The cover photograph was taken by Shane McGurk, who stepped down from the position of Director of the CCGS Residential Community at the end of 2010. He explains how the photo came about:

The Knutsford boarders had returned from an outing to Cottesloe Beach to view Sculptures by the Sea on 12 March 2010, and were camping out in tents on the Walters lawn that warm Friday night. All of the boys had fluorescent glow sticks from a treasure hunt that had taken place earlier along the riverbanks.

I started experimenting with one of the School’s cameras, a Nikon D40X DSLR, taking long exposures with time lapse whilst the boys drew patterns with their glow sticks. For this one Michael McKenzie ‘drew’ the letter C three times in the air with his glow stick, trying each time to trace over his original path. He then took one sideways step, and repeated it with the other three letters, C G S. It was lots of fun; needless to say the boys did not get much sleep that night.

SECTION ONE
THE YEAR IN REVIEW
Members of The Mitre Committee of 2010 worked hard throughout the year to assist me with the compilation of this memento of the Centenary Year. They showed remarkable perseverance with many exacting tasks and were also good- natured and positive in their approach. I thank them all very much. Pleasingly, some continue to volunteer their time in 2011 and their assistance and expertise are welcome.

Thank you also to all of the many members of staff and students who have contributed to this publication. As the School grows, so does the number of reports and photographs to be included. We all owe Edward Pietrucha a vote of thanks for his management of the photography process. Mark Morissy and Garth Wynne have been unstinting in their support and understanding of various Mitre-related issues throughout the year. The contributions of the Community Relations team, led by Jo Mulligan and then Karina O'Meara, have been invaluable. I am also grateful for the ongoing assistance of Kate Chesson and Ben Davies.

In regard to the Preparatory School section, I would like to say many thanks to Jamie Fagan for his efficient and helpful organisation of its burgeoning content and to Brad Hilliard and Richard Wright for their support.

The Mitre of 2010 is the fifth and final edition for which I have been responsible. It is with a mixture of regret and relief that I hand over to my successor, fellow English teacher Gemma Slater. I am confident that she will be ably supported by the outstanding 2011 committee and wish her well as Editor.

The Mitre Committee and I hope you will enjoy reading this year’s edition and that it will be valued in future years as a memento of what was, in every respect, a remarkable year for Christ Church Grammar School.

FROM THE HEADMASTER

In planning for the School's Centenary year, one of the most important tenants that all within the administration had in the forefronts of their minds was that for the graduating class OC 2010 it was their year, as well as the School's year. Cutting the balance between celebrating 100 years, while enabling boys this time to succeed, was a special challenge. The pages of this Centenary Mitre will, I believe, reflect well on:

- Mrs Jo Mulligan and her Community Relations team that so effectively managed our Centenary celebrations, along with the normal events of a school year;
- Our remarkable teachers and support staff, who were fortunate enough to be a part of a School celebrating such a significant milestone and who (despite the distraction) were able to continue to focus on our core business of educating our boys to know, to do, to live with others and to be; and
- Finally, the boys themselves who in inimitable fashion, led brilliantly by Denver Stove, our Captain of School, navigated all that was asked of them with the ease that one has come to expect of their gender.

The year was a success in a huge variety of ways, be that in the academic, pastoral or co-curricular domains. I am incredibly proud of what we have achieved individually and collectively as a Christ Church community. This success is celebrated within these pages, as is the essence of who we are, i.e. the quality of the relationships that exist within members of this community and our shared Principles and Purpose. It seems appropriate that at the beginning of a new era, I take the opportunity to rearticulate what makes Christ Church Grammar School the unique place that it is and in so doing, establish our aspirational intent for the future, based on one hundred years of foundation.

MOTTO
Deus Dux Doctrina Lux.
God is our leader, learning is our light.

MISSION
Boys educated to know, to do, to live with others and to be. (UNESCO, 1996)

VALUES
The School's core values are underpinned by the teachings of the Anglican Church and support and reflect the Australian Government's National Framework for Values Education in Australian Schools (2005) and the shared values of the Western Australian Curriculum Framework (1998). Our values give meaning and purpose to our lives. They guide us as we strive to achieve our Mission.

Care and Compassion
Care for self and others.

Environmental Responsibility
Respect and concern for the natural and cultural environment.

Excellence
Seek to accomplish something noteworthy and admirable individually and collectively, and perform at one's best.

Freedom
Enjoy all the rights and privileges of citizenship free from unnecessary interference or control and stand up for the rights of others.

Honesty and Trustworthiness
Be honest, sincere and seek the truth.

Integrity
Act in accordance with principles of moral and ethical conduct and ensure consistency between words and deeds.

Respect
Treat others with consideration and regard.

Responsibility
Be accountable for, and in charge of, one's own actions - personal, social and civic.

Social Justice
Be committed to the pursuit and protection of the common good where all persons are entitled to legal, social and economic fair treatment.

Understanding and Inclusion
Be aware of others and their cultures, accept diversity and include others.

I have absolute confidence that Canon W J McClemans would be proud of his School - 100 years on. He would be so because at its core is the boy and all that he can become as a man of competence and character.

GE Wynne
Headmaster
Christ Church Grammar School celebrated its Centenary in style. This section of The Mitre 2010 provides a brief summary of the many events and the multitude of people, under the leadership of Headmaster, Garth Wynne, and the direction of the Director of Community Relations, Jo Mulligan, who worked hard to provide all sections of the School’s community with a lasting memento of its one-hundred year ‘birthday’ party.

The celebrations began in early February with a Centenary Carnivale, hosted by the Parents’ Association. The Carnivale opened with a spectacular procession of boys from the Preparatory School, wearing colourful masks that they had made themselves, accompanied by stilt walkers and street performers. The School’s oldest and youngest students (Lukas Kuster, Year 12 and Ted Woo, Kindergarten) released 100 blue and yellow balloons from an enormous birthday cake to unleash an evening of mingling, eating, dancing and reminiscing that was greatly enjoyed by thousands of current and past students, staff members, parents and members of the wider community. Even Eliza, the statue on Mounts Bay Road, was dressed up in CCGS style to celebrate.

In late March, in a symbolic ceremony held at St George’s Cathedral, the new Torch of Learning, designed and made by John Davies and based on the School Chapel’s Sanctuary Cross, was blessed and dedicated by Archbishop Roger Herft. This torch was again a focal point in the Centenary Celebration held at Challenge Stadium on Wednesday 31 March. It was attended by about 3500 people, including current students, families, staff and other members of the School community along with the Anglican Archbishop of Perth, Roger Herft, the Governor of Western Australia, Dr Ken Michael AC, the Dean of Perth, the Very Reverend John Shepherd, and Federal Member for Curtin, Julie Bishop. The event, directed by the Emeritus Director of Drama at Christ Church and founder of the Midnite Youth Theatre Company, Anthony Howes, also showcased musical and dramatic performances to mark the milestone. The torch was passed from School Captain, Denver Stove, to Ted Woo, the youngest boy in the School (assisted by George Gare, Preparatory School Captain), in a ceremony that emphasised the symbols of the School’s motto – “Deus dux, doctrina lux” (God is our Leader, Learning is our Light).

In April, the School held a cocktail party to celebrate 100 years of staff contribution. Current and former staff members gathered in the Chapel forecourt and were welcomed by Headmaster, Garth Wynne. Former Deputy Headmaster and teacher, Ray House (1965-2002), current teacher, Jamie Fagan (an Old Boy with 33 years of teaching experience at the School) and Maintenance supervisor Jeff Brown (31 years) who all spoke in celebration of the many staff members who have contributed to Christ Church over the past century.

July saw members of the School community coming together to think about and prepare for the future strategy of CCGS. They were led in this initiative by Associate Professor, Rufus Black, the Master of Ormond College at the University of Melbourne and one of Australia’s brightest minds. The two-day event brought together a variety of provocateurs, including the Anglican Archbishop of Western Australia Archbishop, Roger Herft; Rebecca Cody, the Principal of Methodist Ladies’ College; artist and technologist, Geoffrey Drake-Brockman; Hon. Justice, Christopher Stevenson; and Professor Richard Weller, Winthrop Professor of Landscape Architecture at UWA. Throughout the Summit all participants were given an opportunity to contribute. While many of the outcomes supported the School’s current view, some of the key visions were about flexibility, adaptability, diversity and inclusivity in an increasingly complex and rapidly changing world, along with an emphasis on the importance of relationships and community.

In August, the Senior School came together for the Founder’s Day Service. Chairman of School Council, David Fardon, (1973) explained that all institutions that carry Christ Church in their title celebrate their foundation in early August. Canon Frank Sheehan spoke of the links between Christ Church Priory in Canterbury, United Kingdom, the Christ Church parish church across the street and the School. President of the Old Boys’ Association, Rob Crossing, (1978) challenged the boys to find their own way and shared his experiences with Old Boys that exemplified this confidence while at school. The Preparatory School celebrated Founder’s Day in style as boys and staff dressed in costumes from the early twentieth century. Guest speakers included Peter St John-Kennedy from the Town of Mosman Park’s ‘Tales of Times Past Storytellers’. Peter gave an insight into life in the early part of last century and urged the boys to look after Australia and share its stories with future generations. Andrew Robin, who organised the Founder’s Day assembly, gave boys an insight into some inventions from the time. They included the Tesla coil, the x-ray and the Wright Brothers’ airplane, as demonstrated by Head of the Preparatory School, Richard Wright. Another highlight was the Yahoos’ rendition of “Let Us Now Praise Famous Men”. Members of the wider Christ Church community also gathered at the Chapel for the Centenary Thanksgiving Service. The communion service, presented by Canon Frank Sheehan, marked a special tribute to the School’s Anglican foundations. Special guests included former Headmasters and their wives Tony and Elsa Hill and Jeremy and Sally Madin. The evening prior, Judy Moyes, the wife of former headmaster, Peter Moyes AM OBE, joined the headmasters and their wives at a cocktail party, held at Christ Church House. Mr Hill and Mr Madin expressed their happiness at being part of the School’s centenary celebrations and catching up with members of the teaching staff and wider School community.
The School's Old Boys' Association celebrated with a full weekend of events, most notably a 'Battle of the Bands' which was judged by Old Boys, Mark McEntee (1972) and Jim Fisher (1970) and won by the grunge guitars and penetrating drums of Dave, featuring Lachie Silberstein (2008), James Sprivulis (2008), Max Thompson-Clark (2008) and Andy Burns (2008). The weekend culminated in the Old Boys' Centenary Celebration Dinner at Challenge Stadium, which 1009 Old Boys attended. It was the biggest reunion of past students the School has ever had. Headmaster Garth Wynne invited John Utting (1934) and Patrick Mackenzie (2009), the oldest and youngest Old Boys in attendance, on stage to shake hands.

In addition to the School's new Torch of Learning, a number of other artworks were commissioned in its Centenary year. One project, Headspace, was the creation of Perth artist and CCGS parent and Centenary Artist-in-Residence, Geoffrey Drake-Brockman. He combined a millennia-old sculpture tradition with cutting-edge technology, using the faces of more than 250 Preparatory and Senior School boys to make a stunning robotic sculpture. Another project saw a new bronze bust of the School's founder, Canon WJ McClemans, located in the CLC foyer. The bust, created by Perth sculptor Robert Hitchcock, is a gift to the School from Michael Wright (1956), a grandson of Canon McClemans. The sculpture was unveiled at the Old Boys' Association Centenary Dinner on 8 May.

The Old Boys' Association presented a centenary gift to the School: a permanent sculpture installation, Stand By Me, created by WA artist, Tony Jones OAM. Tony said that while his old classroom had gone, his memories of school days at Christ Church had informed his work. The large, stylised figures of three boys capture the character of the alpha boy, the naughty boy and the cultured boy. For Tony, they are subtitled Bruce, Tim and Jim after his friends from CCGS of 50 years ago. He said the title of the sculpture was inspired by a line from the film of the same name, based on the Stephen King novella The Body: "I never had any friends later on like the ones I had when I was 12." The sculpture was installed near the northern border of the campus, where it is clearly visible to thousands of people every day.

Additionally, Christ Church's art adviser, Michael Reid, secured for the School the winning painting of the most revered art prizes in Australia – the Archibald Prize for Portraiture. The 2010 winning portrait of Christ Church Old Boy, Tim Minchin, (1992), by Melbourne artist, Sam Leach, struck an obvious resonance with the School in its centenary year. The relatively small painting of the musical comedian, which was dwarfed by most of the other Archibald finalists, will become part of the School's collection in April 2011, once it has made its obligatory tour of the nation.

There were also exhibitions and tours to increase the School community's understanding and appreciation of how far the School has come in the past 100 years. The Centenary Exhibition: 100 Years of Learning and Light was on display at the Old Boys' Gallery. Curated by School Archivist, Freida French, the exhibition was made up of a collection of photographs and memorabilia of school life over the past 100 years, built around the themes of Living With Others, Pursuing Excellence, Doing Our Best and The Learning Journey, to celebrate the unique spirit of Christ Church. In March, May, August and October, Freida hosted tours of the School's buildings and surrounds, giving a wealth of historical information to the interested Old Boys, parents, grandparents, friends and past and present staff who accompanied her. They were able to appreciate the incredible development of the School from when Canon WJ McClemens started Christ Church in 1910 with a single classroom and an initial enrolment of nine day boys, through to what has become one of Australia's leading independent schools.

The final events of the year served to celebrate both the Centenary and the incredible way in which it had been marked all year. A Blue and Gold Masquerade Party was held in September and more than 400 members of the Christ Church community attended. Guests, who dressed with elegance and donned an array of wonderful masks, were given their first look at the newly completed Gymnasium Precinct, which was transformed into a 1930s-inspired club complete with 17-piece swing band. Parents, Old Boys and staff, many of whom had gone to great lengths with their masks, enjoyed delectable foods and wines provided by Old Boys and danced away the night in style.

In early December, the release of the School's history ‘closed the book’ on the Centenary Year. Every boy took home their very own copy of A School with a View, the history of Christ Church’s first 100 years. Senior School boys streamed in and out of Sandover Hall to collect the 496-page tome, while Preparatory School students received their books in the classroom, complete with plastic wrap and carry bag to ensure a safe journey home. The launch of the School History is the culmination of almost three years’ work by consultant historian and Old Boy, Peter Edwards, (1962) and School Historian Wendy Hillman. The magnificent publication takes readers on an historic journey of how a visionary clergyman’s foundation grew from a small and struggling Preparatory school to become one of Australia’s leading independent schools. The book also includes a register of every boy who has attended the School: a worthy publication for this extremely exciting and significant Centenary milestone in the School's history.

Thank you to Kate Chesson, Ben Davies, Jc Mulligan, Georgina Walsh, Andrew Baird, Shane McGurk, Matt Didcoe, Jovana Taylor and Mark Watson for the photographs and reports included in this summary.
FROM THE SCHOOL CAPTAIN

Valedictory Assembly 2010

Year 12s, we return to this chapel today for the very last time as Christ Church students. However, the emotions that befell us on Orientation Day five years ago are still present. The excitement and nerves still affect us as we once again begin a new chapter of our lives, a new challenge and a new beginning after Christ Church. My speech today is a meditation on the achievements and contribution of this year’s cohort.

The interaction between the boys and the school reflects the Christ Church student, who models the essence of core community values. Christ Church Grammar School is a diverse and multicultural society, indicative of the wider Australian community. The school celebrates this community and embraces the different background of its many students. This culture encourages and fosters a positive environment of acceptance, which allows boys to achieve as a group. It has become a Christ Church tradition to take counterfeit passports to the PSA swimming competition to respond to the taunts of the other competing schools. The enthusiasm displayed at this competition saw the swimming fraternity win a third consecutive PSA swimming title, a reflection of the passion of the Christ Church spirit.

Christ Church offers a plethora of opportunities to each boy. The range of co-curricular activities encourages individual and team success as boys develop areas of special interest. The school is well endowed with talented students, both academically and on the sporting field. However, the Christ Church spirit of co-operative success allows others to take advantage of what the school has to offer and reach their potential. This is exemplified by the Christ Church First XI Hockey Team of 2010. Under the guidance of Sebastian Ewing and with the support of experienced coaches, the team was able to rebound after an unsettling start to the season. The development of each individual and commitment to working co-operatively saw the team rally to defeat Scotch and win the title in the remaining minutes of the final game. The title was achieved through each player's personal commitment to teamwork.

Christ Church Grammar students respect and value the wider community and this is reflected in the generosity and responsibility of each boy as we actively serve the community around us. The Christ Church Cadet Unit takes part in the annual ANZAC day parade and ceremony. Students participate in the ENCOMM or Lifesaving programmes, which assist the wider community. Students also raise money, principally for the Indigenous Communities Education Appeal, which provides assistance and support to those less fortunate. The Pilgrimage of Hope offers boys the opportunity to travel and serve in countries less fortunate than our own in an 'eye opening experience'.

The programmes and initiatives of Christ Church Grammar School take boys from their comfort zone, providing a vital learning curve for each boy. The Venture programme of Year 10 puts each individual into the South West Australian landscape with a group of randomly selected boys. This 140 kilometre challenge is physically and mentally straining and tests the strength of character of each boy. It develops an appreciation of the environment and the different aptitudes of individuals in a context of teamwork and integration. In Year 11, boys experience a retreat, which offers a different perspective by allowing them to enter into the lives of others. These initiatives induce co-operation within the boys as well as lifelong skills and memories important for our progression into adulthood.

The School's involvement in the PSA competition allows all boys to participate and maintain a healthy life balance. From Years 7-12 boys participate and train in a multitude of sports. Our participation in the premier sporting competition has provided each boy with the ability to demonstrate the zeal and passion of the Christ Church experience. School pride and passion is illustrated in the famous Linga celebration after each hard-fought victory. This release of emotions symbolises the school's esprit de corps, which encapsulates the boys' morale and pride in representing the blue and gold.

The School has offered each boy so much more than a classroom education. The diverse range of school activities, such as mock trials, chess, music and drama offer countless opportunities for boys to excel. The range of sporting codes gives boys the opportunity to pursue pastimes and experience camaraderie. These factors epitomise the Christ Church student in 2010. I am very proud of the way in which the boys have embraced the many areas of School life. This has enhanced our vibrant school culture and completed the education of boys into young men. This aspect of Christ Church shows the continuation of a strong legacy of Christ Church education, as celebrated on Founder's Day and at the School's 100th birthday celebration. The School's image sets an example for the younger boys of Christ Church, who will become the face of the School in the years to come.

It has been very humbling for me to captain Christ Church Grammar School in 2010, the Centenary year, given the reputation of the School as a centre for excellence, not only at a state level, but also at a national level. This responsibility and privilege is an experience that I will never forget. I would like to thank Ben Power and the rest of the prefects who have supported me throughout that year. Your contributions have made my role in the School an immense pleasure.

Each of us in Year 12 is thankful for the gift of a Christ Church education, which will guide us in the years to come.

Best wishes, Valedictorians of 2010. Go Do.

ACADEMIC REPORT – MITRE 2010

During 2010 much of our thinking in the Academic domain has focused on the new Year 12 courses and the WACE (Western Australian Certificate of Education) examinations, the evolving Australian Curriculum and the use of computers as a learning medium.

Twenty-one of the thirty-two Year 12 courses were taught and examined for the first time in 2010. Understandably, there was a level of apprehension, for teachers and students, that the style and standard of the examination would be an accurate reflection of the sample papers distributed earlier in the year. As the results on the following pages indicate, the teachers had prepared their students well and the students rose to the occasion.

The WACE examination results are comparable to both 2009 and 2008, with 2008 regarded “as the best ever” at Christ Church on a number of academic measures. On these same measures, Christ Church was clearly the best performing boys’ school in WA in 2010. The results reflect the commitment and professionalism of the teaching staff and the enormous support offered to our Year 12 students by the whole CCGS community. We celebrate the performance of the boys and are very proud of their efforts.

Although the School already has a strong academic programme, each Head of Department continues to monitor and evaluate potential developments in their learning area. Whether it is the introduction of Future Problem Solving with Year 8 Humanities students, Mathstak and MathTrak as additional resources for students, the Add-Venture programme or our evaluation of the use of computers, the School is always looking for improvement and responding to the needs of students. There will be many more examples of innovation in the following Department reports. I am encouraged and excited by the Academic Department project plans for the coming years and am confident that the School will continue to provide a rich and rewarding learning experience for all our students.

GENERAL SUMMARY

In 2010, 167 students sat the WACE examinations and 90 achieved an Australian Tertiary Admissions Rank (ATAR) of 90 or higher and 15 students completed a majority of Wholly School Assessed (WSA) subjects.

- 23 students obtained an ATAR ≥ 99 (14% of ATAR population, 13% of total)
- 33 students obtained an ATAR ≥ 98 (20% of ATAR population, 18% of total)
- 63 students obtained an ATAR ≥ 95 (38% of ATAR population, 35% of total)
- 90 students obtained an ATAR ≥ 90 (54% of ATAR population, 49% of total)

Median ATAR for the year group 91.0
Average ATAR for the year group: 87.6
Number of students who did not graduate: 1

93 (56% of ATAR population) students achieved one or more scaled marks of 75 or more.

GENERAL EXHIBITIONS

Ben McAllister (4th), Patrick Dyer (7th), Winston Kint (14th), Julian Chung (20th), Victor Yau (24th)

COURSE EXHIBITIONS

Music: Riley Skevington
Philosophy & Ethics: Michael France
Physics: Winston Kint

CERTIFICATES OF DISTINCTION (18 students)

The following students gained a Certificate of Distinction for a particular course (final scaled mark places them in the top 0.5 percent of candidates):

Chemistry: Patrick Dyer, Winston Kint, Ben McAllister, David See, Victor Yau
Economics: Michael Ng
Literature: Julian Chung
Mathematics: Patrick Dyer, Winston Kint, Ben McAllister

David Bourne

David Bourne started at Christ Church in 2002. In the classroom, David was many things, but what it all boiled down to was his passion and knowledge for his subject and his undivided attention to helping boys who were struggling and to further boys who excelled.

Many, many boys also came to know and love Mr Bourne outside of academic life. His time in boarding started shortly after his enrolment into the School and he undertook the roles of year group co-ordinator and Aboriginal Liaison Officer. He was adamant that all boys reached for their potential, whether that was club footy after school, A grades in geography or anything in between.

To see Mr Bourne leave was a loss, not only to the Humanities Department but also to the boarding community, and to the School as a whole. We sincerely wish him well for his new life at Wesley College.

Bourne, all the best, and see you on the footy field!

Jack O’Rafferty, Mitre Committee

Brad Cecins

Brad Cecins in many ways embodied the soul of Christ Church. His imposing height and legendary presence belied his real care for the boys with whom he came into contact. Brad believed in helping every boy to reach his potential. From extra Tae Kwon Do to his programme “Me in this year”, Brad instilled an inner confidence in the boys he taught, illustrating his passion for pastoral care.

Brad was involved in all areas of the Preparatory School, and coached basketball in the Senior School. He continues his career in education by training apprentices, working at MPA Skills and further touching the lives of young men.

Harry Smallbone, Mitre Committee

Jo Mulligan

Jo Mulligan joined Christ Church Grammar School in September of 2007. During her three and a half years at the school, she worked tirelessly in her position as Director of Community Relations, and as a member of the Executive Council. She drew the community together through the Centenary celebrations. Her ever-friendly and “never too difficult” approach to any situation made her one of the most respected members of staff.

Having come from the corporate sector, Jo has left to become the Director of Development at Christ’s College in Christchurch, New Zealand. She has left a very positive impact on the Community Relations’ team and will be much missed by community support groups, especially the Don Fraser Club and the Parents’ Association. Her legacy as a community builder will remain at Christ Church for many years.

Jeremy Forbes, Mitre Committee

Ashley Rickman

Moving from being a Detective Inspector and closet author in London to a teacher in Perth is not a common career path. Mr Ashley Rickman, however, carried the move off with aplomb and his love of language, especially English, was much appreciated at Christ Church.

Ashley joined the school in 2007, working in the Preparatory School as a Year 7 teacher. He brought with him a focus on the mechanics of English, often holding in-depth grammar tests every term. His knowledge of languages other than English, including Ancient English, French and German, especially the morning podcasts in German, impressed and bamboozled the boys.

The impact of Ashley’s contribution to the love of English, especially grammar, in a number of boys at the school cannot be overstated. He touched the lives of all those he taught with his friendly and engaging manner and teaching style. We wish him well with his plans to move to Sydney.

Harry Smallbone, Mitre Committee

Yppres Drew

Yppres Drew, our psychologist, decided to leave CCGS in order to spend more time with her family. Yppres started in 2000 and worked in the Senior School. She coached the 10A basketball team and went on Venture whilst there. From 2002 onwards she worked in the Preparatory School, which she loved. Yppres’ dedication and insights will be much missed, but we wish her all the best for this new phase of her life.

THE YEAR IN REVIEW 29
New York, New York...the city that never sleeps...it certainly heightened our senses and quenched our thirst for the big, fast, loud and gaudy...well beyond our wildest expectations.

Our Big Apple experience was seen from every vantage point while we soaked in all that we could during our three weeks of the Art Tour...starting from the top of an open double-decker bus; dodging, weaving and manoeuvring through the manic streets of Manhattan to visiting the newest of attractions - a resurrected old railway line that has been elegantly transformed into the Hi Line Architecture Walk in the coolest of cool Chelsea district. Being led through the arteries on the NYC Subway system, we came to discover the fascinations of some of the greatest man-made icons in the world...the oldest of suspension bridges at the Brooklyn Bridge, the greatest of public urban green spaces in Central Park and the famous French monumental gift of the Statue of Liberty.

Challenged by the visual, spiritual, social and physical characteristics of New York City, we were able to indulge and experiment with new ideas that would directly benefit our art practice. We gazed upon the 360 degree views of the grand expanse of New York City from the Top of the Rocks, visited Rockefeller Centre observation deck at twilight, had the privilege of viewing first hand the special touch of an urban street artist as he sprayed an incredible portrait before our eyes and stamped along, cheered, laughed and applauded at the superb, energetic performances of the off-Broadway shows of Stomp and the Blue Man Group.

Building our own skyscraper models at the Centre of Architecture, sharing stories of life and art with the art students at Browning School, being humbled by the first hand stories from the official photographer of the 9/11 World Trade Centre tragedy, encountering an art happening of a giant pillow fight in Union Square, then being on the edge of our seats as part of an exciting 1-point win for the NYC Knicks at the incredible stadium that is Madison Square Gardens. These were just some of our activities on this electrifying tour experience. We were consistently immersed in, and dazzled by, the tangible energy and positive atmosphere of this phenomenal urban metropolis.

This tour has given us all itchy feet for more travelling experiences. We were fortunate to be able to go to New York City and you need to come for the ride too, if you can, in 2012.

Miss Yordanoff and Miss Bradley certainly know how to devise a trip of a lifetime and we appreciated their humour, tolerance, inspiration and energy. We are truly grateful for their commitment to bringing this extraordinary international opportunity to life for us and want to thank them wholeheartedly.

Art Tour Boys
During the July holidays, 14 Year 9 boys, accompanied by Allan Hallett and Henning Holzheuer, visited the national capital in order to experience Canberra in a pre-election winter mood. Although Federal Parliament was in recess, the atmosphere was intense: newspapers featured articles anticipating a poll in August and political staff were scurrying about Parliament House in preparation for the impending campaign. All of this added to the sense of relevance and purpose to the group's debates held in a Committee Room in Parliament House and on the front benches of Old Parliament House, now the Museum of Democracy.

The Australian War Memorial is always a highlight of this tour and the two sound and light shows, 'G for George' and 'Over the Front', proved extremely popular. The boys also participated in the ANZAC Tradition tour that highlighted the involvement of Australians in conflict and peace-keeping throughout the nation's history. As always, the group paid its respects on behalf of the School to Old Boy, Ally Withnall, of the 11th Battalion and pondered the diorama depicting the battle for Mont St Quentin.

The science experience at Questacon ranged from dinosaurs to lightning machines and the science of sideshows. Perhaps the biggest challenge was dodging the 5000 primary school students who disgorged from a fleet of Victorian coaches. Casualties were low, but the experience may have left psychological scars.

The pilgrimage to the snow of Thredbo allowed beginners and experts alike the opportunity to frolic and fall in fresh snow. With expert timing the group managed to find a clear day after 24 hours of blizzards and a 20 centimetre snowfall. While some remained stranded in the 'first timers' classes, others managed to ascend to Eagle's Nest and descend at various speeds, often turning simple downhill into freestyle skiing.

Other highlights included a visit to the Australian Institute of Sport, where the New Zealand Netball Team was good enough to give up some of their court space to allow us to play Football and Geoscience Australia where the boys made their own earthquake happen. The slightly intimidating Court 1 of the High Court was another highlight.

The School wishes to acknowledge the assistance given by the Australian Government in making this visit possible. Funding is provided under the Parliament and Civics Education Rebate (PACER) programme towards costs incurred and helps significantly in dealing with the expense of traveling to Canberra.

Allan Hallett
Tour Organiser
On October 7, a group of 16 Chinese language students, accompanied by Ms Nock and Ms Sheehan, departed for the inaugural China Tour. After landing in Shanghai, we saw many impressive sights, including the Pearl Tower and the Yu Gardens. It is also a bustling, entrepreneurial city, so was an excellent place to develop bargaining skills and there were many lively exchanges as we tried out a variety of strategies and techniques. We soon learnt that the transaction is not over when you have exchanged money for goods, as it is important to check your change carefully to ensure it is Chinese Renminbi and not Russian or Mongolian money!

Shanghai has a population of about 30 million and we did wonder why they all decided to go to the Expo the same day we did. The Chinese have a saying, “Ren shan, ren hai” which means “people mountain, people sea” – in other words, people everywhere. The crowds and queues were unbelievable, but we entertained ourselves reading the signs, which said things like “No Noising” and “Polite Sharing. No challenging.”

After Shanghai, we headed south to Guilin and enjoyed a boat ride down the Lijiang River to Yangshuo. The scenery was amazing and even on the boat we were able to continue to practise our bargaining skills as eager traders rafted alongside trying to sell us souvenirs through the window. At Yangshuo we went on a long bike ride through the Chinese countryside, but we rode so quickly we soon lost Ms Nock and Ms Sheehan, who peddled frantically, but were unable to catch up.

The next stop was Xian, where the Terracotta Warriors was a highlight. No matter where we went someone was trying to sell us something and eventually we were told, “No stopping. No shopping.”

The final stop was Beijing, which proved to be the best part of the whole tour. We spent a day at the Hui Jia private school just outside of Beijing, where we joined in classes including a calligraphy lesson. Girls from this school had visited us at Christ Church a few months earlier and we were very pleased that they remembered us. Our last day was another highlight as we visited the Great Wall at Mutianyu. We caught the cable car to the top of the wall after reading the sign that said you couldn’t ride on it if you were drunk or insane! We found climbing the wall to be very strenuous, but exhilarating. The way down was by toboggan, which was a fun and fast ride. Now that we have all climbed the Great Wall we are all “real men” according to a Chinese saying.

The next morning we flew back to Australia, arriving tired but happy after a fantastic time. Our sincere thanks to Ms Nock and Ms Sheehan for being such fantastic tour leaders.

Midnite Youth Theatre Company’s first production of 2010 was one that had come a long way, for it had traversed the globe. In The Shadow of A Gum Tree had been taken on tour across the UK, visiting favourite locations such as The Riverfront Theatre in Newport, Wales, The Courtyard Theatre in Hereford, England and, of course, The Auden Theatre in Norfolk and London’s Sadler Wells on the West End.

In The Shadow of A Gum Tree, a poignant and intimate musical, with lyrics by Chris Kabay and music by O d Boy, Simon R Holt, was undertaken by over thirty of Midnite’s finest actors and technical crew, varying in age from 14 to 24. Loosely based on the “Pagliacci” opera, In The Shadow of A Gum Tree is the story of a backwater community in the Australia outback in the 1950s, clearly led by the “mother hen”, Dolly (played by Lucinda Pearson) who, along with her loutish son Nev (Ben Thomas) and other townsfolk like Trev (Andrew Sutherland), his pregnant wife, Betty (Cassandra Flanigan) and the awkwardly proportioned owners of the town watering hole, Stretch and Esmee (Henry Austin and Kate O’Sullivan), are all preparing for the arrival of a family of travelling entertainers to bring a little excitement into their lives.

The family, consisting of father Canno (Mitchell Goode), his daughter Nell (Sally McBride) and crippled son Tory (Izaak Lim), soon arrive, but it is quickly established that all is not what it seems and the sinister past of the family is revealed through the significance of their dead mother (played by Amalie O’Hara). On top of this is a growing romance – a young man from a nearby town, Sylvio (Jesse Bartle), has begun a secret relationship with Nell and has followed her to the town and devised their escape, which they strive to keep secret from Canno.

Of course, like all sung-through musicals, a huge aspect of the production is the music itself, which was nothing less than superb. From the memorable “Out Here In The Middle of Nowhere”, sung by the townsfolk, the powerful “I Will Never Fade”, a duet between mother and daughter, showstopper “No Longer”, the easy going laughter of “Curtain Up!” and, of course, the haunting “As The Sun D ‘appears”, the play was a musical journey from start to finish.

The added significance of In The Shadow of A Gum Tree came from it being the final touring production for Artistic Director, Anthony Howes, and one of his last shows with the Midnite Youth Theatre Company, which he has led on similarly successful tours for over twenty years. Once again, the brilliant costuming of Jay Brien brought out the vibrancy of the touring family and the earthiness of Australia. The set design of Dean Morris, which was simple, yet elegant, not only took into account the practicalities of a touring production, but also embodied the expansiveness of Australia. Particularly impressive was the towering “Gum Tree” sailcloth, which dominated the stage and provided for a number of clever technical tricks – administered largely by stalwart crew members, Louis Crossig and Thomas Drake-Brockman.

The show was a product of the engagement of the entirety of the Midnite Youth Theatre Company and its supporters. During its seasons both in the UK and Australia, In The Shadow of A Gum Tree never failed to amaze, impress and excite every audience member.

FATHER AND SON FOOTBALL TRIP

Melbourne – Anzac Day Weekend

The fourth annual Father and Son weekend was another great success. This year, a more intimate party of 21 allowed for all dads and boys to get to know each other quickly.

Of course, the highlight was again Anzac Day. Dads and boys getting up before dawn, heading over to the Shrine and being a part of a very moving service is a wonderful start to a great day. The AFL game between Collingwood and Essendon is arguably the best day of all to be at the MCG. I actually prefer it to the Grand Final, as there are so many supporters there from each team.

As well as football games, we had a tour lunch at Chloe’s Bar in Young and Jackson’s Hotel, dinner at a great Melbourne pizza shop in South Yarra, a tour of the MCG, a trip up the tallest building and out onto the glass viewing platform. Then some shopping, kicking footballs as we walked from our hotel to the ‘G’ and a visit to some AFL training.

Most pleasing of all was seeing dads and boys spending time together and with other dads and their boys.

Parlez-vous français? Non? Alors... 16 Iona girls and 16 boys went on the French tour in April 2010. Paris was a bit of a shock to most of us, initially because of the cold, which affected Ollie Marshall the most as he honoured his vow to wear shorts for his time in Paris. Our first week was spent there, visiting Sacré-Coeur, the famous white church, for Easter mass; the iconic Arc de Triomphe and the Champs Elysées and the Louvre, where Michael Cassie and Julian Chung got lost whilst looking for the Mona Lisa, discovering a dungeon gallery of the Louvre and missing the Lisa by about three floors. After the Louvre we caught the Paris Metro to the famous shopping centre Galleries Lafayette (for the girls, of course), but we soon found out that it was one of the most excessively expensive stores on earth, even before conversion to dollars. Most of our nights were spent eating out in the vibrant Marais area, including an evening at Ms Curlewis’ friend’s restaurant, which, without doubt, does the best snails in France. Our other Paris highlight was our visit to the Paris catacombs and one of the most famous graveyards in the world, Pere Lachaise.

We then moved on to St Quentin, a large town in the north of France, which was the home of our host families. For the first week, we were still on French school holiday and we all went on our separate adventures with our host families. Then we began attending our French school where we either went on various classes with our exchange friends, or went on excursions, including a trip to Belgium, where we all had our fair share of chocolate!

Our last day in France, Sunday, was ANZAC Day. We woke up at around 2am and were on the bus by 3am with the rest of the tour for the Dawn Service at the Australian War Memorial in Villers-Bretonneux. The service was very moving. The next day was emotional for all as we left our exchanges and the memory of our French friends running alongside the coach while we drove away will remain with us forever.

The 2010 French tour went ahead as a result of the efforts of our fantastic teachers, Ms Gerber, Ms Curlewis and Mr Peterson. We whole-heartedly thank them.

This year, eight Christ Church boys were fortunate enough to attend the 2010 Garnduwa youth leadership camps in the Kimberley. Garnduwa, which was formed in 1991, provides sport and recreation opportunities for indigenous boys to develop leadership skills and actively engage in healthy living. The partnership with CCGS commenced in 2005.

For the first time in Christ Church’s involvement, there were two camps. The first camp in the West Kimberley was situated at One Arm Point, 250 kms north of Broome and the other in the East Kimberley at El Questro, 1.5 hours from Kununurra. These camps brought together boys who are seen as future role models within their communities and as candidates for educational opportunities in Perth.

Along with Mr Bourne, Mr Foster, Mr Miles and Old Boy and founder of the Indigenous Communities Education Appeal, Lockie Cook, we attended our respective camps. Activities for the first group included a trip to One Arm Point and the Goombading campsite, spear-making with the help of Unja, an indigenous elder and hunting in the nearby mangroves and bay area. Wading around in the water trying to catch fish gave our confidence a serious beating. We also visited the local school at One Arm Point where our respective groups were entrusted to run different parts of a football clinic to different year groups. This is part of the Garnduwa programme where the boys are given opportunities to contribute to, and even umpire, sports clinics. The next day we visited the local pearl farm at Cygnet Bay and also visited an ancient fish trap used by the local Bardi People for hunting. The final night was celebrated with a massive feed, which included dugong, oysters, turtle, damper and then more storytelling around the campfire.

The second group rotated through various stations and activities during the three-day camp. We enjoyed talks from indigenous leaders about the effects of drugs, alcohol and domestic violence and the session delivered by the Ord Valley Aboriginal Health Service had some alarming information and strong messages for all of us to consider. We also experienced a career-building workshop and the visit to Home Valley station, which specialises in indigenous traineeships, complemented this session. It was near here at the Pentecost River that we had an unsuccessful attempt to land a ‘barra’, with the local crocodiles keeping a close eye on proceedings. The scenery of the surrounding area is something to behold and the walk up Amelia Gorge was spectacular. The opportunity to participate and learn more about indigenous painting also provided us with some cultural insights.

We all encourage Year 10s to seriously consider nominating for this memorable trip up north next year, as the people you meet, places you see and experiences are all priceless and unforgettable.

This year, 17 boys went on the tour to Japan in April. The tour took in three different locations: Tokyo, Kyoto and finally our home-stay experience with the Hotoku Gakuen School.

Our four days in Tokyo saw us continually on the go. We visited the bustling area of Harajuku, followed by the beautiful cherry blossoms in Yoyogi Koen and the peaceful surrounds of Meiji Jingu shrine. We also went to Disneyland and the Tsukiji fish markets, which handles the largest volume of fishery products in the world. We went shopping in the futuristic surrounds of Odaiba, near the Rainbow bridge, and then went up to the 56th floor of the Roppongi Hills tower to get a greater appreciation of the sheer size of Tokyo. Another highlight was our visit to the amazing Edo-Tokyo museum and also to a Sumo museum where we saw film clips of previous Sumo champions. One of our last stops was Akihabara, the famous Electric City, which had streets of electronics shops.

When we got off the bullet train, we were greeted by the very futuristic Kyoto station, which was not what we had expected of one of the oldest cities in the world and the cultural centre of Japan. During the day, we visited the Hishi-Honganji temple and observed a sacred ceremony in the temple's inner sanctum. After a traditional Japanese meal, we saw the amazing Kiyomizu-dera temple and its simply breathtaking night illumination. The next day brought the infamous Kyoto bicycle challenge, where we had to navigate our way to ten famous cultural landmarks around Kyoto. The day also included some language and photographic challenges outside the popular temples on our course. Over the day, we visited many world heritage sites including the beautiful and peaceful Kinkakuji or gold pavilion, and Nijo Castle, which is famous for its squeaking 'nightingale' floorboards.

Hotoku Gakuen was very different to the rest of the tour, as it was less about sight-seeing and more about immersing ourselves into real Japanese life. Our activities at the school in the next week included our giving self-introductions in Japanese to over 1500 high school students. We also had a Judo class, where we learnt three basic moves. Throughout the week, we attended many classes and were fully immersed in our host brothers' normal school routine, which proved challenging to understand. We discovered that a large amount of the students' time was dedicated to various school club activities. Clubs are a way of life for students, with a lot of them spending up to three hours a day, six days a week doing various club activities after classes. Some of these clubs provide activities such as Judo, Sumo, Kendo, Kyudo, Japanese archery, soccer, rugby and, of course, baseball.

The Japan tour was the busiest and most amazing two weeks of our lives. We seriously recommend it to any boys who are doing Japanese. It is one of the best experiences you will ever have and the things you see and do will stay with you forever. We would like to thank Mr Wynne for visiting us on the tour, Mr Armstrong and Mr Foster for helping to organise and lead the tour and Mr Watson and Mr Anderson for assisting us on the tour.

There are currently five Pilgrimages of Hope taking place each year, to India, Fiji, Alice Springs, Bali and Nepal (a total of approximately 250 students, staff and parents). All the pilgrimages are age appropriate for the students involved, with Bali being for the most junior pilgrims (Yr 6) and India for the senior pilgrims (up to Yrs 12 and 13). The Bali and Fiji pilgrims serve at an orphanage, Alice Springs pilgrims at an indigenous school and Nepal and India pilgrims at a number of homes, schools and orphanages run by a variety of people including the Missionaries of Charity Sisters.

Quotes from 2011 India pilgrims

Robert Buttner – Yr 12 Working with the aged and sick is mentally exhausting, but very rewarding at the same time, whereas working with children is physically exhausting, but a great experience. Working at Prem Dan has been great medical experience and it has reinforced my desire to study medicine.

