnite" after our very first major production) provide each other with opportunities which, when combined, give our boys an abundance of experiences and chances to excel. This year "Midnite" was honoured by His Excellency Lt General John Sanderson, AC, Governor of WA who became our Vice-Regal Patron. We also welcomed Mr Garth Wynne as MYTC Chairman. Both have given us tremendous support.

On a sad note, we say farewell to Miss Emma Clement who has made a great impact on Drama at CCGS. Emma came to us four years ago already knowing us well as a schoolgirl member of MYTC and later as a 'prac' student. The quality of her work and her dedication to it has resulted in wonderful productions and classroom teaching. She will be very much missed. We wish her happiness and fulfilment in her new married life with Anton.

"The Friends of Midnite" came into being this year. Led by Chairman Mrs Jackie Ewers, this incredible band has already raised funds for us; totally restructured the wardrobe facility; provided a marketing and promotions facility of professional quality; and allowed for much better communications between parents and the members of MYTC. Their work for us deserves our thanks and praise.

Another group which earns admiration is the Drama Council led by Chris Heyes and his executive. Their vital role is to provide leadership and allow open and constructive communication to be available between the young people and the adults involved in Drama. This work takes patience and skill. The Drama Captain and Council of 2001 have had both in great quantity.

The Midnite Exchange continues and, this year, Mr Duncan Hands became our trainee director while Mr Dayal Singh exchanged with him to take up that post at Gresham's School in Norfolk, UK. Next year, AJ Ewers takes Dayal's place.

Dean Morris's work as Production Manager and the care he gives to each and every young person who comes his way, is recorded with gratitude.

Those mentioned above have been responsible for the success achieved in all that has been attempted this year.

Within a day of the start of the school year auditions were held for Fortinbras, Forty Years On and the montage of poetry and play portions which made up A Walk on the Wilde Side - scenes from Oscar Wilde. These, together with the Preparatory School's contribution of The Selfish Giant with music composed by John Bates and directed by former Captain of Drama Chris Edmonds, made up the drama component of the 2001 Arts' Festival which ended the first term.

Jenny Davis directed Fortinbras which had its WA premiere here in the Chapel and which gave an hilarious comic commentary as to what happened when the play Hamlet ended! It was fast moving and the cast excelled in comic characterisation.

Anthony Howes directed Forty Years On in the Drama Centre. This play, aptly, is set in a school about to welcome a new headmaster, and all that is inherent in change. For this production two guest artists worked with the young cast - ABC's Ted Bull played the outgoing headmaster and Jenny Davis portrayed the school matron. Again, the cast was uniformly strong; with Chris Heyes as the incoming headmaster, balancing the adults with aplomb.

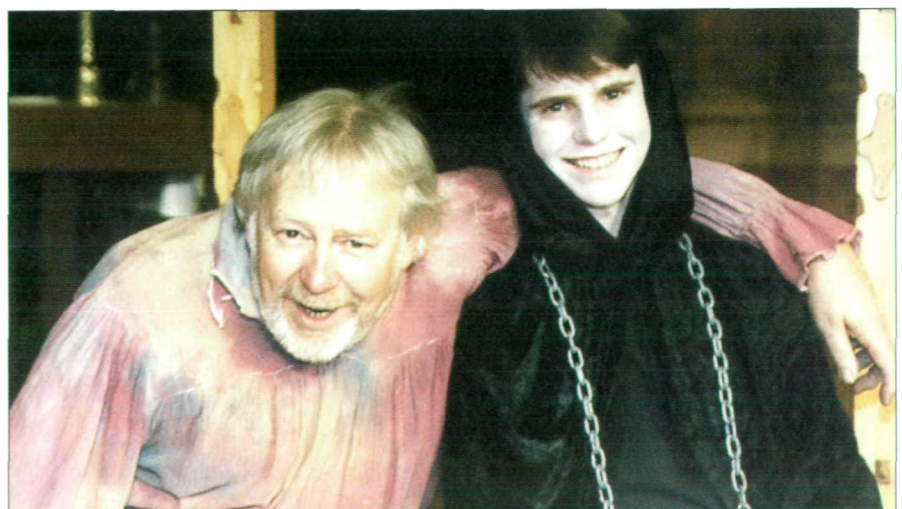

Emma Clement, Duncan Hands and Duncan MacLaurin directed A Walk on the Wilde Side. This was promenade theatre, with the audience moving from various points around the school to witness the different scenes (including The Selfish Giant) and linked with an excellent commentary by Duncan MacLaurin. It ended in the Chapel Close with an al fresco luncheon provided by the Friends of Midnite and the Friends of Music.

The production of second term was the Australian Premiere of David Farr's new play Nativity which was created, originally, for the Old Vic Company just 18 months previously. The play, directed by Anthony Howes, used a wide variety of techniques, from music hall to stylised dance-movement. Two MYTC members, now young professionals, Rebecca Davis and Stu Halusz, played Mary and Joseph for us - immediately before departing for London to take up posts with the New Globe Theatre. Ted Bull joined us to play the Innkeeper, a delightful drunken cameo. Again, the cast gave an energy and deft understanding of how to manipulate their performances in and out of the various styles in a seemingly 'seamless' way. The musical score, composed and played by Simon Holt, was integral to the play's success. Of course, performing in Saint George's Cathedral, gave an impact and created an ambience that only the Cathedral could give to our production. Each performance ended with the serving to the audience of mince pies and mulled wine, as the cast mingled with 'the pilgrims'.

AJ Ewers surrounded by a bevy of beauties in The Pirates of Penzance.

Third term saw us move to His Majesty's Theatre for the production of The Pirates of Penzance by Gilbert & Sullivan and directed by Anthony Howes with musical direction by John Bates. Our audiences topped 4,200 and we recorded a critical success of more than pleasing proportions! Well over 200 people were involved - again, you are asked to cast your eye down the cast and crew list elsewhere; and that names only those on and behind stage! All worked with great skill. It was particularly good to see staff performing with the younger cast. Who could ever forget the Chaplain's idiot policeman or his cohort of simple souls - the Headmaster, John Norris, Ben Hodsdon, John Dimmer, Arthur Pate and Duncan Hands? Mind you, their simplicity was matched by the duplicity of those "Nannies", Lorna Matthews, Anne Ramsay and Jodie Clarke!

Again, all the performers, including that superb orchestra, directed in turn by John Bates and Simon Holt, were outstanding (the energy level had to be felt to be believed) but no one would object to a special mention of Chris Heyes as the very model of a modern Major-General - his diction and his characterisation were flawless.

Theatrically, musically, and visually Pirates received accolades from a wide range of people; from His Excellency the Governor and Mrs Sanderson, professionals in theatre and music, patrons of the arts like Sir Charles Court, members of nursing homes who came as groups, officers and members of the Gilbert & Sullivan Society of WA, the general public and our own community members. Words here cannot describe the feeling of elation and achievement reached during and after each performance. It was an incredible experience for us all.

Term 4 saw Emma Clement's final production (for the time being!) of Roald Dahl's The Witches in the Drama Centre. An excellent cast, matched with the inventive use of iMovie production, brought this macabre and colourful story to life. The whole cast projected characters of immense vitality. That these actors from Years 8 and 9 were able to give performances of such assurance is part of Emma's legacy to Midnite and CCGS. There is no shortage of talent and this production displayed it well.

In conclusion, we would congratulate the recipient of the 2001 Midnite Award, Mr Ted Bull, and thank him for the support he gives to the Arts at CCGS and in the wider Perth community. Ted received his award at the Annual Midnite Dinner, held this year at the Cottesloe Golf Club.

Finally, the encouragement and support of parents, their sons and daughters who come together to 'make' the drama which emanates from this campus, is acknowledged with sincere and heartfelt thanks.

DAS Programme for Year 10 Students

About 115 students are in the programme. There are five groups which rotate through five activities outlined below.

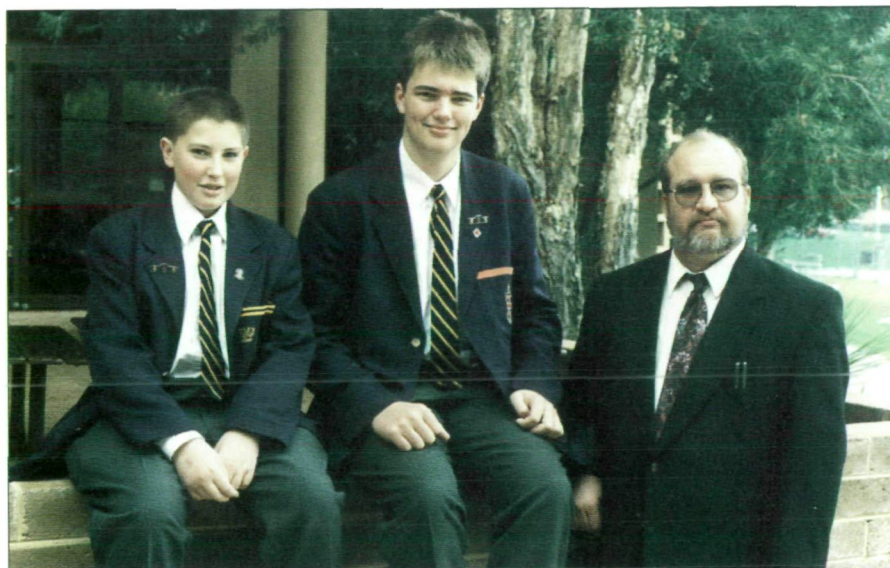

Sr Trish Cahill covers most aspects of basic 'bush' first aid which students could well find very useful during Venture. Cuts, fractures, snake-bite, stings, heart attacks, heat exhaustion, dehydration and poisoning are covered. Videos are shown on burns, bush-fires and near drowning. Boys are instructed on how to construct a bush stretcher from available materials. One session involves dressing realistic mock wounds. During the fifth session they sit an examination. Nearly all pass and are awarded a certificate.

Ms Marguerite Crawford provides a variety of useful career and lifeskills sessions for her group. There are guest speakers who cover topics such as life choices, risk-taking, youth legal matters, etiquette, and peer pressure. During one of their five sessions the boys are taken to the Career Reference Centre in the city.

For cooking we now have three kitchens. Mr Chris Conway is a professional chef who inspires the boys to produce an amazing selection of delectable dishes, as evidenced by several staff luncheons. Mrs Lorna Matthews and Ms Nicola Dunn take the other two groups and the boys thoroughly enjoy these sessions too.

Father Frank Sheehan has developed what used to be coin collections for various charities into more substantial community service. Groups of students still go into the Claremont area shaking tins, but others are now getting involved with Amnesty International (where Mrs Heather Tunmore also takes a group), library and gardening work at Bethesda Hospital, playing games with residents at Sundowner old age home and Anglicare.

Ms Kate Bevilaqua has recently taken over the bush skills activity. This involves the boys in some hands-on outdoor skills such as pseudo rock-climbing at the climbing wall at Challenge Stadium and an orientation exercise at Bold Park. Other activities involve discussions about Venture, the equipment they will need and what to expect, and watching a relevant video. There are also simulation exercises where group decision-making is practised.

DAS is an evolving programme which we try to make as worthwhile as possible. I am looking at further ways to extend the programme with recycling being given some serious thought.

GRAHAM FERGUSON

Year 11 Activities

Year 11 students have been able to choose from a diverse programme which includes both classroom based and outdoor activities. Boys' creative talents are utilised in the editing of this publication, Art Workshop, Music Workshop, Photography, Video Mitre and Solar Car Challenge. Others prefer to enjoy a bit of fresh air while playing Golf or as Sports Assistants for middle school teams.

This year the Video Mitre photographers along with co-ordinator, Mr Dean Morris, have collected some excellent footage of the cadets including their annual bivouac and the Headmaster's Parade. We also have footage of the Venture, some great cricket and rowing events, along with all the art, drama and music we could get.

Golf is co-ordinated by Ms Lorraine O'Brien who was assisted by Ms Jodie Clarke, Ms Liz Langdon and Mr Chris Wisniewski. The many requests to take part in this programme reflect the enthusiasm generated for the game within this school. At the beginning of the programme, students are assessed as to their level of skill and grouped into one of three classes where professional coaches take the approach that game improvement programmes should be geared towards enabling the student of golf to realise his particular goals within the sport and to put these refined skills into practice on the course. Students enjoyed their time at Wembley Golf Course and learnt good golfing practices as well as some useful social strategies.

The Solar Car Challenge has been popular at Christ Church for some time. This year's team comprising Sam Salman, Charles Werren, Rowan McAllister, Arno Rohwedder, Phineas Glover and Hugh McCann were pipped at the post in the State finals of the competition, coming second to arch-rival, Hampton Senior High School. This loss was forgotten, however, when the Christ Church team went on to win the National and International Solar Car Challenge held in Adelaide.

FRIDAY ACTIVITIES

Activities

The team was sponsored by Mr Bruce Drummond, Dealer Principal of Metro Motors Holden and Subaru, and his wife, Judith, who taught at Christ Church in the 1980s.

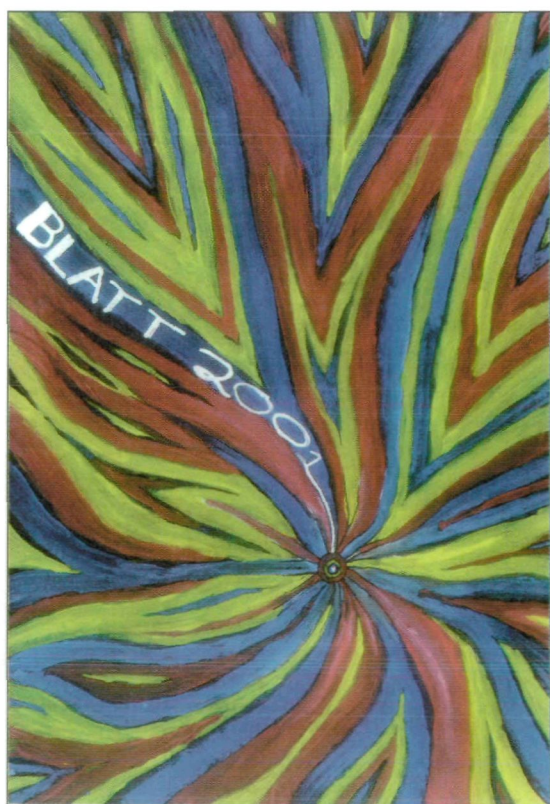

Staff members, Peter Stansbury and Steve Murphy of the Physics Department played an important role in helping the team to develop their car. Interfacing hardware and appropriate software enabled motors to be tested using a flywheel to simulate the vehicle and the data was logged for distance, speed and time. This was invaluable in choosing gears and motors for different conditions and the students learnt much about scientific method.

BLATT

Activities

Blatt, the Christ Church student publication, had an interesting year with periods of intense activity and some very quiet stretches.

The beginning of the year saw editors Varun Ghosh and Yi Zhan Wey interview our new headmaster, Mr Wynne, and produce a range of articles. Later, John van Bockxmeer assumed the editorial role and, through persistence, gathered in enough articles for publication. In the final development stage he was joined by William Udall whose technical expertise helped with the formatting and design. The end result was the largest edition of Blatt EVER! 700 copies of the 44-page extravaganza were unleashed on the last day of Term 4 and were warmly accepted by the students.

The 2001 edition included articles on the French, History, Hockey, Jazz and Surfing tours, an exclusive interview with the Head and profound enlightenment from Father Sheehan through his article on the connections between Essendon and religion. The idea of a 'teacher feature' was introduced in the edition, where teachers had the opportunity to respond to a question sheet that they received and have their responses published for the world to read. Blatt 2001 also contained activities, humour and creativity with articles such as "Absurd Words", "Candid Camera" and work from the Year 11 photography students.

The CCGS student publication for 2001 boasted a diversity of articles from over 30 contributors, making it a truly successful magazine. Within the stunning colour cover drawn by Chris Allan there was the students' answer to this hectic, yet rewarding, year in the life of Christ Church Grammar School.

There were high expectations of the Christ Church Mock Trial fraternity this year after our epic victory in last year's grand final. Unfortunately, this year did not see any of the Christ Church teams in the final showdown, but it was nevertheless a successful year. Once again Christ Church managed to have three teams each of nine boys, consisting of Year 11s and 12s. Throughout the year the Year 12s proved to be outstanding leaders as they took on the more demanding roles and the Year 11s became accustomed to the unique style of this competition.

Two teams made it through to the finals after the elimination rounds cut the numbers from 92 to 16. Out of the nine trials in which the three teams took part, there was only one loss, which came about only because that particular team had to forfeit due to hefty drama commitments. This was enough, unfortunately, to leave only two teams in the race for the finals.

Consisting of Tom Cassidy, James Nicholls, Jonathan Begley, Daram Singh, Clement Chan, Stuart Nicholls, Jayant Kumar, Nick Wilson and Michael Robbins, Team 1 faced its arch nemesis, Carmel (who had knocked them out in the semi-finals of the previous year), as their opponents in the first elimination round. At the completion of the mock trial and pending a result, Team 1 felt confident of a victory but were once again pipped at the post and felt disappointed to take no further part in this year's Mock Trial competition.

Team 2 fared no better as Alex Mossop, Guy Greer, Rob Olivier, Sam Winzar, Tom Quirk, Sam Brophy-Williams, Devindra Perera, Charles Werren and Darryl Chua were denied any further involvement in Mock Trials for 2001 by their well drilled and knowledgeable St. Hilda's opposition.

Although this year we did not manage to win back to back grand finals, we did get two teams into the final sixteen. This was only possible due to the coaching of Old Boy and ex-Captain of School, Mr Peter Landau, who gave up his valuable time to impart some invaluable knowledge concerning Australia's legal system and the current state of affairs of certain TV shows with legal themes! Ms Hewson worked behind the scenes - without her Mock Trials would struggle to continue. The success of the Mock Trial competition at Christ Church is largely due, however, to the unflagging enthusiasm of Ms Reid who made sure every team was organised for each trial and continued to give all those involved the possibility of a deeper understanding of the workings of Australia's legal system.

I would also like to thank the vice-captain and committee members, Chris Heyes, Alex Mossop and Tom Carlton, for playing such an integral part in the success of this year's Mock Trials. Good luck to Sam Brophy-Williams as he leads Mock Trials at Christ Church in 2002. Let's hope we can get back to the dizzying heights of victory and get our hands on that trophy again.

2001 has yet again been an immensely busy, exciting and, most of all, fun-filled year for musicians at Christ Church. With over 100 boys, Music has continued to be one of the biggest and most involved areas of school life.

The year started off with the traditional Choral Concert, combined with our neighbours Methodist Ladies' College. For this event we also welcomed our guests from Christ's College in Christchurch, New Zealand, who we had visited on our trip last year. This year there was a shift towards the Concert and Jazz bands, giving our superb string section a much deserved break. The first half saw a range of combined ensembles, including the Concert Band performing Beach Boys Forever as well as an arrangement of the Peer Gynt suite by Grieg. The concert was so big that we had to stage the first half in Hadley Hall at Methodist Ladies' College and the second half in our own Chapel. In the second half we performed the beautiful

Requiem by Faure. The dedication and skill of the boys and girls showed with a polished performance of the work that was much enjoyed by all.

Term 2 saw Christ Church participate in two major performances, the Anglican Schools Concert and the Concerto Night. The Anglican Schools Concert, although recently established, has already become an important event on our music calendar. This year, our very own John Bates conducted the combined musical might of the six Anglican Schools. Christ Church and our sister school, St. Hilda's, teamed up to present

Jamaican Rumba by Arthur Benjamin and Beach Boys Forever by the Concert Band as well as our combined choir, singing excerpts from My Fair Lady. This year the six Anglican Schools presented an Anglo-centric programme featuring Pomp and Circumstance No. 1 by Elgar, Crown Imperial by William Walton and the famous hymn Jerusalem by Hubert Parry. In these pieces, even the audience was encouraged to sing and join in the fun. We also performed orchestrated versions of Mr Bates's compositions The Lamb and The Tyger, originally dedicated to our previous headmaster, Mr Madin. The success of the night was a testament to all the hard work put in, the skill of the musicians and the co-operation amongst the schools.

The lead up to Concerto Night was again a busy time for Christ Church musicians. Concerto Night is an opportunity for Year 12s to enhance their performance skills for the TEE as well as have a great time. This year showcased eight concertos from Christ Church and MLC. Richard Webster performed Concerto for Guitar and Orchestra by Vivaldi, while Gerald Teng played the challenging first movement of Concerto No. 2 for Clarinet by Weber. Sek-Loong Tan performed another work by our own Mr Bates, this time a Fantasy for Pianoforte and Orchestra. On the night we produced some wonderful music that was enjoyed by both the audience and the performers.

In Term 3 the Music Department combined with the Drama Department for the musical by Gilbert and Sullivan, The Pirates of Penzance. The musical side of the performance included one of the biggest orchestras in Midnite's history. The score for Pirates was very difficult, made more so by having to keep in time with the actors and being distracted by the great acting on stage! The musicians spent many long hours confined to 'the pit' and in the end came up with a performance that can be described only as spectacular.

Together with our sister school St. Hilda's, Christ Church choristers performed for the Founder's Day Service. Singing Non Nobis Domine, Let Us Now Praise Famous Men and John Bates's Mass of Saint George, the Choir provided the atmosphere to make Founder's Day a success.

The Jazz Band, directed by Mr Thane Mandin, toured the wheatbelt towns of Hyden, Corrigin and Kulin in September and their music was much appreciated by all. The boys enjoyed fantastic country hospitality with Christ Church family, Jane and Vern Mouritz. The highlight of the tour was the evening concert at the Hyden Hotel when bus loads of tourists as well as the local football team filled the bistro area for the gig. RamJET had the audience moshing and crowd surfing and was even invited to play for New Year's Eve!

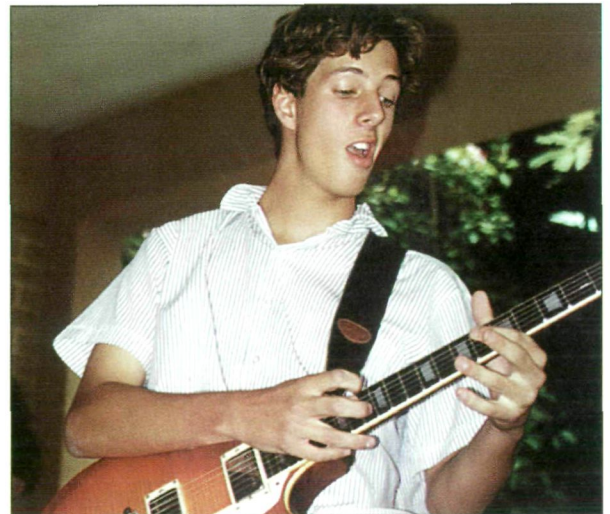

RamJET, comprising Stuart McIntock, Scott Kay, William Udall and Matthew Harley, was declared winners of the state-wide Battle of the Bands competition. This extraordinary achievement allowed the boys to compete in the national Battle of the Bands competition which, we have recently heard, was also won by this outstanding band!

RamJET entertained our school during Chapel and during concerts in the Q Block, as well as sharing their talent with other schools. Perhaps they will be Christ Church's first band to top the charts!

During Term 4 the musicians were still very busy with the following events: the Chamber Orchestra performed Corelli, Bach and Rutter at the Anglican Synod; Jazz I and Jazz II played opposite Christ Church for the John Hughes Big Walk; RamJET and the Year 12/Old Boys rock bands entertained at the Music BBQ; the combined chamber orchestras and choirs of Christ Church and St. Hilda's presented an afternoon concert of Bach, Corelli, Tchaikovsky, Rutter and Haydn at the Chapel of St Michael the Archangel, Leederville; the Senior Choir and the Yahoos (the Preparatory School special choir) with brass and organ performed at the Advent Carol Service; the Jazz Bands of CCGS, St. Hilda's and MLC presented the "Just Jazz" concert with Peter Holland.

Throughout the year various ensembles and soloists provided a weekly item in Thursday assemblies and a programme for Preparatory School assemblies.

Year 10 musician, David Adam, gives Sean Hyslop of the Pre-Primary class a few tips.

Captain of Music, Gerald Teng, performs the difficult first movement of Weber's Concerto No. 2 for Clarinet.

