IN MEMORY

It is with deep regret that "Mitre" has to record the deaths during the year of Mr. David Milne of the teaching staff and Mr. Reg. Bellette, Head Groundsman.

In February, the day the school year began, David Milne died in his sleep.

After some years away from teaching, David joined Christ Church in 1970 to teach chemistry. His unassuming manner, his quiet sense of humour, his concern for others and his dedication to his profession rapidly earned him the esteem and friendship of his colleagues and his students. He was a most highly valued member of the school. Reg. Bellette died on 8th July 1975 as the result of a heart attack. in the 5 1/2 years he was with the school, Reg. established himself as a popular figure by his cheerful, open personality, his helpfulness and his interest in his role in the day to day running of the school.

The School paid its respects to both these men at the Memorial Services held in the Chapel. We wish once again to express appreciation of their contribution to the life of the School. They are sadly missed.

CAPTAIN OF SCHOOL

My final year at school has been very rewarding and for the most part enjoyable. There have been disappointments and unpleasant experiences but above all, 1975 has given me an insight into many things that I did not fully appreciate at the beginning of the year. For the first time I have come to realise the significance of the baffling phenomenum of apathy. Suddenly it ceased to be just a word, an abstract term. It was real, it was here confronting me.

It seems ironic that there is such a tendency towards non participation and non involvement in an educational programme that is trying to provide extra cultural interests within the framework of the school. We have a profusion of clubs, societies and sports. And yet there still seems to be an element within the school that rejects all this. Very often this group contains individuals of great potential. But nevertheless they seem content to go through the motions of twelve years of school life without ever making any significant contributions to the welfare or the enjoyment of their fellows.

Fortunately, Christ Church also possesses people who are willing to contribute to school life. They make full use of the clubs and other activities available to them and initiate others. This year Richard Pestell has mobilised a willing Social Service Group to help with many community projects. Similarly, Jeremy Hobbs and Rodney Bills have managed the Pound and the Tuckshop respectively. There are many examples on the positive side. This year has seen a hard core of triers - people who help within their Houses or willingly participate in sports - many of them in B or C teams, but all enjoying themselves. It is this strong but often uncelebrated group that will look back on their secondary schooling and say that for all they put into these years, they gained far more from them. This year we have also had many students, not necessarily prefects who have suggested and initiated changes in the school system and who have constantly shown interest in others.

So it is all the more disconcerting to consider the apathetic group that I have mentioned. The problem may be largely insoluble but solutions should at least be discussed. Perhaps we have spread the range of activities too far, but from my experience this year, the educational process is worthless without a positive interest in trying to make the best of one's abilities.

Finally, I would like to thank all the people who have helped me throughout the year, especially Stewart Finch, Richard Pestell and John Tregonning, all very good examples of people making an active contribution, I am sure that they will reap the benefits in the long run.

G. Russell.

5 RETIRING

Mr. R.L. O'Hara

Some few years ago, in what both loosely label "pre-war" Burma, the Rev. Harry Booth and Mr. Laurie O'Hara met on a hockey field at Rangoon University. This year^e brings their retirement from the staff of Christ Church Grammar School, a life time's work and half a world away.

The Rev. H.J. Booth

After graduating from University, Laurie O'Hara taught for two years in a Government School and then moved to a mission school in Mandalay where he was Head of the Middle School.

World War Two rather dominated his career for the next four years or so when as a British officer he found himself helping to organise irregular tribal forces providing a screen between the Japanese in Burma and the British in India. Not an enviable task especially with troops mostly proficient with flintlock guns! Of the rest of his record Laurie will only admit to finishing the war as a major and "playing some hockey" in India!

When he first came to this State after the war he completed a Diploma of Education at the University of W.A. and spent five years teaching in the bush - at Galena, then at Dowerin Lakes.

In 1954 he joined Christ Church then a school of some 320 students all told, to teach History, English and Book-keeping. It was principally as a teacher of Junior History and Book keeping that past pupils will remember him.

Laurie's jobs with the school have been many and varied. In 1963 and 1964 he was Master in Charge of the Middle School and this was followed by two years as Sports Master. For many years he was Queenslea House Master and has coached in cricket and of course, Hockey. After twenty years of sound service to the school we wish him well in his retirement.

The Reverend Harry Booth graduated in science from Rangoon University and spent some months wolfram and tin mining on the Burma-China border before returning to the university as Geography tutor and a warden of a residential college. In 1934 he joined the staff of Diocesan Boys High School where he became Vice Principal just as the war broke out. Harry's war record included service with both infantry and artillery regiments and with the Burma Intelligence Corps. He attained the rank of Major. After the war he was given the task of reorganising the Diocesan Schools and was principal of a school which by 1963 had 3000° students.

In 1955 and 56 Harry was granted a Fellowship to do a course in advanced Religious Studies in New York. In 1962 he was made Deacon in England by the Bishop of Rangoon. He was ordained in Rangoon the following year.

With the political upheavals in Burma during 1963 arrangements were made for Harry and his family to migrate to W.A. where he was posted as assistant to St. John's, Northam.

In 1966 he joined Christ Church as Preparatory School Chaplain and class teacher. The active interest in hockey in the Preparatory School can be directly attributed to the Rev. Booth. For some years now Prep School boys have identified him as the keeper of the Book Room. Very few Sundays during the school year have gone past without Harry's smiling presence at the morning services. In this as with all his other duties the school has been fortunate to have such a willing, dedicated staff member. We wish him a long and happy retirement.

6 BOARDING HOUSE NOTES

McCLEMANS

Once again, McClemans had a successful and well rounded year. Our success at sport and our involvement in many diverse interests in the School this year illustrated the premise that boarders are the backbone of the School (in spite of general opinion). We got the sporting year off to a good start, especially in rowing, with S. Annear coxing the 1st VIII, T. Audas stroking the 2nd VIII and good representation in most other crews. In tennis, J. Annear was in the 1st. VI and we had four members of the 2nd. year VI, W. Carrington-Jones, P. Moyes and R. Horley all represented the School in swimming and life saving.

In football, J. Annear was one of the few strengths of the 1st. XVIII and also T. Haslam and A. Haslam were consistent players showing good potential. In the Middle School, we were very strong, with six in the Middle School A's. D. Stephenson was a consistent player in the 1st XI and shows great promise, being one of the few third years in an experienced hockey side. McClemans made important contributions to the back line of the 1st XV this year with the high scoring wings P. Audas and J. Christison and utility players T. Audas and B. Lambert. Athletics was a McClemans Strength this year; our House members made up a large proportion of the School team. Among these were: J. Sedgewick, R. Metcalf, "Duds" Annear, W. Carrington-Jones, E. Glass, P. Moyes and B. Waddilove who won their events at the House Sports. Special mention to P. Audas, 1975 Open Champion and J. Christison who has made great progress as a sprinter in the past two years.

In gymnastics, M. Lambert won the U/15 School championship and M. Lambert, D. Letts and J. Barton all represented the School at the State championships for their age groups.

McClemans was also an important House in cadets, represented by C.U.O. W. Rees, Stgs. J. Sedgwick, T. Haslam, K. Thomas and L. McKay. C.U.O. Rees received three awards: The Duke of Edinburgh Award, the Adventure Training Award and Crossed Riffles. Cpl. A. Haslam received the Duke of Edinburgh Award and Cadet R. Cook received Crossed Rifles.

Many other Clubs and services were manned and staffed by McClemans members. Among them the Music School, the Library, Art, the Chapel Committee, Chess, Debating and the Sports Store.

In closing, I'd like to thank all who were involved in the efficient running of the House this year: the prefects, J. Wedge, B. Waddilove, P. Audas, G. Powell, J. Christison, T. Audas, G. McDonald and R. Gibson; Mr. Hammond, who kept a firm hand on the House as always; the Assistant Housemasters Mr. Nelson, Mr. Wright, Mr. Cargeeg, Mr. Banks; and Mrs. Abbott and Mrs. Cramer for keeping us in socks and underwear throughout the year.

I think a special vote of thanks goes to Mr. Hammond for his years of service to the House which end this year. He ran a tight ship. We also welcome the 1976 incumbent, Mr. House.

B. Lambert.

WALTERS

Looking back over the past year, one can hardly say it hasn't been successful for Walters House both in the sporting field and the relaxed social scene.

This year the prefects in house experienced a new era in "rebellry" - a certain group of enthusiastic 3rd year directed by B. Clarke and that Wizard of Wizards I. Sanders. Despite this, the prefects managed fairly well and worked well as a team.

Organizing the dances throughout the year which is very time consuming, we saw R. Fletcher & D. Forrest doing a good job.

The house as a whole achieved a very high standard in sport as a result of their unity and enthusiasm.

"A" Dorm occupants as usual were very busy keeping the house on its toes and in more ways than one helped to boost the houses morale.

Very few people throughout the year failed to compete in any of the sports and when they didn't they offered their services for house marshalling. i.e. As a result of this the participation we had great unity a high house spirit.

During the year Mrs. Brady took over from Mrs. Whitehead and she has done a fine job with the linen room relay. Her concern for the welfare of the house deserves high praise.

Thanks go to Mr. Frazer, Mr. Burman and Mr. Porteous, for being there and special thanks to Mr. Burns for his personal interest and his general concern for the house.

Finally, my thanks go to the house prefects N. Turner (Vice- Capt.). K. Bevan, D. Forrest, I. Hartley, J. Johnston, M. Kay, T. Little, P. Taylor, Jo Pridham (Treasurer) and B.Smith (Sec.) who throughout the year did a difficult job well.

8 SWIMMING

Once again the House trials were held in the School pool and many swimmers took part. This resulted in some good competition and some unusual times were recorded. The House Sports, also held in the School pool, and due to the large amount of support provided, were very exciting. Although there were four records broken the standard was not quite as high as that of previous years. In the 50m Under 16 Freestyle Mark Bingemann slashed the record to 28.3 seconds. He also swam well to break the record in the 50m Butterfly. Murray Dowling broke the 50m Under 16 Breastroke and David Huntley set a new record in the 50m Under 13 Butterfly.

By the end of the sports Romsey were clear winners, in front of Craigie, Jupp, Noake, McClemans, Walters, Queenslea and Wolsey.

The Individual Swimming Championships were held separately from the House Championships this year, after the Inters. In the first event, the Open 50m Backstroke, Jim Lanier broke the record which was the only record for the night.

The champions in each age group were: Open, M. Dawson, Under 16, M. Bingemann; Under 15, a tie between D.S. Walsh and I.C. Reynolds; Under 14, P.J.M. Hanlon; Under 13, D.L. Huntley.

After the House Sports the Swimming Squad settled down to some rather half-hearted swimming training before school (for those who could drag themselves from bed) and after school.

In the Quads held in the School pool our dependence was mainly on the younger members of the team. Our real strength, however, showed in the relays where Christ Church won four out of the seven. This gave us a convincing lead to win the carnival from Wesley by 24 points.

At this meeting, Christ Church swimmers set two records. These were Mark Bingemann in the Under 16 Butterfly and Robert Cullingford, a prep school 10-year-old who created a new record in the Under 13 Butterfly. This was a particularly courageous performance against competitors two years his senior.

Final points were: Christ Church 530, Wesley 506, Trinity 496 and St. Louis 276.

With little or no support the team had their warm-up off the diving towers and then the individuals went forward for their events.

Hale dominated the sports right through the evening, Christ Church was lying fourth behind Scotch. On this occasion our strength was in our Freestyle with Peter Connor setting a fine example of determination when he won the third event on the programme, the 2nd division of the Under 16 100m Freestyle. This was the only individual victory, however, we gained 6 second places, of particular note being the Under 15 Relay team who came a close second to Hale.

We saw some fine swimming from Peter Connor, Michael Wade, Nicholas Welch and Mark Bingemann who combined well to win the Under 16 Freestyle Relay in 1 minute 55.4 seconds. This was 3 seconds faster than their previous best time at the Quads.

After competing with Guildford in 6th place for most of the night our relay results enabled us to hold them off through to the completion of the carnival.

All members of the team gave of their best against swimmers of very high standards.

Hale are to be congratulated for a tremendous win. Phil Gorey the Aquinas Captain is to be congratulated for his 3 records which aided his team tremendously.

Finally, on behalf of all members of the Swimming team, I would like to thank Mr. Bowker for giving so much of his time to coach us this season.

In all matches played by the 1st XI in third term 1974 and first term 1975, the results were - Played 18, won 5, drawn 2, lost 11.

Graeme Radford, in all matches scored 455 runs for an average of 20.7, Grant Russell 396 for 18.0 apiece and Philip Rose 51 runs, average 16.0. Nine bowlers in all matches took 10 or more wickets with averages better than 18; Peter Seward taking 17 at 10.9 apiece, Tom Little 35 for 13.0 each and Radford 34 at 14.9. Pierre Horwitz took 13 catches and made 3 stumpings; Radford took 12 catches and Russell, Little and Stewart Finch, 9 each.

In first term 1975, Andrew Barker, the Under 16A Captain, had a batting average of 48, a bowling average of 11 and his team only lost when he was abroad. John Kernot captained the 2nd XI with distinction and for that team Gary Homer took 23 wickets at an average of 5.6. In first term the 1st year A XI was undefeated and shows very great promise.

We ended the season at the bottom of the table although close enough to Aquinas, Wesley and Guildford to justify the belief that there wasn't much between the bottom four. Hale and Scotch, the joint favourites, were headed by Trinity in a very interesting 3 way battle.

Strangely enough we were the only people to take points off Trinity. Due to some magnificent hostile bowling by Little we tied on the first innings.

We were fairly easily beaten by Wesley but Little and Finch prevented a rout by adding 61 for the ninth wicket.

The match against Aquinas was very close. A fighting 50 by Russell took us to 134 and we had 8 Aquinian wickets down before they overtook us.

Hale thrashed us. Our batting failed twice against Gepp and March who bowled extremely well - but determined defence was lacking.

Winning the next match as we did - against Guildford - restored our morale, but even then it needed little to steer us through from 7 for 65 to the 85 needed.

We nearly beat Scotch on the first innings, having 8 of them out for 51 in reply to our 86 but their captain saved the day with a fine innings of 41. Radford bowled magnificently and took 7 for 43.

Although not a successful eleven, Radford's team was well led, tremendously keen and a pleasure to coach. I believe that we have the makings of a good season in 1976 and at the time of writing have already won our first match of third term 1975.

