Mr. ANDREW TAIT

An introductory interview

The boys of Mr Hardy-Atkins Year 12 class devised this interview which provides insight into the attitudes and background of Christ Church Grammar School's Deputy Headmaster, Mr. Andrew Tait, who joined the School this year.

What sort of student were you yourself?

I think fairly average. I suspect that I probably did too much sport. I managed to get to University so I suppose I was a slightly above average student.

What were your sporting preferences?

Vast — I had a very catholic choice. I played soccer, and cricket, was a moderate athlete, swam a fair bit, played rugby; I probably did most of the things that were available at school.

What was your motivation for becoming a teacher?

(Thoughtful pause) None I suppose because I had intended to join the services. I hoped to win a commission in the Air Force but at the last stage I was rejected because of some sporting injuries I'd suffered. I was rather at a loss as to what I should do and the Headmaster at my school asked me "Why not teach?" and that's how it happened.

(Ingenuously) You couldn't think of a good reason? I couldn't (laughs).

Do you have a personal philosophy of education?

Well, I've been teaching now for a fairly long time and I think I've been through several changes. I had my teaching changed quite dramatically by various new courses which were trialled in the United Kingdom. I believe very strongly now in a classroom which is student centred rather than teacher centred. I believe we should be teaching for understanding rather than learning, that means that a teacher becomes more of a resource than an authority in a classroom. Teaching in this particular way is not easy because of the increase in informal exchange of ideas. One needs the right sort of surrounding, the right classrooms and equipment, but I believe that in general students learn better if they do things for themselves while the teacher acts as a resource rather than just giving a great deal of information.

Is this process of classroom interaction likely to continue and is the line between those who are teaching and those who are taught, likely to become less distinct?

I would think so. It's not many years now since we called all boys by their surnames and now we commonly address boys by their Christian names. Boys still call us by a title but I suspect that in the not too distant future we'll be addressed by our Christian names.

What we have to try to do, as teachers, is to make our students recognise that in learning, it's not just one person, the teacher, doing all the work, while the students just sit, it's a corporate effort and there has to be an increasing input from students. I think that as that input develops, classrooms will become much less formal than they were a few years ago.

What for you is the most important feature of discipline?

When you work in an enclosed and crowded community as we do, there have to be certain rules so that we can function, and if those rules break down, the functioning of the school becomes less efficient. I look upon discipline as a means of allowing this body to function efficiently and I suppose to achieve the best results possible, whether they be academic, sporting, social, dramatic or whatever. One requires guidelines in these areas. I'm strongly in favour of putting boys in the position where they accept their responsibilities and realise that their behaviour affects the whole community. When they learn to adapt their behaviour so that the group does function efficiently they master the art of self-discipline.

It's a complete change of subject but what were you expecting when you came to C.C.G.S.?

I'd met Tony Hill previously at a conference, and had enjoyed his company very much. I'd enjoyed his views of what he'd thought education was all about and I had been looking forward to doing something different. I'd been head of physics in various schools for something like 20 years; I'd become somewhat involved in administration in my previous school and I suppose I looked forward to moving deeper into administration because I think the challenge of running a physics department was beginning to wane. I felt I was in danger of slipping into a comfortable rut so I was looking for something new.

In your last school, you were very closely involved in the supervision of Year 12 boys. In accepting this position was there any regret about the possibility of being less involved with the students?

Very much so. I suppose at the end of a sixth form year, a Year 12 year, I'd got to know 250 boys fairly well. I was still teaching in the lower part of the school so as they arrived in the sixth form I tended to know a fair number. The job that I'm doing now doesn't give me quite as much contact, there are compensations I suppose in terms of sport and drama where you meet boys in a smaller group and you get to know them rather better but it is a bit of a loss when you get into the kind of job that I'm doing now, when you don't have quite as much contact as a Tutor might do and I miss that.

After two terms, what do you see as Christ Church's unique advantages; what charm does it have for you?

I suppose the charms are two — firstly there's the delightful site — and secondly it's probably got the most caring atmosphere that I've ever been in in a school and this is perhaps a function of its size — I think it's also a function of its organisation in terms of the Tutorial system — I think also it has a particularly caring staff, they are, in general, very interested in, and very caring for, the students and that makes life very pleasant for students and the administration.

How do you see the roles of the four central administrative figures at Christ Church?

I think that the roles have not yet become absolutely crystallised and that's really due to the pace of what has been an exceptionally busy year, in all sorts of ways. I hope that in the next year these roles will become more tightly specified but I see my responsibilities as being the academic programmes of the school. Peter Tooke has the job of co-ordinating the activities of the houses, making sure that the masters and teachers, within houses, perform their functions. I see Tony Burns' prime function as timetabling. He's absolutely brilliant at that and research. We obviously have to do quite a bit of research about the directions in which we're thinking of moving and Tony is obviously very good at that.

Well the Headmaster of course is the one who makes the ultimate decisions and the one who pushes us in the directions we should be thinking about. His overview of the whole school is much, much bigger than ours. He, I guess, is our director.

You haven't mentioned the Head's role as a fundraiser.

Well, it seems to me that in schools like this, with the possibility that government funding might wane, Headmasters become more and more responsible for funding and more and more responsible for the public image of the school so that funding can go reasonably well and of course he has the total picture of where the school is going to develop; what the building programmes should be and these sort of things.

What would you like to achieve most in the next few years, for yourself and for the school?

That's a fairly difficult question but I suppose most of all I would like, if possible, to strengthen the school's academic programme, perhaps being in some way responsible for improving the academic results of our students. At the moment I suspect we should be doing a little better than we are.

Secondly I think — schools like this tend to be geared toward an academic programme and though I think we do quite well with students who are not academically inclined, I think we should still do a lot more. Over the next few years I think we need to look very carefully at the sorts of programmes which we offer to students who either don't want to go to University, or who, for reasons of ability, will not be able to get into tertiary education. I think we should probably broaden the base of the curriculum in that regard.

I would like to give support to the several embryonic co-curricular activities which are now growing fairly rapidly within the school. By those I mean music — drama and the outdoor education programme. I think I need not be as supportive of the sporting programme as it's well established.

I'm also most interested in the physical part of the school because I think that will need to change as time goes on to meet the demands that will be placed on it.

How important to you is it that this school should maintain its physical attractiveness? Does that charm affect the students?

I think it's enormously important! I started my teaching career in the east-end of London in a school that was just about 500 years old. It was on a very small site with no gardens. It was surrounded only by asphalt. I think the students in those surroundings did pretty well. But having taught in two Australian schools — both with really beautiful surroundings, I think it makes a tremendous difference to attitudes. It's much easier to be cheerful in beautiful grounds. I think our situation is an enormous plus. It just makes it good to come to work.

THE 1984 BUILDING FUND PROGRAMME

In the late forties, there was a strong suggestion that Christ Church Grammar School would have to close down or to become a Preparatory School for Guildford and Hale. With the support of the Old Boys and under the leadership of the School Council and the young Headmaster, Mr. Moyes, that pressure was resisted. Enrolments grew steadily from a few hundred to the present level of 1,050. Old buildings were refurbished or replaced, land was purchased at Claremont and Mt. Claremont and fine new buildings were added. Supporters of the School contributed generously to Building Appeals which financed the Memorial Hall, the new Gymnasium, the Chapel and other major projects. Large sums of money were borrowed and the cash flow produced by increasing enrolments was also used to finance capital works.