Music in 2001 has been very intense but rewarding for everyone involved. The musicians of Christ Church have dedicated many hours of hard work to practising and refining, the result of which have been the wonderful performances in Chapel and at the many concerts. Thanks must go to Mrs Elizabeth Greenwood and to Ms Carmelia MacWilliam who work tirelessly behind the scenes to ensure all goes smoothly. Ms Gillian Croston, Mr Simon Lawford and Mr Thane Mandin must also be thanked for their work in leading us so well. Finally, we must acknowledge the work of Mr John Bates, Director of Music. Through his dedication, generosity and leadership, music has continued to grow and be such a vital part of Christ Church. Through their efforts, they have made 2001 an outstanding, rewarding and most of all enjoyable year.

From the Director

I congratulate all of our talented and dedicated musicians for their outstanding performances this year. The range of music at the School is truly amazing from the chamber trios and quartets through flute and saxophone ensembles, the Concert Band, Orchestra and Chamber Orchestra, Choir, and Rock Workshop.

Some highlights for me were:

- the enormous privilege and excitement of conducting the huge, combined orchestra and choir at the Anglican Schools Concert and using one of Edward Elgar's own batons for Pomp and Circumstance No. 1;
- the Pirates of Penzance production with the best orchestra and chorus ever;
- RamJET's win in the Battle of the Bands;
- the first performance of Matthew Lewis's Piano Trio at Assembly by Matthew, Paul Wright and Greg Baron.

My sincere thanks to Captain of Music, Gerald Teng, and Vice-Captain, Sek-Loong Tan, for their admirable leadership and to all of the Music Committee.

The Friends of Music support group continues to thrive and their energetic and generous support of the music programme is very highly valued. Thank you particularly to retiring President, Carolyn Winterbottom; Treasurer, Philomena Humphries; and Secretary, Noelle Udall, for their brilliant work.

It is a privilege to work with such cheerful and talented young musicians and with my wonderful colleagues - Gillian Croston, Helen Wilson, Elizabeth Greenwood, Carmelia MacWilliam, Thane Mandin, Simon Lawford, Sarah Seaman and our 25 visiting instrumental teachers. I thank our new Headmaster, Mr Garth Wynne, for his warm support of music throughout his first year. His brilliant performance as a policeman in Pirates symbolised Garth's genuine interest and love for the Arts - a very reassuring sign for the future!

Thank you one and all for another superb and stimulating year in music.

Koorungal

Koorungal represents a range of experiences for Christ Church students. For me it was certainly different to come back to my own school to work at the place I loved as a student. Koorungal is now more important to me than ever and I have very much enjoyed seeing how a student's attitudes, shaped by a modern, urban society, can be transformed by his outdoor experiences. It is difficult to explain the benefits of Koorungal without looking at the year's activities.

After training and preparation, the Koorungal staff set out for Collie for the first camp of the year - Year 9 whitewater kayaking. The Collie Dam was open and it made for some good paddling. The boys also enjoyed their mandatory overnight hike and camping at Honeymoon Pool with a pet lizard called Billy Bob.

Year 9s have an exciting range of activity based camps from which to choose. The camps away from Koorungal - kayaking, marine activities and rockclimbing - provide the added challenge of having to cook all their own meals on gas burners.

Weather hampered a few activities on the Year 9 marine camps. The marine activities, however, mostly turned out well and were very rewarding for the students involved as they practised their breathing and diving and saw a variety of sand and reef fish.

A lack of rain forced the Year 9 expeditioners to hike most of the time. Those on the actual hiking expedition had a great time, with the opportunity to see some amazing jarrah and pine forest scenery as well as the Murray River. Many were alarmed by the logging and mining scars in the area.

The kayaking camps hit the river at its highest point for the year, even so it was well down compared to previous years. There was some skilful paddling and the boys remained positive despite difficulties encountered.

The rock climbing camp was located at Cowarumup; the climbing at the spectacular Wilyabrup Cliffs. The view was awesome, with dolphins and whales frequently being spotted. The cape weather struck for a couple of days and the rain and the wind were seen travelling up into the sky after hitting the sheer rock face.

Year 8 camps consist of a busy eight day programme. Introductory skills for Year 9 camps are taught, but the emphasis is on life at Koorungal and working together. The high ropes course encourages concentration and communication, while the teamwork and bonding required in all activities lay the foundation for a close knit and caring year group.

Much of the success of these camps can be attributed to the care and skill of the Year 11 leaders - four accompany each Year 8 camp group, with one leader directing groups of six to eight boys. The Year 11s did a great job, which helps to make the camps effective in modelling good leadership to the younger boys.

The Preparatory School camps are used to build the Koorungal experience. The Year 7s are introduced to abseiling and canoeing and have an opportunity to camp out which is usually a lot of fun. They also provide staff with the opportunity to see what needs to be done to build the boys up as organised, confident and generous team players before they move to the demanding senior school camps.

The Year 5s and 6s have bush tours and wildlife walks, learning much about the area's geology, biology and drainage. The boys also create some wonderful bush art: hanging mobiles, paintings and clay models of bush critters found on the explorer walks. Once again it was pleasing to see the boys enjoying themselves, even when carrying out their duties.

We would like to thank the Prep School staff for taking the pressure off the Koorungal staff after a long day, taking the boys for night lessons and settling them before bedtime.

The Koorinal staff thoroughly enjoyed the ESU camps. The senior boys camped out at a property near Waroona, went horse riding and walking, and did plenty of bush cooking. The younger boys jumped on the low ropes course, explored the pastures and went on some interesting tours. All the boys were very friendly, polite, positive and thoughtful.

One of the most successful camps of the year was the Years 11 and 12 Development Camp. The boys worked extremely hard for three days tidying up Koorinal and doing some excellent landscaping on the grounds. These students combined a sense of fun with hard work and we really appreciated their efforts.

The year concluded with the rewarding Year 10 Venture. Judging by the smiles on the dirty faces at the end, all students enjoyed the challenge. I thank my group in particular for keeping me entertained for ten days.

Working at Koorinal is one of the best experiences I have had. To see boys enjoying challenges and succeeding in an environment that is foreign to many of them, is exceptionally rewarding.

Venture

What makes a group different from a collection of individuals? Venture does. When the groups were announced early in Term 4 for the 2001 Venture programme, they were merely a collection of names randomly put together by a computer. Over the 11 days of the programme, each collection of individuals became a group, a team united in purpose and with a common goal - completing this gruelling but rewarding outdoor education experience.

The setting for this arduous 11 day adventure is the area around Walpole where the scenery is nothing short of spectacular. The diverse environments of the tall Karri forests, low Mallee scrub and coastal sand dunes provide a perfect backdrop for the Venture. The time spent walking through the wilderness was a continuous lesson in geography and biology outside the confines of the classroom. Each day brought with it a new terrain and new challenges as diverse as the environment itself, from kayaking on the Frankland River to walking straight up the side of Mt Clare.

The main aim of the Year 10 Venture programme is to encourage individuals to learn to work together as a team as well to push personal boundaries. Venture provides an experience that will always be remembered and, for many boys, the chance to achieve what they think is impossible at the beginning. It is a personal journey where you challenge yourself to see what you are capable of doing and I am sure all boys questioned themselves on the long hikes. Each would have found a different strategy to allow him to continue on.

Conversation, poor jokes, songs or simply the thought of the next campsite or food drop all provided inspiration. Friendship and camaraderie will be the enduring memories of Venture, not the blisters or tiredness.

Venture is the culmination of middle school life at Christ Church and stands all boys in good stead for the rigours of upper school. It provides an opportunity for boys to develop leadership skills in working together to solve a problem and to bring a diverse group of personalities and opinions together. The stories of our experiences will be recounted many times over the next two years and beyond, being added to the folklore surrounding the Christ Church Venture programme.

The culmination of the hike is the gathering of all groups at Rest Point. A barbecue provides the perfect setting for stories to be swapped and tales told of the adventures in the bush over the past ten days. Already some of these stories have become etched in folklore as the stories had passed from one group to another on the track, each with a grander telling! Home is in the back of everyone's mind that night.

As you leave Walpole behind, you leave the area that has hosted an 11 day experience which has provided you with so many memories and the satisfaction of knowing that you completed this gruelling trek.

Of course Venture would not be possible without the tireless efforts of many and on behalf of all of the Year 10s we would like to thank all of the staff leaders who accomplished an additional feat of not only surviving 11 days in the bush but doing so with 12, 15-year-old boys. A big thank you to Mr Bayly for organising the Venture, Mrs Drew whose efforts meant we were fed, and to all the other members of staff who assisted in making Venture possible.

To the Year 10s of 2002 - approach Venture positively and I guarantee you will have an unforgettable experience.

MATTHEW HUDSON

ATH

An initial glance at the Inter-School results in 2001 would suggest that Christ Church's athletics season was a disappointing one. This would certainly be true if the final seventh place result was the only criterion on which our performance was judged. There are many theories as to our lack of success in recent years; some theories have some substance, others do not. One thing is for sure: in an event such as the Inters where a handful of "star" athletes can win you hundreds of points, Christ Church simply does not have enough of these athletes to be competitive in an overall sense with most of the other PSA schools. However, what we do have is a large group of boys who put a great deal of effort into both training and competition. It has been a pleasure working with and watching the improvement in all Christ Church athletes. Also, a lot of hard work goes into the season on and off the track and, as a result, there was much to celebrate in 2001.

In such a short season it was felt that the boys required many meaningful lead-up meets to gain the best possible competition and exposure in preparation for the PSA Inters. Our first meet was at Perry Lakes where we hosted Aquinas and this was very successful as it gave every boy an opportunity to compete against quality opponents at a good venue. The week after also saw us break with tradition, as we ventured to Trinity for a meet at their main school oval. Despite a cadet camp being scheduled on that same weekend, we had a large contingent of athletes competing in a host of events. Our Quads team was looking good and we enjoyed a great day of competition with Scotch, Guildford and Wesley. In the end our depth was enough to gain us third place, with Scotch in first place and Guildford in second. The Inters day was one of mixed fortunes. Our captain, Adam Hollings, pulled his hamstring in the first event of the day, fellow committee man Guy Greer missed starting in the 200m due to a persistent quadricep strain, and three other boys had to withdraw on the day due to various injuries and illnesses. Still, we pushed on and, to the absolute credit of our boys, they all showed tremendous grit and determination, filling in for those who were injured with great effort. All the coaches could ask of the boys was that they should give of their best. That they did and we were very proud of every boy who wore the CCGS colours on the day.

Despite the setbacks, there were some outstanding performances, highlighted by Under 16 competitor Andrew Storer, who won the Division One 100m, 200m, long jump and anchored the victorious Under 16 4x100m relay team. Congratulations, Andrew! Jack Leeder's second in the Under 16 Division One 800m was a terrific result, while his effort in winning the Division One 1500m in near record time was exceptional. David Shirley was also rewarded for many years of commitment to training with a win in the Under 17 Division One discus – well done, David!

To all those who competed in School Athletics in 2001, well done and we trust that with the same effort and a slice more luck, success will not be far away.

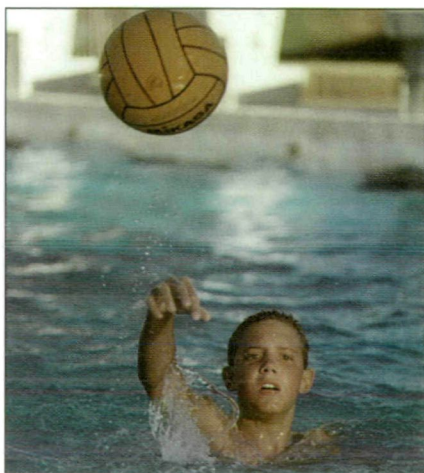

Thank you to our coaches for their effort throughout the season: Mr Graham Moncur, Mr Roger Bayly, Miss Kate Bevilacqua, Mr Luke Dwyer, Mr Sean L'Estrange, Mr John Dimmer, Mr Mike Armstrong, Dr Peter Whitmore, Dr Monica Mackay and Old Boys, Shaun O'Brien and James Matson.

WATER POLO

This year was an exciting one for water polo enthusiasts as Term 1 saw a PSA competition of four teams: Middle School A and B sides and a 1st VII and 2nd VII.

The Middle School Bs had varied results with some early wins against Jonathon Strzina goes for the shot.

Wesley and Trinity. James Hill and Jonathon Strzina used their experience to help those new to the game. Confidence and understanding of the game improved throughout the season along with increased fitness levels.

The Middle School As have a strong skill base, with many of their team both playing at club level and doing state training. They recorded wins throughout the season and the final game, against an equally impressive Aquinas team, became the season grand final with a fitting draw. All players worked hard and combined to play as a top team. Sean Carter, Nick O'Halloran and Aden Chrystal fought hard in defence and Henry Davis and James Erbe from Year 8 were given exposure to some fiercely fought games.

Many players were new to water polo this season. The Year 10s and 11s who were members of the 2nd VII quickly grasped the fundamentals of the game and there were some close scores in the final games. James Gouldson, Michael Meager, Alastair Black and James Nelson became solid defence players while Hugo Stanley-Cary, using his speed, was a top goal scorer. During the season Stefan Vahala joined the team to become a stand-out goalie.

The 1st VII was made up almost exclusively of Year 10 players. Although the team had fit swimmers, only Mark Jones and Theodore Bennett were experienced and the players faced strong opposition in the Olympic-sized pool at Challenge Stadium. There were two close games against Hale and Trinity. The players are looking forward to becoming a competitive force in the years to come.

The Badminton club has worked hard and enjoyed a season of success and rewards in 2001. We were fortunate to have the excellent support and coaching of Simon Capponi who was an enthusiastic and dedicated presence at our games and managed to improve our skills and fitness at training.

The high expectations we placed on ourselves at the beginning of the season were realised in the opener against Hale. This was probably our strongest match in that we did not lose a single set. The masterful performances of Zhi-Ren Teh and Terence Sitiabudi were obvious from the start, with these players winning their singles games 15-0, 15-0 and 15-1, 15-0 respectively. The following week saw us travelling to Aquinas and, being on the opposition soil for the first time, we were presented with our first real challenge of the season. Commanding straight sets victories from William So and Andrew Mawikere helped to ensure a well-earned 6-3 victory. Straight sets victories from Ronald Ng, David Subari as well as David Chai and Kwan Ng from the seconds were the highlight in our return 8-1 home victory over Aquinas later in the year. This encounter also showed how we had improved during the season.

Our only loss for the season was against an immensely strong Wesley in an away game. Then, with only one game remaining in the season, Wesley had the only undefeated team in the competition. The luck of the draw saw us play against them on our home court in the final game. We knew that a victory here would see us finish equal first with them and it was exciting to finish a great season knowing that we had to win the last game against the top side to win the championship. Our top three seeds, Zhi-Ren Teh, Andrew Mawikere and Terence Sitiabudi provided us with a brilliant start and we raced to a 3-0 lead. However, the Wesley players were quality opposition and our lead was dramatically cut when they won the next two games. William So won the last crucial singles match to give us a 4-2 lead with three doubles matches to play. Wesley won the first doubles match and our lead was once again reduced. However, team spirit, rather than individual brilliance, was the feature of our season and we proved this as we won the remaining two doubles matches to win the game 6-3 and gain a share of the championship. It was a fitting end to a successful and very enjoyable season. The mighty Badminton 1st VI consisted of Zhi-Ren Teh, Andrew Mawikere, Terence Sitiabudi, Ronald Ng, David Subari and William So.

The future of Badminton at Christ Church looks very promising.

1st V

In a hard fought season, the 1st V came third in the Blackwood Cup competition. We played many tough games against talented teams and learned many lessons in the walk of Basketball.

Pleasing results were seen against Wesley in the first match which we won by more than thirty points. Paul Coni provided an inspirational performance, proving to be unstoppable in the keyway, as was our rookie Year 10 player, Mark Ong.

In the fourth term Shortland-Jones competition we had been narrowly defeated by Hale and the game ahead was always going to be a thriller. In a desperate match, we were delighted by the outcome which was a narrow yet convincing win over our light blue counterparts.

Trinity had also managed to beat us in Term 4 of 2000 and we knew that for a chance at the Blackwood Cup we had to turn the tables on a very talented and tall side. Luckily for us, they were without some of their key players and we were able to steam our way to success, thanks to the pure 'brute force' of James Hunt in the keyway and 'perimeter power' from Max Ward.

Yet loomed Aquinas, sitting second on the ladder behind Scotch. It was realised for victory here, we needed to outwit, out-muscle and out-fight a strong and diverse group of players. After an excellent first half, with precision offence and quick ball movement, we found ourselves with a chance against a frustrated and tired Aquinas team.

Unfortunately, in the second half, we were not able to capitalise and suffered our first loss.

Then, after a relatively easy win over Guildford, we found ourselves staring down the barrel of a Friday night match against Scotch to end the season. This was our second loss, which cost us a chance at equal first or second place. An awesome offensive arsenal from Scotch was unstoppable; however, we fought very hard and were pleased with our efforts.

The team would like to thank Mr Ristovsky, Mr McPherson, Mr McNeil and all other coaches, managers and parents for such a successful season and, on a personal note, I wish to thank Paul Coni as Vice-Captain and James Hunt as Committeeman for their help throughout the season.

BEN KAHAN
Captain of Basketball

2nd V

The 2nd V had a very encouraging Season 2001, finishing the year with four wins and two losses.

Though a sheer will to win and great team play the squad started the season with all guns blazing and three straight victories. As the season progressed and players started to jump from squad to squad, a slight damper was put on the fairy tale ending as we lost two of the last three matches. Even with the brute strength of Stephen Baltz and David McMorrow under the rim and William So at the three point arc, we were outplayed and outclassed by a strong Aquinas team; while, in a heart breaking final game against Scotch, we were defeated by the narrowest of margins - one point!

All in all, the effort put in by the team throughout the tedious training sessions and great coaching from Mr Shadgett resulted in a successful and satisfying season. Congratulations must go to the team award winners: Stephen Baltz (Best Team Man), Glenn Thomas (Most Valuable Player), David McMorrow (Most Improved Player).

10A

With a poor start to the season, we seemed destined to "crash and burn", but with a new coach and our American import, Charlie Ceronio, we managed to achieve four respectable wins. This could not have been achieved without the gallant all-round performance of Kiel Ryan, who frequently scored more than twenty points in a game, or the outstanding athletic efforts of Jack Viner and Adam Laitt, which often made the difference in the close games. Our backcourt improved as the season progressed with Jack Leeder carrying the ball and Ben Brooksby's high shot percentage.

Our thanks must go to Mrs Drew. Without her expertise and encouragement, our season would not have been such a success.

9A

"Effort above all else!" - this was the motto for the 9As in 2001. After coming off a winless season in Year 8, there was only one way to go.

The game against Wesley was disappointing, the team playing with minimal effort. Changes in the team and stronger performances at the training sessions signalled a better end to the season. With an improved team chemistry and mix, an upset against the powerful Aquinas was on the cards. Fitness levels, however, meant we lost. For the last two games there was finally a full ten man squad. This along with dramatic growth by all players in all skill areas resulted in two great wins.

The boys who played 9A Basketball this year should be congratulated - every one of you has improved significantly.

MARCUS PROSSER

9B

The season began in an 'amping atmosphere' at Wesley when we came back from being down at half time to secure a draw on the buzzer - 21 all. Nic Scanlan was the leader of this revival, ably supported by Tom Lofthouse and Joey Luo.

As the season progressed, the skill level certainly improved with Matt Wickham in his first season, Sam Devenport a transfer from cricket, Rutchapol Chattanarat and Ian Eu being the big improvers, while stalwarts like Evan Yeung, Farhang Nikakhtar and Forester Wong kept the score ticking over.

Apart from the match against Aquinas, we were very competitive throughout the season and look forward to 'slam dunking' a few more teams in future seasons.

9C

The 9Cs showed considerable improvement throughout the season much due to the excellent coaching of Mr Joel Dangerfield. Many boys demonstrated a marked improvement, most notably Reza Bolouri, Saurabh Sharma, Nicholas Tay and Stan 'The Man' Seow. All boys were exemplary in sportsmanship. Some victories, some loses, but it was an enjoyable and rewarding experience for all involved.

8A

The team had a mixed season winning two games, drawing one and losing three. All players trained well, played with enthusiasm and tried hard to maintain consistent team play whilst on court. Our teamwork developed over the season which should lead to an improved showing in Term 4.

Our most valuable player was Martin Vahala who, unfortunately, was unavailable for three games due to injury and illness. Liam Ryan was our most consistent player, always giving of his best and enthusiastic at training. Jack Quirk was our most improved player.

All in all it was a most enjoyable season.

DON MORRISSY

8B

After much soul searching and detailed analysis of all of the video tape replays of the 8B games the reason for the team's failure to win a game is clear: it was the poor training facilities on the outside courts near the gym. Heat from the bitumen, traffic noise and a hot afternoon sun in the eyes made training seem more like a masochistic Japanese game show than a conditioning programme for the elite athletes of tomorrow. Through it all we had fun. Kevin Kalani almost mastered the impossible reverse turn around jump shot with two twists; Dannis Hoo chased shadows with great enthusiasm and Michael Hansen threw himself into the competition with such dedication that he broke his arm! Having been blooded in first term, the team has gone away to think about it all; hopefully to return in Term 4 bulging with muscle and sharp of mind.

Coaching sessions with Mike Hirsch commenced in early January 2001. These sessions were well patronised and many of our senior members attempted to fine tune their skills. A tour to Geelong Grammar School followed with a week of tough competition. We played schools from Sydney, Melbourne, New Zealand and Tasmania. The experience gained was invaluable.

During Term 1 we employed the services of two past test players, Bob Massie and Tim Zoehrer, who made valiant attempts to pass on their expertise to our charges.

1st XI

The 1st XI in their first two games came up against tough opponents in Hale and Wesley and, in spite of valiant attempts to make the games competitive, we were soundly beaten. The only notable performance was from Andrew Browne who made a fighting 74 in the 1st innings against Wesley.

The next three games, with hopes high, we tackled Aquinas, Guildford and Trinity. Unfortunately, we came away with very few points from those games.

Our last opponent was Scotch College whose confidence was high after a win against the leading team, Wesley College. We batted first and our skipper Andrew Browne finally reached the elusive 100 run milestone. He was well supported by Dylan Foley. We declared, giving Scotch the target of 268 for victory with ample time to get it. This is where Peter Dunn took centre stage and in an excellent spell of disciplined bowling (5 for 30), supported by some brilliant catching and fielding, we dismissed Scotch well below the 268 required. We had saved our best for last!

Andrew Browne finished the season with a total of 376 runs and 9 wickets and was voted best all round cricketer based on these figures. Peter Dunn took 13 wickets and was the best bowler of the team.

In spite of the disappointing season as far as results go, the team exuded much enthusiasm and commitment and most games were played in the true spirit of the sport.

2nd XI

This has been one of the most successful 2nd XI seasons for a long time. The team worked hard and was enthusiastic at training and in matches.

Every player contributed to the team in some way with good starts being followed up by strong all round performances and results ground out from tough situations. The bowlers managed to keep a tight rein with controlled and disciplined bowling and this had the roll on effect of giving the batsmen a boost.

The team was led by Daram Singh for most of the games and he was well supported by Will Sandover, Tim Macpherson, Varun Ghosh, Ben Mansbridge, Adrain Tarca, Tim Cottee, Peter Woods, Keegan Scott, Chris Johnson, Sam Alexeeff and Oliver Hanson. All in all, it was a great team effort and the boys deserved their success.

At the end of 2000 the CCGS Cricket Club initiated the Stuart MacGill Competition. Acton Real Estate provided a beautiful cup and medallions and donated funds for the running of the carnival. The WACA provided some T-shirts and the balls for the games. On the day, fifteen primary schools from the area converged on our Mt Claremont fields with East Claremont Primary School the eventual winners.

The Thirds experienced a difficult season, coming up against the stronger sides such as Wesley, Trinity, Hale and Aquinas early in the year. Despite this, the team produced some competitive cricket. The highlights of the season were the emphatic victory over Guildford and conquering Scotch in the local derby.

There were good individual performances. Tom Quirk was the most consistent batsman with an average close to 40, Cameron Boys has shown his undoubted class on several occasions and had a 70 run partnership with Tom Quirk. Alex Mossop, Jai Tuls and Simon Czajka also produced good innings. George Armstrong and the captain, Tom Baker, were the outstanding performers with the ball, with strong support from Jonathon Wyber, Hugh Singe and, on occasion, Alex Mossop. Daniel Dempster and Tom Quirk were the pick of the fieldsman with Jimmy Adams performing well behind the stumps. Our strongest and most vocal motivator on the field was the ever enthusiastic Matt Craig.

