EDITORIAL

The development of the North-West is a challenge not only to the people of Western Australia, but to the people of Australia as a whole. It is, in fact, a national responsibility.

The North-West is a vast, empty land of enormous potential. It covers an area of half a million square miles. But it has an exceptionally small population, there being only one human to every sixty square miles of territory. Valuable mineral deposits, including asbestos, bauxite, iron, wolfram, copper, uranium and, very probably, oil exist in the area. There is a thriving pastoral industry and if the Ord River irrigation scheme was put into operation, the North-West would become one of the richest agricultural areas in Australia. This project calls for the damming of the Ord River and would mean that a reservoir, having a water capacity six times that of Sydney Harbour, would be created. From this a huge area could be irrigated and such crops as sugar, tobacco, cotton, grain, sorghum, groundnuts, oil-seeds, tropical fruits and particularly rice, could be produced. It is significant that the world's largest and hungriest market, the fourteen hundred millions of South-East Asia, live within a few hours flying time of the North-West coast. Thus North-Western agricultural products, especially rice, would be certain to find lucrative markets in S.E. Asia.

Development would lead to closer settlement and a larger population in the North-West. The benefits of this are obvious and would not only be felt in times of peace. If war were to occur, it would mean that the North-West coast, and thus Australia, could be better defended.

Developing the North will cost many millions of pounds. But considering the need for this development, and the increased prosperity it would bring to Australia, any expenditure will be completely justified.

However, money is not enough. The North needs men with courage and foresight; men with a true pioneering spirit. Therefore let us, the people of Australia, combine to apply the nation's resources and our full support to North-Western development; and let us take up a cry similar to that which called the people of America to their virtually unknown and undeveloped "west" early in the last century: "Go North, young man, go North!"

SCHOOL NOTES, 1958

This year we welcomed Mr. Brenton-Coward, Mr. Drok, Mr. Leach, Mr. Simms, Mr. Newton and (in third term) Mr. Smart to the teaching staff. However, Mr. Newton left late in second term and Chemistry classes were kindly taken over by Mrs. Pidd and Mr. Parry for the remainder of the year.

The Anzac Day service was held at Scotch College this year. St. Hilda's Girls' School, Presbyterian Ladies' College, Methodist Ladies' College, Scotch College and Christ Church attending. The combined schools were addressed by Mr. Lonnie, State President of the R.S.L.

The Cadet unit is now divided into two companies, each of three platoons. There are now 212 cadets in the unit, thus making it the largest in the State.

The annual cadet camp was held at Northam from May 2nd to May 9th. Christ Church teams performed creditably in the Empire Youth Sunday competitions.

The marching-out parade was held on August 17th, and Lieut.-Col. Hardcastle inspected the unit and presented W.O.2 T. W. McNamee with the Alexander Todd Memorial Trophy as the outstanding cadet of the year.

Our sporting activities have brought inconsistent results—we were last in both the P.S.A. Cricket and Football competitions, but won the "Head of the River" and, for the second year in succession, we produced the under sixteen State Gymnasts. Congratulations to all members of the 1st VIII on their fine effort and to all members of school teams. David Smirke and Christie Stevens were first and second respectively in the under sixteen State and Australian National Gymnastic Championships. Our congratulations to them both and in particular to their coach, Mr. Kovacs. It was a well deserved win.

This year Basketball was introduced to the Beatty Cup competition.

Both the Rowers' and the Prefects' Dances were great financial and social successes. A surprising note of originality was introduced by the Prefects this year, who not only illuminated their dance with Chinese lanterns, but also actually hung the streamers in a different way! Well done!

During the year groups of boys attended A.B.C. Orchestral Concerts and saw the opera "The Barber of Seville" and the play "Eldorado." Members of the sixth forms heard the Polish pianist Niedzilski; saw the film version of "Hamlet" and were taken on conducted tours of the Observatory and the Royal Perth Hospital.

On August 12th, 13th and 14th, Christ Church Grammar School presented the Gilbert and Sullivan opera, "The Mikado." Congratulations to all members of the cast and to the producer and musical director, Mr. Woodend; it was a wonderful show.

A very successful Preparatory School Concert was held on October 16th.

The combined Anglican Schools Church Service was held in St. George's Cathedral on November 16th.

Visitors to the school have included the English Test cricketer Frank Tyson, the Rev. John Wardman, members of the cast of the "Barber of Seville" and Mr. McMillan from the Museum.

The School continues to grow rapidly. The total enrolments this year being 583, an increase of 95 on last year.

There has been considerable building activity about the school this year. Much to the surprise of some, but undoubtedly to the relief of all, the old Queenslea ablutions block, i.e., the "Rat House," was demolished and new toilet facilities, dormitories and an extension to the dining room were built and, most important of all, a new hot water system was installed. Work has now started on both the new Middle School change rooms and the Science block. At the present time the School Council is negotiating for the purchase of twenty acres of land on the West Coast Highway which, providing the negotiations are successful, will more than double the area of the school.

Christ Church candidates were very successful in the 1957 Public Examinations; many Junior and Leaving Certificates being gained. B. J. Hesterman did particularly well in the Leaving, obtaining six distinctions and thus the School's first Government University Exhibition—truly an outstanding effort and one we can all well admire and strive to equal. Well done, Bert!

Finally, congratulations to all those whose names appear under the heading "School Officers," all who have held responsible positions, and all who have represented and brought honour to the School in 1958.

THE SCHOOL EXPANDS

The New Queenslea Ablutions Block

At last the so-called "Rat-House" has been demolished—to be replaced by a modern, £17,000 ablutions block.

The dining room was extended by knocking down the wall between it and the House Library. This extension means that now only 10 people sit at a table; and the new accoustic tiles in the ceiling keep noise to a minimum so that boys can now hear themselves speak.

The walls separating what were formerly "G" dormitory and two masters' rooms have been knocked down to make one new dormitory. The roof over "G" dormitory was lowered and the old wooden staircase at the back of the house was dismantled. Boys now have to use the new staircase inside the new building and can thus, at long last, wear shoes upstairs.

Three new upstairs dormitories and two masters' rooms have been added to Queenslea.

Perhaps most appreciated of all the alterations was the new oil-fired hot water system, together with eight new showers and basins. The main ablutions block is now located downstairs but there are night toilet facilities upstairs. The interior of the ablutions block is finished in blue tile and pink brick, which, it must be admitted, is something of an improvement on the old, rusty, corrugated iron of the "Rat-House."

The only inconvenience caused by the alterations was that of showering—over 90 boys had to use the one hot shower in the Prep. School change rooms.

The building, which was started towards the end of Second Term, is, at the time of going to press, almost completed and will be ready by the end of this term.

— E. R. R.

The Science Block

During October the Headmaster announced that a modern, two-storey science block was to be built. Work began almost immediately and the new building is expected to be finished early in first term, 1959.

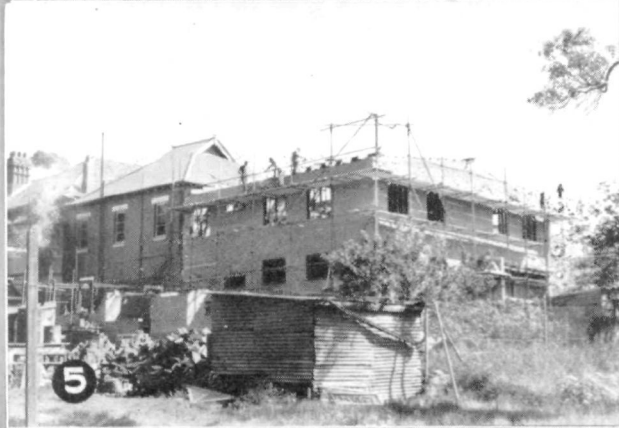

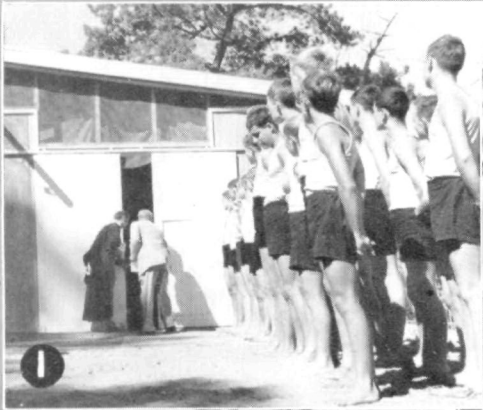

The Science block will complete the memorial wing, and will be built on what was formerly a tennis court lying between the present memorial classrooms and the Upper School.

The building incorporates all the best ideas of other Independent Schools and Education Department High Schools Science blocks. There will be two laboratories—one for Chemistry and one for Physics. These will be equipped with the most modern facilities available. Adjoining each laboratory will be a tiered lecture room on the University or hospital style.

There will also be two new classrooms in the building.

Thus in the field of Science teaching, with the three existing laboratories and the four new Science rooms now being built, Christ Church will rank among the leading schools in the State and in Australia.

The New Middle School Change Rooms

With the building of the new Preparatory School last year, the old "Prep" School became the Middle School. This meant that the already inadequate and unsightly wooden changerooms were used much more frequently than before. Therefore it was decided to build new Middle School changerooms.

The new building will be larger than the old one. There will be more space for lockers and new toilet facilities will be installed.

The interior of the new changerooms will be finished in pink brick.

Work has already started on the building and it is expected to be completed early in first term, 1959.

New Land

This year, for the first time in many years, the School has bought new land.

The vacant block at the top of Queenslea Drive and adjoining the Preparatory School, has been purchased by the Council. It will be used for purposes of Physical Education.

At the time of going to press the Council is negotiating for the purchase of twenty acres of land, some two miles from the School, on the West Coast Highway. Providing negotiations are successful, this land will be used for new playing fields and will more than double the area of the School.

The Boatshed

The new School Boat Shed is situated at the foot of the cliff in front of Queenslea Boarding House. Its position presented some unique construction difficulties because none of the heavy equipment needed could be taken down the cliff face.

This problem was overcome with the aid of the Army and the Navy who delivered bulldozers, cranes, concrete mixers and huge prefabricated mono-crete slabs to the site from the river by landing barge.

After the initial delay of bulldozing the area and laying the cement floor with its mysterious long, steel columns projecting upwards every few feet around its edge, the building went up in a matter of days.

The secret of the rapid construction was that the walls, being prefabricated mono-crete and containing the necessary slots, only had to be lowered onto the projecting steel columns which held them firmly in position. Then all that remained to be done was to place the roof in position on the prefabricated girders.

The school thanks Mr. Athol Hobbs, the architect, for designing such a useful building and especially for giving his services in an honorary capacity. We also thank the Old Boys' and Parents' Associations, along with all others who helped pay for the new building—but no doubt their greatest thanks came from the crews who showed their deep appreciation for the gift by doing so well in the Inter-School Rowing.

— D. J. G.

The Opening of the Boatshed

Saturday, March 8th, saw the opening and consecration of the School's new £3,700 Boat Shed.

Over five hundred people gathered to witness the ceremony. Among them was Canon W. J. McClemons, the founder and first headmaster of the School, in whose honour the first "eight" was named the "W. J. McClemons".

The Headmaster opened the ceremony with a short speech on behalf of all the Associations involved in giving the Boat Shed and the boats to the School. Mr. Moyes then handed the keys to Mr. Battye, the Chairman of the School Council, who officially opened the Boat Shed. His Grace the Archbishop of Perth then blessed the building.

The First VIII crew members then brought out the "W. J. McClemons", which was donated by Mr. M. Brooking, and positioned it under the christening cradle. Mrs. M. Brooking, with the traditional bottle of champagne, christened the boat the "W. J. McClemons".

In quick succession the second eight, the "R. H. Parry" (also donated by the Parents' Association) was named by Mrs.

P. Bowers, and the two fours, the "W. S. Noake" (donated by the Parents' Association) and the "B. T. Walters" (donated by Mr. and Mrs. McCarthy) were christened by Mrs. W. Barrett and Mrs. P. Moyes respectively. The tub-pair, "Nancy May" (donated by Mr. and Mrs. Williams) was christened by Mrs. D. Fraser.

The crews then rowed their boats for a short distance, after which the crowd moved up the banks to the Craigie House lawns for afternoon tea.

The ceremony was remarkable in that last year the School competed (coming third inside record time) in the "Head of the River" boat races without a boatshed or much less, even a racing boat to its name! We were able to do this entirely through the swift, friendly response of the other schools to our plea for boats and the hospitality and kind assistance given the crews by the schools, especially Scotch College, who allowed them to train from their boatsheds. Later, of course, the parents, the Old Boys and many other friends of the School combined to give us our new Boat Shed and boats.

To all who helped in any way whatsoever, the School says thank you!

— J. C. M. H.

VISITORS TO THE SCHOOL

MR. FRANK "Typhoon" TYSON

On February 11th, Mr. Frank "Typhoon" Tyson, the English Test Cricketer, visited the School. He was passing through Perth on his way home to England.

Mr. Tyson addressed the boys in the School Hall for about half an hour. He gave advice on batting, fielding and bowling, and demonstrated methods of swinging the ball by bowling a light, plastic practice ball into the crowd of attentive and enthusiastic listeners.

"As soon as you stop learning about cricket," he told us, "you may as well give it up, because no one knows all there is to know about the game." Mr. Tyson stressed that the only way to become a good cricketer was to practice, practice, practice! And to be always willing to learn. "But," he added, "you must sort out good advice from bad."

Mr. Tyson then spent a few minutes with the First XI giving valuable hints to the bowlers.

The cricketers of the School were not only grateful for the advice given by Mr. Tyson, but also for the chance to see and hear a man with such an outstanding record in test cricket. But we still hope Australia wins the Ashes in the forthcoming Test series!

— N. C. N. S.

SINGERS FROM "THE BARBER OF SEVILLE"

On Wednesday, 16th April, four players and the Musical Director from Rossini's Opera "The Barber of Seville" which was currently on at the Playhouse, visited the School to give the boys some idea of the Opera.

Mr. John Germain set the ball rolling by singing Figaro's Aria "Largo Al Factotum." Mr. Germain usually plays Fiorella in the opera, but since Mr. Robert Simmons, who played Figaro, planned to sing us something from "Carmen," Mr. Germain went on to sing more of Figaro's songs.

Mr. Alan Light, after hurriedly donning the Headmaster's academic gown sang Don Basilio's "Slander Aria." He was helped in this by Mr. Warren-Smith who played Dr. Bartolo in the opera. Mr. Light's performance was most amusing and showed us that there is a lighter side to opera.

Mr. Warren-Smith then sang "Dr. Bartolo's Aria" from Act I.

Last to appear was the star of the show, Mr. Robert Simmons, who sang the Toreador's song from "Carmen," an opera he appeared in in Sydney shortly after leaving Perth.

The singing was enjoyed by all and as a sequel a party of Sixth Form boys went to the Playhouse the following Monday evening to see the Opera performed on stage. There is no doubt that they enjoyed it all the more after having had the Opera explained to them and having first heard so many of the songs at school.

THE MERCURY PLAYERS

During second term the "Mercury Players" visited the School and performed Shakespeare's "Hamlet."

These Mercury Players probably helped us to understand more of the staging procedure of the Elizabethan Theatre than any text book ever could. They used no scenery excepting for a wooden chair draped in cloth and two screens for stage wings. The players wore costumes (as did Shakespeare's actors) but they had none of the modern theatre's aids to call upon to supplement their acting ability or to give a better effect. They performed using only the raw materials of the stage, under similar conditions to those in an Elizabethan Theatre.

The acting was good and the performance was enjoyed by all. Especially by members of the sixth forms, who after seeing Laurence Olivier's film version of "Hamlet" and comparing the two renderings, were able to make comparisons between the Modern and the Elizabethan theatre.

THE REV. JOHN WARDMAN

The Rev'd John Wardman who is a Western Australian missionary in Gona, Papua, addressed the School on July 22. He said that his mission district measured 75 miles along the coast and 50 miles inland—an area of 3,750 square miles!

Mr. Wardman said that missionary work in Papua was difficult, but progress had been made. The first school in the area was started thirty years ago and now boys were being sent on to Queensland for secondary education. He told us of the differences in race and language encountered in Papua.

Mr. Wardman told us something of the Papuan natives' way of life and added that he thought they were a very intelligent people.

"The main work of missionaries," he said, "is to go out as doctors and teachers and gain the people's confidence. Religion is so important because it replaces the old fears and superstitions, that the natives held under their sorcerers or witch doctors, with a love of God and so gives them a sense of security."

Mr. Wardman ended with an appeal for more doctors and teachers in Papua, "so," he said, "the people up there can have the same opportunities as the people here at home in Australia."

For a "real live missionary" Mr. Wardman was a "real live man"!

MR. McMILLAN

On the night of 10th October, the Physics Laboratory was the scene of an interesting and informative lecture given by Mr. McMillan, an entomologist at the Museum. The lecture was illustrated with very good colour slides of the Hamersley Ranges and the fauna of that area.

Mr. McMillan commenced by telling a large audience that he had just returned from an expedition sent to the Hamersley Ranges by the W. A. Museum, and that it was the first expedition sent from the W. A. Museum. French, German and English expeditions had been up before, but none from Western Australia.

The object of the expedition was three-fold. First, it was believed that the animals in the north, called Northern Fauna, and the animals from the south called Southern Fauna, were separated by a distinct line in that district and there might be some animals of a species of neither Northern or Southern Fauna.

Secondly, to find as many animals and insects as possible in their environments.

Thirdly, that, since it was discovered that mainly Southern Fauna inhabited the Hamersleys, another expedition would take place next year to the Leopold Ranges, which are north of the Hamersleys. The following year it is hoped that an expedition will be conducted across the Canning Basin, between the two Ranges, where intensive collecting will take place.

He said that, on a certain route, they would stop every hundred miles, make camp and collect as many specimens as possible. The minimum time was six hours for each stop, but if it was a particularly good place they would stay for twenty-four hours.

The slides included scenes of the Hamersley Ranges and many other interesting scenes, and photographs of snakes, lizards and other wild life.

The talk, together with the slides, lasted nearly one and a half hours, and none of the audience regretted going.

A NEW SCHOOL FLAG

The School wishes to thank Mr. R. H. Williams for donating an embroidered flag bearing the School Crest. It proved to be an effective rallying point when used first at the "Inters."

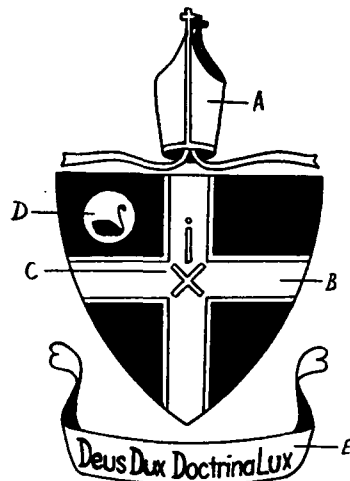

THE SCHOOL BADGE

As a school grows older and becomes more of an integral part of the community, so the traditions of the school grow and become an institution in themselves. This school is not yet fifty years old and so has not had very much time to acquire tradition. But there is one tradition that past members have cultivated and it is hoped future members will long continue to cherish, and that is the tradition of the school badge—or better, the traditional "school" spirit. Because a school without a fighting tradition of love and loyalty behind its school badge and motto, is not a "school" at all, it is just a place. This is the quality that makes schools, such as Christ Church Grammar School, not just places. We are members of Christ Church Grammar School, and must never forget it.