Elliot Rampono – Yr 12 This Pilgrimage has presented me with many challenges, both emotional and physical, though ultimately it has provided me with the opportunity to grow.

Giorgio Savini – Yr 12 Kolkata is an entirely new experience to anything I have ever done before. Working at Dayadan in my first week was a challenge and an unforgettable experience.

Quotes from 2010 Fiji Pilgrims

Hudson Bombara (Yr 8) Overall, I have learnt heaps of stuff – like being kind and respecting others and I think I have become a better person.

Carlin Shelton (Yr 7) Even though the children from St Christopher’s Orphanage and the Pilgrims were complete strangers, we were welcomed and loved in the first minutes as if we had known them for years. I really was amazed that they could trust us that much immediately.

James Weight (Yr 8) This trip to Fiji on the Pilgrimage of Hope has been a life changing experience. What I learnt in St Christopher’s, for those eight days I spent there would normally take eight years to learn. When we arrived at St Christopher’s I was very nervous that the kids wouldn’t accept me as part of their community. However, when we met them, one particular boy ran out of the group, came up to me and said “Play with me, play with me”. My heart melted and I returned the boy’s hug. His name was Sanjevan and he was seven years old.

Quotes from 2010 Alice Springs Father/Son Pilgrims

Troy Mogan (Yr 8) I think the evening sessions have been some of the best experiences of this trip. The thing I enjoyed the most about the evening sessions is that we got to spend quality time with our fathers. For some kids this would rarely happen because they would be at work.

Greg Mogan (Father) These few days on the land gave me time to reflect on the rat race that most of us worship. It reminded me of just how significant nature and the outdoors are in my life. As the trip unfolded, Troy and I shared more and more with each other.

Mitch Barrington (Yr 8) Every moment was so rewarding and life changing. The Pilgrimage of Hope has been an amazing experience and I will definitely come back.

John Barrington (Father) In my son, I found deep gardens of compassion, care and empathy and in myself, I found a little garden too. For we two pilgrims, Mitch and I, this was a life changing experience. Near the end of our short stay, I remarked to Brother James that it seemed we had gained more than we had given. With knowing eyes he said, “Oh, that’s always the way”.
Quotes from 2010 Bali Pilgrims

Bali was for me a great and fun experience where I played with the orphans and made lots of friends, went to their school and cleaned around the orphanage. Curtis Bett (Yr 6)

POH Bali was an incredible experience and so perfectly suited to Year 6 boys, whether they travel with or without parents. The team leaders were outstanding in their level of care, planning and supervision at all times and whilst I am desperate to go again I would have no hesitation in sending my sons by themselves. (Lisa Brazier Adult Pilgrim)

My pilgrimage to Bali was uplifting, inspiring and so surprising to me. I learnt the biggest lesson on day one at St Francis Sidhi Astu in Bali, among children who made my heart smile instantly. I learnt that the heart doesn’t fill up or have limits; you just have to open it up more. It was an easy task to open my heart as the children and Sisters at the Home were so talented, independent, hardworking, gifted, loving and accepting people. Jo Swain (St Hilda’s teacher)

Quotes from Nepal 2010 Pilgrims

I have grown to know myself better than ever before. The situations I have faced and the people I have met in my various placements will be with me forever as I continue to learn more about myself. Chris O’Keefe

These two weeks have been the best of my life. The things that I have seen, experienced and shared with the other pilgrims will ensure that I will not look at things in the same way. Dom Hird

The Pilgrimage of Hope as been an unforgettable experience that I will cherish for the rest of my life. There have been so many encounters that have changed my perspective on aspects of myself. Kenny Chen

The rowing tour required an insane level of toughness, as members of the rowing club found out in Tasmania in January 2010. The routine was soon established: two or three arduous rowing sessions each day, with some high-octane touristing thrown in the mix every now and then. Attractions included a visit to the bustling metropolis that is Hobart, pointing guns at each other in a rugged bush setting (also known as Laser Skirmish), jet boating on the Huon River and an eco tour where we watched the local dolphins.

The rowing part of our tour took place down at the Friends’ School boat shed. The Derwent River proved similar to the Swan in its predictability, leading to several sessions blown, by the wind, back to the boat shed, to further the lads’ affinity with the ergos. For the land sessions, coaches Steve Saunders and Simon Cox took it upon themselves to scour the island in search of really, really tough things to run up, down or all around. The most notable of these included a lengthy beach run on pristine Bruny Island and the fabled run up the mountainous Mt Wellington on the final night of the tour. This was described as “physically demanding” by the typically understated Vice-Captain of School, Ben Power.

Our thanks go to Steve Saunders and Simon Cox, who worked hard on the tour to ensure that we were exceptionally well prepared for the 2010 rowing season.

The much anticipated CCGS Ski trip took us to the small town of Wanaka in New Zealand. The first day saw many stacks, collisions and close encounters, but no task was scarier than that which the advanced group had ahead of them: a black run after only two hours of skiing, led by a questionable instructor who kept reminding us that we were good, but not as good as him. All boys made it out alive, although Tim Connell was down a ski and a boot after his went tobogganing down the mountain.

We arrived back at our resort, muscles sore and in need of some soothing relaxation and so it made sense that we all headed to the spa and sauna for a quiet evening. Nothing says bonding more than 12 teenage boys, dressed in nothing but boardshorts, crammed into one warm, but overflowing, spa. The next day saw another full day’s skiing and snowboarding and the third day saw boys beginning to grow in confidence: sharper turns were being made and gnarlier jumps were being attempted, unfortunately resulting in more horrific stacks.

The next day was our free day in Queenstown, which started off with a jetboat ride over Shotover River, in which we travelled over five cm deep water at a speed of over 85km/h, leaving many of us drenched, particularly those who were rookie enough to choose the outside seats. We also made our way to the top of Queenstown via the gondola skyline to see the views and take part in the famous Queenstown luge track. This saw boys catapult down the mountain at speeds up to 25 kph in small rickety bobsled-like machines. However, not even the luge could prepare us for what we were about to see: the Haka, performed live. We gathered in the auditorium to witness three men of gigantic proportions perform a dance so horrifying that it made us realise why Australia seems to lose every single rugby match to New Zealand.

The next day we were back on the slopes to carve up some more powder. The last day saw a whole day of free skiing with no instructors. Many tricks were tried and a few boys even attempted a much dreaded black run with success, Michael Eng showing practice does indeed make for progress. By the end of the ski trip we were all exhausted, but sad to head home. The trip was a great success due to the efforts of Mr Tait, Mr Ristovsky, Ms Mitchell and Beau Griffiths whom we would like to thank immensely.

SECTION TWO ACTIVITIES
Army Cadets in 2010 was set for success even before the first Friday's parade, with both the JNCO course and CUO/WO2 course conducted in the summer holidays. This reinforced the depth of the senior and junior leaders for 2010. The unit was very successful with Peyton Caffey awarded Dux and Ben Power given the honour of commanding the final march-out parade. James Moorman was very successful on the WO2 course, missing out on Dux by the narrowest of margins.

Term 1 saw the arrival of the new Year 10 cadets, who were to be placed under the intensive training programme of Training Officer WO1 Mick O'Sullivan MM, aimed at replicating, to a certain degree, the training of an Army infantry soldier. In this time, the unit band was formulated: willing cadets, who didn't need any previous musical experience, put their hands up to be a part of the musical accompaniment to the unit's parade activities. They were ably led by SGT David Scott, who with the guidance of Old Boy, Anton Gavin, began to teach the new band members the age-old tracitions of the drum corps.

The Term 1 bivouac, conducted at the Muchea RAAF training ground, was a much anticipated activity; the cadets' first exposure to the field and bush craft as well as the seniors' first opportunity to lead their respective sections/platoons in the field. On the whole, the weekend was a huge success and built the foundation for the unit's challenges at annual camp later on in the year.

Term 2 presented new challenges for the cadets, with training moving off the parade ground and into the classroom. Skills like navigation, RATEL and first aid were taught in preparation for the Term 2 bivouac. Cadets were taught how to manage many and varied medical ailments including fractures, hemorrhages and snake-bites by the resident medical officer, Lt Digby Gibson. Module 2 weapons qualifications were attained by all cadets after a Sunday at Karakatta Army Barracks, preparing them for both the shoot on the Term 3 bivouac as well as the shoot on annual camp. SGT Henry Parker ended up victorious at the end of the day with a fine display of shooting skills, the likes of which have not been seen by the unit in quite some years. The final challenge now appeared on the horizon of the cadet calendar: Annual Camp, taking place over the first week of the Term 3 holidays. By far the highlight of the entire camp was when on the day of competitions, the unit reformed as one – dominating the area at the campsite named “Scale A”. The chants and war cries of the unit echoed throughout Bindoon. The Christ Church presence was immediately felt by all and the boys psyched themselves up for the long awaited competitions. The drill, first-aid and orienteering competitions took place that afternoon, all boys putting in their best efforts to try and reclaim the Chrome SLR for the unit.

However, the main event was to come the following day with the entire camp gathering at the firing range for the all-day battle that was the confidence course competition. In terms of competition results, we won both the drill competition and the first-aid, narrowly missing out on the orienteering title and the confidence course trophy.
The final event left on the calendar was the Headmaster’s Parade, followed by the Headmaster’s Dinner that night. This was the culmination of the year’s efforts on a unit level. Various awards were presented with the entire unit’s achievements being recognised by the Headmaster.

2010 was immensely successful for CCCU and reflects the tireless efforts of the unit’s adult staff. Colonel Peterson RFD, Lieutenant Barbour, Lieutenant Gibson, Captain Scott and WO1 O’Sullivan MM are the centerpiece of the entire unit and responsible for the many successes of the year.

The transition of ENCOMM to a wholly off-campus community service activity has been in place for six years now. About 70 Year Ten students were placed in a variety of care facilities and bush restoration areas in 2010.

Dr Romeo Charles supervised boys at Hollywood Seniors Village. It was wonderful to see the boys interacting with the residents, who enjoyed playing games and becoming friends with them. Four students visited Braemar House in East Fremantle to spend time each week with people with dementia. We were proud of their contributions.

Mrs Helen Knight’s group attended Braemar Lodge, an aged care hostel in Bicton. Over the course of the year the boys formed close relationships with the residents, forming partnerships in various games such as mini-golf or carpet bowls. The degree of competition was high. The boys in the group demonstrated a strong sense of responsibility, often supervising and choosing the activity for the day. Bingo (at which some boys and residents seemed to have amazing luck) as well as the making and eating of pancakes were other popular activities.

Mrs Jane Ferguson supervised a group of ten students at Wearne House in Cottesloe. Some boys played Bingo and Scrabble with the residents while others prepared and served afternoon tea. A few of the more active residents were enthusiastic about playing a form of mini-golf and deck quoits. The boys soon learnt that the residents were very difficult to beat! One lively resident requested lessons on how to use his computer and how to connect to the Internet. Hugh O’Keeffe offered to help and the lessons were highly successful. During each afternoon there was time for boys to chat with the residents and they encountered several people with strong connections to Christ Church. The residents and staff at Wearne often thanked the boys for being there on Fridays. They were very pleased with the boys’ work and their friendly, helpful approach.

Mrs Mary Brunsdon had a group of students volunteering at Mercy Care in Wembley, at both the childcare as well as the Alzheimer’s respite centre. One boy was placed with the four-year-olds day care group and another with the three-year-olds where they were an invaluable help in activities each involving about twenty youngsters. Their teachers spoke highly of the genuine help the ENCOMM students provided at this time. Two other students volunteered to be helpers with Alzheimer clients at Mercy Care and three others were placed at the Alzheimer’s Association in Shenton Park. They often acted as card players, Bingo callers, indoor golfing caddies and provided the extra voices needed as a back-up choir. Gardening and animal care were also jobs in which they participated with great enthusiasm.

Another group worked in the Cancer Wellness Centre in Cottesloe, mainly helping with the processing of raffle tickets that came in regularly. Their help was greatly appreciated and the staff at the Centre commented on the fact that the boys were reliable, helpful and friendly. Another student worked with TAPSS (The Aged Peoples’ Support Service) and he, too, was reliable and helpful when answering the telephone and performing secretarial duties.

Lake Claremont is a Conservation Category Wetland and Bush Forever Site. This is the second year the Friends of Lake...
Claremont Council ran a community service programme with about ten of our students which was supervised by Canon Frank Sheehan. The boys performed projects at Lake Claremont to enhance and protect the biodiversity of the area, thereby making it more beautiful for all to enjoy. The boys played a large role in restoring a portion of the fringing vegetation at the lake, preparing the area for planting by spreading mulch and planting over 3000 native seedlings. The boys weeded by hand in the remnant bushland and helped prevent the spread of seeds of an invasive reed in the lake bed by cutting the heads off the bullrushes. They acquired many new skills, helped enhance the environment, enjoyed the outdoors and learned the importance of our local and global wetlands and how precious Lake Claremont really is.

Mrs Julie Harris’ group worked at restoring bushland at Chidley Point in Mosman Park. Working with the new Sustainability Officer, Di Aynsley, and her assistant, Sean, the boys continued with their environmental rehabilitation work. They started the year weeding the area, repairing fences that separate the sanctuary from the golf club and removing bags and sticks from the more mature plants. Later in the season they planted 150-200 plants each Friday afternoon: an arduous task. It was disappointing to discover that many plants had been stolen, so the boys began planting nearer sections more visible to the road: this seemed to work. The boys completed a good year’s work and two were nominated for an environmental youth award. The year concluded with a pizza wind-up and the Mayor of Mosman Park presented certificates to each student.

Ms Anna Cornell led a group of nine boys who worked at Riversea Hostel in Mosman Park where the residents eagerly anticipated the weekly visits. The boys were involved in a variety of activities with the residents, the most popular being Musical Bingo where Felix Nicol took to the microphone and became the favoured MC for the afternoon. The boys would then chat to the residents about their pasts and they found it fascinating to hear how different life was when the residents were teenagers. The boys always showed the utmost respect for the residents, always taking on tasks with humour and willingness. The Riversea staff mentioned that for the residents, the CCGS boys’ visit was the highlight of the week.

ENCOMM continues to be a popular community service activity at CCGS, which students find to be relevant and worthwhile.

It was another interesting year down on the intersection of Marine Parade and Eric Street as the 2010 Christ Church Surf Life Saving Cadet group challenged the windy and wild surf conditions that the North Cottesloe Surf Club had to offer. Under the direction of Mr McGurk, Mrs Fricke, Ms Finkemeyer and Mr Hodnett, everyone enjoyed a fun and challenging year attending Surf Life Saving lessons at North Cottesloe Surf Club in order to achieve the Surf Bronze Medallion.

This award included both practical and water components such as the classic run-swim-run, tube and board rescues, as well as other surf related skills and activities. Theory lessons also took place during the cold winter afternoons, which comprised the theory behind surf rescues, resuscitation and first aid.

The 54 Year 10s were divided into six patrol teams, named after significant contributors and long-serving Christ Church staff members: Bowker (Dean Bowker), Dixon (Roger Dixon), Draper (Paul Draper), Leach (John Leach), Morrissy (Don Morrissy) and Pate (Arthur Pate). The boys competed for team points in a range of surf life saving activities which included beach flags, tube races, board and swim races. When the occasional swell picked up, body surfing was a popular contest where the majority of the boys challenged to see who could crack the best wave and impress the judges.

The Year 11 Surf Cadet Leaders were a fun and enthusiastic lot, never saying no or backing out of a challenge to participate in Surf Life Saving activities and teaching the boys the way of the beach. Mike Gower and Sam McGurk were the rig magnets, never being afraid to take their shirts off. Tom Van Beem, Zander Angliss, Logan Green and Ben Teague were the beach lovers and never turned their backs on the beach when there was swell. Curtis Spencer was the IRB guru and was busily working in the shed inflating and deflating the boats or just trying his best not to lose the engine out at sea. Will Hargreaves and Sam Flynn knew their boundaries and were organised with large jumpers to make sure they weren’t cold during the winter afternoons. Zac Vinten was holding all belongings and valuables in the grasp of his hands making sure Mr McGurk didn’t steal his wallet or phone as a prank. The leaders were assigned to various patrol teams and assisted the boys in getting through the programme to attain their award.

As the cold winter days drew out, a shadow of excitement and anticipation was cast upon the Year 10s, as the annual non-residential Surf Life Saving Cadet camp, held at the North Cottesloe Club rooms, was finally here. The camp is held in late September when the water is coldest and the conditions usually the most challenging. This rigorous and demanding weekend was the climax of all the hard work and effort that the boys and staff had put into training over the season, as the examiners from Surf House were called in to assess the Year 10s on their Surf Bronze Award. For most it was do or die - pass or fail the many tests ahead to retrieve the coveted Award.

The Friday afternoon of the camp consisted of boys making sure their surf life saving theory books were immaculately completed, the various surf rescues were rehearsed and perfected, the timings for CPR compressions were spot on and, of course, the ever so simple hand signals were known, an element of the course that the boys had a particular habit of forgetting. All in all, however, everyone was optimistic that the 2010 Surf Life Saving Camp was sure to be the most successful yet.

Saturday morning was the bus ness end. As the boys turned up to North Cottesloe club rooms they were accompanied by the Bronze Medallion Examiners, known for their high expectations. As the day progressed the boys rotated in examinations comprising all the aspects needed to obtain the bronze award.
Beach activities included board and tube rescues, spinal carries, resuscitation, defibrillation, bandaging and radios. Although it was a long and testing day, it was made that much easier thanks to perfect weather and flat conditions.

With the tricky bit out of the way, Sunday was an opportunity for the boys to have some fun and challenge themselves in some new events and activities never seen before on a surf life saving camp. Everyone was lucky enough to hear some words of inspiration from national competitors, as well as local club members, who came down to get the boys into some rowing (a sport that puts normal rowing to shame). Boys not only had to ‘multi task’ the incoming waves, they also had to flex for the onlookers! And that was just the beginning – beach flags, ironman relays, ski board races and tyre carrying relay events around sand courses were just a few of the things the day had to offer, as well as the opportunity to hoop around doughnutting with Curtis on the IRBs.

By the end of the day the boys were exhausted, but the results of all the boys made sure that the season was not in vain as all 41 of the boys nominating to do their bronze passed, making 2010 the most successful year to date. Many thanks must go out to Mr McGurk, Mrs Fricke, Ms Finkemeyer and Mr Hodnett, the staff who made the magic happen. Thanks also to Trevor Gribb and Kym O’Neil and all his North Cottesloe instructors and staff who made the year possible. We all appreciated their work. The year was a most enjoyable one with that balance of skill, surf and socialising which makes us all better equipped for further time on the beach.

The debating fraternity has gained a reputation as one of the most successful activities within the School. This reputation, partly due to last year’s victory in the State championship, drew boys from all corners of the school to participate in the Western Australian Debating League Competition and we set out determined to make this year as successful as 2009.

A group of very enthusiastic Year 7s joined the Year 8s for the first time to compete in the Novice Division. All performed creditably with one Year 7 and one Year 8 being division winners and going through to the finals. During the year the novice debaters were all ably assisted by Year 11 and 12 mentors who coached them in the finer points of debating and made sure they were well prepared to rebuff their opponents’ arguments. It was most encouraging to see the development in the boys’ skills over the season.

The Debating Committee soon realised that a rigorous training course for the Senior Division was necessary to perform well in the new season. Our aim was to refresh old skills and develop new ones, particularly for boys from the Junior Division who were entering the Senior Division. To achieve this we called on young Old Boys Richard O’Halloran and Patrick Mackenzie, both veterans of last year’s WADL State Final, to instruct us. In these sessions we focused on strategies to use when preparing for the impromptu debates, as well as the effective use of points of information, which both turned out to be major strengths of the Christ Church teams. These training sessions prepared us very well for the beginning of the competition.

The season began well for the boys from Christ Church with victories in all divisions. Topical premises such as “Australia should ban non essential plastic surgery” were proven and refuted alone with more leftfield topics such as “Facebook is an evil empire”. The Senior team of Dominic Donaldson, Michael France, Vibhu Manchanda, James Moorman, Will Crohan and George Ford maintained an undefeated record throughout the preliminary rounds, which resulted in them going through to the finals.

Whipped into shape early on by Ms Crawford, the team embarked on the mammoth effort of preparing for the Quarter and Semi finals. It seemed, however, that our reputation had preceded us and our opponents forfeited. It was the snap victory against Hale on the topic of government intervention into rural areas, that propelled us into the grand final against Shenton College.

It was in this debate that I have never been more proud to say I was a member of Christ Church Grammar School. The team was ably led by Michael France and countered all attacks in a brilliant display of rhetoric and oratory. Christ Church was narrowly defeated in a controversial split decision. We can be very proud of our achievements.

It was my pleasure to have been Captain of Debating in 2010. Thanks must go to Ms Crawford, teacher in charge of debating and Ms Nock for their tireless efforts in leading debating at CCGS. I would like to wish the team of 2011 luck and ask them to continue the proud tradition of the CCGS Debating Fraternity.

DIGITAL FILM PRODUCTION

The main assignment for the Digital Film Production group this year was the production of 3D films, which captured the everyday life of students at Christ Church. The films were presented at the Northbridge Piazza 3D Festival. We attended the Sculpture by the Sea exhibition and used the pictures for our website. The group also visited the Surf Lifesaving Cadets at Cottesloe Beach and took 3D footage.

A member of the group, Louis Crossing, designed and established the website for the activity – 3digitalfilm.com. The site is a repository for students’ 3D films or other digital media. This year, we also created a Flickr profile and YouTube account which can be accessed through our website. These websites allow the global community access to the work produced and provide a forum for public comment.

Thanks go to Ms O’Brien, Ms Nazzari and Louis Crossing for coordinating the activity. In particular, the students of Digital Film Production wish to thank Mr Dave Carson for all his help, both in teaching the boys the intricacies of 3D filming and editing.

2010 was a productive year for the activity in this, the School's Centenary. We look forward to further production opportunities in 2011.

DRAMA WORKSHOP

The Drama Workshop this year was supported by the creative genius of our Rent a, Craig Steele. Craig has worked with the Scottish Youth Theatre since he was seven and picked up many warm-ups and drama workshop activities on the way, many of which he passed on to our keen workshop participants. Alex Hill, our Drama Captain 2011, used his new skills to great effect in warm-ups with the cast of "Boy Overboard". A ‘Frantic Assembly’ (physical theatre) workshop with Craig and a Musicals workshop with Mrs Leadon were particularly enjoyable experiences.

The 2010 eVehicle challenge was kicked off with great enthusiasm as 12 boys from Year 11 brainstormed all their plans for what would become their cars for the big day. The eV challenge is a race where custom built cars must race around a track in one hour trying to complete the most laps as possible. The D&T department was abuzz every Friday with all boys frantically designing a wide array of cars that had to fit strict guidelines set by the race committee. The pace was a bit slow in the first term with most boys just starting the construction phase by the end of term. However, in Term 2 things were really getting action packed with most boys realising that time was of the essence and there was a lot of work to be done. With most cars boasting complex wiring and very sophisticated steering systems, this was not looking good for the CCGS squad. With most boys working well into the Term 3 holidays, the cars were fortunately completed for the big race day, although we didn’t have any time left for car testing.

On the morning of 28 October, all the CCGS boys trekked it to Polytechnic West in Midland to race our three terms of hard work. Most teams were entered in two races – the B Class, which was for any high school team and the Yuasa Class which was open to all. The Yuasa class race got off to a flying start with all the CCGS teams showing promise until halfway through the fifth lap where disaster struck in the form of a snapped steering column on the car of Thomas Drake-Brockman, Callum Stocklinger, Henry Robson and Callan Sturgeon, which left their team unable to race for the rest of the day. Not long after, CCGS’s unlucky streak continued with the car of Oliver Bradley, Tom Seward, Lance Stibbs, and Joey Della Vedova overheating and forcing them to retire too. That left only the car of Guy Coleman, Brian Wong, Josh Bell and Callum MacDonald in the race representing CCGS. All was going well until the last ten minutes of the race where their car ran out of battery causing them to crawl to a halt. With the disappointment of the first race, our teams were busy making adjustments to our cars in preparation for the second race. With the loss of Thomas Drake-Brockman’s team, CCGS was now left with three cars. Bad luck paid us another visit with another technical failure crippling Oliver Bradley’s car, leaving only two cars that were able to race. Our remaining two teams raced very well with Guy Coleman’s team coming fifth overall, which was our best result.

Thanks must go to Mr Barbour and all the D&T staff who helped us out throughout the year in constructing the cars and without them, this would not be possible. I strongly encourage any boy who has an interest in engineering and design to give eV a shot and I promise you that you will never forget this experience.

ENIGMA

The 2010 Enigma programmes in 2010 offered an enrichment programme to 15-20 talented boys in each of Years 8, 9 and 10 and added a new component to accommodate the arrival of Year 7 in the secondary school.

This year “Codes and Ciphers” was the focus for Year 7, looking at aspects as different as simple substitution ciphers, Braille and semaphore and the WWII Enigma cipher machine, as well as a brief look at modern encryption methods.

"Man in the Cosmos" was the theme for Year 8, considering not just astronomy, but also the search for extra-solar planets, the possibilities of life elsewhere in the Universe and the philosophical implications that could then need consideration.

From the Year 8 Enigma group a team of eight (Brandon Afiat, William Bailey, Henry Cooney, Allan Hou, Weijun Lo, Aaryen Mall, Elliott Smith and Vandit Trivedi) competed in the da Vinci Decathlon held at Wesley. After the success of our team winning in 2009 we had high hopes again, but came second of the 20 school teams competing. The all day competition involved ten activities. These were Art and Poetry, Code Breaking, Science, Creative Producers, Engineering Challenge, English, Mathematics, Forensic Sleuths, Games of Strategy and General Knowledge. Our team excelled in the General Knowledge, Games of Strategy and Forensic Sleuths sections.

Year 9 Enigma: Humanist Variations incorporates those historical stock-in-trades of knowledge (Who? What? When? Where?), causation (Why?), consequence (So what?), comparisons and perspectives. Our evidence is delightful and varied from early musical scores that look like a trans-section of a lung to Chaucer to Benozzo Gozzoli to Escorial to Edwin Morgan’s Message Clear. However, this year became the year of continuity and, more so, change. Are these Year 9s proto-revolutionaries? They relished change. Anyone who questioned the existing order was acclaimed. The revolution of early secular music was met with foot tapping. Boccaccio, Marvell, Swift and, perhaps more surprisingly, Keats were seen as mould breakers. Less surprisingly, Courbet, Picasso and Magritte became favourites. It’s amazing what goes on between 3.15 and 4.45pm on Tuesday afternoons in the Futuresphere. Vive la revolution.

2010 saw the inauguration of the Year 10 programme for Enigma, Linguistics. Twenty students were invited to participate in this exciting area of investigation, building on their previous understandings of code, cosmos and culture inculcated in previous Enigma programmes in Years 8 and 9. Linguistics encodes all that is covered in previous years of Enigma, functioning as a nexus between the cultural drives that inform the content of language and the codification of the utterances of language.

Participants considered some of the most famous developments in the study of language scripts such as the Rosetta Stone, Cuneiform and Glyphs as well as the development of Linear B. The boys studied a diverse range of languages from ancient Mayan script to contemporary Sudanese dialect. As the programme expanded, boys began to consider the intricacies of Inuit syntax and learnt the first principles of language analysis.

Several students also competed in OzClo, the Australian Computational Linguistics Olympiad held at the University of Western Australia. The boys finished well, scoring Silver and Gold medals for their efforts.

Thanks must go to the wonderful students whose drive, intelligence and enthusiasm made this programme a pleasure to teach.

The 2010 Mock Trial cohort set out to build upon the success of 2009, when one team was successful in making the State finals. An influx of Year 11 and 12 boys enabled Christ Church to enter three teams into the statewide competition.

The focal point of the 'round robin' phase of the competition was Round 2. Each team was representing the Crown as the prosecution bearing a standard of proof 'beyond reasonable doubt'. The Christ Church teams had to present sufficient evidence to convict Mr Charters of driving a vehicle on a road whilst his licence was under suspension. It was a difficult case for barristers and witnesses alike, as they faced many challenging dilemmas such as timing, visibility and circumstance. Despite many exonerating facts put by the defence, the three Christ Church teams were able to record wins against their respective opponents. Special mention must go to Team 2 which was singled out in the Law Reports as having achieved the highest winning margin, 33 points, of the round.

The three teams were able to continue this momentum and maintain an undefeated record. This success meant that all three Christ Church teams were included in the final 16 teams. This was in a competition of 81, an achievement rarely seen within the fraternity.

The competition tightened and the level of competition increased as well as the relevant case law. The fourth round saw Christ Church representing the Plaintiff, Ms Gulch, who had suffered damages as a result of an attack from a Boxer dog. The case proved difficult for the three teams, residing on several areas of law regarding ownership and liability. Despite the best efforts of Teams 1 and 2, neither was able to progress into the next round of the finals.

In the fifth round, Team 3 was given the task of defending the local council, sued for injuries suffered by a trail bike rider. In a closely fought trial, with changing rules of procedure, the team was unlucky to suffer a narrow defeat.

I would like to thank the committee of Ben Lawrence and James Moorman, as well as Vice Captain, Saxon Norgard, for their leadership and assistance in the 2010 season. New coach, Old Boy Alex Mossop, was integral to the success of the Mock Trial fraternity, especially in terms of expert advice and courtroom etiquette. Furthermore, the dedication, organisation, support and diligence of Teacher-in-Charge Ms Reid is gratefully acknowledged.

In 2010 the Christ Church Mock Trial cohort was able to build upon the success of 2009, with all teams progressing into the finals. All teams performed creditably and the development of the Year 11 boys augurs well for another strong Mock Trial season in 2011.

Term One was significant at Kooringal as it saw the completion of the bush fire defensive sprinkler system, the new multi-face climbing and abseiling tower and an undercover eating area/outdoor classroom. The newly married Mrs Griffiths was Acting Director, Patrick Apps was acting Assistant Director and new staff Chris Charleton, Jesse George and Anna McCullough had an interesting beginning to the term, as construction of all these projects proceeded.

Community living, care for the environment and the development of resilience are key components of the Kooringal programme and we hope to promote these aims in all our camps. Much has been written recently about our increasing disconnection from the natural environment and reliance on technology. Whilst at Kooringal, boys cannot help but be immersed in the environment, sometimes literally, and often must rely on each other to help complete basic tasks.

Earth Keepers is a curriculum that we are excited to be able to provide to our Year 5 students. It uses imagery, theatre and magic to help students to engage with the natural environment, using their head, heart and hands. The Kooringal experience is followed up at the main campus, with the boys required to complete a number of tasks during the year to earn their keys and become qualified ‘Earth Keepers’.

Year 7 and Year 8 camps are very much community-living focused, as both year levels see a significant intake of new students. Camps were conducted in House groups and students participated in an expedition, canoeing, kayaking, climbing and abseiling. An important part of this are the Year 11 students who volunteer their time to come to Kooringal as peer leaders. They involve themselves in the camp and play an important role as mentors to the younger boys – a role that continues at the main school.

The nine-day Year 9 camps provide an opportunity for challenge and leadership as well as a preparation for Venture. A Rogaine covering about eight square kilometres and twenty checkpoints follows an introductory day of the Ropes Course and canoeing. On day three the boys begin a five-day expedition of walking and white water canoeing. There were many spectacular spills in the canoeing section, especially from those who were paddling through the ‘Washing Machine’ and ‘Bob’s Calamity’. In the final two days boys are back at Kooringal for some manual labour around the camp including firewood collection, replacing the boundary fences destroyed by the bushfire and track maintenance. The highlight for many is the last activity, the solo experience.

The last camp of the year was for the students from Year 6. Working to identify the local flora and understanding the unique Jarrah forest environment helped to develop a sense of ‘place’ and the task of building a bush shelter for the whole group proved to be a significant challenge. On the final day the boomerang competition saw some unique designs and provided plenty of entertainment and a few near misses.

Much has been achieved at Kooringal this year and credit must go to the dedicated members of the Kooringal team, who work long and hard to help students to extend themselves in a challenging, often uncomfortable, but always safe, environment.

SCRAM (School's Conflict Resolution and Mediation) was run again in 2010 with a new team of 14 boys who worked very hard throughout the year to develop some very complex mediation skills. We were fortunate to have two coaches this year, Douja Elhajj from Relationships Australia and Bernadette Kasten, a lawyer from Legal Aid WA. As a result of the boys' commitment and excellent coaching skills, Christ Church Grammar School consistently scored above average in each adjudication round. The boys competed in four rounds which were adjudicated by practising lawyers and mediators. The competition from the other schools was fierce, yet we consistently maintained our position as being one of the top three schools. In the final adjudication round the CCGS SCRAM team came third and was awarded the 2010 IAMA (Institute of Arbitrators and Mediators of Australia) Participation Award for their participation and consistent high level of achievement throughout the 2010 SCRAM competition. This was an outstanding effort by our Christ Church boys, given the very limited time they had for training.

The 2010 SCRAM team was fortunate to have the dynamic personalities of James Fletcher, Lachlan Ormonde, Stephen Kikiros, William Richards, Jeremy Forbes, Edward Kermode, William Kermode, Caleb McGlew, Louis LeMessurier, David Ellis, Thomas Holland, Andrew Ford, Jarod Haegel and Vaughan Greenberger. The skills of peaceful dispute resolutions and a good knowledge of the mediation process have given the boys an insight into the legal and paralegal world of resolving conflict, which, as they have experienced, can be quite a challenging task.

Once again this year, it was a great privilege working with such an enthusiastic and dedicated group of individuals who consistently gave their best to each round. Truly an outstanding effort! I recommend SCRAM to any boy who has a fighting spirit, interest in law or just wants to try something new and enjoys the challenges of problem-solving.

ROCK WORKSHOP

What an amazing year we have had in Rock Workshop.

The numbers this year were low and there were only enough participants to form one big band. However, we had two brass instrumentalists and a keyboardist – not the usual fare for rock bands. Excellent!

After a few personnel problems, we got down to business. None of the participants had any previous skills to do with band work, so we were really starting from scratch. In the end, two ripper songs were produced - "Matter Of Time" and "Trouble". Both turned out to be character pieces with excellent performances from everyone concerned.

The real bonus was the final lunchtime concert. The band was late due to technical problems. However, the crowd was entertained and revved up by a very inspired James Blackburn followed by a cracker of a gig from the band.

We so much look forward to next year!

MIDDLE SCHOOL SPORTS ASSISTANTS

The Christ Church Grammar School Middle School sports programme kicked off with the help of a number of keen boys from Year 11 and 12.

These boys were involved in a range of activities, ranging from coaching teams, photography, umpiring and co-ordinating middle school sporting carnivals. The assistants worked hard to deliver sport services to the school sport community and made an integral contribution to the overall promotion of their selected sport.

These boys didn't only act as helpers with the sports. Most of the sport assistants played the sports and acted as mentors to the up and coming junior boys.

It is hoped that the skills that the boys learnt during their times as assistants can be employed in the wider community in later life when they are members of clubs.

Study Lab is a great place for completing homework or preparing for an assessment. Boys from Years 7 to 12 gather in the CLC after class and work in small groups. They receive help from teachers, CCGS Old Boys and Year 11 & 12 Peer Tutors. The CLC is well equipped with computers, comfortable chairs and many useful resources.

This year, thanks to Thomas Drake-Brockman in Year 11, we have an electronic system for emailing tutors about attendances. When students attend for the third time, they receive a treat!

2010 Teachers: Dr Charles, Mrs Brunson, Mrs Chapple, Mrs Knight, Mr Peterson, Ms Yang and Mrs Ferguson.

Thanks go to all involved in making Study Lab successful. Here are some comments from students who attend regularly:

Dalton (Year 7) has visited Study Lab more often than any other student: Study Lab is the most efficient way to do homework. There are always students and teachers walking around and they are happy to help. With the help of teachers and tutors the work is much easier to do. I come to Study Lab every day when I don’t have training. The rewards of Study Lab are more than just a chocolate! I am able to achieve good marks and finish my work much more quickly. There is a sense of achievement when you look through all the stickers – knowing all the hard work you have done. Coming to Study Lab keeps me ahead of the class. There are no distractions – I can spend more time doing what I want to do when I get home. I will be back next year!

Jack (Year 7) I come to Study Lab between finishing School and going to Club Swimming. I do my homework here. It’s an easy environment to learn and I don’t get distracted.

Harry (Year 8) I come here because there aren’t distractions and I finish my homework before I get home. The maths help is good. I come here a lot and stay to the end of Study Lab.

Jordan (Year 10) I come here to do my homework with my mates. The atmosphere is good and I get lots of help. I like the aircon on hot days.

Hugo (Year 10) I come here to get my English homework done before I go home. I like the atmosphere. It is calm and quiet, with lots of help.

Ken (Year 11) I come to Study Lab once or twice a week to get homework done while my brother is at training. I like to work here with other people and the tutors sometimes help me.

Curtis (Year 11) I come to Study Lab because there is a helpful learning environment. I do more Maths here than other subjects. It helps me to understand things I’m not getting right by myself.

People often wonder what creates a life-changing experience, what brings about the special feeling of seeing something truly amazing. For me, a life-changing experience is typified by the view I saw on the fourth night of Venture, atop Mount Chance. As we watched the sun set from a rocky outcrop, the comparatively calm coast was framed against the clouds behind us, with occasional lightning flashes and accompanying thunder echoing across the trees. Everyone in our group was struck by the contrast and strange silence of the scene; the fact that it had come after a long day further adding to its splendour.

From our initial optimism after reaching camp the first night, elated to have finished the mere nine kilometre walk so easily, we were thrust straight into some challenging days. We were told that the hiking was only five percent physical, and 95% mental. The truth of this statement was shown on the second day, with oppressive heat and hilly terrain placing strain upon all of us. Even with the amount of preparation we received at School and the endless stories we had heard from older boys, it is safe to say that nothing prepared us for the endless drudgery of hiking. For some, it became a struggle to continue placing one foot in front of the other, hindered by blisters, bruises and mental strain. Walking was, for the most part, a solitary experience, with plenty of time to think, reflect and plan ahead for the rest of the day. Ten minute respites were our main opportunity to talk to one another, along with intermittent encouraging statements during the walk. The third day, our longest at 25 kilometres, was described as 'cracking day'. Much of our walk was through open grassland and the sheer amount of walking took its toll on the group. By the end of the day we were all looking forward to refilling our water bottles and relaxing. However, arriving at Dog Pool for our first (freezing cold) swim and subsequent encounters with leeches more than made up for the struggle. Even the sudden onset of 'flying ants' couldn't dampen our spirits at conquering our biggest day.

Our first three days reinforced the idea that Venture is a group activity. Adjusting to life in the bush is hard; you have to wake up early, get along with people you've probably only known previously, by sight and survive without most of the things we take for granted. During the first walks, we were still becoming used to the thought of ten days away from home. However, over the course of the third day, we began to realise how stepping up for the good of the group and helping others through the day made everyone's life a little easier. Accepting that we were indeed stuck in Walpole allowed us to focus more on our goal of reaching civilisation once more. Friend banter and group jokes (mostly about cricket) sprang up quickly and we moved on from Dog Pool with high hopes.

Although we had finished our major walk, we still had another two 20 kilometre days to go. Day four was as challenging, if not more so, than the previous, with nearly the entire day being through undulating grassland. The conditions - very hot, windless and humid in places – ensured that our water bottles emptied quickly and many of us rued not having extra water capacity. The day proved to be the turning point and we managed to travel 14 kilometres in just three and a half hours, arriving at Banksia campsite at 10:30 after crossing the dreaded 'black sand'. Banksia was one of the definite highlights of Venture, with a three hour session at the beach, both swimming and looking for crabs with 'Bear Grylls' Chris Ash rounding off a great day.

The whole group found its rhythm, finishing off the last few days of hiking with ease, enjoying such moments as the massive puddle on Mandalay Beach, the ‘Dune of Death’ where we saw another group for the first time and paddling at the extremely shallow Deep River. I was struck by how much the track could change over a few short metres, from scrubby bushland to overgrown forest and back. Canoeing for the last two days was a welcome change, apart from the endless attack by marsh flies during our camp at Sealer’s Cove. Cricket jokes sparked a makeshift match, with a bat made of a wooden plank and a gaffer tape ball, both at Long Point and in the water at Sealer’s Cove. A kangaroo almost hit one of our group as it bounded at top speed across the path, while an interesting exercise was making our way back from journal writing at the beach in almost total darkness, with only one leading torch being switched on. After a short canoe trip into Rest Point, we all relaxed after a tough adventure in the wilderness. The pitch black underside of our woks was (eventually) scrubbed into shining silver to the approval of our Venture leaders and we were free to play cricket with the other group at Rest Point, this time with a proper cricket set. A meal that was, for once, not undercoo-ed (and was, in fact, not even cooked by us) was a highlight of at last reaching the end. The barbeque was followed by celebratory chocolate and a glass of Coke, rekindling some of the addictions left behind during Venture and the group reflected on the journey we had made since coming off the bus, seemingly weeks earlier.

During our final debrief, the group talked about the successes of Venture. We had all seen memorable sights, such as two snakes, two incredible mountaintop views and the vista of Long Point. Venture had given us great memories and many of us found new friends amongst the group. Some recounted how they had grown along the hike, gaining permanent changes that they would carry over to their everyday life. There is no doubting that we were all different on returning, in ways great and small. As we were so often reminded – only a select few have seen the sights that we saw along the Bibbulmun track. Nothing can prepare you for the journey, but it is safe to say that the endless speeches said it all – moving through Venture changes you in ways that you could never have imagined.

SECTION THREE
The House Teams carnival was scheduled for Wednesday 12 May. With mid-year exams fast approaching for the senior boys, the opportunity to engage in some physical activity in the Teams Carnival competition was eagerly anticipated. The choices included football, soccer, handball, touch rugby and cross-country. Having the whole secondary school out at the McGillivray ovals created a carnival-like atmosphere.