The season proved extremely encouraging and satisfying. Three fine victories over some tough opponents were the highlight of the season. The team played as a team, were supportive of each other and exuded enthusiasm throughout training and games. The boys possessed good all round strength with great variety in attack. Matt Hudson was lost at the start of the season to the 1st XI and later on Matt Caddy was also promoted. In spite of this, the team continued to play well. The captain, Dan Hunt, led from the front and proved to be useful with both ball and bat. Tom Spencer displayed good leadership and supported Dan admirably. Mention must also be made of George Henderson, Adam Somerville-Brown, Justin Daly, Alex Drew, Paul Pracilio, Doug Swan, Andrew Middleton, Michael Crocker and Alex Dunbar, all of whom gave of their best.

10B

It was an enjoyable season with noticeable improvement across the board. The stalwarts of the bowling attack were Charles McDonald and Alastair Forward, with Alasdair Beer bowling really well in the second half of the season. Sam Higham, Jeremiah Toster, Andrew Pole and Denis Warnick supported them extremely well, whilst Chris Eyres' wicketkeeping was always skilful and tidy. The batting, however, was less dependable and, with the exception of Michael Crocker whose 40 against Trinity earned him promotion to the As, there were no individual scores of any great note. Denis Warnick must be congratulated for his enthusiastic and mature captaincy.

9A

The team was a competitive unit which tackled each game with much optimism and enthusiasm. There were many lows with just as many highs, but in the end the boys enjoyed their membership of the team. They played as they trained, hard and resolute. The stalwarts of the team were: Jack Joy, Gaurav Ghosh, Mike Goetze, Luke Hollings, David Crocker, Chase Wynne, James Buckley, Tim Greer and Cameron Brewer.

9B

On the whole it has been a trying season that has seen the 9Bs develop in strength. This side should be commended for their fair play and sportsmanship. The games were played in an enjoyable yet competitive manner and most of the cricketers would have gained immensely from being part of the team. Special mention should be made of Ashley Talbot, Alex Nock, Florian Ribul, Justin Tadros, Zachary Barrett, Tom Medalia and Nic Allbrook.

8A

An enthusiastic and talented group formed the basis of this very competitive side. A season of great improvement was seen especially in fielding and controlled bowling, while those who put extra effort into their batting were rewarded. In close matches, it was pleasing to see players do well under pressure. Special mention must be made of Paul Young, who proved to be an outstanding leader; Nick Shea who scored a commendable 84 against Hale; Mike Hall, a promising quick bowler; William Elliott; Jeremy Bates; Sam Wallace; Navin Vij; David Somerville-Brown; Yannick Spencer; Ned Brophy-Williams; Kailashkan Rajalingam; Josh Annear; Andrew Ogden and Peter O'Rourke.

8B

After only a very short season, the 8Bs are looking good! So far nineteen cricketers have represented the team with distinction for an easy win against Wesley, narrow defeats to John Forrest and Hale and, dare I say, another impressive impending victory against Trinity. On the batting front, Peter O'Rourke and Matt Boyce posted half centuries, while with the ball, Jack Price, Andrew Ogden and Sam Ethell displayed consistent line and length. Players to watch for the second half of the season are Jake Swallow and Pratheep Akilan.

8C and D

Although the year was not a fruitful one in terms of results, the boys who participated in these teams showed much enthusiasm for the game. A pleasing aspect was the participation of some boys from the ESU.

In Conclusion

Each one of us has a different definition of success. To my way of thinking, sport is an integral part of any school and it provides our students with an ideal opportunity to be part of teams, learn tolerance and gain self-discipline, but most importantly to have some fun and make lasting friendships. By George, I think we may have succeeded!

The 2001 Cross Country season proved to be a challenging and rewarding season for the Christ Church 1st XV.

The season began with a home race against Hale in which the spirited Christ Church runners easily defeated their opposition with Jack Leeder leading the way. The race highlighted the potential of the team to excel with the Year 10 age group proving to be particularly strong by providing six of the top fifteen runners. Despite this hopeful beginning Christ Church was quickly put back in its place after a humiliating defeat at the feet of Aquinas, the defending Moyes Cup champions.

The following fixture provided the 1st XV with an opportunity to refocus against a struggling Guildford team. The race was not without its complications with the leading runners being incorrectly directed by the Christ Church marshal. This did, however, provide some excitement as it closed up the gaps amongst the field and forced the leading runners to rebuild their lead. After a modified score was calculated, to take into account the effect of the situation upon the teams, the Christ Church team was awarded the win.

Our runners were, however, unable to maintain their winning form and, after a two week break for exams, the team was easily defeated by an enthusiastic Trinity. Mention should be made of Jack Leeder and Andrew Cameron, who ran exceptionally well. This was followed with further problems in the fixture against Scotch with a cadet camp forcing the absence of three top runners. The Scotch team was able to capitalise on this, winning comfortably.

In the last of the two-school encounters Christ Church took on Wesley. Keen to make amends for the previous two losses, our boys proved to be too strong for their opposition, running in an easy win on the flat and relatively unchallenging Wesley course.

Coming into the All Schools events the team was in fourth position. The first of these events was the five man / three kilometre relay at Christ Church. The home fixture proved to be a strong advantage for the 1st XV which, despite the absence of two top five runners, was able to finish in a comfortable third position behind Scotch and the elusive Aquinas. With three weeks before the next race the team took a well deserved break. However, the long rest was not beneficial and the runners struggled in the five kilometre race finishing a disappointing fifth. Eager to improve, the team resumed their pre-holiday training and as a result was able to fight for a comfortable third place in the All Schools three man / five kilometre relay at Aquinas. In the eight kilometre race the somewhat sombre 1st XV runners struggled, finishing the season with a substandard fifth. The effort did, however, maintain the team's overall fourth position.

I would like to wish the Cross Country team a successful year in 2002 and in particular I would like to thank our coach, Mr Ben Hodsdon, for his continual focus and support.

Middle School

The Middle School Cross Country team comprised a small band of dedicated runners who were keen to improve their times and places throughout the season. Learning the tactics of competition running and the unique scoring system taught the boys that every runner was important to the final result. This includes the concept that if our slowest runner is able to beat the opposition's slowest runner, this effort may determine the outcome. To this end, Adon Metcalfe, James Allen and James Hipkins proved very valuable and put in some courageous performances.

Our middle order runners also played their part to the best of their ability, with Joseph Luo, Alastair Huang and Simon Tee being consistent throughout the season. Dave Kordic was our Year 9 champion and fastest runner, finishing first or second on most occasions.

Andrew Reynolds was the Year 8 champion, who managed to place in the top five often.

Most races had between 25 - 35 runners competing and, along with David and Andrew, several achieved a top ten placing. These included: Guy Bridge, James Spinks, Chris King, Chris Watsford and Stephen Summerlin. Chris King received the season trophy for most improved runner.

The season was important in that it built team spirit and promoted a sense of achievement. The team managed to defeat Scotch in a home-and-away fixture and Wesley in the five man relay. The end of season saw the team in fifth place overall.

This season started with plenty of enthusiasm as volleyball has now been accepted as a recognised PSA sport. The resulting increase in numbers meant that we could field two teams as well and also have a group of reserves.

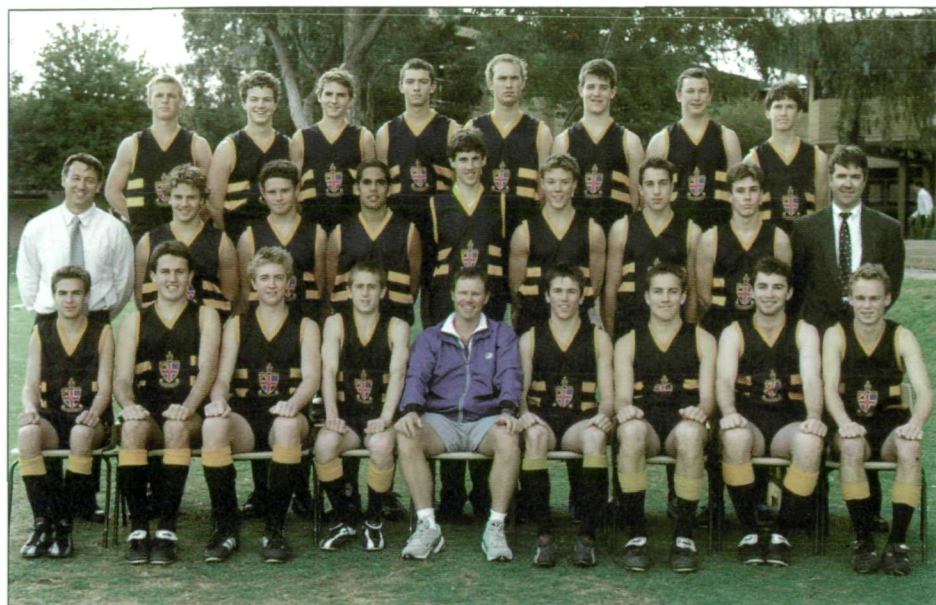

Our first game against Hale proved to be a great warm up match. Expecting the usual hard contest, we came out firing and blazed ahead to a 3-0 victory. Our next game was against reigning champions, Aquinas. We played our most dynamic game of the season with the more experienced team at Aquinas eventually coming out on top. Other games were mostly victories. Losing only to Aquinas and once to Trinity, the mighty Christ Church team finished the season in second place on the ladder.

The 2nd VI also had a successful season, finishing second to Aquinas.

Our thanks go to our coaches, Mr Blair Hill; former State player, Iswardi Damasena; Mr Peter Thorne and Old Boy, Robert Venn, for their support and encouragement. Training sessions twice a week saw our skills improve and our spirit increase. Hopefully, the interest in volleyball at Christ Church will continue to grow and we may be able to enter our team in the National Schools Competition.

soon evident that 2001 was going to be special. The season then opened on home ground against the might of Hale, with CCGS trouncing their more fancied opponents by 42 points. The boys were off to a flying start and continued their victorious run against Aquinas, Guildford and Trinity. Solid wins against Scotch and Wesley ended the first round, with the very real possibility of Christ Church winning the premiership.

We then hit a form slump, losing to Hale and then drawing with Aquinas after being in a winning position. Our dream of winning the cup appeared to be out of reach, as Hale continued to assert their dominance on the competition, winning their remaining nine matches to run out deserving winners of the Alcock Cup.

Second place in itself was a terrific finish to the season and a good result for the hard work put in by players, coaches and support staff throughout the year. But the season will long be remembered for the way in which the boys played – their spirit, determination, sportsmanship and good humour were evident throughout every training and every game.

The team was superbly led by the captain Andrew Browne; vice-captains, Stuart Copeland and Jack Reagan; and committee members, Rob Olivier, Peter Woods and Charlie Dawson.

Special thanks go to Mr Peter Thorne, Mr John Dimmer, Mr Tim Cusack, Mr Ben Day, Mr Drew McDonald and Mr Peter Turkich for their skill, effort and support throughout the season.

Congratulations go to the award winners for 2001: Andrew Browne (Best and Fairest) Stuart Copeland (Runner Up), Jack Reagan (Most Determined), Peter Woods (Coach's Award), James Hunt (Leading Goalscorer).

2nd XVIII

Even for the mighty 2nd XVIII, playing Aquinas, Trinity and Hale twice in one season was never going to be easy. Our opening games were very challenging but in Week 4 we had our first victory on home soil versus Guildford. Following losses to Trinity and Scotch, we defeated Wesley in a match that was highlighted by David Baker's goal kicking ability.

The second round fixtures against Hale and Aquinas demonstrated the tenacity and spirit of the team, but unfortunately victories remained scarce. Nevertheless, highlights during these weeks were Tim Wright's vigour, Steve Turpin's ferocity and Jacob Kendall's form. Our third and final victory was over Guildford in the penultimate game of the season. Here, Elliott Mouritz and James Goetze had sensational games in the mud. This victory was the highlight of the season without a doubt. Unfortunately, the team finished on a losing note to Trinity in a hard-fought game.

Congratulations must go to Sam Alexeeff for his fairest and best award, Tim Wright as runner-up, Brett Hopkinson for the team award and Steven Turpin for the coach's award. Thanks go to Old Boy Tom Matson for his assistance in training the lads.

1st XVIII

The 1st XVIII enjoyed a memorable season in 2001, finishing second in the Alcock Cup, the best result in 25 years.

Training began in November and it was

10A

With three players in the 1st XVIII, and injuries to Rhy Pozzi and Jack Viner, we knew we were going to be in for a tough season, especially when we had to play Trinity, Aquinas and Hale, the three top teams, twice!

Towards the end of the season, the boys started playing better football to gain a good victories over Wesley, beat Hale by two goals, overcome a tough, determined Guildford and to lose by only three goals to Aquinas.

Thank you to Old Boy Robert Venn for his hard work and congratulations to the trophy winners: Bob Gorham (Fairest and Best), Adam Somerville-Brown (Runner-Up), Brad Wynne (Most Improved), Leigh Travers (Most Consistent), Matt Hudson (Reliability and Leadership) and Jack Viner (Courage).

Combined 10B and 3rd XVIII

The combined 10Bs and 3rd XVIII team had a season of which all players can be immensely proud. The season included some memorable victories over Hale and Aquinas and two hard fought losses to eventual winners, Trinity. All players must be commended on their outstanding sportsmanship and usual Christ Church spirit. Congratulations go to: Rob Cotterell (3rds Fairest and Best), Hugh McKenzie (10B Fairest and Best) and Michael Crommelin (Coach's Award).

9A

Although the 9A team was dedicated and disciplined in their approach to each game, it failed to win a PSA game this year. For most games, the team was competitive for at least two quarters and sometimes the majority of the game.

Games against Aquinas and Scotch go down as highlights. After a solid game against Aquinas, we went down in the last quarter, unable to penetrate the goal from repeated attacks. Against Scotch, we played well, but lost in the final seconds of the match.

The season was, however, enjoyable: the players worked with commitment to uphold set patterns to win the ball for their team-mates and the skill level improved. A flip side to the PSA season was the success the team had in the Channel Seven Cup, winning four of our six games.

The team was very well lead by Matthew Bevan (Fairest and Best), Chad McDonald (Runner-Up), Luke Hollings (Most Courageous) and Michael Goetze (Coach's Award for Consistency). Alex Whitely and Geoff Webb also produced pleasing performances on a consistent basis.

The 9Bs had a difficult season in 2001. Our first game quickly revealed some hidden stars, namely Steve Martin and James Buckley, who moved on up to the A team for the rest of the season. Our squad of twenty-five players was ably led by the determined and tenacious Joel Ives and big ruckman, Kennedy Pearse, well supported by the versatile Chris Cullen, speedy winger Alex Meneghello and "magpie" James Moffat.

The season was full of memorable moments, none of which were truly reflected on the scoreboard! Suffice to say that we did make considerable improvement during the season, particularly in our rain drenching rematch against Hale and in our final game against Trinity. Our internal fixtures were quite a highlight, with the scratch matches often taking on a grand final atmosphere. Joel Ives took out the Best and Fairest Award and James Moffat the Coach's Trophy.

ROGER BAYLY
Coach

8A

The 8A team completed a very encouraging season, winning three games and suffering two narrow defeats in ten matches.

Interestingly, all of the side's victories came in the second half of the season. This tremendous improvement was the result of an excellent approach to training and greater consistency on match days. Throughout the season both the A and B teams trained as one squad. This enabled new players to easily move between sides.

The side received good leadership from their captain, Josh Annear, who set the standard for hard running. He was ably assisted by Stuart Turpin, Craig Boyne and Eric MacKenzie who combined to form the engine room of the side. Congratulation to Eric and Craig who were joint best and fairest for the season. Jack Quirk, Andrew Ogden, James Erbe, Jack Jordan and Ned Brophy-Williams made significant improvements to their game and this helped to lift the competitiveness of the side. Peter O'Rourke, Andrew Ogden, Tom Eyres and Nic Coleman showed good character and great team spirit in being able to adjust to various roles and positions throughout the season.

LLOYD HASKETT

8B

It was a relatively successful season for the 8Bs which amassed five wins, managing to defeat Wesley and Guildford twice and Trinity once. One of the great features of the team's football was the spirit and commitment of the players which, matched with a resolute determination, saw them snatch a number of 'come-from-behind' victories.

The outstanding players over the season were Paul Young and Matt Judd both of whom were promoted to the 8As. Other consistent performers were the Lake brothers, Brendan and Julian, Alex le Quesne, Tyson Maloney, Tom Higham and Matt Crommelin. Nick Forward, Will Leonhardt, Brad Angel and Simon Ley performed creditably. Our most improved player was Julian Basonovich.

The boys were a great bunch to coach; they were hardworking, spirited, disciplined and always determined.

CCGS offers many opportunities for students keen to pursue golf as a sport or recreational activity. For golfers with an official club handicap there are two major chances to represent the School.

The PSA golf competition runs at Mosman Park Golf Club and has both junior and senior teams of four competing in a gross stroke competition. This year Christ Church entered Andrew Smith, Daryl Fernandez, Michael Robbins and Peter Dunn in the senior side and Paul Young, Richard Sansom, Alex Drew and Daniel Hunt in the junior team.

In the State Schools' Competition held at Gosnells Golf Club (a much more intense competition with specialist golf schools such as Como and Mandurah attending), three boys represented Christ Church. Aidan Cooper, Michael Robbins and Daryl Fernandez did the School proud with their efforts, although when some schools enter three students all of whom play off a handicap of two or less, the competition is very hot.

Aidan Cooper has been a great contributor to golf at CCGS and has played in many competitions over his senior school life. He is to be commended for his willingness to participate and for the skill and etiquette he displayed at all times. His single figure handicap has suffered a little under the pressure of Year 12, but his natural ability has always seen him perform well. Daryl Fernandez is a most consistent player with a wonderful short game who continues to get better and better. Under his quite exterior is a very competitive spirit and he has the ability to make very difficult shots appear easy. Michael Robbins is arguably the best striker of a golf ball that the School has seen for many years and, given time, he will be a very formidable player. These boys are to be commended for their commitment to golf at CCGS.

In an annual golf competition, held within the student community, boys play a net stroke competition for the Alan Blackwood Trophy. This provides them with the chance to play against golfers from all year groups.

This year golf was again offered to Year 11 students as a Friday afternoon activity. Students were supervised at the Wembley Golf Complex where they were given lessons by professional coaches. The opportunity to play on the course several times throughout the year provided students with the chance to put their new skills into practice on a challenging course in a friendly atmosphere. Our thanks go to Lorraine O'Brien, Jody Clarke, Liz Langdon and Chris Wizniewski who organised and ran this activity throughout Terms 1, 2 and 3.

During Term 4 a select group of Year 11s have the opportunity to choose golf as a summer sport option. Lake Claremont course is used as the venue and this year the standard was extremely high, with many boys shooting 5 over par or less for the nine holes. The results augur well for next year's PSA competition.

Early in November, Year 11 students play the staff. This is a fun evening where the students compete for the honour of winning the Headmaster's Trophy. The competition is played under lights at the Lake Claremont three par course. This year the event, with the Headmaster himself competing in the staff team, was won by David Baker from Year 11.

2001 proved to be one of Christ Church's most successful hockey seasons and the hockey club's overall win-loss ratio stands at sixty wins, six draws and sixteen losses. It is not often that all teams from the Year 8s through to the senior teams perform so well and show so much talent; however, talent alone is not enough to produce such a great season. Rather the success was built around camaraderie and enthusiasm. A prime example of this was the Thirds, which fielded a different team of players every weekend due to the fact that twenty players were always desperately vying for a spot in the team. Their enthusiasm and commitment, and the fact that they always enjoyed themselves, exemplified the culture within the hockey club.

The season opened with games against Hale, which have always been hard fought, especially since the inauguration of the Tregonning Trophy in 1999. All teams from Year 8s to the Firsts play for the trophy and after the first round of matches we held a massive thirty point lead. This was further extended after the second round of fixtures to ensure that Christ Church has continued to win the trophy since its inauguration. The fact that the middle school teams did so well is an indication of the results to come.

The Year 8s played exceptionally well during the year, with the 8As undefeated and their performances led Mr MacGill to comment that this year's group was one of the best that he has ever coached. Their attitude and spirited approach to the game was particularly evident in one of their games when, through injury and illness, the team was left with only eight fit players on the field. Showing plenty of courage they still managed to win three-nil. Similarly the Year 9s under the guidance of Mr Saggars and Mr Jefferies played attacking hockey throughout the season, always going for the win when the game was in the balance and, as a result, the 9As won all their games.

The Year 10 teams also enjoyed a brilliant season, with the 10As finishing undefeated. Highlights were a convincing 17-nil victory over Guildford and a thrilling 3-2 win over Aquinas. The Bs had a lot of close games with their best being against Scotch, against whom they won convincingly. The 10s gelled as a unit and their strength lay in the facts that every member contributed to every game and everyone enjoyed playing hockey.

All senior teams had plenty of success and deserve to be congratulated for this, their sportsmanship and endeavour.

The 3rd XI had the honour of being undefeated. Their 'never-give-up' attitude and enjoyment of playing together shone through every time they played a match or trained. It was great to see that after their draw with Hale in the first round, they had a convincing 4-2 win in the second round, showing that the skills learnt in training had been applied in games.

Apart from losing to MLC, the Seconds won the rest of their matches. Their ability to stay committed and show the same intensity every week, coupled with an abundance of talent, was the key to their success. Their most difficult game of the season was against Scotch and, rising to the challenge, they posted a 2-0 win to ensure that they ended on top of the ladder.

Scotch, to pull off a great win over Wesley as well as a last minute win over Hale.

With such success it was only fitting that three members of the club were selected to play in State teams. Congratulations go to Michael Cottee for making the State U/15 side and to Mark Boyne and Duncan Chellew for making the State U/16 team, which went on to win the National Championship. The club is proud of their achievements.

In the second term holidays a group of players from Years 10, 11 and 12 went on a hockey tour to Sydney to participate in the Hockeyfest 2001

The 1st XI lost only two games during the season and finished second on the ladder. The character that the team showed throughout the season was exceptional, especially in the way they regrouped, after a loss to competition. The teams that CCGS played against were from such diverse places as South Australia, Canada, NSW and England. The girls' tournament also had teams from the USA and South Africa playing. It was a great tournament and we experienced different styles of hockey while, with all teams staying at the same venue, we had considerable opportunity to socialise with fellow competitors.

I would like to thank everyone who has supported us throughout the season, even if most of the supporters seemed intent on devouring the morning teas. Your cheering was much appreciated by all players and added to the family atmosphere of Saturday mornings.

As we reflect on the season, I believe that everyone's enthusiasm contributed something to the character of the club and similarly everyone has gained something from their involvement in hockey this year. Hockey at Christ Church has given me a sense of camaraderie and belonging and I am sure this is the reason why so many enjoy playing this sport at the School.

Captain of Hockey

TABLE TENNIS

Christ Church Table Tennis powered into action in second term again this year with a healthy thirty-six boys participating. There were a few early casualties due to the thirty-five to forty minute trip to East Victoria Park. However, the more dedicated survived and continued to attend. The boys were split into two groups with Mr Shadgett taking the Monday/Wednesday group and Mr MacLaurin in charge of the Tuesday/Thursday brigade.

The groups received some early coaching from a very keen and skillful member of the State Senior Table Team. Though the boys were impressed with the skill and dedication of those displaying their talents, many decided early that they were more interested in a less formal round robin style of activity.

Our season culminated with a play-off for the title of Champion within Mr Shadgett's group coming down to the much anticipated grudge match between Daryl Fernandez and Adam Chua. After a close fought affair the winner was table tennis with Daryl pipping Adam for the title. Other boys to show great improvement through the season were Kirk Alberts and Chris Hayes from Year 10 and Setianda Ariawan in Year 11.

Congratulations also must be extended to Rayson Lo and Sherwyn Chin who together won the State Junior Table Tennis Title early in the season. Well done, boys!

We look forward to another successful season in 2002. The good news is that we will be playing table tennis here at school.

The 2000/2001 Rowing Season began early in the fourth term of 2000 and, for some, even earlier. This was to be the beginning of one of Christ Church's most successful seasons ever, a chapter of the club's life that will go down in the School's history.

The early morning sessions with a rigorous, off-water fitness regime were to be ingrained into the minds of all members of the club. The 1st and 2nd VIII crews trained together as a squad, which acted as motivation for everyone to push themselves to, and beyond, their pain and fitness thresholds.