The school badge was adopted in 1923. Before that time there had been two badges in use, neither of which was officially recognised. This fact was brought to the notice of the Church of England Council for Schools, who in turn referred the matter to the Christ Church sub-committee.

The sub-committee found that the school was using the Diocesan crest without the Diocesan motto and that the school had no official badge. The headmaster was directed to contact someone with a knowledge of heraldry, and with this person's aid, design a suitable badge, symbolising that the school was Anglican and was in W. A. Accordingly the Headmaster sought the assistance of the President of the Royal Society of British Architects in W. A., who most kindly gave his advice and four designs were submitted to the School sub-committee. The design approved and adopted by them is the badge the school uses today. It was first used officially on the cover of the 1923 school magazine.

The Mitre (A on diagram) which is a bishop's head-dress, was retained, so were the school colours of blue and gold. The badge is quartered by the red cross of St. George (B), patron Saint of England and of the Diocese of Perth. On the cross are two gold letters, looking like an I and an X (C). These are the symbols of Christ Church, Canterbury, Metropolitan See of the Anglican Communion. They are the initials J.C. of Jesus Christ or are the first two letters "chi" and "rho" of the word "Christ" in Greek. These things signify our Anglican associations. In the dexter quarter is a Black Swan (D) on a gold background, signifying W. A. Lastly there is the school motto (F)—"Deux Dux Doctrina Lux"—Latin, meaning "God is our leader, learning is our light."

This then is the official history and significance of the school badge. But the "real" significance of the badge can never be incorporated in it. Because its "real" significance is a state of mind . . . it is a tradition . . . a love . . . a loyalty . . . it is CHRIST CHURCH GRAMMAR School!

OUTINGS

THE QUEEN MOTHER'S RECEPTION

On March 19th, a combined schools reception for Her Majesty Queen Elizabeth the Queen Mother was held at Subiaco Oval.

The members of the Upper and Middle Schools were taken to Subiaco by special buses.

A huge map of Australia was formed by members of the different schools. Each State was in a different colour, while the coastline and State borders were in white. Among those filling in the coastline were a group of Christ Church Sub-Juniors. At the foot of the tableau a group of girls formed the word "Godspeed".

As the first motorcycles entered the oval, 30,000 young Australian voices began a cheer that swelled into a deafening crescendo as Her Majesty's car came into view.

The car stopped in front of the main grandstand and the Queen Mother mounted the dais where she was greeted by the Prime Minister, Mr. Menzies. A combined schools choir—including Christ Church sopranos—then sang "God Save the Queen" and several Australian songs including "Waltzing Matilda".

Following this a senior girl from Kent Street High School read a farewell message to Her Majesty on behalf of the children of each State and, lastly, of the Commonwealth of Australia. As she mentioned each State the children forming that State rose on the huge map and cheered themselves hoarse. Simultaneously a star bearing that State's flag appeared on the oval. When Canberra, A.C.T. was called, the whole of 'Australia' rose and cheered, while white clad boys formed the largest star in the Southern Cross and the Australian flag billowed out from the flag pole. All the stars, each bearing a State flag, were now seen to make up the Southern Cross. The speech ended with the word "Godspeed" and as the word was uttered it was formed by the special block of girls at the foot of the grandstand.

The Queen Mother then drove between the ranks of cheering children in an open Landrover. But all too soon she left the oval on her way back to Government House, the airport, and thence to the United Kingdom.

None-the-less, though her visit was brief, we had a chance to see her and to show our loyalty to this gracious lady; and she had the chance to forge an even stronger link in the chain of the British Commonwealth of Nations.

V.I.B AT THE OBSERVATORY

One Thursday evening during first term Sub-Leaving visited the Observatory.

We assembled outside the main gates at 7.0 p.m. and were shown the layout of the grounds. It was explained that Perth Observatory was quite important, since it was almost directly opposite (through the centre of the earth) New York. This meant that extensive investigations into the internal structure of the earth could be carried out.

It was decided that we should first look through the large refracting telescope housed in the observatory proper. Adjoining this telescope was an even larger photographic telescope with which photographs of the various stars, etc., are taken. The two telescopes, though extremely heavy, were well balanced and could very easily be moved from one sighting position to another. The roof of the building rotated on roller bearings and it contained a long arc-shaped opening through which the telescope was aimed.

We first looked at the moon. But although it was in its last quarter and thus in the most favourable position for viewing, the sight was unfortunately somewhat blurred by haze. However, all of us enjoyed looking at it and our poor guide was taxed to the full in answering questions about the mechanism of the telescope and the features of the moon. Next we looked at Jupiter—by far the largest planet in the solar system—and some of its satellite moons.

Our party then went out in the grounds to see the smaller reflecting telescope. Once again our guide explained the principles upon which it worked and we were able to view some more star formations. However, owing to clouds, much of our vision was blocked and unfortunately we were not able to see as much of the universe as we would have seen on a clear night.

Despite the unfavourable conditions we thoroughly enjoyed our evening at the Observatory.

CHRIST CHURCH AT THE ROYAL PERTH HOSPITAL

On the Thursday of Royal Perth Hospital Week, over forty boys from the school enjoyed a conducted tour of the hospital, and were shown the fields of science involved in the running of a hospital.

Highlights of the tour were the visit to the Radiography and Radiotherapy sections, while boarders may agree that the kitchen and dietary section were very interesting.

In the Radiography section the whole process, from the initial X-ray to the final doctor's interpretation of the photographic plate, was followed carefully. Some St. Hilda's girls who joined the group caused alarm by their shrieks as they entered the dark room.

Radiotherapy, too, was especially interesting, being one of the most modern methods used in the fight against cancer and malignant growths. The measures taken to prevent the harmful X-rays escaping to the outside world were very noticeable. The detailed explanation of the working of the apparatus, as well as the period at the end of the talk, during which we could ask questions, was most appreciated.

Another very interesting sphere of hospital work was the research into microbiology.

Those interested in the engineering side of the hospital were fortunate enough to see the immense boilers and equipment used for air conditioning and central heating.

The cleanliness and efficiency of the large kitchen, catering for 1,200 meals a day, impressed everyone, especially the boarders. Some even managed to taste a little food, including ice cream.

Many other divisions, also very interesting, were seen but are too numerable to be described.

Everyone appreciated the tour and those taking the subjects of Biology and Physiology and Hygiene gained much valuable information, and look forward in future to those improvements and those other fields in the running of a hospital which, because of limited time, were not covered this year.

2nd Prize: R. Russell
3rd Prize: J. C. Akerman

CHAPLAIN'S NOTES

There comes a time during the progress of building a foundation when patience is demanded of those who are helping in the construction. It is a time of respite, a time of consolidation, and maybe a time for retrospect. Nothing spectacular appears to happen and there is no fanfare of trumpets, for this period is heralded by quietness and unobtrusiveness. Such a time is essential to a school which has forged ahead so rapidly in the past few years, for unless the foundations are truly laid, the seeming worthiness of its members may only be a veneer which when tested may prove ineffective. So as we go to press it is of real importance to say that the school has tried to maintain its standards of Christian belief and behaviour during the past year, and it is to be hoped that in future years it may be a more effective witness to its Christian foundation.

Twenty-one boys were confirmed at Christ Church by the Rt. Revd. R. E. Freeth, Assistant Bishop of Perth, whose address to the newly confirmed showed only too plainly his deep understanding of the young mind.

It is of interest to observe the number of boys from this school who are very "live" members of Parishes nearby: in youth fellowships and as servers of the sanctuary. I am sure that they find in these activities a rich and full experience.

It may be possible for boys who are boarders to be trained to assist at the Communion service at Christ Church next year.

OUR CONTEMPORARIES

We were pleased to receive the following magazines during the year:

"The Western Wyvern" (Wesley College), the magazine of S.I.C. (New Norcia), "The Armidalian" (The Armidale School, N.S.W.), "The Chronicle" (St. Hilda's), "The Swan" (Guildford Grammar School), the magazine of Aquinas College, "The Reporter" (Scotch College), "The Dragon" (St. George's College), "The Bathurstian" (All Saints' College, Bathurst), "The Ousel" (Bedford School, England).

IN MEMORIAM

Mr. Richard Chard
"OLD DICK"

It is with deep regret that we record the death of Mr. Richard Chard who kept an eye on the School buildings from 1943 until his retirement in 1955.

Mr. Chard will be remembered most by past and many present members of the School for his ready smile and quiet sense of humour. He was affectionately known among masters and boys as "Old Dick."

Mr. Chard passed away on June 9th, 1958.

SPEECH NIGHT 1957

Speech Night was held out of doors on the Main Oval.

The Chairman of the School Council, Mr. Battye, welcomed parents and friends and spoke briefly about the continued progress of the School. He expressed the Council's thanks to Mr. Moyes and all sections of the Staff, and to His Grace The Archbishop for his continued interest and confidence in the School. He announced that there would be no variation in School fees for the time being—an announcement greeted with acclamation.

The Headmaster, Mr. Moyes, delivered the 48th Annual Report. Enrolment by the end of the year had risen to 490 and was expected to be over 500* in 1958. However, size was not enough by itself; quality not quantity was desired. Any education worthy of the name must be essentially education of character. Sufficient variety of courses must be available to allow for different individuals.

The extensions to the new Preparatory School were substantially complete and the ideally situated Boat Shed was completed. The boys were preparing the surroundings of the Boat Shed and the path down to it. The Boat Shed would be officially opened in 1958, although it was already in use. Mr. Moyes thanked the Department of the Army for helping to transport materials to the site. The Boat Shed had cost £3,759. £1,858 had been raised during 1957. Early returns from the Fete suggested that that function would raise about £1,400, with expenses to be deducted. Therefore the Fete would probably prove to have been more successful than the 1956 Fete. He thanked Mr. Athol Hobbs, the honorary architect, and Mr. Fraser, the honorary coach. Scotch College and Hale School had assisted generously with facilities and equipment. In addition to the money raised for the Boat Shed, the following equipment had been donated:

an "eight", "The W. J. McClemons"
(Mr. M. S. Brooking, an Old Boy),

(*The total enrolment for 1958 was 583.)

a tub pair (Mr. and Mrs. R. H. Williams, parents), an "eight", the "L. W. Parry" (Parents' Association), a "four" (Parents' Association),
a "four" (Mr. and Mrs. F. J. McCarthy and boys), a tub pair (to be purchased from Tuckshop profits), and 32 oars (Old Boys, Parents and friends).

Mr. Moyes said that the Science Laboratories were now well-equipped and that three new dissecting microscopes would be purchased for the Biology Laboratory. There was excellent equipment for physical training. The various libraries (the School, Queenslea and the Sick Room) were well stocked with reference books and good fiction.

The standard of work throughout the School was sound. There were some boys who did just enough work to keep out of trouble—and some who could not keep out of trouble. There was steady progress in University Examination results. In the 1956 examinations 70 per cent. of our Junior candidates had obtained certificates, and 60 per cent. of the Leaving candidates had been successful. The latter figure was a little disappointing, but had been expected. The average over several years had been good.

A carefully planned post-Leaving year for a few boys would be available in 1958. This year was designed to bridge the gap between school and University studies. There was a high failure rate in the first year at the Universities. The cause seemed to be weakness in transition from school to university; some boys were able but immature. Large classes meant too little attention to individuals.

In games the School had held its own. We had not won any P.S.A. competitions, but that meant that there was an incentive for future years. He thanked the coaches of all sports for their enthusiasm.

He thanked, in particular, the outside coaches, Messrs. Fraser, Thody and Allen (Rowing) and Messrs. Bowers and Ferguson-Stewart (Athletics). The standard of gymnastics was increasing rapidly as the results in the State Championships showed. Basketball was becoming popular and was valuable during winter as it could be played in the Hall.

The Cadet Corps had been expanded by the formation of a Signals Section and a Medical Section would be added in 1958. There would then be six specialist sections. The work of the Corps continued to be of a very high standard.

The new tutorial system for boys in the Sub-Junior forms and upwards was as yet in its infancy, but showed promise.

The Claremont Municipal Council was to be commended on the establishment of the Library which more and more boys were using.

On the spiritual side there was real progress, not only in knowledge, but also in worship. More and more boys were serving their parishes. "The development of the religious consciousness is not, and cannot be, the subject of a syllabus; it grows from the environment, favourably and naturally if the environment is favourable and natural, atrophied and distorted if the environment is materialistic in its values and purely competitive in spirit."

The traffic lights at the corner of Queenslea Drive and the Highway made it considerably safer for the boys who had to cross the Highway. The School was erecting a safety fence along the Highway boundary of the Main Oval to prevent footballs and cricket balls going on to the road.

The prizes were presented by Mr. J. Thomson, retiring General Manager of Wesfarmers and father of a former Captain of the School.

In his subsequent address, Mr. Thomson, while congratulating all the prize-winners, reminded the boys that it was no disgrace to be at the bottom if the bottom was close to the top. The thing to do was to come back and try even harder. He said that distinguished guests usually gave boys advice, but that, as he was not distinguished, he would reverse the procedure. "What is your advice to me as to the best school in W.A. to which to send my grandchildren?" he asked. There was a loud response of "Christ Church!" from the boys.

Mr. Thomson said that he wanted to find out more, however, and asked further questions:

"Are you good sportsmen? Do you play the game cleanly?"

(Louder response: "Yes!")

"Is there much cheating in the school?"

As there seemed to be a preponderance of small boys' voices in the loud response of "No!" he asked,

"What about you senior boys? Don't forget that if you do cheat you cheat your parents and yourselves."

He reminded the boys of the lines from Kipling's poem:

"If you can meet with Triumph and Disaster

And treat those two imposters just the same,"

and told them that they were sure to meet with failures during their lives. They should learn from these failures. He reminded them of Winston Churchill who planned the disaster of Gallipoli, but yet came back to be the triumphant leader of the last war.

The Crucifixion of Christ appeared to be one of the greatest failures of all time, but

"Up from the grave He rose Thus to confound His foes."

His Grace the Archbishop, before giving his blessing, spoke briefly of the need to treat everyone with generosity. He spoke of the panic in some parts of the Western World when Russia successfully launched its satellite. We should have been more generous, he said. We should have congratulated them on their success and settled down to try and do better. As it was we had missed an opportunity, by failing to be generous, to do something that may have helped to ease the international situation just a little.

PREFECTS' JOTTINGS

The year began with eleven School Prefects.

The Prefects' Dance, held in the Memorial Hall on Saturday, 19th July, was a great success and was enjoyed by everyone.

The Common Room, of which so much has been said in these jottings during previous years, again served as a kitchen, dining room, change room and classroom. Consequently the room was never as spotlessly clean as it should have been, in spite of the unceasing efforts of lunch-hour offenders against the laws of the School. To these boys, who tried so hard to keep our dwelling clean, we are grateful. The presence of a family of mice provided many moments of relaxation from our studies, and Mowcher proved himself an excellent shot with the broom handle, claiming two kills during the year.

The home science enthusiasts were given ample opportunity to demonstrate their ability in the preparation of meals on Friday nights before "Mikado" practice. They proved to be particularly skilful at heating tins. The efforts of Sec to "fix" our somewhat temperamental toaster were not highly successful. He "fixed" it all right! and after only a few weeks it was no longer possible to toast sandwiches. At the end of second term our electrician became a boarder.

We wish everyone a happy Christmas and a New Year that is filled with well-earned achievements in every avenue of school life.

— N. S.

QUEENSLEA BOARDING HOUSE NOTES

Vacancies left in the House by boys leaving school last year were filled by Romsey boys and newcomers to the school. David Steadman and Terry Hough were appointed School Prefects at the beginning of the year, to be joined shortly after by a further Boarding House Prefect, Roy Parsons. John Airey came into the house in third term, thus—with Ian Henderson—making a total of six Prefects. Mr. Newton, the new Chemistry master, became an Assistant House Master at the beginning of the year, but he left us in second term to go overseas.

The Boarding House took on a very different appearance late in second term when the "Rat-House" was demolished; general comment: "Not before time." The builders then extended the rest of the House. Much inconvenience was caused during those four or five weeks. The whole Boarding House (some 94 boys), for example, had to use the solitary shower in the Prep. School change rooms. However, the co-operation of all members of the House was excellent and everything went very well.

When completed we will have several new dormitories and excellent toilet facilities.

The sixth-formers of the House have given a fine lead in taking part in the many and varied activities of the School. They were responsible for organising two very successful social evenings, one in second term with St. Hilda's, and one in third Term with P.L.C.

John Muir, David Beetles and Wayne Lawrence, as the projector staff, led by Mr. Richardson, have provided us with our Saturday night films. The House Committee was elected and immediately began to settle some of the outstanding problems. A Library Committee was appointed and under Michael Lloyd's leadership, the House Library was transformed. This proved to be successful up to a point only, as we lost the Library when the dining room was extended.

Apart from having a taste for blaring wirelasses the Junior Common Room boys occupied themselves with various hobbies.

In the first and second terms many members of the Senior Common Room gave up their free time to rehearse for the Gilbert and Sullivan Opera, "Mikado." It was commendable that Boarders supplied three leading parts and more than half the cast.

..... And the Prefects!

This year saw few changes in the Prefects' Common Room. The morning paper was introduced and Jock and Terry never missed reading the daily instalments of "Romeo Brown."

Speeny was often kept on his toes—"odd things have been going on around here, haven't they, Speeny?"

At the beginning of third term the common room was commandeered by Sec who "sent the air ringing with Spohr and Beethoven and Classical Monday Pops" and who, by some misfortune, quickly earned for himself the nickname "Sandy McSec." Mention must be made of the outstanding way in which David Evans stroked the Eight to win the Head of the River; Terry Hough's well deserved position in the crew and also Roy Parsons' part in winning the race for second Eights. Ian Henderson and David Steadman produced some creditable performances in the 1st XI.

No one could have worked harder for us than Mrs. Osborne, Miss Warren and Mrs. Craig. Their untiring efforts to attend to our clothes, food and medical requirements have been wonderful. We all offer our very sincere thanks to them.

Congratulations to all Queenslea Boarders who have been selected for School teams. Special mention must be made of David Smirke and Christie Stevens who, ably coached by Mr. Kovacs, came first and second respectively in the Australian Junior Gymnastic Championships.

Finally, good luck to all those returning next year and may you take full advantage of the many activities open to you.

CADET NOTES

At the end of last year the annual camp at Swanbourne was held for the purpose of training future Officers and N.C.O.'s. Congratulations to U/O J. Maddams (3rd; U/Os Wing); Drum Major H. D. Evans (1st; Senior N.C.O. Wing), Sgt. P. Brazier (2nd; M.M.G. Wing), Sgt. B. Jones (1st; Signals Wing) and Sgt. T. Hough (2nd; Mortar Wing).

The Unit was divided into two companies at the beginning of the year, and Lieut. C. Stoate joined the Unit as Officer Commanding B Company.

The Annual Anzac Day Service was held on the Scotch College Memorial Ground.

At the end of first term the Unit moved into camp at Northam, and while there, Empire Youth Sunday was observed and the Premier delivered the Queen's message to the assembled Cadet Units. That afternoon a demonstration of Cadet training was given in the form of inter-Unit competitions. Christ Church did exceptionally well, gaining first places in the 1st and 2nd Year Platoon Drill competitions, M.M.G. and Signal Sections, and equal first in the Mortar Section. The Intelligence Section and the under 15 cross country team gained second places. The weapons stripping and assembling relay teams finished first and second.