For the first six, the season was not as promising as hoped, for one of our star players, Gary Hicks was unfortunately ill for most of the season. But this did not stop the members of the team from giving a very creditable performance, not only with attendance at practice but also on the tennis court. We were motivated by our coach Mr. Davies who was able to turn us into a formidable team.

Our first match was against Wesley, who were the eventual winners of the cup. With two talented state players, Wesley were at full strength, the final result saw our first loss by 2 rubbers to 6.

Trinity, our next opponents, were not strong except for two good players. Our first victory 6 rubbers to 3 gave the team's morale a boost.

Our hardest match of the season was against Aquinas, this was a very tight match with four matches being played to 3 sets. The final result was a defeat by one game, the score being 4 rubbers to 5. After that unfortunate loss, our next matches against Guildford and Hale were won very comfortably 8 rubbers to 1 in each case.

In our last match, against Scotch, with high hopes following two consecutive wins we played a hard match but finally going down 5 rubbers to 4.

On behalf of all the members of the team I would like to thank Mr. Davies for his untiring efforts in moulding us into a team. Also for organizing match practice against Old Boys and ex-A grade pennant players. Thanks are also due to Mr. Bowman and Mr. Dyson for teaching us some of the finer points of stroke production and tennis tactics, thus raising the standard of tennis in the school.

The Boat Club this year, saw a rather substantial change in the history of Christ Church Grammar School's rowing with Graham Norton in his new capacity as Coach of the 1st VIII.

All of the boys who have been associated with former 1st VIII Coach - Don Fraser, at some time or another, were deeply sorry to see such a fine coach as this leave, but were equally as happy to see the appointment of Graham Norton.

Mr. Norton and the crew of the 1st VIII this year, upheld Mr. Fraser's record of never being out of a place, by coming third to Trinity and then of course the super Aquinas team in the "Head". We hope that this tradition will be upheld for many years to come, by the new coach.

The 1st VIII were in fine form for most of the season this year, after being entered in the Association and coming home with several victories - mainly in the Maiden Eights' division at Canning. They were backed all the way in these regattas by Mr. Norton who gave up a lot of time for organizing them as well as being present for the actual race.

This year was the first time that Christ Church had been in the Association and I feel we did exceptionally well.

A million thanks go to Mr. A.A. Mountier who gives up a phenomenal amount of time and effort on his weekends just to keep the club functioning and also for doing his very best with the limited funds the clubs receives.

Also a very special vote of thanks goes to Eddie Cook who with his dedicated work, saved the earlier model hulls from becoming completely non-functional.

I would also like to thank all of the boys in the club for sticking by me and backing me up in the running of the club and in particular to the committee members who were of invaluable assistance.

The shed also saw a great improvement this season by the appearance of a new ramp which has replaced the dangerous old wooden one. The special machinery, auxiliary equipment and labour for this 4" thick concrete ramp was supplied by J.O.B. Industries Pty. Ltd. - courtesy of O.E. Jones.

Other equipment, vital to the success of this project was supplied by the following companies at substantial discount. Cement: Cockburn Cement Ltd. courtesy of D.W. Bibby. Reinforcing Steel: A.R.C. Engineering. Compressors: T.W. Crommelin Pty. Ltd. Aggregate: The Readymix Group (WA) Pty. Ltd.

Special thanks to the following coaches for their time and efforts which makes the club a real club: Messrs. G. Norton, B. Nelson, N. McHenry, A. Mountier, J. Birman and A. Wilkins.

Anyone calling the 1975 season an unsuccessful one, could have a basis for a strong argument, but it provided a thoroughly interesting year producing fortunes and disasters.

We started the season successfully, with two victories - the first against Trinity (14 - 0) and the second against Wesley (28 - 7).

However we slumped badly to teams such as Hale (4 - 31) and Scotch (0 - 38) in the mid-season, although we played some tight games against Aquinas, who beat us 13 - 7 and Guildford, who beat us 0 - 6. Both games provided no luck at all, and to be beaten by two teams that obviously showed less talent than us, was a frustrating experience.

Our chances of getting into the semi-finals were dashed when we were beaten by a Guildford team, that scored some of the jammiest tries we had ever seen. This incredible defeat by 4 points (13 - 17) was unbelievable for we were all over them throughout the game and it was noticeable at the and an immense contrast between the glee on the Guildford faces and the expressions on ours. Our final match of the season however was an absolute gem! After a sizzling tackle from a Wesley player, Paul Taylor regained consciousness only to find his leg in a paralytic state and was removed from the field with Walsh replacing him. This was in fact the only serious injury of the season.

From there the 1st XV thumped Wesley 50 - 4 with some terrific stuff that involved 9 tries, 4 conversions and 2 penalties. Michael Wade, Ian Hartley and the three players selected from the State Schoolboys' side, Peter Hammond, Bob Lambert and Max Meikle were the most consistent players this season although Dave Forrest tried hard all season and Pridham, A. Audas, Jones and Taylor in the forward pack and Oddie, Christison and P. Audas in the backline, made a great contribution.

Our thanks go to Mr. Zahra and Andy Kay for the time and effort they spent with us in the season. We hope that through Bob Lambert's new life with his American friends the States will hear about this great game, and that the Audas's will create a new era in the dimensions of Rugby Football in Papua and New Guinea:

THE INTERSTATE QUADRANGULARS

This year we were hosts for the Quadrangular meeting between Peninsula Church of England (Melbourne), Westminster (Adelaide), Wesley College (Western Australia) and ourselves. Scotch also contributed a hockey team.

The two interstate teams of about 40 arrived early on Thursday 8th May and were accommodated in our school boarding houses.

With well fought out introductory Debates that night, six days of intensive activity commenced. There were competitions in Football, Basketball, Debating, Squash, Volleyball, Hockey, Tennis, Chess and Badminton. Sailing and Canoeing also provided recreation on Sunday morning.

Friday saw Christ Church's first football match and as last year, we went down fighting to Peninsula. On Sunday afternoon we handsomely defeated Wesley, and full of confidence, fronted up against Westminster on Tuesday afternoon. In a very close and exciting game all the way through, we managed to kick a goal just before the siren and thus pip them at the post. This keen competition was typical of the spirit of the whole meeting and some fine matches were seen in all fields.

We were blessed with some fine weather later in the tour, capping off an excellent six days of sport in which all the schools very nearly deadheated overall. When the two interstate parties left on Tuesday night, they had also seen a great deal of Perth, and all said they enjoyed it very much, which is a fine tribute to the hard work, organization and the enthusiasm displayed by all the masters and coaches who helped, especially Mr. Watkins. Thanks also go to Grant Russell for his many contributions.

Overall, the tour was another outstanding success and good luck to those going to Adelaide next year.

S. Finch.

The 1975 season saw the introduction of the new final round play-off and as far as we were concerned it gave more interest to the competition right up until the last game.

The Alcock Cup competition began in the first week of second term, although the team did not have a very successful season we did have a very close-knit bunch of players with an extremely high team spirit.

The first game of the season was against Trinity, and the team was eager to repeat last year's victory. This was not the case and Trinity jumped us in the first quarter and built up a winning lead. Christ Church slowly played them back in a much improved second half but time finally ran out leaving Christ Church 5 goals down.

The second match of the season was played against Wesley, a game which we would rather forget.

The first quarter was of an extremely high standard, with Christ Church scoring repeatedly against the breeze. The second quarter was of an extremely low standard. We allowed them to play their game and consequently they outscored us, at half-time Wesley lead by 1 point.

The second half scores remained even and Wesley ran out winning by the smallest possible margin - 1 point.

In this action packed game Tom Little unfortunately broke his ankle and his presence was certainly missed for the rest of the season.

The following week we played Aquinas, the eventual winners of the cup. We were completely outclassed by a superior opposition, and lost by a very large margin.

Wishing to forget the previous week's encounter, the team really turned on against Hale, in perhaps the best game of the season. The day was windy but never-the-less the standard of play was high. The first half was very even with both teams scoring into a stiff breeze. At half time Hale led by 4 points. The seond half saw Christ Church hitting Hale with everything they could muster, eventually hitting the front half way into the last quarter, but the final telling strength of Hale's rucks saw them back in front at the final siren.

Anxious to repeat the previous week's performance the team trained very soundly and spirits ran high and all augured well for the match against Guildford. This was not the case and Christ Church fell back into the hole that they found themselves in after the Aquinas game. Guildford repeatedly attacked the goals and special mention must be made of Neil Turner who never-the-less stood firm at full back. Guildford finally ran out winners by a comfortable margin.

The following week we played Scotch and we were determined to make amends for the thrashing we received in a pre-season match. Scotch won the toss and kicked with a 4-5 goal breeze, Christ Church did well to hold them out for 15 - 20 minutes of the quarter but Scotch scored heavily in the time-on period, mainly because of a lapse in concentration by all members of the team.

The second quarter, Christ Church did not use the breeze to full advantage and consequently were 4 goals down at half time.

In the second half, Christ Church slipped further behind but not to the extent of the pre-season match.

The next week was the first round of finals. We played Wesley and everybody combined well to win by over 10 goals. We then played Guildford for the deciding 5th or 6th place. The Guildford oval was once again a quagmire which made both teams fairly equal on skills, never-the-less the standard of play was reasonable, but we finally went down by nearly 3 goals a marked improvement on our previous encounter.

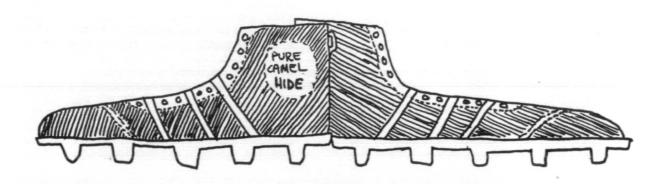

I would like to thank Stuart Finch for all his help as Vice-Captain and congratulate both he and John Annear for receiving Honours - a just reward for the effort and dedication they both put in.

The team's utmost thanks and appreciation are extended to Mr. Watkins for his efforts and perseverance with the team. Special mention to John Porteous, our runner who conveyed many messages to members of the team.

Lastly special congratulations to the 3rd XVIII who were undefeated after the qualifying round. The team was ably led by Phillip Mutton and set an example to all other teams.

Thanks go to all coaches of teams who each contributed enormously to a most productive season.

Best wishes for the 1976 football competition. G.A. Radford.

The success attained by the 1st XI in this hockey year was largely due to the accumulated experience gained in both the 1974 and 1975 seasons in which eight of the players took part. It was obvious that Christ Church had the talent to beat any opposition, with some impressive preseason victories against Scotch 8 - 0 and 5 - 0, and Wesley 3 - 1. These scores were a boost to our morale and were signs of future improvement.

The P.S.A. competition included Finals, a change from last year's method in which the top team at the end of the season won the Cup. Due to this change it was imperative that a favourable goal average was established.

The first three matches were of vital importance for we knew Trinity, Wesley and Aquinas (premiers last year) were not going to be easily beaten. Team play was severely scrutinized, the new members were heavily trained and many experimental changes were made.

The first game of the season, against Trinity, tested both our defence and attack to the utmost. Both sides were evenly matched and it was probably the greater attacking ability of the Christ Church team that finally led them to a 2 - 1 victory.

Then we struck Wesley, who were a surprisingly much improved team. Though Christ Church were slow to start it was team desperation in the 2nd half that enabled a narrow 3 - 2 victory. This particular match exposed some of our weaknesses and it wasn't long before full analysis was done on these problems.

The following week we met Aquinas, our main rival, who provided us with the hardest game to date. Fast run-play with searching through-balls was essential if we were to succeed. We led 3 - 1 well into the 2nd half and probably felt over confident. Aquinas in the last 10 minutes of the game came from behind to draw level at 3 all, which put a seal to our hopes of a long awaited victory against this particular team.

At this stage of the season the team was gaining momentum and quickly gaining form and were still undefeated. The squad played impressively against Hotspurs and training was intensified for the final rounds.

We won against Hale, Guildford and Scotch but could not build up our goal average and although equal on points with Aquinas at the end of the qualifying round, we had to concede top spot to them and play Wesley in the preliminary final. In a disappointing game we drew 2 - 2 with Wesley and went into the Grand Final against Aquinas.

HOCKEY CRITIQUE

PATRICK MATTHEWS: Captain, Centre Forward, 1st XI 1974, 1975.

An outstanding forward whose superb control and speed often converted almost impossible goals. Captaincy on and off the field was faultless.

JOHN KERNOT: Goalkeeper 1st XI 1975 In his first year of playing hockey John really astounded us. His great eye and incredible determination saved many goals, and his sound positioning added to this.

PETER REYNOLDS: Left Fullback 1st XI 1974, 1975.

Held the defence together in a very experienced fashion. His short corner goals were many, and his strong tackle denied many opposing forwards.

- TONY SUTHERLAND: Left Inner 1st XI 1974, 1975. The real workhorse of the team. His gutsy play set up numerous opportunities, and his determination often inspired others in the team to great heights.
- BRIAN MATTHEWS: Right Fullback 1st XI 1975 A speedy fullback with a good trap, an excellent tackle and superb cover defence. His first year.
- DAVID STEPHENSON: Right Half 1st XI 1975. David acquitted himself very well in his first year, and gave an outstanding display in the Grand Final in tough company.

This game was the culmination of the years of devoted work by the whole team and coach. We led 1 - 0 at half-time and although we scored twice more, Aquinas, largely through superior physical strength, scored 4 goals to defeat us the only defeat of the season.

Finally I would like to sincerely thank Mr. House on behalf of the 1st XI for his guidance and devotion for both the 1974 and 1975 seasons in turning this bunch of hockey players into a winning combination. Thanks must also go to parents and spectators who supplied the proper match atmosphere, especially in the Grand Final. I would like to pass on my best wishes to next year's 1st XI team.

ANDREW BARKER: Vice Captain, Centre Half, 1st XI 1974, 1975.

> A very 'heady' player whose stickwork, disposal and dedication earned him vicecaptaincy of 1975 State Schoolboys Team. An excellent season in all respects.