The excitement of beginning the season rowing in the brand new Austrawtec boat, fittingly christened the Jeremy Madin, was short-lived as it was revealed that for the whole of the fourth term the senior squad would be training in quads for the opening six kilometre regatta. However disappointing this may have been for some boys, everybody trained as hard as he possibly could with the 1st Quad achieving a respectable third on the windy length of the Swan River in Bassendean on the day.

This manner of training continued, however now in eights, up until the first 'camp' of the season. Although not structured as a camp, all senior boys were required to continue rowing numerous times, along with training over an all-new fitness circuit designed by our good friend, Mr Sergio Guazzelli, for the first two weeks of the Christmas holidays. The real test came with a five kilometre ergo test on Day 1 of the live-in camp which consisted of living in the McClemons boarding house and travelling to and from the Canning River for training. This camp, along with the individual fitness programmes, proved to be the perfect foundation for a good season.

The first regatta was the long distance race hosted by Christ Church. We achieved some great results with all senior crews performing well and the 10B VIII and Year 9 VIII both gaining strong victories. The next week the first two kilometre regatta of the season was held and, yes indeed, the Church colours shone through again with the 1st VIII coming a narrow second to Wesley and the 2nd VIII, third. This was to be the trend for the rest of the season with all crews nudging at the top of their respective fields, a position many have never experienced.

The mid-term break, although for some an enjoyable feast of parties and laziness, proved to be one of the hardest few days in some young men's lives. No rest for the wickedly good rowers! On a serious note though, the senior rowers made the journey down to 1st VIII

coach Laurie Anderson's headquarters at ANA Rowing Club in Bayswater. The 40 degrees Celsius days, along with the workload, acted to make us tougher both mentally and physically, as it was known now that the time was drawing near and indeed the CCGS rowing fraternity was looking to be a menacing opponent for the cup.

The last three regattas left before the Head of the River provided lead up to the big day with both 1st and 2nd VIIIs remaining at the top of their fields, while further victories were gained amongst some of the junior crews.

The big day had finally arrived - the Head of the River 2001. At 6:00am the seniors were out on the water for one last paddle before 'it' all began. Muscular bodies glistened in the early morning sunlight as the spirited crews prepared with only one goal - to win! After a light breakfast at Coach Saunders' house followed by a viewing of Braveheart and waiting in a never-ending line for one of Mrs Van Kampen's special messages, the crews headed down to the arena. The outcome was that the 1st VIII came a close third while the 2nd VIII was victorious! The other winners on the day were the 10Bs, while numerous junior crews were also highly placed. This proved to be an important factor in Christ Church's highest placing in the Hamer Cup for years.

This whole day was a fitting end to a season full of spirit, camaraderie and friendship. Quite obviously it could not have been done without the influence of Teacher-in-Charge, Mr Steve Saunders, all coaches and through the help of Shane McGurk in the boarding house. The extended use of the school gym and ergo room also could not have been achieved without the support of the PE staff, in particular that of Mr Sergio Guazzelli whose help with the fitness work was invaluable.

So, there ends another chapter in Christ Church's rowing history. The way in which all boys conducted themselves over the season with a never-give-up attitude that was felt all around the shed was admirable. It was indeed a great season and I am proud of every Christ Church rower. As I wish you all good luck for next season, I must put forward the challenge: Have you got what it takes to make next year better than this? Good luck - I know you can do it!

XV

1st XV

Not since 1966 has the Christ Church 1st XV won the coveted Brother Redmond Trophy. 2001 would see these thirty-five years evaporate into distant memory as, with only two losses throughout the season, we ended the season on top of the table with Scotch and Hale.

Before the season started expectations were high, but the pre-season training camp suggested there was much work to be done. The two coaches, Mr Wray and Old Boy, Simon Philippides, attacked the challenge with enthusiasm. The camp concluded with a game against the Old Boys XV, a game which Christ Church won for the first time in history!

The start to the season, however, did not go according to plan, as after three games we had one win and two losses on the board. Drastic changes appeared to be necessary, but Mr Wray practised restraint, deciding instead to go about training with renewed enthusiasm.

The gamble paid off in the game against Trinity, which was the week after the devastating loss to Guildford. The team played with some much needed heart. The next six games were against every other PSA team, so if we were to have any chance of winning the Redmond Cup, the task was to go through the rest of the season without further loss. The subsequent success is testament to the players' fortitude and their ability to pull themselves out of what seemed a hopeless situation.

Although winning the Redmond Cup was a team effort, there were some outstanding individual performances. The back three for most of the season, Matteo Bellingeri, Sean Geelhoed and Ian Cameron, all made some devastating line breaks and showed their pace and strength to be a constant threat to the opposition. Cameron Boys was always strong and overcame injury to be one of our best for the season. Tom Carlton and Paul Coni kept the back line organised and defended with enthusiasm. As a result of Paul Coni's quick thinking and precise decision making, he was selected for the inaugural combined PSA team. As a pack, the forwards did the set pieces extremely well and secured much possession in open play. It is impossible to single out players from such a single-minded group. As a result of their dominance, the front row of Cameron Boys, Tom Cassidy and Alex Mossop, was selected as the starting front row for the PSA combined team. Raka Van Kampen was another forward to get a combined PSA guernsey.

The season's success would not have been achieved without the hard work and dedication of three people, Mr Wray, Old Boy Simon Philippides and Ms Morgan. All three played just as big a part in the winning of the Redmond Cup as any player who took to the field. On behalf of the 1st XI, thank you and good luck in 2002.

TOM CASSIDY
Captain of Rugby

2nd XV

In what has been an amazing year for Christ Church rugby, the 2nd XV has shared in a big part of the success, with a win loss ratio of 9:1.

We had only two training sessions before our first game against a well drilled Hale team, and we knew that this was going to be a big challenge. With ten minutes left in the physically exhausting match, Christ Church managed to lift it up a notch, scoring two converted tries in a win that was a sign of good things to come. We followed up with gutsy wins against Aquinas and Guildford, with score lines of 33-0 and 89-0 respectively.

Trinity, Scotch and Wesley were all put down as wins, although Scotch was the first team to score against us. Unfortunately, in the last game of the second term, we met our match against Hale and our undefeated record was no longer intact.

By this stage of the season a pattern had developed with Tuesday training sessions becoming progressively more painful. The standard of the competition too was much higher with Aquinas and Guildford having improved immensely, and we were forced to work much harder for our wins.

The stakes were high in the final game as we played Trinity for joint first position. We beat Trinity in a convincing fashion and achieved our goal of first place that we had worked so hard to achieve all season.

TOM BAKER

10A

With seven wins and only three losses, it was a season of which the 10As can be proud. The success can be attributed to the efforts of every player, while team spirit was also very important with the only words spoken amongst the players being words of encouragement.

We were not deterred by the loss of our first game to Hale - it simply inspired us to try harder, which we did, downing Aquinas by two tries the following week. In the remaining games of second term, Christ Church defeated Trinity, Wesley and Scotch, and had an unfortunate loss to Guildford.

After the holidays Aquinas, desperate not to have a repetition of our previous encounter, fought to the end, but was not able to overcome us. The game following was once again against Guildford, who had defeated us 7-0 in second term. Thirsty for revenge and ladder points, Christ Church won convincingly 24-0. The game against Trinity was the last of the season and, in a controversial game, Christ Church won again 19-5.

The 10As finished their season with many great memories such as Charlie Ceverio's soccer style try, Mark Ong's ability to make the opposition run away from him, and the look on Daniel Hobbs' face when a decision was made against us. Our captain for the season was Tristan Winnall and it was his constant support which inspired us to give everything we had, no matter what the score was. Of course, all of this would not have been possible without the guidance and expert coaching from Mr Robin Dunn and Old Boy, David Akers. Also, a special thank you must be offered to the parents who took the time to come and watch us every Saturday morning.

9A

The Year 9s played ten games and won three in a season characterised by inconsistent performances. While the games were very close, the boys needed to go the extra yard in the second half. The opposition, particularly the Hale and Guildford teams, were incredibly big for Year 9s and this took its toll. There were some encouraging signs developing throughout the season and I am sure that as Year 10s, this team will continue to improve. Michael Hourn captained the side. Thanks to Mr Tim Cusack, Mr John Turner, Mr Rob Manning and Old Boy, Kris Martinick, all of whom helped coach this team.

The Year 8s began the year with a flourish and all were impressed with the expertise of the coach, Dr Simon Clarke, and the general style of play shown by the boys - the rugby looked good. There was momentum in the moves, the forwards were effective in loose play and the backs were putting moves together with the precision of older and wiser players. Their six wins and three losses placed the team equal third overall. Tom Hobbs led the boys throughout the season and was a respected and capable captain. Thanks go to the coaching staff, who worked, as always, tirelessly throughout the season. They include Dr Clarke; Old Boy, Sean Hardcastle; and Mr Peter Wray, who stepped in to take Dr Clarke's position for Term 3.

This year the sailing fraternity has experienced significant success across the board with some of talent rising from the younger year groups. The participation and willingness of the entire team was very encouraging, while the upgrading of the School's boats also lead to an increased skill level with better equipment available.

The return of long-time Christ Church sailing coach, Mr Ron Jensen, provided much of the guidance and support, as Mr Geoff McGillivray continued to lay the foundations for future success by encouraging and coaching the younger sailors in the School. Christ Church dominated both of the state championships to reinstate the team as a benchmark for schools sailing in Western Australia.

Team Racing

Team racing has been an enjoyable experience for everyone involved in the 2000/2001 season. The Christ Church sailing team participated in two main team racing regattas: the State Secondary Schools Team Racing Championships. The team for both events consisted of eight sailors: Iain Larkins, Callum Millar, Chris Galton-Fenzi, Chris Lewis, Nicholas Davis, Stefan Paterson, Luc Tasker and Tim Rechichi.

The School dominated the prestigious State Secondary Schools Team Racing Championships held over three days in the first term holidays at South Perth Yacht Club. This was a statewide event in which ten school teams competed in and then a series of three finals. The team was undefeated in the round robin events and then lost the first of its finals, regrouping to dominate the two final races.

This victory meant that the team was able to compete in the National Championships held in the winter holidays on the icy cold waters of the Derwent River in Tasmania. The team had a reasonably bad start to the regatta; however, showed incredible talent and resilience to claw back to secure bronze medals in third place.

Thanks must go to the entire team-racing group including the support team, who provided great training opposition, and also to coach Mr Ron Jensen.

Secondary Schools Sailing Championships

Also during the first term holidays, immediately following the team racing, over thirty boys from Christ Church participated in the Secondary Schools Sailing Championships. They were competing in a field of fifty-one boats from different schools in teams of three. The Christ Church team had not won both events since 1998. This year, however, the team was able to do so convincingly, with the A team consisting of Nicholas Davis & Iain Larkins in a 420, Jonathon Clough & Luc Tasker in a Mirror and Andrew Smith & Tim Barrington in a 420, winning the event. Closely following the Hale B and A teams (2nd and 3rd respectively) was the Christ Church B team consisting of Stefan Paterson & Ainsley Brett in a 420, with Tim Rechichi and Robbie Gibbs both in Optimists.

1st XI

The 1st XI had a successful season with a solid outfit training and competing under the watchful eye of coach Denis Barstow.

The year's campaign began with a satisfying nil-all draw against soccer heavyweight Hale. The following week, Aquinas was no match for the Christ Church team which won 3-0. Guildford scored two quick goals early in the second half for a 2-0 victory, while league leaders Trinity were held to a respectable goal tally in their victory over Christ Church. The Scotch team was fortunate to escape with a 1-1 draw with a number of key decisions going their way, and a late equaliser held Wesley to a one goal draw. In the second round, Hale again was unable to conquer a determined Christ Church outfit, drawing one all, before Aquinas, Guildford and Trinity pinched tight victories late in the season.

Guarding the goal this year was keeper Ollie Hanson who progressed to be one of the vital elements in the team's structure with his dexterity between the posts. A solid back-line saw all aspects of defence well covered. On the left, Ben Ward used superior experience and pace, while on the right John Broertjes clung to his opponents with remarkable determination. Assisting me in sweeping was the centre-cum-midfielder, Brett Howes, whose speed and reliability completed probably the tightest defence in the league.

The midfield consisted of the team's playmakers and workhorses. In the centre, Josh Nairn's roving nature and raw aggression was balanced by veteran Mohammed Bustari with his remarkable ability to dispossess attackers. Darryl Chua, as left midfielder, showed devotion to the team as he consistently trained harder than anyone, whilst gutsy George Grover used his strength, aerial ability and thundering pace.

In the forward line skilful striker Kevin Sloan played a high-standard of attacking soccer. Joining him as centre forward was Ash Lau who progressed visibly throughout the season. Clement Chan worked hard up front using his pace and powerful shot well, whilst Ryan Smith's good ball control and shot accuracy made him a dangerous player. Finally, Andy Sadler and James Zorzi combined well as the attacking wings. Their silky touches and clever playmaking were complemented by their ability to find the back of the net.

2001 saw an accomplished team hit the pitch each week and an enjoyable season of soccer.

CHRIS HEYES

Captain of Soccer

2nd XI

The season started with a great deal of enthusiasm; however, after losses in the first three rounds, it was clear that the season would be long and difficult. The only moments of joy during second term were a win against Scotch and a draw with Guildford. However, the work rate of all players was improving and there was a real sense that better times were on the way.

During third term the 2nd XI did not lose a game! We drew with Aquinas, defeated Guildford away and, in the highlight of the season, defeated Trinity (who were placed top at the time) at home. It was slow coming to fruition but the hard work and desire to improve had finally paid off.

The highlights of the individual players included: Koji Chua's slick goalkeeping, Narootte Foo's dramatic forward runs, Dan Sheehan's hard running and covering, Daniel Bishop's crunching tackles, David Cruise's heading ability, Chris Dunn's phenomenal work rate, David Shirley's enthusiasm and his magnificent goal against Trinity, Sam Hammond's strong tackling and leadership, Scott Kay's silky skills, Rahn Goddard's hard work and determination, James Beresford's passing and shooting, Stanley Wei's speed and finally Cheynin Thanphiphat's goals against Guildford.

All players for the 2nd XI are to be congratulated on the positive attitude and enthusiasm for the game.

BRUCE RUTHVEN
Coach

3rd XI

The season was both enjoyable and successful and, but for the fact that we had to play the two strongest teams twice (Trinity and Hale), we might have finished third instead of fourth.

Nonetheless, our matches against both these schools were excitingly close encounters and our last fixture against Trinity, in which we went down 2-0, prompted the Trinity coach to congratulate our boys, saying that, in his opinion, we were the best opposition they had had all season. A fine compliment with which to end a great two terms of soccer.

We had a steady squad of some twenty boys who trained enthusiastically. I am proud of the way they played, tough but fair, and I am confident that a number of them will be playing at a higher level in 2002. I would like to take this opportunity to thank Old Boy, Andrew Kendall, for assisting me with coaching. Congratulations go to Fairest and Best winners, Justin Pyvis and Marco Kwok.

PAUL DRAPER

10A

Coached by Mr Allan Hallett, the 10As had an eventful season. After losing to a competitive Aquinas team and drawing with a talented Hale, we were rewarded with a win over Scotch. This boosted team spirit as it was the only team we beat. All in all, even though this year's season was not as successful as previous ones, we believe the squad gained precious experience and will be able to apply it in the season to come.

10B

This was difficult season for the team, but there were many commendable contributors such as Junichi Shimoda, Shaun Lee, Gar-Hing Lee and Frank Fung, all of whom never gave up during some tough matches. Highlights for the season were the win against Guilford away, where a first half three goal blitz saw the 10Bs stroll to our only victory; a draw against Hale late in the season and the unforgettable goalkeeping efforts of Robert Liu. Well done also to Frank Fung, top scorer, and Andrew Middleton for his solo effort against Aquinas. Thanks to Mr Moncur for an enjoyable season.

ANDREW MIDDLETON

9A

The 9As had a season of mixed success. Early on hefty defeats to Hale and Trinity did nothing to instil confidence. Then against Guildford we lost what seemed to be a commanding lead; it was as if we could not believe a victory to be possible. However, as the season progressed confidence returned. We went down narrowly to Trinity in a much stronger and more determined performance. Against Hale we lost 2-1 and were unlucky not to win, hitting the woodwork twice. Finally, away to Guildford a sweet victory was secured. Florian Ribul was crowned man of the match on a regular basis - his commitment, fitness and skill always played a crucial role. Gavan Cruise improved greatly in his defensive role and Jack Joy showed some lovely touches.

Coach

9B

The 9Bs had a most successful season. Ably led by our dominant midfielders, Graham Sharpe (Captain) and James Lee (Vice-Captain), the team showed determination in every game.

In defence Farhang Nikakhtar and Patrick Stall swept away most attacks; while Pelham Vaughan, Bam Suppipat, Benson Chin, Saurabh Sharma and Daniel Kim displayed poise and desire in the back half. Through the midfield and forward positions Nick Bogle, Stanley Seow, Steve Halim, Ian Eu and specialist kicker Pat Setsompop all provided speed and enthusiasm. Michael Watson was solid in goal and specialist striker Ben Greaves was a constant inspiration.

The highlights of the year were our two wins against the strong Aquinas team. The great indicator of the team's improvement over the season were the two games against Trinity, going from a first round loss of 9-0 to a much closer 3-1 loss in the second.

ALISTAIR MCNEIL

8A

The 8As had a disappointing season, failing to register a win, although the boys were enthusiastic at training. Tom Cramond was strong in goals and defenders such as Kevin Fang, Julius Drake-Brockman, Navin Vij and, towards the end of the season, Chris Hewitt played solid roles in the back line. Our mighty midfielders James Holloway and Marco Noe were consistent, but finishing power up front seemed to be the problem. Dannis Hoo tried his best, kicking a few inspirational goals. Overall it was a season of development for everyone involved. After all, ... winning isn't everything!

8B

The 8Bs had a successful season, finishing third (and averaging two and a half goals a game). We can put this success down to an overall team effort. The leadership of Rohan Bishop as captain was rewarded by a promotion to the 8As. Also promoted were: Andrew Nissen, Nick Van Leeuwen, Chris Hewitt and Derek Cheung. Yannick Spencer, Shamul Obzalov and Eu-Kim Chan in defence gave great support. The midfield was led by Jake Jackson supported by Andrew Gannon and Mark Well. The forward line was led by Dugan Dallimore, well backed up by Wen Teo, Te-Wen Hong and James Hsu.

DENIS BARSTOW
Coach

Surfing

In 2001 the surfing team was the largest in many years. In interschool competitions we did not do as well as we hoped, but proved that we have lots of depth which was found by conducting year group competitions.

In Week 7 of Term 3, we went to Trigg for the Scholastic titles. Both teams were knocked out early due to strong competition from Carine and Padbury.

The PSA titles were held in Week 9, having been postponed in Week 5. The School surfed well as a whole to finish second to a very strong Scotch College. Stand-out performers were Jonathon Strzina and Jock Craig. The surfer of the day was Scott Best who won the Junior Championship.

In late Term 2, the School held a competition to decide year group champions. The conditions gradually improved as the afternoon went on and a good day was had by all. A special thanks goes to Mrs A'Court for organising and running all competitions, and to Brownies surf shop for donating the prizes.

Junior body boarders, James Buckley and Jack Jordan

Body Boarding

While 2001 was not as busy a year as 2000 for body boarders, there was good support from all year groups which showed promise for the years to come. All events were held in the second half of the year.

The first event was a Years 10 and 11 competition held at Isolators in Cottesloe. There was a great turnout of students despite less-than-average conditions. From this a team consisting of Mark Ashton, Ben Mather, Hugo Stanley-Cary and James Baker was picked for the State Interschool Zone Titles, but despite being victors for two years running, CCGS succumbed to a difficult new rule of two waves per competitor to suffer a disappointing first-round loss.

Next came the Sirocco Shield competition, where CCGS was not informed of the cancellation of the event until the day it was to be held. This unfortunate lack of communication was a little frustrating but easily forgotten by those who turned up on the day to score some great waves at Trigg.

The competition was rescheduled and CCGS performed well. Given testing though contestable conditions, each body boarder battled his way to a top three placing. Stand-outs included James Baker, with a first place in Junior Division One, and Mark Ashton, Benjamin Mather, Tom Spencer, James Buckley, with second places. Christ Church came away with a respectable second placing overall.

To finish off the year of competition a Year 8/9 competition was held in small but clean waves at Trigg. James Buckley, Charles Angliss, Jack Jordan and Nick Van Leeuwen all did well. So hopefully we will have a promising body boarding future at Christ Church.

We would like to thank Brownies surf store in Claremont for providing the prizes for our internal competitions and Mrs A'Court for all her support. We'll see you in the water next year!

Swimming traditionally has always been one of Christ Church's more successful sports. Testament to this is the fact that in the past fifteen years, Christ Church has come no lower than third at the PSA Inters. So with high expectations placed upon our swimmers to perform and numerous coaches with gruelling sessions at the ready, the 2001 season began.

This marked the final year in which the swimmers trained in an unheated pool. Although obviously a positive for those in the younger age groups with the chilly morning training a thing of the past, some Year 12s have expressed a wariness as they believe the swimmers might become somewhat 'soft'. Nonetheless, thanks must go to those involved with the fundraising and organisation of this new facility, not only for the swimming fraternity, but also for members of other sports for year round rehabilitation and non-weight bearing exercise.

The first real test for the 2001 Swim Team was the Schools and Colleges Relays. As we pride ourselves on the strength our relays, the team was hungry for success. In the end, Christ Church emerged victorious with only two points separating us from Guildford.

The Interhouse Swimming Carnival followed at Challenge Stadium. There were numerous fantastic swims on the night and all involved are to be congratulated at their sportsmanship and endeavour. Congratulations to the winning house - Moyes - and the age group champions (who are named in the House Swimming section). Two school records were broken at the Carnival - Chris Weiner smashed the u/15 50m Breaststroke record; while in the Open 50m Freestyle, Guy Greer reduced the previous mark by roughly half a second. Thanks must go to those involved in organising the event, which ran very smoothly.

Next the Christ Church team hosted the St. Hilda's swimmers. Although the numbers were a little short in the open division due to the St. Hilda's Ball being held on that night, the rest of the swimmers enjoyed the evening. At the conclusion of the meet, the traditional sausage sizzle was held for the swimmers.

Christ Church on the starting block.

The shield with which Christ Church Swimming has most definitely become synonymous is the John Ryan Shield, for the winner of the Quads. This year the night of the meet lived up to all expectations. After a tight tussle with dark horse Wesley who were particularly strong in the younger age groups, the Church swim machine again emerged victorious with a final winning margin of 34 points.

After countless early mornings and boarders' breakfasts (thanks to Steve Felton and his staff), the PSA Inters finally arrived. After an inspirational speech by Old Boy and national swimmer, Jono van Hazel, and a huge feed at the traditional pasta night, the boys could not be better prepared for the challenge that they were about to undertake. With thousands of screaming school boys packing the stands, the atmosphere was nothing less than electric. The swimmers did themselves and their school proud with a typical Christ Church team effort concreting the School's third place with Guildford and Hale first and second respectively. The CCGS teamwork can be seen from the number of individual events won on the night, two, compared with the number Guildford won, nineteen. Despite being comprehensively beaten in this section of the program, the team refused to concede and ended up winning four relay races - the u/13 Division 2 Freestyle, the u/15 Division 1 Freestyle, the u/15 Medley and the Open Medley. Special mention must also be made of Chris Wiener, who broke his own school record whilst winning the u/15 Division 1 50m Breaststroke. Our other individual winner was Sean Carter in the u/14 Division 2 50m Backstroke.

Two other accomplishments were: the Jack Mah Cup for the best first division competitor in freestyle, backstroke, butterfly at the PSA Inters won by James Moffat; the van Hazel Team Trophy for the best Christ Church relay performance on the night of the PSA Inters won by Mark Jones, Chris Wiener, Michael Cottee and Jesse McDonald. Also, congratulations must go to Jeremy Chang who has officially become the school record holder for his swim in the 2000 Inters meet for the u/16 50m Butterfly in a time of 27.57 seconds. Well done!

Credit for the team's success must also go to the coaches who may have seemed a little sadistic whilst forcing the boys, still half asleep, to jump in the pool at 6:00 am; their help is much appreciated. The age group managers, Mrs Pentony (with her 'little tackers'), Ms Bevilaqua, Mr McGurk, Mr Wisniewski and Mr Saggars, Dr Mackay with her times, and the teacher in charge, Mr Moncur, must be thanked for their support and guidance. A huge thank you must also go to all the parents, lead by Mrs Greer, in their relentless efforts behind the team.