The March-out Parade was held on the School Oval on Sunday, August 17th. Lieut.-Col. Hardcastle inspected the Unit and presented the Alexander Todd Memorial Trophy to the outstanding Cadet of the year, W.O.II T. W. McNamee. Following the parade training demonstrations were given. No. 6 Platoon performed drill movements and Nos. 4 and 5 Platoons were given rifle and Bren gun lessons. Squads from Nos. 2 and 3 Platoons took part in weapons stripping and assembling relays, and the specialist sections displayed their particular talents.

The shooting team is to be congratulated on gaining third place in the Commonwealth Challenge Cup shoot. Congratulations to Aquinas College on their victory.

Towards the end of third term an enthusiastic Potential N.C.O. Platoon was selected and these Cadets will be carefully instructed so that next year's N.C.O.'s will maintain and improve the high standard of the Unit.

THE MARCHING-OUT PARADE

The Annual Cadet Marching-out Parade was held on Sunday, August 17th. This year the Corps was inspected by Lieut.-Col. Hardcastle.

Lieut.-Col. Hardcastle praised the Unit on its bearing and efficiency. He said that in his position as Officer in Charge of Training in Western Command he was always hearing of the Corps' efficiency, both in and out of camp. "It seems," he said, "that not only do you have the honour of being Western Australia's largest Cadet Corps, you are also the most efficient."

Lieut.-Col. Hardcastle presented the Alexander Todd Memorial Trophy for the outstanding Cadet of the year to W.O.II T. W. McNamee.

The full Cadet Unit, including the Unit Flag and the Band, marched past. Then they advanced in review order, a general salute was given and the platoons marched off to their respective demonstration areas.

Number six platoon "B" Company (first years) under U/O Maddams gave a drill demonstration. While number five platoon demonstrated the handling of rifles and hand grenades. The Cadets of number four platoon had a Bren lesson and the members of numbers two and three platoons conducted a weapons competition using the Bren, Service Rifle, Hand Grenade and the Owen sub-machine gun. The specialist platoon, number one "A" Company under U/O Schupp gave demonstrations on the different forms of specialization. Sgt. Brazier's Vickers machine-gun squad mounted and assembled their weapon and then went through drill procedure up to the firing position. The Intelligence section sketched the lower oval and the Signals group under Sgts. Jones and Browne-Cooper set up a twelve-line switchboard. But Sgt. Hough's Mortar squads provided the most exciting demonstration of the day. Two three-inch mortars set up on the lower oval alongside the Q.M. stores fired intermittent shots at an oil drum set up on the top oval as a target. The mortars used half charges and although there were a lot of near misses, the target was not actually hit. The mortars concluded with a spectacular eight-round salvo, so climaxing a very successful marching-out parade.

BAND NOTES

At the beginning of the year Cpl. Macqueen was promoted to Drum/Sgt. and Cdt. Atkinson to Fife/Cpl. With Mr. Woodend in charge, we settled down to teaching the new members to play their instruments. By the end of first term we were able to put on a good showing at the Anzac Day Parade held at Scotch College.

As usual our band was the main band at the Empire Youth Sunday Parade held at Northam Camp. Everybody worked hard for the parade and played very well on the day. During camp the fifers learnt several new tunes and Sgt. Macqueen taught the drummers the drumming pieces to go with them. By the end of camp we were in excellent form, but unfortunately there was no opportunity to show ourselves.

During second term there was a reaction to the good work done in camp. But as the Marching Out Parade loomed nearer, we knuckled down to hard work and were soon back to camp standards. For the parade everyone had a fine turnout and did an excellent job. The parade was most successful and went off without a hitch.

The Marching Out Parade proved to be our last parade—we were unable to accept St. Hilda's invitation to play at their sports because of the trial Junior and Leaving examinations.

Finally our thanks to Mr. Woodend for his assistance and I hope that next year the high standard achieved by the band this year will be equalled and bettered.

THE SOCIAL ROUND

PREFECTS' DANCE

The annual Prefects' Dance was held in the Memorial Hall on Saturday, July 19.

A great deal of work was put into the decoration of the Hall, and a new streamer arrangement was successfully introduced. Potted palms, lent by Mr. Dawson, were placed around the walls with great effect. Three dozen Chinese Lanterns, very kindly donated by Mr. Wong, were very decorative and provided just the right amount of light, creating a very friendly atmosphere. We must thank Mr. P. E. Miall who installed the lights and assisted in numerous other ways.

The music, provided by Mr. Jack Harrison's band, was appreciated by all those who attended.

We wish to express our very sincere thanks to the mothers for providing an excellent supper.

— N. S.

SENIOR COMMONROOM SOCIALS

During the year the members of "A" dormitory, Queenslea House, organised two Senior Commonroom Socials—one with St. Hilda's and one with P.L.C.

The socials took the form of dancing to recorded music and were more or less boarders' parties. Fifty girls from the school concerned were invited and the hall was well decorated, thought not extravagantly so, for the occasions. A good supper was provided and both socials were most successful.

Our thanks go to Mrs. Trimby for providing the supper and doing so much to help us. Without her aid the evenings would have been well nigh an impossibility.

ROWERS' DANCE

This year, as is customary, we held a Rowers' Dance on the night of the Head of the River. We celebrated (and we sincerely hope that this will also become customary) our success in the event.

The Dance had an extremely cheerful atmosphere, and after an excellent supper, for which we owe our thanks to the "Rowing" mothers, the 1st VIII were given a ceremonial sip from the prized "cup"—the unanimous comment being, "Funny, that champagne tasted exactly like Fanta Lemonade!"

However, it was a highly successful dance and, thanks to Jimmy Beasley and his band, was enjoyed by all.

TUCK SHOP NOTES

This year the tuck shop was run by Mr. Stoate and a committee of fifteen senior boys ably headed by D. Evans. Thanks go to Mr. Stoate and his committee for the good work they have done and in particular to D. Smallwood who handled all stock supplies.

In past years the tuck shop has used its profits to buy equipment needed by the School. These include for Athletics, a set of hurdles, for Rowing a tub-pair, and a fridge and locker for the tuckshop itself. It has not yet been decided what the profits this year will be used for.

The average daily takings are about £5 and they rise to £5 - £20 when there is a big function on at the School. On this basis we expect a profit of between £100 and £150 for 1958.

We have had plenty of ideas for increasing profits—such as a fridge suitable for storing ice cream and facilities for selling kegged ginger beer, but it seems that the shop is too small for such ideas and we always end up with the same old lines—biscuits, sweets, drinks and now, of course, yo-yos!

Front Row: I. Henderson, N. C. N. Stephenson (Capt.), Mr. A. Blackwood, D. Steadman (V.-Capt.), G. Bevan.
Absent: I. Campbell, W. Vernon, J. Tytherleigh.

Top: G. R. Ferguson's prize-winning photograph of the War Memorial on a rainy night.
Bottom: "The Mikado"—on stage and in the make-up room.

THE MIKADO

The orchestra began the overture . . . the curtains parted for the opening chorus . . . the audience began to move out of their seats . . . crammed into three short nights had been the result of seven months of work, much of which was neither singing nor acting.

Rehearsals for "The Mikado" started during the first week of first term with one hour's singing a week for the chorus and about two hours a week for those who hoped to obtain principal parts. At first there seemed to be too many applicants for some roles and many too few for others, but at length everything was straightened out.

Acting began in second term and the tenor/bass chorus rehearsed in the Preparatory School classrooms from seven to eight on Friday evenings. However this proved to be unsatisfactory and rehearsals were changed to Sunday mornings. The soprano chorus practised on Friday afternoons.

Meanwhile a group of sub-leaving boys came to school on Sunday mornings to work on the scenery, most of which had to be handmade and painted. There was one small consolation to cheer their labours and that was that they worked to the accompaniment of the principal parts being rehearsed in the Hall.

Some three weeks before the first dress rehearsal the tempo increased and there were rehearsals of some description during every lunch hour as well as on several nights a week. Unfortunately the first dress rehearsal was somewhat uninspired but during the following week the weaker parts were polished up and as a result the full dress rehearsal was much better. This was fortunate because many who were too late to obtain tickets for the performances were lucky enough to see the full dress rehearsal.

On Tuesday, August 12th, Wednesday, 13th, and Thursday, 14th, came the performances before appreciative, capacity houses.

The cast would like to thank Mr. and Mrs. Woodend whose untiring patience and hard work over the two terms preparation made the show possible; Mr. Lance for his valuable stage-management; Mr. Miall and Mr. Drok, the house managers; the Orchestra who so generously gave us such good support; R. J. Paterson who painted and designed the scenery; the members of the Gilbert and Sullivan Society who helped with the makeup; also the mothers and particularly Mrs. Osborne and Miss Heales, housemothers of Queenslea and Romsey, for the great amount of work involved in preparing the boarder's costumes; and everyone else who made the show the success it was.

Those taking part were:

Mikado	D. P. Steadman
Nanki-Pooh	J. S. Airey
Ko-Ko	A. D. H. Stewart
Pooh-Bah	H. D. Evans
Pish-Tush	C. A. Edwards
Yum-Yum	I. M. Hodge
Pitti-Sing	W. T. Flintoff
Peep-Bo	M. M. S. Hughes
Katisha	J. T. Robertson

Producer and Musical Director:
Mr. Alan Woodend

They were supported by a cast of sixty-three others in the roles of nobles and schoolgirls.

LIBRARY NOTES

As in previous years, the Library has functioned only because of the willing help of the Librarians.

This year an effort was made to interest the younger boys in the running of the Library by using them as Junior Librarians. Aided and supervised to some extent by the Seniors, they did enthusiastic, useful and much appreciated work. It is not, unfortunately, realised often enough that without the devotion and sacrifice of a few willing Library workers the School would be without a valuable service.

This year many books were bought to cater for the tastes of the junior boy—reference books, suited to his needs in school works, and books on hobbies and general topics to cover his out-of-school interests

At the same time, the needs of the senior boys were not neglected and books were purchased, especially of history, geography and science. A major acquisition for the year was a complete set of the new Australian Encyclopaedia.

To assist in the selection of books in the future a small committee of Masters, under the chairmanship of Mr. Trimby, has been appointed. This committee has conferred with Mr. Denis Richardson, Claremont Municipal Librarian, on future Library policy. As far as possible the School library will now provide those books for specialised reference which are not so readily available in the Municipal Library. In this way we will avoid overlapping and so ensure the best possible Library service for the School.

CLUBS AND SOCIETIES

NATURAL HISTORY SOCIETY NOTES

This year the Natural History Society was able to present a great and varied number of talks by different boys of different ages throughout the year. Everything from tropical fish to space travel, came under the title of Natural History, and these talks were given by boys from the School, unaided. In the beginning of the year office-bearers appointed were Michael Lloyd, president, and Peter Fleming, secretary.

Bernard Morris (IVE) was our first speaker, his subject being transistors, and he went to a great deal of trouble to explain how they work, and the part they play in the life of today.

Guy Dowling (IVA) followed, and in two weeks, with the aid of charts, books and scripts, told all there was to know about our railways.

David Fleming (IVL) next gave us a complete description of the School for the Blind in one week, and finished off with the aid of equipment in explaining the Braille way of reading and writing.

Mr. Hutchison, Senior Physics Master, held attendances of around seventy-five for three weeks, when he explained The Wonders of The Atomic Age.

Peter Hill (IVL) was our next speaker, and his explanation of how tropical fish should be kept, where and why, and what breeds were available, proved of the utmost interest to many boys.

Hugh Gillett (VL) spent two weeks explaining, with diagrams, The Wonders of The Great Barrier Reef.

John Oliver (IVL) proved a learned authority on the subject of neon and fluorescent lighting; his talk made those "glowing gadgets on our roofs" mean something every time they gained our attention afterwards.

Michael Lloyd explained, with a detailed diagram, the life cycle of the malarial parasite. This talk showed just how we contract malaria, and how it moves around from person to person.

David Garnsworthy (S.J.L) made boys sit up when he gave a most intricate talk on the possibilities of space travel. He followed this up by a talk on television, how it works, and what we can expect when it comes to Western Australia.

On Friday, 10th October, we were lucky to secure Mr. McMillan, who had led an expedition into the Hamersley Ranges. He gave a most interesting talk on the wild life there, and the expedition's task which was to find the dividing line of Southern and Northern Fauna.

When the "Mitre" went to the press we had two more talks programmed, one on photography, the other on sharks. This gives everyone an idea of what our society does, and the opportunity it gives for boys to speak to other boys on their pet subject, without fear of interruption.

CHESS CLUB NOTES

A reasonably successful year was spent by the Chess Club during 1958. However, it was noticeable that the Chess Club missed the enthusiasm and playing skill of B. Hesterman, president and champion since the club was formed.

During first term, many members made available their own sets which, along with the two school sets, helped overcome the lack of boards that had been evident in previous years. From the outset, it could be seen that the all-round standard of play in the club had improved greatly, which enabled two tournaments to be played off successfully.

Second term saw a decline in the number of players on account of approaching examinations and the bad weather. However, a tournament for members in the junior classes was held which showed G. Waring and J. Fleming to be among the strongest players in the club.

The Chess Club during 1959 should be the strongest since it was formed, and it is hoped that some younger boys may be taught the game.

During the coming year the club will also try to secure a match against a chess club of some other school, since it is known that both Wesley and Perth Modern School have active clubs.

CAMERA CLUB NOTES

At the beginning of the year the key was once again turned in the rusting lock of the school darkroom and so the Camera Club came into being again. As usual lack of finance slowed proceedings down but, with the entrance fees of twenty boys, a photo-developing and printing set was procured. Some of the members made good use of the darkroom and equipment, and some excellent results have been achieved.

This year has been a busy one for the keen photographer as there have been many school activities worth photographing—such as the Queen Mother's visit, the Opening of the Boatshed, the State Gymnastics, the Mikado, and many others.

During second and third terms a photographic competition was held. First prize, £3/3/-, was donated by one of the mothers, while Mr. Trimby kindly donated a second prize of 10/-. Approximately forty photographs were submitted and judged by Mr. G. Smith from Kodak Australia Ltd.

First prize was won by G. R. Ferguson with a photo of the State War Memorial taken at night in the rain. Second prize was won by Alan Quirke with a photograph of Singapore taken while he was away on holiday. On the whole the standard of the entries was fairly high. Among those entered were shots of school buildings, school activities, landscapes and human studies. Landscapes won the first and second prizes.

INTER-SCHOOL CHRISTIAN FELLOWSHIP REPORT

During this past year there has been a mounting interest in Inter-School Christian Fellowship among the boys of the School. This interest grew to such an extent that for one meeting there was a whole class present. The number of boys attending the meetings has varied from about fifteen to over thirty boys. Jim Haynes, M.Sc., has again been the society's main speaker, and has proved very patient, reliable and inspiring. Half way through the year he began a series entitled "Christian Athletics," first giving us an introduction to the topic by showing us how the Christian life can be likened to a race and then showing how various competitors in the past have run this race. Competitors in the race of life which we considered were, Adam, Abraham, Jacob, Moses, Paul and Christ. Meetings have been held quite regularly each week during the year, although there have been various interruptions owing to school functions. Other speakers included Mr. John Deykin and Mr. F. H. H. Bates, who had just returned from a trip to Europe and Britain, and who is the president of this organization.

There was a great deal of interest in the meetings from the fifth forms this year and there have been large attendances from this age group at the meetings. In second term the Claremont Drawing Room Meetings held their annual "Squash," and a large number of Sub-Junior boys attended it. However there have been very few boys from Sub-Junior coming to the school meetings. There have been only a few fourth form boys coming to the meetings.

Prayer Meetings have been held every Tuesday and Thursday morning at break. These have been poorly attended but they have been a spiritual inspiration to those who have attended and we feel sure that it is because of this time interceding with God for the meetings that he has blessed us so during the year. So we feel that we have not worked in vain over the year and we look forward to a far more successful year next year, under God's guidance.

DEBATING

M.L.C. Debate

An amusing debate took place at M.L.C. on Friday, 2th March, when a Junior team—J. Wisbey, Beresford and J. Fleming—were defeated by a narrow margin on the motion that "Co-education Should be Encouraged."

The teams debated before quite a large audience and, being inexperienced, they suffered from nervousness to a certain extent. However, the debate was quite interesting and, although it resolved at the end into argument as to which is the better sex, the audience was kept amused throughout.

Our congratulations are extended to the M.L.C. team on their well deserved win and to their captain, Jacqueline Rees, on gaining top marks with 86/100.

— J. C. M. H.

St. Hilda's Debate

Christ Church was guest to St. Hilda's Girls' School when two extremely amusing and interesting debates were held on April 30th.

Before a large and appreciative audience the School Junior team took the negative side in the subject "History is Mainly Gossip!"

The St. Hilda's team was handicapped somewhat by lack of experience and it was this reason, coupled with some forceful and entertaining debating, that won the debate for Christ Church. Beresford scored the top marks.

The School Senior team, however, was faced with a stiffer task when it took the affirmative side on the subject "That the Standard of Modern Radio Entertainment has Deteriorated."

Both teams seemed evenly matched, but a brilliant and devastating attack on our side's arguments by Miss Gascoyne gained top marks of 95/100.

After the debates, audience and debaters alike enjoyed the supper provided.

Thank you, St. Hilda's, for such an enjoyable evening!

— J. C. M. H.

M.L.C. Debate

A most successful evening of Debating was held on the 25th of July when Christ Church debated against Methodist Ladies' College.

The first debate was a Junior one in which Christ Church was victorious. J. Saleeba, B. Beresford and J. Wisbey debated with fervour the motion "That the Empire Games are a Good Thing." M.L.C. affirmative, Christ Church negative.

A Sub-Leaving team—P. Fleming, E. Culley and A. Eggleston—took the negative in the motion that "France can only be saved from total civil collapse by the government of a strong man."

This was undoubtedly one of the best debates we have heard this year, both teams advanced some extremely good matter to back up their arguments. So equal were the teams that the debate was a draw.

Congratulations to A. Eggleston on gaining top marks.

Our sincere thanks go to Mr. Rolfe for letting us use the Preparatory School buildings, to Mrs. Trimby for the excellent supper that was enjoyed by all, and to Mrs. Hamilton for coming along and adjudicating.

The following boys were members of Interschool teams this year:—

Senior: E. Culley, A. Eggleston, J. Hamilton, P. Fleming, T. W. McNamee.

Junior: Beresford, J. Fleming, Saleeba, and Wisbey.

— J. C. M. H.

Inter-House Debating

ROMSEY v. CRAIGIE

The first debate of the year took place between Romsey and Craigie on March 14.

Craigie won the Junior debate on the subject "That Sputniks of any Nationality serve no purpose that is justified by their cost."

The Senior teams debated a very interesting subject—"That we would be better governed if voting for parliamentary elections were not compulsory." Top honours were shared equally between the two teams with P. Fleming and E. Culley both scoring 75/100. However, Romsey won 213 to 209.

— A. E.

ROMSEY v. QUEENSLEA

On April 11th the Junior teams debated the motion "That to play cricket is a waste of time."

Some extremely forceful debating by Beresford gained him top marks of 69 and Romsey, the negative, won with 189 points to Queenslea's 170.