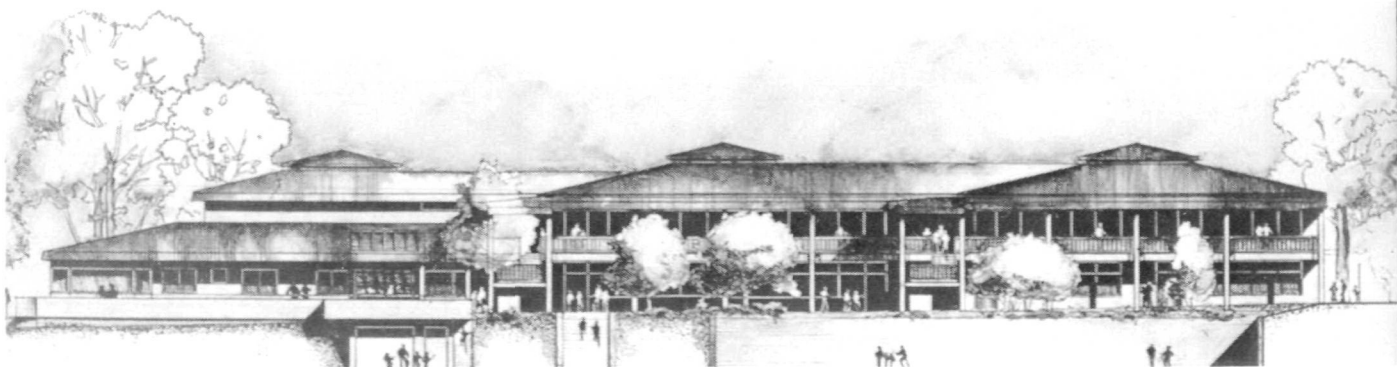

Over the last seventeen years, every building in the Senior School in the boarding section and at Koorlingal, has been either completely rebuilt or dramatically refurbished. The one section of the School that has received only limited assistance, has been the Preparatory School — the oldest part of the School and one that has received widespread praise for its educational contribution, particularly under the leadership of Mr. Don MacLeod. For years he and his staff have worked under makeshift conditions with the promise of an eventual rebuilding of the whole Preparatory School.

At last their time has come. A fine new building has been designed by our Architects and work will begin on the $2 million project before the end of this year. Large, bright, modern classrooms for every class, a first-class library, Art and Craft rooms and courtyard, a Science Laboratory, extensive covered areas for recreation, a Film and Activity Room, specialist areas for remedial teaching and extension classes, will be some of the facilities provided.

As an additional benefit the old Preparatory School buildings will become available for the Music School, which presently has to function in a crowded area under the Chapel and in various areas around the boarding houses.

To finance the project the School decided to borrow $650,000, to draw $350,000 from cash flow and to seek to raise $1 million from its supporters. The target was a daunting one and it was with some trepidation that the Appeal was launched on 1st July. The response of parents, Old Boys and other supporters of the School soon put any fears to rest. In the first two months $800,000 was given or promised. Almost everyone approached has agreed to support the Appeal to the best of his ability and the only difficulty has been in making contact with all parents and Old Boys. The work of the General Gifts Committee under Mr. David Conners and Mr. Barry Crommelin continues through until March next year. By then it is hoped all members of the school community will have been given a chance to share in this exciting new stage in the School's development.

TEACHER EXCHANGE SCHEMES

As in many other areas, the independent schools in Australia have led the way in arranging regular overseas exchanges for their teaching staff. These exchanges have generally been with schools in England but over the last ten years an increasing number have been with North American schools. Christ Church teachers have shown a great interest in gaining overseas experience as a list of recent exchanges shows:

- 1985 — Mr. Roger Dixon will exchange with Mr. Bill Chamberlin of Noble and Greenough School, Dedham, near Boston, Massachusetts, U.S.A.
- 1984-85 — Mr. Roger Dettman is on exchange with Mr. Arne Schulte of Balthaser Neumann Gymnasium, Bavaria, West Germany.
- 1983-84 — Mr. Peter Hopper took leave for two years to teach in the government schools of Zimbabwe.

THE CAPTAIN OF SCHOOL REPORTS

While thinking about a topic for this report, I glanced through some "Mitres" from recent years and discovered a disturbing fact. In the past the general theme throughout all the reports has been one of disappointment usually concluding,

"Next year can only improve . . ."

Well this year we did!

The sporting side of school life is one strongly emphasised and creates strong and lasting links between schools and individuals throughout the P.S.A. Sport is also an integral part of the School's public image and is therefore in direct proportion to the pride and spirit we, the students, all feel. This year we can look our critics in the eye and confront them with the successful facts.

Last year the average place for sporting teams was 5th, out of the seven schools comprising the P.S.A. This year this was raised to 3rd place. That is the average position on the P.S.A. table for all Christ Church teams, putting us well into the top 50% as far as sporting success is concerned.

Special mention must be made of teams at both extremes. Ten out of 11 of the first teams for the major sports improved on their position. The 1st XV Rugby team gained one place up to second position, Cross Country remained undefeated and the 1st XVIII Football team trained and played strong and disciplined football to lift themselves from the rut, two positions to 5th.

1982-83 — Mr. Geoff Matthews exchanged with Mr. Doug Brown of the Saskatoon School System, Saskatchewan, Canada.

The benefits of the exchanges to the School and to the individual teacher are considerable. The School Council has accepted my recommendation that it should pay the travel expenses for one exchange each year and the teaching staff has responded enthusiastically to the opportunity.

At the same time I have persuaded the Headmasters' Conference of Australia to establish an Australian and New Zealand Exchange Scheme, of which I am the organiser. Links are being forged with similar organisations in Great Britain, Canada and the United States and it is hoped that, with the help of the computer, the independent schools of all English-speaking countries can eventually share in a comprehensive Exchange Bank.

A.J. de V. Hill
Headmaster

Success like this elevates school spirit and morale to the point that it is now far above anything I have experienced in the five years that I have been a part of Christ Church.

This pride is of the utmost importance, not only in the cellular confines of school, but in local district pride. It is also of importance to success in the economics world and equally important on a national level. It is therefore fortunate that the boys of Christ Church can experience the strengths behind spirit and pride, to stand them in good stead to apply this in later life.

However, Sport is not the only aspect of school life which has lifted the morale of the school family. It has been a very active year academically, with students winning medals in both National Chemistry and Mathematics Competitions and one member of the School being included in the Australian team for the "Maths Olympiad".

There have been no fewer than ten Drama productions, three of which were produced in the new "Hall Theatre". These provided yet another boost to the School's public image.

The public eye was also constantly focused upon boys from Christ Church in a more varied field. Boys from Christ Church played and captained the State Lacrosse team, won the State Schoolboys' Surfing title, and the "Bridge to Bridge" windsurfing race.