The Beatty Cup competition was well under way and all Houses were keen to challenge Hill, who were sitting atop the table after their win in the swimming. The competition was fierce and the boys gave their all, with many boys competing as fiercely as gladiators, particularly in football. It was the boys in brown, the determined Noakians, who ended up victors on the day. Whilst only winning two competitions outright, cross-country and rugby, they maintained a high standard in all codes, with the exception of speedball. In second place was Wolsey, with an equal first in soccer and solid performances in football and rugby. In third place were the boys from Jupp, winning the football. Close behind them was Craigie which was looking to get its Beatty Cup season up and going after a dismal showing at the swimming carnival. The event was a great success: clear skies and light winds made for an enjoyable afternoon of competition for all involved.

Mark Morrissy
Director of Planning and Co-curricular
The 2010 House Athletics carnival proved to be one of the most entertaining carnivals we have seen in recent years and the new AK Stadium facility certainly added to the atmosphere. Noake was a clear leader of the Beatty Cup table before entering the competition, so both Hill and Wolsey knew that they would need monumental efforts (and Noake to falter at the final hurdle) if there was to be a change.

The carnival started just after 9am, but many keen athletes were there up to half an hour before the scheduled start time warming up. It wasn't long before the much-anticipated Ruaridh Williamson was tearing down the track on his way to winning the 100m, 200m and 400m in the under 17 age group, ultimately coming second to Oliver Bradley who took the under 17 Bowers Cup home for his performances. The other notable performance in the under 17 events was Sam Foster's win in the 1500 metre event, beating a 23 year old record.

In Year 7 Anthony Terpkos and Jack Richardson were standout performers with the Henderson cup going to Anthony for his 100 and 200 metre wins, backed up with a first place in the triple jump. The other new kids on the block, the Year 8s, also showed plenty of endeavour, but Hamish St George led the way to win the under 14 Lattice Cup from Jack Cowan.

Sebastian Simich attracted plenty of attention with his Open 3000 metre run again this year, but he was unable to match his performance of last year and Zac Speed, who (as his name indicates, is rather quick) went on to win the Carter Cup for the best under 15 performer on the day. Tom England, well known for his efforts in the pool, showed he is no such on dry land, winning the 110 metres and followed this up with seconds in the 200 metres and the hurdles to win the Maclaren Cup for the best under 16 performance on the day.

Ashton Turner looked impressive in the open competition early, taking out the high jump and triple jump competitions respectively, but he was reegated into second position by Hayden Walley with his very strong performances in the throw events. This was backed up with a third in the 100 metres.

With the final set of 4 x 100 metre relays approaching, Noake, Wolsey and Queenslea appeared to be the contenders for the shield. Queenslea boys, who were reeling from their defeat last year in the final events of the 2010 competition, steeled themselves to set the 'record straight. In the end they had little to worry about as strong relay performances helped them to bolt home with a 49 point winning lead to take the Kovacs Shield.

Director of Planning and Co-curricular
It was always going to be a tough year for the men of gold in 2010. Although not sweepingly successful in terms of Beatty Cup competition, the boys seemed to take up Mr Hardy’s new unofficial house motto of ‘All the Jolly’ and the year was a raging success on the scoreboard of jolliness (it must, however, be said that there was less support for his ideas of changing the House emblem to a dachshund and its colour from gold to pink).

A double batch of fresh blood, with an influx of Year 8s as well as a whole new group of Year 7s, gave our Year 11 Peer Support Leaders a fulsome challenge to kick off the year. They handled it in spectacular fashion and the young ones were gently folded into the house mixture, before being topped with golden sprinkles of Craigie wisdom and striding confidently into the baking oven of high school life.

Ignoring such trivial activities as the Swimming and Athletics Carnivals, Craigie maintained a jovial level of dominance in the House Arts competitions. The debaters were on form this year and were unfortunate not to finish more highly placed as a consequence of a points countback. Dominic Hird was the man to be thanked for their success. James Heaton did a similar job, steering the fearsome chess team to a resounding second place. The might of the Craigie lightning-snake was carried forward most powerfully, however, by our public speaking combination. With the organisational prowess of our Year 10 speaker, Lachlan Ormonde, and the leadership of Morgan Palmer, our burgeoning orators pulled off an undefeated season, defeating arch-rivals, Naake, in a closely fought grand final.

Adding to the artistic picnic basket of Craigie goodness was the team behind the House Mural. With the theme of ‘biomass’, the boys put in a bio-massive effort to get the job done and, without assistance, achieved sixth place. Will Swarbrick and Ben Rosenstreich were the leaders of the pack, with a flock of younger boys helping them out.

The House Sports Carnival went decently, with several teams making the semi-finals. The touch rugby team was a force to be reckoned with, spearheaded by First XV warhorse Vafa Kiani, but inconsistency led to an avoidable defeat. Juno Sadeli was a true weapon in the soccer stakes, doing a great service to the House. Mentions must also be made to the team managers such as Jack O’Rafferty, who did a stellar job in keeping the teams in fighting form. True success came in the form of Jack Weir, who won almost all of his Year 8 events at the Athletics Carnival. An honourable mention goes to Michael Cassie, who showed a steely resolve to run a very long way at high speed, putting in a solid show in the 3000m event.

Some of our most outstanding performers chose to perform most outstandingly outside of School. Dominic Hird and Steven Eskinazi both made national selection for hockey and were most deserving of this accolade. Thomas Drake-Brockman continued a house tradition of being ridiculously good at chemistry, earning himself a seat along with a fancy new lab coat for the summer school for the Australian Chemistry Olympiad, having also been selected for Infomatics, which he had to decline.

I was extremely pleased to see our stalwart, Joe Dunne, receive the Hardcastle Cup and Will Mackay Borthwick was undoubtedly deserving of the Romeo Charles Award. The ever enigmatic Lachie Ormonde was this year’s recipient of the Quirk Cup. Congratulations to all of these boys. They are splendid examples of character and should be proud of what they have achieved.

I have been given great assistance this year by the House prefect body and together we have kept the ship steady. The tutors, as ever, have done an impeccable job in providing homely support for all the boys and are thanked profusely. It gives me great pleasure to see Stevie Eskinazi take the reins for 2011 and I wish him, his prefects and Mr Hardy the very best of luck for next year. Achievement and Responsibility and All the Jolly.

Coming off the notable success of the previous year, Hill House began 2010 with high hopes and great excitement as an able group of Year 7s and 8s strengthened our ranks. Under the leadership of Mr Thorne, an enthusiastic and highly motivated prefect body set their minds to retaining the Beatty Cup and our team of Year 11 peer support leaders did a marvellous job with two separate year groups in preparing them for what was to be an extremely busy year.

Our Beatty Cup battle began with the Inter-House Swimming Carnival, held at Challenge Stadium. The calibre of our swimmers for 2010 was quickly evident through hotly contested trials, which helped secure places in the House Team. On the night, orange dominated the stands as senior boys put in consistently strong performances and the younger year groups flaunted new talent. Our powerful relay teams saw us secure first place for the second year in a row.

The second major event on the calendar was the House Teams carnival. Over the green expanse of McGillivray Playing Fields, the Hill Boys strutted their stuff, the most notable performance of the day coming in soccer, in which we drew with our archenemy, Wolsey, in first place.

In the House Arts competition an extremely strong debating team came up against a grim reality as we accepted fourth place despite the valiant efforts of our master debaters. Our public speaking team, spearheaded by Vice-Captain of School, Ben Power, suffered an initial setback as we were relegated into the second group. However, we bounced back to form, finishing fifth. Hill's most prestigious House Arts team, the Chess powerhouse, managed to win more than one round, finishing with two points to add to the House total. The standout performance from the House Arts perspective remained the House mural. Under the guidance of Ms Yordanoff and students, Zac Vinten, Eugene Tang and Albie Iskandar, Hill claimed victory.

The boys' musical abilities were put to the test in the House Shout competition as we delivered an awe-inspiring rendition of the one and only 'California Girls' by the one and only Beach Boys. Special thanks must go to Ms Heane for her infallible belief in our singing prowess.

In the Inter-House Athletics Carnival the House had high hopes of placing. Although every Hillbilly put their best effort into this last event, the fierce competition surpassed our natural talent. Many individual accolades were presented to our best performers, Hill House taking out the Year 7 year group champions with Calen Simpson-Lewis third, Matt Akehurst in second and young Anthony Terpkos in first place. Tom England also claimed champion athlete of Year 10 for 2010.

The Disabled Surfing Association of WA was our chosen charity for 2010 and in addition to helping at Association events, the extremely successful Hill House Hill Climb again took place on Sunday 15 August.

An unforgettable centenary year was made possible by an incredible prefect body made up of my loyal deputy, Oliver Marshall, Vice-Captain of School, Ben Power, Nic Terpkos, Callum O'Brien, Jamie Turner, Lukas Kuster and Rupert Carr. Thank you for your dedication and hard work throughout the year, which made my job so much easier. Thanks must also go to Mr Peter Thorne, Head of House, for keeping his bugbears motivated and in line throughout the year. Of course, Hill House is also supported by an amazing group of tutors: Mr Hunn, Ms Hooley, Ms Gerber, Mr Hodnett, Ms Heane, Ms Yordanoff and Ms Hooper. Thank you. Finally, thanks must be directed to the boys of Hill House 2010, for without their inextinguishable spirit the House would not be all that it is today. They must be congratulated on an outstanding year and I wish the best of luck to Zac Vinten who heads an extremely capable leadership team for 2011.

2010 was an incredibly satisfying and successful year for the mighty Jupp House. In what was an action-packed Centenary year, the efforts of all members of the House led to many admirable and notable performances. The Beatty Cup commenced with the House Swimming Carnival. Unfortunately, Jupp was without one of its genuine superstars, with young Jesse Martino, champion boy of 2009, ruled out with a broken leg. Despite this, the younger boys of the House performed beyond expectations, landing Jupp a very creditable fourth place. A special mention goes to Tom Cunningham of Year 10, being crowned Champion Boy once again.

Jupp's performance in the Teams Carnival unearthed many future stars for the House and led to many impressive victories on the day. Perhaps the most potent duo seen since the Krakouer brothers, the performance of Cedric and Richard Taylor of Years 12 and 10 respectively lifted the senior football team to great heights, remaining undefeated throughout the day, winning the final decider by six goals in a 15-minute match. This was almost matched by the Junior Football team, who fell at the last hurdle by the narrowest of margins to finish second. Impressively, the dominance of the football teams was matched by the skilful displays from the handball teams, who also won their sport on aggregate points. Rugby once again performed very strongly, finishing second in its respective sporting division. A special mention goes to Jack Richardson of Year 9, who once again won the middle school cross-country in a dominant performance.

Whilst Jupp's performance in House Arts was disappointing, our rendition in the House Shout was nothing short of spectacular. Largely due to the efforts of Mrs Slater, we exceeded all expectations on the day, finishing second by the narrowest of margins. Among Jupp's stellar performers was Harry "tough guy" Dixon, whose reputation as a gritty football player was matched by his angelic voice.

The House Athletics Carnival was the last event in the calendar. This year, Jupp was joined by legitimate superstar and aptly named Zac Speed of Year 9, who was the standout champion. Tom Shenton and Jack Richardson also picked up multiple first placings. Jupp finished the day in sixth place.

On Tuesday 14 September, citizens of Jupp descended on the Mosman Park Bowls Club for Jupp's annual fundraiser, the Jupp Day on the Green. The Fundraiser was incredibly successful. $3000 was raised for our nominated charity, Parkerville Children and Youth Care.

Huge thanks must go to all the tutors throughout the year, as well as congratulations to Mr Downing. On a personal note, I would like to sincerely thank everyone who helped the House in 2010 and wish all the tutors, teachers, new prefects and boys the best of luck in 2011.

C'mon the Lime Green!

Whilst Moyes may not have achieved the results it deserved over the past few years, the boys’ enthusiasm never dimmed and we entered 2010 with an aura of confidence that can only come from wearing the dark green. With a batch of courageous and ready-for-anything Year 7s and 8s, 2010 began with their induction into our armour-wearing ways by hugely supportive Vice-Captain, Jack LeMessurier and by the time the Swimming Carnival rolled around, the new boys were well transitioned into the house.

After a solid effort from a number of our younger boys and avoiding the dreaded wooden spoon in the pool, the year was in full swing. Our extremely vocal crowd support put us in good stead for the House Stilout later in the year, where we claimed seventh spot through a combination of rousing Beach Boys lyrics (the Cadbury ads would never be the same again), some extraordinary dancing by Ben Thomas and Michael France (fully suited up, of course) and a cameo from our very own Justin Bieber (Sam McGinn). Heartly congratulations to all of the boys involved for really getting into the swing of things and giving the vocal chords a workout.

Term 2 heralded the beginning of House Arts – the true sport of men. With careful and calculated chess tactics, some truly moving oratory skills and much practice, our finishing positions across the board failed to truly represent the energy and effort the boys put into these events. Many of the younger boys showed great promise in these activities and I’m sure Moyes will be even more competitive in future years. The House Mural, beautifully designed by Jacob Wallace, was a veritable feast for the senses. Perplexing, then, was our fourth finish, but a superb effort nonetheless for all boys involved in the activity.

After some great individual efforts in the Teams Carnival, our sights were set on the Athletcs as 2010’s last big inter-house event. Regrettably, despite some strong runners and a tremendous attitude, Moyes finished eighth – truly a miscalculation of our dedication and spirit. Well done to all boys who participated, be it in running, throwing, jumping or supporting with Mr Harris on the sidelines. Despite being in a clear last position, our boys kept cheering on the relay runners, showing the real character of Moyes.

This did not dissuade a group of our Year 12s from carrying on what I hope will become a tradition in the House, the Moyes Amazing Race. Raising money once again for the Oaktree Foundation, our flamboyant and groovy costumes earned us a sizeable chunk of money for charity, a highlight being Aaron Smits’ Cookie Monster costume. Another key event was the Moyes Sundowner, featuring speeches from Johnathon Borella and Year 11 Curtis Spencer, which was a thoroughly enjoyable occasion.

As has been common in recent times, the Beatty and Eagling competitions failed to recognise the true strength of the Moyes family. Our participation, energy and enthusiasm are our true virtues. We did, however, finish on a high with a stirring win in the House Rowing regatta: a great effort by George and his team of rowers. A special thanks to Mr Harris for his leadership, to Mr Kalebic for Term 2 as acting Head of House and to all of the tutors. Most of all, a thank you to the boys and good luck to Sam McGurk and his leadership team for 2011. You have big shoes to fill and remember – the only way in 2011 is up.

2010 was another successful and illustrious year for Noake House. With a culture of excellence engendered by the ever-enthusiastic Ms Crawford and a strong House group, the boys were determined to match 2007’s feat of winning the Beatty Cup. We entered the year with strength and a certain sense of confidence that can only come from tolerating years of cries that “Noake is a joke”. I am happy to report that in 2010 Noake was again awarded the Beatty Cup and the title of Champion House.

In recent years, swimming has been Noake’s shining light, with consistently strong performances. This year was to be no exception. The boys put in a fantastic effort with the overall scores essentially level up to the final race of the night. Strong performances were put in by all, especially Charlie Moorman, Alex Mitchell and Lawrence Mitchell, who won individual trophies. Unfortunately, we were not able to continue a previous winning streak and placed second overall. However, what made the night for me and the other prefects was the level of participation, particularly from our new Year 7 Noakians, even though the event went past their bedtimes. Noake therefore emerged from the first event hungry and prepared for further victories.

We then moved on to the next round of the competition - the prestigious and often cut-throat House Arts Competition. Once again this was a Noake specialty and the boys from the Brown House were in fine form. The veteran debating and public speaking teams performed exceptionally well and the chess squad posted consistent wins. However, it was our rendition of the Beach Boys’ song “Barbara Ann” that truly demonstrated our artistic talent. Our re-imagining of this fine song, involving a three-part harmony, led to spontaneous dancing in the audience, particularly from Ms Wood and Ms Crawford, and propelled Noake to a strong victory in the House Arts competition. A thoroughly well deserved result.

The House Athletics Carnival loomed as the final event on the calendar. The Noake boys performed magnificently against a tenacious opposition. We were very aware of our current placing for the Beatty Cup and this spirit of competition enriched our efforts. Congratulations must go to Ruaridh Williamson who led the House to our strong finish, winning several key races and awards.

Noake consequently met the challenge provided by the year group of 2007 and won the Beatty Cup for the second time in our short history. It was my pleasure to be able to captain Noake in this historic occurrence. The Prefects and I enjoyed the warmth, camaraderie and sense of purpose that filled all activities of the House. I would like to take this opportunity to thank Ms Crawford and the other tutors for their efforts. Finally, I would like to wish the boys all the best for the future. Good luck and “take it to the limit”.

Spirit and strength were evident in everything Queenslea boys did in 2010. All 129 boys lived the motto and tried to do their best for Queenslea. We finished a close fourth in the Beatty Cup and all boys can be extremely proud of themselves for their fantastic efforts.

The first event on the Inter-house calendar was the Swimming Carnival, where we came third. Strong performances in the relays were the most pleasing to watch. The cheer squad was led by the Year 12s, with help from the Age Group Managers, Elliot Boys, Sam Matyear, Harry Fry, Luke Cranswick and Zac Riccelli-Evangelisti. The Teams Carnival was next. Our final overall result was seventh.

In the Arts domain our overall place was seventh. The wonderful thing about the Arts competition was that most boys participated in at least two of the activities. It’s a great way to have a go at an activity to see if you might like it enough to join an interschool team. The song was not well known by everyone, so fifth place was a really terrific result and a great credit to Elliot’s skill!

The theme for the House Mural was “Energy” and our topic was “Wave Power.” Our Vice Captain, Zac Riccelli-Evangelisti, designed our tiger with the help of Harry Fry, Rohan Golestani, Seb Simich and Daniel Collopy. To the boys’ credit we were judged second best – well done.

Elliot Boys did a fantastic job leading our public speaking team to the semi-finals. Wolsey just overran us, so we ended up fourth in an invigorating performance. Our chess team fought gallantly being organised by Sam Matyear. Unfortunately, we ended up eighth. Debating also finished a proud eighth. All debates came down to the line, but unfortunately for us it fell the opposition’s way each time, by one or two points.

In its third year as our House fundraiser, the Central Park Stair Climb provided some useful training before the athletics season. It also served as our House “Sundowner” event and we were joined by some very keen parents, who also served up a delicious morning tea after we returned to ground floor! We raised $4185 for the Make-a-Wish Foundation of Australia.

Athletics was the final event for the year and the tiger proved too hard to catch on the track and field. We improved on last year’s performance to take out the Athletics Cup in a stellar effort. Thanks to the prefects for running our team smoothly. The stand-out performances for Queenslea were our relays and the stand-out individual was Hamish St George, who was awarded the U14 Age Group Champion Trophy.

This year was Mr Gibson’s third as Head of House. His infectious enthusiasm for all things RED was mirrored by all our tutors: Dr Rose, Mr Harnwell, Mrs Brunsdon, Ms Finkemeyer, Mr Turkich, Ms McPhee, Mr McPartland and Mr Louden. On behalf of all the Queenslea boys, I would like to thank them all for their guidance, enthusiasm, organisation and help in making 2010 such an unforgettable year in the life of the boy.

2010 was a significant year for Christ Church Grammar School, as it celebrated, in style, 100 years. It was also a very enjoyable year for the boys who call Christ Church home for much of the year.

The Prefects who led the way for the Centenary year were Sam McGinn (Captain), Jake Smith-Wright (Vice-Captain), BJ Henneker, Ben Wall, Michael France, Jordan Scott, Juno Sadeli and Lukas Kuster. There were a number of regular duties attended to, including visits to Knutsford house for the Year 6-8s, assistance with recreational activities, helping the younger boys get ready for bed, speeches for chapel and, of course, our very much appreciated debriefing sessions at our Pizza Lounge meetings.

We would like to thank Mrs Dods and Mrs O’Hare for being such caring, well-organised and compassionate Housemothers. Also, to Canon Frank Sheehan and to Brother James for our broad and gentle spiritual guidance and support through Monday chapels, and beyond. To Colin Harrison (Alliance Catering) and his amazingly friendly and talented catering team, we all thank you, from the bottom of our stomachs. To all of the Residential Assistants, Stanley Seow, Jono Palmer, Jaryd Allen, Jarrad Turner, Cade Trigg and Matthew Kameron we thank you for being approachable and fun. You made our time in boarding more enjoyable by your genuine, caring and considered approach.

In particular, thanks to our hard working Senior Residential Staff, led by Mr Shane McGurk (Year 12 Coordinator) and well supported by Mr David Bourne (Year 9 and 10) and Mr Jason Lamb (Year 7-9). All worked well together to support the boys and were caring and approachable on all matters.

Coby ‘Hendo’ Henderson, our Recreational Officer, organised an extremely successful year with a large number and a wide range of activities every weekend as well as weekdays, with many boys taking part and enjoying every moment. Such activities put together included trips to Rottnest Island, paintballing, laser tag, cinema visits, Timezone, ten pin bowling, many socials, camping, ice skating and also basketball, soccer and table tennis competitions. Coby’s commitment this year has been very much appreciated. His humorous deliveries on Monday night chapel will be forever remembered (and missed).

The Director of the Residential Community, Mr Shane McGurk, concluded his appointment after ten years and will now continue teaching in the Futuresphere. We all have appreciated everything that he has done. He will be missed. Mr David Bourne, the Indigenous Liaison officer, Year 11 Year Group Coordinator and Geography teacher farewelled the Walters Residential Community as well as Christ Church as he moved south of the river to take up a position at Wesley College. Coby also said goodbye as he was appointed to a position at St Brigid’s College, Lesmurdie. A number of Residential Assistants, including Jono Palmer, Matthew Kameron and Stanley Seow have also said their goodbyes. All have been part of a very important part of our residential life and on behalf of all boys we wish them all the very best.

SECTION FOUR SPORTS
The Christ Church Athletics Team performed well at the PSA Athletics Carnival this year. Although finishing the day in seventh place, all athletes showed a first-class attitude and many recorded personal bests on the day. There were many fine performances, highlighted by five first places and seven second places in first division events.

The individual champion in the Under 13 age group was Anthony Terpkos, who competed in four events, claiming two fourth places. Calen Simpson-Lewis also performed strongly, taking second in shot-put and fourth in discus. Team mate, Maddi Akehurst, showed impressive determination and guts by winning the Division 2 200m in 27.2 seconds. The Under 13 relay team reflected the hope for the future of Athletics by finishing second in the 4 x 100m relay.

At the Under 14 level, Hamish St George was our best performer, recording marvellous victories in both flat jumps and claiming second place in the age-group. He leapt 5.09m in the long jump and covered an impressive 10.9m in the triple jump. His Year 8 colleague, James Hoey, was placed third in high jump and Luka Hancock was presented with the Coach's Award for his personal bests in both the 800m and 1500m events.

In the Under 15 age group, Zac Speed won the triple jump with a leap of 11.91m. He also claimed three second places in the long jump, 100m and 200m events. James Criddle's 1.7m high jump gained third place and Luke Liu claimed two second places in the Division 2 triple jump and long jump.

Scott McCallum ran the race of the day when he won the Under 16 Division 2 800m in 2.09 minutes, blitzing his previous personal best. Ben Robinson claimed second place in discus with a throw of 13.25m and Siyang Zhang competed strongly in both the 100m and 200m events.

Standout performances came from middle-distance star, Sam Foster, who tore away from the field in the U17 1500m, with a winning time of 4.08 minutes and came a comfortable second in the Open 3000m in 9 min 28.1sec. Ruairidh Williamson was the highest individual points scorer in the U17 age group, coming fifth in the 100m, 200m and 400m events. Alex Horton and Sam McGurk won their Division 2 events of 800m and 400m respectively.

Ashton Turner capped off five strong years of athletics at Christ Church by winning the Open high jump with his clearance of 1.81m. He also came third in the triple jump and participated in hurdles. Star thrower, Hayden Walley came second in shot-put and third in discus. Chris Reynolds, Captain of Athletics for 2010, showed good sportsmanship and leadership throughout the season, both at training and at event days.

It was great for the boys to be able to compete at WA's premier sporting facility and watch some incredible athletes perform. There are lots of positive signs for the future, with many Year 7 and 8 boys getting involved this season. I would like to sincerely thank all those who worked with the squad, especially since most of them were teachers in charge of winter sports. Many thanks go to Anthony Lynch, whose enthusiasm and commitment is contagious.

First and Second VI

In late Term 1, the CCGS Badminton fraternity began its quest to win the Brother Kelly Cup, with a series of tryouts and pre-season training for the First VI, which we hoped would be sufficient to get all the players into good form for the coming season.

With the start of the winter PSA season in Term 2, CCGS charged into their first fixture against reigning champions, Wesley, who had three state players in their line-up, hopeful for a good start. Unfortunately, the result left the First VI disappointed. We lost 8-1 to Wesley, with Obby McDonald’s win in his singles match the only thing that went well. The Second VI also suffered the same disappointment losing 8-1 as well. While the start wasn’t what the team had hoped for, the next fixture against Aquinas was one we knew we could win. The Second VI showed their true potential against Aquinas, managing to clean-sweep the opposition 9-0. On the other hand, the First VI dropped many winnable games to leave the score 4-4 at the start of the final doubles games. In a three set thriller, James Julian and Brian Wong held on to win the game and the fixture for CCGS.

Our next fixture against Guildford was the one that showed the results of the rigorous training the First VI had undertaken. The First VI won convincingly with a score of 7-2 and the Second VI also performed strongly with an 8-1 victory over our distant rivals. Next up was Hale, which was sitting second on the ladder whilst CCGS was just trailing them on third. The team knew that if they won, they would be in a good position to mount a comeback against Wesley to clinch the cup. Unfortunately, illness crippled the First VI and they lost 6-3 against a very strong Hale team, leaving the team disappointed. On the bright side, the Second VI once again demonstrated their competence with a 7-2 win.

With mid-term approaching, the First VI hoped to win their fixture against our archrivals Scotch to end the half term on a good note. Although CCGS had put a very good team together for this fixture, the absence of our vice-captain,

FIRST VI BADMINTON

Steven Cole, hampered the First VI’s performance greatly and CCGS went down 7-2 against a much-improved Scotch. After a well-deserved break, CCGS stormed into the last fixtures of the first round of the winter season against Trinity and the First VI dominated 8-1 and the Second VI won 9-0.

Now it was the second round of fixtures for the PSA winter season which produced identical results to the first round, but one of the highlights was the closely fought games between CCGS and Hale, which Steven Cole and Matt Mackay fought down to the third set, but were unlucky, resulting in Hale clinching a 5-4 victory.

In a very arduous season, CCGS had experienced its fair share of wins and losses, winning five and losing five, which placed us fifth on the ladder overall. Although it wasn’t the best result for CCGS, the team had improved its badminton significantly as well as gaining many fond memories of their time. Thanks must go to our dedicated coach, Norman Anthony, for the countless hours he dedicated to the team and to our teacher in charge, Henning Holzheuer, for all his dedication and commitment. Special mentions go to Declan Saxon, our captain, and our most consistent player, Matthew Mackay. Special mention also to our most improved player and vice-captain, Steven Cole, who won the Best and Fairest award.

First VI

A season highlight was the epic three setter between the Third’s first seed, Robert Kupiec, and Guildford’s equivalent. The game looked to be going to the wire, but quiet assassin, Kupiec, managed to wear down his opposition, with the game result eventually determined by a dramatic forfeit with Guildford’s first seed announcing he could no longer play on.

The season was exciting and enjoyable, with all boys contributing to the competitive, but fun, atmosphere. Special mention must go to Thirds’ award winners Robert Kupiec for Best Player and the highly promising Haydn Cruise, awarded the Coach’s Choice. Meanwhile, Fourths players Matthew Thompson and Albie Iskander took out the Best Player and Coach’s Choice awards respectively.

Third and Fourth VI

Christ Church Grammar School fielded a veritable powerhouse of talented and enthusiastic Thirds and Fourths badminton players in 2010.

Ably led by Captain, Andrew Huynh, in the opening week, the 17-man squad produced an impressive result, with both the thirds and fourths teams comprehensively defeating highly fancied rivals, Wesley.

With confidence high, the boys participated in rigorous morning training sessions determined to cement their place in the competition. Captaincy was rotated on a weekly basis. The formula proved successful, with both Thirds and Fourths producing impressive victories over the likes of Aquinas and Guildford early in the season. The first loss came mid-season at the hands of our archrivals, a formidable Scotch. The boys rallied, however, and were soon back on the winning trail, with a confidence-boosting thrashing of Trinity College’s somewhat depleted squads.

Overall, the season was enormously successful with both the thirds and fourths finishing with a higher win to loss ratio for games played and thus topping their respective divisions.
Upper School

After a strong 2009, there were dramatic changes to the line up. Term 4 was a learning experience for the boys as many new faces were still adjusting to their new roles in the team. Our great coaches, Mr Macpherson and Mr Cecins, remained positive and determined to succeed this year.

To kick-start the new year, pre-season was held at the gym, where boys were able to shake off the summer rust and hone their skills. This took many hours of practice and hard work. Another key factor in the improvement of the team has been the incorporation of the new gym facility into our weekly routine, which has not only resulted in physical improvement, but also in team cohesion.

The first game of the season was against Wesley, a team we knew we could beat. The game was tough, low scoring and ended in dramatic fashion. With the vice captain and captain both sidelined by injury in the final seconds of the game, Wesley managed to squeeze out a narrow one point victory. Unfortunately, injury problems continued and we managed only one win for the season.

The Second and Third V had productive seasons, as younger players stepped up to the more open age groups of Saturday sport. The Seconds struggled, owing to a lack of leadership and managed just one win, but the Thirds were the most successful of all with three wins and three losses.

Jim Hall, Captain

Year 10

The 10A team started well with an impressive come-from-behind victory over Wesley on the back of a strong scoring performance from Doug Lewis. We then had a stretch of three tough matches against perennial power houses Hale, Trinity and Aquinas, all resulting in big losses. The team was well led during this testing period by point guard and floor general, Richard Taylor, who was probably our most consistent performer for the year.

We rounded out the season with matches against Guildford and traditional rivals Scotch, both of which were very winnable. Unfortunately though, it was not to be, with both these games ending in tight losses. The boys were solid on both occasions and started to execute their offences and play smart basketball. Larry Hutt proved to be a stalwart in defence, blocking shots and grabbing big rebounds while Louis LeMessurier returned from injury to provide much needed assistance in the guard department. Had it not been for injuries to key players and some foul trouble, the results could well have been different. The MVP award was given to Richard Taylor and the Coach’s Award to Laurence Hutt.

The 10Bs had a solid season, winning two and drawing one of their six matches.

Ben Purser, Coach

Year 9

The 9As had a challenging season that resulted in two wins and four losses. We played fantastic basketball at times, with some lapses at crucial stages costing us dearly. MVP was Jet Hunter, who was again the backbone of the team and the leading scorer. The Coach’s Award went to Tashi Stewart for his fantastic attitude and his ability to learn new plays after missing all of Term 4 through injury.

The 9Bs played valiantly to finish with a 2:4 win: loss ratio.

Brad Downing, Coach

Year 8

The 8A Basketball boys were very enthusiastic and very talented with each boy bringing something special to the team. After losing to Wesley in the first game of the season, the boys went undefeated by applying extreme defensive pressure and implementing a solid running game. They should be congratulated on their spirit, enthusiasm and sportsmanship. This group of boys has a lot of potential and could one day bring the Blackwood Trophy to Christ Church. Chris Popovic was voted Most Valuable player by his peers and Ryan Crisp received the Coach’s Award.

Antony Kalebic, Coach

It was fitting that the last game of the season for the 8B team should see the two unbeaten teams face off in what turned out to be a strong and competitive game. CCGS was narrowly beaten by Scotch 25-28 in a match that lived up to expectations. The victories in the previous five games were relatively comfortable and CCGS was well in front by half time allowing the squad to practice tactics and moves. Congratulations to all the boys on a fine season and to Peter Lewis on being awarded the Most Valuable Player award as well as Daniel Speers, who received the Coach’s Award. Let’s look forward to a better shot-count later in the year.

Allan Hallett, Coach

Year 7

In this inaugural year of the Year 7s playing in the Senior School PSA Competition, the 7As played six matches and won one, whilst the 7Bs played five and won one.

First XI
In much the same manner as we did last year, the young men of the CCGS First XI confidently set out to capture the prestigious Darlot Cup for just the third time in our School’s history. However, it was not to be. A season of under-achievement and disappointment ended in our seventh place competition finish. In the words of Tony Greig, “Be that as it may”, the 09/10 season showed a bucket full of promise and talent that will no doubt hold the Club in top shape for a tilt at the prize next year.

In the first match of the Newson Cup, renowned cricket tragic Matt King scored 102 runs in typical dogged fashion. Alex ‘Bowler’ Cowan, had a firm start to the Newson Cup, becoming the side’s top run scorer, an outstanding pre-season epitomised by a resilient 112 against Guildford. Throughout Darlot, Alex rose to the challenge to cement himself as the side’s best fielder.

Ashton Turner led the Western Australian U17s team to the national championship and was rewarded with a visit to the Cricket Australia Centre for Excellency in Brisbane. Ashton was able to better Ric Charlesworth’s individual runs record for the School in scoring 180 and the all-time partnership record of 245, along with vice captain, Callum Howe, who also scored a great 101* in that game.

Opening bowler, Mark Crawford, embodied the virtues of consistency, mateship, and general excellence. He established himself as the man to count on – able to bowl with pace and consistency, often taking vital wickets. He was a consistent run scorer in the middle order, being a part of many important partnerships. Stevie Eskinazi battled hard with several injuries throughout the year. However, Stevie was our most consistent batsman, guiding us to our first win with a majestic 117 against Aquinas. Ben Lawrence was the glue in our middle order, contributing to several important partnerships without any large individual scores.

Left arm swing bowler, Lachlan Hunn, made a big impact, taking two three-wicket hauls in Darlot, alongside Mike “Hunter” Riddle who, as a Year 10, is already terrifying batsmen. These are great signs for next year. Matthew Mackay, William Crohan and Denver Stove all applied themselves to the best of their ability without just rewards for their efforts.

Thank you to Mr Watson, Mr Greig, Mr Turner, Mr Anderson and Mr Haskett for all their efforts over the last few years – we wish the boys best of luck for another fair dinkum crack at the Darlot cup next year.

Ashton Turner and Ben Lawrence, First XI players

Second XI
With a nucleus of talented Year 11 cricketers plus the experience of the older boys and the direction of Mr Anderson, the Christ Church Second XI cricket team was set for a memorable season. Dominic “Dominicus” Hird, Lachlan “Honey Bear” Hunn and Jacob “Cube” Nazroo all made their Darlot debuts after performing well on a regular basis for the team and Patrick “Downtown” Dyer’s performances in the second half of Term 1 were memorable as he strung together runs and wickets aplenty to twice pull the team from several wickets down to a competitive total. In Term 1 competition the boys had three wins and three losses, a fantastic effort considering a run of injuries. The hard-toiling Alex Horton and Dominic Hird stepped up to snare early wickets for us. Dominic Hird’s six-wicket haul against Guildford was commendable, including five at the death to help secure the win. Robert “Buttaz” Buttner was ever reliable behind the stumps, ensuring the spin trio of Vibhushan Manchanda, Jim Heaton and Jack Featherby could capitalise on opportunities. “Featherby” was brilliant with the bat as well, combining with opening partner Harry “Malalous” Stevenson to frequently terrorise the opposition’s opening bowlers. A must-mention was Will Hargreaves’ brilliant ton against Guildford in Term 4. Josh Blakiston provided continuous entertainment with the bat and his instincts in the field and he should be a weapon next season. William “Burnzy” Crohan contributed all round in the last two fixtures as well to finish off the career, while the charisma of Sherhan Sidhu was unforgettable. Thanks must go to Ando and JT for their tips and tricks as well. Dom Hird was awarded the Fairest and Best prize and Pat Dyer won the Coach’s Award.

Vibhushan Manchanda, Captain

Third XI
The 2010 season started with considerable promise, given the strong showing the team made late last year. The season proper, however, became a roller coaster ride of ups and downs. This started with a surprising loss to a fairly ordinary Wesley team in a game that showcased one of the great Thirds wicket keeping catches taken by Patrick Whitely to a top edged Peter Keeves bouncer. From this disaster we went on to a convincing win over Trinity; a game that saw Obby McDonald take a “freakishly brilliant” outfield catch and a Seb Ewing double, with a five wicket bowling haul and a rapid paced 28 runs.

The highlight of the season, however, was the demolition of a powerful Hale team in a game that saw our opening attack of Obby McDonald and Peter Keeves snare three wickets, each for very little. The next game against Aquinas, who were bolstered by the unusual inclusion at this level of three “recovering from injury” First XI players, saw a narrow loss with only three balls left in the match. It also saw a rapid fire 30 from Seb Ewing and some extremely spirited bowling by co-captains, Obby McDonald and Peter Keeves.

From this near miss we went on to thrash Guildford, scoring a 20 over 201 that saw fifties from Benji Kotkis, Jake Welton and Seb Ewing. This was in reply to a paltry Guildford total, due to a canny two for two from Sherhan Sidhu and a three for two from the emerging Andrew Beyer. The Scotch game was a disappointment where we struggled to chase 158, despite another fine fifty from Benji Kotkis.

All in all, ups and downs, brilliant catches, dropped chances, great strokemaking, abysmal batting and some reasonably consistent bowling was the story of the season. Obby McDonald and Peter Keeves were worthy co-captains and most players contributed at various stages. The Coach’s Award went to Peter Keeves and Seb Ewing won the Fairest and Best trophy.

Simon Hunn, Coach

10A

The Year 10 boys were ready for another exciting cricket season. The first game was against the well-prepared Hale. We lost convincingly, despite some excitement from Tom Kenny with 49. In the all day game vs Scotch the team was lifted to a mental win with James Burnett’s inspirational 56 to get close to Scotch’s score. Shyam Menasse and Ben Hooper got some runs on the top of the order and James ‘skips’ Glover and Andrew Williams were the top bowlers. Tom Kenny won the Best Player award with good stats with the bat and ball. Ben Hooper won the Coach’s Award because of his enthusiasm on training and game days. Overall, the team had a fun and enjoyable season.

Peter Turkich, Coach

The 10B cricket side enjoyed a highly successful season. The win/loss sheet doesn’t demonstrate this success, however, with the team registering just one victory for the season, against Guildford Grammar. Rather than focusing on the win/loss record as a measure of success, I want to recognise the vast level of improvement in all individuals which was reflective of a strong work ethic and a willingness to listen and heed advice. Due to low numbers in the 10B side, the Fourth XI often joined the 10Bs and these boys are to be commended on providing great leadership to the younger players. Special mention must go to Tom Shenton who won the Coach’s Award and Most Improved Player due to his hard work to improve his bowling action. Kieran ‘t Hart was awarded the Best Player for scoring the most runs for the season as well as for taking plenty of wickets.

It was a pleasure to be in charge of a fantastic group of young men. I thoroughly enjoyed the season and I was appreciative of the efforts of all of the boys as they attempted to become the best players they could be. Thank you also to Peter Turkich for all of his support with the 10As cricket team.

Coby Henderson, Coach

The team enjoyed a fantastic season, winning our first ever game for CCGS and going on to win four for the season. A feature of the season was the contributions from all team members at various times of matches due to the team's rotational batting and bowling system.

In the match against Wesley we were sent in to bat and a superb opening partnership of 62 by Jack Templeton-Knight (49) and Matthew Horton (30) set the foundation for 134. Wesley was then dismissed for 123 with James Harding taking three wickets. In the match against Hale we scored 145 with Sam Blakiston making a classy 48 and Akash Roy a raid-fire 16 at the end of the innings. This total was too much for Hale, Kyle Kerton taking one wicket in a very economical four overs. The best victory of the season came away to Guildford with the team batting brilliantly, particularly placing the ball for ones and running hard between the wickets. Guildford was bowled out for 115 with James Enderby bowling very well.

Lloyd Haskett, Coach

9B

In a term of rather mixed fortunes, the 9B cricket team chalked up three wins and four defeats. For many the highlight was the match against John Forrest Senior High School on the Preparatory School oval. Another moral and actual victory was against Guildford Grammar, away, where a scoring book error by our hosts led us having to chase 81 runs in 15 overs, even though the home team only scored 59! We cruised home in style despite a mini-tornado and 38 degree heat. Due to the ever-changing nature of the team it was especially difficult to select the award winners. However, for consistency, grit and determination the Best Player medal was awarded to Campbell Draper and for his energy, tremendous efforts in training and all-round performance in matches, the Coach's medal was awarded to Migara Tennakoon.

David Proudlove, Coach

8A

With the change in format to limited overs and one fixture each week, there was an expectation that the shorter format would suit our hard-hitting squad. The team did not disappoint, producing a solid season and winning four out of the seven games played. Henry Williams, Jason Riddle, Jack Cowan and Andrew Morrissey played some impressive innings with the bat. Connor Oakley, Nick Pike, Ben Bartley and Hamish Gent all made important contributions with the ball and were ably supported by Paddy Fisher and Jock Stewart behind the stumps. Useful contributions also came from Lachlan Webster, Juri Bilicich, Peter Willis and James Harken. With the experience gained so far this year, team members can look forward with confidence to an even better season in 2010/11.

Mark Harrison, Coach

The summer of 2010 promised to be a big one for the 8B team from the beginning, with a resounding win against Wesley in which a 50 was soundly struck by James Harken, the exciting, raw leg spin bowling of Jackson Cogger-Clee and a strong cricket knowledge held us in good stead. The Best Player award went to Taras Melsom for his consistent performances and the Coach's Award to Juri Bilich for his enthusiasm and commitment, which ultimately led to a position in the A team.

Kyle Hookey, Coach

7A

The 7A cricket season 2010 was a season of great success. The depth of talent at our dispostion meant that, even on those rare occasions when quick wickets fell or our bowlers came under pressure, one always had the impression that everything would turn out well and, invariably, everything did. In short, the team excelled in all departments of the game. Everyone took wickets at different times and we gave away few runs in wides and no balls. Not only did the 7As win all their games, but the sporting manner in which they went about their business, their readiness to acquire new skills and the relaxed and friendly atmosphere which prevailed throughout the season, all made this group of boys a pleasure to coach.