Such consistency over the years must be credited to the coaches, as the team cannot always be packed full of the stars of state swimming, and this year's team was most certainly not. It was those boys who for the first seven weeks of the school year dust off the old togs and make it down to the pool at ungodly hours of the morning to put in the laps, who make the CCGS swim team so special. These boys may not be those who win trophies or break records, but are simply happy to be part of the team. These boys give the team the inspiration that it needs to be competitive against the might of swimming schools such as Guildford or Hale. Admittedly, it would be nice if the swim team was full of state or national swimmers with talent oozing out of every pore, however the reality of the situation does not allow for such a circumstance, and the atmosphere amongst the team would quite simply not be the same. This is a legacy which has been created and strengthened over the years. It is a legacy which makes this swim team stand apart from any others, provides it with resilience in the face of adversity and hopefully stands it in good stead for the challenges that are to come.

1st VIII

The 2001 season is one that will long be remembered for the great camaraderie as well as the success of the whole fraternity as we once again stamped our authority as the tennis "powerhouse" of the PSA.

The 1st VIII enjoyed great success remaining undefeated all season. Throughout the year, the team enjoyed an average winning margin of 20 sets to 4; a remarkable feat!

The fixtures opened with a home match against Trinity in which the team began the season in excellent fashion with a 22 to 2 set victory. The following week we drew traditional tennis rivals Aquinas. This was always going to be a tough encounter. The team fought courageously and won 14 sets to 10.

Our first fixture of Term 1 was against Wesley and our 22-0 victory confirmed that we were the team to beat. The following match was against Hale who had recruited a Year 8 star from South Africa, whose skill proved too much for Matthew Milner. Yet sets were hard to take from us and we won 19 sets to 5. This form was emulated the next week against Trinity with a winning margin of 20-4, with notable performances from newcomers Ashley Lau and Ben O'Driscoll.

The following week's fixture against Aquinas put our season on the line. Weeks of discussion, planning and tactics turned it into a chess affair, where the smartest team would walk away poised to win the cup. Fortunately, our plans and pre-season training came to fruition and we escaped with a 14-10 win. Brenton Bacon and Aidan Cooper played outstanding tennis.

The last two games were approached with caution. There was little reason for concern, however, as the team enjoyed good wins against Guildford and Scotch, recording scores of 24-0 and 23-1 sets respectively. This meant that the team would end the season undefeated and bring back the Corr Cup to the School's trophy cabinet.

I would like to thank Mr Draper for the commitment and support he has given to the team for so many years. A large part of this year's victory can be attributed to this tennis guru. Our thanks must also go to Darren Patten, who braved many early starts to train us. I would also like to thank senior players Matthew Milner, Aidan Cooper and Charlie Dawson for setting a fine example to the rest of the team.

With a strong contingent of Year 9s and 10s in this year's side, I am sure that this year's dominance will carry on to next season and ensure that CCGS continues as the premier tennis school.

ROBERT OLIVIER

Captain of Tennis

2nd VIII

The season was very successful with just one loss to Aquinas 11 sets to 13 as one of the season's highlights. Other results were also pleasing with strong wins against every other team. In the last match, against Scotch, the team was 5 sets to 7 sets at the half time break, yet fought on to win 15 sets to 9. The team ended equal first with Aquinas.

Outstanding players were Michael Robbins (16 sets won and 4 lost), Michael Bingemann (14-6), George Wong - Captain (22-2), Andrew Glasson (18-6), Andrew Hurley (15-9), Peter Thomas (12-0), Nick Bakker (11-5) and Shin Lee (7-1).

3rd VIII

The 3rd VIII tennis team enjoyed a successful season, coming second on the PSA table behind Hale School. In the final fixture, Christ Church and Scotch each had a 4-1 win-loss record and competed against one another for second place. To its credit, the 3rd VIII team played with intensity to seal victory and second place on the PSA table. One wonders whether Christ Church might also have defeated Hale had we clashed later in the season because the team improved so much. Throughout the season, the 3rd VIII performed admirably in doubles, losing only nine (from a total of 48) sets!

Before his promotion to the 2nd VIII, Shin Rong Lee proved to be the stand-out performer. All team members trained and competed well, but the following deserve special mention: Rob Cotterell was a stalwart, winning all his singles sets; Ben Mather competed with determination; Rahn Goddard was also undefeated in singles and improved considerably throughout the season; Taro Okamoto displayed fighting qualities coupled with good sportsmanship. A defining moment was Rahn Goddard's final singles match of the season. Against a talented and determined opponent, Rahn played aggressive tactical tennis to win 6-3, 7-5. Well done, team!

10A

The 10As ended up sharing equal first with Scotch College. Coming into the last fixture, the team was first on the ladder with Scotch College second. Although our determination to win was evident, some of the very close battles went against us. Congratulations must go to Richard Sansom, Andrew Storer, James Moore, Carlo Savini, Brendan Mackay, Yuya Suzuki, David Khouri, Bradley Wynne, Varun Singh and Simon Kusel for this well deserved result. I would also like to thank Richard Sansom for his assistance in coordinating the team and for his dedication and enthusiasm each week.

10B

The 10Bs finished second in their division. Throughout the season the team had some very convincing wins. Hugh McKenzie, Rayson Lo, Chris Woods, Matthew O'Brien, Daniel Gilbert, Harrison Moore, Michael Crommelin, Will King and Daniel Stein should be extremely happy with their results and their final ranking. A big thank you to Hugh McKenzie and Matthew O'Brien for their support and advice throughout the season. A special thank you to Matthew (and I suspect his parents also) for organising the end of season feast.

Good results were achieved because the boys trained intensely and played each fixture to the best of their abilities in true team spirit and sportsmanship. They were also privileged to have several excellent coaches. The result was that there was a visible improvement throughout the term in stroke play and on court tactics. Our thanks to the coaches.

GREGORY LINDORFF
Manager

9A and B

This year thirty one extremely keen enthusiastic boys represented the School in the Year 9 competition. As a result there was excellent depth. This is well illustrated by the fact that fourteen boys played for the 9As and all of the remaining seventeen played at least once for the Bs.

The regulars in the A team (in seeded order) were: Jamie Fini, Jake Travers, Alex Dewhurst, Alex Whitely, Tim Doepel, Gavan Cruise, Steven Martin, Joel Fowler, Andrew Wong, James Paterson, Jamie Herbert and Tom Robinson. Chris Hancy and Angus Scotland also played.

For the Bs, key players in addition to Hancy and Scotland were Kim Newman, Chad McDonald, Tom Martin, Nick Bogle, Alistair Tait, Joel Ives, Chester Tulloch, Clint Sutherland, James Naughton, Tom O'Rourke and Andrew Brine. They were well supported on occasion by Cale Bell, Chris Watsford, Bradley Pearse, Michael Watson, Chris Cullen and Scott Harrison-Pearson.

The 9As finished behind the powerful Scotch. A big improvement on their Year 8 result. The Bs, with their positive attitude, finished a creditable third.

8A

The 8As made a promising start in the PSA competition, defeating Guildford,

Wesley, Hale and Trinity by comfortable margins. We lost by the smallest possible margin (one game!) to Aquinas in an exciting afternoon's tennis. In the last match of the season against top dogs and arch rivals, Scotch, we acquitted ourselves very well going down by just thirteen games.

The team - Craig Boyne, William Leonhardt, Michael Dolan, Sam Lau, Richard O'Brien, George Mair, Robbie Cock, Rod Gotfried, Andre Ashton, Daniel Lor, Matthew Prindiville, Victor Kim, Callum Addison and Matthew Crommelin - played and trained with enthusiasm and determination and can look forward to continued success in the future.

TREVOR RICHARDS

8B

This year's 8B team was a cohesive group, with particularly evenly balanced middle players. The results were pleasing, with every boy working hard to play to the best of his ability. I was also pleased to see that the Christ Church tradition of playing fairly will be carried through by these boys. Training sessions were fun, with the boys getting deal of support from Old Boy, Ryan Chua.

What Shall We Tell the Children

I suppose that to suggest that the world is ever changing is a bit redundant, but in the year since I last addressed this forum the nature of the change in our world is vastly different from that to which we had previously been accustomed.

Whatever happens in our world is either directly, discreetly or by some other mysterious process, communicated to our children. Many of us as parents and teachers have held the view that we are in charge and able to manipulate the world of our children and control what they learn, see, hear, view listen to and ultimately absorb.

Many of you will have engaged in that age old practice of recognising when your young child is beginning to decode the spoken language so you begin the early acts of deception by spelling things out to each other, only to soon discover that this artifice works only for a short while. This, I believe, is the major reason why some children learn to spell so well at an early age. I might assume that those of you with sons who are poor spellers did not engage in this subterfuge. Some parents then move to writing things down and passing messages to each other as a way of preventing a third party from accessing the information being shared. Maybe there is an area for literacy research here. But bit by bit our clever decoders are able to access the messages of the adult world and increasingly our well-intentioned power to control and protect them from some of it is wrested from us.

The process of withholding information, rewards, incentives and learning opportunities have long been control measures employed by parents and teachers. Recently I read about a teacher in NSW being reprimanded for disclosing to her young students her version of the truth about Father Christmas and I suspect that the Tooth Fairy and the Easter Bunny might also be in danger of such exposure.

How much and what do and should we tell our children, and at what age or stage of development do we do it? Realising that eventually truth will win out, we try to protect the view of childhood innocence and simplicity as long as possible by attempting to control the release of information until we have decided that it is appropriate.

Some years ago I based my Speech Day Report on one of the works of writer Neil Postman entitled The Disappearance of Childhood, a book that I still find highly relevant and well worth a revisit. Postman promotes the thesis that childhood is indeed a modern invention and certainly a post Industrial Revolution one. Prior to this children were viewed as commercial property and valued because they could add to the family income or be sold or indentured to someone who would compensate the family. Thus the burden of having to feed and clothe the child became the responsibility of another party.

Haven't we come a long way?

As machines took over much of the work fewer people were needed in the labour force, so childhood and education were 'invented' to cope with the changed circumstances now facing the industrialised countries.

Postman's premise was that as we developed the notion of childhood and began teaching literacy skills such as reading, we were opening up an adult world to those whom many thought were not yet ready to cope with such information. Control initially was simple as we were able to teach to a selective audience, until universal education became a right. Clever, scheming adults then worked to maintain control by releasing information in a controlled way by withholding books, placing them on high shelves or even in locked bookcases.

Ultimately in countries such as ours, with compulsory education, heavily focussed on reading and basic literacy skills, adults eventually gave up on the withholding technique as a means of control as they realised the futility of such action. The children of today have become the audience of the totally invasive and non-discriminatory media of radio, television, tape, CD, DVD, Internet, newspaper and magazine. They do not have to wait until they can read to become the audience. Our task as teachers and parents has become one of interpreting and explaining to our children the information that they come to hold.

A few months ago I came home at about 9pm, switched on the television and scanned through to see what was on offer. There on CNN was what I, and many others, thought was a movie, but the image of a passenger airliner ploughing into the World Trade Centre was not a huge and well executed stunt, it was real. It took me a few minutes to come to this realisation and by this time I was experiencing feelings of shock, horror and disbelief. It took me a few hours before I could draw myself away from what I was watching and try to place it into a manageable perspective as I considered the ramifications of what I had witnessed.

I began to wonder how children might respond to this event and how we adults could and would explain it to them, and retain credibility. My teachers and I, and you as parents I am sure, spoke with and discussed this event with the children and tried to lead them to some understanding and explanation that they could handle. Hopefully much of what we said was truth, but did we really know or understand the convoluted set of events that may have led to the aforementioned incident.

As our children grow up we must recognise the challenges of preparing them to enter, cope with and make sense of a rapidly changing world, a world that at times makes limited sense to us. We cannot lock ourselves in the past. We cannot deceive our children under the guise of protection, so we must continually make and change our understandings of the world and its events to better prepare them for what lies ahead. We must build in our children resilience and strength, which, coupled with knowledge and understanding, will lead them to be able to unravel and interpret the mysteries of the world.

Before us today we have eighty-four Year 7 boys about to move to a new phase of their lives. They are, or are about to become, teenagers, adolescents, young men, and inhabitants of a different part of this campus. Has their childhood ended or do we extend it for a few more years? Already they know things that you and I probably didn't know until we were five, ten or even more years older. How well they can understand and synthesise the information that they hold is variable. One of the questions that we must ask ourselves is, 'How ready are they for this next stage of their lives?'

My answer is that they are very ready, even though in many ways they have learnt differently from you and me to cope with what comes next.

So what do we tell the children? I believe that we tell them as much as we think they can handle and knowing that other sources have told them most of the rest, we should spend much time and effort in maintaining effective dialogue with our children so that we can help them interpret and apply what they know. If we have moved them from dependence to independence and then to interdependence I believe that we have done our jobs successfully.

Yes, the world has changed dramatically, but this has happened with monotonous familiarity since the days of Adam. Man has always triumphed through his ability to adapt to changed circumstances and we must once again trust that this group of Prep School leavers will do the same. I have every confidence in their ability to meet the world on their terms and go forth and make great achievements.

Boys, your teachers, parents and I are proud of you as a year group and thank you for your leadership and contributions to the life and activities of the Prep School. Be proud of yourselves and each other. Be proud of your achievements and those of your friends. Be proud of your family and your school. Stand by and help and support each other. Be true in your dealings and be there for each other as you move on to face your world.

As the year draws to a close it is fitting that we acknowledge some of the events that have happened in our small part of the world.

The most significant event this year was the installation of our new Headmaster Mr Garth Wynne who has done a wonderful job running this large and complex school.

This has been an unusually fecund year for my teachers as Mrs Joseph gave birth to a baby girl, Amy, in May and Mr Reid's wife, Marian, had a baby a few weeks ago. They named her Claire. Mrs Hill has timed things well to end the year with about six weeks to go before the birth of her baby.

In April Mr Hurst was married and in a few days time Mr Guazzelli will be married here in the School Chapel. Last Sunday Ms Lynass's son was christened here by Canon Sheehan.

Mrs Schupp retired in July and Mrs Willard became my full time secretary, Mme Inglis has resigned to cope with life and the education of her three young children, Mr Ranger and Ms Lynass have decided that full time work leaves them too little time to live and enjoy life so will move to part-time teaching next year as a tandem team. They will be replaced by Ms Jane London who for some years lived in adjacent Walters House where her father was Housemaster. Miss Olivia Bird will replace Mrs Hill whilst she is on maternity leave. Ms Kerr has resigned as dance teacher to take up a full time teaching position at Warnboro

High School.

The remainder of us have carried on and will continue to do so, my contribution was to have a significant birthday this week, which on a scale of happenings is rather a poor showing and at an inconvenient time no less.

I was reading an article in the press this week about Australians and their attitude to sport, particularly to the idea of winning. Old Boy of this school, Olympian, coach, sports psychologist, medical doctor, ex-MP and motivator, Ric Charlesworth, commented on a recent series of national sporting losses. He indicated that at times it is good to lose, it is almost cathartic, it brings us down a peg or two and awakens us to more important lessons:

- Learn by your mistakes and you cannot win all the time.
- He says that sport is like life – sometimes you win and sometimes you don't, but sometimes people hold unbalanced views and take things like sport too seriously when there are many other issues, economic, social and political which should get more focus from the Australian community.
- We need to spend more time and energy helping others.

Over the past two weeks you and your sons have been very generous in supporting us as we support Anglicare which supports those who are underprivileged or down on their luck at this time of year. Our donations amounted to one hundred and ten family sized food hampers and the residue from our collection of four hundred and fifty dollars. Thank you for your work and support in recognising one of the social needs of our community.

To those of you who are moving on I hope that you do so with fond memories of your time here. Do not forget what this school has given you and I thank you for what you have given to it. I pass to you my best wishes for Christmas and the holiday season.

2001 lived up to all staff expectations in being challenging and rewarding in the many and varied aspects of academic and extra-curricular life at Christ Church Prep.

Most of our meeting and planning sessions were dominated by the new reporting format to parents, particularly portfolios, in line with the adoption of Outcomes Based Education. This is an ongoing process and we have made significant progress towards achieving our goals.

The staff room is filling up with our blossoming staff numbers and furniture is at a premium especially during meetings.

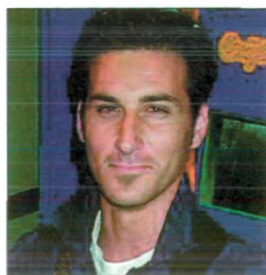

Several new positions were created this year, one of which was filled by full time Physical Education teacher Sergio Guazzelli coming to us from the senior Phys Ed Department. He was well-known to us as he had already worked part time in the Prep School.

Our new Year 5 teacher, Jeremy Hurst, came from PLC with many skills and enthusiasm.

Jeremy Hurst.

Two new ESU assistants joined us -

Micheal Martin

Micheal Martin from the ground staff, who studies part time towards a psychology degree and Annette Baltovich

who had previously worked for the Cerebral Palsy Association.

This year we have gained a new Religious Education teacher, David Neville, who has previously worked at St Hilda's and Trinity College in Sydney. He will teach Prep classes and assist Frank Sheehan.

Lisa Chrystal also joined us this year as an assistant teacher in the Early Learning Centre. She was no stranger to us; a school parent for several years.

After almost 11 years as Prep School secretary and filling numerous other positions such as working in the school clothing store, Di Schupp decided to leave Christ Church and leap into a new phase of her life. She will now live in the land of the gentry in rural Perth, tending her abundant garden and becoming involved in her local community. We wish her all the very best in the future.

Di Schupp

Rita Willard

Rita Willard took up the secretary's position full time in Term 4 and is gradually coming to terms with this demanding and endless task in her quiet and friendly way.

Catherine Inglis

Catherine Inglis, French teacher at Christ Church for two years, has left us to pursue other interests. We wish her well.

Our staff was certainly busy in the family stakes this year. Jeremy Hurst was married to Juliana in the Guildford Grammar chapel in April. Jenny Joseph, Year 2 teacher, took maternity leave at the end of Term 2 and gave birth to daughter Amy in June, to the joy of husband Greg. Caroline Robins, from England, has taken much care of the Year 2 boys in Jenny's absence and will continue in the new year. Ruari Reid and wife Marian brought daughter Claire into the world in October and all are doing well. Sergio Guazzelli is to be married to Anthea in the school chapel before Christmas. No doubt it will be wonderful occasion.

Alicia Hill

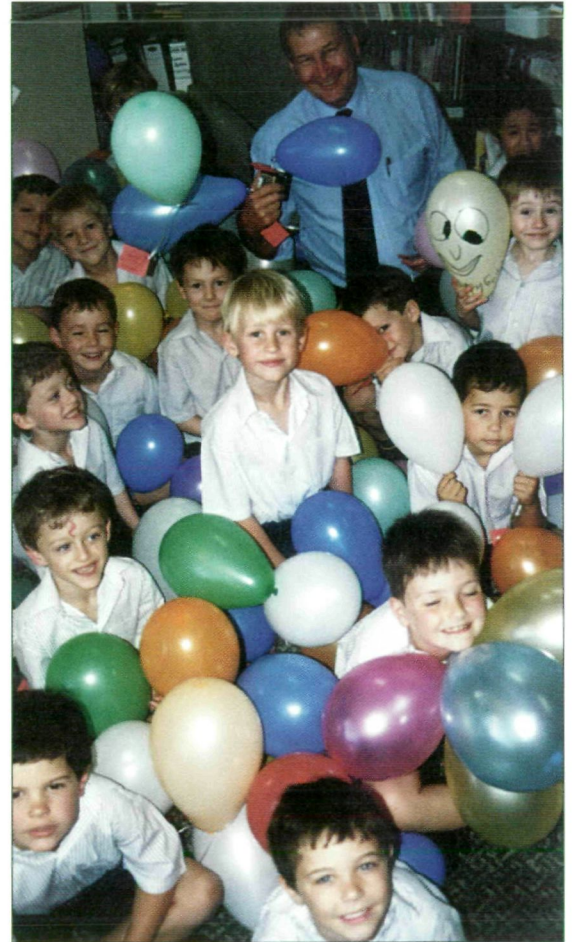

After ten years teaching at Christ Church Prep, it is with mixed emotions that we farewell Alicia Hill, who is taking Maternity Leave for the birth of her baby during January. We wish her and Blair (ex- Phys Ed, senior school) all the very best and hope to see them for a visit in the coming year.

Our ever-enthusiastic Prep Headmaster, Geoff Matthews, recently celebrated his 60th birthday. It was a joy for the boys and staff to feel a part of his significant milestone.

We have particularly enjoyed having our new headmaster, Garth Wynne, visiting our classes this year and in the staff room from time to time. We appreciate his warm and supportive presence.

In looking back over 2001, the staff feel privileged to be part of a positive and hard working team to educate a great bunch of boys. We wait with expectation of new challenges and successes in 2002.

MRS M. HOOKEY

Preparatory School boys help Mr Matthews to celebrate his 60th birthday.

VOLUNTEERS

Preparatory School

The never ending flow of help we receive in the Preparatory School attests to the value we attribute to those people who give support in a myriad of ways. They keep coming back! From the hardworking volunteers in the Library, those who assist in Enrichment, the mothers, fathers and grandparents who are always ready to give a hand in the pre-primary to those who sew or cook or sell or give just to make the work of the Preparatory School flow – we thank them all. We couldn't do it without you!

2001 CCGS Ski Trip to Mt Hotham, Victoria

Saturday 14th July 2001 was going to be the start of a great adventure for 33 CCGS boys and six teachers. Our long awaited ski trip to Mt Hotham, Victoria was about to begin and even better, there had been a good snowfall overnight.

After saying goodbye to our sad parents we boarded our midnight Qantas flight to Melbourne. It was great taking off from Perth airport, looking down at the lights of Perth. Everybody was very excited on the aeroplane. We didn't sleep on the plane because we were busy talking and watching the movie Spy Kids.

We arrived at Tullamarine airport about 6.00 am. It was really cold. We all collected our bags and headed for the bus which was to take us up to Mt Hotham. We stopped on the way for a country breakfast and the teachers did the shopping for the week up the mountain.

The bus trip took about five hours. The first sighting of snow on the ground outside was really cool, as some of the boys had not seen snow before. The bus stalled three times going up the steepest part of the road, but we finally made it to the car park.

We were staying in the Kalyna Ski Lodge. The steps going up to the lodge were covered with snow and ice so we made a human chain of boys to carry the bags into the lodge. We waited to get our rooms allocated. The lodge was quite big and it had a games room. We checked everything out and got unpacked. Then we got dressed into our ski pants and jackets and went to the bus which took us to the ski hire shop at the Summit to get fitted for ski boots and skis and poles. The ski boots were very uncomfortable and clumsy to walk in. We were allowed to practise a bit and muck around.

On the first night we went out to a café called Jack Frost for dinner. The most popular choice for dinner was cheeseburger and chips followed by ice cream and chocolate sauce. Back at the lodge we played games and then went to bed.

The next day we all woke up to a cold but sunny morning. The teachers cooked a great breakfast for us. Then we all set off to the Summit in our yellow and blue CCGS beanies, to be put into groups for our ski lessons.

This was really good fun and quickly those who could not ski, were mastering the snowplough. The rest of the day we practised what we had been taught in our lesson and returned to the lodge at about 4.30 pm. Everyone had lots of stories about their day on the snow and quite a few boys didn't even fall over. The teachers cooked up a great dinner, we played games and headed for bed pretty early. Unfortunately, Ben Jude had torn a ligament in his thumb.

The next couple of days were busy with ski lessons and practising what we had been taught. Most of us picked it up quite quickly and we were skiing down Easy Street with style. The more experienced skiers were going down Snake Gully and Sun Run with Mr Williamson and Mr Daddi.

It was exciting on Wednesday night as we all got to go night skiing. The Big D was lit up with spotlights and everybody at Mt Hotham was out skiing. It was really crowded.

On Thursday night, after dinner, we had a pool competition, which was great fun.

Friday was our last day of skiing and we had to return our skis to the hire shop by 4.00 pm. Because it was our last night we had dinner at the Jack Frost café again.

We had a bit of a sleep-in on Saturday morning before we had to pack up everything and clean our bathrooms. We all helped load our stuff onto the bus for our trip down the mountain to Melbourne airport. The teachers shouted us lunch at McDonalds on the way. Our Qantas flight left Melbourne about 5.30pm for Perth. The trip home was a bit quieter. I think everybody was a bit tired and thinking about the great week we had just had.