But the pride of the boys was not raised by any accident. The year commenced well with tennis and Rob Phillips, the 1st VIII's Captain, making a desperate and emotional plea to the school to discard the apathy we had unfortunately inherited and try our hardest.

The results of the tennis were outstandingly impressive. They rose from last place, five positions to a well-deserved second.

Swimming followed and this time the Prefects did their utmost to support our team. A large publicity campaign was launched with pleasing results. The team rose from last year's 6th to the impressive position of 3rd, but the most impressive part of the carnival was the 100% support the team received from the very enthusiastic and proud Christ Church supporters who packed Beatty Park to urge on their team.

So obviously there are many people to thank who were instrumental in this transition. Firstly, the very talented members of staff and the Headmaster, who were constantly supportive and helpful. Secondly, the Year Twelves who truly are a great group. Also the fourteen other Prefects, especially the two Senior Prefects Brian Beresford and Chris Kelsall — I trust they will all fondly remember our swimming skit in Chapel and the success it had. I would like to thank you all for a great year.

"I'm sure next year will see even more improvement."

James Turnbull

SWIMMING

The Swimming Team's performance at the P.S.A. Inters was the best for many years. Our excellent third position can be attributed to the dedication of the swimmers and the demanding work they were made to do by our coaches.

This year, along with regular coaches Mr Bowker, Mr Grist, Jack Mah and Dave Tydeman, the school was fortunate to have the services of a top-class coach, Mr Shane McQuirk. Shane took training sessions over the holidays which were attended by many swimmers.

Once back at school, the cold early morning trainings, made worse by daylight saving, were a real shock to some. Our trainings proved to be harder than ever before.

Signs that our team was going to be strong came in the house sports with thirteen of the thirty-seven records being broken. The individual champions were:

Open — T.F. Walsh; U/16 — C. Michael;
 U/15 — T. Kelly; U/14 — P. Galvin;
 U/13 — M. Donato.

Leading up to the inters we had a number of invitation meets against Scotch, Guildford and St. Hilda's, all providing valuable race practice.

Our first real test came in the Quads in which we competed admirably but suffered an appalling number of false relay disqualifications. This only made the team more determined for the main event the following week.

Although our inters result was due to a tremendous team effort there were some notable individual performances. Peter Galvin won the 1st Division U/14 50m Backstroke in inters record time and Vice-Captain Tim Walsh gained three first division seconds. Dion Mephram, Marcus Donato and newcomers, Choong Lee and Tom Kelly put in top swims also.

This most successful swimming season provided a great start for the school sporting year.

LIFESAVING

In somewhat of an experiment Christ Church entered the Royal Lifesaving Society's annual State Championships for the first time for nearly a decade.

With the championships on the following Saturday after the "Inters", the swimming team found themselves back in the pool and training hard for the rescue-orientated races.

We met with extraordinary success, considering the team had only one week of training, winning the Collins Trophy for the school gaining the most points.

Thanks goes to Mr Marsland, Dave Tydeman and Gavin Michael for their efforts in instructing and coaching the team in the hope that the championships become a regular event for Christ Church.

ROWING

Picture a young lad, in bed, in the dark hours of the morning. An alarm springs to life. He jumps out of bed and hits the stop button. He stands, dazed, wondering why he hadn't chosen cricket instead of rowing, but the knowledge that his crew mates are counting on him to turn up, forces him on to change and get to the boatshed before first light. The same routine dominates those few months in which he tries to better his rowing skill and stamina in order to help his crew to victory.

All crews need coaches and this year we had the best! Darryl Ninham (with the added assistance of Murray McHenry) coached the 1st VIII. Old boys Dick Hay, Mike McKeivitt and Ben Doust (with the help of his dog Russell) coached the 2nd VIII, 1st IV and 2nd IV respectively. Our Headmaster, Mr Hill, coached the U/16 VIII and Mr Hutchinson coached the U/16 IV. Mr McLaren coached the reserve IV and Mr Holloway, Mr Ryder and Mr Hopkins worked with the middle school crews. The work they did was recognised by us all as not being easy; and this adds to our appreciation of what they managed to do with a motley group of schoolboys.

Rowers, coaches and Headmaster were all kept in check by the best Administrator on the river, Miss Lorraine Day. She worked harder than anyone else I've ever encountered in the boatshed — the boys thank and salute you.

Ken Grant (O.A.) was of invaluable assistance to us all by putting back together those expensive boats which we so regularly tore apart. A word must be said for Phil Rogerson who proved an inspiration to us all in the fitness and spirit side of things.

Our lead up regattas proved disappointing and to a lesser extent so was the Head of the River regatta. Although, as a member of the 1st VIII, I can say that our third place was quite satisfactory and, although we didn't come first, we did manage to finish the course beating the old record.

Statistics on wins or losses are not the only results in a sport as demanding as rowing. A material gain, such as a pennant or cup, is great but I feel the boys have gained far more valuable things from the season. They include combining well as a team, trust and working hard with no short term rewards.

The Boys of the Boatshed have become Men of the Mitre; immortalised as long as a copy remains. I'm proud of them and look forward to cheering the more experienced '85 crew over the line in first place next year.

Good luck — thanks for making my job an easy one.

Justin Birchmore,
Captain of Boats

I would like to add my thanks to all the "Boys of the Boatshed", especially Justin, Brent and Richard, for making my first year in the boatshed a happy and rewarding experience.

BASKETBALL

Basketball was truly the sport of boarders in 1984. The first squad of nine players was comprised solely of boarders and the second squad could only boast a few day boys in "Chipper" Williams and Mark Ferguson.

Knowing each other and each other's basketball style so well we combined extremely effectively. We were all very close, like brothers, in fact two of us were brothers.

The season was rewarding in that we won as many games as we lost and had an enjoyable time in doing this. We approached each game with a fresh outlook and our ever-faithful "moves", designed to combat our noticeable lack of height. Our game plan revolved around prearranged plays which enabled a fewer number of shots but those put up were more accurate. This negated, to a certain degree, the strong rebounders which the other P.S.A. schools pitted against us.

Both squads enjoyed the season — even training! This was due primarily to the efforts of "Jerry". Mr Jerry Packington, a mild mannered lawyer by day, would every Tuesday and Thursday evening transform into the coaching inferno who spurred us on to greater and better things. It was his hard work and knowledge of the game which took nine young guys from the bush and trained us into a good team by emphasizing our strong points and compensating for our weaknesses.

We had our moments as a team, beating the previously undefeated John XXIII, and beating Scotch in the final game of the season.

Stuart Byrne was the "cheek" of the team at training and also in the games. He finally scored 2 points from that impossible shot he'd practised so devotedly.

Anthony "Dills" Beaumont lived up to his reputation of rapid verticle motion, becoming the side's top rebounder and inspirational vice-captain.

Neil Manuel and Paul Staines were our outside shooters and "Whissy" Drayton and Cam McGregor played in safety and ran the moves from the top of the key.