Ashley Rickman, Coach

The 7B boys had a solid term of cricket with a nice taste of success as they came away with three wins from their fixtures. There were many stand out performers amongst the group which saw certain boys elevated to the As and also many fantastic performances from boys who were just beginning their careers as young cricketers. Laurence Vanderhor had a great innings of 36 at home against Wesley, which helped us to get over the line early in the term. This cemented his spot at the top of the order and he has shown great promise for things to come. The following weeks saw very consistent bowling and batting efforts from Hugo Campbell and Lachlan Yeo, which led to both boys being selected for the As. However, Jake Stergiou was the most consistent performer with the bat and ball throughout the term, which was a large contributor to our wins, such as the close victory over Guildford. Thank you to all the boys for a very enjoyable term and congratulations on your success.

The 7C cricket team did not taste victory all that regularly, but they certainly impressed with their determination and sportsmanship, and most of all, their courage. On most occasions they were put up against older boys; not once did they allow their heads to drop and there was a fine victory against Trinity. Stand-out performers were Fraser Marshall, who scored quickly and bowled with good pace and Jackson Manuel, whose bowling became more and more accurate and whose batting was often defiant against some intimidating bowling. Will Culleton also proved very difficult to remove from the crease.

Tom Iwanowski, Coach
Senior
The 2010 Cross Country season was a successful and enjoyable one for the Christ Church team. The 40 boys in the senior division trained hard throughout the pre-season, holiday breaks and the season itself. Each boy contributed to our end result of fourth place, positioning us well ahead of Hale, Wesley and Guildford.

Their hard work also paid off individually with most runners improving their times remarkably throughout the season. Newcomers to the sport, such as Peyton Caffey (Points award for Year 12 and Duncan Sullivan award for outstanding performance throughout the Cross Country season), Trent Hillam (Points award for Year 10) and Sam McGurk, regularly placed high on the leader-board, alongside old favourites, Sam Foster (Points award for Year 11 and Best Runner award) and James Knox.

The two highlights of the season were Sam Foster’s record-breaking run at Trinity and the All School 3XSkm relay team’s victory. This team was made up of Sam Foster, James Knox and Peyton Caffey and the boys were awarded Honours for this fabulous result.

Special mention must go to the Cross Country committee of Elliot Rampono and Vibhu Manchanda (co-captains), Jack LeMessurier (vice captain), Peyton Caffey, Jacob Wallace, Sam Coutts and Saxon Norgard, who provided support and encouragement to the younger members of the Cross Country team and assisted the coaches at training.

I thoroughly enjoyed coaching Cross Country this season and appreciated the support of the team’s professional coach, Chris de Boer. Chris, an 800m specialist who has competed at national level, brought a wealth of knowledge and competition experience with him and also introduced some combined training sessions with the MLC girls.

There is much potential for this sport, as demonstrated by the Juniors’ second place in the PSA competition. Increased numbers made for an eventful season for CCGS Cross Country in 2010. I hope that this interest continues and wish the boys the best of luck for 2011.
Claire Wood, Coach

Junior
This year saw the largest Junior Cross Country team that CCGS has had in recent history. With 33 team members in total, the sense of team spirit and desire to win was quickly established. This was helped by the regular training sessions with the senior team every Tuesday. After a promising start to the season, we managed to rise to the upper half of the PSA league table, regularly being placed third or even second. We sustained a few injuries, but this did not deter us and we finished a highly commendable second in the league overall. All team members, no matter what their ability, consistently tried their best at every race. A special mention must go to Jack Hawkesford in Year 7 for his natural talent in this sport. Luke Liu did an excellent job as Team Captain and Sam Foster was an inspiring Year 11 Coach. I greatly enjoyed my time with this wonderful team of boys and am very proud of their achievement. I am looking forward to even greater success next season. Well done, boys!

Tom Walton and Michael Morrissey not played so well initially and made themselves permanent fixtures in the Seconds.

I would like to acknowledge the efforts and commitment of those from the Second XIII and 10A squads who trained hard every week and were out there every Saturday morning giving their best whether the result counted or not. I would especially like to acknowledge the leadership of our Fairest and Best player, Tom Morrissey, as well as Fergus Stewart and Tom Kenny, who received the Coach’s Awards for their determination and improvement over the course of the season. Well done to all.

Don Marshall, Coach

The team of 2010 can be proud of their efforts and commitment to every game. The boys never stopped trying, even when the score-line was against them. One win from eleven games does not truly reflect the progress made over the season. Several major injuries and low overall numbers in the squad were a hindrance, as was a lack of height and weight against schools whose players looked like Year 12s against our team.

Highlights of the season included a win against Wesley on our second meeting, clearly showing our improvement. Every boy in the squad of 39 played at least one game in the ‘A’ side and performed at his best. During Term 2 we were blessed with the presence of Tom Stapylton-Smith and Byron Grealy, on exchange from South Africa. Both boys were outstanding contributors in a sport new to them and should be proud of their efforts. Also Quent Alcorn visited on exchange from USA and added strength and tackling skill to the team in Term 3.

Congratulations to two boys, Tom England and James Culleton, who were promoted to the 1st XVIII during the season and played significant roles in that team’s victory in the final round over Trinity. Many more will taste that level of football as Year 11s.

Drew McDonald, Coach

9As
The season started positively for the 9As with a good turn out to the first training session followed by a really solid intra-club match.

The highlight of the year was their one win for the season, a hard fought victory against Wesley College. The 9As went into the game with confidence, knowing that they had played very well against Wesley in the first round of the year, a narrow 23-point loss. With the team almost at full strength the boys were keen to turn the tables against Wesley and highlight the improvement that they had made throughout the term.

Captain Charlie Evans again led the way with his attack at the football and pressure around the contests second to none. The 11 point win was very satisfying and was justification that the boys had improved and gave them the belief that they could match up with the other teams, so long as they maintained their dedication and concentration for the whole four quarters. Best of luck for next season, boys.

Coby Henderson, Coach

8A
The 8As enjoyed some success this season and there is no question that the team had many talented boys. The challenge will be to continue to improve over the next 12 months and I encourage the boys to work at their skills and strength over the coming summer season so that they can compete with the top sides. Highlights for the year included beating Scotch, great games against Trinity and Aquinas and beating Guildford at home.

Fairest and Best for the team this year was Andrew Somerville-Brown. Runner up went to Patrick Fisher and the Coach’s Award went to Hamish Gent. Well done to these three boys, but the strength of this group is that they have many others who could easily have won these trophies. I would like to acknowledge the contribution of Henry Burton and Matt Rawlinson, both Old Boys, who helped with training and game days this season. It has been great to have these two involved and I am sure that the boys gained a lot from their experience.

David Bourne, Coach

Year 8/9 B
This season proved to be a demanding one for our boys. We struggled at times to field the maximum amount of players and this made some of our games a one-sided affair. There was a strong emphasis on improving kicking skills throughout the season and Mr Gillies’ influence in this area was significant. Many Year 8s showed great improvement and were given the opportunity to play up in the 8A team. Jack O’Grady received the award for Best Player and James McQuillan and Lewis Oliver the Coach’s Awards.

Andrew Jefferies, Coach

Year 7
2010 saw a keen 32 players involved in Year 7 football. Unfortunately, this was not quite enough for two teams and meant a very large bench each game. The boys showed great improvement throughout the season and had a great win against Guildford at Guildford.

Tim English won the Best Player award and he shows considerable potential. He played in the ruck, centre half forward and in the centre. His performance at Guildford was a large factor in our victory there. The runner-up awards went to Paris Murdock and Alistair Draper. Both boys worked very hard all year playing in the midfield.

Darren McPartland, Coach
First XI
2010 was a successful season for the CCGS Hockey Club, starting with an undefeated pre-season trip to Melbourne, where the boys were able to start bonding as a team and develop strategies and tactics that set the foundations for the coming season.

The strength of the Christ Church Hockey Club was shown after reclaiming the Tregonning Trophy from Hale School. After last winning the highly sought-after silverware in 2007, it came down to the last two matches of the final round at Mt Claremont. It was an inspirational performance from the Club with all games from the 7Bs to the 1st XI team counting towards the total points score. Big turnarounds in Round 2 were made by the 10As and Thirds, losing 1-11 and drawing 1-1 respectively in the first round and both winning well in the second round.

Unfortunately, we lost First XI coach, Brad Ladyman, a week before the season began. We were, however, very lucky to secure the services of Ed Welch, who played for Canterbury in the English Premier League before moving to Perth and playing in the AHG Classic League for Westside Wolves. Assisting Ed was Old Boy, Richard Stevenson, captain of the 2007 winning First XI side.

The First XI side had a very successful season, with a strong group of Year 12 and 11 students and one Year 10 student. With such a close competition, every game was important and the highlights of the season were winning both games against Scotch and the second round win against Trinity. After only dropping points to Aquinas, losing in the first round and narrowly drawing in the second round, we went into the final round of the season a point behind Aquinas, needing a win and for them to either draw or lose to Wesley. Results went our way with Wesley beating Aquinas and Christ Church beating Trinity in a fiery and hard-fought contest, meaning we won the PSA Title with 31 points, two points ahead of rivals, Aquinas.

We had a good representation of players in Western Australian Teams this season, with Kyle Smith being selected in the Under 18 State Team and Dominic Hird, Thomas Goodbourn, Harry Stevenson and Stevie Eskinazi representing the state in the Under 15 State Schoolboys team. Dominic also made the Australian Schoolboys team and Stevie was selected as a shadow member.

We wish the boys well for their coming tour to South Africa and look forward to another successful season in 2011.

Many thanks to all coaches and parents who were involved throughout the season. The School does appreciate the wonderful support that our highly interested and keen parents provide.

Seconds
Several of the Seconds made the trip to Melbourne and benefitted from the early season game time. Sam Kendall and Patrick Mackenzie were appointed coaches for the year in their first coaching role at CCGS. The Seconds played 11 games, winning five and losing six, leaving them in fourth position overall. Several of the losses occurred in close games that could have gone either way. The best wins of the season were against Guildford (7-0) and Hale (4-2) after being 1-C down at half time. The games were played with good sportsmanship each week. Best players were Jordan Moore, who was rewarded with the Best and Fairest trophy and James Cowe won the Coach’s Award. Other consistent players throughout the season were Simon Hall, Jordan Scott and Matthew Storer.

Stephen Zander, Manager

Thirds Hockey
One of the visiting gap students, William Walker, took on the task of coaching the Thirds this season. They played nine games, winning four, drawing two and losing three. Several of these were losses by only a single goal. The boys’ efforts resulted in their finishing fourth overall. The best win was against Aquinas 4-0. The boys who turned out each week always put in a fine effort, playing with spirit and determination. George King was awarded the Best and Fairest Award, whilst William Swarbrick was awarded the Coach’s Trophy. Thanks must go to Daniel Hill who was willing to take on the role of goalkeeper in most of the games. Other consistent players included Callum Stocling, Cameron Todd and Matthew Vercoe.

After a difficult start to the season with a number of hockey boys on exchange, the Year 10 group finished the season off strongly. Coached by Old Boys, Jon Parry and Jack Campion, the boys finished the season second overall, winning seven games and losing four. The boys grew in strength and confidence under the positive guidance of their coaches and manager, Pam Yordanoff. Angus McMillan, Charlie Jude and Callum Campbell showed their talent in training sessions and games and were asked to train with the Firsts side once a week, with Angus later being selected to play in the Firsts. Charlie Jude was named the Fairest and Best Player for the season, with Alistair Morgan awarded Runner Up Fairest and Best. James Burnett and Hugh Binning were both awarded a Coach’s Award and should be commended for their commitment and efforts to the team this season.

Rebecca Bridges, Teacher-in-Charge

Year 9
With just 23 boys enrolled to play hockey in Year 9 and the Kooringa camp programme inevitably taking a toll, the group knew they were in for a tough season...in fact; 19 boys played in the As this year and this was great experience for developing hockey players. In the 11 game season the A team enjoyed several successes. We hope the boys enjoyed their season in 2010 and aim to entice a few mates to the sport as well next year.

Neil Saggers, Coach

8A
The Year 8s had an enjoyable season showing massive improvements. As the season progressed they learnt how to play as a team and showed outstanding sportsmanship. Their enthusiasm and will to succeed enabled them to win five games, lose five and draw one. Whilst not a win, the most impressive game of the season was against Aquinas in the second round, where they drew after losing convincingly in the first round, demonstrating their improvement and strength of character. While all the boys should be commended on their individual skill development and commitment to the team, Dan Timms and Henry Mony de Kerloy need to be congratulated for their leadership and outstanding contribution to the team, with Dan being awarded the Fairest and Best and Henry the Coach’s Award.

Rebecca Bridges, Coach

7A
The 7A boys showed a marked improvement throughout the season. After a shaky start the boys became a very good team, one that is destined for continued improvement in the years to come. One of the impressive aspects was the willingness of all boys to play unfamiliar positions and take and act on advice given. In addition, the boys worked hard at training and are genuinely proud to be playing for their teammates and the School. I was very pleased with their sportsmanship, camaraderie and determination. Hugo Campbell was awarded Best and Fairest for his outstanding leadership and hockey skills. Max Evans won the Coach’s Award for his commitment to hockey and his tenacious endeavours throughout the season. I extend my thanks to the boys for their efforts and enthusiasm.

Murray Robertson, Coach

7B
Everybody on the 7B Hockey team improved their hockey skills and team work during this year’s season. The Coach’s Award went to Vidit Lall and the Best and Fairest award to Gareth Shanthikumar.

Linda Lauridsen, Manager
The 2009-2010 rowing season saw the beginning of a new era for Christ Church Rowing, as the school moved into its hundredth year. The purchase of the new Italian-styled Fillipi VIII was an inspirational addition to the fleet and also meant that every successive crew got a better boat.

The season commenced with a hearty attitude determined to dominate the Guilford regatta. After the experience of the Christ Church Time Trials, the boys knew what was required for success and, as such, they held up a strong front and performed admirably to take out many races, with the 1st VIII and 3rd VIII winning and the 2nd VII coming third. This strong result bolstered the spirits of the subsequent Saturday festivities and of the boys. The tour, as reported on page 46, further improved our fitness.

Then the racing part of the season began. Christ Church performed well in the lead up regattas to Head of the River, with the Thirds, Seconds, and Firsts going through undefeated at 2000 metres. The younger years also performed well, with several strong performances showing promise for the future of rowing at Christ Church. At last Head of the River came, and all crews raced well, demonstrating the never give up attitude on which Christ Church prides itself. The Year 9s showed a marked improvement from the start of the season. The Year 10s also performed well, with the 10A Bs coming fifth in what was a solid competition and the 10B Bs pulling off a strong third, which was a big improvement over fifth place at the penultimate regatta. The senior squad was our most successful, with the Third and Second VIIIs taking out the record for their respective races, as well as going through the season undefeated. The two senior quads also took out first place, showing remarkable improvement over the season, and demonstrating the hard work that had gone into the season. The First VIII raced well and were extremely unfortunate not to beat Trinity, but the two crews demonstrated their dominance over the rest of the field, with there being 16 seconds between second and third place.

Of course, the season went ahead because of the support, time and effort of the parents, coaches and the Don Fraser Club. To the parents: thank you for putting up with the early mornings and ensuring that your boys got to rowing on time and so saving them from the fabled wrath of Steve. An extra special thank you for providing and coordinating the breakfast for the rowing camp and for organising the CCGS Regatta. To the coaches: I would like to thank them on behalf of the boys for all of their hard work throughout the season. We have...
I learnt so much from them and are much better rowers due to the time and effort they put into the sport. In particular, I would like to thank Simon Cox, the coach of the First VIII, as the crew greatly appreciated his coaching, bad jokes, pointless stories and support. A colossal thanks must go to Steven Saunders, Director of Rowing, for all his effort in both coaching and running the squad to make sure everything ran smoothly. The boys truly appreciate all the time and energy he devotes to it.

There is much to be said for this season, but if I had to describe it in one word, it would be 'great'. There is much talent within the Club, showing great promise for seasons to come. I wish the younger boys all the best for the next rowing season and look forward to watching them race at next year's Head of the River.

and determination on show every Saturday and the large squad reflects the increasing popularity of rugby at CCGS.

Special mention must be made of Mr Will Reid's extraordinary contribution to this team. He has a wealth of experience in both coaching and playing at the highest level and I thank him for his commitment to the boys over a challenging season.

Year 10 Awards

Coaches' Award: Ben Hooper
Fairest and Best: James Newcombe

Year 9
This was a testing year for the Year 9 team. Although they started the year with a good number of players and lots of talent, a combination of injuries and school camps meant that they struggled to field a full team most weeks.

All the boys can be proud of their achievements - every single boy made an important contribution on the field during the course of the season.

For the most part it was a successful season for Year 9 rugby, even though the results on the scoreboard were not as good as we would have liked. There is a solid foundation to build upon for the coming years and it will be an exciting time for rugby and CCGS as these boys enter the senior ranks.

I would like to thank Mr Chris Anderson and Mr Patrick Louden for their wonderfully positive contribution to this team, often in the face of dwindling numbers at training.

Awards
Most Improved: James Criddle
Coaches' Award: Blair Ward
Fairest and Best: Jack Cooper

Year 8
It is a rare commodity these days to have such a large squad of talent, enthusiasm and love of rugby in a single year group. These players won their competition with running and creative rugby, backed up with committed defence and belief in each other.

The team had talent across the park and also on the bench, not allowing individuals from any other team to dominate. This was highlighted by the game against Aquinas, where uncontested scrums allowed a very talented athlete at No. 8 for Aquinas to have an enormous number of runs at our team, yet never getting through, especially as a result of the efforts of winger, George Foskett.

The future of this team is very exciting. There is a great deal of hard work to do if the same results are to be achieved in future years, but nobody doubts their commitment.

Awards
Most Improved: Dylan Boggetti
Coaches' Award: Finnian Mark
Fairest and Best: Jason Riddle (Captain)

Year 7
The Year 7 side had the great fortune of acquiring last year's First XV coach, Luke Watson, as their senior coach. He has such a passion for all aspects of the game and the team has, in time, responded to his structure and game plan. He was ably assisted in his coaching by Gus Mickle, a member of last year's First XV and an excellent role model for the boys. Chris Miles and Tom Jer-ram also assisted at specialist training sessions.

Players such as Max Cumberland and Jack Duffield improved greatly throughout the season. Chai Jeganathan also made great strides and earned a couple of starting berths before the end of the season. Ryan Yovich made the wing position his own with great counter attack and finishing. Cameron Brown has developed into an outstanding prop who is not only very good at scrum time, but also possesses very strong defence and is great at the breakdown. Harry Bain also shrugged off the normal criticism of Aussie Rules players by repeatedly putting his body on the line at fullback, making several crucial tackles throughout the season.

In 2010, the Christ Church sailors had a year of much-deserved improvement and success. With the Year 7s being introduced into high school, the number of sailors grew substantially in all levels, be that recreational, development or competition.

In the first term holidays, the School's top sailors competed in the Secondary Schools State Teams Racing Championships, which attracted school teams from across the state, as far away as Esperance. Christ Church entered two teams this year, both of which were very competitive. The B team, which contained a number of up and coming developing sailors, finished up in tenth position, after some tough losses against other schools. The A team was undefeated throughout the entire event, coming out victorious and, as a result, giving the team selection to compete in the national titles in Adelaide.

The National Secondary Schools Teams Racing Championships was held in the July school holidays at the Port River Sailing Club, a small yacht club situated on the side of a large shipping channel. The team had high expectations of doing well and spent three to four days a week out on the water training. With a couple of new Year 8 boys on the team, we were hoping that they could be the difference in helping us achieve a better result compared to that of previous years. The team was made up of skippers, Kevin Punselie, Samuel Gilmour and Lachy Gilmour and crews, Max Giudice, Tom Leaversuch, Jamie Turner and Shannon Wright. After a shaky start to the regatta, the team managed to come out in first position after the round robin series. On the final day's racing, Christ Church again came out on top, in a relatively easy final against our neighbours, Scotch College, to be crowned the 2010 National Champions, a feat not achieved by Christ Church since 2006.

This has solidified the School’s reputation of producing quality sailors, no matter their age or level. There have been a number of coaches helping out this year, namely Andrew Gill, David Gilmour, Patrick Louden, Geoff McGillivray, national team coach, Luc Tasker, and head of sailing, Patrick Marshall. It has been a privilege being part of this year’s sailing cohort and I wish the younger boys the best of luck for sailing in 2011 and beyond.

First XI
The team was full of anticipation as we approached a pre-season practice match against Wesley College. Winning the game convincingly (thanks to a goal from Benjamin Kotkis that caught the opposition’s keeper off-guard), CCGS approached the season with high hopes and a positive attitude. Mark Lee’s professional style of coaching and enthusiastic approach propelled the team into a winning mentality. Unfortunately, this wasn’t rewarded. With several draws and a couple of losses the First team’s spirits dwindled and were further weakened by several changes to the team due to injury. By mid-season CCGS was looking at fighting for the bottom table positions.

Extra training held on Mondays and extreme drill routines were a highlight of Mr Lee’s and Mr Phillips’s coaching and increased the endurance and skills of the team. Inspired underdogs, the team was willing and keen to finish the season on a high. The last three games were not helpful in achieving this goal as we were up to face Hale which was undefeated, Scotch which was third and Trinity second from the top. The cocky Hale players thought the score card was already completed and their reluctance to warm-up for such a poor team as CCGS only infuriated the men in yellow. The Hale team was obviously not ready for the intensity the CCGS boys subsequently brought to the game and the trickery of Callum Howe resulted in a sublimely taken goal. The final score was 4-1, a great win for us and definitely the highlight of the season as it was the Hale boys’ only defeat.

The season’s ‘grudge’ match against archenemies, Scotch, was mouth-watering. The tension on the sidelines was palpable. Kevin Punselie, who had been elevated from the Seconds, tormented the opposition from the off and it wasn’t long before his cross found the head of Nick Harris who finished superbly. The game was won after a pinpoint pass allowed Punselie to again cement his place in the team, powering it past the keeper.

We would like to thank Mr Phillips, Mark Lee, Mr Lynch and our favourite cheerleader ‘Rizzo’ for all their effort and support. during the season. Congratulations to Callum Howe who won ‘Fairest and Best’ and Max Welton, who was runner-up.

Jake Welton, Captain

Second XI
It was a season of near misses for Second XI soccer. The team was dogged by inconsistencies in attendance and a continually changing starting eleven. Nevertheless, we managed to achieve a series of very close results against the best teams in the competition and were unlucky not to register a win for the season. The quality of the team was highlighted by the promotion of both Giorgio Savini and Kevin Funsele to the First XI. The future looks bright with the majority of players being in Year 11 and therefore having the opportunity to build upon the solid foundations set this season. Of particular note were the consistent performances of captain, Giorgio Savini, which earned him the Player of the Year award and our fearless goalkeeper, David Cowe, whose dedication to training and matches made him the obvious winner of the Coach’s Award.

I would like to sincerely thank all players of the Seconds who made my time as coach an enjoyable experience.

Todd Harnwell, Coach

Third XI
Many familiar faces returned to the Thirds team this year, hoping to match our performances from 2009. Certainly, our season started spectacularly with a 9-0 win over Wesley College where James Dernie (with five goals) and Callum Morgan starred up front. We followed this up with a victory over Aquinas College 5-2, in a come-from-behind win highlighted by Duy Vo’s goal, which turned the match in our favour.

Our third game resulted in a win against Guildford Grammar 5-1. Our next game was against Trinity College and we were desperately unlucky not to come away with a draw, with numerous last minute chances just missing. We lost the game 2-3.

Our rematch with Wesley College was again a convincing win with the star performance being from James Dernie with two goals. This was followed by a 2-2 draw with Aquinas, where Alex Hill stood out at left back. Our away game at Guildford Grammar saw a depleted line up win 2-1. This was followed by a loss to Trinity College 2-6.

The boys played their games with high spirits, great teamwork and good sportsmanship, evident throughout the season. James Bai was the captain and led the team with distinction. The Best and Fairest medal was awarded to David See and Juno Sadele received the Coach’s Award.

Michael Masterton, Coach

10A
In spite of Harry Kewell’s exploits, it would be fair to say that in his first season in Australia, the coach of the 10A Soccer team was not expecting too many fireworks. A 3-2 defeat at the hands of a workmanlike side from Christ Church having twice held a lead! would have led to further pessimism, but the boys made it quite clear in the fixture that when the chips were down, they had plenty of stomach for a fight. So it was to prove for the remainder of the season. Subsequent defeats against Aquinas, Hale, and Trinity might have made other sides lose hope. However, it was to the boys’ enormous credit that they turned things around and went through the rest of the season undefeated (barring another loss to the competition’s outstanding team from Trinity). Indeed their prolific goal-scoring meant that they finished second overall.

Sound performances in the first round of fixtures opened with a comfortable win against Wesley on a postage stamp sized pitch where a defensive clearance became a direct shot on goal. The away fixture to Guildford was a walk in the water park as reflected by a 5-0 score line in a game that at times was confused with water polo. Secret weapon Caleb McGlew debuted with an impressive hat trick. Trinity and Hale were always going to be challenging, but the losses in the first round were rectified later in the season. Hale was defeated on its converted Hockey pitch and Trinity was out-thought on its oversized paddock in the deciding game.

Defensively, Kieran ‘t Hart was a rock and was awarded the Coach’s Award for the season’s most valuable player. Kieren Tan was declared Best and Fairest player for his inspirational and tireless performances.

Allan Hallett, Coach
member, Mark Oberman, who played for Australia 392 times and spoke about team effort and focus to ensure individual success. It was almost a relief to get to Challenge and start the competition.

What a competition it turned out to be...a titanic struggle between CCGS and Hale School, with fewer than 10 points separating the two teams at the completion of the individual events. Superb individual performances from James Hoey, Tom England, Tom Cunningham, Alex Mitchell and James Raymond, who swam up an age group and still won the 100m freestyle event, set things up for the final battle in the relays. Slowly, again with magnificent efforts by many boys and plenty of PBs, we built a lead, so that with one race to swim we couldn’t lose the Carnival. Our eventual 92 point winning margin was a result of 20 out of 24 relays finishing in the top three and ten of those relays winning. This also took into account two DGs in the Year 7 group, where excitement overcame relay changeover technique! Consistently, even if Hale won a relay, we would be second or third and when we won a relay, Hale would often be fourth or fifth. In virtually every relay our lead was extended by 5-7 points — truly a team effort where each boy paid attention to detail and gave his very best.

It was certainly a proud moment as Captains of Swimming, George Ford and Jake Smith-Wright, accepted the Dr KG Tregonning Trophy and we started celebrating our Centenary Year with a sensational PSA win! We have completed the 3-peat...Winners in 2008, 2009 and 2010. The CCGS student and parent supporters were going wild with excitement and the 120 swimmers were ecstatic with their efforts.

Head coach, Bill Kirby, continues to inspire and push our boys and staff. His talent identification skills are refined now to a high level and his reworking of our relay team makeup for the Inters definitely had a major positive impact on the night. He has set high standards and boys are responding. Well done to Age Group managers Megan Pentony (with the Year 7s), Rebecca Bridges (with a reduced cohort of Year 8s), Lloyd Haskett, Maggie McPhee and Katie Finkemeyer (who managed both the u/16s and the open age groups). These staff coordinated boys to ensure CCGS was as well represented as possible in every event.

Our student leadership group was also superb in its efforts to inspire and challenge the other boys to new levels of performance. Congratulations to Senior Swimmers, James Julian, James Moorman, Luke Cranswick and Cameron Yuen for their support of Captains, George and Jake, and their exemplary commitment and wonderful role modeling for the younger swimmers.

We handled the challenge of integrating Year 7s and completed a stunning victory at the PSA Inters — our most impressive win in our three year run. We are now the hunted in PSA swimming, having set particularly high standards and our challenges for 2011 must focus on even better performances and PBs and a comprehensive coverage of all strokes as we strive to make swimming an even more enjoyable and rewarding sport, where boys can contribute to a team performance by working together.

First VIII

At the beginning of the season I had great confidence in the Firsts’ ability to challenge for the Corr Cup. Unfortunately, just before School started in January, the School’s Number 1 player, Alistair Baker, was ruled out for the entire season with a stress fracture in his back. This was a massive blow to our title chances.

The first fixture allayed fears. We comfortably accounted for the strong Wesley line-up and it highlighted that in this competition a win by Number 8 gives as many points as a win from Number 1. There was a new sense of confidence and the team was starting to become a cohesive unit. After the demolition of Hale and hard-fought win over Trinity, we came crashing back to earth after a loss to Aquinas. We just didn’t play our best for this very important fixture and the boys knew it. The following week we took our disappointment out on Guildford, winning 24 to zero at Guildford. We only dropped a handful of games over the whole day.

This still left us with an opportunity to win the Cup should we overcome the powerful Scotch line-up. The Christ Church boys were soundly beaten on the score card. However, the match results did not reflect the closeness of the encounter. Many sets went to 7-5 or 7-6. The tennis played by all boys was some of the best tennis many PSA tennis followers had ever seen. This result saw us finish a very commendable third behind Scotch and Aquinas.

A special mention must go to captain, Daniel Ibbotson, who led from the front, played injured and finished the season very strongly. Lius Goh only lost one game at Number 2 and will be an important part of next year’s assault on the title. The player who won the Coach’s award, Nick Terpkos, had a fantastic competitive spirit that was a fine example to all in the team. Others to play Firsts tennis included Kanichi Shioji, Matt Hands, Sam Flynn, Callum Morgan, James Dernie and Declan Saxon.

Second VIII

The depth of tennis players at Christ Church has always been strong and this year was no exception with many of the boys having trained with the Firsts over the summer period. Unfortunately, the boys lost a couple of very close encounters and generally the results did not live up to expectations this season. A great win against top team, Scotch, was the highlight of the term, with other good performances away at Guildford and Trinity. The boys all have ability and must work hard over the winter to give them the opportunity to play in the top team by Term 4. Best Player, Tom Jenkins, was very consistent in all of his matches after returning from injury this season. Harry Breidahl was given the Coach’s Award for his determined and positive attitude throughout the entire season.

David Bourne, Coach

Third VIII

A strong field of tennis players at Christ Church saw over 30 boys aiming to represent their School at thirds level this season. We won more than half our games, with strong wins against Guildford (15-9 sets), Wesley (18-6) and Aquinas (17-7). Hale was our strongest competitor, with Christ Church going down 10-14 after a hard-fought game. The Fairest and Best trophy was awarded to Thomas Walton for most sets won in both singles and doubles, while the Coach’s Award for strong game performance, positive attitude and sportsmanship was given to Henry Parker. William Swarbrick’s and Jordan Scott’s performances were also commendable this season.

Sharyn Bana, Manager

Fourth VIII

The players of the Fourths Tennis Team, managed by Ms Hooley, would gather at the courts of CCGS early in the mornings, ready to compete for top spot of the rankings. Each Thursday was spent sharpening our tennis game, while on Fridays we would engage in a match against other members of the Fourths and Thirds, establishing the team ladder.

Few schools had a team to match ours, so we had a successful fixture against Guildford and a win over Aquinas due to their absence, meaning we were forced to compete against each other. Other Saturdays comprised a well earned rest after two hard training sessions, each one a good start to the final days of the working week.

Dianne Hooley, Coach
10A
We started the season by recruiting Nat Halligan and Kieren Tein from the Bs. Both rose to the occasion and proved to be reliable team members. The team moved up and down the rankings -0 to ensure a good tune-up. Our overall performance was marred by injuries and double-commitments, but still resulted in three convincing wins and three marginal losses, where two competitions were equal in sets, but lost by a few points. Harry Kasten received the trophy for Best Player and Nat Halligan the Coach's Award. By and large, the season was successful.
Harry Kasten, Captain

10B
The 10B Tennis Squad comprised a fine group of young boys, who were prepared to train effectively, work together and encourage each other in our week y fixtures. The season was a successful one, with only one loss and many boys challenging their skills by rotating their positions and playing at a higher level than they may have expected. Each player deserves an accolade for their efforts and commitment, but special mentions must go to Sam Stone, who won the 3est and Fairest award as voted by his fellow teammates and to Christopher Brand, who won the Coach's Award.
Michael Gillies, Coach

The 10C team's success continued on from their previous year. They defeated every team except for Hale. This was made possible by the enthusiasm and strength in the depth and breadth of talent in the team. Particular mention must be given to the excellent performance of Sam Fisher and Aiydn Wong. Thomas Holland, Jordan Grover, Tom Wright, Nick Cardaci and Stephen Kikilos are also to be commended for their determination and effort throughout the season. Special thanks must also be given to coaches at the Cottesloe Tennis Club.
Jody Clarke, Manager

trained well and had one game against Scotch 10C team. It was a close game and came down to the last two doubles, which we unfortunately lost. The Most Valuable Player award went to Kittitat Yuennan, and the Coach's Award to Alistair Morgan.
Linda Lauridsen, Manager

The team started well with successive wins against Wesley College (117-24) and Trinity (82-64), with every team member making a positive contribution. Unfortunately, we lost the remaining four games, three of them by small margins against: Hale (71-87), Aquinas (73-84) and Guildford (47-54). The Guildford game was marred by a long bus trip and shortened game time in intense heat (40°C) and hot winds, going down eventually by seven games. Our last game was against: top-placed Scotch College where we suffered our biggest loss of the season (97-44).
The standout player was Liam Kearney who won the Best and Fairest trophy and Nick Nielsen who was rewarded with the Coach's Trophy.
Stephen Zander, Manager
9B
It was a mixed season for the 9B Tennis team this year. We have won/lost equal numbers of fixtures, but worked hard every week. Congratulations go to Shaun Bong, who was awarded the Best and Fairest medal this year. Shaun won the highest number of games this season, had the best attendance and played in the Number two position throughout the season, always playing fairly and with consideration for others. Congratulations also to Tim Doukakis, who was awarded the Coach’s medal for all round achievement. Tim was reliable, friendly and listened to the coach, improving his game as a result.

Elisabeth Gerber, Manager

9C
The 9C tennis team had a successful season in 2009/10. Our only losses were to Hale and Scotch. We did manage to tie our fixture with Trinity when we played them at the State Tennis Centre. Our standout player, Charles Smart, was elevated to the 9B team mid-way through the season. Jia Loh played the majority of the season as our Number one and was awarded the Coach’s Award for his outstanding effort and sportsmanship. Nathan Tang and Kento Nakano consistently played well in the Number two and three positions. Cameron Chung played the majority of the season in position Number four. He won more games than any other player and was awarded the Best and Fairest medal. Cameron always demonstrated exemplary sportsmanship. Other solid contributors to the team were Michael Zhou, Tim Kong, David Linehan, James Liu and Julian Guiness.

The 8A tennis team has had its ups and downs this season. We started off with a good win against Wesley and ended with a magnificent victory against Scotch, but lost all our other games except for the Guildford match. Congratulations go to Jordan Grapsas, the winner of the Fairest and Best award, for his determination to do his best at all times and for his courteous and sportsman-like behaviour. The Coach’s Award went to Anshuman Pal for his honesty and dependable attitude.

Mrs L Curlewis/ Mrs Sue A’Court, Managers

Our season began with a resounding win over Wesley (63 – 22) followed by another victory over Trinity (82 – 62). However, the initial success came to an end with defeats against Hale (87 – 54) and Aquinas (93 – 51). We finished the season with a win over Guildford (72 – 54) and a close defeat at the hands of Scotch (62 – 59), giving us three wins and three losses for the season. The fairest and best award went to Richard Tien for his commitment and consistent performance on the court. The Coach’s Award went to Giuliano Procacci for his positive spirit, good humour and willingness to always give his best performance on the court.

Don Marshall, Coach

7A
The 7A team was so enthusiastic and really determined to do its very best each week. The boys won the majority of their matches with only two losses throughout the season. Ethan Gill was chosen as Best Player for his consistent wins and excellent sportsmanship and Tim English, Best Team Member, for his positive manner and sportsmanship.

Glynnis Ryan, Coach

7B
The new PSA competition saw some fantastic tennis from the mighty 7Bs. There was wonderful play from Mikael Johannessen and Callum White, cool and unfazed play from Nimrod Amanuel, moments of brilliance from Ddembe Kiberu, steely confidence from Sam Shellabear and the uncompromising style of Nunzio D’Arrigo, who would often talk his opponent into submission. Other stand out performances came from Shibi Doss and the dependable Stefano ‘I always gave it my best’ Tudor. Special mention also needs to go to Griff Owen, George Brown, Mark Dury and Harry McDonald who played wherever they were needed.

Jeff Chandler, Manager
Seniors

2010 proved to be a watershed year for Senior Water Polo at Christ Church Grammar School. Both the First and Second VII teams played excellent seasons, culminating in a premiership win. It is a rare privilege to win back to back seasons and to achieve premiership in the School’s Centenary year made this victory all the sweeter.

The season began with a spirited performance in the Tom Hoad Cup, an international competition held at Bicton every January. The First VII played several rounds and held their position to achieve Bronze medals at the conclusion of the event. Many thanks must go to the parents of our team, many of whom postponed holidays in order to remain in Perth for the week of matches. It was also wonderful to see Old Boys and parents of Old Boys who turned up to cheer on the CCGS team, a fine testimony to the passion and involvement that this sport engenders in its participants, past and present.

Under the seasoned eye of coach Scott Chrystal, the season commenced with a bang. One by one, PSA teams fell to the juggernaut that was the CCGS First VII. Trinity, Wesley and Guildford Grammar teams were quietly and ruthlessly decimated and, in one of the finest grudge matches in recent history, Aquinas College was dispatched, along with fellow rivals Scotch and Hale School. Our First VII emerged as unconquered winners with a perfect match record for the season.

Many thanks must go to our co-captains, George Ford and Luke Cranswick, who ably led the team to victory. Their skill and resilience were inspirational to the team and helped spur the boys on to victory. Once again, Daniel Cullingford’s uncanny defence skills in goal proved invaluable and special thanks must go to him. Chris Reynolds and James Moorman added depth and experience to our team, with James sustaining a spectacular nasal fracture mid-match, but bravely playing on. Lastly, Callan Sturgeon came back on board midway through the season and his skills and dexterity proved an asset to the squad.
New inclusions to the First VII, Charlie Foster, Callum Campbell, Andrew Ford, Tom Cunningham and Will Brogan, played exceptionally well and will be valuable assets to the teams of 2011 and 2012. Finally, the Year 11 members, Zander and David Angliss, Tom Van Beem and Alex Mitchell comprised the midfield heart and soul of the squad.

The Second VII also had a great season, with seasoned players Callum ‘Hamish’ McRitchie, Cullan ‘Andy’ Grindlay, Andrew Pritchard, Oliver Marshall and Cameron Yuen forming the strong core of the team. Many thanks must go to these young men who have enjoyed and participated in this sport in the three years of my stewardship and who have provided the best running commentary on the First matches heard outside of Triple J. They will be sorely missed.

Many thanks must also go to David Cullingford, the First VII Captain of 2008, who returned to the team this year as a coach and did some wonderful work with the boys. His presence is a reminder that Old Boys never really leave the school community – they just turn up as sports advisers!

Lastly, thank you to the parents of the players. They get up at the crack of dawn to get their sons to training, give up precious Saturdays for matches, sacrifice holidays to remain for Tom Hoad and summer training and yet are always cheerful, positive and supportive. On behalf of the players, we thank you for your unflagging dedication.

2010 was a fine and exciting year for Water Polo. We hope to continue this winning streak into 2011 and beyond.

Gemma Slater, Manager

Middle School

Our middle school water polo team welcomed the introduction of Year 7s and it proved successful, increasing our player numbers and contributing to our continued achievements. The A team produced some positive performances and only lost two games for the season. Notable performers were Fergus McCleary, Shaun Tonkinson, Riva Santiago, Best Player Andrew Reynolds and William Terry, who won the Coach’s Award. Many Year 8s played in the A team and their contributions were invaluable. Charles Moorman and Alex Brogan showed great skill and were integral members of the A team. Our B team had a great season and only lost one game. Players to show good form were Lawrence Mitchell, who won the Best Player Award, and Nathan Quinsee, whilst Robert Ivankovich won the Coach’s Award for his contribution to the team. Well done to all players – a sound platform has been established for future years.

SECTION FIVE
Winners are grinners! If the accompanying images are anything to go by, this clichéd catchphrase certainly holds true for many of the teams and individuals that distinguished themselves and Christ Church in competitions aimed at challenging the students of Design and Technology.

Early in the year in March, Mr Chandler, accompanied by Mr McDonald, took two teams to Melbourne to compete in the F1 Schools Innovation Design Challenge National Championships. The teams, ‘White Lightning Racing’ (consisting of Joseph Di Francesco, Siyang Zhang, Arjun Jeyadevan and Jack Kuan) and ‘Turbo Chargers Racing’ (consisting of Thomas Morrissey, James McDonald, Callum Stocklinger, and Luke Ren) had won the right to represent Western Australia as a result of their achievements at the State Championships in 2009. The Nationals proved to be a real challenge and whilst neither team came away with any prizes, they had an amazing experience at the event, which was held in conjunction with the Australian Grand Prix for Formula 1 cars.

The ‘Out of the Woods Competition’, conducted in August in conjunction with the Wood Show, proved to be a winner, both with the general public and with Harry Dixon of Mr Barbour’s Year 12 Materials Design and Technology class. Harry, legitimately so and in accordance with the rules of the competition, submitted a project that had been completed in Year 11. This project, a contemporary coffee table in jarrah, marri and glass had won widespread acclaim at the Annual Design and Technology Exhibition 2009. It also gained the approval of the judges, taking first place in the Year 11 Furniture Category, ahead of some outstanding pieces of furniture from other schools. Credit must also go to Max Malcolm and Sebastian Ewing who both received certificates of high commendation for their entries in the same competition.

That was just the beginning! Inspired by his success, Harry set about putting the finishing touches to his major project for Year 12, a contemporary wine rack side table that matched the coffee table previously mentioned. This project was entered into a completely different competition, ‘Innovator of the Year 2010’ promoted by Scitech. The project was selected by the judges as the winner of the category Materials Design and Technology (MDT) – Wood. The project was then pitted against the finalists of the two other categories MDT – Textiles and MDT – Metal. Whilst it did not win, in a remarkable achievement, Harry’s project was awarded the runner-up prize of $500.