The Senior debate was most interesting; the two teams presented the militant and pacifists' viewpoints on the motion "That to prevent war, we should arm for war."

The Queenslea team (affirmative) was extremely unfortunate in losing the services of their captain, T. McNamee, through sickness, and although Alan Eggleston made a brilliant speech and gained top marks, Romsey again took the honours.

Special mention should be made of the most unusual and effective opening used by the Romsey captain, John Hamilton, in his summary; such things point the way to a higher standard of school debating.

QUEENSLEA v. CRAIGIE

The last inter-house debate of the series was attended by quite a large audience.

The Junior teams debated "That the Australian system of coinage should be altered to a decimal system." Craigie defeated Queenslea by the narrow margin of 4 points and in so doing proved themselves to be the most successful Junior team, having won all their debates.

The Senior debate, however, was somewhat hampered by the complexity of the subject, it being "That Automatic quarterly adjustments of the basic wage are unsound economically."

All debated well and A. Eggleston took top marks of 81. The result was a win for Queenslea, which was led to victory by T. McNamee.

Final points were: Queenslea 221; Craigie 197.

General Remarks

Thus the debating honours for 1958 went to Romsey with Craigie second and Queenslea third. From the standard of debating shown and the increasing number of people attending and showing an interest in debates, the successful future of the School debating seems assured.

SPORTING NOTES

SPORTING HOUSE NOTES

CRAIGIE HOUSE NOTES

House Master: Mr. A. Woodend
Assistant House Masters:
Messrs. D. R. Richardson and E. D. Drok
House Captain: R. J. Patterson
House Vice-Captain: C. A. Edwards

Swimming

Captain: J. Miall

With some of our champion swimmers back and a strong under-age group, we again managed to win the swimming by a large number of points. Congratulations to the team, of whom many later swam for the School. Special mention must be made of the performances of J. Miall (Open Swimming Champion), C. A. Edwards, M. Meecham and P. Driscoll, all of whom gained many points in their divisions.

Rowing

Captain: C. A. Edwards

Our four was a very light crew and although conditions were not very rough we were placed at a disadvantage. Also the crew did not settle down well as the stroke had not had sufficient practice in this position. However, we fielded a heavy and powerful pair who were able to win both races well, and this gave us second position.

Debating

Captain: C. A. Edwards

General lack of preparation lost us the first senior debate. The second senior debate was better prepared but unfortunately Fleming became ill at the last moment and so the team had to be rearranged, but without success. The junior team prepared and practiced their debates well and won both of them, giving us second place in the Debating.

Football

Captain: R. J. Patterson

In the first two matches, against Romsey, the 1st XVIII was convincingly beaten while the Under 14 team finished strongly to win their match. Unfortunately, owing to confusion over the number of players on the field, the Under 14 match was replayed, this time Craigie was narrowly defeated. The next two matches against Queenslea resulted in a victory for both the Under 14 and 1st XVIII teams. M. Meecham, C. A. Edwards, T. Hough and J. Tytherleigh played well in both 1st XVIII matches, while in the Under 14 A. Meecham, Harvey, Nicholson and Stanley were the outstanding players. In the final results of the Inter-House Football we gained second place.

CRAIGIE HOUSE ATHLETIC NOTES

The Inter-House cross country was held at the end of second term, and several new records were set. The overall result was very close, with only seven points separating the three houses. The Open and under 13 divisions proved to be our strongest.

Greater enthusiasm was shown in the standards than for many years. Romsey gained most points, and at the beginning of the Sports they were about fifty points ahead of Queenslea and Craigie, who were separated by only a few points.

The Inter-House Sports were held on the 10th and 11th October. Although the Open and Under 13 age groups were very strong, we were weak in the other divisions, and fell steadily behind. Congratulations to Romsey, who won by a clear margin.

Craigie Basketball

Captain: J. Tytherleigh

The introduction of House basketball this year proved to be a great success, thanks to the hard work of the School coach, Mr. Kovacs. The first games against Romsey on September 27th resulted in a well earned win for the Under 15 team, and an unlucky defeat for the Open. The second games between Romsey and Queenslea saw Romsey's Under 15 team defeated while the Open won. The last and deciding games were played on the 8th of November. Our Under 15 team had an exciting draw, the result being decided in our favour after extra time had been played. The Open played well to defeat Queenslea and this gave Craigie the basketball points. Best players were Jones, Clennett, Beetles.

QUEENSLEA HOUSE NOTES

House Master: Mr. L. O'Hara
Assistant House Master: Mr. M. G. Simms
House Captain: J. W. Schupp
House Vice-Captain: D. P. Steadman

Swimming

Captain: H. D. Evans

This year, Queenslea had too few with swimming ability. We had great difficulty in finding boys for some events. However, Col. Sanders did a very good job in the Open 100 and 220 Yards Freestyle.

Cricket

Captain: D. P. Steadman

Queenslea was again successful in winning the competition. The standard of House Cricket this year was much improved and some hidden talent was revealed. The house's 1st XI won its match with Romsey but failed to beat a more determined Craigie. The Under 14 team won both its matches.

Debating

Captain: T. W. McNamee

This year we were again unsuccessful in the debating. Despite forceful debating by A. Eggleston (Senior) and J. Wisbey (Junior), we lost the Romsey series. The Senior team then defeated Craigie, whilst J. Wisbey just failed to close the gap between Junior scores with a very creditable "performance." It is to our credit, however, that the house supplied captains for the Junior, Sub-Leaving and Senior school teams, and provided the best debaters in A. Eggleston (Senior) and J. Wisbey (Junior), and with these two coming back next year we can look forward to much better results. These notes, however, would not be complete without our hearty congratulations to Romsey and Craigie for their fine efforts for 1958.

Football

Captain: D. P. Steadman

We were unsuccessful in all games this year. Unfortunately we were unable to field our strongest team. Nevertheless the team's determined spirit enabled us to fight back hard and every member pulled his weight.

Athletics

Captain: P. R. Atkinson

Congratulations to Romsey on their well earned win in the House Sports. At the beginning of the sports, due to standards, we were 59 points behind Romsey.

Queenslea was strong in the Open and Under 16 divisions where we won most of the distance events.

D. Hamilton set an Under 15 880 yards record and four runners broken the Open 880 yards record. Congratulations to N. Stephenson on being Open Champion and breaking the Half-Mile record by 5 secs. Congratulations also to C. A. Edwards on his excellent 440 yards record.

Rowing

Captain: P. N. M. Brazier

The introduction of Inter-House Rowing was a great success in its first year, especially for Queenslea. We were narrowly beaten in the event for pairs, but were able to win the event for fours, thus winning the House Rowing. H. D. Evans, D. Smallwood, P. Brazier, J. Schupp and E. Ferguson made up our unbeatable four. Congratulations go to both crews.

Cross Country

Captain: P. R. Atkinson

As in previous years, Queenslea had good individual runners but were weak in the team events. I. D. Mackintosh ran well to finish third in the U/13 Cross Country, and P. Clement performed creditably to set an inaugural record for the U/15 course.

In the U/16 division, A. Kau was unfortunate in running two-fifths of a second outside the record. P. R. Atkinson and I. Henderson both broke the Open record of 21 mins. 7.4 secs. by 30.2 secs. Congratulations to T. B. Parker on breaking P. R. Atkinson's record by 18.5 seconds in the U/14 Cross Country.

Queenslea Basketball

Captain: S. Henderson
Vice-Captain: B. Muntz

This year basketball was introduced as an Inter-House sport. Queenslea defeated Romsey in the Under 15 game. They were less fortunate against Craigie as at the end of the game both teams had the same score, so play was continued for 6 minutes—in which Craigie gained the upper hand and won by 4 points.

The Open team was not quite strong enough, and were beaten in both matches against Craigie and Romsey.

Open team: I. Henderson, B. Muntz, C. Stevens, J. Gribble, M. Leach.

Under 15 team: M. Criddle, K. Scott, G. Szczecinski, Martin, Collins, Sherwood, Fleay, Doubikin.

Congratulations to Craigie for winning the basketball, followed by Romsey, then Queenslea.

ROMSEY HOUSE NOTES

House Master: Mr. W. Rucks
Assistant House Master: Mr. C. Stoate
House Captain: G. G. Bevan
House Vice-Captain: J. W. S. Maddams

Swimming

Captain: R. G. Sudlow

Although our Open and Under 16 divisions were not strong, the other under age divisions performed creditably to gain us second place to Craigie. Our Under 15 Relay team set a new School record. Our congratulations are extended to Craigie on their well earned win.

Debating

Captain: J. C. M. Hamilton

Much promising talent for future School Debating teams was revealed in the Inter-House Debating this year.

Romsey was victorious in the competition, winning three out of four debates. Greater enthusiasm was shown than in former years by members of the House.

It is up to the teams next year to maintain Romsey's prestige in debating.

Football

Captain: G. G. Bevan

In the first series of matches against Craigie the 1st XVIII won convincingly, while the Under 14's lost. Later it was proved that a replay was necessary in the Under 14 match because Craigie fielded 19 men.

In the second series both 1st XVIII and Under 14 won their matches against Queenslea. Meanwhile, Craigie had beaten Queenslea in both matches so the result of the football decided on the Under 14 replay. Romsey won this hard fought game by two points.

Congratulations to all who represented the House in these games.

Best for Open: Bevan, Wilkins, Rocchi, Maddams.

Best for Under 14: Rocchi, Carr, Douglas.

Athletics

Captain: J. W. S. Maddams

All boys in the House entered standards whole-heartedly. As a result, Romsey finished some 50 points ahead of the other houses in standards. Having been a few points ahead in the cross country, we had a handy lead for sports day.

On sports day, Romsey went further ahead to finish good winners. Mention must be made of the excellent performances of first and second division runners. Romsey had four of five athletic champions: Under 13, Moore; Under 14, Rocchi; Under 15, D. Cook; Under 16, J. Cooper. Congratulations also go to Open Champion N. Stephenson. All in all, Romsey won because the House combined as a team. Congratulations to those boys who gained a place in the School team.

Cricket

Captain: J. W. S. Maddams

The enthusiasm and conscientious playing of the members of our House enabled Romsey to gain equal second place in the Inter-House Cricket competition.

Our U/14 team defeated both Craigie and Queenslea under the captaincy of Meagher. The outstanding all-rounders were Meagher, Annear and Williams, but the all-round teamwork rewarded the team with well-earned victories.

The first eleven drew in the match against Craigie but were defeated by Queenslea. Here also the teamwork was commendable. Bevan led opening attacks with the bowling, accompanied by Maddams and Annear. The outstanding batsmen were Muggleton, Grove and Bevan, and the top score was gained by Muggleton with a total of 65 in the match against Craigie.

Rowing

Captain: J. S. Airey

This year is the first year that it has been possible to have House Rowing. Unfortunately, owing to insufficient boats, each House was represented by one "four" crew and one "pair" crew.

The four crew were the heaviest of the three "fours" and consisted of Richard Sudlow (Stroke), I. Ritchie, M. Gordon, J. Airey. The pair consisted of B. Jones and B. Cook. The coxes were G. Currie and T. Hollingsworth.

The races were rowed in heats. First heat was Romsey against Queenslea; we lost in both pair and fours. The last heat was between Craigie and Romsey, in which Romsey won in the fours—unfortunately the pair were just beaten.

Romsey Basketball

Captain: A. Hibble

This year basketball was introduced as a House sport, contributing points towards the Beatty Cup competition.

Romsey showed good all-round strength in the Open group, beating both Craigie and Queenslea. Geoffrey Bevan was outstanding in the backline. He was ably supported by the other member of the backline; Jim Wilkins and Gordon Steele. The forward line was also strong, thus giving us a winning combination. Our Under 15 team was not quite so successful, but Richard Boland and David Smirke played well. Congratulations must go to Craigie for winning the House Basketball competition in its inaugural year.

INTER-HOUSE SWIMMING

The House sports this year were very successful and pointed to the fact that we will have quite a strong swimming team in a few years. Nine records were broken in almost perfect conditions. Out of these, five were the relays which all went by wide margins. The most successful competitor on the day was U/13 champion Peter Driscoll, who won the fifty-five yds. backstroke and freestyle in record times, and swam the last leg for a record-breaking Craigie U/13 relay team. His times of 33.3 for the freestyle and 42.4 for the backstroke were interschool class. John Maddams swam the open breaststroke in 39.7, breaking the previous record by 1.1 secs. Open champion Mick Meecham won the backstroke in 36.6, which equalled the record. The sports ended in a comfortable win by Craigie from Romsey and Queenslea.

Final Points:	Craigie	413½
	Romsey	308½
	Queenslea	249

TRIANGULAR SWIMMING SPORTS

March 1st, 1958

CHRIST CHURCH GRAMMAR SCHOOL
WESLEY COLLEGE ST. LOUIS SCHOOL

The weather proved sunny, making ideal swimming conditions, thus assisting the breaking of eleven records. John Miall acquitted himself well, winning the open breaststroke in 40 secs (a new record) and taking third place in both the U.16 110 and 220 yards freestyle. Colin Sanders proved himself by winning the open 220 yards freestyle and taking a second in the open 55 yards backstroke.

Peter Driscoll took second place in the U.13 55 yards freestyle, while young Grounds won the U.12 55 yards freestyle in the record time of 36.5 secs.

Special mention must be made of the Wesley Champion, Ryan, who set three records by winning the U.16 freestyle in 62.2 secs, the U.16 backstroke in 32.3, and the U.16 220 yards freestyle in 2 mins 26 secs.

The final results were: Wesley, 169; Christ Church, 116; St. Louis, 65.

PUBLIC SCHOOLS' ASSOCIATION SWIMMING CARNIVAL

MARCH 8th, 1958

The Inter-school swimming sports were held at Crawley Baths in the usual perfect conditions. Although we only came fifth in the sports our team swam well, and deserves congratulations. Although the team was strong in certain age groups, it failed to have the all round strength of Wesley and Scotch.

Mention must be made of not only our first division swimmers—Miall, Driscoll, Sanders and Meecham—but also of our second division swimmers (who proved themselves equally reliable), gaining one first and five seconds.

Our position, although good before the relays, deteriorated when we could only manage poor positions in the relays. This told against us because of the large number of points for relays.

Our congratulations to Wesley on their well-deserved win.

The final results were: Wesley, 270; Scotch, 226; Guildford, 184; Aquinas, 174; Christ Church, 132; Hale, 125.

DARLOT CUP

Captain: N. C. N. Stephenson
Vice-Captain: D. P. Steadman

At the beginning of the year we had seven of last year's successful team back at school and competition for a place in the side was very strong. All likely members of the team showed great keenness and attendance at practice was excellent.

After the first few matches it was evident that the team would not be as strong as first thought. The batting was weaker than expected, due mainly to the fact that, although there were many naturally forceful batsmen in the side, the fairly frequent loose balls were not dealt with sufficient contempt or vigour, and so many valuable scoring opportunities were lost. The tail of the batting order did not wag as often as it should have until the end of the season. The reliability of Steadman and attractive stroke-making of Muggleton were invaluable to the side, but they were not given enough support when it was most needed, although Vernon, Meecham, Campbell, Grove and Atkinson provided a few very useful innings.

The bowling often lacked penetration, especially at critical stages. In the match against Scotch, when victory appeared likely, the bowling, while reasonably accurate, was not as dangerous as it had been in the first innings and so we lost by a fairly large margin. Throughout the season Steadman bowled with plenty of fire and Meecham could usually be relied upon to bowl accurately for long spells. Spinners Stephenson and Muggleton were also effective in short spells.

The team showed itself to be capable of doing well in the field, but disappointing lapses were suffered at times. In the match against Incogniti, although the visiting batsmen scored freely, the fielding was excellent throughout the innings. Against Guildford, under the same conditions, the team showed much less anticipation in the field, and several misfields occurred and chances were dropped too often. During the season Campbell and Meecham fielded well in slips, Bevan and Steadman were always reliable in the outfield, while Atkinson at point and Vernon at silly mid-off were brilliant at times.

It appears that the 1st XI next year will do very much better and those of us who are leaving wish them the very best of luck.

In conclusion we wish to congratulate Aquinas on winning the Darlot Cup; Campbell and Grove on being awarded their Cricket Colours; and to thank Mr. Blackwood for his invaluable coaching and assistance throughout the season.

CHRIST CHURCH v. WESLEY

Christ Church were at home to Wesley; winning the toss they elected to bat on a firm wicket. But early wickets tumbled to an accurate Wesley attack, and with only an hour's play gone, Christ Church were on the verge of collapse with seven wickets down for only 49 runs. But it was a sparkling seventh wicket partnership between Meecham and Grove, realising 76 runs, that virtually saved the day. Meecham making 58, including seven fours and two sixes, one of which went over the highway. The tail wagged well, and Christ Church scored a creditable 135.

Wesley went in to bat after tea and had lost five wickets for 73 at stumps, of which Calder scored 28 and Lewington 25. Saturday morning saw Wesley bundled out for another 29 runs, totalling 102. The wicket takers were Meecham and Stephenson who took 4 for 11 and 3 for 15 respectively.

Christ Church in their second innings again started disastrously with Steadman vainly trying to hold the game together. But again a timely seventh wicket partnership saved the team. This partnership of 79 runs was shared by Campbell and Atkinson who made 53 and 34 respectively. The tail finished strongly to push the score to 152, setting Wesley the difficult task of scoring 186 in 150 minutes to win.

At tea Wesley were one for 36, but after the game became tense as the final score of nine for 112 would indicate. Thus, the result was a win on the first innings for Christ Church.

C.C.G.S.—1st Innings, 135. Meecham, 59; Steadman, 19; Grove, 17. Calder, 2/11; Lewington, 2/18.

2nd Innings, 152. Campbell, 53; Atkinson, 34; Stephenson, 11. Lewington, 3/18; Harden, 2/14; Johnston, 2/26.

WESLEY.—1st Innings, 102. Lewington, 25; Calder, 28; Harden, 14. Meecham, 4/11; Stephenson, 3/17; Steadman, 3/18.

2nd Innings, 9/112. Schultz, 25; Lewington, 22; Calder, 14. Steadman, 3/16; Stephenson, 2/11.

CHRIST CHURCH v. SCOTCH

This match was the first of the P.S.A. series and was played at Scotch on a "lifeless" wicket. Christ Church batted first and at 1 for 37 things looked well for us. However, the wickets then began to fall steadily until we were 4 for 46 when fast scoring by Muggleton (29) and Vernon (23) brought the score up to 102. The wickets again fell steadily and we were finally dismissed for 112.

Scotch then batted and under the excellent bowling of Steadman who showed his best form for the season by taking five of the early batsmen for only 14 runs which enabled us to dismiss Scotch for 85.

This left us an advantage of nearly forty runs and we began the innings with high hopes. This time it was our turn to collapse, and once the first wicket had fallen for 21 runs, the others fell in quick succession, and our second innings score was 65. This was due to the excellent bowling by Wilberforce who, assisted by brilliant fielding, took seven wickets for 14 runs.

Scotch had 103 runs to make to win, and they showed us they were quite capable of doing so by making the runs with a loss of only two wickets.

Thus our first P.S.A. match ended with Scotch winning outright.

SCOTCH.—1st Innings, 85. Brayshaw, 38; Halcombe, 13; Brien, 12. Steadman, 5/14; Meecham, 2/17; Campbell, 1/11.