- ERIC SILVER: Left Wing 1st XI 1974, 1975. Must have been the fastest forward in the competition. His good eye aided his judgement and centres. He combined excellently with
- MARK GUNNING: Right Inner 1st XI 1974, 1975. Fulfilled his job at right inner capably and combined well with the other forwards. Very good stickwork.
- ROGER NOTTAGE: Left Half 1st XI 1974, 1975. A left half with very sound positional play, he beat opposing wingers time and time again. Good cover defence.
- PETER MORAN: Right Half 1st XI 1975. Peter was one who was not scared to come up into attack. His form improved considerably during the season. Always determined.
- GREG KIDD: Right Wing 1st XI 1975. In his first year, Greg played with marvellous touch. His team play was excellent, as were his many centres.

The 1975 Cross Country Season was the most successful yet seen at Christ Church. This year saw the entrance of Mr. Marsland as coach and Mr. Merrells remained as the administrator and organizer of races

We competed against Scotch, Wesley, Hale and Guildford, winning all except one of our two races against Wesley.

Our greatest strength was in the Under Sixteen division where we had our fastest runners overall.

The season was successfully completed when we entered teams in the U/16 and Open divisions of the State Schoolboys' Cross Country Championships. The results of these races were encouraging, and hopefully a sign of things to come.

In the Under Sixteen division the team comprising D. Sullivan, J. Rodgers, T. Rodgers and P. Mitchell won both the $4 \times 1600m$ relay, and the teams 4000m cross country race.

The Open team was not very successful, being unplaced in the 4×1600 m relay, and third in the 600m teams race.

Finally I wish to thank Mr. Marsland and Mr. Merrells for their continued efforts throughout the season and wish them all the best for next year.

"The Wooden Spooners"

A somewhat disappointing season in the way of athletics, Christ Church gaining a dismal seventh place, five points behind Wesley at the Inters.

This poor performance, I feel, was largely caused by many of the members of the school not realising their potential or even using their talents to the full in the athletics field. It was certainly no fault of the coaches who provided enthusiasm and support throughout the season.

At the Inters. only three Christ Church athletes featured in first places. John Christison U/17 200m., R. Donaldson U/16 1500m. and G. Bradbury U/16 shot put which demonstrates the very high level of the competition in P.S.A. Athletics. The Triangulars also proved disappointing with Christ Church coming out third from Guildford and Wesley. It is appropriate here to mention that the performance was mainly caused by too many "athletes" having to "fill in" for events and the general "unprofessional" approach so early in the season!

Despite the poor effort in the Inters and Triangulars, the House sports were extremely successful with a general high level of competition, enthusiasm and spirit, McClemans House gaining first place from their chief rivals, Walters (well done the country boys!)

On the day good performances came from Middle Distance Champion, Mark Gunning in winning the Open 1500m. and 800m. and Peter Audas who won the Open Hurdles and High Jump and was Open Champion. Mark Bingemann won the U/17 100m, 200m. and hurdles to become U/17 champion. Greg. Kidd took line honours in the Under 16 800m, 200m, and 100m. and was the U/16 champion. Gary Watkins won the Under 15 shot put and long jump and triple jump to become U/15 champion.

Special mention, I feel, should be made of the middle distance squad which was the hardest trained, most enthusiastic, competitive and professional squad of all mainly due to Mr. Marsland's keen support in pushing everyone to their limits every night in training by running with the squad.

I'm sure if all the other coaches, Mr. London, Mr. Kovacs, Mr. Merrels, Mr. Davies, Mr. Wilkins, Mr. Pate and Mr. Blackwood had received the support of more boys on more training nights, Christ Church would have featured more prominently in the Inters. The coaches should be commended for remaining interested, and enthusiastic throughout the season. Our thanks also goes to Mr. Bowker who co-ordinated and organised the team so well once again.

Finally, may Christ Church look to a brighter future next year. We certainly can't deteriorate much more - can we?

17 GYMNASTICS

U/16, U/17, Open

Back: Front: P.R. Whitford, L.E. Nylund, N.R. Porter, A. Kovacs Esq. K.B. Redmond, M.B. Herman, N.W. Welch D.R. Letts, K.W. Żink, M.C., Lambert, F.P. Gavet, R.S. Greenhalgh, R.C.I. Loh, J. Schwaiger, K.J. Bryant

This year Christ Church has attained a high standard of gymnastics, as it has in previous years, with a promising number of gymnasts being built up by Mr. Kovacs in the preparatory School. Although the club does not have a large number of gymnasts in the Senior School, it has been successful in competitions in all age groups. Two boys gained selection to compete in the U/16 National Championships held in Melbourne, during the May school holidays at Rusden College. Both Kevin Redmond and Nicholas Welch performed well to finish 8th and 10th overall. K.Redmond also finished second in the High Bar final and N. Welch came second in the Parallel Bar final. Also in the May holidays Neil Porter, Peter Whitford and Lindsay Nylund took part in a training clinic held at the same venue as the U/16 Nationals. This lasted for one week and provided us with a good opportunity to train with gymnasts from other States, and to learn from Peter Chen (New Zealand national coach) who conducted the training sessions and lectures.

The next competition, being an invitation competition, was held at Christ Church comprising voluntary exercises only. The results were as follows:-

Senior - 1st L. Nylund

U/19 - 1st N. Porter, 2nd P. Whitford, 3rd K. Redmond 4th M. Herman

U/16 - 2nd K. Zink, 3rd M. Sadka, 4th D. Bryant

The School Gymnastic Championships as usual, were well organized by Mr. Kovacs and the results were as follows:

Preparatory School - 1st A. King, 2nd M. Nelson, 3rd P. King, 4th S. Treloar

Middle School - 1st M. Milne, 2nd G. George, 3rd G. Archer 4th G. Panting

Walker's Cup (U/15) - 1st M. Lambert, 2nd J. Barrett-Lennard, 3rd J. Schwaiger, 4th D. Bryant Maclagan's Cup (Open) - 1st N. Nylund, 2nd N. Porter, 3rd M. Herman, 4th N. Welch.

STATE CHAMPIONSHIPS

On the 19th and 20th July the U/19 State Championships were held at the Len Fletcher Pavilion. Results:-

1st L. Nylund, 2nd N. Porter, 3rd P. Whitford, 4th M. Herman 5th K. Redmond 7th N. Welch.

In the U/16 State Championships the C.C.G.S. "A" Team won and the "B" Team came third. The individual results were as follows:- 2nd K. Redmond, 3rd N. Welch, 4th M. Lambert.

In the U/14 State Championships Christ Church had little competition and took out the following places:-

Team Competition:

1st - C.C.G.S. "A" Team 2nd - C.C.G.S. "B" Team 3rd - C.C.G.S. "D" Team 4th - C.C.G.S. "C" Team

Individual: 1st - J. Schwaiger, 2nd - J. Barrett-Lennard 3rd - M. Sadka 4th - D. Bryant 5th - J. Barton

From the State Championships L. Nylund, N. Porter, P. Whitford and M. Herman gained selection in the U/19 State team and K. Redmond narrowly missed out. The Junior Men's National Championships this year were held in Adelaide during the August holidays and the team performed well to just take off the team competition from Queensland and Victoria. The individual allround competition was won by L. Nylund. P. Whitford and N. Porter performed their best and did well to finish 7th and 8th respectively. The Apparatus Finals were won by L. Nylund with P. Whitford gaining 3rd place in the Rings Final. After the championships the National squads were selected with L. Nylund in the senior squad and P. Whitford and N. Porter in the junior squad.

From the results of this year's competitions, it can be clearly seen that the gymnasts are prominent in all age groups, and once again we must pay tribute to Mr. Kovacs for his dedicated work on which the success of the club depends. Lindsay Nylund.

- THE COMING OF AGE -CHRIST CHURCH GYM. CLUB'S 21ST YEAR

(A short History of Gymnastics at Christ Church)

The earliest record of gymnastics at the school is a photograph in the 1931 Mitre of a gym display given by the boys.

During the 1930's the gymnastics went from strength to strength. Displays evolved into competitions and the standard of competition rose with each successive School Championship - or so we are led to believe by the reports in the Mitres of this period.

Support of gymnastics reached such a high point in the early 40's that House competitions were successfully conducted. The 1947 editions of the Mitre records the largest number of competitors in the School Championships to that date and we are told that the competition was the keenest it had ever been.

No gymnastic reports are to be found in the Mitres for many years, after 1947. The Gym. Club seems to have disappeared as suddenly as it appeared. The school gymnasium of the 30's and 40's was what is now known as the Senior Biology Lab. (Room 6). It is apparent from photographic and written records that the Club possessed extremely good equipment. The fate of this equipment is rather mysterious - it is believed that some of it was burnt. following the Club;s drastic decline. Surviving gear was used by P.E. classes in the years that followed.

The "pure" sport was reintroduced to the school in 1955 by the new Physical Education teacher, Mr. Kovacs.

Originally, the Club's only equipment was a home made horizontal bar at the back of Queenslea Boarding house (Walters). Within a couple of years the Club was established in the School Memorial Hall. Most of the equipment in the 50's was built by Mr. Kovacs and much of it is still in use today in the new gymnasium.

The standard of gymnastics has grown steadily since the Club's inception. In less than twenty years the Club went from gaining 2nd place in its first State Championships (1956) to being the winning Australian U/16 team (1974).

1975 has seen a new peak in the Club's history. Our Captain, Lindsay Nylund is almost certainly Australia's greatest ever prospect for International stardom in the sport. Two other boys are in the six member Australian Junior Squad and six members of the Club made one of the nation's best training gyms, something the School can be very proud of. The high standard of our equipment and our gymnastics is all attributable to Mr. Kovacs. To mould the Club from its humble origins into a national force within the sport has been an extremely difficult task. The new school gym stands, in my opinion, as a monument to the untiring efforts of this very dedicated man.

18 LIFESAVING

Back: Centre: Front: C.W.G. Richards, M.R. Gunning N.R. Porter, P.C. Reynolds, D.C. Bowker Esq. M.R. Dawson (Captain), M.R. Dowling B.R. Yeoward, P.S. Connor, T.D. Anderson, R.A. Horley, A. Morlet, M.J.V. Wade

Lifesaving was once again a most successful activity with McClemans taking a clear lead to win the House Carnival and Craigie and Walters second and third respectively. The Chambers Memorial Cup was won by Tim Anderson and very close in second place was Jim Battersby. In the Dale Cup, the toughest event on the programme, Michael Wade showed fine superiority over his opponents to maintain a clear lead from Mark Gunning and Murray Downing in second and third places.

Lifesaving duties were carried on throughout the term by a small group of boys who rostered themselves to take charge of free swims during the after school. The majority of boys in the Senior School gained Royal Lifesaving Awards ranging from Proficiency to Award of Merit.

On 22nd March, teams represented the school in the State Royal Lifesaving Carnival at Beatty Park Aquatic Centre. Even though there were no first places, there were some good performances in all age groups. Murray Dowling and Mark Gunning both swam courageously in the Dale Cup. This trophy is awarded to the winner of this gruelling event in which the person must possess outstanding lifesaving gualities. Congratulations to those boys who received lifesaving colours. Our successes in all our lifesaving activities can be attributed to the organisation and effort of the three Sports Masters, Mr. Marsland, Mr. Bowker and Mr. Kovacs.

The School's achievements were greatly rewarded at the end of the season when Christ Church received two trophies at the Annual General Meeting of the Royal Lifesaving Society. For the second year in succession we were presented with the Bell Trophy awarded to the Independent Boys School making the greatest contribution to Lifesaving in that year. Second was the Hanrahan Trophy awarded to the school making the greatest contribution to resuscitation.

Special mention must be made of Mr. Kovacs, the Senior School Physical Education master. This year he was awarded a Royal Lifesaving Service Cross, the highest international award given by the Lifesaving Society. Mr. Kovacs was the only individual in the State to be awarded the Cross this year. It is in recognition of his enormous contribution to all aspects of Lifesaving. Boys who have passed through the school over the last twenty one years have benefited from his dedicated work and are most appreciative.

19 CHESS

P.C. Reynolds, B. Whittaker Esq., M.J. Millward, D.A. Storer, R. Deeley, S.B. Stearns.

This year, chess has again been a sport in which the School has been very succesful. We entered five teams in the inter-schools competition; played 45 matches, winning 30, drawing 9 and losing only 6. A total of 26 boys represented the School in the various teams.

The "A" team came second in the premier league, with a final game score of 25.5 - 10.5 The team consisted of Michael Millward, Peter Reynolds, David Storer and, at different times during the season, David Utting, Ray Deeley and Steve Stearns.

The "B" team, comprising Steve Stearns, Laurie Archer, Michael Wood and assorted other 4th and 5th years and the J1 team (Ray Deeley, David Lang, Graeme Smith, Michael Ellies and Tim Stephenson) were entered in the Secondary A league. The B team came 4th with a game score of 22.5 - 13.5. The J1's were more successful and reached the semi-finals but were unfortunately beaten by Guildford. Their final game score was 26.5 - 12.5

In the Secondary Reserves League, we performed better. The 'C' team and the J2 team both reached the semi-finals where the 'C' team defeated the J2's and went on to convincingly beat Trinity 4 - 0 in the Grand Final replay (after drawing the first attempt 2 - 2). The members of the J2 team were Darryl Deeley, Simon Sedgely, Pradeep Jayasuriya and Mark Alderson (game score 20.5 - 11.5) while the victorious 'C' team consisted of Michael Mills, Peter Herman, Michael Butcher, Richard Pestell and Dean Archer. (game score 29 - 7).

During the May school holidays, the State Junior Chess Championships were held in the Memorial Hall. 14 boys from Christ Church entered and the best results were: Open: Michael Millward fourth (6.5 - 9), Peter Reynolds 5th (5.5 -9);Under 16: Tim Stephenson 4th (5.5 - 9), David Lang 8th (5 - 0) and Under 15: Simon Sedgely 13th (4 - 7). In addition, Michael Millward won the State Junior Lightning Chess Championship and Tim Stephenson was awarded a prize for being judged the most improved player. Christ Church won the Schools' prize, the Sheard Trophy, with 123.5 points, 48.5 ahead of the second placegetter.

Christ Church won the Boan's Trophy at the Garden City Tournament in September with 100.5 points (30.5 ahead of our nearest competitor). Individually, Michael Millward won the tournament with 7 .5 - 9. Peter Reynolds was 3rd (7 - 9), Ray Deeley 6th (6 - 9) and David Storer 9th (6 - 9), 14 boys represented the School in this event.