On behalf of the boys I would like to thank Mr Fagan, Mr Williamson, Mrs Lee, Mr Daddi, Mr Matthews and Miss Duffy for making this trip possible and the great way in which they looked after us so well.

I hope the 2002 CCGS Ski Trip boys enjoy themselves as much as we did!

The first thing Dale House decided on this year was to raise enough money for a House Flag.

To do this we needed to get in early before all the other Houses. We planned a Games Day and Cake Stall all in one. Well, it must have been a good idea because we raised over one thousand dollars!

The next trick was to come up with a really good design for a flag. We ran a competition amongst the boys in the House and received a measly three entries. That's the bad news. The good news was that one of the entries was submitted by Jonathon Yeo and it was brilliant! After a few modifications it was sent to the manufacturers. The brand new flag has now been welcomed to the Prep School with a big lunchtime party and flag-raising ceremony.

In the meantime, the Swimming Carnival came and went, won by Forrest, with Dale third. Once again Dale's cheer squad did their bit and won hands down in the noisy support department. Our cheering was again on show in the Athletics Carnival and almost got us over the line. Unfortunately, we were pipped right at the end by Stirling, who did better in the team events such as relays, tug-of-war and leaderball. Oh well, there's always next year.

On the home front, Dale tried hard in their endeavours to win the Giles Shield. However, we just seemed to lack the consistency needed to put ourselves up there with Stirling, who always appeared to be the team to beat. Second term was a bit dismal and we slipped to fourth place for the term, and in the overall standings.

Term 3 brought a complete turnaround as, fired up by our success in the "Aths", we almost stole the term lead from Stirling. This left us still in fourth place overall, but only by a very few points. Maybe the tide has turned for Dale!

Well, in conclusion, the tide turned but not enough to overcome the lead built up by Stirling. Congratulations to them for winning the Giles Shield and watch out for Dale next year as we feel that we are on a roll. Success is just around the corner.

The start of the new millennium was the sign for Forrest to spring into action ready for the challenges waiting throughout the year.

These challenges were tackled by the leadership of the House Captains and Vice-Captains throughout the year. Enthusiastic and helpful leaders undertook these positions of responsibility. Scott Cook, Grant Shepherd, Jackson Carrol, David Ching, Jay Halligan and Scott Chrystal, all proved to be worthy House leaders.

William and Edward Kermode.

Forrest made a courageous start to the year with a superb effort at the Swimming Carnival in first term. Every boy put in a great effort enabling Forrest to finish the night in second position. This was a vast improvement on last year's result. Many of the Forrest boys went on to represent Christ Church Preparatory School at inter-school swimming carnivals. For his marvellous contributions and successes in the pool Grant Shepherd was named for the Sports Honour Board.

By the end of the first semester, Forrest was in a strong position coming second overall with only a handful of points away from the leading position. The task was set for all Forresteres to ensure they gain points at chapel line up, neatest boys, class points, chapel money and at the rostered duty sessions.

The Athletics Carnival in third term was another highlight for Forrest. Here the boys continued their fine efforts. It was wonderful to see the boys try to do their best and endeavour to gain a spot in the first four positions of that event. These superb contributions saw Forrest triumphant and win the Athletics Trophy, 28 points ahead of the next House. Our previous victory was in 1998. Many Forresteres represented the School at the JSHAA Athletics Carnival.

Fourth term saw Forrest gain the lead and be on track for the Giles Trophy. Over-confidence and strong opposition took its toll. Halfway into the term Forrest had fallen from the top spot and despite a strong rally towards the end the prestigious trophy had slipped from our hands.

A special thanks to the House teachers, Mrs Lee and Mr Guazzelli, for their tireless support and generous assistance throughout the year.

The challenge for Forrest in 2002 is to learn from this year's successes and failures, to reinitiate our energies and again do our best to strive for another wonderful year.

After a successful 'campaign' in 2000, hopes were high in 2001 for a Giles House 'three-peat'.

However, our efforts did not quite match our dreams and, though all Giles Boys tried their very best, congratulations go to Stirling for winning this year's Giles Shield.

The year began with Giles confident of victory in the Swimming Carnival, as for the last few years Giles' swimmers have dominated in the water.

Unfortunately for Giles, another House raised the swimming trophy aloft. Well done to Stirling!

With the coming of the Athletics season, and Giles boasting some athletic young men, the Blue House felt quietly confident of repeating the success of the previous year. Again, early results let other Houses create a points lead, which Giles valiantly struggled to regain. With some superb performances by many Giles boys, coupled with excellent wins in the relays, Leader Ball and the test of strength in Tug of War, there were high hopes that Giles could pull off a famous victory. Giles finished a gallant third, just two points behind Dale. Congratulations to Forrest on a well earned win.

The Captains and Vice -Captains this year have made great efforts to rally the boys in blue to achieve their best. The Notice Board was again decorated with posters, notes and drawings, and regular duty and Chapel Line-ups contributed to the Giles House Points tally.

I would like to thank all Giles boys for their efforts this year, with a special 'thank you' to Mrs Brooke and Ms Lynass who helped run the House. I am sure that the absence of the Shield from Giles' treasure chest will spur the boys on to regain the title of Champion House in 2002.

The year began with great determination running through the boys from Stirling House. By year's end we had achieved our goal of winning the Giles Shield for the best House of 2001. This was Stirling's first win of this prestigious award since 1996.

The first major competition for houses was the Annual House Swimming Carnival which the mighty Stirling House won for the second successive year. Stirling, lead by the great swimming of Michael Ford, Michael Donner, Lachie Wynne and Will Adamson, was too quick, too determined and too talented for the other Houses. The win was the result of ALL boys doing their best and getting many points in most races.

Throughout the year Stirling continually scored big points in the class competitions which formed the base for our Shield win. Stirling also gained valuable points by winning line-up and wearing hats in summer terms - to win these points takes a team effort.

In third term was the Athletics Carnival and once again all boys tried hard. The best performances came from Nick Adamson, Andrew Summerlin and Daniel Lim. Stirling finished third, gaining more valuable overall house points along the way.

It is important to thank our leaders for the year, as they all did a stirring job and provided leadership with hard work for the house. Steven Martin, Nick Adamson, Michael Ford and Tom Fardon all can feel proud of their contributions to Stirling House in 2001, winners of the Giles Shield!

Thank you to the House Teachers, Geoff McPherson, Mary Hookey, Alicia Hill and Jamie Fagan who provided guidance and inspiration.

We look forward to basking in the glory of our success and to making a huge effort to win the Giles Shield again in 2002.

MR G. McPHERSON

Stirling Athletics Leederball Team working hard.

The first project to be tackled in 2001 was the completion of ceramic tiles to create "The Millennium Wall" to be placed outside the staffroom on the main walkway through the Preparatory School campus. All the boys had made a personal tile and were helped to glue it in place by Mr Wallie Sutherland who also grouted and detailed the entire installation. This now constitutes a colourful and much-admired permanent Artwork commemorating the boys who attended the Prep School at the turn of the century.

Christ Church boys are also represented in a large Perspex wall panel in the Post Box precinct of the Claremont Post Office. Boys from Year 5T visited Claremont to sketch local significant buildings which were then combined with figures and details during several weeks of Art lessons. Congratulations to David Wood, John Birmingham, Andrew Sutherland, Lachlan Pugh, Lachie Wynne and Jedd Trevena for having their drawings of buildings included in the panel.

A special After School Art class was formed to create and install a group of 25 Stained Glass windows to reduce the impact of the westerly sun in the Early Learning Centre. This assemblage of repeated motifs on perspex has proved a delight of colour and light patches throughout the afternoons.

Year 1 artists have been showcased in Volume 9 of the "Arts Still Alive" magazine published in November by the Art Education Association of WA. Our young students painted works about sunflowers and enjoyed looking at paintings by Van Gogh and Georgia O'Keefe for inspiration.

The Open Day Exhibition in the Art Room included work by every group of students and focussed upon the use of ceramics in the Art programme. Of particular interest were the Sculptural containers made by Year 7O, the ceramic masks of Year 4, the plates decorated by 6G in a style inspired by Aboriginal dot paintings and the life-like ceramic face moulds made by 7Y. A particularly impressive exhibit was a carpet decorated in motifs derived from Aboriginal-style legends that had been written by the boys of Year 6B.

The Chapel was embellished with a wonderful group of twenty fabric paintings created in mixed media by the Year 4 boys. These showed the traditional scenes associated with the end of year festivals and were on show for the Advent Carol Service and the Preparatory School's Speech morning.

Congratulations to all the boys who have had work included in these exhibits. In addition Andrew Sutherland's print "The Magic", Peter Clarke's painting of the Claremont Yacht Club, Kieran Kusel's stitched "Self Portrait", Oliver Brooke's "Emu" in charcoal, and a group of "Banksia" drawn by Jacob Wallace, Amedeo Asquini, Matthew Mackay and Thomas Abbott have been selected to be retained for the school's collection and these will be framed and hung for all to admire.

Congratulations also go to Kieran Kusel for winning this year's Parents' Association Art Prize for his outstanding body of work made throughout the year and to Peter Clarke who won the Preparatory School Art Prize for his original and accomplished Picture Making.

Music

Music in the Preparatory School has had another busy and creative year. This year has seen the introduction of a second teacher, Ms Sarah Seaman, who has very ably taken some of the classes enabling Ms Wilson to spend part of the week teaching in the senior school. Ms Seaman, apart from taking three classes, has had a small Year 7 group who have produced some interesting percussion compositions.

We have a thriving co-curricular programme which takes place mostly before school in the morning. Over a hundred boys spend time rehearsing at 7:30 am throughout the week.

Choirs

The choir programme begins in Year 3 and this year we had about one hundred boys involved between Year 3 and Year 7. They all rehearse once a week and had three performances throughout the year. They prepared for an assembly in second term, a concert for Open Day at the end of the third term and the annual Carol Service at the end of the fourth term. The Year 6 and 7 boys also led the singing in Chapel each week and their contribution is an important factor in the sound that the Preparatory School produces in their assemblies and Chapel Services. Membership of the choir is voluntary but the boys have to attend a rehearsal each week and the school continues to have a thriving membership of choirs throughout the year groups.

Yahoos

Although the only pre-requisite for choir membership is actually attending rehearsals, the Yahoos are a special auditioned group. They have extra rehearsals each week and also have a big commitment to rehearsals and performances with the Senior as well as the Preparatory School. This year they have performed at a Senior School Concert in Term 1, two services during the year as well as the concerts and assemblies mentioned above. The Yahoos continue to expand their repertoire and work on their singing and sight singing skills. They are the only group in the entire school, both senior and preparatory who are called upon at a moment's notice to perform and the boys do this with great aplomb and cheerfulness. This year they have been able to assist at a funeral and several Old Boys' and Retired Teachers' services. They also sang in Claremont at a Community Festival to celebrate Christmas. A Yahoo has to be energetic and dedicated but the rewards are many.

String Ensemble

The String ensemble has thrived this year under the able baton of Ms Gillian Croston. The boys in the ensemble have concentrated on performances in the school for Music Assembly and Open Day and have worked hard on their skills of ensemble playing and sight reading. Many of them have been in the group for three years now and they are producing a very beautiful sound. The cello section has been expanding so the group now has a good bass sound in all performances. We look forward to another year of improvement as more people join and the group becomes more experienced.

Guitar Ensemble

The Guitar Ensemble has had another busy and successful year with Mr Murray Bishop as their director. The boys have played in assembly early in the year and also have performed in a Guitar Festival in the third term. The fourth term culminated in a performance at The Claremont Festival where they played Christmas Carols and other repertoire. The group is becoming very experienced as performers and they are also very enthusiastic and exuberant which is obvious in all performances.

Band

This year the band's director Ms Genevieve Wilkins left and the band was directed in the second part of the year by Ms Melissa Oram. They performed in both the Open Day Concert and at an assembly in the last term. The inclusion of bass and rhythm guitars and many saxophones has added to the sound of the group. We look forward to continuing success as the group learns to play together with more expertise.

Recorder Ensemble

The recorder ensemble performs in year groups from Year 3 onwards under the expert guidance of Mrs Jackie Ewers. This year our Year 5s were given Treble Recorders and the Year 6s became very experienced with all four recorders. The Year 6 group became the performing group and took part in assemblies and Open Day. We look forward to some fabulous performances next year when these boys are in Year 7.

JSHAA Performing Arts Festival

This year the Preparatory School took part in the JSHAA Festival of Performing Arts at the Concert Hall. We decided to combine with Quintillian School whose interests in dance and music are similar to ours. Ms Mary Walton, the Music teacher there, arranged some music from Carnival of the Animals by Saint-Saens, along with a poem by Leunig called 'The Inner Creature', to give us the accompaniment to a Movement and Music piece. We had Chair and Stick Music ably performed by Quintillian, Dance by our boys and musical accompaniment by both schools. It was an extravaganza using 110 students. Organisation was interesting, especially when couriers seemed very reluctant to pick up instruments from the school at the appointed time. The other challenge was getting several marimbas and other tuned percussion instruments on to the stage without dropping a mallet. We managed (almost) and our performance was vibrant, interesting and innovative. We learned some interesting things from this joint effort and the boys definitely enjoyed the amalgamation with another school. Thanks go to Ms Wilson, Ms Walton and Ms Kerr for all their efforts. The costumes were made very ably and very quickly by several parents and this contributed to the production's success. The future challenge will be to find something as interesting and different. We look forward to that!

Bookweek 2001

This was one of the best Bookweek celebrations ever for the Prep School, with participation by all boys and staff. About thirty boys took part in the book quiz on Tuesday with some tough competition from all teams. The victorious team, "The Pharaohs", won on a tie breaker after three rounds of questions.

"What's the Story?" (drama event), held on Wednesday, was a popular activity with the audience, who helped choose the best performance of a story.

The "Hare and the Tortoise" was very creative, with masks and props. The alternative version of "Cinderella" was selected as second best drama.

The annual book character parade saw characters such as Harry Potter, Billy the Punk, Frankmouse, Hazel Green, Cinderella, Artemis Fowl and Aladdin parading around the stage, with acrobats and rapp dancers to keep the crowd entertained during the breaks.

The theme of the Odyssey, a journey into books, was taken up by the staff, who dressed as characters and read stories to different year levels as they travelled around the classrooms, following footprints. This was an enriching time for all staff and students; including specialist teachers as well as classroom teachers. It is debatable as to who had more fun, the teachers or boys.

Several classes had the opportunity to attend sessions with authors and illustrators at Claremont Public Library, such as Gundi Kuchling (illustrator), Elaine Forestal (author), Glen Swift (storyteller) and Trevor Todd (author). We are fortunate to have such a supportive local council.

The culmination of Bookweek was a book swap, which saw boys being able to swap their old books at no cost, for pre-loved books brought in by other boys. The delight on boy's faces said it all as they walked out the door. As one said, "Cool, I have a new book!"

Although every week should be Bookweek, this is a special week's focus which highlights the fun and enjoyment that we can all gain from books.

The 2001 Interschool Athletics Season was a very successful one for Christ Church with many boys achieving high standards in their respective events. Training sessions were conducted before and after school with a large number of children taking advantage of the opportunity to develop and improve their skills.

The Interschool Carnival was held at Wesley College this year with the jumping events being held in the morning and track events after lunch. As is often the case our students performed to a very high standard in the jumping and hurdling events. Skill development was evident as the boys performed their respective disciplines demonstrating correct procedure and a high level of confidence.

Again, peer support was obvious as the boys advised and assisted their team mates during the training sessions with some taking advantage of the lunch and break times to further enhance their skills.

James Richardson was an outstanding athlete at the Carnival winning five individual events. Daniel Lim demonstrated his excellent jumping technique winning his long jump and triple jump events in the 10 years age group.

Other noteworthy performers at the Carnival were Cedric Kuhl - C Division 10 years long jump and C Division 200 metres, Robert Kwok in the 8 years hurdles, William He in the 9 years long jump with Tom Swift and Nathan Froese winning the B and C divisions of the 10 years hurdle events.

Many boys achieved placings and and in most cases boys performed to the best of their ability.

At the conclusion of the Carnival we returned to school more than satisfied with the performance of our representatives and convinced that the many hours of training had yielded the desired results.

I thank the boys for their involvement and Mrs Robins and Mr Fagan for giving up their time and bringing their expertise to the training group.

Dale boys celebrate a victory.

The 2001 basketball season commenced early in Term 1 with all boys training hard and looking forward to the first inter school matches. We were able to field A, B, C and D teams most weeks which gave all boys the opportunity to play inter-school games.

The A team played an aggressive brand of basketball, defending full court and getting a lot of fast break opportunities. In the first game against Aquinas, the scores were level at half time, but a strong second half saw the As win well. Michael Pracilio was best, ably supported by Sandy Gorham and Simon Barcham.

In our second game we came up against a strong Scotch team who beat us 58 to 32. We played well at times and learnt a lot from the defeat.

Next we played Guildford who were the strongest team in the competition. They were too good for us, although Sandy Gorham tried hard.

By the time our next game against Wesley came around we were ready to win. Our teamwork was excellent and all boys contributed to a great win, 96 to 18. Michael Pracilio had a season high 29 points, ably assisted by Edward Hall (16 points), Sandy Gorham (14 points) and Hamish McCormack (10 points).

The final game in Term 1 was against Hale. It was a close game throughout, but we held on for a fighting win, 41 to 35. A good team effort again.

Special mention must be made of the mighty D team, coached by Mr Williamson, which went through Term 1 undefeated.

During Term 4 we had another four games. The first the A team won easily, 76 to 8. The B, C, and D teams also won easily. That was followed by three cliff-hangers.

Firstly we defeated Guildford 61 to 60, inflicting Guildford's only defeat for the year. Next we beat Hale School 41 to 40, and finally we defeated Scotch. This ended an unbeaten term and a very successful year.

We have some excellent players and I look forward to watching them develop their talents over the next few years.

A big thank you goes to Mr Williamson and Mrs Hookey for their coaching, umpiring and support. Congratulations to Michael Pracilio for winning the Basketball Prize.

Lightning Carnival

This year's Lightning Carnival was held at Perry Lakes Stadium at the end of Term 1. We started well, beating Aquinas easily and then getting revenge on Scotch. We then crushed Wesley and won a tough match against Hale.

This brought us to the game against the top ranked Guildford side. This was a fantastic game and we fought tooth and nail. The scores were close for the whole match and we were unlucky to lose by only 2 points. Our last game was against Trinity and we had a big win.

This meant that we finished second with five wins and only one close loss. A terrific effort by all boys.

The Cricket A side suffered a bit of a slump this year, compared to the excellent season of 2000. It is difficult to pinpoint any one aspect of our play, but a lack of consistency overall made wins few and far between.

Our best performance of the season was in the game against Hale, which we won by one run, in a low scoring match, 21 to 20. There were fine performances with the ball by Tom MacLeod and Nick Blakiston, each with two wickets.

Our inability to score a defendable total cost us dearly on a number of occasions. Against Aquinas we lost by only three runs, 44 to 47, and against Wesley 55 to 34. The spirit was there but often the batting was cavalier, instead of punishing bad deliveries.

The Lightning Carnival was played at Lilac Hill this year and, although we did not make the final, all boys enjoyed the day and gave a good account of themselves. Congratulations to Tom MacLeod, Nick Blakiston and Hugo Green for their excellent contributions, and thank you to Mr Hirsch, Mr Ranger and their helpers for their coaching this year.

WINTER GAMES LIGHTNING CARNIVAL Preparatory School

The Junior School Heads' Association of Australia (JSAA) conducted the annual end of season games carnival for rugby, soccer, hockey and football at McGillivray playing fields, Mount Claremont on 9 August. The participating schools were Wesley, Scotch, Hale, Guildford, Aquinas, Trinity and Christ Church with Bunbury Cathedral Grammar fielding a team in hockey.

Christ Church Prep Sportsmaster, Peter Williamson, organised the carnival and the results were a great credit to him and the school. During the day each team had the opportunity to play all other teams with some close and surprising results. There were no playoffs for positions as that is deemed unnecessary in achieving the principle aims of such an event which are:

- to promote the major game codes of the season;

- to give the students the opportunity to meet and play against all other zoned schools;
- to promote sportsmanship and challenge;
- to enjoy the spirit of competition.

The aims were well served and the event was a grand culmination of a fine season.

WHOLE SCHOOL FITNESS

With recent studies indicating that school age fitness levels are on the decline as well as increasing primary school age obesity, it became apparent that a shift in thinking and Physical Education approach was required and so a whole school fitness programme was developed. All teaching staff and students meet for two weekly 'Fitness Fun' sessions. The focus of these sessions is for students to enjoy using their bodies so as to develop healthy lifestyle habits. The vision of 300 plus students and staff involved in purposeful movement is certainly a healthy sight to behold. Daily fitness activities are also available for those students who arrive early for school.

The 2001 season was an exciting one. It would be best summed up by describing it as the season that "nearly was."

Our opening game was against Aquinas and was a game of lost opportunity. We started slowly but managed to wrestle the initiative back from our opponents to lead comfortably at half time. The team found it difficult to maintain the pressure and lost a close encounter by eight points to the only team to go through the season undefeated.

The following week was another heart breaker losing to Scotch by two points. Week 3 tested the resolve of the team by losing to Wesley College by five points.

At this stage CCGS had played three matches and lost them all by a total of 15 points. We felt confident a win wasn't too far away. The boys were playing a good standard of football demonstrating good foot and hand skills and a greater awareness of the need to get players to contests.

Our next two matches were against Hale and Trinity with a similar result in both contests - losing by small margins.

With continued perseverance we played Guildford Grammar School and were rewarded with a good victory.

The following week the round commenced again. This time confidence levels had slipped and we struggled in our remaining three matches.

The JSHAA Winter Games Lightning Carnival was held at McGillivray. The team trained hard and played their best football of the season having victories over Hale School, Guildford Grammar School and Scotch College.

The boys took risks during the day and focused on what their tasks were, playing some fast free flowing football relying on a high level of skill development. It proved to be a rewarding day for all players with special mention being made of Michael Pracilio and Sandy Gorham who worked hard all day.

Outstanding players throughout the season were Michael Pracilio, Nick Adamson, Sandy Gorham, Harrison Forward, Scott Cook, Tom Elliott and Tom Swift.

The boys are to be commended for the style of play they adapted to this year and the approach they took to training.

The 2001 season proved to be very successful in the Preparatory School. A large number of boys chose hockey as their winter sport, which meant keen competition for places in our teams. We were able to field a number of interschool teams which in turn gave many boys the opportunity to participate and enjoy this competition. We also had a large group of boys who were new to hockey and the coaches were extremely impressed with their development over the hockey season. Starting out as novices, these boys were soon playing a pleasing brand of hockey.

The Prep 1st XI had a mixture of boys ranging from Year 5 to 7. Our Year 7 boys once again led the way providing leadership and guidance for our younger team members. One of the hallmarks of the team was the solid defence we displayed throughout the year. Peter Crocker had a terrific year as goalie and he was extremely well supported by Michael Ford and Tim Brine as full backs and Andrew Tulloch, Ben Jude, Michael Gillon, Matthew Gavshon and Andrew Prior playing as half backs. Grant Shepperd had an outstanding year as centre half and consistently showed terrific leadership and endeavour in all our games. Our forward line which included Andrew Wood, Ashton Moloney, Culum Ormonde, James Harnett, Chris Jamieson was always a threat to opposing defences.

In our weekly fixtures the team played extremely well as indicated by the results below.

2001 once again saw a small number of enthusiastic students undertake the skilful game of rugby. Participating in this football code requires time to learn the basic techniques and unique style, after all it is the only game where you pass the ball backwards while running forward. Many members of the squad were new to this game and had to learn rules and position play during matches.

The squad trained hard to gain ball handling and tackling skills throughout the season and their successful acquisition was reflected in the latter part of the season through the scores of the inter-school matches.

The front line of the scrum, Kailan Durrant, interchange hookers Justin Stephenson and Umar Munshi, and Antony Caporale provided a stable trio, and the second row of Alex Trumble and Eugene Kay gave strength, Tom Bryant provided additional support. Effective ball handling by Sean Wray as scrum half added to the success of the team. The fast moving back line of Sam Oen, Colin Thomson, James Moffat, Matt Nasuti, Addam Crewe and Oliver Brady enabled the ball to be taken to the forward line on many occasions. The interchange players of Michael Kempe and David Gibbs gave their best to the game.

As a coach I am proud to have seen the improved skills development and team spirit during the season. I hope all team members continue this focus and carry it into their future sporting pursuits.