September is CO2 Dragster time and after extensive trials at school, a number of dragsters were selected to represent Christ Church at the State Championships. Contenders in Category A (dragsters handcrafted in wood) were Gwyn Durbridge, Stephen Johnson, Lloyd Drake-Brockman and Andrew Fowlie. Contenders in Category B (dragsters engineered using computer) were Warwick Montgomery, Justin Taheri-Chivers, and Riaan Badger. Kirk Lewis and Simon Swan were the contenders in the Outlaw Class for those dragsters that are unique in their design, but fall outside the specifications. The Christ Church students (pictured) performed admirably, winning some major prizes. Gwyn Durbridge won the prize for Best Design - Category A, Kirk Lewis won the prize for Fastest Car Overall and Riaan Badger won a number of prizes including Best Design - Category B, Fastest Car - Category B, Overall Winner – Category B and State Champion 2010 for which he won a trophy and $100 in prize money. After an absence of four years, the State Championship Perpetual Trophy returns to Christ Church! Kirk and Riaan’s cragsters were selected to... compete at the National Championships in Canberra, where they came in 5th and 6th respectively.

Early October saw another set of races – this time the Solar Car Challenge and the eVehicle Challenge. Three students (Brendan Pauley, Nikhil Ramanathan and Huw Quick) teamed up as part of the Yr 11 Engineering Studies class to design and build a model solar car to compete in the Western Power Solar Car Challenge. It was a real challenge to get the vehicle up and running in time, with minor adjustments still being made on the morning of the trial races. Whilst the boys did not win a prize (after finishing in the middle of the field) they did experience the thrill of their vehicle performing on the track.

A couple of weeks later and it was the eV’s turn. Four teams represented Christ Church, three from Yr 11 Friday Activities and another from the Yr 11 Engineering Studies class. In a fate similar to the solar car boys, modifications were still being undertaken on race day. In the end, only two of the vehicles completed the hour long race, with the Engineering studies team of Keith Henderson, Will Collins and Claudio Spadacini performing best in 9th place in Category B (upper secondary students), followed by the team of Oliver Bradley, Lance Stibbs and Joey Della Vedova in 12th place. Regardless of results, this event, which attracts over 50 vehicles, is all thrills and some spills. Those who competed this year are keen to give it another go in Year 12.

In mid-October, Mr McDonald, Mr Barbour and Mr McGillivray accompanied 33 Year 10 students (pictured) to Sydney to compete in the National Championships of the Science and Engineering Challenge. These students had won the right to compete by winning the State Championship in October the previous year. This trip proved to be a fantastic interstate excursion that extended far beyond the competition. Based in a youth hostel in The Rocks area of the capital city, the boys had the opportunity to take part in some amazing activities including the Sydney Harbour Bridge Climb, a day trip to Manly on the ferry, the Sydney Motor Show at Darling Harbour and a wild night at Luna Park. Amidst all the fun times, the boys bussed up to Gosford (two hours north of Sydney) for the gold medal round of the Science and Engineering Grand Challenge. Competing against seven other schools from all states of Australia, the boys competed solidly for a day in events building hovercraft, helium balloon aircraft, balloon powered vehicles, environmental housing, electronic communications, water conservation and bridge building. In the final analysis, the team came in a very creditable 7th place and had an enormous amount of fun in the process. Considering there were 408 teams that entered the competition, 7th best in Australia is a good result for Christ Church Grammar School.

We would certainly look to improve on that result and we may well have the opportunity to do so, following the trial rounds of the State Championships of the Science and Engineering Challenge conducted early in November 2010. With regular stalwart, Mr McDonald, away on Venture, it was left to Mr McGillivray and Mr Barbour to take a team of 36 Year 9 boys to the Convention Centre for the day, to compete against a number of other schools, including Hale, Trinity and Scotch. The Christ Church boys were in their element, coming away convincing winners on the day. More than that, their winning score saw the team as the first selected to compete in the gold medal round of the State Championships in February 2011. We look forward to that event, in which a win would see the team earn the right to represent Western Australia at the National Grand Challenge to be held in Wangaratta in Victoria later in 2011.

The year concluded in the usual manner with another outstanding exhibition of student work in Week 6 of the final term. Approximately 200 people attended the opening of the Annual Design and Technology Exhibition 2010, which boasted a record number of entries. All exhibitors were presented with a Certificate of Merit and an amazing array of prizes (tool sets courtesy of sponsors Swanbourne Hardware and Morgan Timber) were handed out to the winners.

The major prizewinners were as follows:

YEAR 7:
- Josh Greenwood
- Jack Hawkesford
- Alex Montanari

YEAR 8:
- Jack Archer
- Nicholas Lim
- Richard Tien

YEAR 9:
- Lloyd Drake-Brockman
- Andrew Fowlie
- Stephen Howard
- Gagan Singh

Year 10:
- Hugh Binning
- Fraser Carroll
- Linus Goh
- Alistair Morgan
- Ben Monro

YEAR 11:
- Joey Della Vedova
- James Heaton
- Jordan Moore
- Lance Stibbs
- Braedan Webb

YEAR 12:
- Sam Armstrong-Warr
- Harry Dixon
- Nicholas Eyres
- Nicholas Fisher
- Duy Vo
And finally, we congratulate the academic prize winners in each subject in each year for their outstanding achievements in Design and Technology in 2010.

They were as follows:

Yr 7 Design & Technology
Yr 8 Design & Technology
Yr 9 Design & Technology – Materials
Yr 9 Design & Technology – Engineering
Yr 10 Design & Technology – Materials
Yr 10 Design & Technology – Engineering
Yr 11 Materials Design & Tech 1AB - Wood

The Drama Department in 2010

Head of Drama: Drew Stocker
Drama Teachers: Emma Leadon and Angela Perry
Production Manager: Dean Morris
Costume Designer and Midnite Secretary: Jay Brien
Captain of Drama: Ben Thomas

The Midnite Youth Theatre Company
Vice Regal Patron: H.E. Dr Ken Michael AC
Governor of Western Australia
Theatrical Patron: Mr Max Kay AM CitWA
Vice Patrons: Miss Faith Clayton, Mrs Jenny Davies, Mrs Ina Herman, Mr Rodney Phillips, Mrs Ruth Reid AM
Artistic Director Emeritus: Mr Anthony Howes

Midnite Chairman: Headmaster Garth Wynne
Artistic Director: Drew Stocker

Sweeney Todd: The String of Pearls
Directed by new Head of Drama, Drew Stocker, Sweeney Todd was a fantastic adaptation of the novel, Sweeney Todd: the String of Pearls, in which the demon barber of Fleet Street reels in victims for a 'shave,' yet instead gruesomely slaughters his customers before sending them to the kitchen of the pie-maker, Mrs Lovett.

With an intricately clever plot of greed, deceit, immense evil and true love, Mr. Stocker’s adaption was a great play with theatrical excellence as the audience not only felt connected with the characters, but also had immense entertainment. Some special acknowledgements must be given to Lachie MacDonald who played Sweeney exceptionally well.

Many thanks must go to Dean Morris’ eye-popping sets and the technician team and Jay Brien, whose colourful and enchanting costumes put the audience in a time capsule to late 1800’s Victorian London. Thanks must, of course, go to Mr Stocker, whose patient and entertaining directing style allowed all involved to be part of a new chapter in the theatre company. Miss Leadon must also be thanked for ably stepping into the role of Assistant Director.

Morgan Palmer, Year 11
The Scottish Plays
In August, the Midnite Youth Theatre Company produced The Scottish Plays, a series of short play pieces by contemporary Scottish Playwrights, as well as excerpts from Shakespeare's Macbeth. Directed by Craig Steele and assisted by Jay Brien stylistically, The Scottish Plays represented a new artistic direction for drama at Christ Church, diverging from traditional Midnite plays with their focus on over-archingstorylines and contained plot structures. The Scottish Plays were much more fragmented and disjointed. However, behind this, it offered everybody who worked on the production the ability to refine much more intimate and meaningful pieces of action. Complementing the acting was a diverse and dynamic range of characters and stories, which combined in sculpting an amazing production that can only be regarded as incredibly successful. Thanks must go to the dedication and hard work of Jay Brien, Dean Morris, Drew Stocker and Craig Steele, for allowing such a great production to be possible and for making the Scottish Plays an incredibly engaging showpiece.

Michael France, Year 12

Boy Overboard
On 3 November 2010 the Midnite production of Boy Overboard opened to a six night sold-out run. 28 talented and fortunate performers were chosen from an initial 150 who auditioned. Directed by Emma Leadon, this production focused on the challenges a particular group of refugees had to face to get to Australia. Dean Morris’ sandbox set design took my breath away as it presented the sandy deserts of Afghanistan, and the refugee camp, as well as, amazingly, a dodgy boat in the sea. All this was helped by the lighting design, especially the sea, with an evocative blue ripple effect. Sound effects helped make the setting even clearer – the explosion was a real surprise!

Jack Johnson, Year 8

The Leo Awards
The Leo Awards were instituted to honour Midnite Youth Theatre’s first Theatrical Patron, Mr Leo McKern AO. The then Artistic Director, Mr Tony Howes, formulated the criteria, which were subsequently approved by Leo’s widow and the then Chairman of Midnite, Headmaster Jeremy Madin. The awards were then given in Mr McKern’s honour and memory. A Leo Award is presented to a member of the Midnite Company, irrespective of age or school affiliation, in recognition of significant ability in a production of the Company by an actor or actress, technician, or member engaged in any other company activity associated with a specific production.

The Leo Awards 2010
In The Shadow of a Gum Tree:
Sally McBride, Izaak Lim, Mitchell Goode, Thomas Drake-Brockman, Louis Crossing
Sweeney Todd: The String of Pearls
Cassidy Sheldon, Lachlan MacDonald, Spray Cranfield, Andrew Hill, Jack Hyslop, Louis Payne

The Scottish Plays
Michael France, James Fletcher, Lachlan Ormonde, Abbey Donaldson, Georgia Payne, Amalie O’Hara

Boy Overboard
Nicholas Felstead, Alesha Sanchez-Lawson, Ellis Ormonde, Allegra Di Francesco, Nic Power, Nic Millar, Olivia Everett, Christian Keller

Valued Contribution
Ben Thomas, Ben McAllister, Sebastian Henderson, Alex Hill, Caleb McGlew, Daniel Harper

The Tim Willoughby Award
The Tim Willoughby Award is presented for an outstanding performance by a school-aged member of the Midnite Youth Theatre Company and this year was awarded to Lucinda Pearson.

The Midnite Award
The influence that Tony Howes has had on Western Australian Theatre and the fond regard with which he is held by so many is well known. So it is unsurprising that it has been the Headmaster and Drama Department’s great pleasure in presenting the “Midnite Award for Outstanding Contribution to the Arts and Western Australian Theatre” to Tony for his many years of tireless creativity, prodigious output and his enthusiastic leadership of youth theatre over many years.

Artist-in-Residence
Our Drama Captain from 1991, Mr Stuart Halusz, worked with Midnite Youth Theatre Company this year as an Artist-in-Residence, generously funded by the Parents’ Association.

From The Head of Drama
It has been a real honour to take over the reins of Christ Church’s Drama Department and lead our performing arts wing, the Midnite Youth Theatre Company. I look forward to many great productions and top academic successes over the coming years.

The reviews above give some insight into the great breadth of Drama created and produced here at the School. The Drama Dinner celebrated over 160 active participants throughout the year’s seasons, entertaining nearly 2000 audience members (not including the thousands at the Challenge Stadium for the Christ Church Celebration!).

Jay Brien and Dean Morris have, as ever, featured as stunningly creative designers and makers without whom Midnite could not function or attain the high production values that we have come to expect and enjoy. The Friends of Midnite have been led by the wonderful organisational acumen of their Chair, Jennifer Wall, and raised over $6,000 this year. We donated $2,000 to Parkerville, and $2,100 to TEAR.

Our Year 7 classes have all performed in front of their families at our Drama Evenings, our Year 8 classes have each produced a piece of Theatre-in-Education for Year 7 and Preparatory School classes. Our Year 12 class attended Voices at John Curtin College of the Arts where they gained much from watching some top monologues from last year’s WACE exams and went on to produce a well-received Drama Evening showcasing their own monologues in September.

Academic Drama is really going from strength to strength at CCGS, whilst keeping time to my belief that Drama in an educational setting should be an adventure, not just light relief. And next year we plan to continue that adventure!

Drew Stocker
Head of Drama, Artistic Director of Midnite
The year began on a very celebratory note, with the trend of improved results in English and Literature continuing. All bar 20 out of 118 of the 2009 cohort had English counted in calculations for: their TER; Certificates of Distinction in English (those within the top 0.5% of the state) were awarded to four students, making us second only to Penrhos College on this measure; and Christ Church was named as one of the best schools for Literature and EAL/D in Western Australia. These results were the fruit of a great deal of hard work by both boys and teachers.

Congratulations were due to the EAL/D students who achieved a combined scaled score average of 70.91 for the cohort, around 10% above the state average. In Stage 3 English, Certificates of Distinction were awarded to Oscar Morlet, Michael Carey, Ardhika Natalegawa and James Duncan. The combined scaled score average for Stage 3 was 69.5, well above the state average of 62. English Literature students who excelled included Tom Bransden, Francis Cardell - Oliver, Patrick Mackenzie, Joseph Wong and Eugene Yang. The combined scaled score average for the final year of TEE English Literature was 76.45 (7.53 above the state average of 68.92). The only sour note came from the savage scaling endured by the students who had undertaken Stage 2 English in Year 12. In spite of all the changes endured by English teachers and students through the introduction of the Courses of Study, the promised improvement in terms of less polarised choices for upper school students has not eventuated and we have since been active in working with the Curriculum Council to improve the outcomes for these Stage 2 students.

The Department welcomed four new teachers during 2010. Melannie Nazzari, Claudia Feldman, Sharyn Flinn and Ashley Rickman all settled in and quickly established themselves as hard-working and valuable members of the Department. We were very sorry to lose the vibrant, energetic and assiduous Maggie McPhee to Berlin in the middle of the year and wished her all the best with her new venture.

2010 was, again, a busy year in English. The Year 7 cohort undertook a new course designed for them by teachers Sophie Heane, Bronwyn Fricke, Margaret Brophy and Ashley Rickman and we were proud of what we achieved with the Year 7 boys. Year 9s were offered a Creative Writing option for the first time in some years and responded enthusiastically. Their teacher, Lorraine O'Brien, subsequently presented a paper in Wellington, New Zealand, at the 2010 Tertiary Writing Network Colloquium, held at Victoria University. The paper addressed aspects of teaching creative writing and the intersection of creative and academic writing. At the other end of the School, Year 12 Stage 3 Literature students were capably prepared for the first WACE examination in this subject. The theme of change as a constant was reinforced by the final release of the Australian Curriculum for English and one of the goals for the Department during 2011 will be to ensure that we work on integrating this into our curricula in Years 7 - 10.

We enjoyed a number of incursions and excursions during the course of the year. Year 7 students heard a lecture visit from UWA's Dr John Watling on forensic science and attended an exclusive matinee performance of MYTC's Sweeney Todd as part of their "Murders and Mystery" unit; Year 11 Literature students watched Bell Shakespeare's performance of King Lear; Year 9s saw Twelfth Night and Year 10s went to Romeo and Juliet. A smaller group of Year 10 and 11 students watched a riveting performance of David Williamson's The Removalists and were lucky enough to speak to Old Boy, Sam Devenport, who played the role of the rookie cop, Ross, following the performance. We also had a number of lectures for Year 11... and 12 Literature and English students, with a particular highlight coming from a presentation by the Library’s Luke Milton, who so deftly prepared the Stage 2 and 3 English boys for the challenges of the Viewing section of their examination. We were also fortunate to have Deb Fitzpatrick visiting Senior School English classes to discuss her book 90 Packets of Instant Noodles and AJ Betts who spoke about her novel Wavelength, a tale about the pressures of being in Year 12. Our sincere thanks to Teresa Scott and the Centre for Ethics for organising these valuable and enjoyable occasions.

The Department ran its usual competitions, which were well supported by an eclectic mix of students from across the School. The Creative Writing Competition’s theme this year was chosen to complement the defining event of the year, the Centenary. Entries on “A Sense of Place” saw prizes awarded to Michael Cassie (Year 12), Harry Smallbone (Year 10), Lloyd Drake-Brockman (Year 9), Elliott Smith (Year 8) and Albert Qiu (Year 7). The PD Naish Poetry Prize was won by Julian Chung and the Gresley Clarkson Prize for Communication in the Upper School went to Ben MacAllister. The Gresley Clarkson Prize for Communication in the Lower School was won by Harry Smallbone. We were also proud to congratulate Harry Beaton and Harry Smallbone, who won prizes in external writing competitions: Harry Beaton (Year 9) in the Prose section of The West Australian’s Young Writers’ Contest and Harry Smallbone (Year 10) in the Literature Prize run by the Shire of Peppermint Grove.

Our involvement in UWA’s SmARTS programme continued and we, like the twenty other schools involved, continue to see this as a very valuable extension opportunity for our most able English students. This year five boys participated: Declan Davis, Hugh Edwards, Alexander Hill, Fraser Wallace and Thomas Walton. We were proud to see Declan and Fraser, members of the group “Cactus”, receive a Certificate for Academic Excellence for their research project “Coffee and the World”, which looked at globalisation using the international coffee industry as a significant exemplar and type of extended metaphor. My thanks to Simon Hunn for his continued coordination of our participation in this programme.

The end of the year brought two new challenges: re-location pending the refurbishment of the English office and classrooms and dealing with the sadness of farewelling Claire Wood and Ashley Rickman. Claire joined us as a graduate three years ago and made an incredible contribution to the Department and to the School during her time here. She will be sadly missed by teachers and students, as well as a number of parents. Our best wishes go with her as she takes up the position of Head of Middle School English at her alma mater, Geelong College. Ashley Rickman was with us only one year, but we enjoyed his genial presence and readiness to clarify obscure grammatical rules. Again, we wish him well with his forthcoming move to Sydney.

My thanks go to each and every member of the English Department for their work this year. They go ‘above and beyond’ to try to improve the boys’ engagement with and success in our subject. Many long hours are spent at night and over weekends marking practice essays and assessments and providing feedback to students. During term times we probably see more of each other than we do of our own families, so it is lucky that we share an incredible sense of camaraderie, purpose and mutual support, as well as a healthy sense of humour. I would also like to thank Simon Hunn for all that he has done in coordinating Year 11 and 12 English and Literature this year. He worked tirelessly and in an enviably organised and effective fashion. We all look forward to moving into our renovated offices and classrooms and to a similarly happy and successful year in 2011.

Margaret Brophy
Head of English
2010 has been a long year in the PE Department. It felt a little like being in a very long pre-season with the competition too far way. This was due to all the building that was taking place on ‘our’ side of the campus and the interruption and challenges this causes. As with all long pre-seasons, however, the rewards at the end are usually quite significant and we will have some excellent facilities for 2011.

The pool now has a new fence to make it safer and protect it from vandalism. There is concrete seating under the shade sails to alleviate the problems with trying to grow grass under shade and stop sand from getting into the pool, a new pool equipment store room and, early in 2011, a new Kirby Swim office.

The old gym has undergone further improvements to the weights area, including new equipment and in 2011 there will be a complete floor sanding and remarking, including the new basketball markings.

The new gym space is obviously the most prominent new feature on the northwest corner of the campus. It provides a very large space for Preparatory and Senior School boys and gives us considerable flexibility with three dedicated indoor spaces. We have used the new gym a number of times and although it is yet to be fully completed, both staff and boys are looking forward to the finished product in 2011. Within the new building there is the addition of two new classrooms, which will primarily be used by PE Studies classes. They are large and we equipped and will add to the experience of the boys when studying this sports science course. In addition, the ovals have all had a considerable amount of work carried out on them and they are starting to look in great condition.

Stage 2 PE Studies went in 2010 and the boys had an exciting year where they had units of golf at Cottesloe Golf Club and fencing at UWA. Most pleasing was when I received a phone call from the golf professional at Cottesloe saying the boys were the best group he had coached. We are further enhancing this programme by adding wind surfing.

Richard Daly has been welcomed to the School as our strength and conditioning expert. It is a huge bonus to have someone of Richard’s talent on campus. The boys and PE staff have already gained a lot from his expertise and it is great to see so many boys using the facility during the day. 2011 will see further opportunities for the boys to become fitter and stronger and this will also include extra classes for those boys whose fitness needs some extra work. Improving all boys’ fitness is one of our main goals. Daily vigorous exercise and a good diet is the key and I strongly encourage boys to make some lifestyle decisions that help facilitate this.

We welcomed two new staff this year. Tom Jerram, who came from England, has been a great addition to the team: Tom is a rugby man who has arrived just at the right time to continually remind us about how England is dominating Australia in a number of sports. Coby Henderson was with us for one year, as Luke Farmer was on leave, and we thank him for his efforts. Boys and staff alike will miss Coby’s enthusiasm.

Please feel free to drop in and say hello to the staff and see the new facilities.

Darren McPartland
Head of Physical Education and Health
The Humanities Department, formed in 2009 from the History, Geography, Commerce and Philosophy and Ethics subject areas, continued to thrive in 2010. Another year of students winning prizes at a remarkable rate (and going off-campus whenever possible) has raced by.

In Commerce and Economics, 2010 began with the announcement of some outstanding results in the 2009 TEE. Richard O’Halloran was awarded a Certificate of Distinction in Economics, Ben Davis was awarded a Certificate of Distinction in Accounting and Ardhika Natalegawa won the Subject Exhibition for Accounting. This excellent effort in the subject area provided great motivation for the 2010 cohort.

The 2010 Accounting students were again well prepared for their final examinations by participating in the Business Educators of Western Australia external examination before their Mock Examinations, while Year 12 Economists gained hands-on experience by participating in the Chamber of Commerce and Industry Student Economic Forum and the Reserve Bank of Australia seminar on Monetary Policy.

Year 10 Commerce students participated in the CPA Plan Your Own Enterprise Competition, allowing students to produce their own business plan for a business idea they had developed. This year, Christ Church student Jeremy Forbes won Division One of the State competition and was flown to Canberra to present his idea in the National Final. Christ Church also won the group section of this award with a team of Li Kai Tan and Weiming Wang.

Year 8 students worked closely with the Earning, Spending, Saving and Investing Money (ESSI Money) programme. Our Year 9 and 10 students were given the chance to compete ‘for real’ in the ESSI Money Challenge. Christ Church again performed exceptionally well with Cameron Chung and David Ellis both being in the top six of the Western Australian competitors. This effort saw them win their place through to the National Final where they competed against the top six from other states and territories around Australia.

With the World Cup in an intensely noisy South Africa in 2010, our Year 9 Commerce students caught the fever, testing their financial literacy skills against one another in an interactive game called ‘Financial Football’. The game required students to answer a series of multiple-choice questions correctly in order to pass the ball forward and to have a shot on goal.

In History in 2010, teachers suffered long hours re-writing and adjusting curriculum content to ensure Christ Church Grammar School was at an advanced stage of correlation with the new Australian Curriculum, well ahead of its launch in January 2011. By the time you read this the biggest-ever change to the delivery of History in Australia will be up and running!

Particular historical highlights in 2010 included a number of fascinating excursions. Year 11 Ancient History students visited the Western Australian Museum for the globe-trotting “Day in Pompeii” exhibition where they could see artifacts from approximately the period they had been studying all year. All Year 7 students spent some “hands on” time in the year 1863 at the Claremont Museum, hand-grinding flour then baking scones, washing clothes in cold river water and hand-making rope. Year 10 students visited the Supreme and District Courts, witnessing amongst other things, a high-profile and very controversial murder trial that had the boys glued to their seats in the public gallery.

Warmest congratulations to Thomas Cunningham who was selected to participate in the prestigious Charles Court Young Leaders’ Programme, an intensive residential programme for boys identified as having leadership potential. In the year of the Christ Church Centenary, both Year 7 and 8 students spent time investigating the School’s history and visiting the School archives where the ‘Caning Register’ sparked a great deal of interest amongst some of the boys.

2011 promises to be an exciting year for History with the inaugural Humanities Tour of Greece and Italy being fully subscribed and ready to jet off to the northern hemisphere in April. This will be a fantastic opportunity for the boys to soak up some history in the raw. The teachers are looking forward to it, too.
Philosophy and Ethics went from strength to strength in 2010. A lively yet studious Year 12 cohort led the way with some memorable discussions arising during lessons between 'heavyweight thinkers' such as Michael France, Christopher Wong, Dominic Donaldson et al. The introduction of a Year 9 elective in Philosophy proved successful with no fewer than 17 boys opting to study the subject. When asked what motivated them to select Philosophy back in Year 8, boys said it was a combination of interest in the subject content and a desire to develop their reasoning skills.

The annual inter-school Philosothon competition saw students drawn from no fewer than 22 schools across Western Australia. Postgraduate philosophy students and teachers facilitated communities of inquiry. Lecturers in philosophy from all four local universities judged individual participation. This year our boys finished in a very respectable third place, with Alistair Morgan from Year 10 receiving an award for winning his year group competition.

Geography students had many an opportunity to escape the confines of the School in 2010. Year 7 boys participated in a visit to Perth Zoo, focusing on the savanna ecosystem, most famously displayed in the animals and plants of Sub-Saharan Africa, as well as South Perth! The boys thoroughly enjoyed everything from the big cats to the meerkats. Another newcomer to the excursion portfolio was the Year 11 Meckering field trip in February. Having been largely destroyed by an earthquake of magnitude 7.0 on the Richter Scale in 1968, Meckering's residents still remember the moment as if it was yesterday. Three 'survivors' told the students their own particular story in the section of the Cunderdin Museum devoted to the earthquake and one farmer accompanied us out to his former home, a magnificent manor house reduced to heaps of rubble in seconds. Another Year 11 highlight was the annual trip to Alcoa's extremely impressive bauxite mine at Huntly, near Pinjarra. One of the world's largest aluminium resources, being driven around the Huntly mine site with an expert Alcoa guide allowed the students a close-up view of an industry in which Western Australia is a global leader.

All in all, a really exciting and successful year for the Humanities Department! Huge thanks are owed to the teachers who devise and direct the myriad opportunities that are presented to the boys not just in 2010, but every single year. Without the ideas and inspiration the Humanities teachers generate, life at CCGS would be far less exciting and engaging. In 2011 we will continue to explore our subject areas, to paraphrase Buzz Lightyear, 'in our classrooms and beyond!'

David Proudlove
Head of Humanities
The major focus of Archives in the Centenary Year has been the promotion of the history of Christ Church. It is a story of communities both past and present, who have participated in the evolution of the School from a single classroom on the corner of Queenslea Drive to become the School we see today. The year started with the opening of the Centenary Exhibition, 100 Years of Light and Learning. The exhibition was organised thematically to include every aspect of school life and included displays of photographs, memorabilia, sound and film of Christ Church throughout its history. The exhibition was open to the public until the end of the year.

This year saw the completion of Walk With Us: Christ Church Grammar School Heritage Walk, which included the production of a brochure, with a map, photographs and descriptions of significant sites within the school grounds. To complement the brochure an audio self-guided tour narrated by Bodi Ledwijk was made and is available on iPod from reception or it can be downloaded from the Intranet. Throughout the year several guided tours of the School were conducted. These were well attended by Old Boys, parents, friends and relatives of students attending the school and interested members of the community. The walk was also utilised by students during their School Archives and History unit and was enthusiastically received.

This year both Year 7 and Year 8 students participated in the School History and Archives unit. On completion of the unit the students are asked to complete a feedback form and their responses were considered and positive. Every student who participated said that they learned more about the history of the School. One student even said, “The workbook severely increased my knowledge of the School and its history”.

One of the most important activities for Archives this year has been work towards the completion of the School’s History. The final stages involved research to check facts, dates and names and the selection of photographs. This was made easier by the dedicated work of the Archive volunteers: Jenni Townsend, Terrey Fisher, Divya Trevedi, Dawn Morgan and Berkeley Allen and I am grateful for their help. Throughout the year they have carefully checked names and dates, labelled photographs and completed a myriad of other tasks.

2010 was an extremely busy and rewarding year for the Information Technology department at Christ Church Grammar School. Building upon the success of previous years, students once again enjoyed a wide range of activities designed to enhance their understanding of Information Technology. As always, the IT support staff worked tirelessly throughout the year to maintain and improve the School systems.

On the academic front, the department continues to develop and expand. With classes ranging from our Year 9 Computing Fundamentals course through to two Year 12 WACE courses, a large number of students continue to enjoy the opportunities offered in IT at Christ Church. During these varied courses students of all levels have been given the opportunity to learn a variety of skills and expand their knowledge. Some of the projects that students have worked on throughout the year include:

- Designing and creating their own websites
- Building a network
- Creating podcasts to place on a website
- Designing and creating their own games using Scratch
- Solving complex problems using the Python programming language
- Creating a hypermedia player using Flash

All these projects allowed the boys to improve their analytical problem solving skills in a creative manner, giving them the opportunity to look at problems from a new perspective and use their logical problem solving skills to solve those problems.

This year saw the School compete in the National Computer Science Schools Challenge for the first time. The NCSS Challenge is a programming competition open to all secondary school students, regardless of their previous programming experience. Students are given a set of programming problems each week that become progressively more complicated and are provided with notes to explain the concepts that they will need to successfully complete each problem. This competition proved to be quite popular with over 90 boys entering the five week competition, many coming to the FutureSphere during their lunch break to work on the problems. Given this was the first year we have been involved with this competition and that many of the boys had no previous programming experience, the results were quite impressive. In all, nine boys achieved a High Distinction, seven boys achieved a Distinction and seven boys achieved a Credit in the competition - a commendable effort from the boys.

Upon the completion of the NCSS Challenge, several of the more advanced students moved on to compete in the Australian Informatics Olympiad towards the end of Term 3. Special mention must be made of Thomas Drake-Brockman who was awarded a Silver Certificate in the Senior Division. His impressive performance earned him an invitation to attend the Australian Informatics Olympiad School of Excellence to be held in Canberra during the Christmas holidays.

This year saw a number of changes to the staff in the IT department. We welcomed the enthusiasm and expertise of Mr Matthew Cameron who joined the department in a teaching capacity. His energy and dedication has inspired many students to become more involved in learning about IT and some of the possibilities that abound.

In the technical area, Mr Patrick Coleman resigned from his role as the school's Network and Project Engineer. A former student of CCGS, his ability to both maintain the complex school network and cheerfully relate to the boys made him a popular member of staff. In addition to his networking role, Patrick also made a much appreciated contribution to the robotics and informatics activities of the boys. His coaching and encouragement was much appreciated by the boys and will be missed. In his place, we welcome Mr James Andrewartha, another former student. He has quickly established himself as a more than capable replacement, always approaching his work in a friendly and dedicated manner.

Special mention must once again be made of the fantastic technical staff the School is lucky to have. Ably led by Dr Geoffrey Alagoda, the team of Mr Patrick Lawrence, Mr Phil Williams and Mr Lawrence Chong and Mr James Andrewartha go to extraordinary lengths to maintain the complex systems we all enjoy and too often take for granted. This is a remarkable team that allows us all to benefit from the technology is available here at Christ Church.

As we head into 2011 and beyond, the future of Information Technology is quite exciting. Further development of the courses, the introduction of new staff and new technologies will mean that we will continue to be able to use technology to enhance the learning experience of all the boys at Christ Church Grammar School.

Teacher-in-Charge of IT
2010 was a successful year for all of the students who chose to take part in the INSTEP programme. This year we had 25 students in Year 11 and 12 involved in the subject Workplace Learning or completing Certificate courses.

The Certificate courses provide students with a pathway to higher levels of tertiary education and ultimately university. Josh Ferrell and Cedric Taylor undertook a Certificate II in Education Support. This qualification can lead to teaching. James Julian and Jonathon Powell completed the Certificate II in Customer Contact. Jonathon plans to use this qualification to further his dream of becoming a chef. Daniele Millo, Alex Thomson and Nick Youd completed the Certificate IV in Business. This is a popular course because completion of the Certificate IV in combination with a scaled mark of 50 or above in English will gain students entry to related Curtin, Murdoch and ECU courses.

Several of the Year 12 boys who were considering apprenticeships participated in Workplace Learning. As a result, Charles Moore has secured an electrical apprenticeship from his placement.

The performance of our Year 11 students this year has also been outstanding. Brandon Pollastri, Kristian Bentley and Shaun Pittman received Certificates of Excellence in the Workplace. The certificate is awarded to INSTEP students who demonstrate outstanding enthusiasm and motivation in the workplace. It reflects exceptional diligence in meeting all requirements of the programme.

INSTEP is an excellent means for Year 11 and 12 students to gain experience in the work force and begin training while they are still at school. The result is a smooth transition from school to further training, study or the workplace.

INSTEP Coordinator
What a year! Having the Year 7 students as part of the Senior School added another dynamic dimension to the already existing Year 8 and 9 Reading Programme. It was exciting to get to know each Year 7 boy and to find out what they liked to read for pleasure. Why have a Reading Programme that endeavours to foster a love of reading? Simple.

"The habit of daily reading ... overwhelmingly correlates with better reading skills and higher academic achievement."

(Source: To Read or Not to Read: a Question of National Consequence: Research Report #47)

The intent of the Integrated Programme units in Years 7 and 8 is to provide students with strategies they can use to improve their digital literacy. That is, their ability to effectively and efficiently locate, extract, interpret and use digital information sources. The Year 7 boys produced some excellent web sites on topics of interest to them. We love marking the Solo Enterprise web sites as we always learn something interesting and new. The purpose of the Year 8 Silk Road unit is to reinforce the strategies they learnt in the Year 7 Solo Enterprise unit and to introduce the boys to advanced search strategies; the creation of Bibliographies using the MS Word citation feature; and to report writing techniques. Why the focus on digital literacy?

"With the world economy becoming more connected via networks and business environments becoming more computer-intensive in day-to-day job tasks, the issue of digital literacy stands out as a key differentiator of success at the individual, regional and national levels."

(Source: The Importance of Global Literacy by Brian Summerfield)

The digital literacy and reading for leisure initiatives are only two of many in which we are involved. There is the Outreach programme; the resourcing of the new Australian Curriculum; the introduction of eBooks and iPads; the “Year 10 to 12 Leisure Reading” and the “Reading beyond the Textbook” initiatives; the implementation of the Readers’ Cup and the further improvement of the reading culture within the School; the provision of differentiated online scaffolding for research projects and other educational programmes; the further development of Media Share; the upgrading of the Library system to Oliver; the provision and expansion of the Virtual Library; the development of a Library web site; involvement in the Study Lab programme; the provision of services for the Boarding House community; BookCrossing; Author-in-Residence programmes; and the maintenance, weeding, purchasing and processing of thousands of resources and requests on a weekly basis.

To maximise the impact of these programmes, systems and services requires the collaboration and support of many. Thank you to the following Heads of Departments and their respective teams: Margaret Brophy, David Proudlove, Geoffrey Alagoda, Shane McGurk and the FOLA Volunteers.

My special thanks to my team – Helen Knight, Margaret Chapple, Glynis O’Neill, Luke Milton and Sandra Hamersley. Your support, dedication, and inspiration is very much appreciated.

Having achieved the usual very pleasing TEE results for 2009, the Mathematics Department set out to provide an even better learning experience for 2010. The two main challenges would be teaching Year 7 students in the senior school for the very first time as well as preparing the Year 12 students for the new WACE examinations with no past exam papers available as benchmarks. Both challenges were dealt with most effectively. The Year 7s settled in very quickly and have proven to be keen and capable mathematicians, whilst the Year 12s have been very well prepared for their external examinations.

This year we set up a comprehensive range of opportunities for learning for the Year 7-10 students. Extensive collections of supplementary homework, NAPLAN familiarisation, online video lessons, online diagnostic testing and challenging mathematics booklets were made available to all students. The most significant being the introduction of the online diagnostic assessment tool MathTrak, which proved to be very successful. MathTrak, a complete collection of key concepts and skills fully aligned with the textbooks used for Years 7-10, is basically a colourful journey from red to green. If the initial answer provided is correct, the concept will be colour-coded green to indicate mastery. An initial incorrect answer will be colour-coded red and the challenge for the student will then be to revisit this concept until the colour has changed to green. This is achieved after three consecutive correct answers. After overcoming some technical issues, it soon became apparent that students benefit enormously from embracing this visual process of "greening" and using MathTrak as a "safety-net" assisting them in their attempt to master the basic building blocks of the curriculum.

This year we introduced the Australian Informatics Competition as an optional challenge for boys keen on discrete mathematics and algorithms. This beautiful area of mathematics is particularly useful in computer programming and the competition can be considered as the first step of the journey to the International Informatics Olympiad competition. 103 students sat the competition and they achieved tremendous results with 41 credits, 24 Distinctions and five High Distinctions. The following five students were awarded High Distinctions after achieving a perfect score - Year 10: Joseph Di Francesco, Wei-Yuan Fan, Nicholas Lawrence, Harry Smallbone; Year 12: Winston Kint.

All Year 7-12 students sat the Australian Mathematics Competition. The questions in this competition gradually increase in complexity from basic arithmetic questions, via somewhat complicated mathematical questions, to true problem solving questions. 901 students sat this competition resulting in 263 Credits, 140 Distinctions, 25 High Distinctions and nine Prizes. The following nine students were awarded a prize for a performance in the top 0.3% - Year 7: Terry Pham, Max Evans; Year 8: Wei-Juen Lo, Allan Hou, Brandon Afifi; Year 9: Alexander Chu; Year 10: Jordan Standish, Joseph Di Francesco; Year 12: Winston Kint.

All the Year 7-8 Mathematics students competed in the five Australasian Problem Solving Olympiads. With about one month between each Olympiad this unique competition format encourages students to continually improve their problem solving skills. 269 students sat the competition and the following boys performed exceptionally well by achieving a score of at least 20 (out of 25) - Year 7: Aert Qiu; Year 8: Vandit Trivedi, Brandon Afifi, Nicholas Lim, Allan Hou, Wei-Juen Lo, Brendon Wright, Boning Xu.

With the above-mentioned impressive results, we entered eight teams of Year 6-9 students in the Western Australian Junior Mathematical Olympiad. The competition is aimed at very high achieving Year 9 students and is used by the Australian Mathematics Trust in Canberra to identify high achieving students who can be invited to join the Olympiad Training Programme. The 32 students performed extraordinarily well and won the Team First Prize as well as six individual prizes.

Team First Prize: Liam Kearney, Alexander Chua, Miga-Te Tennakoon, Bryce Lim; Individual First Prize: Liam Kearney (Year 9); Individual Second Prize: Alexander Chua (Year 9), Luke Liu (Year 9); Individual Merit Prize: Simon Swan (Year 9), Albert Ciu (Year 7).

Some competitions by the Australian Mathematics Trust are invitation only and CCGS is very fortunate to have Alexander Chua from Year 9 excelling in this highly challenging area of mathematics. Despite his relatively young age, he is knocking loudly on the door to the Australian Mathematics Olympiad Team, with outstanding results this year including a Bronze Certificate in the Australian Mathematics Olympiad, a High Distinction in the Asian Pacific Mathematics Olympiad, a High Distinction in the Australian Intermediate Mathematics Olympiad and a Prize in the Senior Mathematics Contest. This last result is very exciting as it placed Alexander seventh in Australia - a serious contender for one of the six places available on the Olympiad Team.

We congratulate the Year 12 Mathematics students of 2010 and wish them every success with their chosen journeys. We look forward to offering exciting and challenging opportunities for all of our Mathematics students in 2011.

The Music Department has enjoyed another very busy year, with numerous ensemble and solo performances from students, lively classroom activities and visitors, as well as great conviviality between staff and boys. The year started with the news that Bo An Lu had received the Subject Award for Music in the 2009 TEE (top student in Music TEE in WA). Bo An is an outstanding pianist, music theory practitioner, violinist and chamber music performer and this award was richly deserved. He is currently continuing his tertiary studies and piano lessons in Sydney.

The main focus of Term 1 2010 was the Centenary Concert in the Challenge Stadium, involving the Senior Choir and Symphony Orchestra. The repertoire for this occasion was quite difficult, including the Centenary Suite (a commissioned piece composed by ex CCGS student, Simon Holt) and pieces by Walton and Purcell. Suffice to say that all the musicians rose to the occasion and performed extremely well. The playing of the brass fanfare deserves particular mention. Our Combined Concert with St Hilda’s to conclude the term was another fantastic showcase of the musical talents of both schools. The combined symphony orchestra, concert band, jazz band, chamber orchestra and choir all performed at their best.

Term 2 saw a number of our Year 11 and 12 students give solo performance in St George’s Cathedral, as part of their lunchtime concert series. These concerts are a great opportunity for students to perform works being prepared for exams and provide an opportunity to play in a different venue to a wider audience. The Scholars’ Recital Night in Term 2 was a similar occasion, where our Music Scholarship students display their talents in the beautiful acoustic of the CLC Foyer.

The Orchestra Festival early in Term 3 was a chance for the Senior Symphony Orchestra (combined with St Hilda’s), Chamber Orchestra and Preparatory String Orchestra to perform alongside more than 60 other orchestras from the State. The award of Outstanding to the Chamber Orchestra was a great result. Both the Symphony and Preparatory Orchestras received Merit Awards in their various categories. Term 3 also saw the Combined Concerto Night with MLC. This was an outstanding evening of virtuosity and entertainment. Riley Skevington on violin played with amazing assuredness and technical prowess; Ben Power, on clarinet, amazed the audience with his jazz skills; Andrew Ngooi, violin, demonstrated superb tone and technique in his playing; and David See, on the piano, played with confidence and insight.

The end of the year brought the Advent Service and our Senior Choir sang with amazing verve. The contribution from both the Yahos and the mixed voice ensemble was much appreciated by the near capacity congregation.