2nd Innings, 105. Brayshaw, 50 n.o.; Halcombe, 47 n.o. Maddams, 1/4.

C.C.G.S.—1st Innings, 112. Muggleton, 29; Vernon, 23; Steadman, 17. Wilberforce, 3/19; Halcombe, 4/29.

2nd Innings, 65. Steadman, 17; Muggleton, 13; Henderson, 19. Wilberforce, 7/14; Thompson, 1/18.

CHRIST CHURCH v. HALE

Unfortunately this year Hale School's team proved too strong for that of Christ Church and so our team was unable to equal last year's performance, when Hale was beaten outright.

Our Captain, N. C. N. Stephenson, won the toss and elected to bat on a good, hard wicket. Our team lasted for only a little over 2½ hours before being dismissed for 98 runs, of which 25 were hit by Stephenson and 22 by Muggleton.

Hale was sent in to bat at about 4.45 and lost two wickets before stumps were declared at 6.00. On Saturday things looked well for Christ Church when Hale was 8 for 66, but a good ninth wicket partnership brought Hale up to 100, which was their final first innings score.

In our second innings good bowling by Johnson and McBride dismissed us for 94, with Muggleton and Grove each making 24.

Hale then batted again and very soon hit up a score of 93 to win the match outright with the loss of only two wickets. Throughout the second innings, Christ Church's fielding was good, although one or two catches were dropped.

C.C.G.S.—1st Innings, 98. Stephenson, 25; Muggleton, 22; Steadman, 18. Johnson, 5/18; McBride, 3/26.

2nd Innings, 94. Muggleton, 24; Grove, 24; Atkinson, 10 n.o. Johnson, 4/29; McBride, 3/28.

HALE.—1st Innings, 100. Bennett, 20; Phillips, 18 n.o.; McBride, 16. Meecham, 4/17; Campbell, 2/12.

2nd Innings, 93. Bennett, 36; Griffin, 39 n.o. Campbell, 1/8.

CHRIST CHURCH v. AQUINAS

This match was played at Aquinas, whose team defeated us outright.

Aquinas won the toss and sent us in to bat on a very sticky wicket. The Aquinas bowlers completely overwhelmed our batsmen and scoring was slow. A slow partnership by Steadman and Muggleton constituted 25 of the 40 runs hit by Christ Church.

In their first innings, Aquinas' first four batsmen batted confidently to score 111 before being dismissed by Muggleton and Steadman. The rest of the team proved easy prey to our bowlers, but their first innings score of 142 placed them in an almost unbeatable position.

On Saturday the wicket had dried and became much faster. Christ Church made an excellent stand to score 112 runs in 3 hours, mainly due to a brilliant partnership by Steadman and Muggleton of 59 runs. However, this left Aquinas only 12 runs to make to win. This match ended with Aquinas outright winners by 10 wickets.

C.C.G.S.—1st Innings, 40. Muggleton, 14; Steadman, 11. McCormack, 6/7; Hayes, 3/14.

2nd Innings, 112. Steadman, 45; Muggleton, 21; Campbell, 15 n.o. McCormack, 7/32; Hayes, 2/36.

AQUINAS.—1st Innings, 142. Stone, 36; McCormack, 33; Prindiville, 22. Steadman, 6/39.

2nd Innings, 14. Smith, 6 n.o.; Prindiville, 8 n.o.

KALGOORLIE TRIP

On the afternoon of Thursday, 3rd April, a cricket eleven, composed of players from the 1st and 2nd XI's, left Perth by the Westland Express for Kalgoorlie. After spending the night on the train we arrived early the following morning, and were met at the station by the four families with whom we would stay for the Easter weekend.

On Friday morning we attended church and then practised at the nets at Kalgoorlie Oval. This was followed by a quick refreshing swim in the Olympic Pool. In the afternoon we were shown over one of the gold mines and its extraction plant; a very interesting visit, particularly for chemistry students.

Early on Saturday morning we set out for the Boulder Oval, where we played our first match against the Eastern Goldfields team that had so convincingly won the Junior Country Week competition. We lost the services of Ian Campbell who captained the Goldfields side. We won the toss and batted on an uneven wicket. In the opening overs the bowling was accurate but lacked penetration. However, runs only came slowly and after three-quarters of an hour's play the two openers were back in the pavilion with only 24 runs on the board. Muggleton and Vernon then came together at the wicket and, scoring freely, they gave the few spectators some very bright cricket. These two top scored for the innings and Muggleton was stumped for 94, playing a shot that had been his downfall before and continued to be so in the future. We were dismissed just before lunch for 163.

The Goldfields innings began rather sensationally when McManus bowled Campbell with a ball that the batsman obviously considered should be hit over the fence. For a time wickets fell slowly and a very bad fielding lapse deprived us of any chance of an easy victory. The Kalgoorlie boys proved to be competent batsmen and gave us a lesson on dealing with loose balls. However, after tea an almost miraculous change came over the fielding side, accounted for by the fact that the two girls on the midwicket boundary had left in disgust. The fieldsmen settled down to their task with renewed enthusiasm, and the bowlers, sensing the change, brought about the fall of four quick wickets, thereby dismissing the Goldfields for 169, just 6 runs ahead of our total. McManus took the bowling honours with five wickets, an outstanding effort from a very tired bowler.

The second match against the Eastern Goldfields Junior team was played on Easter Monday at Kalgoorlie Oval. We again won the toss and batted on a wicket that was in excellent condition in spite of the fact that the W.A.C.A. team had played on it for the last two days. Steadman and Stephenson gave the innings a good start with an opening partnership of 48, but after they were dismissed in successive overs two more quick wickets fell, the scoreboard reading 4 for 64 at that stage. However, Vernon was again in good form and, with the help of Grove, Henderson and Tytherleigh, put the team on its feet again with forceful and intelligent batting. We were dismissed just before lunch for 186.

We took the field with the knowledge that a wicket in the twenty minutes play before lunch would put us on top. The fielding was keen in the pre-lunch session and in the third over McManus bowled one of the openers with a ball that the batsman thought would pass outside his off stump. The score when play was resumed after lunch was 1 for 21. The next wicket fell two hours later after a partnership of 110 between Campbell and the Goldfields 'keeper. The fielding of Christ Church during this excellent partnership was of such a high standard that it has been wished the 1st XI could have done as well during some crucial moments in their Darlot Cup matches when fielding let them down. McManus broke the partnership when he had Campbell brilliantly caught at short cover by Vernon, who will be the first to admit that a very strong instinct of self-preservation helped him take the catch. Thereafter wickets fell steadily to Steadman and Muggleton. With six wickets down Tytherleigh took the ball to begin one of the most devastating and accurate spells that we have seen for some time. Assisted by fieldsmen that were sticking to their task with boundless spirit, he took the remaining four wickets in only three overs. The Goldfields were dismissed for 188, again being victors, this time by only 2 runs.

In conclusion, we should like to thank all those that made our trip possible, especially Mr. and Mrs. Campbell who did so much to organise our journey and make our stay so enjoyable.

SECOND XI CRICKET

Captain: Y. C. Watt
Vice-Captain: A. Elsey

This year the school 2nd XI proved themselves a very able team, and had an extremely successful season. Of the total of six matches played the team lost two, one on the first innings, the other outright; and won four, three on the first innings and one outright. A survey of all the matches showed Y. C. Watt to be top of the batting average and Walsh of the bowling.

A good start to a winning run was the beating of the Old Boys on the first innings, Walsh top-scoring with 52 and Maddams taking 5/31. Another first innings victory was gained against Scotch, the margin being 69; Priest getting 37 and Y. C. Watt 23, and Tytherleigh capturing 4/26. An even more convincing first innings win was gained against Hale, who only managed 7/61 to Christ Church's 5/65 declared; Elsey scoring 26 and Tytherleigh 6/15 off 6 overs.

A very interesting match with Aquinas resulted in an outright defeat. Christ Church led on the first innings, 167 to 57, but then collapsed badly for 50, Aquinas replying with 7/110. Y. C. Watt scored 46 and Maddams took 4/35. To atone for the previous week the team defeated Wesley by an innings and 56 runs; Cooper 57, Maddams 32, and Watt 25; McManus took 5/14 in the first innings and 4/9 in the second. The last match, against Guildford, was particularly high scoring. The visitors scored 224 to our 176. The most outstanding performance was the fine 65 not out by Y. C. Watt and 3/47 by Walsh.

THIRD XI CRICKET

Captain: M. Booth

For a team which was continually changing, it gave a good showing in winning one and losing three, all on the first innings. At Scotch the school was unlucky to lose as their chances of winning were thwarted by one member of the visiting team who made over half their score, but our members stood out; Hibble and Moss each totalling 14 and Pittendrigh 18. Hibble completed a good double by taking 7/15. But the team showed a reversal of form when at home to Hale. They won by four runs on the first innings; Horton 38, Stevens 33 not out, and Mathews took 5/27. In the next match Aquinas won by 73 runs on the first innings; North getting 19 and Stevens took 5/52. Then Guildford repeated the performance by also winning on the first innings by 59 runs; Muir 13 and James 12. The best batting average over the four matches went to C. Stevens. A. Hibble headed the bowling averages.

UNDER 15 CRICKET

This age group had a comparatively good season. The "A" team won half its matches whilst the "B" team won all their games, some most convincingly. I am, however, a little concerned about the attitude of some of the boys in this age group to this great game for at the conclusion of the first term we saw some definite talent among some who had never made any determined effort to get into the representative teams. Boys must remember that they can never know their ability until they really try to test it.

Beresford, who captained the "A" team, made up for his lack of size by playing keenly and well throughout the season. He is to be congratulated on his captaincy and the way he personally kept the standard high. Others who showed ability and potential in batting were Criddle, Leach and Broadhurst; the last being most orthodox. Waring and Whittaker too got runs; both are hard hitting batsmen whose unorthodoxy sometimes showed a spark of genius. Among the bowlers, Walsh and Bingham, both fastish, gave promise of better things to come, but they must take a shorter run to maintain greater accuracy. Sears and Leach, the slow merchants, were rather erratic. Leach shows potential but he must realise spin without a good length is worthless endeavour and terribly expensive. Criddle's wicket-keeping was always a joy to watch; calm and efficient. I believe many of these boys will make worthy members of the School Eleven in a few years' time.

The Under 15 "B" team, captained by Cann, had a wonderful season. Cann did very well with the bat and set a good example of keenness and efficiency. Bocquet and Todd played a couple of good innings and Fleming would, with more concentration, do well. In the bowling, Beetles and Rocchi appeared the most consistent and effective.

THE UNDER 14 XI CRICKET

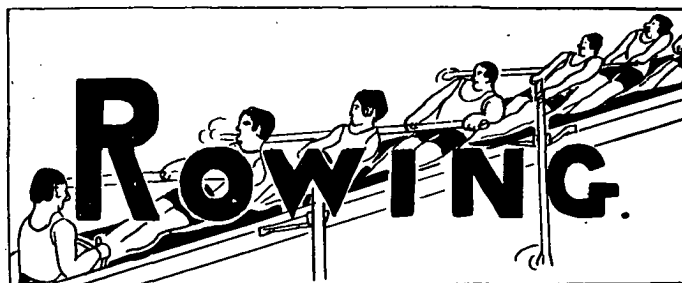

At Scotch the team drew as in reply to Scotch's 3/120 they managed to hold out at 9/75; Wark and Rossiter each getting 19 not out. Against Hale another draw was forced; Hale declared at 5/125, and Christ Church managed 4/58. Clements got 20 not out and Meagher and Annear obtained two wickets apiece. The strong Aquinas team bundled Christ Church out for 37 and scored 63 runs themselves. Annear got 10 to topscore, and McKenzie took 7/22. At Guildford the school scored a close first innings win over Guildford with 71 to 63. Topscorers were Martin 34, and Collins 16 not out, and Meagher took 3/15. A very easy win was gained against St. Louis by 93 runs on the 1st innings. Meagher 37 not out, Ward 28 and Carroll 20, took batting honours, and Rossiter and Collins took three wickets each. The best batting average of the season went to Rossiter, and bowling laurels went to McKenzie.

THE UNDER 13 XI CRICKET

Captain: S. Price
Vice-Captain: I. Hodge

Perhaps the most successful team in the school was the U/13, drawing one and winning four of the five matches played. In the first match against Scotch, Christ Church scored 7/84 and Scotch 5/108. Williams topscored with 24, Price 19 and Hodge took 2/16. At Hale the home team scored 4/98 and Christ Church replied with a solid 7/104 in which Williams got 38, Town 25 and Rossiter took 2/11. Home to Aquinas, the U/13 declared at 3/77 and bundled Aquinas out for 26 and 5/18 in their second innings. Price was 31 not out, Town and Williams got 13 apiece. Bowling honours went to Lewis who took 6/7, and Bell 4/9. In a match against the Prep. School, U/13's made 65, and the Prep. School were 9/60 in reply. Hughes 17, Ashurst 15 and Slee and Rossiter three wickets each were outstanding. The last match against Guildford was an overwhelming win on the first innings, 81 to 35. Meecham 30, Slee 17, Hodge 14, and Bell 5/7, Lewis 3/4. Top of the batting average was Price, and bowling was Rossi-ter.

Captain of Boats: C. A. Edwards

The season got under way well this year as we had our own boatshed to operate from, thanks largely to the Old Boys' and Parents' Associations. This greatly helped the organization of training and made it much easier for beginners to get initial practice.

Early in the year we received a new eight and two new fours. The first eight was thus able to race in a new boat once again.

Mr. Fraser and Mr. Thody coached the 1st and 2nd eights again. Mr. Mackenzie took over the fours. He was assisted by Mr. Allen, Mr. Rucks, who also gave practice to beginners.

With six of last year's eight back training in the first crew, it started off well. For a few weeks the crew was varied as several boys were tried for 3 and 4 seats.

Hough and Samson were finally chosen and the training routine settled down. The crew was fortunate in having only a few cases of sickness, although we were worried about Smallwood just before the "Head of the River."

Even after the first crew was chosen the second eight took quite a time to be finalised and it was not until the Hale Regatta that the crew began to settle down. The fours naturally had to wait for the second eight to be chosen.

The Wesley and Hale Regattas gave all crews valuable racing experience and the eights also had the benefit of rows against the King's Cup crew. Their races and many hours of patient work by the coaches resulted in a very successful "Head of the River" Regatta.

Congratulations to Samson, Cunningham and Hough on being awarded their rowing colours.

WESLEY REGATTA

The Wesley Regatta, held at the Wesley Boatshed on Wednesday the 9th of March, was held in perfect conditions, with central city background to the course.

The third fours were unlucky in the start that there was a misunderstanding in starting arrangements. Sixth in position at the start they edged their way past Aquinas and Wesley to be placed fourth in a fast and close finish with Scotch and Hale. The final position for this race, raced over one-third of a mile, were: 1st, Guildford; 2nd, Scotch; 3rd, Hale; 4th, Christ Church; followed by Aquinas and Wesley.

Christ Church was a great deal more impressive in the Invitation First Eight, raced over three-quarters of a mile. With a good start they took a long time to "settle down," allowing Scotch and Guildford to get ahead. However, after a quarter of a mile they rapidly passed Guildford and kept within 2½ lengths of Scotch. Scotch did not gain any more, and Guildford was soon a length behind. As they came within a hundred yards of the finishing line they began a sprint and were catching Scotch stroke by stroke in a very impressive finish. Scotch were first; Christ Church second; Guildford third; followed by Hale, Aquinas and Wesley.

In the final event, Invitation Reserve Fours, the School was again unlucky. Interference caused loss of ground but the team were well up, and quite satisfied to finish fourth.

HALE SCHOOL REGATTA

The two Inter-School Invitation races held for the "second eights" and "second fours" were a success, both as an event and for the School. It was the first true indication of the form of the competing schools, and Christ Church were well placed in both events.

The rowing conditions on Saturday the 29th of March were almost perfect, with a slight cross-wind blowing across Crawley Bay.

The starter's pistol fired—they were away. Christ Church had a poor start but the "eight," stroked by Richard Sudlow, quickly reversed the position and came up strongly to be second to Guildford who were rowing well. Christ Church retained her position, defeated an attack from the Aquinas crew, and were again drawing away from the field, second to Guildford at the line.

Christ Church was placed second to Guildford, with Aquinas third, the winning margin being three-quarters of a length.

In the "second fours" invitation race, Christ Church were away well with the rest of the field and again the crew were rowing second to Guildford, who were rowing well clear of the field.

As they drew near to the finishing line both Hale and Scotch offered challenges, but the crew had sufficient lead and were placed second to Guildford by one and a half lengths, followed closely by Hale.

"HEAD OF THE RIVER"

First VIII

Crew: D. Evans (Stroke), R. Paterson, D. Smallwood, S. Airey, G. Samson, T. Hough, A. Edwards, P. Brazier, D. Cunningham (Cox).

The crew, lightest in the race and rowing in heavy conditions, defeated a strong and heavy Scotch crew into second place, followed by Guildford.

From the starter's gun, Christ Church were never seriously endangered by the rest of the field. In the peak of condition, and excellently coached by the former King's Cup Oarsman, Mr. Don Fraser, the crew gained half a length in the start, closely followed by Aquinas, Guildford, Hale, Scotch and Wesley a little further back.

The first half mile saw Christ Church in front, followed by Scotch, Hale and Guildford fighting for second. Scotch at last settled down three-quarters of a length behind Christ Church, and it was then apparent it would be a fight between these two for the title.

Quarter of a mile to go, Scotch offered a challenge and drew equal, only to see Christ Church surge ahead again leaving Scotch, Guildford and Hale in those positions, followed by Aquinas and Wesley.

With about 200 yards to go Christ Church were clear in front with Scotch half a length behind, followed by Guildford. It was now apparent that Christ Church would win.

In an exciting finish, Christ Church crossed the line first followed by Scotch a canvas behind, and Guildford one and a half lengths further back.

Second VIII

Crew: R. Sudlow (Stroke), N. Sudlow, M. Gordon, J. Miall, R. Parsons, B. Cook, I. Ritchie, J. Schupp, E. Ferguson (Cox).

Coach: Mr. Thody.

The second eights were equally successful in again being first across the line.

The race, rowed over three-quarters of a mile, saw Christ Church with a poor start, with all other crews clear. However, the position was smartly reversed and Christ Church were in front with half a mile to go. Christ Church, Scotch and Guildford were very close, followed by Aquinas, Hale and Wesley. Scotch edged slightly in front, but Christ Church came back again, and together Christ Church and Scotch battled the last 200 yards. With 30 yards to go the two crews were still level but Christ Church put in a tremendous effort to go over the line first, followed by Scotch and Guildford, not more than half a length separating the first three in a very close and exciting finish.

First IV

Crew: P. Browne-Cooper (Stroke), B. R. Muntz, A. Campbell, B. Jones, Sherwood (Cox).

Coach: T. McKenzie.

The first four had a good start with the rest of the field. Guildford, Scotch and Christ Church taking up the lead. At first Guildford and Christ Church battled for second, with Scotch holding out in front.

The stronger Guildford crew, at quarter of a mile to go, edged past Scotch to win in a close finish, with Scotch second followed by Christ Church in third place.

2nd IV

Crew: R. Williams (Stroke), D. Oakley, M. Lloyd, A. Lefroy, A. Eggleston (Cox).

Coach: T. McKenzie.