Scotty Gillam took to Basketball like Sid Vicious would to the Opera but developed into a reliable forward. He and Malcolm Turnbull were rock-like in defence. I'm afraid I spent most of my match time firmly planted on the bench having a particular talent for attracting fouls.

Next year looks promising with a good tall nucleus to build upon in P.G. Scott and M. Turnbull. Best of luck in 1985.

TENNIS

Tennis teams throughout the school did very well in P.S.A. competitions this year. The Year 9 team was equal first with K. Court (Capt.), C. Perkins, J. Butler and J. Railton being the bright lights of the team. The Year 8 team also had a good season with only the Hale team being superior to them. The Year 10's tried hard and did well especially if you take into account that there were always two or three of their year group in the First VIII. The Second VIII were a trifle disappointing, losing several close matches against teams who perhaps we could have beaten with a bit more luck.

The whole team trained very hard all year, often training until dark on Thursday afternoons. Our coach, Mr van Kampen, put a lot of time and effort into the team, which all members are thankful for.

The First 8 have done well. We were undefeated in third term, 1983 and therefore won the Gerald Newson Competition and only lost one match in the Corr Cup. This was a very close encounter with Trinity where we paid dearly for losing three tiebreakers. It was disappointing to have been so close and end up second but this was a good effort as Trinity had an exceptional side.

The future for Christ Church tennis looks encouraging, middle school teams are looking good and the First 8 only included one Year 12 boy so perhaps 1985 will be as good or even better than '84.

HERBERT EDWARDS CUP

The Herbert Edwards Cup is the State school boys U/15 teams competition. All schools in the State are eligible for entry. This year there were about 25 teams entered in the Division 1 competition. This was our third successive victory!

Summary of Results:

Round 1		Bye
Round 2		WON	11 sets to 1 against Guildford
Round 3	quarter final	WON	10 sets to 2 against John XXIII
Round 4	semi-final	WON	12 sets to 0 against Wesley No. 2
GRAND FINAL		WON	10 sets to 2 against Hale