The Inter-House competition was played in First Term. The results were:

Romsey 1, Wolsey 2, Jupp 3.

Finally, I would like to thank Mr. Whittaker, who is unfortunately leaving at the end of the year, for all the work he has done in building up Junior Chess, not only in Christ Church where, under his influence, we have developed into the best chess playing school in the State, but also in the various other tournaments etc. where his contribution has been invaluable.

Michael Millward - Chess President.

20 HOUSE NOTES

NOAKE	Housemasters:	Mr. J.A. Pemberton Mr. R.E. Merrells Mr. A.H. London Revd. A.G. Dutton
	House Officials: Captain: Vice Captain:	Peter Whitford "Pierre" Horwitz
Noake b	egan the year well	with a good result in the House Swimming Championships. The team was Horwitz's brainchild and it was pleasing to note the large number of Noake competitors. However the Noake tradition of participation by as many people as possible slackened somewhat this year after the Swimming, with the result that only mediocre results were achieved in the Lifesaving and Chess.

In the Athletics Noake did well to gain 3rd place behind the two boarding houses. Unfortunately we were let down by many people and it was the excellent results of enthusiastic individual members which enabled us to gain the position we did. The spirit among those who did compete was excellent and it is worth noting that we always had a full complement in our Tug-of-War teams - more than can be said for many houses.

Although contributions could have been better it is noteworthy that our house was always top of the list in the Social Service ccollections.

Many excellent performances in various aspects of school life were achieved by individual members of the house. Noake can be proud of its champion swimmers and athletes, football, cricket, hockey and tennis players, gymnasts, debaters, chess players, rowers, rugby players and cadets. The individuals are too numerous to be mentioned here but they are all deserving of our congratulations. Hopefully, under the leadership of some of the prominent younger individuals the house will be set for a promising future.

Good luck Noake.

Peter Whitford.

Term 1.

Treasurer:

This was Craigie's most successful term gaining a second in both the swimming and life saving carnivals. Under the direction of captain Rory Doyle and individual efforts from Peter Connor, Graeme Radford, Mark Gunning, Sean Walsh and Rohan Pixley (under 14 champion), Craigie showed consistent form in the two carnivals. Special mention should be made to the excellent effort by the whole under 13 and 14 team which is very promising for years to come.

In cricket and tennis, Craigie did well in fielding several players in both teams. Term 2

Craigie once again followed on from last year to show consistently in great participation in the football, hockey and rugby. This was seen throughout the Senior and Middle School.

The House chess team led by Michael Millward, for the second year in succession, managed to finish in 5th place. The Middle School participation in the House Chess Competition was slightly down on last year. Term 3

Craigie showed consistently on last year's Athletic Meeting by being placed in 6th position again. Individual efforts worth mentioning by House members were Tom Williams, Peter Hammond, Graeme Radford, Richard Dale, Danny Beard. Well done to Peter Hammond on gaining vice captaincy for the School's athletic team. This year we also won our first tug of war against Romsey. It was good to see that all boys participated in some way or another.

The Cross country team was well represented in all age groups, with a good effort put in by all.

Due to our poor organisation in the three minor sports, basketball, softball and squash, these all got off to a late start. The teams look strong however and should do well in a close competition.

Craigie has had a year of fluctuating fortunes in the field, but there has been keen House spirit and enthusiasm throughout the year. Our thanks must go to Mr. Zahra for his untiring guidance and encouragement, and to the other House masters for their support.

Further acknowledgements for a successful and happy year must also go to our House Captain, Graeme Radford and to our fleet footed treasurer, Phillip Mutton.

R. Doyle.

JUPP	Housemasters:	Mr. C.H. Watkins Mr. C.J. Williams Mr. R.T. Woollett Mr. K.W. Hopkins
	House Officials: Captain: Vice Captain: Secretary:	John Tregonning Richard Pestell Rodney Bills

During First Term Jupp took an active part in the Inter-House Swimming and Lifesaving competitions. Our team was well organised by Clive Richards (one of Jupp's star swimmers, as is Adam Golding). In Second Term Jupp proved to be a house of non-runners as we came equal 6th in the Inter-House Cross Country. Jupp was further defeated in an impromptu boxing match with Juppean Ferrier requiring transport from the sports grounds in an ambulance.

Minor games through the year included a memorable Softball match against Noake in which our secret weapon, Dave (Psycho) Johnson turned up with his Jocks on the outside of his P.E. shorts to dazzle our opponents. Unfortunately the trick didn't work and we lost the match.

Collections from Jupp were fairly good with a particular effort being made by the Middle School as organized by Mr. Woollett. Finally the Inter-House Athletics saw Jupp 4th which was a good effort. Of particular interest was our Housemaster Mr. Watkin's 3rd position in the Masters' 100 metres sprint. On the whole Jupp had a very reasonable year.

McClemans has made even better progress this year than last. For instance we won the House Life Saving with brilliant efforts from W. Carrington-Jones, P. Moyes and many others who also gained first places.

In House Swimming we tried hard and managed 4th place which shows we need more effort. As yet we haven't played off the basketball or squash but we stand a good chance of doing well in both.

However in the Athletics we can well lift our heads and puff out our chests as we took first place with an easy 20 point lead on Walters, with excellent performances from people such as J. Christison, W. Carrington-Jones, R. Metcalfe and many others ! haven't room for. In Cross Country we came second to Walters with the stars being in the distance events. In the Under 17 the results were: 1st J. Annear, 4th B. Waddilove, 5th A. Haslam, 6th R. Metcalfe. In other events A. Metcalfe and R. Guinness did well in their respective age groups.

The last sport we won was the House Shooting where we took first place. B. Rees came first (in the School) and second was R. Cook with T. Haslam coming ninth. A very good performance by those who competed in their sports and I feel with a little more effort next year we shall win almost everything.

First Term we saw the start of the swimming with Murray Dowling, Fred Williams and Lindsay MacRae gaining places in the P.S.A. Inters with Murray 'Duck' Dowling going on to compete in the State Life Saving Championships. He made his way into two teams and two individual events.

Tennis got off with a roaring start early First Term with four members from Walters House in the 2nd VI, and Bruce Clarke in the latter part of the year making his way into the 1st VI. We were also well represented in the younger age groups.

Cricket this year saw Thomas 'J' Little the medium fast bowler from Waroona top the batting average. Steve Bailey also showed form and gained 12th Man on numerous occasions.

Rowing was well represented once again with John Pridham stroke of the 1st VIII, and Rupert Oddie, Guss Gilmour, Matthew Hawkes and Crisp Grylls all stroking well at the 'Head of the River'. The coxes of the House were Nigel Harding, Hal McKenney and Dave 'Nipper' Forrester who all swam well at the 'Head of the River'.

Second Term saw the posts hauled up for the footy season with Neil 'Achiles Jones' Turner, the star full back from Corrigin, being elected as committeeman by fellow Walters House reps in Kim Bevan, Steve Bailey, Alan Tilbrook, Bruce Smith and Thomas (J) Little who fell on his ankle and unfortunately broke it, pulling out for the rest of the season. The Under 16 football teams were also well represented by members of Walters House.

The mighty 1st XV was also well stocked by Walters, with Max Meikle (Captain), fellow toughman Dave 'Twiggy' Forrest, Ian Hartley who used his weight to advantage, John Pridham, Paul (Pugsly) Taylor and Rupert Oddie. Hockey!

Not a great many 'fellows' playing hockey in the House this year but an up-and-coming 1st XI star was caterer J.J. House.

Cross Country this year was well organized by Captain Justin Johnston who competed in the State Open Championships. Other members from the House competing in the State Championships were the running Rodgers Twins and Mitch all in the U/16 division.

Third Term was the start of hard training for the "Aths", especially for the middle distance runners who were closely supervised by Mr. Marsland. Members of the House who were in the P.S.A. Inters were: T. Little, N. Hills, R. Oddie, W. Atkins, W. Shepperd, R. Norrie, R. Fletcher, B. Smith and R. Clarke the U/14 school champion.

Having completed an unsuccessful year in the major House sporting events, we look back upon our efforts:

The House had many individual champions in a wide variety of activities. In Chess, Queenslea were not placed in the first four, but, nevertheless, competed strongly to avoid being last in the field. In Debating Queenslea has won Round One, and at time of writing I would say that on form we can win the other two debates to come. Confidence is our strong point. In the minor sports, Queenslea had a superb victory over McClemans in softball and in third term we have won all our games to date. In the active sports, Queenslea was well represented. In the swimming team there were Battersby, Hanlon; in the 1st. XI Hockey we had Greg Kidd, Peter Moran, Eric Silver. In the 1st. XVIII we were represented by Grant Russell and in the Inters Athletics team, there were Greg Kidd and John Phillimore.

Meanwhile, back at H.Q. in the Physics Laboratory, the nerve centre of Queenslea, we congratulate Matthew Bogle for his untiring work. Supported by big Rod, the Queenslea colle ctions have been very consistent and forthcoming every week. Perhaps this was the reason for the tuckshop's profit in first term, Matthew!

Our thanks must go to Mr. O'Hara, Mrs. Fortune, Mr. Mountier and also the curator of our home pitch (Room 15) Mr. Morrissy, commonly seen under a pile of dangerous physics apparatus.

In addition our best wishes to Mr. O'Hara on his new career (in retirement) and also to my helpers. Eric Silver and Pete Meat Moran. We hope that next year Queenslea can perform even greater wonders.

This year Wolsey House opened up the season with some very enthusiastic support for our swimming and life saving teams captained by Messrs. Palmer and Humphrey respectively. Enthusiasm was not enough. We came way back amongst the "also swams". During the winter months we had some excellent shooting results from Cpl. Yeoward (49/50) and Cadet Lindsay Jones (49/50) plus numerous other first class shots with mention going to Sgt. Oswald and R.S.M. Nicol gaining 44 and 45 respectively. As a matter or fact 49% of Wolsey cadets were 1st. class shots.

In the Cross Country we had some very good individual placings with Seward 2nd in U/)14, Stone 6th in U/14, Andrew Barker came 8th in the U/17 event and Mark Bardwell with a brilliant finish came 3rd in the Open event.

In softball, we put up stiff resistance to a determined Craigie side but the environmental conditions were on the Craigie side and we lost by a

In Athletics Wolsey made a brilliant effort to come an outstanding 5th place. This was only brought about through the tireless efforts of our athletes and the ever present gentle persuasion of Mr. Davies.

First Term saw ne year. This was the v House Swimming Carnival. We were ably supported by stars like: M.H. Bingemann J.W. Lanier M.R. Dawson M.L. Barrett P.C. Reynolds D.L. Huntley in their respective age groups.

The Inter-House Chess title was another "feather in our cap", with P.C. Reynolds, L.R. Archer, M.J. Butcher and M.R. Dawson winning the Senior School Competition easily. Although the Middle School team fared moderately, their contribution was enough for our overall success.

Romsey did not fare as well in Second Term. Winter Sports saw us come in the bottom three Houses on points, while Debating, Cross-Country and the "Minor Sports" Competitions gave us little hope of keeping our position.

The Athletics Carnival, in third term, was most disappointing. After much organization of teams by our Athletics Captain A. (Gus). Loh, and yours truly Romsey drifted to 8th position for the second time in three years. It eventuated that most of our points came from the better few once again, but I must say that although this happened, overall participation and enthusiasm was most encouraging.

Boys with little ability at all in some events, were prepared to go in them, just for the sake of gaining House points.

Whilst on the subject of sport and participation, I would like to take the opportunity to congratulate Peter Reynolds for gaining an Honour Blazer, and Neil Porter for achieving 8th position in the U/19 Division of the Australian Gymnastics Competition. Peter, for those who don't know, is the school's second best chess player, (5th in the Junior State Titles this year) is a member of the 1st XI Hockey and one of the best swimmers for his age, at the school.

Finally I'd like to wish all Romsey members and its House Masters, all the success they deserve in future years.

SOCIETIES AND ACTIVITIES

21 MUSIC

INSTRUMENTAL MUSIC

1975 was a year of depth for instrumental music at Christ Church. Chamber music and solo work were encouraged as much as large ensemble work. The main reason for this was the introduction by Mrs. Jefferies of lunchtime concerts. These have been held roughly every two weeks throughout the year. Even though attendance was sometimes non-existent from the Senior School, the regular Prep. and Middle School audience provided invaluable practice in performance for musicians of all levels of development. I hope these concerts are continued, because they provide the students with an opportunity of performing and they show firm evidence that there is life in the Chapel Undercroft.

The major concert this year was the "Evening of Music" which was a joint project between Christ Church Grammar School and St. Hilda's. It consisted of a wide variety of groups including a brass octet, the St. Hilda's Boarders' Choir, a chamber orchestra made up of strings and woodwinds, a wind orchestra, and the Mozart Comic Operetta "Bastient and Bastienna". Both performances went very well, despite the general panic surrounding the opera in the final (and only) week of full rehearsals.

Other highlights of the year were the centenary of the Loreto Schools in which four brass players and one timpanist participated; Mrs. Scrimgeour's excellent organ recital, visits to the School by the Melbourne Schools Symphonic Band, the Flamenco guitarist Peter McCreedy and the youth concert by Yehudi and Hephizbah Menuhin and the Menuhin Festival Orchestra.

At time of writing we are preparing for our endof-year celebrations: an Open Day concert, an end-of-year concert, and music for the Service for the opening of the new buildings.

In closing, I'd like to thank Mr. Ullman and Mrs. Jefferies, who put up with our noise even at its most unbearable; Mrs. Scrimgeour who helped with the opera and played organ for the brass octet and wind orchestra; the dulcet-toned Mr. Mountier, who co-ordinated the opera; and Mrs. Sadler whose pianists were at last discovered this year, in the lunchtime concerts.

Choral Society

THE CHORAL SOCIETY

The Choral Society, formed by Mr. Gifford at the beginning of this year, has had a very pleasing response especially from IVth and Vth Year as well as from the Middle School.

Our main function as a society is to promote singing and to enrich musically the life of the School. In this way we have had great success.