The second four were lucky in getting a good start and were slightly in front in their number one position. Guildford, again a strong crew, soon took the lead and were never seriously troubled, with Aquinas and Christ Church rowing hard in a battle for second. Guildford won, to be followed by Aquinas and Christ Church.

Christ Church, in a most successful day, won two of the four events, and came third in each of the remaining races.

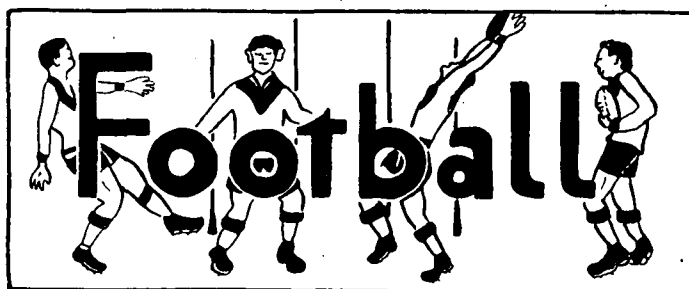

INTER-HOUSE ROWING

After a lapse of over 30 years, Inter-House rowing was again held.

In rough conditions, the fours and pairs competed on a course coming shoreward to the boatshed, the fours racing over about half a mile and the pair a quarter, the wind and waves giving assistance.

Due to lack of boats, the races were run in heats, Queenslea and Romsey competing in the first heats, the winners to compete against Craigie. Both races saw a triumph for the strong Queenslea crews, the fours finishing well ahead of Romsey and the pairs doing equally well. The final heat again saw triumph for Queenslea, the winning margin being about quarter of a canvas in a fast and close finish. However, the Queenslea pairs were defeated.

Queenslea won the day, with Romsey second and Craigie third.

Captain: G. Bevan

Vice-Captain: R. J. Patterson

This year the 1st XVIII was not successful in the P.S.A. competition, losing each of its five matches.

At the beginning of the season the School side beat the Old Boys, lost by one point to Northam High and also lost to St. Louis, Hale and Wesley. Our congratulations go to Guildford on their well deserved Alcock Cup win.

In the last match of the season against Northam High, the School team went on to the field determined to win. The team played well to beat Northam comfortably.

As a team the 1st XVIII met its downfall in the forward line, which could not function smoothly and lacked real penetrating power. However, there were individuals who played strongly. The centre line was perhaps the most consistent and could be relied upon to play well in most matches. The half-backs played strongly throughout the season and always played "go through" football. The full-backs battled ceaselessly and could always be relied upon when needed. The rucks and rovers sometimes played well, but did not always combine together.

Best players throughout the season were Bevan, Muir, Rocchi, Edwards, Steadman, Schupp, Meecham. Congratulations to Muir, Rocchi, Edwards, Steadman and Schupp who were awarded Football Colours.

The team wishes to thank its coach, Mr. Blackwood, who spent much time and considerable effort in his coaching of the 1st XVIII.

CHRIST CHURCH v. HALE

The first P.S.A. match of the season was played against Hale School at Subiaco Oval. The play was influenced during the first three quarters by a strong wind blowing directly down the field; however the wind had died down by the beginning of the fourth quarter.

Christ Church was kicking with the wind in the first quarter, and consequently gained an eleven point lead over Hale. We did not score in the second, but in the third quarter, having the wind with us, we scored four goals five points and found ourselves in the lead once again.

Play during the fourth quarter was very fast and the scores were very close—both teams were playing real football. With thirty seconds to go it looked as if Christ Church might score a final goal and so win the match. But it was not to be, for the Christ Church players only scored a point, thus giving Hale the match.

1st Quarter: Christ Church, 3 goals, 2 points
Hale 1 goal, 3 points
2nd Quarter: Christ Church, 3 goals, 2 points
Hale 4 goals, 5 points
3rd Quarter: Christ Church, 7 goals, 7 points
Hale 5 goals, 8 points
Final Scores: Christ Church, 7 goals, 9 points
Hale 7 goals, 12 points

Goalscorers: Annear, Grove, Maddams.

Best Players: Muir, Edwards, Stevens, Maddams, Meecham, Bevan.

CHRIST CHURCH v. SCOTCH

The second P.S.A. match was played at home under wet and squally conditions. Scotch took the initiative in the first quarter and scored one goal four points to Christ Church's one point.

Scotch increased their lead in the second quarter and played particularly well in the third quarter, at the end of which the scoreboard read, in Scotch's favour, nine goals fourteen points to our six points.

The fourth quarter was notable for Christ Church in that during it Walsh scored our first, and last, goal of the match. While on the other hand Scotch shot ahead to score a total of 14 goals 16 points, thus soundly defeating us by 80 points.

1st Quarter: Christ Church, 0 goals, 1 point
Scotch 1 goal, 4 points
2nd Quarter: Christ Church, 0 goals, 5 points
Scotch 4 goals, 6 points
3rd Quarter: Christ Church, 0 goals, 6 points
Scotch 9 goals, 14 points
Final Scores: Christ Church, 1 goal, 6 points
Scotch 14 goals, 16 points

Goalscorer: Walsh.

Best Players: Bevan, Rocchi, Muir, Cann, Culley, Schupp.

CHRIST CHURCH v. WESLEY

The third Alcock Cup match was played under perfect conditions at Wesley College. Wesley was first to score, but Annear soon evened things up with a good goal for Christ Church. On the whole, play was very even during the first quarter, at the end of which the scores were two goals four points for Wesley to our one goal two points.

During the second quarter, however, Wesley jumped to the fore, scoring seven goals four points to Christ Church's four goals two points. In the third and fourth quarters Wesley increased their lead to comfortably win the match.

1st Quarter: Christ Church, 1 goal, 2 points
Wesley 2 goals, 4 points
2nd Quarter: Christ Church, 4 goals, 2 points
Wesley 7 goals, 7 points
3rd Quarter: Christ Church, 4 goals, 6 points
Wesley 8 goals, 15 points
Final Scores: Christ Church, 6 goals, 11 points
Wesley 11 goals, 17 points

Goalscorers: Annear, Wilkins, Culley, Bevan.

Best Players: Bevan, Rocchi, Muir, Steadman, Edwards.

CHRIST CHURCH v. AQUINAS

Almost from the first bounce Aquinas took the lead—and kept it. Play during the first quarter was quite fast and the Aquinas side showed some good teamwork. However, Christ Church was not without its stars; Bevan and Meecham performed particularly well for us.

Conditions during the second quarter were typical of those prevailing during the whole match—there was a little wind and just enough rain to make things "wet." The Aquinas eighteen monopolised all the play in this quarter and scored eleven goals seven points while Christ Church's score remained at one goal.

During the third and fourth quarters Aquinas increased their lead to win the match.

1st Quarter: Christ Church, 1 goal
Aquinas 5 goals, 2 points
2nd Quarter: Christ Church, 1 goal
Aquinas 11 goals, 7 points
3rd Quarter: Christ Church, 2 goals, 2 points
Aquinas 15 goals, 11 points
Final Scores: Christ Church, 3 goals, 2 points
Aquinas 22 goals, 19 points

Goalscorers: Hough, Stevens.

Best Players: Bevan, Meecham, Schupp, Walsh, Edwards, Rocchi.

CHRIST CHURCH v. GUILDFORD

We played Guildford under exceedingly unfavourable conditions at Guildford. It had been raining unceasingly for the week preceding the match and this meant that Guildford's ovals were in an extremely poor condition. This, coupled with the fact that there was a strong cross wind and that the play was periodically interrupted by short, heavy showers, meant, for Christ Church at least, the game had to be played under abnormal conditions. However, the poor conditions were no hindrance to the Guildford eighteen who got away to a good start, scoring twice within the first half minute. Christ Church did not score in the first quarter.

Guildford increased their lead during the second quarter and although the ball reached our forward line and it seemed that we must score, it was not to be and the quarter ended with Guildford six goals five behinds to our no score.

During the third and fourth quarters play was very "scrambly" and the Christ Church men did their best to defend themselves against the all-powerful Guildford side. Several times the ball reached our forward line, but we did not score. On the other hand Guildford went steadily ahead, scoring goal after goal, until at the end of the match their score stood at fourteen goals nine behinds to our no score. Indeed a phenomenal win for Guildford, particularly under the prevailing conditions.

1st Quarter:	Christ Church	_____
	Guildford	1 goal, 3 points
2nd Quarter:	Christ Church	_____
	Guildford	6 goals, 5 points
3rd Quarter:	Christ Church	_____
	Guildford	9 goals, 6 points
Final Scores:	Christ Church	_____
	Guildford	14 goals, 9 points
Best Players:	Muir, Schupp, Bevan, Cooper, Wilkins, Edwards, Steadman.

FIRST XVIII v. ST. HILDA'S

A determined footballers XI met St. Hilda's on 19th August. However, the girls were equally determined not to be beaten and so our goals were disallowed due to an infringement of the (rapidly invented, no doubt) "backside" rule. Our only complaint, though, is that the ball was well under regulation size and consequently we found it hard to hit whilst the opposition had had practice. Their stick work was excellent and Eddy tripped mysteriously. We doubt if there is any connection.

Dag's practice of giving a rebel yell and hitting the ball straight at an opposition member proved to be good tactics and put us into attack frequently. On these occasions a pair of pads in goals was heard to sigh, but we are not sure whether from relief or despair of getting a hit. Gus and Terry played strongly but were hampered by lack of support from their rucks and rovers. The backs were exceptionally strong and kept the play consistently at both ends of the field. The team generally showed great concentration except for Mac who preferred Nature-Study; fortunately, not anatomy.

Goalscorers: Muggle, Stretch.

Best Players: Dag, Stretch, Eddy, Gus, Tim, Mich, Mowcher, Muggle, Stew, Terry.

THE SECOND XVIII

Alternate Captain: D. Smallwood, N. Sudlow

This year we were lucky enough to be able to obtain approximately 50 per cent. of our players from the 1st XVIII training list, which gave us a better team than in previous years. Although for the first two matches against Perth Modern School and Hale School we had an unbalanced team, it finally sorted itself out to allow us to go on to win three of the last seven matches.

We were very unfortunate to be narrowly beaten by three points in our first P.S.A. match against Hale School at Subiaco Oval. Wesley did not give us any opposition on either occasion, and we decisively beat them in both matches we played. In the match against Scotch we were defeated by eight goals. Two weeks later we were defeated again, this time by Aquinas in a well fought match. We were also defeated by Guildford. The final match of the season against Northam High School resulted in a victory for us.

We must congratulate all those in the team, especially those who were mentioned as best players during the season.

In conclusion we would like to thank Mr. Blackwood and Mr. Rucks for their valuable coaching and assistance during the past season.

THE UNDER 15 "B" XVIII

Captain: Pryer

It was evident at the beginning of the season that good material was available for the team. Under the determined leadership of its captain, Pryer, it appeared to improve with every match, each man pulling his weight. Victories were recorded against Hale, Scotch and Guildford. Morale was high. It was not surprising, therefore, that in the last match a good win was achieved against Aquinas, making the Under 15 "B" team the most successful this season in the Senior School.

THE UNDER 14 XVIII

Captain: D. Rocchi

The under 14 "A's" were not very successful this season; they only won two matches against other colleges. But all the same, there was a lot of talent in the team, such as Halleen, Parker, D. Rocchi, Meecham, Nicholson, Corteen, all of whom have the makings of first class footballers. Provided that they get the necessary co-operation and teamwork of the other players, we might well expect quite a different record next year.

THE UNDER 13 "A" XVIII

Captain: P. Cran
Vice-Captain: P. Lewis

From individualists developed a team capable of excellent football—but unfortunately not always at the right time. This resulted in the team winning only a few matches.

Points allotted by the coach after each match to boys who played well resulted in a tie between Michael Hughes, David Cran and Peter Lewis. Because Peter won points in more matches he was declared our fairest and best.

In our final match against Guildford we played well for the first half—particularly Gerald Packington in defence and Harvey on the ball—but we could not stop our opponents in the second half, so the match resulted in a win for Guildford.

THE UNDER 13 "B" XVIII

Captain: Eagleton
Vice-Captain: T. Lloyd

We only played two matches during the season. The first resulted in a narrow victory against St. Louis, and the second a loss to Guildford. Teamwork was not very strong, but our spirit was good. Prominent players led by our captain and vice-captain were Digby McKintosh and Peter Hill.

Captain: T. R. Dix
Vice-Captain: R. Sudlow

We began the season well by defeating Christian Brothers' College 6-1. However, this success was not repeated owing mainly to the lack of co-ordination in the whole team, but perhaps more so in the forward line which was once again weak. Our half back line was again our strongest line, thanks mainly to the brilliant consistency of our left half back, Sudlow. We were again very fortunate to have A. Liu in goals as he saved us from many uncomfortable situations. Ian Ritchie was our most consistent forward.

Of the seconds, Walker, Horton and Hibble were the outstanding players, Hibble being promoted to the first eleven late in the season. Many members of this team show promise and will fill their place in the first eleven in future years.

Both teams would like to thank Mr. Hutchison for his keen interest throughout the season, and we hope that next year he will have some assistance in coaching the ever increasing numbers.

— T. R. D.

INTER-HOUSE ATHLETICS

The first day—Friday—of the sports was fine and there was little wind; conditions were perfect. Over one hundred visitors saw six new records set. The day ended with a brilliant record — Open Champion Nick Stephenson's fine 880 yds. His new time of 2 mins. 0.6 secs. broke the old record by 5.0 secs., the old record being just broken by second division runner Alan Edwards by 0.2 secs.

The second day saw another five records go, the most outstanding being Alan Edwards 440 record of 51.3 secs. Throughout the two days 179 boys took part in the sports. Every boy in the School competed in the cross-countries, which saw the setting of two new records, and two inaugural records. The most important thing that arose from the sports was the fact that in Inter-School competition we would have strong second division runners as well.

Romsey must be congratulated on their outstanding win, as this sports could only be won by the best all-round House, not the House with the "stars."

The day was capped by the presentation of trophies by Mrs. Stephenson, mother of Nick Stephenson (Open Champion and Captain of School).

"QUADRANGULAR" MEETING

The Wesley, Christ Church, Guildford, St. Louis quadrangular sports held at Wesley on October 18th, were a great success for Christ Church. We broke two records and narrowly missed several others. Peter Atkinson won a close fought mile in the record time of 4 mins. 37.8 secs, breaking the previous one by 8.4 secs. Nick Stephenson ran the open 880 yards in 2 mins. 0.2 secs., lowering the previous record by 1.3 secs. Other records broken were the Open Hurdles, U/16 High Jump, U/14 100 yards and High Jump, and the U/13 100 yards. The sports ended with a close win by Christ Church from Wesley, Guildford and St. Louis.

Points: Christ Church	258½
Wesley	243½
St. Louis	134½
Guildford	185½

Thus Christ Church retained the Lynn Shield for the second successive year.

P.S.A. INTERS

This year's Inter-School sports was hailed as the greatest ever, resulting in twenty-two records being set or equalled. Ideal conditions for record-breaking continued throughout the day, and every track record was broken, excepting the mile, U/16 880 yards, and the relays.

Despite last minute injuries we came fourth, beaten from third place by half a point. John Maddams was one of Christ Church's stars, winning the second division of the Open Hurdles and taking second place in the High Jump with 5ft. 6ins. The Open Relay team, considerably weakened, drew with the favourites, Aquinas, in near record time. David Steadman was outstanding with a second place in the second division of the Open Broad Jump, third in the 440 yards, and last runner in the winning Relay team.

Other good performances were: Richard Patterson, second—Open Shot Putt; Christie Stevens; second—Open 100 yds.; Ian Henderson, second—Open 440 yards and 880 yards; Terry Hough, second—the second division of the Mile; and David Cooke's brilliant last leg in the U/15 Relay team to take the team from third to second.

We were a long way from the leaders, as we lacked the all-round ability of the teams of Aquinas and Scotch, but our athletic standards are improving.

Movement is the most primitive form of expression of men. This urge developed more precise significance with civilisation, as the totem pole becomes intellectualised, and the ballet is born. In the new formalisation artistic principles are created, rules are made and relationship is developed between rhythm and combination.

These rules underline gymnastics, although this sport is the fusion of acrobatic dancing and the martial sport of the Ancient Greeks. But in gymnastics all emotional effect is minimised because the everyday movements are excluded. In other words, the inner qualities of gymnastics are essentially formal in their meanings. Here beauty depends not on difficulty but on ease and grace of execution.

In gymnastics the human body reaches a degree of discipline, its functions are limitless. The different positions it can adopt are very, very numerous. The body becomes a highly trained instrument which is extremely sensitive and obedient to respond to impulses.

The good gymnast must be graceful in movement, have a sense of rhythm allied to control. He submits his body to his own will.

Gymnastics is qualitative sport, a challenge and inspiration to the performer; a visual delight for the spectator; it is the bridge between sport and art.

— A. K.

Our gymnastic club had quite an outstanding year in 1958. This was our third year in the competitive field of the W.A.A.G.A. Gymnastics started late this year owing to the water sports which carried on well into the first term of the year.

At the start we found many young gymnasts attending; we welcomed them, for we had lost most of the older ones through the Junior and Leaving exams. But the young ones were very enthusiastic and worked hard to make their places in the teams. Mr. Kovacs, as always, kindly gave up his Saturdays and Sundays to improve the boys to perfection.

We thank Mr. Moyes very much for his kind permission that we could organise and run the Under 16 Team Championships for the W.A.A.G.A. in our own gymnasium.

We were indeed very successful. Amongst 12 competing teams, our three teams gained first, third and fourth places. Winners of the W.A.A.G.A. Shield: C. Stevens, D. Smirke, P. Driscoll, C. Rossiter, D. Beale.

Final points were: C.C.G.S., 219.7; G.G.S., 191.5; C.C.G.S., 188.6; C.C.G.S., 187.9.

The other great success for us was that in the unofficial Australian Junior Championship, which was held in Perth prior to the Open Championship, our two competitors took first and second places. B. Cheales of Brisbane was third. First, D. Smirke, 108.60; second, C. Stevens, 107.55. On these grounds, these two boys had their names engraved on the C. C. R. MacLagan Challenge Cup (C. Stevens as Open Champion of the School), and on the A. W. Walker Cup (D. Smirke as the Under 15 Champion).

We all, the gymnasts, wish to express our most sincere thanks to all members of the teaching staff who, with their help, made our work easier and more successful.

SCHOOL BASKETBALL NOTES

This year basketball was introduced as a House Sport. The sport is rapidly becoming popular in all age groups. Attendances were increasing all the time, due to the keenness of boys and the enthusiasm of our hard working coach, Mr. Kovacs. Every lunchtime, day boys could be seen pounding up and down the indoor basketball court (which we are fortunate in having).

There was one Inter-School match this season. This was not a success on our behalf owing to the absence of senior boys who were attending a football match at Northam. This resulted in a few inexperienced boys being recruited to play. Since then there has been three Inter-House matches, played in two divisions: Under 15 and Open. These proved a highly successful form of entertainment, and a good turnout was shown by the spectators who showed their appreciation of good play.

Basketball looks like becoming a very popular sport in this school if it is allowed to grow.

The results of the House matches are as follows:

September 27th

Open: Romsey defeated Craigie, 54 to 45.
Under 15: Craigie defeated Romsey, 32 to 18.