2010 has also seen the continued development of the School’s Rock Workshop programme, with classes now running for both the Preparatory School and Middle School students. The visit by ex-CCGS student and Divinyls guitarist, Mark McEntee, was a real highlight. The CD produced by the Yr 11 Rock Workshop students displayed their talent and passion for the art of rock’n’roll.
Our jazz band students have also had a very diverse and successful year, highlighted by the performance at the Ellington's Jazz Club. This was a sell-out evening and all of the bands and smaller jazz groups relished the opportunity to perform in this iconic venue. Jazz Bands also performed in the Claremont Park, at the AISWA end-of-year function, the Jazz Night at St Hilda's and at the Peter Moyes Centre End of Year Dinner, with polish and professionalism.

The success of all of our musical offerings at CCGS is very much a result of the staff members involved, who put in many hours and much energy to maintaining the musical standards of the boys involved. To the ensemble direction work of Gillian Croston, Thane Mandin, Stephanie Harford, Sarah Seaman, Paul Millard, Glenn Rogers, Joe Grech, Phil Bailey, Warren Hall, Adam Brockway and Steve Richter, a huge thank you for all of your efforts in 2010. We also wish Holly Norman, Music Secretary for 2010, all the best in her future career as percussion performer and teacher.

Kevin Gillam
Head of Music
It has been another very exciting year for everyone in the Senior Peter Moyes Centre. The boys threw themselves into a wide range of activities, had fun and completed an enormous amount of work on the way. It is always amazing to think back to the start of the year and to realise how much each boy has achieved and how much each boy has matured.

Staff and Students
The year proved to be an eventful one for the Centre. At the start of the year we welcomed six new students to the PMC - four students in Year 7 and two in Year 8. These boys settled remarkably well into Senior School and by year's end had made impressive progress. Midway through the year the Centre's Coordinator, Mrs Renee Whitcher, departed on maternity leave and soon after gave birth to the beautiful Isabella Grace. With Renee's leaving, Mrs Marie Zwart was appointed Acting Coordinator of the Senior PMC and Mrs Karen Wareing moved into a Teacher's role. In addition to this we welcomed Mrs Naomi Marshall as our new Education Assistant.

The end of the school year saw us bid farewell to Tom Stone, our sole Year 12 student in 2010. Tom attended Christ Church Grammar School from Year 1 right through to his graduation and the Leavers' Dinner proved to be a wonderful celebration of his time here. We look forward to hearing great things about Tom's work with ACTIV.

Functional Academics and Vocational Skills
The main focus for students in the PMC is the development of functional academic and vocational skills. Boys are encouraged to develop literacy and numeracy skills to a level that will support them beyond school as they seek to establish their independent lives. In Years 11 and 12 the boys have the opportunity to participate in a work experience programme. This year we had boys working at Williams and Hughes Commercial and Litigation Law firm, ACTIV Industries, Cat Haven, Westcare and Coles. Our sincere thanks go to the management and staff of these businesses for their enthusiastic support of this very important phase in the boys' education. They play a vital role in creating opportunities for our boys to practise their skills and to experience the workplace as part of a structured programme.

Physical Skills
During the year the boys took part in a diverse array of educational and sporting programmes. We were very fortunate to have Mrs Katie Jones introduce the boys to basic yoga and relaxation techniques. The boys' new proficiency in the arts of stretching, balancing and relaxing seemed to have a beneficial effect on their performance across all academic areas.

The ongoing GymAbility programme, run through the Loftus Centre, also contributed to this phenomenon. Every boy showed improved performance and coordination on the trampoline, bars and floor. It is amazing to see what the boys can now do, thanks to the care and encouragement of the specialist staff. We plan to continue with GymAbility next year and to continue developing some Special Olympics routines.

The FMC students participated with great success in the 2010 ACC Para Sports carnivals. Each year we meet and compete against other students from Education Support Centres throughout the metropolitan area. This year we attended the ACC Swimming Carnival and won the Sue Bigelow Shield. All boys swam very well and displayed great sportsmanship.
Special mention must go to Charles Winning who aptly came first in the 50m Freestyle and 100m Open freestyle. More silverware came in the ACC Soccer Carnival where we won the Shield for the Emerging category. The PMC boys also participated in the ACC Para Fun Run, ACC Para Athletics Carnival and the ACC Para Bowling days. These events again provided important social opportunities for the boys to meet, interact and compete with their peers from across Perth. Many important friendships have developed through attending these events.

Rottnest Camp
In September the PMC students and staff set off for Rottnest. We were very fortunate to have wonderfully sunny weather and the trip over was quick and smooth. Whilst on Camp the boys had the opportunity to try new things and to practise their independent living skills. The boys enjoyed riding their bikes around the island, learning the history of Rottnest Island, buying fresh rolls from the bakery to make lunches and taking part in activities on the beach. Despite some dodgy showers, a great time was had by all and we are already planning our Rottnest Camp for 2011.

Thanks!
My sincere thanks go to CCGS mainstream teachers for their vital support in providing an inclusive environment for each of our PMC boys in Tutorial and mainstream classes. I also wish to pay thankful tribute to the staff of the PMC: Mrs Karen Wareing, Mrs Deb Wolleneden, Mrs Deb Deacon, Ms Felice Jennings, Ms Kristen Rule and Mrs Naomi Marshall. Without the hard work, good humour and calm professionalism of these dedicated women the PMC would not be the amazing place it is today.

Marie Zwart
Acting Coordinator PMC Senior School
2010 was a significant year! It was obviously our School’s Centenary Year, but it was also the International Year of Biodiversity. As usual in the Science Department, there was a plethora of diverse activities throughout the year, some of which are highlighted below.

National Science Competition
This year 319 students from Christ Church Grammar volunteered to take part in the National Science Competition. This is an annual competition designed to test the following scientific skills; observing/measuring, interpreting, predicting/concluding, investigating and reasoning and problem solving.

The following boys achieved a High Distinction certificate with a result that placed them in the top 1% of students in Western Australia.

Year 7: Angus Barber, Tim Holden, Albert Qiu, George van Beem, Laurence Vanderhor

Year 8: Brandon Afiat, Jack Magraith, Nicholas Lim, Vandit Trevedi

Year 9: Ishraq Bari, Liam Kearney, Bryce Lim, Luke Liu, Nicholas Morlet, Donald Sutherland, Charn Thanissom

Year 10: Arjun Jeyadevan, Matthew Price, Siyang Zhang

Year 11: Hugh Edwards

Year 12: Winston Kint, Andrew Pritchard

National Chemistry Quiz
The Australian National Chemistry Quiz this year had in excess of 115,000 entries from 1400 schools from all states and territories of Australia and from throughout the Asia Pacific region. Christ Church entered 172 students from Year 7 to 12. Our boys received 74 High Distinctions, 55 Distinctions 21 credits and 22 participation awards. Tom Drake Brockman of Year 11 received a plaque for achieving 100% in the Australian National Chemistry Quiz. Other plaque winners in the Australian National Chemistry Quiz for achieving results in the top 800 (0.5%) were:

Year 7: Will Sutherland, Albert Qiu, Joseph Brough, Terry Pham

Year 8: Elliott Smith

Year 9: Simon Swan, Migara Tennakoon, Bryce Lim, Alexander Chua, Liam Kearney

Year 10: Brody Rampono, Arjun Jeyadevan

Year 12: Winston Kint

Excursions, camps and other activities
The Year 11 Biology class went on a three-day camp to Kerriley Park in Yelverton to conduct an ecological study of the surrounding bushland. They also went to the Zoo to take part in an educational programme regarding classification. The Year 12 Biology class, meanwhile, went to Tammin to study the salinity issues facing farmers and the various strategies employed to overcome and benefit from the salinity problem. They also went to Karakamia nature reserve with the Year 12 Biology class from Methodist Ladies’ College on a night stalk of the native fauna.

Our Scientist-in-Residence this year was Dr Janos Hennicke, who is involved in the study of the sea birds of Christmas Island. He spent time in the School talking to students about his research and the foundation that he has established to help conserve the sea birds and educate people about their plight.

The Year 9 Environmental Science class spent time down by the Swan River studying the biotic and abiotic factors and their inter-relationships. They also took part in excursions to study the geology of the local area as well as various other sections of the Swan River as a way of comparing our little bit of the river with locations further upstream. The Year 11 Environmental Science class studied the changing coastline at Leighton and Port beaches over the course of the year and they also went on an excursion to look at the geology of the wider Perth region.
The Year 8 astronomy night was held at the Mt Claremont playing fields in early November. The attending students and their parents were treated to some spectacular observations of the night sky and were able to ask questions of the amateur astronomers from the Astronomical Society of Western Australia.

National Science Week
The boys at Christ Church were treated to a number of spectacular, informative and enjoyable lunchtime demonstrations during August. We also had a presentation from Mr Paul Luckas from the University of Western Australia on the imaging of asteroids that pass near to Earth. Jack Archer of Year 8 won the competition to produce a poster in recognition of their International Year of Biodiversity with his work on 'What Makes Australia’s Biodiversity so Special?'

Science Olympiads
Thomas Drake-Brockman received a High Distinction in the National Qualifying Examination for the Chemistry Olympiad. He was accepted into the Australian Science Olympiad Summer School to be held at Monash University in January 2011.

Other boys who took part in the Qualifying Exam were:
Biology: Andrew Manderson;
Chemistry: Harry Breidahl, Guy Coleman, Adarsh Das, Hugh Edwards and Ruaridh Williamson;
Physics: Harry Breidahl, Guy Coleman, Adarsh Das, Declan Davis, Thomas Drake-Brockman and Hugh Edwards.

Teaching Staff
Thanks to the wonderful teaching staff who have made this year so diverse, exciting and memorable.

Michael Masterton
Head of Science Department
The School's Centenary has enabled us all to reflect on the School that Christ Church has become in our 100 years. I am quite sure Canon McClemans would be speechless at the opportunity and access to resources afforded our boys. Our teachers, our facilities, our sport programmes, our visual arts programmes and our performing arts programmes are all of an exceptional standard. These are all wonderful programmes providing excellent opportunities and experiences for our boys. However, when I reflect on what makes us an exceptional school, I think of our values.

Our values are what define and guide us and the ways we are guided and defined by our values make us exceptional. I want to share three brief illustrations.

Firstly, we identify understanding and inclusion as a value as it is reflected in 100 years of ensuring boys feel and do and belong here. We have boys from all over the world, with an incredible range of abilities, skills and talents. This variety of boys joins together in this place and works to create our sense of belonging. A cricket team comprising only bowlers would not win, a football team comprising only ruckmen would not be able to keep up running and a band made up of only drummers could not create a melody. The fact that we are diverse means we can achieve wonderful things everyday - our diversity is our strength.

Secondly, we identify care and compassion, honesty and trustworthiness, integrity and respect as values. These values reflect our focus on, and strength of, our relationships. These are relationships between boys and between school and home; however, for me, most importantly between boy and teacher. The strength of these relationships works to allow our boys to learn and achieve extraordinary successes whether that be learning to read and write, learning division, learning about air pressure or sustainability, or learning about tempo, shading or drop punts.

The final value I want to discuss is excellence. We know that success breeds success and our environments of excellence produce exceptional results in all our domains. The almost endless presentations of distinctions and high distinctions from academic competitions, our wins in the Interschool Swimming and Cross Country and our incredible Week of the Arts clearly demonstrates this culture of excellence. The test of excellence, however, is not simply in great achievement, but in the time, attitude and effort invested to achieve any success, no matter how large or small. We are all constantly trying to do our best, to improve and to reach our potential. We set goals and work hard to achieve them.

I thank the entire Preparatory School community for contributing to a wonderful Centenary year. Particular thanks to the Preparatory School staff, teachers, assistants and support staff. They are a significant reason why this is such a special place. Every day our staff make differences in our boys' lives, inspiring them, supporting them, challenging them, holding on and letting go. Thank you also to my two deputies, Mrs Helen Adams and Mr Brad Hilliard, who both moved into their new positions this year. I thank them for the extraordinary work they have completed to improve the Preparatory School and support our staff and me.

I look forward to an exciting year in 2011 as we enter the new Christ Church Grammar School century.

Dale entered 2010 full of optimism as we attempted to defend the Giles Shield. We knew that we would have to work hard to fend off the other Houses, but we were up to the challenge. We had all the ingredients including Mrs Gale, Miss Danswan, Mrs Joseph, Mrs Feaver and Mr Morgan helping guide us to victory. We showed tremendous leadership throughout the year by having three out of four School Captains coming from Dale. Unfortunately, other Houses showed a little more hunger throughout the year.

Through the eyes of our captains:

Term 1
For the first term of the year, the captains of Dale were George Gare and Nowar Koning. We had a hard job, as we were the first Year 6 leaders to lead Dale House alone. George was also voted in as School Captain. In Term 1 we had the annual swimming carnival. Nicholas Throssell represented Dale House excellently by winning Champion Boy and breaking three school records. Well done, Nicholas!

We had a good term, but didn’t finish as strongly as we would have liked. We ended the term in third place. Well done to all Dale boys for their efforts.

George Gare and Nowar Koning

Term 2
Nicholas Hart and Ben Anderson were appointed captains for Term 2. They embraced the responsibility with tremendous effort. The boys showed solid leadership by making sure that all Dale boys got to duty and encouraged them to all earn Virtue Cards around the school to gain points for Dale House. Nicholas Hart was also given the responsibility of School Captain and delivered several inspiring speeches on the virtue of the week during Wednesday assemblies. Dale had a solid term and finished it off by taking the lead in what was shaping to be a very tight competition.

Nicholas Hart and Ben Anderson

Term 3
In Term 3 Edward Townsend Arellano and Sam Elias took on the role as House Captain and Vice Captain for Dale House. The competition between the four Houses was enormous, with only 100 or so points between first and fourth place. Term 3 held two major sporting events: the Cross Country and the Athletics Carnival. In the Cross Country, we ran our hardest and tried our best, but Dale unfortunately came in fourth place while Stirling House won. The Athletics Carnival turned out slightly better as we received the House Spirit Shield for being the most enthusiastic House. Again, we ran our hardest, but we came in fourth place. Congratulations to Keaton Wright for winning Champion Boy in Year 5 and to all Dale boys who represented Christ Church at the Interschool Cross Country and Athletics Carnivals and to all Dale boys for their efforts through a long term.

Edward Townsend Arellano and Sam Elias

Term 4
Term 4 was a great term with Jason Currall and Charlie BondFewster being appointed Dale captains. There were no sporting events, but we were getting to duty and received many points in the process. Congratulations to Jason Yu and Akinwale Ayonrinde for winning the Year 6 and Year 5 Spelling Bee competitions. They were awarded valuable House points. As the year draws to an end, all boys are excited about the challenges of next year, especially the Year 6s as they prepare for life in the Senior School. Well done to all Dale boys for a great year and we are confident that we can reclaim the Giles Shield next year.

Jason Currall and Charlie Bond Fewster
GILES HOUSE

Giles has not won the Giles Shield for eight years and, after informing the boys of this fact, we thought 2010 would be the year of Giles. Liam Donovan and Michael Silberstein were elected the leaders of the House for Term 1. Both gave the Giles boys plenty of helpful advice and were instrumental in encouraging all boys to get to duty and to provide random acts of kindness in order to achieve Virtues Cards.

The Swimming Carnival was the first interhouse meeting of the year. All Giles boys performed admirably against some talented opposition. Unfortunately, Giles came fourth on the day, but we managed to win the Spirit Award, which is the prize for the House showing encouragement and sportsmanship. Special mention must go to Ben Cunningham who was the Year 5 champion boy swimmer. Jack Dale and Patrick Henderson were tireless swimmers for Giles.

All Giles boys responded generously to the Easter Egg raffle to raise money for Anglicare. Each boy was asked to bring in an egg or two for the raffle. The lads were encouraged not to ask mum or dad for the money or the egg, but to do jobs to earn money to purchase the gift. We raised over $700 for Anglicare with many Giles boys such as Liam Donovan, Michael Silberstein, Millar Ormonde and Vashist Rambal giving up recess or lunch to sell tickets. At the end of the term, Giles was leading the points tally.

In Term 2, George Richmond and Ben Lee became the new leaders of Giles. Although both boys are quiet they were efficient and diligent. Both motivated and encouraged their Giles peers to perform duty and to play their part in class to pick up points for the House. At the end of Term 2, George and Ben had performed their roles with honour as Giles was again leading the pack at the end of term.

Lachy Goddard and Morgan Green took over from George and Ben in Term 3 with both taking responsibility from day one. Lachy gave the boys a motivational talk about service which helped inspire the team in the Cross Country Carnival. All Giles boys ran with conviction and, despite having fewer members than the other Houses, Giles came second to a strong Stirling team. Again, the Giles boys rose to the occasion by winning the Spirit Shield, so big points were earned by the team. Special mention goes to Ben Cunningham who was the champion boy for Year 5.

The Athletics Carnival was a hard-fought affair with many boys completing extra training to help improve their times or distances. The cheer leading from the Giles boys was one of the highlights with many lads writing out war cries for the House. Every Giles boy tried his hardest and we came equal third. Dale House was also in good voice during the carnival and pipped Giles for the Spirit Award.

Owing to the teamwork and spirit shown by the Giles boys, the staff rewarded the boys with a House party. It was not going to be a sugar fest: fizzy drinks, chocolates, sweet biscuits, etcetera. We decided to have a health food party. If we teach about healthy minds and bodies, then we must practise what we preach. We encouraged all the boys to bring in a healthy snack to share with a $20.00 book voucher going to the best tasting healthy food supplied. David Quinsee decided to contact Jamie Oliver (who, by the way, thought the health food party a great idea) and the latter gave young David a recipe to make. David’s Jamie Oliver cake was voted the most imaginative and best tasting cake. A good time was had by all as the boys feasted on the array of healthy goodies before them. At the end of Term 3, Giles was still ahead – but only just.

Patrick Henderson and Matthew Parry were the new leaders of Giles and both boys encouraged and cajoled their colleagues to give of their best so Giles could come out on top at the end of term. It was pleasing to see most boys taking their responsibilities very seriously with many lads, like Angus Kitto, earning extra points for the House by picking up extra papers - in a bid to keep the Christ Church environment clean and tidy.

I would like to thank all the Giles boys and staff for their efforts throughout the year. As mentioned earlier in the report, Giles has the least members so it has been a great effort for the team to be ‘leading the pack’ at the end of each term. We shall miss the Year 6 boys who will be heading off to the Senior School next year. All the Giles boys, I am sure, would join me in wishing the Year 6 boys every success in the years ahead.

With such a great bunch of boys in Stirling House this year we had an outstanding year.

We started off Term 1 with leaders we knew well in William Pike and Timothy Moorman. These two boys were organised and had the House on their toes early. They helped in developing the House chants and relays for the swimming carnival and led the boys with their cheering. Will was very active in suggesting ways the boys could support the House with mascots and decorations and Tim was big on encouraging the swimmers. We did very well on the day, with Stirling coming a creditable second place by only 23 points. Jack Hobson was Champion Boy and Matthew Tissiman Runner Up in the Year 4 events while Kael Walsh was Runner Up Champion Boy in Year 5. Year 6 boys made a consistent effort in their races, winning many in lower divisions.

Due to having so many boys in the House now and more in the junior years, we decided to have separate junior and senior House activities for the boys to get to know each other. The Easter Egg Hunt for boys in Year 1, 2 and 3, held in front of the School Chapel, was a lot of fun for the boys collecting eggs as well as the boys laying the trail. Mrs Caddy and Mr Knott had to keep an eye out for chocolate eggs that might have been forgotten. The upper primary boys in the House had a recess party organised by Will and Tim and there was a lot of delicious food for all. Thanks to Mrs Myles it was held in the PMC room and boys were very well behaved. We had a talk about responsibility and Will and Tim talked about their jobs as Captain and Vice Captain to make boys aware of what it takes to be a leader.

Term 2 saw new leaders in Christian Wong and David Woods. Christian was elected School Captain for the term and was a busy person giving his advice where it was needed. We had a few talks after chapel on Fridays to try and improve our duty representation after a poor total of points at the end of Term 1. Despite our excellent efforts from time to time across the School, we needed to do more in the classrooms to gain points for the House. Although we didn’t want House points and winning Virtues Cards to be our only motivation, we needed to put more energy into being good citizens all the time and helping other people around the School. Christian and David shared some of their ideas about good ways of doing that and the boys started to improve House scores.

Our annual fundraiser for Anglicare, the Mother’s Day Raffle, came very quickly at the start of Term 2 with Mother’s Day in the third week and boys contributed wonderful little gifts that collectively made beautiful prizes any mother would be very excited to receive. Thank you to all our House patrons who contributed towards the prizes and those who bought tickets in the raffle. Anglicare is always a worthwhile cause for our charity.

Term 3 was very busy with two carnivals to contest. Thomas Waring and Matthew Lauw led the House through a very solid term all round. Thomas also took on the role of School Captain which he did in true Stirling style with very mature and helpful talks on virtues in chapel each week. Our results in the Cross Country were outstanding, with Stirling once again winning the event overall. Stirling boys in Year 4 were led by Tim Bourke, who came Runner Up. Year Five all tried hard and did a good job encouraging each other, while the senior boys were led by Asad Yusoff and Will Pike who finished as Champion and Runner Up for Year 6. The Stirling cheer squad was alive and well on the day with our new vuvuzela player, Matthew Tissiman, keeping the House active and amused.

The Athletics Carnival was another big day for our House, with every boy taking part in running events and team games and giving their best efforts. Our runners were exceptional on the day with several outstanding results and these helped us take out second place overall. In Year 4 Matthew Tissiman was Champion Boy and he gave vuvuzela performances in between running events to cheer the other boys on. In Year 5 we had a clean sweep of the medals. Keaton Wright and Zac Schinazi tied for Champion Boy, while Tom Simpson came Runner Up. In Year 6 Asad Yusoff was the Runner Up. The star performers in our House were well backed up by others winning ribbons in running events at all levels.

Term 4 came quickly and started with two more very capable leaders in Nicholas Pizzino and Hector Morlet. We knew that we had to work on duty scores and it took some effort to get more boys to take their responsibility more seriously. Nick and Hector encouraged the boys each week, as did the teachers, and near the end of the term we were very close to the top, but so were other Houses.

The Spelling Bee was held during the first few weeks of Term 4 and the Year 4 winner was Alexander Honey for Stirling. He won many valuable House points, showing his incredible spelling ability. Fantastic effort, Alexander!

It was a big effort from all boys in the end that pulled us over the line to once again win the coveted Giles Shield as the best House overall for 2010. This was made even more special this year, being the 100th year of the school. I have great admiration for our House leaders and send enormous thanks to the teachers Mr McPherson, Mr Fagan, Mrs Myles, Mr Knott, Mrs Caddy, Mrs Boxill and Mrs Hill for all their support of the House. The Stirling name remains synonymous with House spirit. Our Year 6 boys were always willing to help when necessary, so thank you to them for leading the House. Congratulations on a superb year boys! You did a Stirling job.

Chess at Christ Church during 2010 was a favourite activity for many Preparatory School boys. Held on a Thursday afternoon in the library with a membership of 50 boys, competition can be fierce!

Vaughan Greenberger, Year 9, is our very own ‘Chess Master’ and each week Vaughan presents a new chess move or tactic for the boys to practise. He works to enhance and teach chess skills, which the boys absorb enthusiastically and use in the competitions in which they participate. Vaughan never missed a Thursday and gave up his time each week to work with the boys, which was greatly appreciated by us all.

This year we had a visit from Haydn Barber, Western Australia’s very own Grand Master. Haydn ran a workshop with the Chess Club to impart some of his amazing ability to the boys. It was a fabulous experience.

A team of Year 5 and 6 boys represented Christ Church Grammar in the Independent Primary Schools Heads of Australia annual Chess Tournament held at St Stephen’s School. It was our first competition and we finished in fourth place. The day was packed with nail-bitting moments and enjoyed immensely by all.

Many boys have also represented Christ Church in the independent Chess Tournaments held regularly throughout the year on a Saturday by the Chess Association of Western Australia. They have enjoyed the practice and experience gained from these meets and the challenge of playing under pressure.

Overall, chess has been embraced by the boys in the Preparatory School as a favourite activity and we all look forward to another fabulous chess year in 2011.

Christ Church Grammar School was again successful in having a group of Year 6 and Year 8 students compete at the National Finals held at the University of Melbourne.

David Proudlove and Richard Wright accompanied a team of Year 6 students and a team of Year 8 students, who competed against dozens of schools from across Australia. The junior team, competing in the Years 5 to 7 category, consisted of Ben Anderson, Cameron Everett, George Gare and Nicholas Pizzino while our middle team, in the Years 8 to 10 category, included Jimmy Lac, David Latham, Chris Popovic and Brendon Wright.

Both teams tackled an imaginary problem based on a future with food costs spiraling beyond the means of many, proposing ways to improve food production and distribution and helping to reduce malnutrition and poverty in developing nations. The contest also allowed for each school to send 'alternates' to the National Finals, two reserves who might step into the team should there be an illness. While in Melbourne, alternates from all the schools were placed into new, mixed teams of four, who competed in a separate competition, following the same theme. Our alternates were Tom Waring and Lachlan Goddard (Year 6) and Henry Cooney and Brandon Afiat (Year 8).

After an intensive evaluation process, which lasted long into the Saturday night, the results were announced in the Copland Theatre to an excited, expectant crowd of over 500 students, parents and coaches. While our junior team failed to make the top six in their competition, our middle team achieved an excellent sixth place, finishing behind teams significantly older than themselves and above many older contestants. Our visit was superbly rounded off by the announcement that all our alternates had helped their respective teams to either first or second place in their competitions. The four boys bounded down the auditorium stairs enthusiastically to receive their silver and gold medals and certificates.

The programme was offered to able boys in Years 5, 6 and 8 in 2010 with the hope that the programme will become more popular in the future.

Future Problem Solving will be available to highly motivated students in Years 6, 7, 8 and 9 in 2011 and we look forward to greater success in next year's competition leading to the Gold Coast at the National Finals next October.

This, our Centenary Year, started off with a loud roar! The 'Queyan Kung Fu Martial Arts Academy' arrived at our school to help us welcome in the Year of the Tiger. We were treated to the traditional Lion Dance and we were excited to see the lions jumping and leaping around in their amazing lion costumes and generally teasing the boys who watched. The group presented the School with a beautiful Chinese scroll that signifies success and prosperity. We were also fortunate to hear Professor David Ambrose and Ms Vader Ng from the Confucius Institute, who gave further descriptions about Chinese culture and traditions in Cultural Studies classes.

During Term 2 in Cultural Studies we began Aboriginal Studies and with a grant from the Parents' Association we sought help from international dance group 'Wadumbah'. They taught traditional dance and story. A special project was given to all Year 4 boys to learn a Welcome to Country dance called Tjinigan Bo and a traditional Dreamtime story called The Saga of the Yondoch and the Wargyl. This story describes the Rainbow serpent, 'Wargyl', and how Garden Island was formed. The dance also showed how the Swan River was formed and told the story of an epic battle between the rainbow serpent and a vicious crocodile called 'Yondoch'.

We made a beautiful film of Wadumbah performing a traditional blessing at the river behind the Chapel. The ceremony called Gabba Kyn-Ya Ung Yanganan was led by Wadumbah and the Year 3 boys. The Film and Television Institute helped by teaching movie-making classes during iMove Physical Theatre Club workshops and we learnt many techniques about camera angles and editing. At the end of Term 2, all Year 4s performed their dance with Wadumbah to the whole Preparatory School. Well done to the Year 4 boys who did a fantastic job and well done to Wadumbah Dance Group, who portrayed the events in the story brilliantly.

We also had the pleasure of guest speaker, Mrs Sally Herzfeld, who also came to Year 4 classes to discuss her amazing experiences as a teacher for the Education Department to Aboriginal children at Forrest River Mission near Wyndham, and in Port Hedland.

Term 3 was abuzz with the Week of the Arts. National BBoy, Edit was welcomed back to the School to put iMove Physical Theatre Club dancers into training. During Term 2 and Term 3, Edit choreographed a spectacular dance routine called 'Zombie Disco', which was performed by many boys for many people during the grand opening launch of the Week of the Arts. Overall the boys loved working with Edit and learning his cool moves.

The Flash mobbing culture suddenly descended on our School oval with boys performing improvised moves to music. MLC Year 4 girls joined the fun, making a memorable finish to the Week of the Arts.

iMove Physical Theatre Club boys finished the year in grand style with a performance and street parade for the Town of Claremont Christmas Carnivale.

We would like to thank our other guest artists who brought much culture and vitality in our Centenary Year: Youth Ballet of WA, Gintaras (Lithuania), Mrs Gub-Wallace, Mr Stocker (Head of Drama), and Mrs Mary Jones (Sydney). Thank you all for a memorable 2010.

Books, videos, DVDs, CDs, audio books, stories on Kindle, stories on iPod Touch, Kindle on Macs, smartboard, active board, eBooks online, magazines, online databases, online encyclopedias, graphic novels, and so the list goes on. These are all part of the resources we offer boys through the Preparatory Library. Our library, however, is far from just a resource centre for borrowing and this year the boys were as busy as ever through library programmes and activities.

The book club was off to a roaring start in Week 2 with 25 boys joining in the activities. Mrs Feaver also joined us and shared her ideas about books over the year. The boys enjoyed planning the programme for Terms 1 and 4 and we visited a local bookshop to choose books for the library and talked about our favourite books. We also enjoyed a session with author Paul Collins at the All Saints' Literature Festival where we were fortunate to meet other authors and illustrators. We quizzed each other on books we had read and held a night activity for the first time, including a dress up competition of book characters, games, a movie and lots of delicious food thanks to the parents. The boys wanted to stay all night. Reading at the river for lunch was also very enjoyable.

We held our annual Book Fair, the proceeds of which went to the Hope for Children Fund for the Christ Church House in Ethiopia – over $1000 this year. We had a guest appearance from Geronimo Stilton (a very popular book character) and his books sold like hot cakes. The morning tea for parents was very well attended and many books were bought to take home on the day. Boys bought a record number of books this year, a reflection of the status of literature amongst our School community. Thank you to parents for supporting this year’s fair.

During 2010 our school libraries moved to a new operating system, Oliver from Softlink. This has meant improved access for boys and staff from anywhere in the School and at home. Oliver is a web-based system and as such only requires internet access and a password to search the catalogue and this means that boys will be able to view their own borrower file to check loans and overdues and so on. The search screens have given a brighter and more appealing experience for boys and information is quicker and easier to access.

Our Library Monitors this year were excellent and I thank the boys for their enthusiasm each week as they carried out their jobs to help keep the library up to date and attractive. Their organisation of other boys at bell time was always impressive. Congratulations to Charlie Johnson who was awarded the Kimberley Morrison Memorial Prize for Librarians in 2010.

Like the library monitors, our parents also help in the library through FOLA (Friends of the Library and Archives) and this year we had a group of dedicated, experienced mothers who volunteered each week to shelve and cover books in the library. The job they do is invaluable to the ongoing operation of the library, so a big thank you goes to them all for their efforts. Our library is very busy most of the week and these parents can often be seen working in the middle of lessons.

The Reader's Cup group met every Monday for lunch during Term 2 and Mrs Feaver and I introduced the boys to the nominated books for the Children's Book Council, Book of the Year. We thoroughly enjoyed reading a new picture book each week and discussing its characters and events. The final quiz and pizza lunch at the end of the term were also popular. The Christ Church team for the competition held in Book Week, Term 3 consisted of Tom Weight, Charlie Johnson, and Cameron Everett with reserve, George Gare. These boys really knew the 18 books on the list from cover to cover and it was a huge thrill to see them bring home the Cup again for Christ Church after a break of three years. Congratulations to these clever boys.

Book Week was once again a lot of fun. With the theme of 'Across the Story Eridge' we held the annual poster competition, classes decorated their doorways, the teachers performed an exquisite version of 'The Three Billy Goats Gruff', boys participated in a bridge building competition and took part in the Book Character Parade around the School cval. The bridge photo competition was hugely popular with staff and boys becoming very competitive. Andrew Baird was kind enough to judge the winners and he was very impressed with the quality and creativity. It was a hectic week, but a high point of the year.

The book shelves were put on wheels during the year and this made it possible to hold the Preparatory School Art Exhibition in the library. It was a raving success and the library looked amazing with its new facelift for several weeks afterwards.

We were fortunate this year to have four author visits to our school - Dr Michael Thompson with his debut Picture Book The Other Bear; Justin D’Ath who writes the Extreme Adventures series; Norman Jorgensen whose books, including Jack’s Island, address West Australian history on Rottnest Island; and prominent Aboriginal author, Boori Monty Pryor, who has just released a new book, Shake a Leg. The boys always enjoy these visits and learn more each time about the process of writing and the development of stories.

Boys have recently been involved in research into the use of Kindles and iPod Touch to read eBooks. This is in conjunction with a research project of which I am a part, organised by the International Boys’ School Coalition. The research has been very positive and boys were very enthusiastic about being able to access stories in a different format. This will continue into next year when more formal results will be given to parents through the newsletter. However, I think we can safely say that eBooks are here to stay and that Christ Church will be looking at the best ways to provide access for our boys in the future.

Two staff members took long service leave this year: Kate Marshall in Term 3 and Peta Sawyer in Term 4. We trust they enjoyed their time away and came back to school rejuvenated. They were very ably replaced by Nicole Malthus and Dina Delitt.

A huge thank you must go to the other library staff - Kate Marshall, Christine Hindmarsh and Peta Sawyer, whose unflagging efforts have made the Preparatory Library such a welcome, busy and vibrant place this year, not only for boys, but also for staff and parents.

This most significant year - the Christ Church Centenary - was particularly so in the Music Department, as we provide music for many official School events and were intimately involved in many of the year's celebrations. 2010 also saw further growth in CCGS Preparatory School music - two new activities were added to the range of extra-curricular music available, and for the first time, boys from the Junior Choir were able to audition for the special Yahoo Choir, with very good results. There are now ten Preparatory music ensembles, so whatever your instrument or interest, the Music Department has a group for you!

2010 saw the retirement of long-standing Music Administration Assistant, Elizabeth Greenwood. Mrs Greenwood was for many years the 'face' of the Music Department, helping parents and boys alike to organise instrumental lessons and sort out various musc-related issues in her kind and efficient manner. The Yahos gave Mrs Greenwood a fitting farewell with a big card and rousing rendition of Wish Me Luck As You Wave Me Goodbye. The new Music Administration Assistant, Holly Norman, is an exciting addition to the department. She is also a professional percussionist and performs regularly with her group, The Joe Black Trio.

There were several Music assemblies this year. Notable items include the return of Old Boy, Richard Symons, who is studying singing at WAAPA, to perform some British art songs, new Year 6 boy Tristan Murphy's riveting rendition of Chopin's Revolutionary Etude and Year 5 band Rubik's Cube's mind-blowing performances of Australian rock classics. In Term 4, Year 6 boy Ben Ancerson performed the world debut of his composition Forte, accompanied by the string orchestra.

The Mid-Year Music Concert was held in assembly time this year, which had the advantage that boys and teachers who would not normally attend a Christ Church music concert saw all the wonderful work that all the ensembles were doing.

In Term 3, the Week Of The Arts got off to an early start with a visit by prominent Perth percussion ensemble, Tetrafide and the boys were thrilled with the unusual instruments and infectious rhythms. Later in the week, the Piano Duet Club, Preparatory Rock Workshop and Yahos provided musical interludes while boys and parents enjoyed art works at the Preparatory School Art Exhibition. Class concerts were held every day during the Week Of The Arts, providing all boys who learnt an instrument with an opportunity to share their work with their class. A special treat was provided when the combined CCGS/MLC Concert Band performed at the Wednesday Chapel to a delighted audience.

The year ended as busily as it began with a multitude of performances. The Early Learning Centre boys sang songs and played xylophones and other percussion instruments as part of their Nativity Play, all the preparatory choirs performed with the senior school choir at the Advent Carol Service and the Speech Morning was a big musical event for all the Year 6 boys and several ensembles, with an emphasis this year on Australian rock classics. So many boys are involved in music-making at Christ Church and they should all be very proud of their achievements in 2010, as the following reports show.

Sarah Seaman
Director of Music, Preparatory School
After the exodus of Year 6 and 7 boys at the end of 2009, Director, Miss Stephanie Harford, was apprehensive that perhaps there would not be enough good woodwind and brass musicians left for the CCGS Preparatory School Concert Band – she need not have feared! 15 boys from Years 4 to 6 regrouped in 2010 with a diverse range of ability, but a common interest in jazz and pop charts. Once the regeneration of the ensemble was complete, the first performance of the year was in combination with the Yahoo Choir at the Mid-Year Concert. The whole School tailed their toes along to Boogie Shoes and was most amused by the sudden growth of moustaches when the boys played Christ Church favourite, Tequila!

Semester Two brought a significant development to the Concert Band with a semi-amalgamation with the MLC Junior School Concert Band. This joining of forces has filled a lot of instrumental gaps and provided both schools with new social and performance opportunities. Additional instruments (double bass, bass clarinet, oboe and euphonium) gave the band a fantastic sound and allowed it to explore more challenging repertoire. All we need now is to get some CCGS boys or these unusual and in-high-demand instruments! The collaboration culminated in a fantastic performance in the CCGS chapel during week of the Arts. The band played George of the Jungle and Gimme Some Lovin. A special shared lunch afterwards seemed a fitting reward for everyone’s hard work.

Returning to bachelor status, the CCGS Concert Band spent Term 4 preparing for Speech Morning and worked diligently on a very tricky arrangement of It’s Time to Go, with the Yahoo Choir and Preparatory String Orchestra. The piece made a beautiful contribution to the Year 6 graduation and an excellent last performance for a high-achieving ensemble.

Stephanie Harford
Director of Music
The CCGS Preparatory School Guitar Ensemble has grown in size in 2010 and now has ten members. Not all the boys are classical guitarists, so there is quite a range of ability and discipline levels. The ensemble has performed at both Preparatory assembly and Chapel times and was a highlight of the Preparatory Mid-Year Concert. A focus has been placed on preparing a varied repertoire from many different periods and styles. The Director, Mr Joe Grech, has taken care to include several pieces from Australian composers/arrangers.

The boys particularly enjoyed the pieces that required somewhat unconventional guitar techniques such as striking the instrument in order to achieve percussive sounds. The group also enjoyed the opportunity to interpret the pieces in their own way, through the use of dynamics and timbral variation.

Guitar Ensemble has had an excellent year and has grown together as an ensemble, both musically and socially. The Guitar Ensemble looks forward to new challenges and achievements in 2011.

Joe Grech
Director
Following the move of Year 7 to the Senior School, the CCGS Preparatory School choirs have had another slight alteration in composition and the Junior Choir now consists of Year 3 and 4 boys. The Junior Choir grew in size this year, to the extent that there was some trouble fitting all members into the Choir Room! The boys had a lot of fun developing choral singing technique and preparing for their first performance at the Mid-Year Concert.

The boys sang an Australian comic song, Bunyip In The Bathtub and joined with the Senior Choir for a hauntingly beautiful rendition of the Irish folk air, Danny Boy.

Semester Two saw several performance opportunities – some less formal than others. Director, Miss Sarah Seaman, asked the choir to oblige at the last Wednesday Chapel of Term 3 by leading the School in the AFL Grand Final teams’ songs. Good Old Collingwood Forever was gloriously uplifting (and prophetic) and When The Saints Go Marching In had to be included, for fairness’ sake, but was not at all enjoyable to hear (for this music teacher). The boys also sang at a Music assembly early in Term 4, performing the delicious Candy Man. The rest of the year was spent preparing for the Advent Carol Service, a Christ Church tradition and very special event, which the entire choir enjoyed thoroughly. We were very lucky this year to have quite cool weather on the night, which led to a break in one Advent tradition – no one fainted!

One of the most exciting developments for the Music Department in 2010 was the introduction of the Music Theory Club. After an initial organisation by Miss Seaman in Semester One, Mr Luke Hynes directed the Club from Semester Two. Boys from Years 3 to 6 were more than happy to give up their lunch break every Monday to work on their theory and had lots of fun in the process. Such was the demand for joining Music Theory Club that the class soon filled to capacity – who knew there were so many boys keen to improve their musical knowledge! Mr Hynes would like to thank all of the boys in the Club for their outstanding effort and cooperation this year. A big thank you also goes to our Music Theory Club Mentors from the Senior School, who willingly gave up their time to help the boys with their work.

PIANO DUET CLUB

The CCGS Preparatory School Piano Duet Club is a new music ensemble, formed this year in response to many expressions of interest from piano students learning within and outside of CCGS. Miss Sarah Seaman and Mrs Julie Ann Timms initially directed the Friday 8am rehearsals, which are now run by Mrs Timms and Miss Stephanie Harford.

The group developed quickly and after some weeks spent playing scales and simple pieces as a whole group, was split into pairs to work on sight-reading and pieces matched to their abilities. The boys generally work on two pieces at a time, both with different partners, to allow students to mingle socially and collaborate musically with a variety of people of differing levels of playing ability. This also helps negate the problem of how to rehearse when a duet partner is absent, as everyone has alternative partners.

In Term 3, the new ensemble made their debut performance, providing background music at the Evening Of The Arts. Many people stopped outside the Library to listen, watch and applaud the boys. A variety of repertoire was heard and the performances were a highlight of the night.

Term 4 has been a regrouping session for the Ensemble with boys changing partners and learning new pieces. The group hopes to involve many more piano students in 2011 and perhaps hold some night time concerts in the Chapel!

Now in its second year, the CCGS Preparatory School Percussion Ensemble consolidated its fabulous inaugural year by learning some rhythms from one of the most musically toe-tapping and funky countries on earth - Cuba. The boys, led by Director Mr Steve Richter, had fun learning specific beats on congas, bongos, timbales, shakers, guiros and other Caribbean instruments. The joy of Cuban music lies in the whole being greater than sum of all the parts, meaning that there is power and fun when everyone pitches in and plays their part well! All the developmental work on Cuban music culminated in the performance of Latin Lambada at the Preparatory Mid-Year Concert. The other piece performed was a ragtime piece featuring Tristan Murphy on the xylophone, Luke Wheatland on drums and Ben Stone on wacky sounds, including a duck call. The Percussion Ensemble's offerings are always popular with audiences.