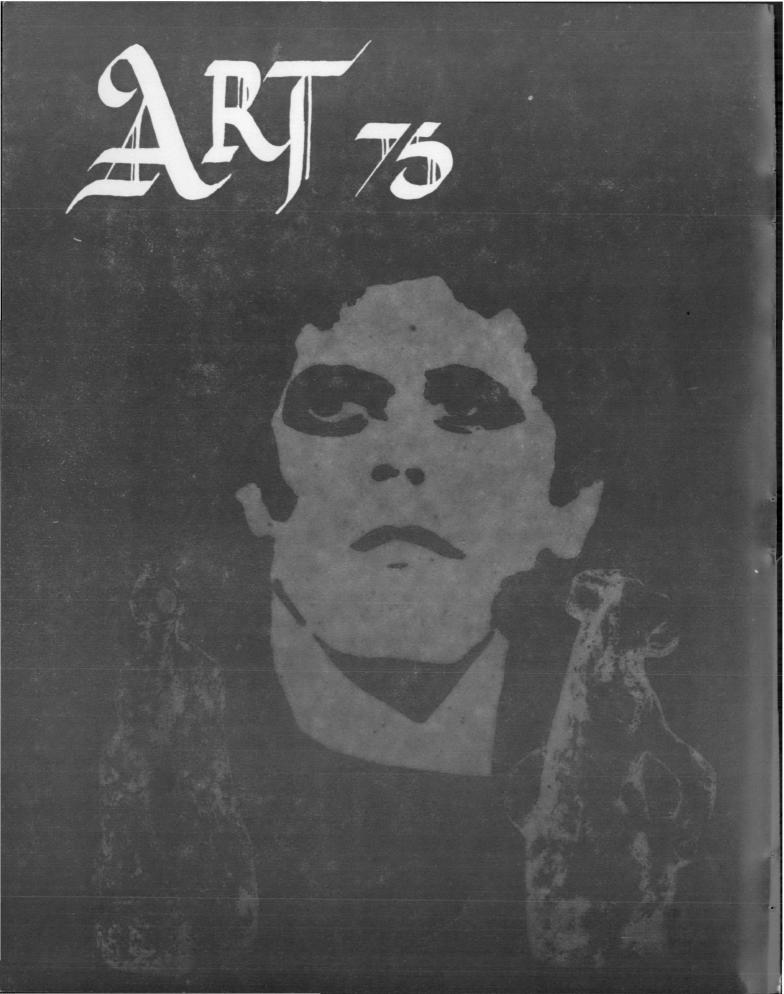

Our ventures this year have included the performance of a small Schubert Mass with organ accompaniment, under Mr. Gifford. In Second Term Mr. Gifford left us to continue full-time university study and we wish him the best of luck. Mrs. S. Scrimgeour filled his place and under her guidance and with backing from the orchestra, we took part in "Bastien and Bastienna" jointly with St. Hilda's.

For our Christmas concert various works will be performed, including a work by the German composer Heinrich Schutz called "The Christmas Story".

Our successes with all these performances has been due to the great support from members of the School. With continued support, this activity will be as rewarding in years to come as it has been this year.

Preparatory School Choir

This year in the intellectual section of the school, we have seen a high standard of work set. The younger section of the school have produced some high standards of work, at times showing up the upper school.

all die

M. Dodds and P. Moran of the Upper School have both set a very high standard of Art and M.O'Shaughnessy has surprised all by winning the senior prize for the School Arts Competition at Two Rocks.

> The School Exhibition was very successful with B. Roberts, 4th Year, displaying some excellent pottery and D. Hankey showing us that the 1st.years are capable of walking off with the painting prize.

Mr. Nelson, the Art Teacher is leaving at the end of this year and we are sure some others will benefit as much as we have by his teaching. We are sorry to see him go and wish him the best of luck for the future.

23 KOORINGAL

The task of renovating the huts and providing essential services was completed by mid-October. It is now possible to use the camp in all seasons. We are grateful to the Fathers, the Kooringal Club, for their work which included the external and internal painting. The School staff have provided and prepared materials for the Club as well as carrying out essential repairs and improvements.

During the year it was possible for parties to use Kooringal though the conditions in the winter term were somewhat spartan. Groups from all sections of the School have occupied the camp. Early in February, the Prefects Committee and four members of staff spent a weekend planning for the year ahead. On the Sunday most of the parents joined the group for a barbecue lunch, a swim and look over the camp area. The largest group to take up residence has been the Cadet Unit which held a three-day bivouac. The Cadets learned just how rugged the country really is. The pioneers built their flying fox, the canoeists came down the river and the orienteers were out for 12 hours at a stretch. One two occasions music parties have spent two to three days preparing themselves for major musical occasions, the Special Education School classes occupied the camp for a fortnight and the Inter School Christian Fellowship and a Middle School party spent week-ends there. Now that the camp is basically complete, further groups will be moving to Kooringal in the remaining weeks of the year.

There are specific aims. The first is the development of a course in environmental studies which will be broad and wide-ranging in its units of work. The units will be progressive and at greater depth for older boys. The second aim is the use of the camp and surrounding country by such groups as the Natural History Club, the Adventure Group, geography, history and biology classes both at week-ends and during the week. Finally the camp school will become a seminar centre for prefects physical fitness and sporting groups, music, chess, languages, staff and the confirmation groups.

During the year Kooringal has been used in these three ways. The possibilities are vast and the opportunities interesting, stimulating and demanding. There is the challenge of coming to terms with the environment in the fullest meaning of that word, of developing initiative and qualities of leadership and of learning to work as a member of a team each one making use of his own special gifts and skills.

24 ACTIVITY GROUPS

I.S.C.F.

The I.S.C.F. has had a very satisfying year, providing a great challenge to those continuing the work in the future.

We have concentrated upon the first and second year students for the majority of this past year. All of the meetings have followed a similar pattern throughout the year. Starting with a short physical activity, this would be followed by the major section of the meeting, varying from discussions on a set theme to films, film strips, speakers, or just an informal discussion. The meetings would close with announcements and prayer. This format has been enjoyed by all and people were obviously learning and experiencing the Holy Spirit in the meetings.

A major event in our calendar for this year was a weekend camp at Kooringal which was attended by 20 boys from first and second years. One of the main features was canoeing which many people enjoyed despite the freezing waters of the Murray River. A lot of campers descended sets of rapids and many were able to capsize their canoes which only made the camp much more fun. More importantly we had our guest speaker, Dr. Chappell who led us very well in discussions on the Christian faith. This was much appreciated by everyone and provided the strong central core of our weekend's activities.

Some of the diversions of the camp included table tennis and pool which were played when it was raining.

An important function in third term was the Area Meeting held at the School. A large number of Christ Church boys were in attendance and sharing their thoughts with members of other I.S.C.Fs. throughout the metropolitan area - an interesting and rewarding experience.

Our thanks must go to Mr. Morrissy for continual support and practical help throughout the year and we pray that the group may continue in the years to come.

Computer Club Can we have mid-day movie next sir?

COMPUTER CLUB

A modest article in a December "West Australian" announced to the world that Mr. P.T. Zahra had been granted $14,948 by the Australian Schools Commission Innovations Programme, with which to purchase a computer for a certain Christ Church Grammar School. The amazed Christ Church computing enthusiasts arrived at school on Tuesday the 11th of February not knowing quite what to expect for $15,000.

I don't think any were disappointed. There were now limitless possibilities in an activity which had previously been restricted to writing elementary MINIWAFT programs at the end of the year to fill in time during Maths lessons.

A computing club was formed consisting of about twenty Fourth and Fifth Year students. With no precedents to guide us, our aims this year were mainly experimental; computing was largely restricted to being an extra-curricular activity. We aimed to determine the optimum number of members, how much organisation was necessary and in general what the best means were of using this almost unique facility.

It was felt by many members that we were not involving enough students considering the initial outlay; that we were not stimulating enough interest in an area that in the future will become more and more relevant to our daily lives, and thus merits an integral place in the education programme. It is now intended to include computing in the Achievement Certificate mathematics courses at Christ Church.

For this year Computing has been just a hobby of the members, who have written many programs for our WANG 2200B computer, mainly to play games or perform mathematical calculations. The computing display was the most popular one at Open Day as visitors played ten pin bowling, football, blackjack, table tennis, noughts and crosses and many other games with the computer.

On behalf of the Computing Club members, I would like to thank Mr. Zahra for his work in obtaining the grant, his expertise in selecting the computer and his help in the organisation of the Club. J.M. Silbérstein.

Debating Team: A.R. Sutherland, R.G. Pestell, Rev. A.G. Dutton, G.M. Russell, P.R. Whitford,

DEBATING

Debating this year proved to be an activity enjoyed by everyone, infiltrating the lower years to produce an aspiring junior team. Greater status was achieved for the activity through the stoic perseverence of Rev. Dutton and the admirable efforts of the committee in arranging social debates.

The School must congratulate itself in fielding Senior A, B and Junior teams in the inaugural year of the leagues debates. Prior to David Utting leaving, the Senior A team convincingly beat the two semi-finalists socially, only to have the tables turned later in the year. Similarly the A team defeated both St. Mary's and Iona, to be defeated in turn by Wesley who convinced us of the relevance of ethics. Grant Russell did us proud in representing the State. Graeme Crooke, Brett Clugston and John Silberstein promise to emblazen a name for themselves next year, as this Senior B team won two of its four debates against older teams in the senior section of the Secondary Schools' Debating Competition, which during 1975 was run under the aegis of the W.A. Debating League.

Thanks must go to Rev. Dutton in tutoring us to "lie with eloquence", and to the School, especially the boarding houses for their indefatigable support.

LIBRARY

The Library is much indebted to the nine library prefects who worked so hard during 1975. Their loyalty and efforts were greatly appreciated and the library could not have functioned without them. The volunteer workers were: L.R. Archer, R.D. Bills, A.M. Brown, D.D. Beard, M.W. Dodds, R.J. Gibson, J.I. Hall, D.J. McCamey, A.J.B. Scutt.

The students were on duty at morning recess and lunch and each had a shceduled day. Some of the tasks consisted of working at the circulation desk, shelving books, assessioning and covering new books and maintaining the library generally in a presentable and orderly condition during heavy periods of usage. By their example they helped to maintain a working atmosphere in the library.

The library prefects worked hard for Mrs. Brain and Mrs. Hume, our dedicated library aide, and when Mrs. Brain resigned, they redoubled their efforts to help me acclimatize myself to a new situation. They have set a very high standard of performance for future library prefects to follow.

SOCIAL SERVICE

The Social Service Group committee this year perhaps most nearly achieved its goal of involving the whole school in a form of voluntary service to the community. Four intrepid members of the committee successfully tendered to deliver over 7,000 new telephone directories in Nedlands and Dalkeith to raise funds for charity, and the School generally, staff and students alike, rallied to the cause, transporting, loading, unloading, counting and delivering over a period of 3 weeks.

At various times throughout the year, members of the School took part in doorknocks for the Salvation Army, the Red Cross, and Freedom from Hunger. In addition we stood on street corners with collecting boxes for the Civilian Maimed and Limbless Association and Cancer Research.

Causes for which we collected this year were Telateen, The Muscular Dystrophy Research Association, the St. George's Cathedral Restoration Fund and the Speech and Hearing Centre. In Third Term the School was presented with a framed certificate for its continued help in the alleviation of suffering caused by Muscular Dystrophy and allied diseases. An active body of Fifth Year students visited the Lucy Creeth hospital on Wednesdays while their Fourth Year counterparts did their best at Wanslea Home.

I would like to thank Mr. Williams for his assistance and direction, and the committee for its support.

We can therefore look back on a successful and satisfying year and the incoming president and his committee will, I am sure, accept the challenge of achieving yet greater things in 1976.

R.G. Pestell

TUCKSHOP

The Tuckshop, with an enthusiastic committee made satisfactory profits throughout the year. This was made possible, notwithstanding inflation, by keeping up to date with the wide range of sweets and ice creams available. The profits were divided between the Rowing Club, the Social Service Group and paying for a new School flag.

Since the tuckshop first began, its present premises have had a battering and with the growth of the school, facilities have naturally become inadequate.

Plans are being made to house the tuckshop in the new building, so 1976 should see an improvement in service with an easing of congestion. Let us hope that this will result in an improvement in the behaviour of our customers.

Finally I would like to thank the outgoing committee for their sense of responsibility and also the prefects for support in maintaining order.

CHAPEL COMMITTEE

During 1975 we have had a varied and interesting assortment of speakers. All were worth hearing; three were memorable: The Premier - Sir Charles Court M.P., Mr. Peter Wherrett, compere of the A.B.C. programme "Torque" and well known racing car driver and Mr. Rodney Marsh captain of the Western Australian cricket team and Australian wicketkeeper.

The Premier shared his insights into leadership telling us that when decisions are made only a small minority will actively support or oppose, that the majority will follow the lead given. He pointed out that in many walks of life only a few persons, "the dirty dozen" will actually get things done.

Peter Wherrett had the most intense audience seen and not heard for some time. He got a message across to everyone, drivers and nondrivers alike, as he talked of man's love hate relationship with the car.

Rod Marsh spoke of the importance of dedication and told of Ross Edward's determination to become a test cricketer and highlighted the value of team spirit and the sense of mateship that so characterise Australian test teams.

Many other speakers from a wide spectrum of interests, commanded the attention of the full Senior School Assembly on other Tuesday mornings. Rabbi Themal and Dean (now Bishop) Hazelwood spoke on religious issues; others spoke on topical matters like Medibank and Conservation, the work of the Community Recreation Council and Telateen.

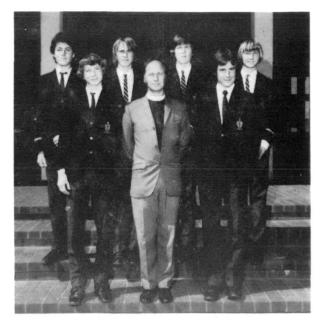

Apart from arranging guest speakers the Committee has played its part in assisting at special services and a variety of functions held in the Chapel. There is a very real need for student participation in the running of the Chapel. We hope we have been of service and urge interested boys to take an active role in 1976.

END OF ANOTHER ERA

Owing to the serious economic situation facing this country today, Pound International, and subsidiary companies, which perhaps epitomised true capitalism and free enterprise, have been forced out of the country.

Never again will such a brilliant enterprise grace Australia. Pound International has moved to friendlier economic and political shores to carry on its good work. Chile and Argentina offer ideal conditions for a company such as ours and we trust that lost articles will gain real status amongst unlettered, tinted Spanish persons.