October 8th

Open: Romsey defeated Queenslea, 71 to 22.
Under 15: Queenslea defeated Romsey, 32 to 21.

November 8th

Open: Craigie defeated Queenslea, 38 to 34.
Under 14: Craigie defeated Queenslea, 32 to 28.

SHOOTING NOTES

Captain: R. J. Patterson

This year, with a more experienced team, we managed to gain third place in the Commonwealth Cup shoot, although again we lacked practice on the 500 yard mound, which was perhaps our downfall. The weather conditions for the shoot were excellent and the team shot well on both the 200 and 300 yard mounds, giving us a small lead over the other schools at this point. Then on the 500 yard mound our shooting collapsed, but still we managed to gain third place in the "A" division.

The best shots on this occasion were J. S. Airey and M. Meecham, both of whom shot well on all mounds. D. Smallwood also shot well.

A team was selected to shoot in the Earl Roberts Trophy the following week, with M. Meecham as captain. This team was perhaps a little less experienced than those of the other schools, but they shot well in the extremely gusty conditions and gained sixth place. The best shot on this occasion was D. Smallwood.

NOTE: "Climb Boy—Climb !" is historically correct: It is based on evidence presented to the Special Commission called to investigate chimney-sweeping by "Climbing Boys." The commission was chaired by the great Lord Shaftesbury.

It was a cold December's day in 1848. The wind howled around the chimney-tops and sheets of rain beat down on the ground below.

A long tree-lined carriage-way lead up to a huge Georgian mansion, whose elegant grey stone facade was rather refined or reserved in appearance.

Along this gravelled carriage-way came a small cart laden with long brushes and poles, pulled by two figures bent double to the wind and rain. They stopped in front of a big oak door, and one of them banged on it with an ornate brass knocker cast like a lion's head.

A dull, melancholy, booming sound reverberated through the house, which now actually seemed to be sneering down at the two figures standing before it.

One, was a man in his late forties, unshaven, and wrapped up in a long muffler and bedraggled overcoat. A battered stove-pipe hat was perched on the back of his head giving a false illusion of gentility.

Occasionally beads of moisture ran down his bent and battered nose, his grimy hand wiped them away and then delved in the depths of his overcoat's one sound pocket, and produced a bottle whose contents caused a long satisfied "Ahhh" to escape the man's lips.

The other person was a boy of about ten, he was dressed in a pair of ragged shorts and a filthy battered shirt, black from head to toe, a thin blanket was draped around his shoulders and occasionally a pathetic wheezing cough racked his body.

Eventually a housemaid opened the door and directed the miserable pair around to the back of the house where they were given instructions by an important-looking personage—the butler.

The only response to these orders was a sharp nod from the man to the boy who unloaded the cart of its brushes, ropes, soot-bags and other paraphernalia.

"Right, boy," said the master as they walked towards the cavernous kitchen fireplace, "Climb, Boy—Climb !"

* * *

The chimney ran straight up for seventy feet, the small boy fell automatically into a mechanical routine —

Back against the wall, gradually lift the legs up until the knees are under the chin, then the arms take the strain as the weight of the body is slowly levered up—up the seventy feet measuring fourteen inches by nine—up !

The boy was whimpering softly — "What's wrong with you, boy?" shouted the master up the chimney.

"T's cold, sir," came the faint reply.

"By glory young sir, I'll light a fire and make you warm if you don't hurry up," was the only response to this information.

The boy's breath was coming in short gasps as he climbed faster. At last he arrived at the place where the chimney bended at right angles and ran parallel to the ground for about thirty-five feet.

The wind moaned louder as the little boy squeezed and squeezed, straining his thin body to negotiate the narrow corner.

His shin rasped against the rough brick and mortar, his shin that had been "rubbed with the strongest brine close by a hot fire" to harden it.

With a final squeeze the boy negotiated the corner and began the crawl slowly along the pitch black chimney.

Down below in the kitchen the master-sweep went off in search of a housemaid who had attracted his fancy the last time the pair had swept these chimneys.

In his absence, one of the assistant cooks, seeing the empty fireplace, thought that she would have a nice fire to sit and knit by now that the busy lunchtime was over.

Carefully she laid some kindling, then some resinous fir cones, and then some heavier wood. Screwing some paper into a twist she lit the heap in front of her.

The kindling started to crackle, flames danced their way into the fire cones, which turned into glowing red balls, yellow flames licked the heavier, greener wood, while smoke started drifting, then pouring out, and with the warm air gushed up the chimney.

* * *

The boy reached the end of his thirty-foot crawl, here the chimney again turned abruptly at right angles, before going stright up for another sixty feet to the fresh air.

The boy started to squeeze again, for some reason he began to feel warm, his teeth stopped chattering as he continued to inch his body through the narrow opening, narrower than the last one. He squeezed again. Then—SMOKE! He coughed, spluttered, and then again it came heavy white smoke accompanied by rushing hot air.

* * *

The fire in the kitchen was going nicely, the assistant cook took her chair forward to the fire, removed her shoes and began to toast her toes in front of the roaring fire.

* * *

The boy was stuck—half way through, a jutting piece of mortar caught his right shoulder, the couldn't move, only struggle feebly.

The noxious smoke whirled by, his eyes watered, his lungs heaved, he coughed, again struggled desperately to negotiate the bend, then he screamed for help, sobbed pitiously, then uttered three words: "Mamma! Mamma! Mamma!"

* * *

Down in the kitchen the assistant cook nodded off to sleep. Her slumbers were rudely interrupted by the re-appearance of the master-sweep. He rushed over, knocked her out of her chair, and grabbed a pail of water.

Steam drifted up the chimney, slowly, like a snake lazily uncoiling.

On Christmas Eve that same year the Coroner found that "Stephen Radcliffe, aged ten, was accidentally suffocated in a heated flue." So said the Coroner, and there the matter ended.

ABOUT OUR ARMY

R. Russell

(Awarded 2nd Prize)

Well, perhaps the Railway buses did arrive at school on time. But was that going to stop them leaving late?

At last two companies of conscientious cadets left for Military Camp, Northam; those for the first time with a look of anxiety (to be replaced in two hours with one of utter dismay), those for the last time with a look of resignation and semi-relief (to be replaced just seven days later by a broad grin).

After two hours' travelling the Unit at last arrives for one horrifying, terrible week of Army injustice—Cadet Camp.

The platoons are assigned to their huts, and after hastily dumping kit bags and rifles, 200 eager boys go to get pallasses and straw. Already the first years have changed their facial expressions, and many little boys are thinking of the night before spent at home with "mummy." The third and fourth years, now hardened to Army life, assume an air of melancholy indifference.

A whistle blows and the Unit lines up for Mess. Everyone knows it's Friday, and so everyone expects fish, but not half as small, bony, or fishy, as is the piece we get. The faces of the first years convey a feeling of utter dismay. The meal over, the unit is again lined up to receive blankets and army issue, to be followed by a talk, heard always the first night of Camp:

Army Traditions and Customs.

You should see the jaws of the fourth years drop. The same talk by the same officer the same night of camp every year.

"Well," he says, "some of you have probably heard this before. . . ."

The look he gets from those who have! At last the talk is over and some try to get to the Canteen before it closes, just to escape the rigours of Army life.

The first years move back to their huts and guard closely their meagre ration of straw. Some even write to their mummy's, and by the writing you might think that they are shell shocked. The poor little dears! A double ration of X's decorate the bottom line, and even an occasional tear stains the paper.

The usual scurry of activity takes place before "lights out." Boys hurry frantically to clean webbing, teeth, and even themselves under the lukewarm showers. At last the expected whistle blows. Conscientious hut commanders for the first time turn off their lights. Those who have been at the game a little longer hesitate to watch the last penny land. Finally you settle down, ironing out the bumps in the paliasse. At last you settle down, and then the deathly cold strikes. So you grab your greatcoat and snuggle down. You lie there thinking of the night before spent in comfort and warmth. Can this possibly be me lying here—at Camp?

. . . . then reveille. You're hardly asleep to be woken again. The first night of camp is over.

THE TRANSFORMATION OF PATRICK O'HALLORAN

J. C. Akerman, VL

"Three days?" I gaped.

"Three miserable, underworked, over-rated days!" rapped out the man in the violently chequered tweed suit who was my editor. "Three days in which all that simpleton did was sit on a flagpole at the peak of the Empire State, yet his paper writes the business up as if he really accomplished something. He didn't even sit there for three days, he fell off five minutes and twenty-two seconds before the sixty-second hour was up.

"Oh, well, give the man credit for trying, said I, never one to deny credit where credit was due.

"What on earth's that got to do with the price of eggs?" bellowed the apoplectic bullfrog before me. "Unless we think of some 'gimmick' we'll go broke!" Silence. . . . "I've hit it," he breathed. "I'll have you, O'Halloran, m'boy, put away for a night in the nut house."

"But —"

"No buts, m'boy; we'll really have it done properly — padded cells, straight jackets, the lot. Don't thank me, thank your lucky stars that you were standing in front of me when inspiration hit me. I'd go myself, but for editorial duties."

"I refuse to co-operate," I stated finally.

* * *

. . . . The men in the white coats called for me at six the afternoon following. At twenty past, I was snug as a bug in a strait jacket in a long white ward where a gentleman on my right proclaimed in ringing tones that England expects every man this day to do his duty. His counterpart on my left was not quite certain whether to be or not to be. I fell into a light reverie, until a flurried type on a hobby horse galloped through the ward informing us that the redcoats were coming. I sank back into my luxurious bedboards until I was shaken by a long thin chap who told me he was writing a Rubaiyat and asked me to arise his son for the sun has cast a stone into the bowl of night and put the stars to flight. I sent him on his way, shoved my head wearily under the lumpy pillow and wished the editor was in my hands. I had just applied a final twist of the thumbscrew when a young woman and a large fat man accosted me; the young woman to tell me that she didn't have bread so I would just have to eat cake; the large fat man to inform me apologetically that all he could offer me was blood and tears and toil and sweat. I passed out from sheer exhaustion. . . .

My aide-de-camp interrupted me at my toilet the next morning to inform me that my editor was waiting for me.

"Ney!" I thundered, "the sun of Austerlitz is rising, and Napoleon does not receive before breakfast. . . ."

MY CONTRIBUTION

It is with great regret I find that time is running out,

And, for The Mitre, I must write a poem without a doubt,

But inspiration will not come,
My brain now seems completely numb.

With anguished cries that rend the skies
my pen I tightly clasp.

In spite of all my toil and strain the clues elude my grasp.

With sweat and tears and groans galore
I beat my head upon the floor.

It seems to me there must be better ways to spend one's time

And to poetic heights I feel I'll never really climb;

So I, with ego sadly bent,
Admit this poem's not worth a cent.

— W. A. Southwood.

ON MODERN ART

J. C. Akerman, VL

"The moon rides high in the spangled sky,

Stars wheel in their orbit,
Dusky clouds ride by on high."

But I can see nothing of it.

* * *

"Can you not see it?" the artist screamed,
"The depth and understanding."

All this from my eyes was screened—by my complete misunderstanding.

* * *

I am not simple as it may sound

But really unprogressive;

I haven't the mental powers that abound
In artists retrospective !

"DINGOES"

M. J. Lloyd

The farmer had just seen the dogs make the scrub;

Though too late to get them, he'd picked off a cub.

There were no good roads to that part of the fence,

And he started to count up the damage in pence.

In thirteen short hours they'd killed sixty old sheep,

And two nights of this would make anyone weep.

So he rang up the dogger: "Come quickly,"
he said;

"If you don't hurry up, all my sheep will be dead."

When the dogger arrived in the late afternoon,

The farmer was ready to hunt by the moon.

They took out the traps, and set them in place,

Then loaded the rifles and guns—just in case.

As the moon was arising just over the hill,
They heard a low howl, and it made their blood chill.

The dogger howled back in a similar tone.
He turned and remarked: "I don't think he's alone."

The dogs soon came out from the trees and the bush.

The dogger then saw them and said with a hush:

"You take the left one and I'll take the right.

But don't try to shoot till he fills up your sight."

The dogger left town with ten pounds in his purse.

It could have been better; it could have been worse.

The farmer's now happy, he's lost no more stock,

And he feels pretty sure that he'll have a large flock.

SAILING

M. G. Cann

The excitement mounts as the four colourful, matchbox-like "Pelicans" near the finishing line. A very slight breeze blows gently from the South-East and the windward boat passes the others and is the winner of the fifth heat of the "Pelican" Championships.

The "Pelican" is a cat-rigged boat with a mainstail and spinnaker sailed by two boys. This class was introduced into the Royal Perth Yacht Club as a training boat for boys, from eight to fifteen years of age. In these boats the smaller boys are able to learn the rudiments of sailing and the rules of yacht racing.

When the boys reach the age of fifteen they usually join up as a crew member of a Cadet Dinghy, which is an open clinker built boat. These boats sail longer courses than the "Pelicans" and in rougher water, having the additional help of a foresail or jib and an extra crew member called a forward hand. This class is recognised throughout Australia and the three fastest boats from each State compete annually, at one of the capital cities, for the Lord Stonehaven Cup. This coming season the championships will be held on the Swan River.

At the age of nineteen the boys, being too old to sail in the cadet dinghies, become crew members of a "Flying Dutchman," recognised throughout the world, a "Gwen 12," recognised throughout Australia, or a cruiser. Cruisers are the largest boat, ranging from twenty to fifty feet in length and having a sail area of three hundred to two thousand square feet. These boats sail the longest course of all the classes and annually there are two races to Bunbury and Cape Naturaliste and return.

Supplementary to the five classes previously mentioned, there are many other classes of different shapes and sizes, and corresponding clubs.

The fast yachts race annually for the "Cock of the Swan," the fastest yacht on the river.

Most yachts on the river are built for the purpose of having fun and even if one does capsize on a rough day, there is always the thought of prize night and the dance that follows to look forward to.

W. A's TIMBER INDUSTRY

P. G. Edwards, SJL

One of Western Australia's greatest assets is its huge forests of commercial timber. The timber industry is centred around Pemberton, where giant karri trees, and, to a lesser extent, jarrah trees, are grown.

The Forestry Department indicates which trees are to be felled, and in which direction they are to fall, so as not to damage unnecessarily other trees. Then the men, known as "fallers," cut a wide notch, or "scarf," in the side of the tree facing the direction in which the giant is to fall. The fallers then proceed to use a crosscut saw on the other side. Within a few moments, creaks and groans are heard and the proud monarch of the forest topples, then crashes to the earth.

Once on the ground, the trunk, which now seems more massive than ever, is cut up, by a motor-driven saw, into lengths that can be handled by the tractors. These huge monsters haul the logs to a railhead, where they are rolled on to railway trucks. A powerful locomotive in turn hauls them to the sawmill.

At the mill, the logs are rolled off the railway trucks down a ramp ready for their first cutting. Generally, two circular saws, operating one above the other, slice them, but for the bigger logs—those of about seven feet in diameter—a reciprocating saw has to be used. The circular saw method is much quicker.

After this start, the logs are progressively reduced in size, and they are eventually recognizable as planks or other shapes. During this time, a surprisingly large amount of unusable wood is burnt.

Next, the planks are taken to heating chambers, where much moisture is extracted. Then they are stacked in piles, ready, perhaps, to build another modern timber home.

The mill is largely self-supporting, as it provides its own power from the sawdust accumulated, and has its own workshop, to repair everything from hammers to locomotives. Some of the mills are owned by the government, and some by private companies.

THE PHEASANT-COUCAL

B. Clement

One of the least known birds in Australia is the Pheasant-Coucal. Although this bird is not extremely rare, and is quite well known amongst ornithologists, most of the general public have never heard of it.

Approximately thirty species of Coucals exist throughout the world, inhabiting scrubby undergrowth, grasslands and marshy places, though a Malayan species inhabits heavy forest country. One of the largest of these Coucals is the Pheasant-Coucal or Swamp-Pheasant of Australia, which can attain a length of a little over two feet.

This bird occurs in two colour phases. Firstly the general colour being brownish-black, with chestnut wings variegated with buff to black bars. The long tail is brown with black barrings. The second colour phase is similar but much lighter by comparison.

Throughout Australia the bird is confined to the coastal water-shed as, in the absence of heavy rainfall dense cover is lacking.

In Western Australia the Coucal has been recorded no further south than the Ashburton district because an area of low rainfall occurs south of this point. This barrier of unsuitable country has never been crossed by the Coucal.

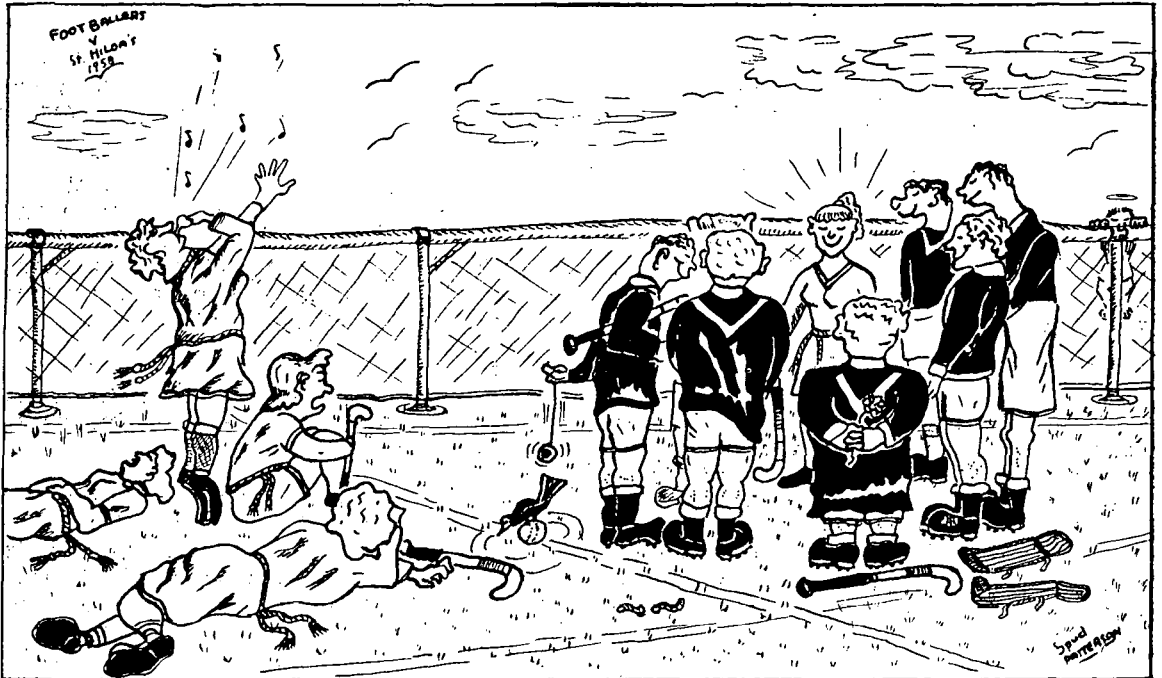

The Pheasant-Coucal is the only member of the cuckoo family in Australia which makes its own nest and incubates its own eggs.

Its nest is a globular structure situated usually in a tussock of grass and a pathway, some eighteen inches long, is made approaching it. In this nest are laid three to five pure white eggs which measure about one and a half inches long by one inch wide.

Nesting may take place at odd times during the year although the usual time is from November to February.