Lightning Carnival

This year saw the JSHAA Lightning Carnival return to McGillivray Oval. Here all the winter sporting codes were played at one venue creating an enthusiastic and true sporting carnival atmosphere. For the rugby team it was a time to prove their potential and put into practice the manoeuvres and tactics the team had worked on for so long.

It was a controversial day for the Christ Church Preparatory Rugby Team as Day 2 sessions were shortened due to the opposing teams failing to abide by the footwear safety rule. At the start of one game the CCGS side walked off the field due to failure by the opposition to abide by the rule even after repeated reminders.

To their credit the team was not phased and produced some of the best rugby of the season with excellent passing and effective driving play. Tackling was strong and the forwards held the opposition from scoring on many occasions.

Sailing as a sport for boys in the Preparatory School is now in its eleventh year and builds in strength and tradition with the passage of time. Whilst some boys choose sailing on a seasonal basis, others select it for the whole year.

The finite nature of all aspects of the sport are challenging for some as they are unaccustomed to the concept of closure or completeness required for sailing. A task partly done is not done, a half hoisted sail or a partly fitted rudder cannot be accepted and all boats are inspected before being launched.

The training that leads to successful sailing is valuable when transferred to other activities and can be a vital life skill. Work, co-operation, focus and commitment are important goals as the boys soon realise that they must forge effective teams to cope with the lifting and carrying of boats.

Competition has been keen among some of the experienced sailors with Jasper Warren and Rick Finch waging keen battles for supremacy each Thursday. Sometimes they are so engaged in a duel that they fail to notice a third party such as Kieran Kusel or occasionally Harry Fisher steadily passing through the fleet.

The level of skill development shown by the boys over the year has been very rewarding. This should give the confidence for continued successful participation in sailing in the future.

The House Cross Country Relays were held on September 26th, a warm spring day. All races were competitive affairs with each boy giving his best. Giles dominated the races, winning all three age groups. The best race was the 10 years event which saw only centimetres separate the first three Houses.

All boys enjoyed the competition.

The 2001 soccer season was one of great development. The interest level of the boys was higher than last year and it was pleasing to see boys out at morning recess and lunchtime practising in small game situations. The extra practice was certainly reflected on the field, as the team began to knit into a tight unit.

Our first game was to be against Aquinas but due to a mix-up in bookings, did not eventuate, giving us one more week of preparation. This proved to be a bonus, as we surprised Scotch the following week, winning 2-0. It was nice to have a win early on to boost the confidence, as the next two games were very tough for us and we lost both, firstly going down to Hale 7-0 and then to Guildford 3-0.

To the boys' credit, we bounced back against Wesley, defeating them 2-1 by exploiting their weakness in dealing with the high ball. However, we were once again brought back to earth, the following week, by Trinity in a game that showed how costly unforced errors can be.

The last three games of the season demonstrated our growing confidence. We went down to Aquinas but didn't really count this game as it was played across half a pitch, which made for congestion and prevented us from playing our fast, open game. The next two games were against Scotch and Wesley again, and we showed that our previous form against them was no fluke, as we defeated them 5-1 and 3-1 respectively.

And so to the Lightning Carnival. We went with high hopes to finish off the season well, and we did. After a morale-boosting win against Scotch, we pulled off a wonderful and unexpected victory against Aquinas. Riding on the high of our two victories, we then scraped in for a draw against Hale, who had beaten us so convincingly in the home and away games. A hard-fought loss against Trinity was avenged by another victory against Wesley. Finally, a tired but satisfied team went down narrowly against Guildford in a game which saw both teams give their all. Our final standing of second overall, was the best that Christ Church has achieved in many years, and the boys are to be congratulated for their fine efforts on the day, and throughout the season.

Although all boys made excellent contributions each week, some boys should be congratulated for their special efforts. Andrew Vear was captain on a number of occasions and led by example on the field, as well as giving good reports of our progress in Chapel. Tristan Gilliland and Will Van Oyen were always reliable avenues forward, and Hugo Green was an elusive striker, scoring many vital goals. In the last line of defence, Tudor Hebenton proved to be a real find as goalkeeper; many games swung our way due to his performance. He was ably assisted by Philip Tai, a very safe and thoughtful defender, and Byron Goh, probably the most improved player in the side this season. Our thanks go to Mr Ranger for his coaching, and we hope that we can build on our success next season.

The annual Preparatory School House Swimming Carnival was held on Tuesday February 20. It was a typical summer evening in Perth; a soft warm breeze and clear skies.

The action in the pool was fantastic right from the very first event. Grant Shepherd of Forrest House won the Open 100 metres in 74.55 to give his House an early lead in the points race.

Honours in the 8 years 50 metre races were evenly spread among the Houses. At this point Forrest had taken an early 4 point lead from Stirling. By the end of the 9 year old events Stirling had established themselves as the House to beat by scoring 64 points to Forrest's 48.

Michael Ford was a surprise winner in the Open 50 metre Butterfly event. His effort really inspired his Stirling teammates to try even harder.

After the seven 10 year old 50 metre Freestyle events, Giles House more than doubled their score to move into second place behind a dominant Stirling.

The 11 year old 50 metre Freestyle events were very exciting. Of the 12 divisional races, Stirling won 4, Giles 3, Forrest 3 and Dale 2. Scoring from this section of the Carnival was also fairly even. Stirling gained a further 89 points, Giles 82, Forest 68 and Dale 37.

Points for the Backstroke and Breaststroke events were evenly spread among all Houses, and it came down to the last three relays to decide the result of the Carnival. Although Stirling held a large lead, it was a possibility that either Forrest or Giles could win!

The 8 years 4 X 50 metre Freestyle relay was won by Stirling House increasing their point tally to 330 putting them out of reach of the other houses. The real interest was which House would come second. Giles held an eight point lead when the 9 years 4 X 50 metre Freestyle relay started. Giles increased their lead by a further 5 points over Forrest by finishing second to Stirling in that event. The real drama occurred in the 10 years 4 X 50 metre Freestyle relay. Giles was disqualified and Forrest won the event. Going into the last relay, Stirling had scored enough to win the Swimming Cup, but the minor placings were yet to be decided.

The 11 years 4 X 50 metre Freestyle relay saw Stirling disqualified, Forrest winning with Giles in second. A very close finish to the Carnival.

Outstanding swimmers on the night were Grant Shepherd (Forrest House) who won four events, Tom Swift, also of Forrest, won three.

Interschool Swimming

Morning training commenced during the second week of first term with a number of boys taking advantage of the opportunity to fine tune their skills and level of fitness. A number of boys trained with the intention of improving their skills rather than the aim of winning at the House Carnival. I consider this aspect of the programme as important as the purpose of training is to succeed.

The 2001 Swimming Season comprised of two Interschool Carnivals; the first being hosted by Wesley College and the second by Scotch College at the Christ Church pool. The weather was ideal for both carnivals and provided the boys with the opportunity to compete against many swimmers from a number of different schools.

Christ Church Grammar School's outstanding swimmer at both carnivals was Lachie Wynne who demonstrated his all-round ability and skill in the 9 years age group. Other swimmers who performed at a high standard were Michael Donner - 9 years age group, Tom Swift - 10 years age group and Grant Shepherd, Scott Cook, Andrew Vear and James Moffat - 11 years age group.

A good deal of team spirit was established with the group needing little encouragement to cheer for their team mates.

Tennis is an extremely popular summer sport at Christ Church and the 2001 sports year proved no different from seasons past. With up to 50 boys vying for places on the bumper board, competition on the court was fierce.

Training afternoons were often hectic, with large numbers of boys practising their skills. Fortunately, we were able to use the MLC courts in addition to our own, allowing for further refinement of tactics and techniques.

Game days saw the Christ Church boys travel to the eight clay and six grass courts at McGillivray sports complex. This gave the boys a chance to play on three different surfaces, which stood them in good stead during the interschool matches.

The Tennis Lightning Carnival was held at South Perth Tennis Club. The team of Andrew Thomas, Tristan Bloor, Angus Russell, Michael Ford, Tom Buss and Chris Jamieson played well and met with much success.

The annual Preparatory Tennis Tournament, held in fourth term, attracted a record number of entrants. 98 boys competed for the singles title, with Andrew Thomas (7Y) defeating Tristan Bloor (5T) 6-1, 6-2 in the final. Sixty doubles teams took part, with Andrew Thomas and Thomas Swift defeating Tristan Bloor and Hugo Green 4-6, 6-4, 6-1 in the final.

My thanks go to Mr Guazzelli and Mrs Brooke for assisting with squad training and coaching. I look forward to next year with high hopes for Tennis at Christ Church.

This year we were fortunate to have a first term and fourth term water polo season. Each season had four inter-school fixtures and a lightning carnival. All the games were held at the Challenge Stadium, a great venue for players and for our parent spectators.

The game of water polo appeared easy enough on the surface, but once in the water the boys found that it required a great effort to control the ball, to pass effectively to team members, to understand the rules and to swim continuously. This task was made more challenging, as there was an opponent trying to prevent this from happening and get the ball for his team. Each game has seven minute quarters, nevertheless this is very taxing and with only a couple of reserves the boys found the experience very tiring. Fitness played a big part in the success of water polo and towards the end of a game the team that had players with good stamina along with continued effective ball handling skills was rewarded.

Congratulations to all the boys who undertook to play this vigorous and demanding game. During the two seasons the boys displayed improved ball handling skills and an increased ability to work as a team to co-ordinate manoeuvres for successful passages of play. Well done!

The Year 4 Sport Programme has been developed to allow the boys the opportunity to experience a variety of sporting codes in order to develop basic skills, knowledge and enjoyment of a range of games. We hope this will assist them in making more informed sport choices in the future. Their schedule has been very busy as we covered eight sports each within a three or four week block. In Terms 1, 2 and 3 the boys enjoyed meeting Year 4 students from other schools to play an inter-school match at the end of each block.

This is the first year that basketball, cricket, tennis and T-ball have been incorporated in the programme. In first term we commenced with basketball and cricket, playing matches against Wesley and then Scotch. We were lucky enough to get some extra assistance from Mr Hirsch, our Director of Cricket at Christ Church, and his team during our cricket sessions. Their knowledge, expertise and encouragement certainly enhanced the programme.

In Term 2 we started with Walla Rugby, a game new to all of the boys. It was wonderful to watch them gain in confidence and learn to play with rules that were initially totally unfamiliar to them. Running forwards but passing backwards, Walla tagging, scrums, line outs and the offside rule were all very challenging aspects of the game. Their pride in developing their skills to play a game successfully was very evident and resulted in several chants of a 'Year 4 Walla Rugby Team' song made up by the boys! The assistance, patience and enthusiasm of Andrew, from the Rugby Association, was very much appreciated during our coaching sessions.

The soccer element of the programme was very popular with the boys and they had the opportunity to play in many different positions. This concluded with a match against Hale School, which was enjoyed by all. We were lucky enough to receive assistance from Mr Allen (George's father) as a coach and referee. We are always grateful for parental help and thank Mr Allen for his time and contribution to the success of the programme.

Minkey was a highlight of the sports, as many of the boys play in Minkey teams outside school. We were very privileged to have Lisen Hockings, James Hockings' sister, assist us with some of our Minkey sessions. Lisen organised a very special Thursday afternoon where ten of her friends came to run the afternoon's Minkey. All ten of the girls are extremely successful and experienced State and National Hockey players. The afternoon was filled with a variety of activities that the boys rotated through, followed by a game. Our special visitors did an outstanding job in building an instant rapport with the boys and in promoting their sport. It was a wonderful afternoon that will be long remembered and we are thankful to the Hockings Family for arranging such a productive and exciting event.

We then moved into football with the help of David, the Development Officer from the Football Association. The enjoyment of kicking goals became a natural major focus for the boys and anyone who took a mark was an instant hero! The boys' improved skill, development and ability to interact as a team was very evident.

During Term 3 the boys joined their House groups for athletics training. Term 4 involved some T-ball and tennis. Our tennis sessions were held at the Peppermint Grove Tennis Club and run under the wonderful guidance and organisation of Jamie Venerys and his team. The programme is sponsored by Sun Smart and the coaching received by the boys was much enjoyed and extremely beneficial.

It was great to see all the parents who were able to come along and support the boys in their inter-school matches. Thank you to Mr Hurst, Mrs Hookey and Miss Duffy who were all involved in various aspects of the programme. Well done to all the Year 4 boys for their efforts, progress and dedicated involvement. It has been a productive and enjoyable year within the Year 4 Sport Programme!

EDUCATION SUPPORT UNIT

REAR (L-R) Mr M. Martin, D.F. Fairthorne, E.I. Kay, B.J. Cox, Miss K. Duffy. FRONT Miss K.A. Duckworth, M.D. Pegus, T.M.P. Stone, B.A. Stransky, J.P. Lekias, Miss A. Baltovich.

The Prep Education Support Unit has had a fantastic year full of learning and laughter. At the beginning of 2001 we welcomed two new Teaching Assistants, Mr Micheal Martin and Miss Annette Baltovich. Along with Miss Kylie Duckworth, they soon became a formidable team to ensure the smooth running of day to day life in the ESU.

We also welcomed Ben Cox into Year 7 as the only new student in 2001. We will miss his smiling face and organisation skills as he moves on to school in Melbourne next year. We also bid farewell to Eugene Kay and David Fairthorne as they move on to senior school in 2002; the ESU won't be the same without them.

The highlight of the year was our ESU camp to Koorringal in third term. It was a fantastic experience for both staff and students. Activities included horse riding, the ropes course and bush walking. For some students it was their first experience of being away from home.

We have enjoyed a variety of other activities over the course of the year:

- cooking up a storm in the kitchen each week;
- shopping and accessing the local community;
- a picnic at Kings Park;
- visiting Arcazaar, the giant inflatable city in Perth for the Awesome Festival;
- water skiing at Deep Water Point;
- music therapy sessions in Terms 1 and 2;

• Eugene and Miss Duffy enjoyed the CCGS Ski Trip to Mt Hotham in July;

- presenting a Chapel Assembly.

We always appreciate volunteers in the ESU and in particular would like to thanks those who have given their time this year – Wendy Cox, Val Pitt and Bethany Pegus.

The boys have thoroughly enjoyed being a part of their buddy classes in 2001 and we would like to thank the Prep teachers for working so hard to make inclusion a reality at CCGS. This was evidenced by Blake Stransky being elected Vice-Captain of his Year 6 class for Term 4. All ESU boys have participated in the multitude of activities offered in the Prep School, including dress-up days, the Scitech Space Dome, Centenary Medal Presentations, Sports Carnivals and many more.

We look forward to an even bigger, brighter, busier 2002.

MS K. DUFFY

Making Pancakes

The boys were required to:

- collect the required ingredients;
- correctly mix the ingredients;
- pour the appropriate amount into the fry pan and not on the desk;
- flip the pancake so it would be cooked on both sides and then remove it from the pan so it did not get burnt;
- top the pancake with sugar and lemon juice.

Mr Guazzelli was given the task of tasting the tempting food, which received his seal of approval.

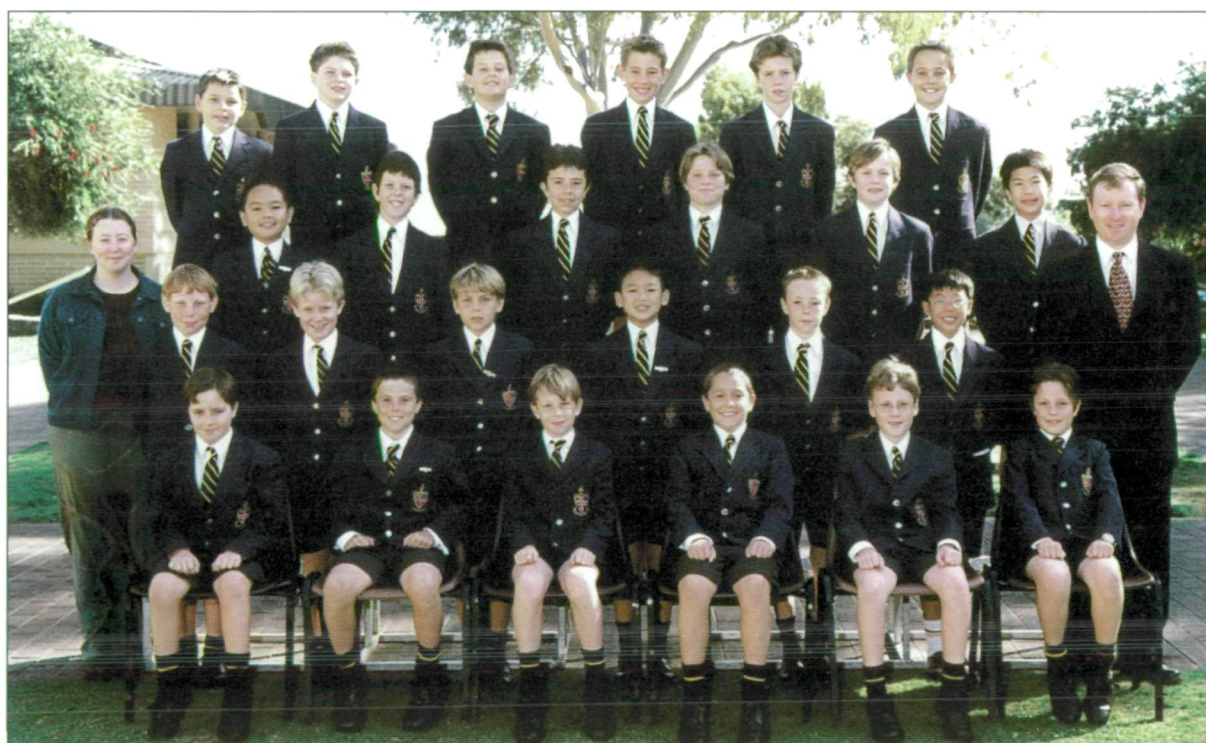

Interesting note - with seven electric frying pans in operation in one room the circuit board could not handle the load, therefore Mr Daddi had leads running from a variety of rooms to the Year 4 room to overcome this minor glitch.

CADETS

CUO COURSE

Year 12 students, Tom Carlton, Keegan Scott, Andreas Sadler, and Callan Bleechmore tested their skills against 23 other cadets at the Cadet Under Officer Course held in January 2001. Tom emerged as Dux, Keegan was third and Andreas and Callan were placed in the top 10. Another highlight for Keegan and Tom came when they were chosen as Platoon Commanders for the Warrant Officer's Parade.

WARRANT OFFICER COURSE

Alex Mossop represented Christ Church at the Warrant Officer Course held in January 2001. Alex performed extremely well and was placed 2nd in the course.

RATS OF TOBRUK 60th ANNIVERSARY MEMORIAL SERVICE

COMPUTER PROGRAMMING

Six Christ Church teams entered a computer programming competition involving about 120 schools throughout Australia. The team comprising Year 12 students William Dowling, Jim Mussared and Gerald Teng was placed fourth in Western Australia and was invited to compete in the Grand Final at the University of New South Wales. The boarders' team of Derek Chong, Gabriel Khaw and Philipp Schartau missed out on a place in the Grand Final by one point. In the Grand Final six teams competed against the clock to write computer programs to solve an array of tasks. Our boys calling themselves "Coders of the lookup table" finished a creditable fourth.

WESTERN AUSTRALIAN DEBATING LEAGUE

SENIOR COMPETITION

Our Year 11 debaters continued what can only be described as the School's winning streak in debating. For the fourth year in a row a team from Christ Church won the Senior Division State Final in the Western Australian Debating League Competition. The topic was That the world should embrace the Kyoto Protocol. John van Bockxmeer, Varun Ghosh and Adrian Tarca argued the affirmative case. Their theme was the Kyoto Protocol is a viable and vital step towards the prevention of global warming. They argued their case from an environmental, economic and social standpoint to defeat their Year 12 opponents from Perth College. Congratulations are also due to the other members of the team, Darryl Chua, Jayant Kumar, Nick Wilson, Chris Karas. State debater, Varun Ghosh, was named speaker of the competition.

STATE DEBATING

DRAMA

Opening on 2 May, Mark Desebrock (Year 10) and Ben Perpignani (Year 12) performed in the eight night season of The Western Australian Youth Theatre Company's production of Bertholt Brecht's Caucasian Chalk Circle.

DUKE OF EDINBURGH AWARDS

ECONOMICS

AUSTRALIAN ECONOMICS COMPETITION

A record number of Year 12 boys entered this demanding competition. Christ Church students emerged with 13 High Distinctions (top 5% of entrants throughout Australia). Special mention should be made of Sek-Loong Tan and Ronald Chan who were State winners, each receiving a prize of $80. In the Year 11 category, Matt Harley and Charles Werren won prizes of $60 and $45 respectively for coming 2nd and 5th in the State.

GEOGRAPHY

AUSTRALIAN GEOGRAPHY COMPETITION

A 100 Year 9 Christ Church students participated in the Australian Geography Quiz. Contestants had to answer questions on places and environments, graphs and map reading. Campbell Mackenzie performed extremely well and came out top in the State.

LANGUAGES

THE AUSTRALIAN LANGUAGE EXAMINATIONS

Christ Church boys performed strongly in the Language Examinations with a number finishing in the top 10% in either one or both of the listening and reading sections. The following Year 9 boys gained Distinctions in both sections for French: Gerard Chin, Jonathan Copp, Yannick Dedigama, Michael Goetze, Tim Greer, Daniel Lotyczuk, Shankar Menon and Saurabh Sharma with Shankar and Sarabh being placed in the top 10% in both sections. In Year 10, students of French, Ben Brooksby, Tom Cordery, Samuel Cribb, Tom Mulrone, Tom Spencer, Jeremy Tannenbaum and Alex Thompson, all received Distinctions in both sections with Tom Cordery, Tom Mulrone, Jeremy and Alex being placed in the top 10%. In the Japanese examinations, Distinctions were awarded in both sections to Year 9 students James Lee, Joseph Luo, Jeremy Ong and Wipop Suppapat with James being placed in the top 10%. Meanwhile Year 10 students of Japanese, Jun Hagiwara, Daniel Stein, Keita Suzuki and Yuga Suzuki were all awarded Distinctions in both sections with Keita being placed in the top 10%.

MATHEMATICS

AUSTRALIAN MATHEMATICS CHALLENGE

Christ Church entered 28 boys from Years 8 to 10 in the Australian Mathematics Challenge. High Distinctions (2 of 44) were awarded to Gregory Yap and Ken Low in Year 8 and to Daniel Kim (1 of 45) in Year 9. Distinctions were awarded to Shaun Lee in Year 10, Farhang Nikakhtar, Saurabh Sharma, Jeremy Ong and Joseph Luo in Year 9 and to Michael Thomas, Simon Tee, Ernest Tan, Eu-Kim Chan and Andrew Gannon in Year 8. Credits were awarded to Thomas Lawrence and Alexander Thompson in Year 10, Benson Chin, Darren Wong, Adon Metcalfe and Nick Tay in Year 9 and to Kevin Kalani, Karthik Srigandan, Shamil Abzalov and Ned Brophy-Williams in Year 8.

AUSTRALIAN MATHEMATICS COMPETITION

This year 537 Christ Church boys entered the Australian Mathematics Competition for the Westpac Awards. The School was delighted with this year's results. Nine boys were awarded Prizes (top .03%), 30 High Distinctions (top 2%), 121 Distinctions (in top 15%) and 198 Credits in top 50%). Those awarded Prizes were as follows:

Year 8
Year 9

Campbell Mackenzie
Joseph Luo
Timothy Greer

Year 10

Shaun Lee
Zhi Wei Kng
Thomas Lawrence
Varun Ghosh
Vincent Wong

Year 11

Year 12

Shaun Lee was presented with a Special Achievement Award for achieving the best standardised score of a student at Christ Church. He was also the best Year 10 student in the state.

AUSTRALIAN MATHEMATICAL OLYMPIAD CONTESTS

Each year the Australian Mathematical Olympiad Committee invites talented mathematics students from across Australia to enter the Senior or Intermediate Mathematics Olympiad Contests. Christ Church had five of the 75 students invited to compete in the Senior (Year 11) Contest and six boys out of 751 competing in the Intermediate Contest. Certificates of Participation were awarded to Year 11 students Sam Salman, Charles Werren, Yi-Zhan Wey, James Beresford and Rowan McAllister. In the Intermediate Contest, Shaun Lee (Year 10) and Campbell Mackenzie (Year 9) were both awarded High Distinctions. Shaun was placed in the top 55 and Campbell was placed in the top 16 for their respective age groups. Other boys to do well were Adon Metcalfe and Joseph Luo in Year 9 who were awarded Credits and Michael Thomas and Kevin Kalani in Year 8 who were awarded Certificates of Participation.