Messrs. Hill, Croft, Dodds, Clarkson, Hobbs and Hawkins will all be shortly leaving to take up new positions in our new offices. Patron Dutton has blessed us and promises us that He is on our side.

Vice-Patron "Khemlani" Heaton has taken up his new post as economic advisor to the National Country Party and we are sorry that he is not accompanying us to the countries where real freedom exists - the freedom to make vast sums of money, and exploit people for the cause of free enterprise.

The End of an Era

"...The Australian Government has decided to abolish the army cadet corps. The decision will affect 33,000 army cadets throughout Australia and will save about $9 million a year..."

"The news the army cadet units will be abolished was greeted with disbelief at the Northam training area...The boys reacted with astonishment..."

Ref: "West Australian" (26/8/75).

The cadet unit is dead.

However, during the last 3 years we have been developing "Adventure Training" Activities such as pioneering, rescue techniques, first aid, signals, canoeing, bushcraft, navigation, orienteering and many other associated activities. We are determined to continue this form of Adventure Training in 1976. Long live the "Adventure Group!!" Withdrawal of support for the cadet corps by the Austrlian Government will necessarily alter the nature and structure of our unit for 1976. Let us therefore, cherish the memories of 1975.

There were a great many highlights and outstanding achievements by members of the unit. They deserve to be remembered!!

The Year in Brief

a) Our Fearless Leader....

The first tragedy befell the unit when we realized that Capt. Fraser would not be able to accompany the unit on either of its 2 bivouacs or on the annual camp. His experience, organizational ability and mere presence were sadly missed.

b) Kooringal Bivouac

Our first bivouac was held down at "Kooringal". All cadets slept in the bush but used the showering and toilet facilities on the property.

Junior cadets participated in a 15 mile navigation - endurance exercise while senior cadets were involved in canoeing, rescue and other initiative exercises designed to develop leadership skills.

Though 160 cadets at one time, rather overtaxed the facilities, I believe that we all came to realize the tremendous potential Kooringal holds as a centre from bushcraft and navigation activities.

c) Farewell "Wheels"

Regrettably the Kooringal bivouac was Lt. Wheeler's last with our unit. Thanks for everything "Wheels", we wish you well for the future in New Zealand.

d) Bindoon Bivouac

Our second successful bivouac was held at Bindoon. During the weekend all cadets gained further experience in "living-in-the-field", mapwork, navigation, both by day and by night and bushcraft. A range practice was held, enabling cadets to fire the SLR on the computerized - mechanical range.

A highlight for the senior cadets was "Operation Chickenfeed"...Who said "chooks" are hard to cook?!!

e) August Camp

The year's activities culminated in the annual camp at Northam. During the seven days a tremendous "esprit de corps" developed, and fittingly Christ Church Grammar School won all the inter-unit competitions!

Many challenging construction tasks were attempted such as suspension bridges, flying-foxes, 50ft. flag-poles. In addition, all cadets received instructions on signals procedures and rescue techniques, ran over the "Confidence Course" and competed in several challenging orienteering exercises.

The band developed really well during camp and revealed their true talent at the camp concert. Unfortunately, all good things must come to an end. A Barbecue and film evening concluded an extremely enjoyable camp. A camp only successful due to the enthusiasm and spirit of the whole unit.

f) "Awards"

The Navigation Award for 1975 goes to Sgt. Haslam and his group for their efforts in hiking 12 miles in 35 minutes to end up back at their first START point! ...lost!!

The "Galloping Gourmet's" Award goes to Cadet Audas and his group for bringing back their "chook" - uneaten!

The "Animal-Act" Award goes to the group who plucked their "chook" prematurely!!

The "Inventors" Award goes to Cadet Barrett and his group for their "QUASIMODO - SOZ-MOID"!

And finally, the Courage Award goes to "Jumbo the Elephant".

g) The Future

There is no doubt that it is going to be much more difficult to continue our Adventure Training Activities without Army support. However, the challenge is there to be faced. The rewards are extremely worthwhile.

A special thanks to Capt. Pate and Lt. Cramer for their efforts. Both will be leaving our unit this year. Thanks also must be extended to Mark Gorman, Craig Williams, Ric Brine, Alex Leggat and Lt. Peter May.

Thanks to all members of the "power" structure for all the efforts they have put into this year's activities.

1975 has been a memorable year. Let us face up to 1976 and ensure that it will be an even greater success!

PREPARATORY SCHOOL

26 PREPARATORY SCHOOL

During the year all classes from Grade 5 to Grade 7 had the opportunity to camp at Kooringal for several days and the Special Education Class went down there together with their parents on two occasions. In addition there were two Preparatory School Music Camps. These involved the boys in both instrumental and vocal performances, but they also had informal sing-songs, camp-fire concerts, listening sessions and many physical activities such as swimming, walking, ball-games and tug-of-war. Kooringal abounds in reptiles, waterlife and bird-life and many kangaroos were sighted by the boys of the Special Education Group in September. Now that the electricity is connected, life at Kooringal is rather less rigorous than it was, but there remain many opportunities for the boys to benefit from the natural surroundings.

The Red Cross continued its First Aid classes in Second Term and there was a 100% pass at the end of the course. The need for such instruction has become more immediate with the number of boys who are going to Kooringal for camps so in addition to these classes the groups are given basic instruction in first aid just prior to departure. Many charities were supported during the year with the usual total of over $200 to the Save The Children Fund during third term. We continued to collect telephone books for the Slow Learning Children's Group in October. Altogether the boys have collected approximately 20,000 books over the past six years mainly through the stimulus of a keen House competition. Storage of the books always poses a problem but the inconvenience is well worth the effort because the books are shredded by the slow learning children to be used for packaging and apart from the financial and occupational benefits, the recycling of the paper has an intrinsic conservational value.

At the start of the year, Mr. John Cramer an Old Boy of the school, joined the staff to take Grade 3, and Mr. G. Wilson joined us at the beginning of Third Term to replace Mr. Keeley who went overseas on long service leave. There will be some changes in the coming year. Mr. J. Sheldrick will be leaving to further his studies in Melbourne, Mrs. Cowan is to join the staff of St. Mary's Girls School and the Rev. Harry Booth, our Chaplain, is retiring. All three have been very much a part of the school. We are sorry that they are leaving us and we wish them well in their new ventures.

The 1st XI had rather a short season playing only two matches. One match was washed out, this being against Wesley. Our first match was against Hale. We won the toss and sent them into bat. They were dismissed for 41 runs. We started badly but a stubborn innings by White, 13 and also Hutchinson, 8 saved the day and we won. We played Trinity next, we batted first scoring 35. Trinity easily overhauled this score and won.

29 GYMNASTICS

The Prep. School Gym. Club has been very successful this year. The number of gymnasts increased by seven since last year because there were only two in the Gym. then.

We came third in the under 14 Division in the State Gymnastics Competition. The success we achieved would not have been possible without the guidance of Mr. Kovacs.

The Prep. School tennis championships are on the go now but surprisingly there are only half as many entries as there were last year.

Our Athletic year began with the Mini Carnival which was held at Mt. Claremont on the 2nd of October between St. Louis, Scotch, Hale and Christ Church Preparatory School.

Outstanding performances from Christ Church were 10 y.o. W.A. Dunne, 11 y.o. S.R. Pate, 12 y.o. I.D. Archer.

These were followed by the Prep. School Sports on the 9th October, again at Mt. Claremont. The successful house this year was Craigie with 378 points followed by Romsey 306 1/2, Wolsey 294 1/2 and Queenslea 286. The only two records broken were the 10 y.o. 200 metres by W.A. Dunne in 31.6 and the 12 y.o. High Jump by I.D. Archer with 1.48m. A.J. Hutchinson performed well in all his events. The Interzone Carnival was held at Aquinas on 16th October. Christ Church won six events and they were the 10 y.o. B.50 metres by Carrington-Jones and he also won the 10 y.o. hurdles. The leader ball team won in a time of 2 mins. 45 secs.

The 800 metres was won by A.J. Hutchinson in a record time of 2 mins. 25.4 secs.

The 9 y.o. shuttle relay was won in a time of 50.3 secs., 12 y.o. high jump was won by I.D. Archer with a record of 1.50m.

Our appreciation and thanks go to all the officials and masters whose time and effort make these sports successful and all our form masters for training us and we hope they had as much fun as we did.

I.D. Archer.

32 FOOTBALL

The 1st XVIII had a fair season this year winning 5 out of 9 matches. Our first match was against St. Louis. We won, but if we had better accuracy in front of goals, we could have increased the margin. Final score, 8.8 to 4.4.

The Servite match was extremely close and it wasn't till just before the final bell that we nosed in front. Against Trinity, we lost. They had too much pace for us.

We beat Wesley 3.6 to 1.2 in a very scrambly match. Wall, just fresh from the 2nds, showed that he was good enough to stay in the 1sts in this match.

Scotch we beat convincingly, but the next three matches against Hale, Marist and Aquinas respectively we lost. In the Lightning Premiership, we went dismally, winning only one game, that was against Guildford.

Thanks to Mr. Sheldrick for coaching us to our best.

A. Price (Capt.)

This year we had a pretty good season. We won all but two of our games. One loss was during the season and the other was in the first game we played in the Lightning Premiership. (We won the Plate for the first time for a while). Our goalie had his first season with school and it was a good one. We had a lot of new players who played very well.

MY CAT

I have a lovely ginger cat, with whiskers long and white, He sleeps all day upon the mat but goes away at night. His favourite food is fish and meat and sometimes rat or mouse But when he caught a bird last week he was put outside the house. His name is Rimsky Korsakoph he is two years old His coat is red and white and soft and keeps him warm through winters cold.

THE DUSTBIN

A dirty galvanised can Stands behind the gate. Lid left off, flies buzzing around. An unbearable odour hangs about. An army of ants walk up the side of the can. Empty cans, old rotting lettuce leaves. A fish half wrapped up. Thank goodness the rubbish man comes tomorrow.

FIRE

The flaming fire frizzled and frazzled the fatigued fireman. As they furiously forced the frantic flames further from farms and fodder. The frightened fauna fled from the flaming flora. As the frantic fire flew through the forest.

WIND

Wind gusty wind, Howling through the night. Blowing leaves everywhere and giving us a fright. Bending back the tree tops in every different way. Blowing the clouds across the sky, little ones, big ones, I sit and watch them sail by. Watching the birds live up high I can see them wandering if they dare fly.

JOURNEY THROUGH TIME

Mr. Danvers, struggled with his suitcase - he was already ten minutes late. At last he came to number 214 and rang the doorbell. Professor Pinkerton opened the door, "You're late" he said, "come in and I'll get the time machine ready".

Professor Pinkerton was one of England's top electrical scientists in the year 1780. His electrical inventions were very famous for their efficiency, but his non- electrical inventions were famed for their non-efficiency. Professor Pinkerton's latest invention was a time machine, which was supposed to take people into the future and the past. He had hundreds of pockets all over his coat and trousers with spanners, tape measures, magnifying glasses and goodness knows what else, all tucked away in them.

The time machine was a large panel, 3 metres long which consisted of wires, coloured flashing lights, dials, buttons and finally, a big lamp which, when a red button was pushed let out a beam of light which took you forwards or backwards in time. It had a remote control unit that was taken on time-journeys so that a traveller just had to press a button and he'd find himself back in his own time.

The Professor had devised a space suit which should protect the traveller from the beam of the lamp. He tossed Mr. Danvers one of these and said "Quickly, put one of these on and button it up and then we'll be ready". Under his space suit, Mr. Danvers had a brown coat, tweed trousers and black shoes on, not to mention the usual cap. Under his space suit Professor Pinkerton had his black coat with the pocket and his black trousers (which I have already mentioned) and his tweed cap. Professor Pinkerton nearly forgot to button up his space suit and take along the remote control unit and Mr. Danvers had to remind him several times before he at last stuffed the unit into one of his pockets and buttoned up his suit! Last minute preparations were to put extra food into their suit cases, set the time machine for 300 years in the future in Australia and buckle on the belts on the chairs. Professor Pinkerton pushed the wrong button however and they were catupulted into the roof which they bounced off and landed head-first onto the sofa.

After about five minutes Professor Pinkerton sat up and said "We must be on our way, I can see stars and everything is going round in circles." In reply to this Mr. Danvers just groaned and slumped back onto the sofa.

CHRISTMAS

Christmas is coming, 'tis true, We think of our families and they think of you Christmas is coming so what do you do? Buy presents for them and they for you. Christmas is coming, 'tis true And God sent Jesus for me and for you He was a Saviour, so what did he do? He died on the cross for me and for you. Christmas is coming, 'tis true Do think of others less lucky than you They don't get nice gifts like me and you Do think of others less lucky than you.

SCHOOL IN THE HOLIDAYS

B.J. Doust P7. A week of holidays reconciling me to work I go up to school for the necessary books And find the cleaning ladies in their jumble sale buys. With a slurp of tea here and a slosh with the mop Along the corridors and the caretaker has reeled Eels of flex out from the power points to the squeaky floor- polishers And in the class room I am glad to get out of that dump.

FEET

By Michael Gilmour. P.5.

Today we are going to talk about feet, Some are ugly, some are neat, I think my feet smell rather sweet, And they take me down the street, Which I think is quite a feat.

THE COLLAPSE

The tea was almost boiling and we were all tired. The day's hard work had been strenuous. We had moved all the hay in the paddock into stacks and now in the light and warmth from the campfire we dozed. The stars mingled with the clouds in the sky. The feeling of rain in the air. We all wished it wouldn't rain because, now, with the hay stacked it would be a pity if it rained the night before the putting in the barn was completed.