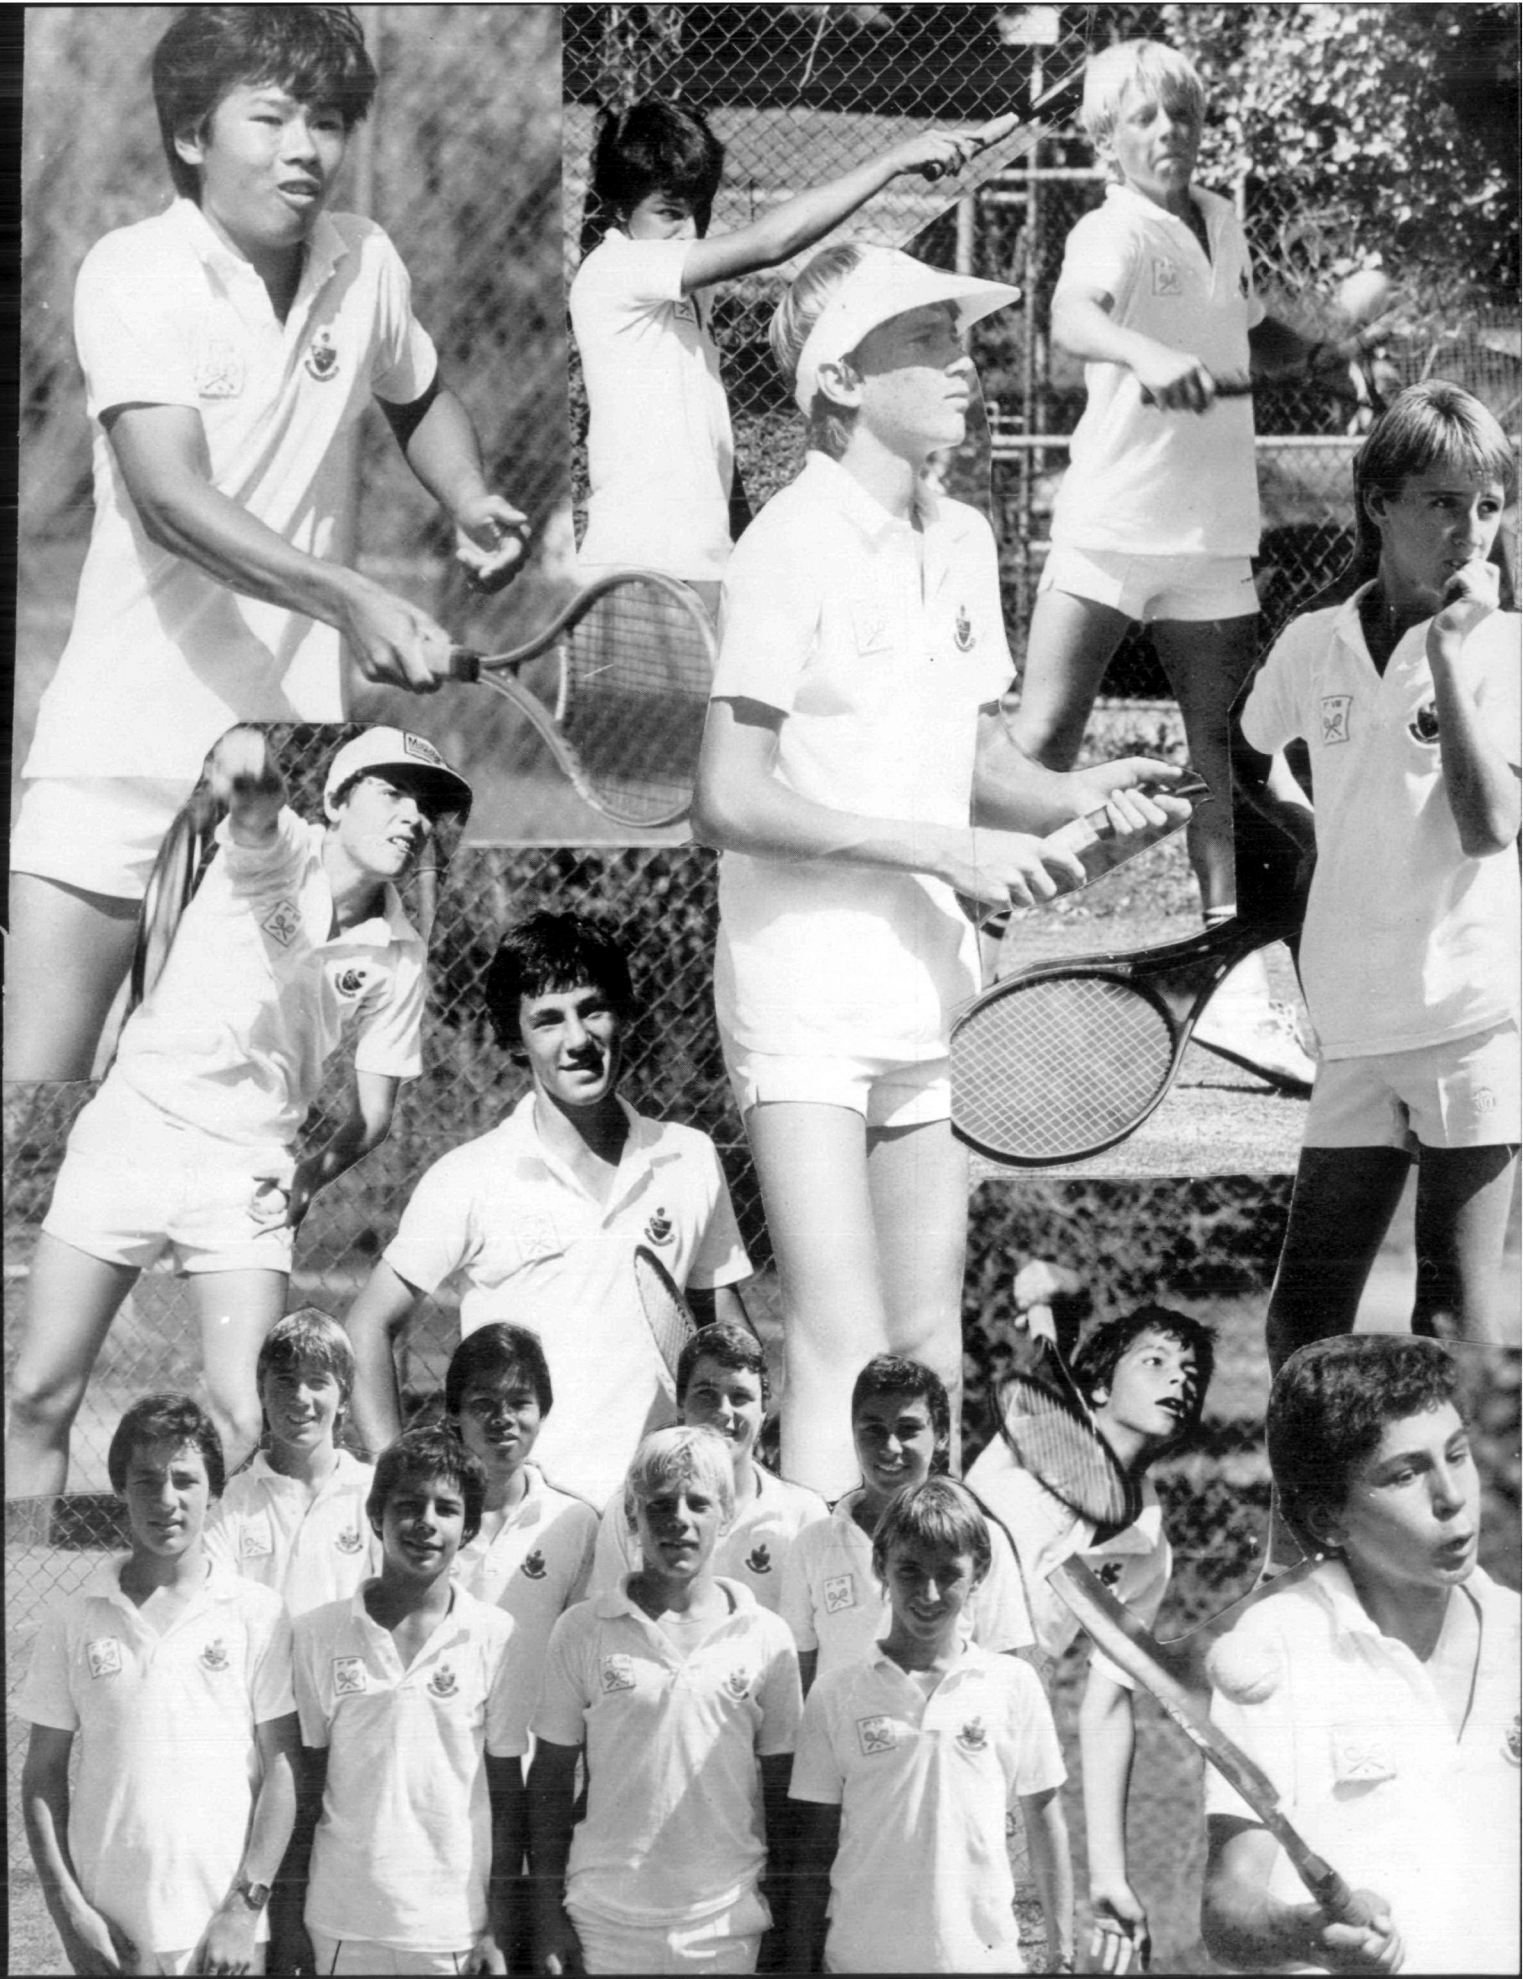

Team for all matches was:

1. David Culley (Capt.)
2. Paul Sawyer
3. Nick McGlew
4. Kris Court

Throughout the whole competition we won 43 sets and lost only 5. David Culley and Nick McGlew won ALL of their doubles and singles sets through all rounds.

Overall it was a very pleasing victory as both John XXIII and Hale had teams with potential to win the competition.

CRICKET

Preparation for the 1984 Darlot Cup season began with the Gamble Cup in third term of 1983. Although we won only one of the four matches all the losses were close games. It should be noted that the team was seriously disadvantaged in this term by the loss of Steve Russell after the first game. Then, if that wasn't bad enough, Colin Walker became horribly ill over the summer holidays and wasn't available for the Darlot season. Consequently, we never had both our opening bowlers at the same time, after the first Gamble Cup match.

The best feature of the team's third term performances was its sound batting. This was led by an outstanding run of form by John Hui who scored over two hundred runs in the four matches, including a century against Scotch. Overall, the 1st XI's prospects were healthy.

The season opened with a rather unsuccessful campaign against the Old Boys. Despite some promising batting we could only muster 68. The Old Boys, due to some inaccurate bowling, won by six wickets, eventually making 8 for 167 declared. We were 4 for 50 in our second innings.

Every Darlot Cup match revealed one of our weaknesses. In the first match against Guildford, our fielding was slack. We dropped four catches, enabling the opposition to reach 5 for 174 before an incredible collapse saw them lose their last five wickets for only three runs! Spinners, John Hui (5/32) and Brad Keenan (3/16, including a spell of 3/0) were the destroyers. We eventually won the match by four wickets, thanks to a monumental 71 by Danny Sudlow. He was well supported by Steven Russell (50), Mark Lucas (23), Paul Jory and Andrew McNeilage (2). We eventually made 233. Guildford were 1 for 12 in their second innings.

There is very little to commend in our match against Wesley. Once again our fielding and bowling was slack, reaching an all time low on the Saturday morning. Wesley's captain dropped twice, made a century on their huge total of 8/316 declared. It should have been a lot less. Our own innings started well, with openers John Hui (35) and Mark Lucas (51) putting on 97. But, in a way reminiscent of term three, our middle order batsmen collapsed, and we slumped to 7/151! A stand by Steven Russell (42) and John Taylor almost saved the day. We made 199, losing by 117 runs. Wesley were 1/23 at stumps.