IBM SUM FUN COMPETITION

Christ Church entered two teams in both the Senior and Junior divisions of the Have-Sum Mathematics competition. Our Senior A Team consisting of Year 12 boys, Sek-Loong Tan (Captain), Gerald Teng, Jim Mussared and Year 11 students, Sam Salman, Yi-Zhan Wey and Rowan McAllister came second. The Senior B Team consisting of Year 12 boys, David English (Captain), Gabriel Khaw and Ronald Ng and Year 11 students, Hugh McCann, Darryl Chua and James Beresford were placed fourth. Meanwhile, the Junior A Team consisting of Year 10 students Shaun Lee (Captain) and Kit Buckley; Year 9 students Campbell Mackenzie and Tom Lofthouse and Year 8 students Michael Thomas and Kevin Kalani, came in second. Our Junior B Team made up of Year 10 students Brendan Mackay (Captain) and Tom Lawrence; Year 9 students Adon Metcalfe and Daniel Kim and Year 8 students Ken Low and Shamil Abzalov also performed extremely well to come in third.

TOURNAMENT OF THE TOWNS

Curtin University, in conjunction with the Russian Academy of Science, runs the Western Australia section of the annual mathematics competition titled, Tournament of the Towns. In 2000 27 students from Perth were invited to sit the test. Those from Christ Church were Sam Salman, Gerald Teng and Yi-Zhan Wey. The results from last year's test have recently come to hand. Sam was awarded a Credit and Gerald and Yi-Zhan a Certificate of Participation.

BATTLE OF THE BANDS

RamJET, a band made up of talented Christ Church rock musicians, was chosen as the joint winner of the 2001 Commonwealth Youth Affairs National Battle of the Bands Competition. Members of the band, Year 11 students, Matthew Harley, Scott Kay, Stuart McLintock and William Udall performed at the 2001 Rock Eisteddfod Challenge Perth Grand Final at the Perth Entertainment Centre on Friday 14 September. A video of their performance was then judged in the Eastern States and they were declared co-winners. The band's prizes included a gold CD recognising RamJET as the national winner, $1,000 in cash, one day in a leading recording studio in Perth and media coverage on a national television special.

AUSTRALIAN PHYSICS OLYMPIAD

Gerald Teng, Year 12, was selected to be one of the 25 Rio Tinto Australian Science Olympiads Physics Scholars for 2001. Gerald was selected on the basis of his outstanding performance in the Rio Tinto Physics National Qualifying Examination.

AUSTRALIAN SCHOOLS' SCIENCE COMPETITION

This year's Australian Science Competition attracted more than 450,000 entrants from Australia and New Zealand. 149 of our students attempted the papers at the various Year levels. Twelve were awarded Certificates of High Distinction, 60 Certificates of Distinction, 38 Certificates of Credit and 39 Certificates of Participation. Certificates of High Distinction are awarded to the top 1% of students in the competition in their respective age groups. Congratulations to the following boys on their outstanding achievement.

Year 8	Kevin Kalani, Andrew Swarbrick
Year 9	Patrick Coleman, Daniel Kim, Campbell Mackenzie
Year 10	David Adam, Simon Cheah
Year 11	Sam Salman
Year 12	Richard Edwards, Alex Mossop, Ronald Ng, Sek-Loong Tan

Ronald Ng deserves special commendation. He was the top Year 12 student in Western Australia and was presented with a medal in recognition of this achievement.

SIR CHARLES COURT YOUNG LEADERS PROGRAMME

Year 10 student, Adam Laitt, faced a tough selection process on 18 April for the honour of being selected into the Sir Charles Court Young Leaders Programme. Adam was one of only 30 students who made the final selection.

SOLAR CAR CHALLENGE

The annual rivalry between Christ Church and Hampton Senior High School reached fever pitch at the State Finals of the Western Power Solar Car Challenge in October. On this occasion Hampton High was victorious with Christ Church coming second out of the 32 teams. However, in the Australian International Finals held in November in Adelaide, the Christ Church team of Phineas Glover, Hugh McCann, Rowan McAllister, Arno Rohwedder and Charles Werren eclipsed all competition coming first against teams from Australia, Canada, Vietnam and Argentina, breaking the record by two seconds in the process.

STARLIGHT CHILDREN'S FOUNDATION

The School participated in the annual Star Day campaign on 11 May 2001 aimed at raising funds for the Starlight Children's Foundation. Two of our Year 11 students gained a special mention. Adrian Tarca dressed up as celebrity patron 'Austin Powers' and James Marangou masquerading as 'Star Man' earned huge praise for their 'Professionalism, maturity and enthusiasm which they displayed throughout the day and were an absolute pleasure to work with.'

THE BARON PIERRE DE COUBERTIN AWARD

The Baron Pierre de Coubertin Award is awarded to any boy in Year 10, 11 or 12 who has represented the School with outstanding commitment to training, games and his team mates in at least four different sports. He must also have shown an exemplary attitude in Physical Education classes as well as giving clear examples of leadership throughout the School. In addition, the recipient must at all times have shown the ideals of the Olympic spirit, "to take pride in the struggle as well as the triumph". This year the award was presented to David Baker in Year 11.

UNITED NATIONS YOUTH ASSOCIATION OF AUSTRALIA

Varun Ghosh (Year 11) was selected as part of the 10 member WA delegation to the 40th United Nations National Conference held in Sydney over the July holidays. As a result of his participation, Varun was selected to represent Australia at The Hague International Model United Nations in January 2002 and also won the J E Barr Trophy for Best Speaker.

SPORTING ACHIEVEMENTS

ATHLETICS

Andrew Storer (Year 10) was selected to represent Western Australia in the 2001 National Athletics Championships held in Perth. Andrew is the U/16 State Champion for the 100 metres and Long Jump and also represented the State in the 200 metres.

FOOTBALL

Andrew Clarke from Year 10 was selected in the State Schoolboys Football Team to play at Albury/Wodonga from 27 July to 5 August. Meanwhile, Andrew Browne (Year 12) represented Western Australia in the U/18 National Football Competition held in Melbourne in July.

GOLF

On Monday 5 November, Year 11 students played the staff. This was a fun evening where the students competed for the honour of winning the Headmaster's Trophy. The competition was played under lights at the Lake Claremont three-par course. This year the event, in which the Headmaster also competed, was won by David Baker from Year 11.

HOCKEY

Mark Boyne and Duncan Chellew, both in Year 11, were selected to represent Western Australia in the State Schoolboys Hockey Team that competed at the National Schools Championships held in Perth during the week of 11 to 18 August.

Two Christ Church boys, Jarrod Cranston (Year 11) and George Wong (Year 12), were selected for the Combined PSA Team to play against Hotspurs on 9 August, immediately after the Test match between Australia and Pakistan. The boys acquitted themselves well against a very strong combination, losing 6-1.

ICE HOCKEY

In July, Eric Vita (Year 10), was selected to represent Western Australia in the U/17 Ice Hockey Team.

BADMINTON 1st VI

1st VI Coached by Mrs Sandy Ruthven

Equal 1st with Wesley on 16 points

Hale 5 May 2001 Won 9-0

A strong start to the season. All performed well.

Aquinas 12 May 2001 Won 6-3

A strong team performance against a skilled opposition.

Best: Andrew Mawikere, Terence Sitiabudi

Guildford 19 May 2001 Won 9-0

A strong result for the whole team.

Best: Terence Sitiabudi

Scotch 16 June 2001 Won 8-1

A strong performance against a much improved Scotch team.

Best: Andrew Mawikere, K L Ronald Chan

Wesley 23 June 2001 Lost 1-8

A real challenge ahead when we meet Wesley in the last game of the season.

Best: Andrew Mawikere

Hale 30 June 2001 Won 7-2

Sound win.

Best: Kim Ng, David Chai

Aquinas 28 July 2001 Won 8-1

A stronger result against Aquinas than last time - shows great improvement in skills.

Best: Z-R Johann Teh, Terence Sitiabudi

Guildford 4 August 2001 Won 8-1

A strong team effort - results don't reflect the closeness of many of the matches which went to three sets.

Best: S J Ronald Ng, Terence Sitiabudi

Wesley 18 August 2001 Won 6-3

A superb effort and result against a very strong team. All players showed great improvement.

Best Terence Sitiabudi and great team effort!

BASKETBALL

1st V Coached by Michael Ristovski

Blackwood Trophy 3rd

Wesley 10 February 2001 Won 83-40

An excellent second half. Boys dominated in all areas of play.

Best: David Graieg, Paul Coni, James Hunt, Max Ward, Mark Ong

Hale 24 February 2001 Won 51-50 in overtime

An intense game where D-Fence won it for us. Great team effort.

Best: James Hunt, Ben Kahan, David Graieg

Trinity 10 March 2001 Won 48-43

A hard fought win. Hunt too big! D-Fence the telling factor.

Best: James Hunt, Mark Ong, Paul Coni

Aquinas 17 March 2001 Lost 63-85

Guildford 4 March 2001 Won 63-54

A great win to set up a Grand Final on Friday night.

Best: Paul Coni, Edward Pickering, Max Ward

Scotch 31 March 2001 Lost 28-55

Best: Paul Coni, James Hunt, David Graieg

FOURTH TERM COMPETITION

Scotch 27 October 2001 Won 65-48

Great start to the season. At one point Scotch were leading 17-10.

Best: Mark Ong, Adam Lait, Kiel Ryan

Wesley 3 November 2001 Lost 63-48

A poor first half of 13 points lost us the game.

Best: Mark Ong, Kiel Ryan, James Balfour

Aquinas 10 November 2001 Lost 48-70

Outplayed by a better team. Played good defence though!

Best: Mark Ong, David McMorro, Bradley Wynne

Guildford 17 November 2001 Lost 53-60

A disappointing loss. Boys trailed all day - must improve defence.

CRICKET

1st XI Coached by Mike Hirsch Darlot Cup

Darlot Cup Competition 6th

Wesley 9 & 10 February 2001 Lost 221 & 3/90 to Wesley 4/297

Too few runs on a good track and too few wickets (4) to even get close. Discipline in batting needed; more work needed.

Best: Andrew Browne (74), Stuart Copeland (25 & 34 not out)

Hale 23 & 24 February 2001 Lost 51-50 83 & 8/119 to Hale 301/3

Another indifferent performance in all areas - batting, fielding bowling.

Best: Stuart Copeland (32), Matthew Hudson (2/62)

Trinity 9 & 10 March 2001 Lost 197 & 3/101 to Trinity 4/200

The usual - not making enough runs and taking too few wickets - this game was winnable but the desire to win appears to be absent.

Best: Daniel Burt (40), Andrew Browne (33), Tom Rohr (33 & 34 not out)

Aquinas 16 & 17 March 2001 Lost 105 & 5/141 to Aquinas 228

Poor first innings on a dicey wicket - finally got a team. Not looking too good thus far.

Best: Stuart Copeland, Peter Dunn, Andrew Browne

Guildford 23 & 24 March 2001 Lost 127 and 0/67

Can't win with 127 and we did not.

Best: Andrew Browne

Scotch 30 & 31 March 2001 Won 8/267 to Scotch 249

Pulsating and exciting end to the season.

Best: Andrew Browne, Dylan Foley, Peter Dunn

FOURTH TERM COMPETITION

Scotch 26 & 27 October 2001 Lost 9/179 to Scotch 24/19

Getting wickets could be a problem and batsmen "digging deep"! Positive signs noticed.

Best: Nicholas Sinclair, Oliver Hanson, Matthew Hudson

Wesley 2 & 3 November 2001 Lost 4/169 to Wesley 6/170

Lost on last ball of match - a thriller all day due to low score and inclement weather.

Best: Dylan Foley

Aquinas 9 & 10 November 2001 Lost 129 to Aquinas 4/220

Can't get wickets, can't get runs and can't win matches.

Best: Matthew Caddy (30)

Guildford 16 & 17 November 2001 Draw 8/124 to

Guildford 7/194

About 2 good sessions out of 5; concentration needs attention

Best: Jarrad Cranston (3/12), Dylan Foley (42)

CROSS-COUNTRY

1st XV

Coached by Ben Hodsdon Moyes Trophy 4th with 60 points

Hale 5 May 2001 Won 289-180

Great team effort against a strong team. Well done!

Best: Jack Leeder, David Graieg, Timothy Cribb, Todd Skipworth,

Ben O'Driscoll, Andrew Cameron

Aquinas 12 May 2001 Lost 306-168

Great effort by all.

Best: Jack Leeder, Timothy Cribb, Todd Skipworth, Ben

O'Driscoll

Guildford 19 May 2001 Won 174-308

Good run by all.

Best: Timothy Cribb, Jack Leeder, Ben O'Driscoll

Trinity 9 June 2001 Lost

Good effort. Year 10 went very well and showed the results of their training.

Best: Jack Leeder, Andrew Cameron

Scotch 16 June 2001 Lost 289-180

Good run undermanned.

Best: Timothy Cribb, Alexander Drew, Jack Leeder, Steel Scott

Wesley 23 June 2001 Won

Great focused run by all the boys, well done!

Best: Timothy Cribb, Jack Leeder, Ben O'Driscoll

Hale 30 June 2001

3rd in the ALL SCHOOLS RELAY

Great result. All the boys ran well Year 10s 1st, Year 12s 2nd, Year 11s 3rd

Best: Timothy Cribb, David Graieg

Aquinas 28 July 2001

5th in the ALL SCHOOLS RELAY

Well ran race. Good effort by all runners.

Best: Timothy Cribb, Jack Leeder

Guildford 4 August 2001

3rd in the ALL SCHOOLS RELAY

Boys ran well in a very close competition.

FOOTBALL

1st XVIII Coached by Paul Jepson

Alcock Cup Competition 2nd with 30 points

Hale 5 May 2001 Won 15.13 to 8.14

A sensational four quarter effort. Aggressive and skilful – teamwork was a feature. Big test this week against Aquinas.

Best: Jack Reagan, Andrew Browne, Robert Olivier, Stuart Copeland, Robert Clarke

Aquinas 12 May 2001 Won 6.6 to 3.7

A sensational effort from all players. A true team performance.

Best: Robert Olivier, Stuart Copeland, Daniel Hunt, James Hunt, Joel Werner, Keegan Scott

Guildford 19 May 2001 Won 15.17 to 7.8

A great four quarter effort and great to see everyone contributing.

Best: Robert Olivier, Andrew Browne, Jack Lee-Steere, Keegan Scott

Trinity 9 June 2001 Won 11.7 to 9.7

A terrific team win. Great character in a tight, exciting game.

Best: Robert Olivier, Andrew Browne, Lucas Lewis, Jack Allen

Scotch 16 June 2001 Won 17.9 to 5.5

Best: Andrew Browne, Jack Lee-Steere, Robert Clarke, James Hunt, Adam Hollings

Wesley 23 June 2001 Won 13.10 to 5.4

Clearly the best side all day.

Best: Keegan Scott, Stuart Copeland, Jack Reagan, Charles Dawson

Hale 30 June 2001 Lost 6.4 to 14.10

Players were totally committed and matched Hale in intensity. We were simply outplayed by a more skilful team on the day.

Best: Adam Hollings, William Sandover, Jack Reagan, Matt Milner, James Balfour

Aquinas 28 July 2001 Draw 13.9 to 12.15

A heartbreaking result considering how hard the boys worked to get in front! Well done to all.

Best: Adam Hollings, Andrew Browne, Jack Reagan, Stuart Copeland

Guildford 4 August 2001 Won 7.7 to 5.4

A hard fought win in terrible conditions. Disciplined play and a well deserved win.

Best: Adam Hollings, Tom Baker, Keegan Scott, Stuart Copeland

Trinity 18 August 2001 Lost 14.7 to 17.7

A very high standard of game, where CCGS fought back after trailing by 5 goals at three quarter time. James Hunt's 7 goals were terrific.

GOLF

On 9 April 2001, Christ Church competed in the one day

PSA competition against Aquinas, Guildford, Hale, Scotch, Trinity and Wesley. Christ Church came 3rd overall.

HOCKEY

1st XI Coached by Murray Robertson

Hockey Cup 2nd with 16 points

Hale 5 May 2001 Won 4-1

The best overall 1st XI performance for a long time – a terrific effort.

Best: Tim Cottee, George Wong, Duncan Chellew

Aquinas 12 May 2001 Won 3-1

The quick goals set the pattern for the whole game – pressure throughout.

Best: Mark Boyne, Andrew Glasson, Tim Cottee

Guildford 19 May 2001 Won 3-0

Excellent skills shown throughout the game. Another pleasing win.

Best: Duncan Chellew, Mark Boyne, Dylan Foley

Trinity 9 June 2001 Won 3-0

Scotch 16 June 2001 Lost 0-2

Under tremendous pressure throughout by a strong determined opposition.

Best: Jarrad Cranston, Andrew Glasson, Duncan Chellew

Wesley 23 June 2001 Won 2-0

A fast game on a hard surface. Excellent goal by Chellew to boost confidence.

Best: Dylan Foley, Daniel Gammell, George Wong

Hale 30 June 2001 Won 2-1

Goal keeping of exceptionally high standard – a nail biter to the end of the game.

Best: Jarrad Cranston, Sam Basile, George Wong

Aquinas 28 July 2001 Won 1-0

Not the prettiest game to watch. Never showed any real control of the game until the last 10 minutes.

Best: Mark Boyne, George Wong, Daniel Gammell

Guildford 3 & 4 August 2001 Won 5-1

Adrian Tarca scoring four goals will not be eclipsed for many years. Great effort.

Best: Mark Boyne, Duncan Chellew, Adrian Tarca

Trinity 17 & 18 August 2001 Lost 3-4

Best: James Adams, Dylan Foley, Adrian Tarca

RUGBY

1st XV Coached by Peter Wray

Hale 5 May 2001 Lost 13-19

Disappointing defeat. Far too many critical errors left us with too much to do. We will be back.

Best: Rakanui Van Kampen, David McMorrow, Tom Cassidy

Aquinas 12 May 2001 Won 15-0

Very trying conditions but dominated in the forwards and won comfortably.

Best: Cameron Boys, Ben Saunders, Julius Jeppe, Alex Mossop, Tom Cassidy, Tom Carlton

Guildford 19 May 2001 Lost 0-12

We were never able to exert any pressure in a very punctuated game.

Best: Tom Carlton, Sean Geelhoed, Ben Saunders

Trinity 9 June 2001 Won 2-0

Despite the close scoreline it was a dominant performance in very trying conditions. We need to score more points to make the game more convincing.

Best: Matteo Bellingeri, Alex Mossop, Rakanui Van Kampen, Peter Ruse, Cameron Boys

Scotch 16 June 2001 Won 25-15

Best: Tom Carlton, Peter Ruse, David McMorrow, Casey O'Connor, Paul Coni

Wesley 23 June 2001 Won 53-12

Nine try performance. Worked hard and gained the reward.

Best: Rakanui Van Kampen, Ian Cameron, Tom Cassidy, Paul Coni, Cameron Boys, Andrew Hurler

Hale 30 June 2001 Won 25-0

The boys were brilliant. Congratulations!

Best: Team effort!

Aquinas 28 July 2001 Won 30-8

Pressure game but our composure showed through. Good discipline and intensity.

Best: Tom Cassidy, David McMorrow, Cameron Boys, Tom Carlton, Alex Mossop

Guildford 4 August 2001 Won 32-0

We were too strong without really hitting top form. Two weeks of focused preparation ahead.

Best: Tom Carlton, Rakanui Van Kampen, Sean Geelhoed, Alex Mossop, David McMorrow, Callan Bleachmore

Trinity 18 August 2001 Won 35-10

We withstood the pressure and won very well. Seven wins in a row. A great achievement by a very good team.

Congratulations boys!

Best: Superb team effort!

SOCCER

1st XI Coached by Denis Barstow Lawe Davies Cup 7th

Hale 5 May 2001 Draw 0-0

Best team performance for a number of seasons. Well played by all players.

Best: John Broertjes, Joshua Nairn, Oliver Hanson

Aquinas 12 May 2001 Won 3-0

Best: Mohamad Bustari, Ben Ward, James Zorzi

Guildford 19 May 2001 Lost 0-2

Very tough game. Guildford were stronger team in second half.

Best: George Grover, Chris Heyes

Trinity 9 June 2001 Lost 0-5

Beaten by an outstanding team but never gave up. Praised by referee for their determination

Scotch 16 June 2001 Draw 1-1

Good close game. Unfortunate not to win when decisions went against them in the last 10 minutes.

Best: Chris Heyes, Mohamad Bustari

Wesley 23 June 2001 Won 1-1

Close, even game. Came home very strongly and scored a late equaliser to cancel out the setback of a first half penalty.

Best: Chris Heyes, Mohamad Bustari, James Zorzi

Hale 30 June 2001 Won 1-1

Another close, even game. Hale scored early in the first half but we played more strongly in the second half and equalised in the last 5 minutes.

Best: Oliver Hanson, Joshua Nairn

Aquinas 28 July 2001 Lost 0-3

Very competitive for three quarters of the game. Aquinas scored three goals in the last fifteen minutes of the game and deserved to win.

Best: Joshua Nairn, Mohamad Bustari, Brett Howes

Guildford 4 August 2001 Lost 1-2

Played a great game, unlucky not to draw. Guildford scored in the last minutes when we had 10 men.

Best: Oliver Hanson, Ryan Smith

Trinity 18 August 2001 Lost 0-7

Well and truly beaten by an outstanding team but kept trying right to the end.

SURFING

TENNIS

1st VIII Coached by Paul Draper and Darren Patten
W R Corr Cup 1st

Wesley 10 February 2001 Won 21-3

Strong win with our renowned depth most impressive.

Best: Rob Olivier, Aidan Cooper, Matthew Milner

Hale 24 February 2001 Won 16-8

A comfortable win in the end but we very nearly underestimated them!

Best: Brenton Bacon, Aidan Cooper, Ashley Lau, Ben O'Driscoll

Trinity 9 March 2001 Won 20-4

An emphatic win which, hopefully, tops us off for the big day v Aquinas.

Best: Brenton Bacon, Aidan Cooper, Ben O'Driscoll

Aquinas 17 March 2001 Won 14-10

What an awesome win. It was neck to neck all the way. We outplayed and outfought them.

Best: Team effort

Guildford 24 March 2001 Won 24-0

A supreme team effort and a brilliant display of tennis.

Best: Team effort

Scotch 31 March 2001 Won 23-1

Total annihilation of the outgoing champions.

FOURTH TERM COMPETITION RAY GAMBLE TROPHY

Scotch 27 October 2001 Won 20-4

The 1st VIII boys maintained their fine Term 1 average winning score of 20-4 in defeating Scotch and extending their winning sequence to 15.

Best: Ben O'Driscoll, Brenton Bacon, Ashley Lau, Leigh Travers

Wesley 3 November 2001 Won 23-1

Best: Great team performance

Aquinas 10 November 2001 Lost 1-23

Despite the terrible looking scoreline all sets were most competitive, but man for man they were too strong.

Best: Leigh Travers, Brenton Bacon

Guildford 17 November 2001 Won 21-3

A formidable display on a terrible surface

VOLLEYBALL

1st VI Coached by Peter Thorne

FOURTH TERM COMPETITION

Scotch 27 October 2001 Won 2-1

Good win!

Wesley 3 November 2001 Lost 1-2

Started slowly but improved as game progressed.

Best: Daniel Gammell, Duncan Chellew, Owen Milne

Scotch 10 November 2001 Won 2-1

Aquinas 17 November 2001 Lost 2-1

A very competitive effort against a top team

WATER POLO

1st VIII

Managed by Ms Jennifer Gates

FOURTH TERM COMPETITION

Scotch 27 October 2001 Lost 5-7

A tentative first half where we lacked confidence. However, quality water polo in last quarter with a great set play.

Best: Jock Craig, Theodore Bennett

Wesley 3 November 2001 Lost 2-6

We were much more intense in the final quarter - need to do this in all quarters.

Best: Jock Craig, Mark Boyne

Aquinas 10 November 2001 Lost 6-9

A psychological boost as we were even at half time against a strong team. All players lifted a note.

Best: Michael Cottee, Rhy Pozzi, Alister Price

Guildford 17 November 2001 Draw 7-7

Excellent game. Cool heads under pressure. Great foundations for next year