Second semester saw the boys move into a slightly more serious frame of mind to work up a Taiko-inspired drumming piece. Taiko is a Japanese musical form, which melds drumming and some martial arts type movement into a thunderous drumming bonanza. The boys did a great job playing together and sending the decibel meter off the chart! They received many positive comments as people heard them rehearsing and perhaps there will be an opportunity to perform this piece early in 2011.

PREPARATORY SCHOOL
Wow! This was the first full year of the CCGS Preparatory School Rock Workshop and it has been action-packed. The ensemble directors, Mr Phil Bailey, Mr Joe Grech and Mr Warren Hall, have been knocked out by the enthusiasm of the boys. All the workshop members rose to the challenges presenting the new group and together they learnt a strong repertoire of rock and pop songs, including Seven Nation Army, Smoke On The Water and Viva La Vida.

At the end of Term 3, Preparatory Rock Workshop performed at the Evening Of The Arts - the inaugural performance for the ensemble and a highlight of the year. Another thrill was provided in Term 4 with a visit from Old Boy and genuine rock celebrity, Mr Mark McEntee of Divinyls fame. That day's rehearsal ended with a prolonged session of guitars, shirts and other precious objects being autographed and a local journalist arrived to cover the event. The resulting article in The Post included a colour photograph of Mark, surrounded by all the workshop boys.

A surprise evolution this year was the enthusiasm for singing. There are now several singers in the making developing their craft at the Friday afternoon practices. Parents are most welcome to visit at the end of our sessions - we provide the ear protection!

The 2010 CCGS Preparatory School Senior Choir comprised Years 5 and 6 boys, many of whom had not previously been in a CCGS Choir. The boys worked hard to develop a good choral singing technique and music-reading skills and were ready to perform in Term 2 at the Mid-Year Concert. The Senior Choir sang the well-loved Beatles hit, Penny Lane, in two parts and also joined the Junior Choir to perform the Irish folk air, Danny Boy. The boys also amalgamated with the Junior Choir for one day in September to excite the School for the AFL Grand Final with a rousing rendition of the St Kilda and Collingwood anthems. Good Old Collingwood Forever was particularly beautiful and touching.

The Senior Choir had a busy Semester Two with many performances. They contributed a lovely Simon and Garfunkel song, I Am A Rock, at the Term 4 Music assembly and performed Let Us Now Praise Famous Men at the whole School Founder’s Day Service. Mr Grech also invited the boys to collaborate with the Middle School Rock Workshop on a performance of Another Brick In The Wall, Pink Floyd’s anthem to disaffected school children. The ensemble rocked out at a Senior School assembly and was a great success.

Most of Term 4 was spent preparing for the traditional CCGS Advent Carol Service. The Senior Choir really enjoyed singing Christmas carols with the Senior School choir and general Christ Church community. It was a lovely ending to a most productive year.

The members of the CCGS Preparatory School String Orchestra have enjoyed a very musically satisfying year, playing repertoire from a number of styles and periods. They have performed twice for the Preparatory School and provided music for the wider Claremont community, combining with the Yahoo Choir for a morning concert at St Louis Estate in November.

Director, Mr Kevin Gillam, prepared the ensemble to participate in the WA Schools Orchestra Festival, where they gained a Merit in their category. They also gave the premiere performance of Forte composed by Bennett Anderson of Year 6 – a lively and very well written piece for young string players. The final triumph of the year was when the String Orchestra joined forces with the Preparatory Concert Band and the whole of the School to sing It's Time To Go to farewell the graduating Year 6 class.

Sarah Seaman

2010 for the Yahooos was another very busy year, providing music for all kinds of official Christ Church occasions in its Centenary year. For the first time, boys from Years 3 and 4 were eligible to audition for the Yahoo Choir and the change was a great success, with some of the younger choir members showing the older boys up in organisation skills and attendance rates!

The boys plunged straight in to the fray in Term 1, preparing music for the special Centenary Service. The Centenary Suite was an amalgam of the many musical theatre pieces, hymns, mass settings and incidental music composed by John Bates, a past Director of the Music Department and lasting musical influence at CCGS. Old Boy and professional composer, Simon Holt, arranged the suite for choir and orchestra and the Yahooos loved singing the dramatic and beautiful melodies, culminating in a grand interpretation of the School hymn, Lead Us O Lord.

In Term 2, the Yahooos performed the Karl Jenkins Mass For Peace with the Senior School choir for the combined CCGS/St Hilda’s concert. This performance gave the Yahooos some fun experience of singing in Latin, although there was some debate among the cathedral boys in particular about the pronunciation of certain words! The Yahooos also sang at the Preparatory Mic-Year concert, uniting with the Preparatory Concert Band for a vigorous version of Boogie Shoes.

Term 3 brought the Week Of The Arts and one of the best Yahoo performances of the year. The choir concluded the evening Art Exhibition with the lively Negro Spiritual Rock-a My Soul and a heartstring-tugging Wonderful World and surprised even their parents with their gorgeous sound. Choral accompanist, Mr Luke Hynes, did his usual superb job of providing a supportive piano accompaniment, even in the difficult circumstances of the Preparatory School undercover area.

As usual, Canon Sheehan invited the Yahooos to farewell the graduating Year 12s with the traditional It’s Time To Go early in Term 4. The rest of the year was spent preparing solo items for the Advent Carol Service and special Yahoo parts in the Speech Morning musical interludes. Both performances were magnificent and the Yahooos of 2010 should be truly satisfied with an exceptional year of music-making.

The annual Preparatory Ski trip left Perth airport at the unkind hour of six o’clock in the morning and headed for Melbourne. Our party included six staff and 39 boys, 21 of whom had never seen snow, let alone been skiing. The weather forecast during the previous week was not very encouraging. Very little natural snow had fallen at Falls Creek, our destination, and what was there was all man-made.

Despite the minimal snowfall, all the boys were very excited about skiing and the camp in general. The first day was the hardest to get through. The flight from Perth was most uncomfortable and the five hour bus ride added to a very long day for all concerned. Mr Williamson had organised pizzas, but due to the lack of snowfall the pizza delivery system failed, so we had to collect our own dinner.

After a very good night’s sleep we all traversed down to the main ski hire office and were kitted out with boots, skis and poles. All the boys then played outside getting used to standing still in skis, walking in skis, trying to stand up in skis, and generally having a great laugh.

We ate lunch every day at the “Last Hoot Café.” The fare consisted of a range of club sandwiches and bottles of fresh water. Our lessons were held at the top of the mountain, which meant all the boys had to travel on the ski lift. This was not as difficult as it may seem, as those who had never skied could carry their skis and poles.

All boys enjoyed their lessons. Some boys found skiing a difficult skill to master, others picked up the basics very quickly. Due to the lack of natural snow, the available runs were extremely crowded. Our boys skied very sensibly, showing courtesy and common sense at all times.

At the end of each skiing day we could not ski home, so it was skis off and we had to trudge through the bush to our lodge. Some of the boys found this task tiresome and tried to make deals with the staff to get them to carry their gear.

The weather throughout the trip was perfect. Clear sunny days and no wind made it a comfortable experience for everyone. It was a shame that the boys did not see any natural snow falling this year.

The teachers were very impressed with the boys’ behaviour throughout the trip. We were constantly being complimented on their manners and patience.

These sorts of trips function effectively because of hard work from many people. I must thank Mr Peter Williamson for his tireless attention to detail and his leadership on the snow, Mrs Jenny Joseph for her patience in helping the boys, Ms Chantal Hockey, Mrs Maddern, and Mrs Sally Lee for their wonderful organisation of our daily routine.

It was a wonderful trip. Plans are already well underway for next year’s journey.

House Carnival

On a stunning September day, the Year 4 - 6 cohort competed in the 2010 CCGS House Athletics carnival. All boys were involved across a wide range of events, earning points towards the Champion House Shield. The final results were:

1. Forrest 1801
2. Stirling 1647
3. Giles 1306
4. Dale 1306

Spirit Shield: Dale

Inaugural JPSSA Inter-School

We took a squad of over 30 boys to Aquinas for the JPSSA Inter-School Athletics Carnival. The team competed very well, with many impressive results in a variety of events. Two special mentions go to our Year 4 boys, Matthew Tissiman and Marc Boyatzis. Matthew set two new CCGS School records while also winning eight of his events and Marc won all four of his track events. Overall, the team ended up third with a very close finish in the standings:

1st Hale 958pts
2nd Scotch 951pts
3rd CCGS 941 pts
4th Guildford Grammar 940pts
5th Wesley 915 pts
6th Aquinas 913 pts
7th Trinity 843 pts

ELC Athletics Carnival

On a picture-perfect spring day the ELC students had a wonderful time on the Senior School oval. Involved in a variety of events, the boys demonstrated great sportsmanship and a terrific willingness to participate. Congratulations to Mrs Kim Malajczuk for a very well run event.

2010 saw a successful and enjoyable basketball season for our players. We were able to put into practice many skills that were taught in training sessions and by the Perth Wildcats. Our A, B, C and D teams were able to come away with good wins against strong opponents.

A Team
We had a very successful season with many games coming down to the wire. We played as a cohesive unit putting into practice the skills taught at training often and therefore developed solidly throughout the season. We saved our best for last against the unbeaten Guildford. Excellent passing, committed defence and aggressive offence created a very tight contest ending in a draw. It was by far the best game of the season. Players should be congratulated for their efforts throughout the season. Congratulations must go to Michael Silberstein for winning the basketball prize, as he was a deserving winner. He demonstrated leadership and sportsmanship at every opportunity. All coaches were very pleased with the efforts of all basketball players in 2010 as they showed determination and a desire to improve. Well done, boys. Many thanks must go to Rebecca Duyckers, James Morgan, Brady Leckie, Nathaniel Howard, Andrew Fordham and Brad Cecins for making 2010 a successful year.

Jay Pyefinch

B Team
The boys in the B Basketball squad had a terrific fourth term. The performances improved each week, carrying them to a great 5-1 win loss record. Matthew Pyrry played so well he was promoted to the A squad, while Jonah Allen demonstrated leadership and played very well each week. Nathaniel Howard coached the boys through the first five games, while Adam McGrath came in for the last match and got the boys home against Guildford 34-8. Well done to all the boys who played in the B Basketball Squad during the term.

Brady Leckie

C Team
After a slow start, team C improved in ‘leaps and bounds’, literally. All boys trained hard to increase their speed down the court and accuracy at the net. Their last three games can only be described as amazing, with a 42-12 thrashing of Guildford and a similar win against the old enemy, Scotch. All players should be proud of their teamwork and perseverance to build an unstoppable basketball franchise!

James Morgan

D Team
A sensational season on the basketball court with most games won. The ‘occ’s for our games was to work as a team. Our skills progressed steadily each week, with our coaches praising our efforts from the sidelines. Akinwale Ayonrinde passed effectively between players, through their legs and under their arms. Shane Mogen and Ryan Zare were energiser bunnies. They constantly chased the ball, most often rewarding them with possession. Emanuel Karageorge was a star, taking on new tactics and instantly applying them to his game. Joor Pathkek was the big man in defence. 2010 was a great season as teamwork made us a force with which to be reckoned.

Rebecca Duyckers
The First XI began their season against a plucky Trinity team. In a seesawing match the team managed to tie with Trinity - both teams making 78 runs. The next five matches saw us come close, but we lost all games to superior opposition.

Term 4 saw many of the same boys hungry to succeed. Again, our first match was against Trinity. Michael Boyatzis captained the team and he elected to bowl first. We managed to bowl out the opposition for 68. Christ Church passed the total seven wickets down with Patrick Henderson (27n.o.) and William Pike (20) the pick of the batsmen.

Wesley travelled to Christ Church. The opposition won the toss and elected to bat. Patrick Henderson and William Pike opened the innings. Both batsmen were in brilliant form and, after seven overs, had passed the opposition total. The rest of the team enjoyed some batting practice and we won the game by compiling 86 runs.

Aquinas is always a strong team so the boys were keen to test themselves against them. William Pike opened the bowling and he had two batsmen inside the pavilion in his first over, but Christ Church passed their opposition score.

We travelled to Hale for the next fixture with a depleted team owing to five members of the team attending the Year 6 camp. Hale made 95 runs with William Pike and Michael Boyatzis being the best of the bowlers. When it was Christ Church's turn to bat, Michael Boyatzis held the innings together by compiling a stylish 28 runs out of a total of 57.

In the annual all day match against Scotch, Scotch won the toss and inserted Christ Church, but we were soon in trouble as the overcast conditions were helpful to the home team. Christ Church was all out in the thirty-third over for 77.

In our last match against Guildford, Christ Church won the toss and elected to bat. The opposition bowlers were on top early due to some tight bowling, but Christ Church eventually won the game by 13 runs.

So ends another cricket season. I would like to thank all the boys for their efforts and their passion for the game of cricket. I encourage all the boys moving to the Senior School to maintain their practice and love of the game because cricket will be a great friend to you in life.

In the stunning Perth sunshine, the 2010 Inter-House Cross Country Carnival took place on Thursday 19 August. The boys had been training hard over the previous few weeks and we eagerly awaited some great running by the boys.

All boys who ran in the race were awarded points for their House. Congratulations to Stirling for earning the Champions Shield for the overall victory. Giles was awarded the Spirit Shield for their outstanding sportsmanship and support of all runners. Well done to all boys involved. It was great to see you all giving 100% effort in the warm conditions. Well done to Stirling (first), Giles (second), Forrest (third) and Dale (fourth).

ELC Cross-country

The rain began as the first race started, but it did not dampen the spirits of the ELC boys for their Cross-Country Carnival held on Tuesday 17 August. The boys from Pre Primary to Year 3 ran wonderfully well to complete the course that had been altered from the previous year. All students tried extremely hard and we saw some excellent performances.

2010 Inaugural JPSSA Inter-School Cross-country Carnival

Once again we were blessed with brilliant sunshine as we headed to Guildford Grammar for the inaugural JPSSA Interschool Cross-Country Carnival. The competition saw all seven PSA Preparatory schools compete, with 70 boys lining up in each race.

With the format of the competition recognising the top eight competitors, the boys were aware that they needed to work as a team to help accrue the greatest aggregate of points. With the Year 4 race first on the programme, we started in a blaze of glory with Marc Boyatzis finishing first. Milan Murdock, Tim Bourke and Edward Grayling all finished in the top ten. It was an amazing effort by the Year 4 squad members, as this was their first taste of interschool competition.

The Year 5 race was next and once again the boys performed very well. Ben Cunningham led the team well and finished in sixth position. He was well supported by Charlie Wise (10th) and Ryan Brown (13th). The whole year group finished well inside the top 40, once again providing CCGS with a great result.

Finally the Year 6 boys hit the track. Asad Yusoff continued his amazing form, finishing in sixth place. He was well supported by William Pike (9th), Andrew Lester (11th), Jake Patmore (14th) and Ben Lee (15th). In the end Christ Church Grammar was the recipient of the inaugural JPSSA Interschool Cross-country Shield.

Final Results

1. Christ Church – 904 points, 2. Scotch – 740 points
3. Hale – 714 points, 4. Aquinas – 674 points
5. Guildford – 610 points, 6. Trinity – 588 points
7. Wesley – 433 points

The 2010 Season saw a change in rules. The teams would now play on a smaller sized oval, with some modified rules involved. The smaller grounds would make for higher scores and faster, exciting plays.

We started the season on a positive note, kicking plenty of goals in a win over Wesley. The team demonstrated a great work ethic, running hard to each contest and displaying plenty of teamwork. Next the team came up against a very skilful team in Aquinas. It was a close contest all day, with Aquinas holding a slender lead into the final quarter. Unfortunately, our boys couldn’t match the effort from the previous three quarters and we lost by five goals.

Round three saw CCGS have the bye. This was a great opportunity to hold the annual Father/Son Football match. The day saw much action, with Michael Boyatzis being cleaned up by Andrew Fordham (our weekly umpire) in what was a spectacular contest. Mr Pyefinch was prostrate on the ground for many minutes while he contemplated his bad injuries.

Round four and we were back at home hosting Guildford. Displaying some of the best football I had seen at this level, we kicked away from Guildford to record a comfortable 80-point victory. We then played Hale in some of the worst conditions ever experienced. The rain was coming in sideways and this kept the scoring low. After kicking the first eight points of the match, our boys let a slender lead slip to go down by three points. It was an awesome effort against an undefeated side.

Round six saw close rivals Scotch host a very tight game. With our best player leaving at half-time, the team never recovered and we went down by five points. It was a great effort, considering we were missing several key players. The next fixture saw the team travel to Trinity and the result was quite an astounding one. Jake Patmore kicked nine goals (six in the first quarter) to lead an amazing team win. Every player contributed, with Jake finishing off some great teamwork. Wesley was next on the radar and in another closely fought battle, they edged the CCGS team out by two points.

With consecutive losses to Aquinas, Guildford and Hale the team looked to rebound against Scotch, a team we love to beat. Unfortunately, some late goals by the Scotch team saw CCGS go down by two goals. In the final game of the season against Trinity, the teams were locked in an exciting battle, with the scores tied for most of the game. In the final minute Trinity kicked a goal to give them a 1-point victory.

Throughout the year we had many strong contributors. With Jake Patmore leading the way all season. Michael Boyatzis and Matthew Parry demonstrated they could be players of the future as they developed their game throughout the season.

Thank you to Mr Pyefinch for leading the B team, who had a terrific season winning over 50% of their games.

Congratulations to all boys involved in AFL for 20'0.

Golf was a popular choice as a sporting activity in 2010.

During Term 1, we played at the Lake Claremont course combining some tuition on the skills of golf with playing holes on the course. The Golf Professional at Lake Claremont, Andy Gott, worked with the boys to improve their chipping and putting and he was pleased with the progress that the boys showed.

At the end of the term all boys played nine holes and the best scores were from Curtis Bett of 6RK and Michael de Souza of STG. Next best was Thomas Waring of 6GM.

In Term 4, we changed the venue to Wembley Golf Complex. Here, we practised on the state of the art driving range under the expert eyes of PGA Professional, Daniel Bennett.

On the driving range we could hit up to 200 balls each session and as the saying goes, practice makes perfect. All boys improved their swing and consistency.

I am thankful to the boys who showed that they were learning the correct behaviour and etiquette expected on a golf course.

I hope the boys continue practising and playing golf because it is a sport they can play all their lives.

Hockey was alive and well in the Preparatory School this year. We fielded three teams with several new players and it was uncertain as to how successful we would be for the season. The boys surprised the staff at how well they developed and how quickly they were able to transfer new skills into their games on Thursdays.

The Renta programme at Christ Church enabled us to gain the services of William Walker, a hockey player from the UK, who worked in the Physical Education Department this year. Will has had considerable experience in hockey, having coached teenage county teams in England. It was a pleasure to coach the A Team with Will, as he showed the boys many new drills and was quite dynamic in his approach with each boy.

The A Team developed a great camaraderie during the season with seven wins, two draws and three losses. With top scoring by Nick Hart followed by Tom Pennell, along with Oscar Beilin setting up play from the centre and the unstoppable Ben Lee in defence, the boys had a strong base from which to work. Congratulations to Oscar Beilin for winning the Preparatory School Hockey Medallion for 2010.

A couple of matches stand out as significant during the season, the first being the second match of Term 2 against Aquinas. This was played on a full turf pitch, a novelty for a lot of the boys. It was a test of fitness and our boys rose to the occasion well. The game was very close with some excellent pressure around the goal, ending with a drawn score of 3-3. The boys came away knowing they had played a solid game.

The second remarkable game was against Hale in the fourth match of Term 2, also on turf at their ground. The difference with this game was that it bucketed down with rain for most of the match. After a halftime score of 2-3 to Hale, our team came back fighting to score three straight goals, driving the rain with the ball down the wings. We overcame the elements and the opposition to come away with a final score of 5-3.

Results for the A Team:
- CCGS vs Wesley: won 5-3
- CCGS vs Aquinas: drew 3-3
- CCGS vs Guildford: won 8-0
- CCGS vs Hale: won 5-3
- CCGS vs Scotch: lost 0-2
- CCGS vs Trinity: lost 1-2
- CCGS vs Wesley: won 2-1
- CCGS vs Aquinas: lost 0-3
- CCGS vs Guildford: won 7-0
- CCGS vs Hale: won 9-0
- CCGS vs Scotch: drew 2-2
- CCGS vs Trinity: won 5-0

The B Team had a remarkable season having no losses and no goals scored against them. This team will go down in history for such a rare accomplishment. Each week they came away expecting to be their last run of success and at the end of the season they were still victorious. Congratulations to the boys and to their coach, Mrs Gale, who is so proud of their teamwork and achievements.

The C Team boys were often without a game, unfortunately, as other schools only had two teams. A unique relationship was formed with Scotch College C Team meaning we played each other whenever we were without a fixture. This worked out quite well and the boys finished the season with much stronger hockey skills.

The coaches have commented on having such a positive group of boys with whom to work. Thank you to the coaches, Will Walker, Mrs Gale, Mr Revitt and Ms London, for your contribution in coaching this season and well done boys!

The 2010 rugby boys were made up of some seasoned campaigners who play with clubs on the weekend and those who had never played the game before and wanted to give rugby a try. At the beginning of the season, it was difficult to know where to play everyone, but soon the boys began to find their places in the team.

The first game of the season saw Christ Church and Wesley play out an exciting draw. Our first win of the season was against Aquinas where the Christ Church boys played excellent team rugby to record a convincing victory. Against Guildford we were completely outplayed twice by a determined, well-drilled team that gave us a lesson in possession rugby.

The Christ Church boys played superb games against Hale and Scotch, but unfortunately both opposition teams had quick backs who ‘put us to the sword’ with slick passing and scintillating running.

One of our best performances was against Wesley where our quick ball movement to the wing was one of the highlights of the year. We had many phases of play, which resulted in at least nine, or ten players being involved in the try. The opposition coach lauded our team play and felt “was some of the best rugby he had seen for two years - high praise indeed because their rugby coach is well-versed in the game.

The Christ Church boys travelled to Trinity and, in an open, see-sawing game, the home side took the points with some impressive running and some hard rucking. In our return match against Aquinas we lost the game in a close contest. The opposition forwards included a few giant forwards (I thought one of the lads was the coach!) who created plenty of drive for the opposition.

One of the most satisfying parts of coaching is seeing the advancement of the boys and the team over the course of the season. The improvement of the boys was apparent when we played the final game of the season against Trinity. It was a superb game which went from end to end with plenty of running rugby from both sides. In a thrilling finish, the Christ Church boys won 19 -12 in the best performance of the year.

I wish each boy all the best for the future and I shall eagerly await coaching the Year 5 boys again next rugby season!

Sailing in the Preparatory School this year has been nothing short of fantastic. Something in the order of 40 boys took up the opportunity to try sailing as a sport. As always, we were blessed with expert help from Patrick Marshall, the School's sailing instructor. Andrew Gill, a university student and budding magician, also helped us every Thursday.

During first term, the boys could sail on every sport day because of the excellent weather. They all learnt how to control their dinghy, sail across, up and with the wind. They also completed the mandatory capsize drills.

A new system of recognising some of the “events” that went on out on the water was introduced. I called it the “Neptune Award.” This was awarded every week to an individual or crew who managed to do something extraordinary out on the water. Some of these “events” included losing crew members from the boat, taking off from the beach without a skipper, sailing without a centreboard, rudder, or crew! I also awarded boys the Neptune Trophy for their excellent technique and courage on the water.

The winter months were just as kind to us as the summer was. We lost only a couple of days because of bad weather. The boys were treated to some extraordinary sights during one afternoon. After having to be helped out into open water by the safety boats, they witnessed a pod of dolphins feeding and then were amazed to see 25-30 pelicans land on the water to help. The pelicans were aided and abetted by every other water fowl in the area. A truly amazing sight for us all to witness.

Our last term was something of a disaster as the season changed and strong winds prevented us from sailing as much as we would have liked. We had our largest group ever signing up, 28 boys! We did, however, get some time on the river; probably our last day being the best of all.

I must thank the staff who helped every Thursday: Vanessa Hallett, Rebecca Duyckers, Lucy Myles, T'Ann Steel, Patrick Marshall, and Andy Gill. I must also express my admiration for two boys who sailed with courage, had much fun, were fun to be with and I suspect, gained a great deal from the experience. I speak of Harry Nicholas and Andrew Dewberry.

Best wishes to all the boys for next year. May the wind be with you.

At the beginning of the season we started with four soccer teams. The standard was extremely high, resulting in it being a challenge to choose who would play in the first team.

The results for the first team's season is outlined below:

Aquinas 5-4 (W) 2-2 (D)
Guildford 1-0 (W) 6-2 (W)
Hale 1-4 (L) Forfeit (W)
Scotch 4-1 (W) 7-2 (W)
Trinity 6-2 (W) 9-3 (W)
Wesley 14-1 (W) 6-2 (W)

It has been a pleasure to coach such a wonderful group and I look forward to working with many of the boys again next year. The above results, although pleasing, don't reflect the wonderful enthusiasm that they boys brought each week.

Luke Browne was named Best and Fairest with many players also being in consideration. As a team, the boys must be commended for their passion for the game, their enjoyment and the gentlemanly nature in which they went about competing.

A special thanks to Mr Knott, Mr Morgon, and Mr Williamson for their support and coaching over the season. All boys should be proud of their efforts and the way they conducted themselves both in victory and in defeat. All the staff involved have expressed their pleasure in coaching these able and enthusiastic boys and we look forward to hearing more about their future successes over time.

Swimming Carnival

This year saw a huge carnival take place, with nearly 300 boys competing in well over 100 events during the School day. The event was well supported by parents and friends of CCGS, with the boys demonstrating terrific sportsmanship and skill across the water. Congratulations to Forrest for earning the House Champions Shield, making it back-to-back wins. Giles took out the Spirit Shield for their wonderful efforts on the day.

Well done to all boys involved. It was great to see you all giving 100% effort across all events. A special mention to Nicholas Throssell for breaking three school records:

- Year 6 50m Butterfly 35.27 (was 35.66)
- Year 6 50m Freestyle 29.71 (was 32.00)
- Year 6 50m Backstroke 36.80 (was 37.20)

Final Results:

Results for Champion Boys

Year 4
Champion Boy: Jack Hobson
Champion Boy: Adam Sudlow
Runner-up: Matthew Tissiman

Year 5
Champion Boy: Ben Cunningham
Runner-up: Kael Walsh

Year 6
Champion Boy: Nicholas Throssell
Runner-up: Thomas Pennell

JPSSA Inter-School Swimming Carnival

In a tough contest that saw seven schools competing in A, B and C division events, CCGS performed very well. Wesley College led for most of the event and heading into the relay section of the programme, CCGS held a slender 2-point advantage.

Demonstrating great depth in our swimming squad, the boys pulled away to extend their overall lead and clinch the inaugural title, winning with 612 points.

Congratulations to all boys involved; with a special thank you to our Head Coach, Bill Kirby, for his efforts in preparing the squad.

A special mention goes to Matthew Tissiman for breaking the Year 4 Breaststroke Record with a time of 46.52.

There were many new faces joining the Peter Moyes Centre in the Preparatory School in 2010. Austin Prentice, Clancy Waterman and Jonathan Okom started in Pre Primary, Koby Emslie and Ben Shields in Year 1, James Taylor in Year 2 and Felix McGlew in Year 4. We have enjoyed getting to know these boys and they have added yet another dimension to the wonderful personalities in the PMC. Each of the 25 boys supported by the PMC this year have contributed to the life of the Centre in their own unique way.

This year has provided some exciting opportunities for the students in the PMC.

We were once again very fortunate to have Louise Pennington as our Artist-in-Residence. Louise hails from Hospital Services where she works as an Education Assistant teaching art to children who are patients in the hospital. With Louise’s experience, skill and guidance, all of the boys in the PMC have added to their skill repertoire and have produced excellent pieces of artwork. This year saw the PMC have our first Art Exhibition. We opened the same night as the opening of the Week of the Arts in the Preparatory School. There was an enormous amount of support shown from parents and teachers alike, who walked through the exhibition admiring the work the boys had completed throughout the year.

Other highlights in 2010 included:

- The PMC Sundowner which was another successful evening.
- Tree Planting for Planet Ark. Every class received three trees to plant: around the school grounds.
- Going to Cottesloe Beach for Sculpture by the Sea is something we enjoy every year, especially the hot chips on the beach!
- Some of our boys enjoyed their class camps to Kooringal. The boys go on their first class camp from Year 5. We did not have a PMC camp this year, but rest assured it will definitely be happening again in 2011.
- The introduction of a weekly gym programme for some of our boys. This focused on coordination, general fitness and core strength. The programme was designed in conjunction with Amanda Tandy, an Occupational Therapist from Therapy Focus.
- All of the Preparatory PMC team – 25 students and 13 staff went Ten Pin bowling for an afternoon. What a wonderful experience was with some of the boys heading off bowling on a regular basis since this excursion.
- Boori Prior came to visit as well as Andy Griffiths, both very well known children’s book authors. The boys revelled in the story telling from each of these authors.
- Once again the PMC students in Year 3, 5 and 6 participated in a Community Awareness programme throughout the year. This involved walking through Claremont learning to read street signs, crossing roads safely and independently, reading bus and train timetables and moving around safely and maturely in the community. All the students benefited enormously from this programme, acquiring the skills that will enable them to become independent users of the wider community in the future.
- The PMC boys again participated fully in the many annual events in the Preparatory School – Harmony Day, Clean up...

- The PMC Sensory corner was opened this year. A sensory room provides the opportunity for children to engage in a range of sensory stimulation programmes and activities. There is a variety of equipment, which can be graded and adapted to allow children of all abilities to participate and have some control over their environment.

- Our multi-sensory room is used as a source of stimulation and enjoyment for the students. This room engages the senses of sight, sound, touch, and smell. Twelve months of planning and research went into the designing and ordering of equipment for the sensory corner. A huge thank you goes to Sally Nelson for her insight and initiative in making this corner happen.

Thanks go to …

The PMC team also had a changing face with four new Education Assistants and the introduction of sessional Speech Pathologist students. The boys have enjoyed getting to know all of the speech pathologists and participating in their ‘hands on’ speech therapy activities, especially the cooking. The PMC was also blessed to assemble an amazingly talented group of Education Assistants – Cindy Kalma, Susan Ashby, Claire Chapman and Shannon Cole joined the PMC staff, complementing Linda Murphy, Kate Nossiter, Sally Nelson, Perri Maloney, Tina Dewberry, Kirrily Mitchell and Kiara Slater - who leaves us this year to follow her path towards her Psychology degree. We wish Kiara all the best of luck in her studies. She has been an integral member of the PMC for the past three years and she will be missed. The PMC staff is certainly a remarkable group of people who work together to provide every opportunity possible for the boys.

The PMC benefits from the expertise of several visiting teachers and therapists who contribute to the programme for the boys. Thanks to Veronica Wooler from the Vision Education Service and Melissa-Sue Clark, Crystal Simpson, Amanda Tandy and Deanne Mollica from Therapy Focus, Cindy Jessop from Vision Impairment Service and Kathy Viljoen, our resident Speech Therapist.

Thank you to Richard Wright, Brad Hilliard and Helen Adams who in their leadership roles embraced all the boys in the PMC with respect and genuine interest. The brilliant group of people making up the team of Preparatory Staff continue to amaze us each year with the way they support children with disabilities and strive to include all boys. Particular mention needs to be made of those teachers who have included the PMC boys in their classes so successfully this year – Barbara Bosich, Holly Miller and Megan Walsh, Didi Caddy, Angela Spry, Jenny Joseph, Alicia Hill, Sally Lee, Chantal Hockey, Maria Hodges, Jane London, James Morgan and Jay Pyefinch. The specialist staff also do everything they can to accommodate the individual needs of children with disabilities. Their support has been invaluable to the overall experience for the boys.

2010 has been another successful year for all of the students in the PMC. We are a big force now and with every new boy comes a new curiosity, personality and eagerness to learn – all a magical part of working in the PMC. We look forward to 2011 being another successful and productive year.

Our Early Learning Centre thrives on the collective energy of our boys and an enthusiastic staff who provide an environment that constantly changes. Teaching boys about change is a central theme to all we do – life changes and so do we. As the world around us moves quickly, so we try to focus on those core values and essential understandings that consolidate their academic, social, emotional, and physical growth. Change is part of our curriculum – it permeates English, Mathematics and our Integrated Studies which includes History and Science. Our penchant for creativity will, in turn, promote boys with inquiring minds who can lead changes in our world in the future.

We have had challenging experiences exploring change in all our classes in the Early Learning Centre. Our photographs show our different journeys this year.

Barbara Bosich
Director, Early Learning Centre
Though we are all about making sure that the boys are academically ready for the challenges of more formal learning, pre-primary is so much more than that. It is the year in which boys become more responsible for themselves, more independent in thought and action and where their initiative and creativity soars to showcase their emerging talents. We try to harness the boys’ ways of expression into projects which engage them. They learn to look at objects carefully and to draw and write about fantasies like dragons and more serious concerns such as recycling.

Play is work for young children and our room is a laboratory for their minds. They have played at being scientists, doctors, chefs, parents, television newsreaders, knights, shopkeepers, bees and gardeners. We have thought about being a small boy 100 years ago, been silly by coming to school in our pyjamas and run and swum in carnivals. We have been out in the School bus to King’s Park, the river, the sea, an aquarium (with fish and chips for lunch!), Herdsman’s Wildlife Park, Fremantle Maritime Museum, various playgrounds, Browne’s Dairy, Claremont Post Office, Old Mill and a fantastic recycling centre. People have come to us, too. We celebrated Chinese New Year with dancing dragons, were told traditional stories from Ghana, learnt to move like kangaroos and emus with Aboriginal dancers, listened to authors and illustrators and practised our first aid skills with St. John Ambulance.

We have also had a really good go at learning to read and write. We were great chess players and builders. We loved looking after our newly hatched chickens and Thumper, the rabbit. We grew vegetables, searched for slugs, picked mulberries from our tree and paddled in the river in front of the School. We have cooked everything from bread to Christmas cakes and loved every minute of our journey into being Christ Church boys.

Petrina Thomsett, our Artist-in-Residence, courtesy of the Parents’ Association, shared her whimsical magic through the telling of stories. The boys were captivated by the drama of each different approach to the story. So much so, that it led to them miming and telling stories themselves. We innovated on texts and produced our own book, Spooky Stories.

Talented parents have enriched our year. Jo Waterman made a DVD of the boys dancing and flying (using the facilities of the FutureSphere) to the great delight of all. Others have used their own creativity to express their understanding of their son through collage and writing.

Our Year 9 Art buddies made us T-Shirts as a culmination of a collaborative Mini-Awesome experience. We did drawings and the older boys interpreted these into designs that we could wear. The enjoyment of our meetings was reciprocal as the little boys looked up to the big boys, and the Year 9s took delight in recasting their minds back to being so small. For those with younger siblings, it was pretty easy, but being a big buddy was a learning curve for some.

We pride ourselves on the calibre of our Early Learning Centre and the range of opportunities the boys have to learn through problem solving. To see them trying to work out how to construct a block building is enlightening. Some argue, some try logic, some trial and error, some talk it through and others resort to our help. To many it may look like uncoordinated play. To us we see them learning to live in a community - to take turns, to see someone else’s point of view, learning how to use persuasive language, taking the knocks when their idea gets shelved. It is all about growing up - knowing when to stand up for their ideas and when to let go. The learning in high-quality pre-school programmes such as ours is not so much sit down, copy this, and parrot information, but learning about the world through doing and along the way learning about numbers, shapes, measurement, physics, biology, charges in states of matter - and listening, speaking, reading, and writing.

The Pre Primary boys have had a great time participating in lots of creative activities that promoted the idea that learning is fun! Excursions, playing games, cooking, dressing up, pull apart equipment, puzzles and spending quality time with their friends has contributed to many happy times in Pre Primary...

William Browne: I am happy when I get to play outside on the swings.

Oliver Claessen: I was happy when we made things in the classroom. I liked the ladybird I made.

Nicholas Cook: I am happy when I get to play with shaving cream.

Henry Davies: Playing on the monkey bars makes me happy.

Louis Douglass: Excursions make me happy! I liked it when we went to Mrs Herbert’s park because it was my birthday.

Jack Francis: Swinging on the swings outside made me very happy.

Roman Green: Playing with Lego makes me very happy.

Noah John: Playing with the water pump makes me happy.

Jayelan Lee: I am happy when I dance to music.

Ken Lo: I am happy when I get to play inside the tunnel.

Prewitt Nair: Dressing up in the lion suit made me happy.

Ben Ollerhead: I was happy when we walked to Mrs Herbert’s park and we played on the big ship in the playground.

Atticus O’Meara: Playing outside in the water made me so happy.

Gabriel Porter: I am happy when I play outside on the monkey bars.

George Sassella: Playing with my friends makes me happy.

Noirit Seal: I am happy when I get to play with my friends in the sand.

Darcy Shephard: Painting makes me happy.

Ashton Torre: A happy time for me was when we went on an excursion to the playground at Kings park.

Ethan Wang: I like playing on the monkey bars because it makes me happy.

Jun Yang Yap: Dressing up as leopards in the zoo made me happy.

Henry Yau: Drawing pictures makes me happy.

In reflecting upon our year, the boys in Year 1DC agree it has been ‘great fun and we are all very clever and creative’. It has been a wonderful year with so many highlights. We loved Mrs Thomsett and Mr Kendall who inspired us to tell, draw and write amazing stories.

My favourite time in Year 1 was...........

The tree house in the classroom and making the gingerbread man in my story bag. Andy Zhuang

Making green cup cakes, they were yummy. Jonny Seymour

Mr Peter Kendall drawing my hair in his picture. Josh Agnihotri

Playing with the blocks. I built a tower, and it looked big. Elliot McNeilley

Playing in the King’s Castle and the Fire station in the classroom. James Washer

Swimming in PE because I like going under water. William Medhurst

Peter Kendall coming in and drawing pictures. Luca Paganin

Making puppets for our assembly and Mrs Thomsett. Koby Emslie

Playing on the class boat and making our Easter hats. Heath Smyth

Watching the chicken hatch. Lachlan Henderson

Running in the cross country. I like writing long stories. Kai Wylie

Playing chess because they are cool chess pieces from Alice in Wonderland. Jamie Low

Box construction, the castle, making puppets and the baby chicks. Lawson Herkes

Mystery news when I brought the candle snuffer. It was tricky to guess. Hugh Gibson

Going to P.E. and the cross country. Ashton Mah

The water mat in the pool and my dad coming to talk about his mountain climb. Jackson Wright

Book Week when I was a lion. Kisho Miyagawa

Telling news and doing Maths. Aditya Muthukattu, Tommy Fermanis, Rafe Hazelhurst, Sam Gillard

The boys in Year 2HJ have had a very busy year. They have welcomed four new friends, Jamie, Cooper, Sebastian and Albert and have said goodbye to one - Brian. They have done numerous collaborative activities with the boys in 2SL and have had many opportunities to display their creative talents and excellent skills.

One of the highlights of the year was our inquiry 'Change'. The boys were immersed in a variety of activities demonstrating change, ranging from watching seeds grow and recording the growth, changing objects to achieve a desired result like making balls of plasticine float and making dinosaurs out of newspaper, observing the changes in weather and seasons over time and graphing the results. They discovered how technology has changed over time and how it has or has not benefited society and observed how the School has changed in terms of buildings, uniforms, number of classes and so on over a period of 100 years.

Visiting the Claremont museum was a highlight of our inquiry. We spent the day experiencing life in the 'olden days'. The boys cooked scones, but had to grind the flour first, made rag rugs out of scraps of fabric and tried washing the clothes without a washing machine. We scrubbed using washboards and rinsed the clothes with blue bags. Lastly, we spent some time in Mrs Herbert's school room copying lines and having our hands checked to see whether they were clean. The following week was Founder's Day. The boys enjoyed participating in the celebrations and experienced a whole School day in the 1910s. They were very happy to be back in 2010 after that! Following on from this the boys were fortunate to interview the current Year 12 boys (those who were in Year 2 in the Preparatory School in 2000) to find out how the School and playgrounds have changed in just 10 years. Mr Fagan then added his thoughts to our discussions relaying his experiences of being a student in the Preparatory School. The boys were asked to reflect on when they felt the best time to be a Year 2 student at CCGS might have been. Most of them chose 2010!

We had a 'Guess the Baby' photo competition, which was great fun and as nobody managed to pick them all, it highlighted how the boys themselves have changed from when they were babies. We have also looked at our native animals and the changes they have had to deal with and how they adapt to the environments in which they live.

During Term 3, we were very fortunate to have Artist-in-Residence, Mrs Petrina Thomsett, work with us. She was an amazing storyteller and drama teacher. She had the boys mesmerised with her stories from her story sack and the boys enjoyed taking on different character roles. They tried different actions, voices, and movements and worked fabulously together in small groups. Their favourite activity was taking on the roles of the villain, hero, and victim and we all enjoyed their mini plays.

The class assembly was entitled 'The Night I Followed the Dog' and was based on the book by Nina Laden. The boys did a fabulous job with their speaking and acting and had great fun making all the props and masks. In preparation for the assembly, we were amazed at the number of English phrases that mention dogs.

Another highlight was our class reading time, owing to the books by Mary Pope Osborne called Magic Tree House Series. We have read no less than 28 books in all, each about a different time in history and set in a different part of the world. The boys have been captured by the easy style of writing and the non-stop adventures and have learned a great deal from each story.

Jenny Joseph and Alicia Hill
The boys in 2SL have had a wonderful year together and were involved in many wonderful and varied activities. Their creations and work often reflected the learning that had occurred such as the paper dinosaurs, picture storybooks, and masks, dragon faces, praying mantis and fish all made to build upon a learning experience.

The boys were immersed in a variety of activities demonstrating change. Visiting the Claremont Museum and participating in the Founder’s Day celebrations, where we experienced a school day in the 1910s, gave the boys insight into schooling in days gone by.