The Aquinas match was an extraordinary game of fluctuating fortunes, which, unfortunately for us, went the wrong way. On the very last over of the match, we needed four runs to achieve an outright victory. Nerves, good bowling and misunderstandings saw us make only two.

Aquinas batted first, and after 20 minutes of play, slumped to 4/6. They did have a brief recovery, but ended up with a mere 90. Our fielding was excellent, a great improvement over the week before. Only requiring a modest total for first innings points, we were outplayed and dismissed for a mere 52!

Aquinas fared much better with the bat in the second innings, making 6/165 declared. This meant that we had to score 204 runs to win outright in what turned out to be 50 overs.

Steven Russell and Adam Tetlow came together at 4/99. In brilliant fashion, amidst great excitement, the two put on 97 in just under an hour. In one over they hit 17 runs! But Russell was out for 51 in the penultimate over of the match. Tetlow (46) followed him on the second ball of the ill-fated last over.

What can you say about the Hale match? Our brittle batting in the first innings cost us the match. On a reasonable batting wicket, it was inexcusable to only make 97. Hale showed us what we could have done, making 0/198 declared. John Taylor bowled well, taking five wickets. Mark Lucas batted throughout our second innings, making 66 not out, out of a total of 6/167, avoiding an outright defeat.

The drawn Taverners match was uneventful, except for a stand of 100 between Mark Lucas (72 n.o.) and Steven Russell (64 n.o.).

After losing so many close matches over the years, it was good to win one when we played Trinity. From a seemingly hopeless position, we fought back with determination to win by 9 runs.

Batting first, we were in dire straits at 6/58, when John Hui and Andrew McNeilage, both out of form, came together. With great determination, concentration and skill, against all odds, the two put on 80 runs, Hui making 63 and McNeilage 33. John Taylor and Paul Jenkins also batted well in a valuable last wicket stand which robbed Trinity of batting time. When our innings ended, we had 164 runs on the board. Although this was a fine recovery against some fine bowling, there were doubts raised about if it would be enough. Trinity were cruising towards victory, at one time being 1/95. Our fielding had not been up to standard. We had missed several dropped chances and were being written off. Then came the collapse.

When Trinity lost their second wicket at 2/24, no one was particularly alarmed. But when two more wickets fell at 108, our opposition's position was not so secure. We had a game on our hands. At tea, they were 5/132. The rot continued after tea with three quick wickets. Although the scales were now in our favour, Trinity's ninth wicket pair defended grimly, until John Taylor took the new ball and took the last two wickets. But, despite a fine team performance at the end, it was John Hui's match. He followed up his 63 with 3/24 and a fine catch.

We batted extremely well in our last Darlot Cup match of the season against Scotch. John Hui continued his good form with 52, well supported by Simon Johnson (48), Mark Lucas (37) and Danny Sudlow (34). They all made fine contributions to our score of 9/237 declared. Unfortunately, we could not dismiss the opposition. Their late order batsmen defended continually; Scotch made 7/147 and escaped with a draw.

Like the Taverners match, the Incogniti game will be remembered because of a partnership of 72 between Richard Pate (36) and a newcomer, Paul Jenkin (36 n.o.). Ending up with 6/115. Incogniti made 5/99 and the match was drawn.

Christ Church's other teams had mixed results in 1984. The 2nd and 3rd XI's unfortunately had bad seasons, although there were some good individual performances. While the results in the Years 8 and 9 competition may sound discouraging, both years improved vastly and should be major forces by 1985. Easily the most successful of our teams were the two Year 10 teams. Out of the 12 matches they played, they won 8 and only lost 2. Their depth in both batting and bowling can only mean that the Darlot Cup will return to Christ Church in the near future.

A report is not complete without thanking the mothers, who gave up so much of their free time in maintaining Christ Church's standard and reputation as having the best lunches and afternoon teas. Also, Mr. Tooke, in his last season as 1st XI coach, must be thanked for the high standards he set during training.

Finally, the team would like to warmly thank their scorer, Michael Bowyer, for the excellent job he did in keeping score for the team and in providing the extra details on performances.

All in all, Christ Church had a reasonably successful season and the near future holds great expectations. This year's 1st XI, although not being able to boast the stars of the past two seasons, performed capably in upholding the School's reputation as a force in cricket. The return of several members next year, together with the talent coming up from lower years ensures that this will continue for some time yet.

RUGBY

1984 was undoubtedly the most successful season for the 1st XV for a number of years. Out of ten P.S.A. games, we only lost one and that very narrowly. We finished in second place on the table, one game behind Guildford who went through the season undefeated.

Fifteen players who had previously represented the 1st XV were eligible again this year, so competition for places was fierce, and expectations were high. During the May holidays there had also been a rugby tour to the Eastern States, so we were all match conditioned for the start of the P.S.A. competition. The first four matches of the season saw us running out clear winners in most cases. The highlight of these was a wonderful second half comeback against traditional rivals, Scotch. We ran out eventual winners 16-9, after trailing 0-6 at half time. The highlight (or lowlight) of the season was our midseason clash against the previously undefeated Guildford (in the mud!). We led, through a penalty goal, for 95 per cent of the game. Brilliant defence, especially from Chris Holme and "crash-tackling" Jim Roget, saw us hold our line until the sixth minute of injury time, when Guildford against the run of play exploited our defensive error to score the winning try.

The 1st XV forwards worked tirelessly as a unit throughout the season, but this was never more obvious than against Hale, where their determination saw them steamroll a much taller and heavier pack. It was all the more memorable as we had injuries to two key forwards.

One of the highlights of the season was Simon Johnson's kicking. He managed to score 61 points in 9 games. Newcomer Brett Morgan was the highest try scorer, managing to score ten tries in only seven 1st XV games. It is noticeable that we scored forty points more for the season than any opposing side, and we had the least points scored against us including only three tries — a fine tribute to the defence of the team.

Our depth was displayed by the number of State representatives. It was a heavy season, with tours from Wairarapa College (N.Z.), a Japanese Schools team, and the National Championships in Darwin. Andrew Oliver and Jim Roget were involved against Wairarapa and Japan respectively; and John Donnan, Simon Holme, Simon Johnson, Stuart Burne and Paul Jenkins, represented W.A. at the National Championships, Lloyd Jenkins was selected for the W.A. 18 and Under tour of South-East Asia at the end of the year.

The 2nd XV and 3rd XV's both played with great vigour throughout the season. The 2nd XV displayed great versatility, being frequently disrupted by calls on players to assist the 1st XV. Except for a disappointing effort against Trinity the team showed great application and were well rewarded with third place in their competition. A number of players, such as Charlie Younge, Jamie Fletcher and John Bayly, showed the potential to succeed in the 1st XV in 1985.

The 3rd XV and Year 9 XV developed as the season progressed, with some heartening wins against more experienced rivals. There are a number of players who gained valuable experience, which should stand them in good stead for the future.

Finally thanks must go to the coaches Mr Woollett, Mr Butler, Mr Gannon, Mr Glaister, Reverend Milne, and to our visiting coach, Peter Bailey, for their tireless efforts in 1984.