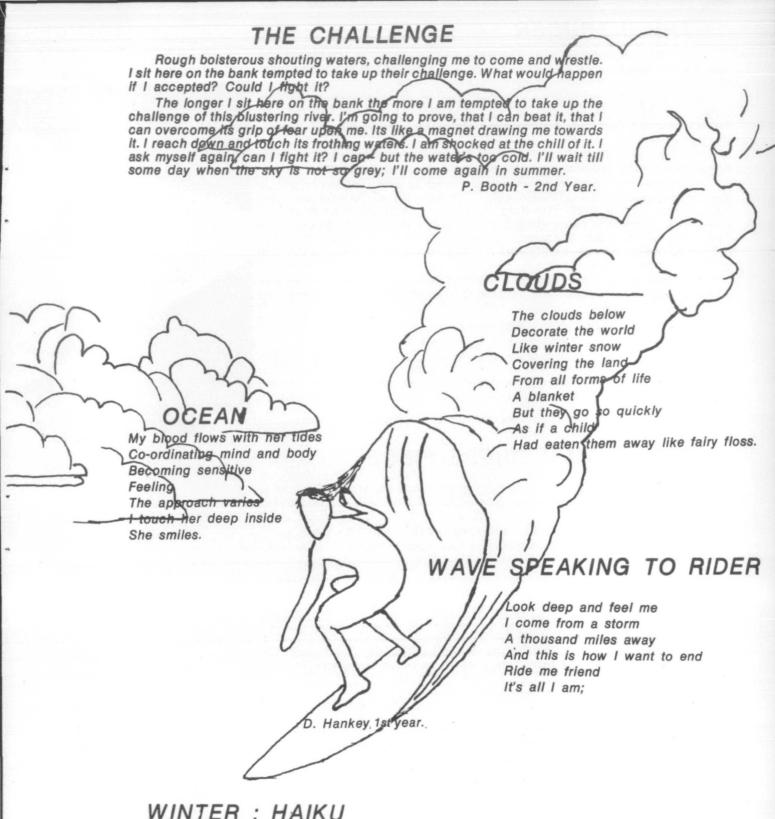

The night went on unceasingly and the fire burnt low. "Hope it doesn't rain", I commented to old Joe.

"No way, it won't rain", he said calmly. The old man would probably be right, they usually are.

Next morning (1 o'clock a.m.) I was woken by a torrential downpour. "The hay!", I screamed, "the hay, it's raining". My shout brought life into every numb body. We were up and off down to the bridge. It wasn't there, the river, a raging torrent, had ripped it off the banks. Further downstream the bridge could be seen on its side having collapsed in the middle. It was impossible to cross the river to save the hay. We just stood and watched. The hay was ruined.

The rain stopped suddenly and the sun broke the misty sky and the world steamed. A fantastic world of sparkling mist and wetness. The bright light was dazzling the water reflecting the light. The hay steamed. In a way the old man was right.

THE INTRUDER

His father would be away for the week so this made him the man of the house as he was the only boy of the family. Some man at ten and a half years old.

Twenty minutes to nine was his bed time so he went upstairs to bed, slowly like he always did. Beside his bed was a chair and there he had placed his dad's golf club, his cowboy knife and a waterpistol, just in case. He was absolutely terrified of intruders in the night.

He slept soundly that night until he was suddenly awakened by some noises downstairs. He was very still but his heart beat faster and harder.

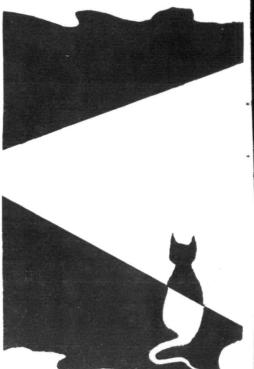

"A burglar", he instinctively thought. "I must be brave." Then he got up and picked up his trusty golf club with a trembling hand and with the other he clutched a small torch. Listening to everything that could be heard, he very slowly proceeded descending down the stairs to where the sound came from. Then he heard another noise. He was now even more frightened but he had some irrestible urge, as if it was his duty to approach the intruder and club him unconscious.

The beam of his torch tore the blanket of darkness around him. He was now downstairs but stopped and thought to himself. Could it be a ghost, the milkman or my sister?

He heard a banging noise, very close by.

This confirmed his guess to him. It must be a burglar.

As he stood in one spot, sure enough, he saw the two shining eyes of the intruder. He was shocked at first and angry but then happy to find out that the thief was somebody he knew well. So he opened the door and put her outside then climbed back upstairs feeling quite stupid in the way he had acted.

THE COSMIC CHESS PIECE

Harry Grayden, American chess champion, enters the world wide chess championships, with Russian champion Vladimir Koskiniv accompanying him.

1939-1943 U.S. and U.S.S.R. enter war against Nazi Germany.

Grayden, at the semi-finals discovers a new gambit that he alone knows. July 16, 1945. The United States tests its first atomic device.

Grayden and Koskiniv defeat their opponents and will meet each other in the final. (Grayden reaches the final using revolutionary moves, Koskiniv used more conventional means),

Aug. 9 1945 the U.S. drops atomic bombs on Japan, Russia invades Japanese held Manchuria.

Koskiniv asks that the final be postponed until he has gotten over his tedious semi-final, secretly using the time to discover Grayden's masterpiece.

August 1949 U.S.S.R. explodes its first atomic bomb.

The game begins.

1st moves:

Grayden, who is white, moves his king's pawn to K4. Koskiniv counters with the same move.

1951 - 1952 U.S. and U.S.S.R. both test atomic devices.

Grayden's 4th move is completely unorthodox, frightening Koskiniv immensely.

November 1st 1952 U.S. explodes its first hydrogen bomb.

A new challenger will play the winner of the finals - Britain's Tommy McHaven.

1952 the British detonate their first atomic devices.

Koskiniv attacks in a drastic manner, immediately after Grayden's move. August, 1953, Russia tests its first H-bomb.

A series of bad moves traps Grayden into inactivity. 1958 U.S. suspends testing.

Koskiniv rests.

1958 U.S.S.R. suspends testing.

A French challenger organises a game with McHaven. 1960 France enters the nuclear world.

Koskiniv attacks in his 20th move, nearly checkmating Grayden, who acts in a panicky manner, checking Koskiniv, with the game and its finish at hand.

Oct. 1962 America accuses Russia of planting missiles in Cuba, blockading the island.

The game steadies remaining static for the next 40 moves, becoming increasingly dull after that.

1972 President Nixon extends the SALT agreement.

Koskiniv, after consolidating his defences attacks.

June 18, 1986 U.S.S.R. starts N-war.

Grayden loses many pawns in defending himself and attacks in turn. June 19, 1986 U.S. deaths put tenatively at seventy million U.S.S.R. parries America's attack.

Grayden loses his rooks in capturing one of Koskiniv's knights.

June 18 1986 B Mews and DEW Lines destroyed Moscos obliterated by NATO Missiles.

Koskiniv presses forward with his attack, capturing a large number of Grayden's pieces.

June 20, 1986 U.S.S.R. invades America's west coast by sea.

Koskiniv captures all but Grayden's queen and king while his forces remain nearly intact.

June 25 1986 Russia defeats America in the last stand battle.

Grayden now accuses Koskiniv of playing a cat and mouse game as Koskiniv chases Grayden's king over the board.

June 26 - 30 1986 Russian forces harry what is left of U.S. forces as they retreat to Washington, D.C.

89th move. Grayden resigns.

July 15, 1986 U.S. surrenders unconditionally.

Koskiniv, outraged at this move, dashes the pieces to the floor. and mutilated Earth revenges itself by breaking up and becoming the sun's second asteroid belt. H. Mortlock,3rd year.

REMEMBERING

Occasionally, on those do-nothing achieve-nothing days, whether it be a blustering cold wet July or a blistering hot sleepless night, your minds eye picks up faint scenes of yesteryear when life was at its best.

You shift positions, stretch your legs out and let your mind wander down endless pathways of thought, which have suddenly opened up before you; scenes of your childhoods, those innocent days.

Looking at your life from the outside-in can reveal many often humorous surprises. Remembering the times you played tricks on your sister - or being caught puffing away behind the garage door. Childhood fantasies, youthful romances, John loves Sally. Dream on. A quick flash-back to your first fight, all yelling and little contact ending in grumbling murmurs and general satisfaction on both sides. Yes those were the days!

Starting school in or around a fair while back, in the neighbourhood primary. This was the beginning of life, your big step into the unknown. No parents for six whole hours! Your mind buzzing as you jockey for position next to your best mate or next to the window overlooking the playground.

Strangely enough you find however that the years which have so drastically changed your life and moulded you into what you are now, are the ones you can't quite remember. Somehow they all tend to fuse into one conglomerate of thought or scene, and no matter how hard you try you can't seem to break them apart. These many years of climbing the ladder of adulthood whiz quickly by and you attempt to grab the trailing edge of one important year to study it, but it too has vanished. Why have I not remembered more?

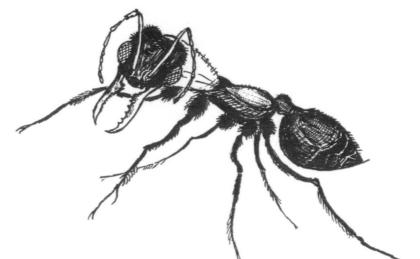

The probing eye of thought stops and you are back in the present. You look about you. You gaze at a tree backlighted by the falling sun and surrounded by waves of grass, swaying gently with the eveningbreeze and you absorb that brief moment of live before it escapes so that in time to come you may be able to look back and remember.

D. Edge - 1st Year.

Three-thirty and a bit. Friday afternoon, on a hot and lazy summer's day. The banging of chairs on desks drowning the noise of the traffic. About sixty kids making their way into the corridor, some thinking, others talking, others running. A tall kid with dark curly hair speaks to the bloke in front of him, a shorter kid with blue eyes. The one in front slows down, letting the other catch him up. "Get there about eleven?" he says, when they are level. "That's right. A bit before if you can". They push and jostle with the others to get through the inadequate doorway. The class next door is being kept behind, and a few linger to taunt (not wait for) those who are still entombed. Once outside, the shorter kid speaks again. "I'll see you there, then", he says a little disjointedly. "See you" says the tail one as they part and adds "hope you make it", more to himself than to his friend who is out of earshot by now anyway. "I do so hope he makes it" he says to himself.

The crowd of school children is dispersing now, but the sun's still beating down, and the noise of the cicadas mingles with that of the traffic. "Should be a good film" the tall one muses to himself. * * *

It's Saturday morning now, about eleven. Outside Cinema Seven, the hugh crowd of ticket- holders is now starting to be ushered in. The shorter one, the one with blue eyes is nowhere to be seen. "Bugger" says the tall one to himself and makes his way into the cinema alone, alone in that vast throng of faces. 'Bugger".

Some three hours later the tall one emerges from the cinema, extruded through the doorway by the pressure of those behind. The noise of the traffic is deafening Chaos. Cars switching lanes, drivers blaring horns, lights changing, brakes squealing and cars colliding (there are two smashed vehicles abandoned on the other side of the road, the tall one looks at but does not really notice them), and all this at as great a speed as possible. There is a continual rush to get somehwere, the centre of town is like an ant's nest, spewing forth cars to rush hither and thither outwards along welldefined trails only to return again sometime. (The difference is there is more organisation in an ant's nest, and fewer ants get killed). He catches a glimpse, then, of his brother's new orange GT Superlative going past, identifiable by the dual black air inlets on the bonnet that lead nowhere. The tall one doesn't like his brother, and he doesn't like being picked up by him, but there is no choice. Buses are grossly overcrowded, few, old, and very far between. The railway lines were ripped up long ago for a nature strip, which has since disappeared. It's far too far to walk, and far too dangerous to cycle. Of course, he could have taken a helicopter from the roof of the Cinema Complex building, but the price was prohibitive. One could only hope that his brother would be able to get into the inside lane the next time round. The tall one hadn't thought to think further of the absence of the shorter one. He'd presumed he'd been killed in a collision, he'd find that out at school on Monday anyway.

The ride home was a typical one. His brother was lucky the third time round - he'd been hit from the rear as he stopped to pick up the tall one but the damage was only superficial. They were negotiating the main streets as usual, if they so desired they could have gone home along the freeway (that's one of the better trails), but trying to get on it doesn't bear thinking about. Moreover, once on, as the tall one's brother knows from bitter experience, it is very hard to get off, especially where you want to.

The tall one only saw his brother for any great length of time when he picked him up from somewhere. His brother had two main sources of enjoyment, driving (usually drinking and driving), and his transient sex affairs, the details of the latest of which were invariably related to the tall one as they found their way home. His brother made love to a chick, as he called them, and then left her, merging into the anynomity of numbers, and much more likely than not never saw his lover again. The tall one thought of his parents. They were one of the few married couples still around, a pair of living fossils (fossils they might have been for all he saw of them); that they had both survived together was undoubtedly due to fact that they drove very little. There was a more than even chance that the tall one would be killed in a road accident before he was thirty. He was aware of that, but never thought much of it. A fact of life...

A severe thump from behind shattered his reverie. His head and shoulders were flung backwards, crashing into the headrest with considerable force. His brother swore, but noted with some interest that it was a police car that had hit them. They weren't often seen nowadays, and did little. What could they do?

The tall one returned to his thoughts. His brother was still swearing and rubbing his neck. The tall one's heart had raced a little, his brother's not at all. The tall one thought of that girl at school, the one who had eyed him the other day, as if sizing him up, measuring herself against him or himself against her. He was repulsed by her; dark hair dyed blonde in streaks, plucked and pecked eyebrows and a smile that reminded him of that of his brother's - crooked. Have it when you can his brother had advised him once. You might be dead tomorrow.

The tall one thought then of his teacher at school. A worn, pale-faced man, their third already this year and all of them useless. He hadn't been there on Friday, they had had a relief teacher. Perhaps he was ill, more likely he was dead. That was another thing he'd find out at school on Monday anyway.

Competition for jobs does not exist, why should it? Job waiting lists are long but mobile - people are killed so fast on the road that no-one is ever unemployed for long. People die, or get a job and then die. There is little or no enjoyment of work; office and teaching jobs abound but there are always too many people, too many people. The tall one is pretty sure that there is a conservative government in power; it seems there always has been for as long as he can remember. Perhaps there always will be. There are no unions. The main sources of enjoyment for most are driving and sex. (Except thinks the tall one to himself, except for me). *

It's Monday morning now, a bit after nine, and everyone's seating themselves for assembly. Nearly everyone. The headmaster appears, a man the tall one recognises but has never spoken to. He begins reading the list of weekend casualties. The tall one strains to hear, catches the name Mr. Reading and suddenly realises why his brother's superlative was in the car park today. "Oh no", their fourth useless teacher and the year not out.