PREPARATORY SCHOOL SECTION

Every year now we seem to claim a record and it is really so! 1958 has brought an enrolment of 241 boys in the Preparatory School and a new form, as P6 has been divided into two groups as P7 was last year. During the year we have welcomed Mr. Keeley from Middle School, Mr. Leach from New Zealand, and Mr. Brenton-Coward and Mr. Smart from the Education Department. Unfortunately Mr. Greenway left to enter business—our football and cricket teams will miss him.

CHAPEL

Better singing has been possible with the large groups attending now. Morning services have been taken by the Headmaster, the Chaplain and by Mr. Brenton-Coward. Lessons have again been read by P7 boys and the standard continues to improve.

GILES SHIELD

Competition has been very keen in classwork and in sport. After Craigie won it for 1957 Queenslea were determined to work hard and see their name on it for this year. Half way through third term, however, it looks as though Romsey will win it for the second time. Captain of Prep. School is David Price, and House Captains are: Craigie, M. Price and J. Hoare; Queenslea, J. Evans and M. Grounds; Romsey, R. Tredwell and R. Smirke.

DISPLAYS OF WORK

Parents and visitors have shown considerable interest in the work displayed in the classrooms at various times. It is a funny thing, but we seem to produce better work when we know it is going to be shown to everyone.

CONCERT

The annual concert was a greater success than ever. Every boy from P1 to P7 took part and the audience which, being so large, made the walls of the Hall stretch and groan, thoroughly enjoyed every item. The programme included the plays "Bob a Job" by P7; "Toad of Toad Hall" by P6; "The Hare and the Tortoise" by P4; and "The Tale of the Turnip" by P3. P5 presented some verse-speaking, P1 and P2 Nursery Rhymes, and P4 and P5 combined for singing as did P6 and P7. The new curtains in the Hall helped to make this the best show yet. Though every boy in every item was excellent, Robert Garton-Smith as the Judge, John Turner as Toad, and Craig Robinson as The Usher in "Toad of Toad Hall" were outstanding. This play was made more entertaining because of the wonderful costumes made by Mrs. Robinson.

SAFETY CLUB

The work of the Safety Club in inspection of bicycles and training in road courtesy has been continued with Captain: John Treadgold and Lieutenants: Tony Treadgold, Richard Williams and Richard Harrison.

APPRECIATION

The year has been a particularly happy one through the help of many parents. Transport has always been available for teams, supporters have always been with us and excellent help has been given by numbers of fathers at the athletic and swimming sports.

 25 yds. Backstroke: R. Riley, 1; M. Lefroy, 2; D. Saunders, 3. (24 secs.—Record.)
- Under 10 (25 yds.): Freestyle: C. Riley, 1; G. Hanson, 2; R. Rudyard, 3. (20.5 secs.—Record.)
 Breaststroke: C. Riley, 1; R. Hammond, 2; R. Rudyard, 3. (30 secs.—Record.)
 Backstroke: C. Riley, 1; T. Tredgold, 2; M. Trimby, 3. (28.8 secs.—Record.)
- Under 9 (25 yds.): Freestyle: M. Bibby, 1; T. Tredgold, 2; J. Price, 3. (23 secs.—Record.)

The swimming team did not disappoint us at the Combined Junior Schools' Sports on March 11th. Final points were:

C.C.G.S.	189
Guildford	161
Hale	149
Scotch	147
St. Louis	138

Members of the team were:

- Under 13: D. Whittaker, 4th, Freestyle (B); 3rd, Breaststroke (A).
 C. Harris, 2nd, Freestyle (A).
 R. Tredwell, 2nd, Breaststroke (A); 1st, Backstroke (B).
 J. Evans, 1st, Backstroke (A).
- Under 12: J. Bookless, 1st, Breaststroke (B).
 R. Cann, 3rd, Breaststroke (A).
 J. Mercer, 1st, Backstroke (B).
 M. Grounds (Captain), 3rd, Backstroke (A);

- 3rd, Freestyle (A).
 W. Bird, 2nd, Freestyle (B).
- Under 11: R. Riley, 4th, Backstroke (A); 4th, Freestyle (B).
 D. Saunders, 4th, Freestyle (A); 1st, Breaststroke (B).
 J. Henderson, 1st, Breaststroke (A).
- Under 10: C. Riley, 4th, Backstroke (A); 3rd, Breaststroke (A); 3rd, Freestyle (A).
 G. Hanson, 4th, Freestyle (B).
 R. Hammond, 2nd, Breaststroke (B).
- Under 9: T. Treadgold, 2nd, Freestyle (B).
 M. Bibby, 2nd, Freestyle (A).
- Open Dive: J. Bookless, 1st.
- Relays: Under 13, 2nd; Under 12, 1st; Under 11, 2nd; Under 10, 3rd.

ATHLETICS

New records were set and the Athletic team performed well against the other Junior Schools. No points were awarded this year, so we do not know how we compared with the other teams, but it is interesting to notice that out of 29 events St. Louis won 13 and we won 10. St. Louis boys gained many second places as well.

Results of C.C.G.S. Championships:

- 50 Yards: Under 6: C. Burrige, 1; B. Alcock, 2; I. Taylor, 3. (8 secs.—Record.)
 Under 7: R. Cooper, 1; C. Dermer, 2; R. Goonan, 3. (7.8 secs.—Record.)
 Under 8: C. Davis, 1; J. Leonard, 2; R. Cocks and J. Meyer, equal 3. (8 secs.)
 Under 9: C. Bowers, 1; R. Merrells, 2; P. Goyder, 3. (7.3 secs.—Record.)
 Under 10: M. Bibby, 1; A. Cumming, 2; G. Iles, 3. (7.0 secs.—Equal Record.)
- 75 Yards: Under 11: M. Lefroy, 1; J. Henderson, 2; R. Garton-Smith, 3. (10 secs.—Record.)

 Under 14: Derbyshire, R. Rice, R. Tredwell, P. Beynon, 4th.

All age groups had busy programmes this season and should be pleased with results. Even if all matches weren't won, they were all thoroughly enjoyed and as many boys as possible played at least one match against another school.

Most successful team was the Under 12 "A" XVIII which looked for a while as though it would have an unbeaten record, but St. Louis proved too fast and skilful. Their record was: v. Scotch, 3 wins; v.

Guildford, 2 wins; v. Hale, 2 wins; v. Marxist Brothers, Subiaco, 1 win; v. St. Louis, 1 win, 2 losses.

As with all the teams, everyone did his best.

Each age group played several matches with other schools with considerable success.

CRICKET

A feature of cricket this year has been the series of House matches played after school. Each House has had 4 teams and close and exciting games have resulted. Craigie and Romsey are evenly matched at cricket.

This year the Fathers fielded 4 teams against our teams. Their captains were Mr. Barrett and Mr. Riley of the Parents' Association, and Mr. Minchin and Mr. Bowers who are both Old Boys as well as Parents. Our captains were Ian Parker, Paul Tomlinson, David Ryan and Bruce Gallash. Honours again remain even in the matches.

We must thank all the Fathers for giving us some real competition, and the Mothers for the marvellous afternoon tea. A grand day!

Romsey Boarding House

Another year passes! New faces have appeared in Romsey, and Queenslea and the Day Boy population has been improved by the addition of numbers who have spent some time in Romsey. The popularity of life at Romsey is shown by the return of Iain Hendrie after a spell as a day boy.

A big change at the beginning of the year was made. Miss Heales began to live away from the school and to come in each day to care for us and our clothing. Life must be much more peaceful for her. Two new masters came to enjoy the pleasures of Romsey. Mr. Leach and Mr. Simms were welcomed and have aged considerably during the year.

Not only new boys have been added to the roll. A magpie and a dove (not to mention numerous dogs) have, from time to time, realised the benefits of boarding school life and settled down with us.

Special events of the year have been visits to the U.S. submarine "Wahoo," to the H.M.S. "Newfoundland" and film shows supplied by the United Kingdom Information Officer, the Shell and B.P. Oil Companies, and by T.A.A. We are very grateful for them.

To Matron, to Miss Heales and Miss Warren, and to everyone else concerned with our welfare we say "Thank you" for another very happy year.

The View From Romsey House

On a clear summer's day the view from Romsey House is truly magnificent. At the foot of the hill, hundreds of bamboos can be seen, rustling in the wind. In between the tall, waving bamboos one can catch glimpses of the school boat-shed. The sand on the beach is a bright golden colour. With a strong breeze the dark waters of the Swan are rather choppy and white sails of yachts can be seen bobbing through the waves. Puffy white cumulus clouds all over the sky complete a beautiful scene.

The Ideal Night

It's a moonless night; only the stars can be seen, and then, very faintly. The sea is calm and the waves gently lap against the white sands of the beach. The island, a small one, stands out from the darkness surrounding it. Suddenly, a small fishing boat approaches the silhouetted land, then bumps noiselessly against the shore. A man leaps out and runs up the beach; the other makes the boat fast and follows. A rustling noise and the men return pounding down on the white sands.

Slowly at first but gaining speed the little craft leaves the island. Suddenly there is a terrific explosion, red and white flames shoot up above the island. Gradually the noise and flames subside and nothing remains of the island ammunition dump.

Panic !

How well I remember that night !

We had just finished tea and were listening to the radio. A bulletin about the probability of the Germans using gas-bombs came on. We listened intently.

At the finish I went to the kitchen to fill my pen. That's a queer smell, I thought. Rather like gas, G-A-A-S ! ! !

Racing down the hall I called my parents, explaining the uproar. Suggestions flew about. We phoned the air-raid warden but he was sure that there hadn't been a raid. But the smell of gas remained !

Again I raced to the kitchen to make a thorough search. I found the gas bomb ! There, in the larder, smelling quietly away was a Gorgonzola cheese !

The View

From the hill the view was magnificent.

Directly below us was a forest of pines and to the left some small lakes drained by a river which seemed to have no end. The reflection of the trees in the water itself, was a beautiful sight.

Away across to the west the ocean could be seen. The wildflowers were out and the ground to the coast was covered with them.

And then the setting sun added to the beauty of it all.

Guy Fawkes Day

Well, as far as I am concerned, celebrating the failure of Guy Fawkes to blow up the Houses of Parliament is a waste of money.

Who was this man Guy Fawkes, anyway? He was a traitor to his King, that's all I know about him. Why should we celebrate about a traitor or a criminal!

If you yourself buy, say, ten shillings worth of fireworks, what thrill do you get out of it? You might hear a loud bang or watch a stick soar a few hundred feet into the air.

Why not give the money to the blind or the school library or something of that nature where it will really help people? A much better idea than hearing a great big bang.

Many people have been hurt by fireworks. A boy I know had his left hand blown off by a one shilling bomb which he held in his hand.

NEWS OF MEMBERS

We appreciate Merv. Brooking's generous donation of the "eight," the "W. J. McClemans," to the School.

Ron Minchin is now Agency Superintendent at the Prudential Life Assurance.

Peter Kerby left for England on the "Orsova" in February to gain experience in the fabrics business.

John Browne-Cooper is now stationed permanently at Margaret River with the Bank of N.S.W.

Our Secretary, Campbell Armstrong, after 33 years with the Company, has been appointed Manager of Macdonald Hamilton & Co., Fremantle. Campbell has other Old Boys with him in the Company: Milton Jones at Fremantle, Finlay Sanderson at Sydney, and Alistair Cran—who left in 1957—at Perth.

Congratulations to Bert Hesterman (left 1957) on gaining six distinctions in his Leaving, and on being awarded the first Exhibition ever gained by a Christ Church boy. Bert has gone on to the University to study Science. He will have the company of a number of the new Old Boys amongst the freshers: Ray Robinson (Forestry); John Martin, Tony Ashford and Daryl Tweeddale (Engineering); Peter Wann (Ag. Sc.); Nicol Mason-Jones (Economics). Howard Liu has gone to Adelaide to do Economics; Geoff Chawner to Muresk and John Fitzhardinge to the P.T.C. to study Architecture. Ray Blake was awarded a Commonwealth Scholarship this year, to study Communications Engineering at P.T.C.

In 1957 University passes were obtained by the following: David Hutchison (B.A. degree), Jim Utting and Richard Simonsen (Engineering I), Eugene Phoa and George Hill (Medicine I), David Sewell (Science I), David Tennant (Ag. Science I), and David McNamara (Dentistry I).

If you find the summer warm you had better contact the President, Peter Bowers, and the Treasurer, Ray Crooks, who are both directors of the Arctic Cold Storage Coy.

And if you want a car, George North is now with City Motors.

Marc Synnott (left 1956) is now working on a farm at West Brookton, where his sprinting ability ought to help when stock stray.

Dean Bowker has been posted to the school at Ballidu, home town of Bruce McCullagh and Colin and Howard Moore. Dean also reports seeing Brian, Peter and Winston Scotney and Ron and Neil Cole, all of whom live in nearby districts.

Harry King (left 1957) enjoyed his cricket tour of Ceylon with the Public Schools team. He was mentioned as one of the most successful and promising players. He is now on his father's farm at Mollerin.

Ross Scott (left 1954) and John Korn (left 1957) called at the school while up for the Subiaco Bull Sales.

Neil Palmer is another Old Boy in the Mollerin district. Neil is having some success at local shows and at the Perth Royal with poultry which he breeds as a hobby. Neil is the district reporter for the "Wheatbelt Tribune." He reports that he and Les Strahan (of Koorda) have recently enjoyed a trip East.

Stan Simmons was transferred to the Albany Branch of the R. & I. Bank in June. He will be missed by the Committee of which he was Secretary for four years and President for two.

Bill McAllan has been transferred to the Melbourne office of the Attorney-General's Department.

Brian Hutchison held his first exhibition of water colour paintings in Northam in August. More than half the paintings were sold.

Clayton Bickford, not long back from a business trip to England, was recently in W. A. on Goldsbrough's business.

Ernest Tucker is a very active member of the Australian Society of Accountants. A recent issue of the Society's Journal included a report on Decimal Coinage, prepared by a committee under Ern's Chairmanship.

"Monk" Mauger called at the School in 3rd Term. He is with the Commonwealth Bank in Albany, but is contemplating entering the Teachers' Training College.

Congratulations to:

John Sears, who married Jill Peachey in September,

Mick Moore, who married Sue Lawrie in July,

Robin and Beryl Hutchison, who had a son in September,

Rupert Sadka who married Patricia Dyer in September,

Graham Tucker, who became engaged to Jennifer Harrison,

Don Bent, who was married in March, and Murray Littlejohn on gaining his Doctorate of Philosophy in Zoology.

Well over 100 Old Boys have donated money to the Boatshed Appeal. Those who did so up to the time we went to press were: W. F. Barrett, J. W. Page, M. Doust, E. B. Overington, W. G. N. Edwards, P. Bowers, R. Treadgold, B. Wardell-Johnson, T. G. Brown, S. R. Arnold, E. B. Scotney, J. C. Wall, C. O. Andrew, H. N. D. Daires, Dr. G. T. Gibson, R. P. Sudlow, R. A. P. Todd, H. B. Minchin, A. E. Pascoe, J. G. Bedells, M. R. Dougall, R. W. Ling, W. McAllan, W. R. Jones, C. P. Dring, G. Rocchi (2nd) and W. F. Cavey.

The new ties look very smart. The simple "mitre" design adds considerable dignity. Have you bought your tie yet?

The usual sporting fixtures during the year were enjoyed by a large number of members.

The annual cricket matches against the School 1st and 2nd XI's were played on Saturday, February 15th. We won the main, all-day game on the bottom oval—for the first time in eight years. Scores:

O.B.A.: 1st innings: 186 (Lewis 51, Robbins 33, Bowers 34, Wann 25 ret., Stephenson 3/39, Muggleton 2/27).

C.C.G.S.: 1st innings: 169 (Steadman 74, Meecham 18, Dollimore 3/15, Lewis 2/26, Robbins 3/21).

2nd innings: 4/81 (Muggleton 31 n.o., Lewis 2/12, Robbins 2/7).

On the upper oval—the half-day game against the 2nd XI was drawn. We scored 137 (J. Minchin 55, B. Minchin 31, T. McKenzie 16, Maddams 6/31). The last over of the day was exciting, but a dropped catch prevented us dismissing the last batsman. The 2nd XI scored 9/121 (P. Walsh 52, Beresford 17, J. Minchin 2/31, Utting 2/39 and Tweeddale 2/ something).

The Football match v. the 1st XVIII, on 7th June, was won by the School, 8.8 to 1.10.

A record field of 40 played golf on 12th August. The Old Boys won the Shield, making two wins each to Old Boys and Parents. Trophies were won by P. Bowers, P. Moyes (Old Boys) and Dr. Gallasch, R. Wark (Parents).

PRESIDENT'S MESSAGE

Many important things have happened this year but firstly, on behalf of all Old Boys, I would like to congratulate the Headmaster, Staff and Boys on the excellent results obtained last year in the Public Examinations. At the same time I'm sure you will all agree the rowing crews should receive our heartiest congratulations on their success at this year's "Head of the River." It is most gratifying to see such prowess on and off the playing field.

This year your Association has been very busy and your Committee decided to re-introduce "Sundowners." At the time of writing one had been held with fair success and there will be another later in the year. In addition to this a combined P.S.A. Old Boys' Ball was held which proved to be an excellent function as well as a profitable one.

We are, of course, still requiring donations to complete the payment of the Boat Shed although at this stage only about £500 is still owing. When this debt is cleared there will be more important work for the War Memorial Association. Here I would like to thank all those of you who have contributed in any way to the War Memorial Fund.

As you may have read in the Press the School is negotiating to purchase land near the Cottesloe Golf Club for the purpose of establishing various sporting ovals and ultimately a Preparatory School. It is, I am sure, the desire of all Old Boys to do all in their power to assist the Council in having these much needed grounds in playing order at the earliest possible time.

As a member of the P.S.A. we have been invited to field a team of four golfers for an inaugural competition between all members of the Australian P.S.A. This match will have been held before this "Mitre" is published and I wish to apologise to those golfers who, this year, were excluded from play. Next year we would like to see as many members as possible playing.

In the 1957 "Mitre" your President made mention of an Old Boys' tie. Well now this is a fact! I sincerely hope you all like the final product and will be proud to wear it as often as possible.

Although perhaps a little prematurely, I wish to draw your attention to the fact that the School will celebrate its fiftieth anniversary in 1960. The Association will, I am sure, make a very special effort in that year, and to do so must commence preparations in 1959.

Now come my few words to those boys who are leaving school this year. Your years at Christ Church have given you great benefit for your future. Now it is your turn to recognise your duty to your old school. You can best do this by abiding by what you have been taught in all fields of your education and in all ways "playing the game." I would also like to leave a thought in your minds that the Old Boys' Association is one place where your duty to your old school can be recognised. Your membership and continued interest will assure the growth and standing of the school.

It is pleasing to see that so many Old Boys are also Parents. This is a very healthy sign and I hope the numbers keep increasing!

It is now my privilege to thank our "Perpetual Secretary" Campbell Armstrong for his untiring work during the year. Also I wish to thank all members of the Committee for their enthusiastic and efficient assistance and support during my term of office. It is only with this sort of enthusiasm that we can hope to become one of the leading Old Boys' Associations.

Before closing I would like to mention that the Association has, this year, reached a record membership of 247 Financial Members.

Finally, on behalf of myself and the Committee, I extend to you all best wishes for Christmas and a very successful coming year.