Paul Jenkins, Captain of Rugby

RUGBY TOUR 1984

On Wednesday, 16th May, twenty boys and two teachers set out for our Eastern States tour, taking in Canberra and Sydney.

By W.A. standards we were a fairly experienced team, but the tour was organised so that we could gain a greater experience in rugby, through playing, watching and being coached in a part of Australia where the standards are far higher. We were met in Canberra by freezing temperatures with the thermometer falling to 1° and 2° in the early mornings. We were the guests of St. Edmund's College, a traditionally strong rugby school, during our stay.

While in Canberra we visited the main sights, including the High Court and National Gallery. We were also lucky enough to have a guided tour of the Parliament from Dr. Ric Charlesworth M.P., an old boy of the school.

Our match against St. Edmund's 3rd XV was a very close encounter and a good initiation to the style of rugby played in the East. We led 12-10 with five minutes left in the game, but unfortunately they managed a field goal in the dying minutes to salvage a one point victory.

After a twenty three minute flight from Canberra on the Saturday we arrived in Sydney, where we were guests of Cranbrook School.

The game against Cranbrook was to be the highlight of the tour. We were determined to beat them and after a very tight game, we held on to win 9-7, Chris Holme making a match winning tackle in the last minute. Andrew Oliver also played the first half unconscious!

On the Saturday afternoon we saw Queensland play N.S.W. The lowlight of the tour came in the game against Scots U/16A, where we were fairly soundly defeated, by a very well drilled unit. We also sustained heavy injuries to add to our problems. In fact we went into the final match against Shore, Mr Butler's old school, with only fifteen fit players. Again we lost fairly heavily but it was a much more determined effort, and we weren't disgraced.

Front: John Bayley, Philip Pennington, Andrew Oliver, Paul Jory.

Absent: Tom Cockle, Richard Gibson.

Our billets in both Sydney and Canberra were extremely hospitable, and we were lucky to see most of the main sights in both cities. The most pleasing aspect of the tour was the discovery of such new talent as David Trembath and the emergence of a new enthusiasm in players like John Bayly.

It was a tired but very satisfied team that walked into Perth Airport on the evening of May 26th after ten days away.

All thanks must go to Mr Woollett and Mr Butler (who made available his family's house on the Hawkesbury River for a day), for their great organisation. Not only did we see top class rugby, Interstate and 1st XV schools games (incidentally, the schools in the East have about 40 rugby teams in the school), but we were coached by former Australian and N.S.W. players.

The tour was extremely successful, and was of great benefit to Christ Church Rugby in the 1984 P.S.A. season.

P. Jenkins, Captain of Rugby

HOCKEY

The first XI Hockey team this year began the climb out of the slump it had fallen into over the past couple of years.

The final result, a disappointing sixth in the P.S.A. competition, is not an accurate reflection of the team's ability. The side performed admirably against all competition, and team spirit was high.

The one complaint I have with the team was the poor level of concentration maintained at training. For Christ Church to be a major force in Hockey this aspect at training sessions must improve. This involves a desire by every team member to improve his own level of skills and fitness. This, in turn, will create a team of a higher calibre.

Next year's side looks very promising with only five Year 12's leaving. This means the team will be experienced, one that has hopefully learnt from the mistakes made this year.

Younger players, the like of David Yu, who made the State Under 16 side, and Paul Jenkin, who made the State Under 15's, will play ever increasing roles in the success of the side. Players such as Danny Sudlow, John Taylor, Richard Pate and Steven Russell will also add to the teams' strengths.

The loss of players from the 1st XI, namely John Hui (who must be congratulated on Hockey Honours and representation of the School in the P.S.A. side), Gary Cox, Richard Pyett and James Rees will be significant. This, however, will be counteracted by the very competent Mr. McFarlane. His knowledge and skill in coaching could make Christ Church a winning side. This, however, will only occur when the desire to achieve comes from the boys.

Throughout the rest of the School, Hockey has been much the same and many of my earlier comments are applicable. The Year 10A's and B's were the most successful sides. They won about half of their games. The middle school Year 9A's performed admirably and the support of some of these players will be needed to ensure Hockey's success at Christ Church in the next couple of years.

In all of Christ Church's Hockey teams untapped talent is evident. We must learn to use this talent to its maximum.

T. S. Baxter

CROSS COUNTRY

I'm not sure whether cross country is the most team orientated individual sport or the most individually orientated team sport, but whatever the answer, the final result for the senior school team remains the same. Absolutely Victory.

I surveyed our team at the beginning of the season and could see no reason why we could not retain our Premiership title (the premiers are the totally undefeated champions). My gut feeling slowly became a reality with each match we played. The margin of our victories was so large that it proved a major source of embarrassment to even those teams considered close competition.

Over the past three years we have lost only one run (half the team were sick with the flu)! Many people have contributed our success to our home course, which is the most treacherous and rugged course in the state. But I'll let you in on our real winning secret. The team is made up of a large group of talented runners who are prepared to work. It is this depth and attitude that forms the winning combination.

I cast my eyes across the names of runners to mention the top performers. However, while I find such names as Butler, Van Heurck and Woss, I find it too difficult to single out individuals because I honestly feel that all team members played important roles in such a win. Although, there are two people I have no difficulty in singling out for top performances; they are Brian Marsland and Roger Dettman for coaching us to the top. Thanks must also go to Mr Sibson for coaching the third placed Middle School team, and in so forming the basis for future years teams.

If any prospective sportsmen would like to join a winning team, (next year the result will be the same) they should enrol in the 1985 Cross Country Team. Thank-you for your support this year. Don't forget — We've got the Power!

SOCCER

Soccer, a new and popular sport at Christ Church, proved to be fairly successful during the 1984 season with 3 out of our 4 teams finishing 3rd in the competition.

The sport began in 1983 with two Middle School teams on a trial basis. During 1984 the sport was extended to include two senior teams in the P.S.A. Competition as well.

The 1st XI, coached by Mr Hart, was comprised mainly of boys from years 10 and 11, and as a result of this we had a height disadvantage against most of the teams. Some of the opposing teams also had State Representative players. Despite these difficulties we worked during the year to develop a solid foundation for next year's team. The results showed that the team developed progressively during the season. After winning only one first round match, the team went on to win three out of its four second round matches. It was encouraging to see the 1st XI keep up the determined performance right to the end of the season where we almost toppled one of the top sides in the competition. The Team's final position was 3rd and the leading goal scorers for the season were Nicholas du Cros (7) and Guan Tay (6).