Then the headmaster reads out the name Michael Turnby. The tall one starts. "That's me", he mouths. "I'm not dead". But then in a saving flash of inspiration his momentary panic subsides. They've made a mistake he reasons, or someone of the same name who he didn't know existed (but went to the same school) was killed last weekend. And then he hears the name Henry Ford. That's his friend, the best friend he's ever had. He's dead now, he notes with academic interest, and doesn't even conceive that he should be more than a little sad. For the frightening thing is he doesn't think to consider that things could be anything but what they are. "That's life", he says to himself.

It's to be a common phrase, then.

The Old Castaway

There is, under this sun, a very beautiful sea spotted here and there with many little islands. Possibly the most entrancing of these islands is the island of Hvar. Its greatest feature is its marked contrast in appearance: from green vinefields in the valleys to rugged and rocky terrain on the hills, suitable only for goats and sheep. The coast of Hvar is quite remarkable in that it is composed of myriads of coves and lagoons, many of which are completely unknown to anyone except perhaps the odd fisherman. The water in these coves is usually very, very deep and dark green, and all manner of weird and colourful fish can be caught there.

The principal town on this island is the town of Hvar. Like most towns in that part of the world, Hvar has a distinct character of its own. It is principally a fishing port and the centre of commerce for the island. Hvar's harbour is not very big, but quite deep. Numerous little fishing boats with faded sails and painted sides anchor there. The actual town is very old and sleepy; it has little cobblestoned lanes that apparently lead nowhere, but in actual fact lead around in circles. Indeed, its only focal point is its big market place, situated next to the harbour. It is here that the inhabitants of the island get together and chat, argue and eat, every day.

The people of Hvar are a very interesting people. They are essentially a seafaring people, and for the most part they have blue eyes and dark brown skins. Many are the stories of these people. Their history dates back to a time when great strife and evil was present in the world. Legend decrees that refugees from the rest of the world eventually found their way to Hvar, which was a haven in a world of disillusionment. Behind the facade of simple fishermen, the people of Hvar hide proud and noble souls, the souls of a people demeaned by circumstances beyond their control.

One is bound to find many strange characters in a people of such origins. But perhaps the strangest, and indeed saddest character of all is the old castaway who came to the island many years ago. He is something of an enigma and the story of his arrival on Hvar is one of the local legends. And, like most legends, it is sometimes hard to discern the true from the false. However, as it is quite interesting, I shall relate it here.

The story starts a long time ago with a small fishing boat not far off the coast of Hvar. It was a bright sunny day, and the sea was a very light blue, almost as blue as the cloudless skies. It was very hot, and no wind was blowing. The sea was calm and still. The two fishermen on the boat were much preoccupied with pulling in their nets and discussing the latest events at the front, and they did not notice a small, white boat drifting very slowly towardsthem without a sound. Eventually the two fishermen noticed it, and were surprised by the fact that no one appeared to be in it. Deciding to investigate, they rowed their fishing boat towards the mysterious boat, which was not far away. What they discovered in the boat surprised them even more. Half lying on the bottom was a man dressed in the light blue garb of a sailor. He was staring ahead of him in a curiously dazed way; he appeared to be in a coma. The life boat (for this was what the fishermen discovered it to be) was swamped with water about ankle-deep. Debris of all kinds floated around the inert man, who looked very near death. The two fishermen carried him onto their boat and attached the lifeboat to their own boat by a rope. The castaway was youngish with blond hair that was closely cropped. The lower part of his body was covered with numerous salt water boils, the result of his immersion in the swamped lifeboat. His skin was bright red from the relentless sun, and his face was so emaciated that it resembled a skull. The two fishermen later remarked that it was the saddest face they had ever seen. A face that was stricken with remorse.

All the two fishermen could do for him was to give him some water, put him in some shade, and hope for the best. By that time a light sea breeze had sprung up, and the fishing boat was able to sail back to Hvar. The semiconscious man was carried off the boat and taken ashore at Hvar town, amid crowds of interested children. He was taken to the house of a local benefactor where he was gradually restored to health.

And there the story might have ended, except for one thing: it was eventually found out that the stranger could not speak. Whether this was due to his ordeal on the lifeboat or not was never found out. As it was, no-one had any idea about who he was and what had befallen him. He carried no papers of identification or any clue of his previous existence, except his sailor's uniform. It was obvious that this stranger would have to stay on Hvar and start a new life. The local authorities gave the castaway his repaired lifeboat, which was converted into a fishing boat, complete with sails and nets. He went away to the other side of the island where he built himself a rough stone dwelling by the side of an especially deep and beautiful cove where he fished his life away.

And there it is. The old fisherman, as he is sometimes called now, is still alive. He is seen now and again on the island, whether it be at the Hvar market mutely selling his fish, or in his now ancient fishing boat far away out on the sea. He is essentially a loner, and seems to shun the company of other men. But if ever you see him, look into his eyes - for they are the lightest shade of blue and quite uncanny. They seem to have a hunted, furtive look in them. But beneath that facade you can detect something else. Perhaps it is an element of grief, mingled with pride demeaned by an event of sheer folly; or perhaps it is an element of joy and happiness at the discovery of a haven where peace still exists.

Whew! he thought, looking at the folded piece of paper. Fourteen weeks of slog for this. For this small printed piece of paper.

He remembered the beginning of term - the smell of new texts, the thrill of new rooms, a few new faces, new teachers, the students exuberant, a new course lying ahead. There were the usual, first few days of seeing all of last year's crowd, of judging new guys and pads, books, pencils, plans, lists. His class were in one of the better rooms of the school, Room 36. He had locker number 752, a top one, luckily. It was a year for him when he bought new clothes, a new schoolbag, and a new pencil case; even the folder for his homework book was new.

He remembered the start of the term proper, the shock of the first set of tests. He had done O.K. in them, particularly English. English is one of your strong points, the form master had said. But Mr. Figmar had also said that his sciences were weak, that he had not been getting enough from his classes.

Falling deeper into the course now, a rhythm setting in. Maths was...well, allright. Phys. Chem. and Biol. were as dull as anything. Besides, all of his teachers were uninterested, anyway. Geo. was quite good, if you forgot the text book and imagined all those rivers flowing down, or cliffs leering above, or treetops rolling away from you in a hilly forest - but Mr. Scandon didn't think of it like that, obviously. To him, urban development and the number of people who caught buses to work was Geography. And then, he remembered, there was English. That he decided was best of all. He could still recall the pride with which he had handed in the essay about religion, and the long wait for it to come back. And then, the thrill as Mr. Farden came into Room 36, laden with exercise books and started handing them out.

Slowly, he remembered, the end of term exams had loomed ahead. Some guys talked about the work they had done for them, some talked of how they weren't going to do a scrap of work, and others just didn't say anything. He reckoned he was in the last group. All he had done was read his texts and do a few problems. After all, he thought, how can you prepare for exams when the subjects are so dull? And besides, English exams were not good to study for. It was best to read a lot of books and to allow yourself to get in a writing mood.

Then the exams were on him. Anxious faces, suspended above noiseless feet, filling into the hall, the bare desks, the overturned papers, the hustle as people sat down and saw that their best mate was three desks away up front. Slowly that week had crawled away, leaving him still standing there with only the fortnightly essay topics to fall back on.

Ah well, another term over with. Those last few weeks...quite a change from the start of term. He had gone back, said hello to his friends and again taken up the thread of being educated.

Working Well

Anadequate Term's work

increased interest

The first week was a long one. New homework books, copying out the timetable from someone who still had their last term's homework book. And as usual, getting to know which period followed which, to know what books he needed for the day as he packed his bag in the morning, not to forget his PE shorts on Monday. And of course, the time when old Billygoat started yelling at Beresford.

The test started again. The reading of texts, taking home all the heavy books, doing some of the problems, that Chem. test was easier, he remembered thinking as he handed it in. Maths was just the same. You went in, sat down, and either listened with a fascinated look on your face as the teacher described the intricacies of the Binomial Theorem, or you went ahead with the problems that the class was doing at the time. Phys. and Chem. too were pretty much the same as that time last term. The first test wasn't all that bad in Physics. As for Chem., he supposed that was true also. Oh, and Mr. Scandon blowing up Pete for being late in Geog. That had had everyone talking for a few days.

And so the course had seeped on slowly past Old Man Time; little incidents staying in the mind, flashes in a dull sky. "The English class has become a bit silly" he had remembered that thought crystallyzing suddenly before his eyes, after having floated around his head for half a term. All the guys were stirring too much, and Mr. Farden was trying to get too much out of the class. He would sort of set an essay topic and expect fascintating, sculptured revelations every time. Still, at least they were essays.

He remembered the day he had looked at his bag and realized he had only had it for six months.

And the time he forgot his lunch and got a telephone message in the middle of a Geography class.

Once again, thought started veering towards end of term exams, this term a lot earlier, it seemed. And somehow, this time round his notes seemed better, fuller, Sciences, he reflected, needed a bit of slogging, but you could get the hang of them. And there was the notes he had done for Geography on erosion and weathering and nivation and Asian landscapes.

Those examples from maths he had selected and written in his file, in red pen; and the summaries of the films they had seen in English, and the books they had read.

And then it was on again. Uncertain glances, frenzied questions, test books over lunchtime - exam week. And suddenly the term was over.

Well, its over, he thought. A school year. He fingered the paper before him. All those months, and here is the result.

At the beginning of the last third, things should have been the same. He had the same clothes, friends, bag, pencil case...but somehow school seemed different; it was an intangible thing. The students were the same, but the teachers were different, they had changed. Scandon was just as before, Old Mopsy still came into the room and talked mathematics...but in Chem. and Biol. and Physics these were subjects that no longer could be ignored or misunderstood. It was possible to grasp them and to do the homework set for that night.

The first tests, in the third week of term, had shown the teachers what he could do, except Mr. Farden had exploded about his English. He had realized then, what he knew now. Mr. Farden, and in fact, the English class, no longer held the fascination of an excursion into imagination. The essays had become dull, the wait for their return, laborious. Still, he had shown Mr. Morecambe just what he could do in Chemistry.

Ah, well...now it was past. Those exams at the end of the year - well, he had known they would be allright. He had done all those notes, those examples, how could he not pass them? And even in his English, he had put down long descriptions of all the movies, books and plays they had covered during the year. Strange, but it did not seem to have helped much. Geography was o.k...he remembered the careful summaries he had made of river motion, of erosion, of forest regeneration. The maths exam hadn't been too bad, just remembering the ways of doing all the problems. English, he decided, had been worst of all.

The only question that remained was: What to do over all the holidays that he now had?

OUTSTANDING SCHOLARS 1974

C.B. Boulton

D.L. Elsner Of this group Charles Boulton and Dean Elsner chose Engineering; the others are all enrolled in Medicine. All are at U.W.A.

D.K. Crooke

S.A. Crocker

N.P. Silberstein

P. Richardson

R.A. Clugston

absent P.J. Leedman.

N.P. Silberstein won a General Exhibition; D.L. Elsner was Dux of School; Elsner, Boulton, Hodge, Clugston, Crocker and Storer all received 6 Distinctions at Leaving Level.

Silberstein, Elsner, Leedman, Clugston, Crocker, Richardson and Storer all exceeded 75% in all Matriculation subjects. Silberstein was equal first in the State in Leaving Mathematics II, Crooke and Elsner were 3rd in the State in Matriculation Chemistry and Leaving Physics respectively.

DRAMATIS PERSONAE

G.A. Radford (Captain)

A very talented all-rounder whose captaincy, fielding and bowling (especially in the later matches) were of a high standard. Alas - this was not his year with the bat!

G.M. Russell (Vice-Captain)

A most knowledgeable and thoughtful cricketer whose batting at number 3 and as an opener held the side together on several occasions.

P.R. Rose (third selector)

In the early matches he batted well, having a splendid off drive. However he too often got out when set and latterly his footwork was at fault.

T.R. Little

à

Thrice a hero and a most exciting cricketer. I believe however that as a bowler he experimented too much.

P.H.J. Horwitz

He developed into a very successful wicket-keeper and was a great team man.

R.D. Breidahl

A very good medium pace in-swing bowler and fielder. Potentially an excellent batsman if he can apply himself to it.

P.M. Seward

A fine opening bowler and useful hitter who was away for half the season due to injury.

R.A. Donaldson

A determined opening bat who promises well for the future, and a good unorthodox left arm spinner. He scored two good forties in other matches.

S.C. Finch

A useful all-rounder who does not need to criticize himself so much.

P.M. Moore

A keen and promising all-rounder.

P.B. Mutton

A rather static opening batsman who faded with the season.

P.L. Moran

He looked good in lesser matches but failed to score heavily in Darlot Cup games.

ALSO PLAYED:-

G.N. Kidd

A very promising all-rounder

J.J. Porteous

A very keen and useful left arm medium quick bowler.

G.N. Homer

An accurate outswing left arm medium pacer.

ALSO IN THE SQUAD:-

L. Holland

Promising wicket-keeper batsman S. Bailey

A useful fast-medium right arm bowler

Opponent	Result	Score	Comment
Aquinas	Lost	4 - 3	A very good game. Physical strength told on us in the end
Wesley	Draw	2 - 2	Capable of far better performance
Scotch	Won	4 - 0	First time this season the opponents have not scored
Guildford	Won	8 - 3	Some excellent team play. Tighter defence needed
Hale	Won	3 - 1	A disorganised first half preventing the margin from being greater
Aquinas	Draw	3 - 3	Much improved team play over last week
Wesley	Won	3 - 2	Better second half than first half
Trinity	Won	2 - 1	An excellent performance in a game of high standard
Scotch	Won	5 - 0	A better first half than second half
		SCOP	REBOARD
		RUGBY	1st XV 1975

Opponent	Score	Comment
Old Boys	14 - 4	Good start to season
Trinity	14 - 0	Too long a time to consolidate Christison scores excellent individual try.
Wesley	28 - 7	Much improved performance by whole team. Brown scores 16 points
Aquinas	7 - 13	Second half spent in opponent's 25. Tony Audas and Hammond display good mid season form.
Hale	4 - 31	Our worst game by far. Jones, Hartley, and Wade never stopped trying.
Guildford	0 - 6	We made one mistake and they scored.
Scotch	0 - 38	Outclassed by better opponents.
Guildford	13 - 7	100% improvement over previous weeks but just could not bridge the gap.
Wesley	50 - 4	Tremendous finale to season. Meikle scores 3 tries, Brown scores 14 points.