During the year, the boys were involved in a number of School incursions and were enthralled by the visits. These incursions added to their learning and provided variety. They thoroughly enjoyed their drama work with Mrs Thomsett. The assembly item, Tyrannosaurus Drip, showed the boys’ amazing ability to act and speak clearly. They were outstanding for their age, and we are sure to see some of them in the Midnite Youth Theatre group. Working collaboratively with 2HJ in Science activities, inquiry projects, Mathematics and building activities were rewarding for all the boys.

The boys have had a busy and enjoyable year and have made wonderful progress in all areas both academically and socially. They are all looking forward to continuing their love of learning in Year 3.

In 3CH this year, the boys and teachers have had loads of fun! We have enjoyed learning to work cooperatively and participated in lots of different and enriching learning experiences.

Starting each day at School with Tribles and telling everyone how and why we are feeling was great, as was sharing and reflecting in our Community Circle during and at the end of the day.

Having a class debate whether sushi was better than chocolate and then writing expositions, exploring the worlds of plants, animals, insects, and arachnids and writing reports and explanations. Narratives and recounts were another focus for our writing as were procedures, which led us to making delicious trifles and writing our own recipes to take home and share with our families at Christmas!

Our assembly item was a hit and we were able to share the special indigenous significance of the land Christ Church is built on through one of our stories about the Warkaal or Rainbow Serpent. The preparation for our assembly included a dance and drama workshop with the artists from Homegrown Theatre.

Experiments with gobstoppers, solids, liquids, and gases, watching amazing physical and chemical changes, collecting water from the leaves of trees around the School campus like the Bush Tucker Man and other activities helped us to better understand the world of Science.

We enjoyed seeing Mr Revitt every second Thursday and participating in PATHS sessions with Twiggle, the turtle, and discussing how we can help each other and ourselves be happy at School and at home.

Miss Taylor, our amazing student teacher, did so many great activities with us and we enjoyed having her come back to visit us in Term 4.

We went on excursions to the WA Museum, the Sorry Day commemorations at Wellington Square and storytelling at the Claremont Library. We also participated in many incursions including talks by Karla Hart and Phillip and Trevor Walley-Stack who came to share their Nyoongar culture through music, dance and stories and learned about taking care of ourselves with Constable Care. We enjoyed grooving along to the beats created by Drumbeat too!

The Early Learning Centre end of year excursion to the Perth Zoo was also a highlight as it would be the last ELC trip for all of us.

We are now ready for Year 4 and are looking forward to meeting our new classmates and teachers in 2011!

Chantal Hockey and the boys of 3CH
3GH have had a wonderful, yet incredibly busy year! The boys have made huge progress in all learning areas and developed strong friendships along the way. Here is a summary of some of the events that occurred over the year from the boys’ perspectives.

“Our favourite part of the year was Worle Roald Dahl Day because we did fun activities like wearing our shirts backwards.” Patrick Mahony and Nicholas Shields.

“My favourite thing was going to the museum because it was fun.” Sebastian Middleweek

“Our favourite thing this year was the Sorry Day excursion because we got free food.” Tristan Porter and Nicholas Shellabear

“Our favourite thing this year was our assembly, because it was AWESOME!” Luca Wyatt and Diego Rebelo

“Greg and I liked Ms Tomsett’s classes because I liked the little plays we made.” “Alexis and I loved all our fun activities and games.” Alexis Chin and Gregory Boeddinghaus

“My favourite thing was science.” Ahren Den Ouden

“When me and Ahren played together.” Shane Marshall

“In Year 3 our favourite thing was when we studied all about animals.” Tom Newton and Aaron Love

“Our favourite thing was the museum because of the lollipops. Drawing in Golden Time was fun too.” Tain Wotherspoon and Callum Watson

“Our favourite thing was when we went to the museum because we go to find out about our history, and we got ice-cream. Yum.” Max Shannon and Will Fischer

“I liked it when we made our habitats because we found out animal facts. I studied the turtle and found out that a turtle lays 100 eggs, and only one in 1000 survives.” Harry Ickeringill

“I liked making the habitats because we learned about animals that we didn’t know about. For example, there are eighteen different types of Tapirs.” Oliver Kaard

“Our favourite thing was the Sorry Day excursion because it was fun, and you got lots of toys and food for free.” Lachlan Emanuel and Archer Bombara

A LIGHT-HEARTED VIEW OF 4JG

Term 2
At the start of term, we started to read a book called Storm Boy. It is a book about a boy who lives with his dad near Goolwa in South Australia. Storm Boy has a little house made of tin. Then it talks about all the adventures he has.

My favourite thing about the term was doing prose and PowerPoint. For our prose, we went to a park that had a little beach at the end. I chose to go and sit on the beach. The sand was very beautiful and the water was cobalt blue. Later, after I finished my prose we walked back to the school. I was confident my prose was the best work I have done.

Later on in the term we did some PowerPoints. PowerPoints were on our trip to the zoo. Each of us received an animal. I studied the crocodile. When we went to the zoo, I saw a plethora of animals, but I went to my animal last. My crocodile wasn’t the biggest species of crocodile, but it was impressive.

Term 3
I started the term very enthusiastically. In the second and third term, we started doing little grammar lessons on Wednesday mornings. We’ve been learning different sorts of grammar.

Later on in the term we had a quiz with all the parents. The quiz was about all the things we had learnt in Term 2 and Term 3. Most of the questions were about most of the fantastic words Mr Griffin had taught us. The quiz finished and the term had come to an end.

Term 4
Mr Griffin told us that Term 4 was the time to ‘put the icing on the cake.’ This means to finish everything off.

In the term, we started some mapping. Mr Wright, our Headmaster, told us that he would give us a chocolate if we found out what the person who made a map was called. Harris won, but don’t ask me because I forgot what a person who makes maps is called!

We got onto some more prose, this time at Cottesloe Beach. We went for a swim, made some sandcastles and played some soccer. It was really enjoyable.

In Term 4 we had lots of excursions. My favourite was Penguin Island. At Penguin Island, we saw a species called the Fairy Penguin. I think they are the cutest penguin species. We saw many creatures there.

In the last two weeks of School, Mr Griffin told us that we were going to make a story about our time in 4JG (our class). It was to be called A Light-Hearted View of 4JG. It took me nearly all lunch time to do, but I liked it. It was very good.

I think that 4JG has been a fantastic class. I have enjoyed this class from the beginning. Everyone has been kind to me. I think that this is the best class that I have ever been in.

Mr Griffin has been great.
Except for one thing......
His jokes!

Term 1
The boys had a good term settling in, with those who had been at Christ Church Grammar School in Year 3 welcoming the new boys. We had a great time at the Centenary Carnivale, running around the school, playing and eating. A few days later we settled into our classes. We chose our class captains, Harry Hewitt as Captain and Jack Hobson as Vice-Captain, in Week 2 of the term. For sport, we did swimming training for the swimming carnival. We read the book called Tales of a Fourth Grade Nothing. The class had to do plays in the classroom about the book. Robert Browne exploded his volcano – he made it during our ‘Landmarks’ T & E task and it was awesome! We also went to the cricket and basketball competitions playing Scotch and Hale. It was a brilliant term!

Term 2:
We loved playing in the sports carnivals – hockey and soccer. Even though we got injured a bit and lost some games, we still had fun. We had a great time at the Claremont Library listening to Mike Lefroy, the author of HMAS Sydney, talking about his book. We welcomed a prac teacher, Mr Torgerson who taught us some Maths. He was a great teacher. As part of our ‘Aboriginal Studies’ unit, we learnt a lot of interesting dancing and a lot of other stuff like singing. We went to the zoo to look at Australian animals and their enclosures to get some ideas for our building project. We read Storm Boy and we learnt a lot of information about olden times. At the end of Term 2, we watched the movie. We were also hoping we would get a good report.

Term 3:
In Term 3, Billy Reilly was our class Captain and Lucas Tay was the Vice-Captain. We took part in the School Cross Country competition. Harry Hewitt was the first 4KD student to cross the finish line. We took part in the ‘Engquest Challenge’ and we got to build and test our own catapults. We shot marshmallows trying to see who could shoot the furthest and which catapult was the most accurate when firing at a target. One of the most exciting points of the term was when Andy Griffiths came to talk about his books. He also gave us sneak peeks at two of his latest books: The Super Bad Book and another book called Just Writing. It is all about how to write a book.

Term 4:
We voted for class captains with Joshua Chan becoming Captain and Julius Yu, Vice-Captain. Our class presented our assembly in Week 3, performing ‘Miguel the Monkey and the Cunning Lion’. It went well! We also had Ms Barndon with us for five weeks and had a lot of fun with her. We learnt about the environment so we went to Penguin Island. The bus ride took us about an hour each way. While on Penguin Island, we saw sea lions. We also went to Cottesloe Beach and needed to get out of the water when a shark was sighted. We were lucky enough to see the shark. We also had an ice-cream, went for a swim and took part in a sand castle competition.

All up, we had a great year!

Katie Danswan
YEAR 4MH (SUNG TO THE TUNE OF YMCA)

Young men, there's no need to feel down
I say young men, lift yourself off the ground
I say young men, we're with all of our friends
And we're in the best classroom!

Young men, there's no getting all down
'Cause our classroom is the best one in town
And we have the best teachers around
(Mrs Hodges and Miss Nossiter)
We are fun and freaky!

It's fun to be in 4, 4MH
It's fun to be in 4, 4MH
Morning jokes every day,
There is no other way
Our excursions were great,
You hung out with your mates!

Young men, I was once in Year 3
I say young men, I was happy and free
But then young men when I got to Year 4
I could see the winning Book Week door!

That's when someone came up to me and said
Young men, this is the place to be
You should stay there forever more
You play lots of game like dodge ball!

It's fun to be in 4, 4MH
It's fun to be in 4, 4MH
You can party with fun until the work is done
Mathematical stars visit the lolly jar!

It's fun to be in 4, 4MH
It's fun to be in 4, 4MH
We love to grow mould
And our stories we've told
We've flown through the terms
And we've even eaten worms!

Now young men, it is time to move on
I say young men, it's the end of the song
We will cherish every day that we've had
And we'll try not to be too sad!

Young men, I have high hopes for you
Yes, young men, there is so much to do
So go do it and do us all proud
And we will shout out aloud...

It's fun to be in 4, 4MH
It's fun to be in 4, 4MH

I enjoyed camp at Kooringal and liked learning how to become an Earth Keeper. We made awesome water cycle games for our Year 1 buddies to teach them about the environment. Akinwale Ayorinde

I liked all of the excursions in Year 5. My favourite was to the Fremantle Prison. I thought it was cruel that the convicts had to live in those conditions. Going to the Literature Centre was interesting because we got lots of good ideas on how to write our story about the prison escape. Jacob Dorsett-Sawyer

Learning about the Virtues and doing Virtues plays was fun. I liked it when we got to invent a super hero called Helpfulness Man and wrote our own comics about all the things he did. Jun Han Yap

My Year 1 buddy was called Raf. We took our buddies on an Earth Walk along the river and taught them about the environment by doing games and fun things. My buddy was great to hang out with. Michael Paganin

Every week we did fun activities. I liked choc chip mining, chocolate cake fractions and graphing jellybean flavours. Being voted class captain was definitely a highlight. I was new this year and didn’t even know anyone liked me. Year 5JL 2010 has been awesome! Harry Vijayasekaran

We invented a Health Camp with Mr Fagan. Everyone made their own webpage and published their Health Camp on the Internet using iweb. I hope nobody tries to go to one of the places for a real holiday. Bryan Chong

As is always the case, the commencement of a new school year is a time of great excitement. We had a number of boys join us from different parts of the globe and each one had many cultural experiences to share. After a brief settling in period the class gelled into a happy, close group of boys.

New friendships were quickly established and the boys developed strong ties at Kooringal. The Earth Keepers programme focused on environmental awareness issues. All boys benefited from the experience significantly. Becoming more independent is one of the goals of the camp and it is always interesting to observe the boys undertaking calculated risks.

Back at school the Spineless Wonders incursion was fascinating and took the boys to an area that isn’t particularly well known. Looking closely at the specimens was a fascinating experience.

A highlight of every year is the class presentation in Chapel on a Friday morning. After many hours of preparation and the occasional bout of frustration, we performed admirably and all boys were extremely proud of themselves.

It didn’t take long until the first semester was complete and a number of boys went on the Preparatory School Ski Trip. Each boy returned with many tales to tell and an increase in self-confidence.

Our journey to Fremantle Gaol was eye opening. The boys were alarmed to see the horrific conditions the prisoners were forced to endure. The experience provided great motivation for our follow up visit to the Literature Centre where we created a number of escape stories.

To further expand the experience we had a visit to the Old Court House in Perth where the boys enacted a trial in clothing appropriate for the period. It was a wonderful experience for the boys and enabled them to develop a deeper awareness of the era and legal processes that endured at the time.

Classroom activities were designed to provide a variety of challenging tasks. The boys enjoyed the Technology programme where they used hammers and saws to create Land Yachts and Environmentally Friendly Houses. Watching the boys using these tools was an interesting experience. The end products were well worth the wait.

Towards the end of the year we visited Herdsman’s Lake and learnt about Aboriginal lifestyles. The highlight of the excursion was throwing the spear at a cardboard target. It was soon realised how difficult this task is with only one boy successfully hitting the target.

It was a wonderfully exciting year. We all brought something different and special to the class. We wish all our classmates a happy holiday and continued exciting experiences in Year 6.

Clarence Wang – I enjoyed cooking in the first semester because we made great food and got to eat it afterwards. Look out Masterchef Junior!

Griffin Sheppard – I enjoyed going to Scitech and learning about electricity, having fun using the Brain Boxes.

Jordan Dossan – Going on excursion to Fremantle Prison and doing our Prison Story Project.

Colin Chen – In Health my favourite thing was our Health Camp Project because I worked with my friends and learnt new things.

Nicholas Stafford – I enjoyed cooking because we got to eat lots of yummy things after.

Deen Samie – I like studying Aborigines as I found it interesting.

Liam Tien – I like doing problem solving in Maths because it was hard, challenging and fun.

Bryce Hinton – I enjoyed constructing our ‘Chindogu’ in T&E.

Jonathan Nagappa – I enjoyed creating our ‘Stranded in Africa’ writing project.

Vinh Tran – I like Science because we get to do fun experiments.

David Quinsee – I enjoyed going to Scitech and working with the Brain Boxes creating our own electrical circuits.

Alex Harden Jones – I liked playing Live Mathletics and competing against both people in my class and at other schools.

Ryan Zare – I enjoyed playing Live Mathletics because we became very competitive with children at other schools.

Jia-Wei Loh – Going to Herdsman Lake and learning some Aboriginal facts was fun.

Zachary Schinazi – I liked going to Herdsman Lake and cooking.

Joshua Moore – I enjoyed completing inquiry projects in S&E.

Will Mardon – I enjoyed making model planes and flying them.

Angus Minear – I really enjoyed writing stories and our writing projects.

Brendan Lock – I really enjoyed writing our genre stories with Miss Duyckers.

Andrew Campbell – I enjoyed cooking with my friends and eating yummy food.

Jack Valentine – I really enjoyed creating our Health Camp Projects and our Prison writing project.

Shane Mogan – My favourite things this year were cooking with my friends and inventing in T&E.

Matthew Joynson – Fun FPS with Mr Hilliard, all the fun teachers, and all the fun activities in class, especially rehearsing for the class play. ALL the classes at Christ Church are really fun.

Inquiry with Initiative - how we have grown!
From Spineless Wonders to performing with puppets, from earth’s structures to Earthkeepers, from making a functioning lung to experimenting with change, from investigating fossil fuels to escaping to other worlds, from learning how to care for ourselves to learning more about others. This has been a year packed with wonder and growth. We have formed stronger bonds, laughed a lot and at times, struggled a lot, but along our journey we have always been supported by each other, used our initiative and done our best.

Some thoughts about our year:
I enjoyed computers this year because I am very good at it and it is something that I really enjoy. I also liked Music and Art because you get to express yourself. Gilbert Porter

This was a fantastic year for new friends and new knowledge, but most of the excitement came from geology activities with Matt, our geologist, Kooringal, excursions to Fremantle Prison and Literature Centre and Scitech. I think everyone loved this year and are sad to go to Year 6. Callum Lindsay

Year 5 was an unforgettable year. It was packed with great excursions such as Scitech, Fremantle Prison and Francis Burt Law Centre. Mrs Gale gave us extra fun activities. I especially loved Jellybean Maths because you could eat it afterwards.
Samuel Ng

I enjoyed Chocolate Chip Mining, Maths and going on camp to Kooringal. Daniel Hodges

The best thing about this year was going on camp. Ryan Brown

Going on camp was fun because we collected chicken eggs and went on the boson’s Chair. Science was great with Matt. We learnt about volcanoes and earthquakes. Daniel Marshall

My favourite activity this year was making puppets. They were funny. Oscar McMath

I liked it when Matt came in and taught us about geology. Camp was fun when we searched for yabbies. Corbin Stewart

I enjoyed camp. We swam in the river and went on the boson’s chair. I also liked Phys Ed and Music. I am looking forward to year 6. Jiachen Si

Making fruit sculptures and doing sport were the coolest things. Charlie James

5TG is one of the best classes I have ever been in. We did great activities like Chocolate Chip Cookie Mining, Jellybean Maths and flytraps. Oliver Henderson

I think that Music is the best. You learn a lot about theory and beat while having a lot of fun. This has been a great year and I will be sad to go. Angus McKenzie

Making the fruit towers was the best and Wipe Out was extreme fun! Ben Cunningham

I have enjoyed my sixth year at Christ Church - going on camp, the swimming carnival and lots of other events. I am looking forward to Year 6. Thomas Butler

I have enjoyed sport, learning new Science through projects like flytraps, and the excursions we went on. I will miss Year 5. Jordan Di Girolami

I enjoyed letting the insects walk all over my hands and eating the chocolate chip biscuits after mining them. Timothy Chapman

I enjoyed the Athletics Carnival because I won the Champion Boy award. I also liked Science because we got to experiment with different things. Chocolate Chip Mining was fun.
Keaton Wright

My favourite things was the Athletics Carnival because it went all day and my House won the Spirit Shield.
Mark Witcombe

Year 5TG was a wonderful class. I will have very good memories of it. I liked doing Sport and Assembly.
Oliver Henderson

This year I enjoyed the bus trip to camp with my friends. I have really liked doing experiments in Science. Tom Giudice

I loved the fun Maths lessons and the insect man. Camp was new for me and it was also fun. I can’t wait for next year.
Byram de Campo Khan

I enjoyed Science lessons and our puppet show at Assembly.
Edward Galluccio

I liked going to camp because it was interesting and lots of fun. The flytraps were also fun to make. Michael De Sousa

I enjoyed going to the Fremantle Prison because it was fun learning about the prisoners, especially Moondyne Joe.
Julius Gorrissen

This year in 5TG we have done so many things such as Elephant Toothpaste, Jellybean Maths, Chocolate Chip Mining and so many more fun and exciting things. This year has been the best! James Tonnison

CLASSES CAPTAINS

Term 1
- Captain: Michael Silberstein
- Vice Captain: David Woods

Term 2
- Captain: Ben Lee
- Vice Captain: Lachlan Goddard

Term 3
- Captain: Alec Broadhurst
- Vice Captain: Patrick Shields

Term 4
- Captain: Andrew Lester
- Vice Captain: Simon Parsons

Teachers: Mr Morgon, Mr Cecins, Miss Cole

Highlights:

- My highlight of the year was the Cross-country carnival. It was a really hard, but extremely fun, race. It was great receiving a trophy for first place in front of the School. Asad Yusoff

- The highlight of the year for me was going on the ski trip with my friends where I skied for the first time. I especially liked going on the jumps on Wombats’ Ramble. Alec Broadhurst

- My highlight of the year was going on camp. I really liked the sleep out and hike into Kooringal. Canoeing was also a lot of fun. We played a game where we had to run around the outside of the rafted canoes, I fell in. Hamish McGinnis

- My highlight of the year was playing music in the chapel. I also loved making friends and playing basketball in Terms 1 and 4. Tristan Murphy

- My highlight was hearing Mr Cecins tell jokes, Mr Morgon telling us not to tell jokes in a friendly manner and Miss Cole’s space for a joke or two. I had a great year. Lachlan Goddard

- My highlight of the year was coming to Christ Church and teaching such a wonderful group of boys. Their strong work ethic, comradeship and sense of humour made teaching them an absolute joy. Mr Morgon

2010 has been such a busy year and 6JP managed to complete a lot of work to a very high standard. Explorations into sustainability, survival in Antarctica, investigations into competition, examinations of the solar system, debating, design and technology challenges with our pre primary buddies, adventures at Kooringal and the Australian History projects kept us very busy indeed. Here are some highlights from the boys:

Ethan Barrow: I really enjoyed the student versus teacher basketball game.

Robert Bartlett: Finishing my time at CCGS on a high note with a great teacher and a great class.

Charlie Bond Fewster: Being a Vice Captain for Dale, building humpies at Kooringal and having Mr P as a teacher.

Jason Currall: Being appointed Dale House and School Captain for Term 4 and Mr P preparing me for High School.

Jack Dale: Playing crab soccer at Kooringal and camping in the hoochies.

Jack Davies: Going to Kooringal and cooking pasta on the cookers was awesome.

Andrew Dewberry: Having wheelchair sports come to the School was fun and going to Kooringal was awesome.

Liam Donovan: Going to camp and sleeping in the hoochies was funny and having Mr P as a teacher.

Oliver Ferrari: Being Forrest House Captain and having Mr P as my teacher.

David Gorman: Playing in the student versus teacher basketball game was a lot of fun.

Nicholas Hart: Being School Captain and completing my history project on Moondyne Joe.

Rupert Hu: Having a great time in my last year of School with a great class and teacher.

Mitchell Kasten: Making bottle rockets was fun, although ours failed.

Sach le Roux: Being class Vice Captain and enjoying my first year at CCGS in the best class.

Ben Lumsdon: I liked having an awesome teacher and we did many fun projects like the bottle rockets.

Kael McGrechan: Camping in the hoochies at Kooringal and mistaking Jesse for Oakley in the middle of the night.

Harry Nicholas: I really enjoyed our class assembly and sleeping out at Kooringal.

Thomas Oakley: Sleeping out at Kooringal and crab soccer was a lot of fun.

Eliot Roberts: Playing crab soccer at Kooringal was awesome.

Greg Sang: The cyber presentation was fun and so was going to The Great Escape.

Jasper Schinazi: I enjoyed learning about Shackleton and having Mr P as my teacher.

Nicholas Throssell: Damper failures at Mundijong and sleeping in the hoochies at Kooringal.

Aaron Wright: Surfing for my summer sport and making spaghetti bolognaisse at Kooringal.

Jay Pyefinch
Our class has been synonymous with excellence for a long time. The work we produce is second to none. As an example of this bold statement we moved our educational experiences into the 21st century by using technology to record our ideas and by creating a website, the first of any Preparatory class.

Our site covered every aspect of life in 6RK from our academic work to our time at Kooringal, to our work around the School.

During the year we, along with the other Year 6 classes, investigated sustainable energy, how to survive in Antarctica, researched the solar system and tried debating.

We also discovered some things about ourselves.

Our Favourite Movies of 2010
A-Team, Sponge Bob-The Movie, Percy Jackson & The Lightning Thief, Tropic Thunder, Lord of The Rings

Favourite Books
Inheritance Cycle - Christopher Pailini
Rascal - Paul Jennings
Cherub - Robert Muchamore
Mr Chicken goes to Paris - Leigh Hobbs

Reading was a large part of the 6RK day. We enjoyed reading a variety of books, but we are still developing our skills in analysing what we have read. We were able to complete some of our assignments using mediums other than pen and paper.

In Science during last term, we studied the solar system in which we are a small part. We have looked at the different aspects of the eight planets and we have compared them to Earth. We have also thought of the adaptations that animals would need to have in order to survive on other planets.

It has been an exciting year, full of great experiences and wonderful opportunities. Thanks to all the boys who contributed so positively to the life of the School in general and to the Year 6RK class in particular. I wish all of you every success next year.

WACE RESULTS

2010 Graduates Shine, Continuing a Record of Excellence

- 54 per cent in the top 10 per cent of students
- 38 per cent in the top 5 per cent of students
- 20 per cent in the top 2 per cent of students
- 14 per cent in the top 1 per cent of students
- 4 scored maximum ranking
- 5 awarded General Exhibitions

Of the 167 Christ Church boys who sat for the WA Certificate of Education (WACE):

- 90 of our boys (54 per cent) achieved an Australian Tertiary Admissions Rank (ATAR) of 90 or higher, putting them in the top 10 per cent of students across the country.
- 63 of our boys (38 per cent) achieved an ATAR of 95 or higher, putting them in the top 5 per cent of students across the country.
- 33 of our boys (20 per cent) achieved an ATAR of 98 or higher, putting them in the top 2 per cent of students across the country.
- 23 of our boys (14 per cent) achieved an ATAR of 99 or higher, putting them in the top 1 per cent of students across the country.
- 4 of our boys scored the maximum ATAR of 99.95, putting them in the top 5 per cent of students across the country.

Headmaster Garth Wynne said the School was proud of its students’ performance. "One of the special things about Christ Church is that we are an academically inclusive school – part of our commitment to diversity is that we accept boys of all abilities. So it always gives me enormous pleasure to see our graduating class succeed academically at the highest levels. In this sense, our boys really do ‘punch above their weight’ and this year is no different.

“As an educator I am pleased because I know it means we are enabling all our boys to achieve their very best. The combination of the efforts of our boys, their supportive families and our fantastic teachers cultivates an atmosphere of excellence which has resulted in many wonderful achievements across the co-curricular, sporting and academic arenas. Congratulations to our 2010 graduates on their exceptional results."

This year five of our boys achieved a General Exhibition, awarded to the top 40 students in the State. Congratulations to Ben McAllister (4th), Patrick Dyer (7th), Winston Kint (14th), Julian Chung (20th) and Victor Yau (24th).

Course Exhibitions, for the top candidates in each subject, were awarded to Riley Skevington (Music), Michael France (Philosophy & Ethics) and Winston Kint (Physics).

18 Certificates of Distinction, for the top 0.5 per cent of candidates in each course, were awarded to the following students:

- Patrick Dyer: Chemistry, Mathematics, Physics
- Winston Kint: Chemistry, Mathematics, Physics
- Ben McAllister: Chemistry, Mathematics, Physics
- David See: Chemistry, Physics
- Victor Yau: Chemistry
- Michael Ng: Economics
- Julian Chung: Literature
- Riley Skevington: Music
- Michael France: Philosophy and Ethics
- Robert Buttner: Physics
- Cameron Lewis: Physics

Certificates of Excellence for achieving at least nine A grades in Years 11 and 12 were awarded to 26 students from the 2010 graduating class:

Fifteen of our boys completed a majority of Wholly School Assessed (WSA) subjects. Joshua Ferrell achieved a Certificate of Excellence (also noted above). Seven students were enrolled in one or more national training modules or units of competency; two students achieved a Certificate II in Customer Contact, one student achieved a Certificate III in Education Support and four students achieved a Certificate IV in Business. Three students obtained a result in a Workplace Learning (WPL) course and six students obtained one or more A grades in their courses.

Christ Church Scholars

At the end of each school term students in Years 10-12 who achieve five or more A grades in subjects undertaken that term have their achievement recognised by being included in the Dean’s List. A Christ Church Scholar is a student who has appeared on the Dean’s List for all four terms of the academic year. The honour is bestowed in perpetuity with the year of the award appended to the title. Only boys in Years 10 and 11 are eligible for the title of Christ Church Scholar and they will carry that title in the following academic year.

Congratulations to the Christ Church Scholars for 2010.

Mathematics Winners Claim Have Sum Fun Double

Christ Church students took top honours in two Mathematical Association of Western Australia competitions during 2010.

A team of Senior School and Prep School students won the Have Sum Fun Primary Mathematics Competition. Albert Gu (Year 7), Terry Pham (Year 7), Nick Pizzino (Year 6), Ethan Barrow (Year 6), Keaton Wright (Year 5) and Oliver Henderson (Year 5) claimed the top prize after defeating Hale School in a tiebreaker. The competition, which follows a quiz night format, asks teams to solve four rounds of eight problems within a set time limit.

This result followed on from the outstanding results of the Prep School in the Have Sum Fun Online Competition. Nicholas Pizzino, Ethan Barrow, Jack Dale and Thomas Waring won first place in the Year 6 competition out of 44 teams.

The Year 5 team, of Bryan Chong, Kazuki Miyagawa, Ollie Henderson and Keaton Wright, finished in second place out of 31 teams in the Year 5 competition. A Year 4 team was also entered in the Year 5 competition and finished in an impressive fourth place. These boys were Millar Ormonde, Aiden Rose, Oliver Terry and Jason Rarey.

Have Sum Fun Online (HSFOL) comprises three quizzes of 10 questions with each quiz held a week apart. Teams have an hour to complete each round, however, completion time is important because in the case of ties for any of the first three places, the winner is the team that took the least time to complete all three rounds.

Prep School mathematics specialist teacher Anthea Feaver, who co-ordinates and prepares the teams, said she was thrilled with the boys’ efforts.

Christ Church Sailors Reclaim State Title

The Christ Church Sailing Team reclaimed its sailing powerhouse title winning the 2010 SunSmart Secondary School Teams Racing Championship.

The boys were elated to take back the state title after finishing third in 2009. Prior to that, Christ Church had won the championship for six consecutive years.

Christ Church competed against 16 teams from 14 schools across the State at the four-day event held at South of Perth Yacht Club. Despite the trying weather, including race cancellations due to strong wind warnings and rain squalls, the Christ Church A and B teams maintained competitive throughout.

After three days of racing and some tough losses, the B team (Alex Knight, Tom Morrissy, James McDonald, Scott Hinton, Andrew Fowlie, Brendon Wright and Andrew Hay) was unable to qualify — finishing in 10th place. Captain of Sailing Sam Gilmour said the B team’s overall result was a very good effort for a group of improving sailors.

The A team (Sam Gilmour, Kevin Punselle, Lachy Gilmour, Jamie Turner, Max Guicde, Tom Leaversuch and Shannon Wright) qualified equal first for the finals, competing in two round robins against all teams in the finals. Christ Church went through undefeated and was three races clear of Scotch and Esperance Senior High School.

As a result of the win, Christ Church qualifies for the national championships to be held in Adelaide during the Term 2 school holidays.

Christ Church Wins PSA Swimming

For the third year in a row, the Christ Church Inters Swim Team has triumphed at the annual PSA Swimming Competition.

The School’s team, which consisted of 120 swimmers including Year 7 boys for the first time, had the largest winning margin in the last five years of the competition.

Final point scores for the Inters were Christ Church Grammar School (1052.2), Hale School (960), Wesley College (949.4), Trinity College (710), Scotch College (664.6), Guildford Grammar School (561) and Aquinas College (556).

The team captains Jake Smith-Wright and George Ford were thrilled to have led the team into a final victory after winning the Quads and Pop Agnew Trophy recently.

Director of Sport Anthony Lynch said congratulations must go to Head Coach Bill Kirby, Teacher in Charge of Swimming Neil Saggars, and all staff involved with the 2010 swim team, including Megan Pentony, Rebecca Bridges, Lloyd Haskett, Maggie McPhee, Kate Finkemeyer and Claudia Feldman.

Mr Lynch said Christ Church has had a strong Aquatics season so far and winning the Inters was a fantastic lead up to Saturday 27 March, when the Firsts Water Polo team will play Scotch College for the Dickenson Shield at Trinity College Pool.

CCGS Reclaims Tregonning Trophy

The CCGS hockey squad reclaimed the highly sought-after Tregonning Trophy from Hale in 2010.

Last won in 2007, Christ Church defeated its rivals by 10 points after playing the final round of the trophy on home ground at Mt Claremont.

All results, from the Firsts through to 8Bs, count towards the Tregonning Trophy. Points are awarded to winning teams as follows: Firsts — 10 points; Seconds, Thirds, 10As, 10Bs — 6 points; 9As, 9Bs, 8As, 8Bs — 4 points. Giving a total of 50 points per round.

The trophy was donated by the Tregonning family who have had, and continue to have, many close ties with both schools. Dr Donald Tregonning was one of the pioneers of hockey in Western Australia, capturing WA’s first State team from 1928 until 1934, and captaining the first Australian team in 1932. His sons kept up the hockey tradition and all his sons and grandsons attended either Christ Church or Hale. He now has great grandsons at both schools.

With the four generations being linked to these schools and hockey, the bronze statue, presented to Donald when Captain of Australia, was offered for annual competition between the two schools.

Director of Sport Anthony Lynch said the big turnarounds in Round 2 were from the 10As and the Thirds. “In Round 1, the 10As lost 1-11 while the Thirds drew 1-1,” he said. “In Round 2, the 10As won 2-0 and the Thirds 5-0, which had a huge impact on the final result.”

CCGS Sails Away with National Title

Christ Church clinched its third national sailing title after winning the 2010 Australian Schools Team Racing Championship in Adelaide.
After a tough opening round robin, CCGS won 13 of its 15 races to claim the prestigious title at the Port River Sailing Club from 8 to 11 July.

It was one-two for WA, with Scotch College finishing in second place ahead of South Australia’s St Joseph’s College. Christ Church, who had previously won the title in 2006 and 1999, was the top performing team out of the 13 participating schools.

Sailing captain Sam Gilmour is the first CCGS student to be part of two nationals wins having been part of the 2006 championship team. Other team members included James Turner (vice-captain), Kevin Punselle, Lachy Gilmour, Max Giudice, Tom Leaversuch and Shannon Wright. Lachy (Year 8) also broke a CCGS record as the youngest skipper on the team.

Sam and James said the team sailed well and enjoyed good conditions despite day three of racing being abandoned due to a storm. Christ Church went into the finals with a winning percentage of 86.67 per cent ahead of Guilford Young College/St Virgil’s College on 73.33 per cent. After defeating St Joseph’s 2-1 in the semi finals, CCGS went on to win 3-1 against Scotch in the finals.

Coach Luc Tasker said what struck him more than the win was the team’s gracious attitude. “Of all the years I’ve coached, this team’s attitude is the best I’ve seen at school level,” he said. “They are respectful to their teammates and towards other competitors.”

Director of Sailing Patrick Marshall commended the team on their professional performance. “I am very proud of the boys’ achievement and it reflects the amount of hard work put in by the whole team,” he said. “It was extremely uplifting to watch the boys conduct themselves in a professional manner on and off the water as they represented Christ Church Grammar School and Western Australia at the highest standard. It was a pleasure to be part of the team and I look forward to being a part of the boys’ sailing experiences in the future.”

The win entitles the team to a berth in the 2010 Interdominion Secondary Schools Team Racing Championship – an event, which pits the top three Australian teams against the top New Zealand schools, which will be held in New Zealand in October.

Hockey and Surfing Makes Four

The presentation of the winter sports trophies at today’s Senior School assembly brought Christ Church’s tally for PSA wins in 2010 to four.

Once again, the School had considerable success in the water winning the PSA Swimming, Water Polo and most recently, Surfing.

On the sporting field, it was the First XI Hockey Team, who brought home another victory after winning its final round game to snatch victory from favourites Aquinas.

Former Deputy Headmaster Ray House, the namesake of the PSA Hockey trophy, was at the assembly to present the boys with their pennants alongside coach Ed Welch and Teachers in Charge of Hockey Bec Bridges and Neil Saggars.

Mr House talked about the challenges, which faced the team early in the season and the boys’ ability to be creative and spur each other on during crucial games. He mentioned former Christ Church old boy and Australian hockey legend Ric Charlesworth (1969) as an example of achieving success through creative play.

Interestingly, one CCGS family now holds three PSA hockey wins amongst them. 2010 First XI player Harry Stevenson (Year 11) is the son of Chris Stevenson (1973), who won the PSA in 1973 under coach Ray House. Harry’s older brother Richard Stevenson (2007) captained the 2007 team, when Christ Church last won PSA Hockey title, and was part of the 2010 First XI coaching team.

Boding well for the 2011 with a number of Year 11 students achieving selection for state teams. Kyle Smith made the State Under 18 team and Dominic Hird, Stevie Eskinazi, Tom Goodbourn and Harry Stevenson were selected in the Under 16 State Schoolboys Team. Subsequently, Dominic has been selected in the Australian Schoolboys’ Team and Stevie has been named as a shadow member (reserves).

Christ Church boys have SmARTS

Five Year 11 students proved they had the smarts after taking part in an innovative programme run by the Faculty of Arts, Humanities and Social Sciences at UWA.

The SmARTS initiative brings students together to meet, discuss and develop ideas, both online and in seminars held at UWA, on topics of contemporary cultural relevance. Alexander Hill, Hugh Edwards, Fraser Wallace, Declan Davis and Thomas Walton were amongst top English and Humanities students from 20 schools selected to participate in the programme.

Assistant Head of English Simon Hunn said the students worked in small, mixed groups with the guidance and support of university staff to produce and present a high-quality research project. “The groups work with an Arts Faculty assigned tutor through a series of on-line and campus-based tutorials as well as lectures on research techniques,” Mr Hunn said. “At the end of the programme, the groups write a research project and submit it for marking by an academic panel of UWA professors and lecturers.”

The initiative is designed to extend and enrich participants’ study in the humanities, social sciences and beyond, as well as enhancing key skills in critical thinking and research, collaborative work, online communication, presentation and problem solving.

At the SmARTS 2010 Presentation Night, held recently at the University Club at UWA, the groups presented their research findings through oral and multimedia means. Declan and Fraser were members of the group, who won the prestigious Certificate for Academic Excellence for their research project ‘Coffee and the World’, which examined globalisation using the international coffee industry as a significant example and extended metaphor. Declan said the programme provided a valuable teamwork and social networking opportunity in a university setting.

“The five boys were great ambassadors for their School - in their demeanour, their work ethic and their ability to work with others,” Mr Hunn said.

Christ Church Makes National Future Problem Solving Finals

Christ Church has once again made it through to the National Finals in just its second year in the Future Problem Solving Programme (FPSP).

The Christ Church junior (Year 6) and middle division (Year 8) teams have been invited to attend the 2010 National Finals, to be held at The University of Melbourne in October, after making it through the qualifying round.
The teams, coached by Prep School Deputy Head Brad Hilliard and Head of Humanities David Proudlove respectively, completed the booklet programme option on Global Issues Problem Solving. The boys applied the FPSP six-stage creative problem solving process to research topics, including orphaned children and food distribution, to finish amongst the top 10 per cent in the nation.

FPSP aims to develop critical and futuristic thinking as well as creative thinking skills. The international programme has been operating in Australia for more than 20 years but was introduced to Christ Church by Prep School Deputy Head Brad Hilliard in 2009.

Mr Hilliard, who coaches the programme as part of the Prep School's academic enrichment programme, said a select group of Year 5 and 6 boys were offered FPSP as a subject. In the Senior School, Mr Proudlove offered FPSP for up to 30 boys in Year 8. In 2011, this programme will again be offered in Year 8 as a component of the Humanities course and may be offered as a co-curricular lunchtime activity for Years 7 and 9.

Mr Hilliard said the National Finals presented an exciting challenge for both teams, who will both be ‘punching above their weight’. "Our junior team will be competing against mostly Year 7 teams while our middle division will be competing against Year 9s and 10s."

History was made

This week Guildford Grammar hosted the inaugural PSA Chess Tournament. Christ Church won the unofficial tournament back in 2008 but this was the first time Chess had been granted official PSA status due to persistent lobbying from the chess communities in each school.

The event was held over Tuesday and Wednesday afternoon, respectively. Christ Church went into the tournament as a genuine contender for the coveted title and was undefeated after the first day of play. The CCGS team was comprised of an experienced (though relatively young) combination of Year 9 and Year 10 boys. In playing order they were:

1. Christopher Doukakis
2. Liam Kearney
3. Matthew Wozniuk
4. Vaughan Greenberger

Doukakis won 6 lost 0
Kearney won 5 drew 1
Wozniuk won 5 drew 1
Greenberger won 5 lost 1

The future looks bright for competitive PSA chess and CCGS should be well placed to defend their title next year.

Hard Work and Chocolate Wins Ben Speak Up Award

Choosing a universally loved topic helped Ben Anderson (Year 6) win over the audience and judges at the recent Speak Up Award.

Ben, who competed against Year 5, 6 and 7 students across the metropolitan area, won the Most Outstanding Speaker Award for his speech on 'Chocolate'.

The aim of the Speak Up Award, run by the Grand Lodge of Western Australia, is to provide students with an opportunity to express their views confidently using appropriate speaking skills. It encourages students to research and compose a speech that shows a depth of understanding of the topic.

Ben’s four-minute speech took audiences on an entertaining journey through the history of chocolate, its health benefits, a comparison to vegetables, and finished with the classic Homer Simpson quote: "Mmmm chocolate!"

Ben said he had reworked his speech after winning a bronze medal in the IPSHA Speakers Challenge earlier in the term. "I learned from the judges that the best speeches were not so much about the research but more about the opinion," Ben said. "So I narrowed down the research and focused more on my opinion."

He believed his other successful move was giving up his palm cards. "I began with them in round one but decided they restricted my arm movement," he said. "I used no cards in round two and that felt good. It is a humorous speech so by the third round I really had the audience laughing and I felt relaxed too."

Ben hopes to compete in the public speaking competitions next year as well as taking part in debating activities in years to come.

CCGS Awarded Distinctions in Informatics

Christ Church had considerable success in its debut in the 2010 Australian Informatics Competition (AIC).

In Term 2, 103 mathematics students from Years 7 to 12 sat the programming event with 29 students receiving Distinctions including five High Distinctions for perfect scores.

Head of Mathematics Jan Honnens said it was the first time Christ Church had entered the competition, which is run by the Australian Mathematics Trust. "The AIC is the first step of the journey towards the International Olympiad in Informatics, a competition as prestigious as the International Mathematics and Chemistry Olympiads," he said.

Mr Honnens said informatics was a challenging mix of mathematics and programming. He said it was a relatively new and exciting discipline for boys with the Olympiad established in 1989. "The Mathematics Department was very pleased when more students than expected grabbed the opportunity to sit the competition."

The competition, which offers enrichment to mathematics classes, relates mathematical ideas to computing to determine whether a student might have a talent for designing and writing programmes.