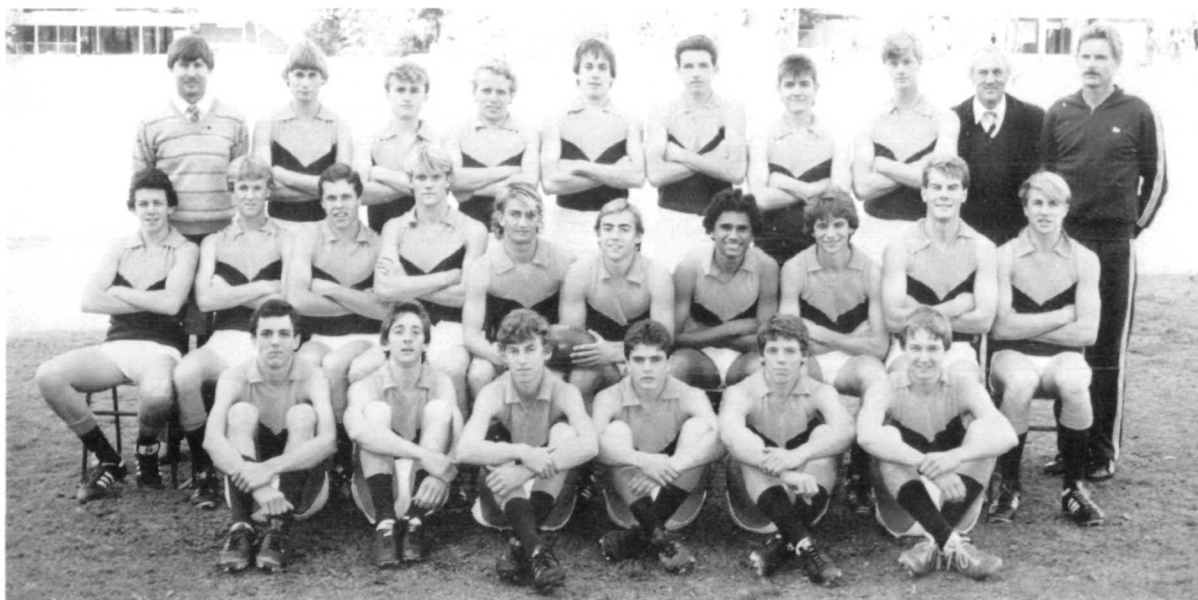

The 2nd XI showed less consistency through the season which was probably due to their inexperience. Their coach Mr Tait worked with the team to develop their level of skill and to maintain their confidence. The team responded well by finishing 3rd in the competition. Leading goal-scorers for the team were Cox (7) and Dempster (6).

Mr Hallett had the difficult task of coaching both the Middle school A and B teams. The "A" team finished on a strong note remaining undefeated in the second round giving them an overall placing of 3rd. The "B" were not so fortunate, finishing 5th.

After this encouraging and enthusiastic introduction, soccer should have a promising future in the school. There is room for much improvement but this will only come from hard work in developing skills and maintaining confidence throughout the season.

The teams would like to extend their thanks to their coaches, Mr Hart, Mr Tait, Mr Hallett, as well as Mr Tingey for helping to encourage the sport in the school.

FOOTBALL

1984 has seen the renaissance of football at C.C.G.S. The resurgence is due to a number of facts:

- (a) the appointment of an outside 1st XVIII coach (Rex Townsend), a team manager and a physical fitness instructor and assistant coach (Graeme Porter).
- (b) the attitude of most boys playing football was positive and they were willing to listen, learn and encourage others.
- (c) the outstanding support of parents throughout the year.
- (d) the support and encouragement of the senior boys setting an example for the others, in particular the Captain and the Vice-Captain of the 1st XVIII, Brian Beresford and Dean Younge.
- (e) the coaches themselves worked extremely hard throughout and worked as a team. I sincerely thank them for their efforts and support this season; a lot of credit must go to them.

The Middle School

The Year 9A's ended up fourth and the year 9B's last but were competitive and lost some very close games. BEST: Manuel, Mycock, Synnot.

The Year 8's were extremely competitive and display ability which certainly can be developed to make C.C.G.S. a force in football for the next three or four years. BEST: Brown, Cann, Donato, D'emden, Hyman, Watson, Hathway, Norton, Keenan, Taylor and many more.

The Year 8A's won 14 out of their 23 games. My thanks to the Year 8/9 coaches, Otto van Kampen, Paul Collie, Dean Bowker and Kerry Clarke.

D. M. van Kempen
 Master-in-charge of Football

The Senior School

After a couple of disappointing seasons the 1st XVIII this year set about re-establishing themselves as a force in P.S.A. football. The team had acquired a new coach in old boy and former league player, Rex Townsend. Mr. Townsend's coaching ability and hunger for success was the motivating power behind the team's improvement over the season.

The pre-season training was more intense than ever, resulting in a fit and determined Christ Church side. We were unlucky to lose a few of our early matches but once the team experienced its first win, over Guildford, there was no looking back, with us winning three of the last six matches. Victories over Wesley and last year's undefeated premiers, Trinity, provided the highlights of the season.

Newcomer Chris Lewis fitted into the team well, dazzling the opposition with his amazing ball skills. Chris is to be congratulated on making the W.A. Teal Cup side for under 18's, not bad for a Year 10. This year Cam McGregor was moved into defence and soon developed into the best back pocket player in the P.S.A. Both boys thoroughly deserved their honours.

Brett "scruff" Renouf, Adam Tetlow and Derek Humphry represented a potent following division. The team certainly didn't lack any aggression with Vice-Captain Dean Young, Neil McDonald and James Turnbull throwing their bodies around.

In all, 1984 marked the "renaissance" of Christ Church football. Along with the 1st XVIII's rise up the ladder came Mr. Watkins' 3rd XVIII's many victories, and an improvement in the 2nd XVIII's performances, coaches by Mr. Rogerson. With many fine footballers in the lower age groups and the expertise of Rex Townsend, the school can look forward to having the Alcock Cup in its trophy cabinet in the near future.

On behalf of the team I would like to thank Mr. Townsend, Mr. Porter, our assistant coach, Mr. Parish, our manager, and Mr. van Kempen, Master-in-charge of football, for their excellent efforts over the season.

Melbourne Trip

The trip to Melbourne in the May holidays proved to be a great time for the 30-odd Christ Church sportsmen who went over. It was extremely beneficial for the 1st XVIII which gained valuable match practice and got to know their new coach.

After the stress of exams, and the excitement of post-exam parties, a somewhat tired team fronted up to training the day before we left. Mr. Townsend stressed that it was a FOOTBALL trip and we were going over to win.

Unfortunately our bigger and older hosts from Peninsula Grammar were too good for us on the football field, winning both the matches we played against them. The tennis players among us, led by Robbie Phillips, also went down. We did achieve one success though, that being in volleyball with team runner Mark Barboutis playing well.

A highlight for many was witnessing a V.F.L. match for the first time at the M.C.G. and seeing infamous "Jacko" at his best.

The team made good friends with the Vics and the Year 11's are looking forward to having them over to stay next year.

Once again, thanks must go to the staff from Christ Church who put in a lot of time organising the trip.

Brian Beresford
Captain of Football

Note: Football Honours were awarded to B. Beresford (who has been invited to train with the Claremont colts), C. McGregor and C. Lewis.—D.M.V.K.

Year 10

The 1984 season has been our best for many years in the P.S.A. competition with the 10A's winning five games and finishing fourth while the 10B's won nine games and finished equal first. Undoubtedly the highlight of the season was our great win in the grand final of the C.I.G. Shield Competition played as a curtain raiser to the State of Origin match, W.A. v Victoria at Subiaco Oval. In order to win the C.I.G. Shield and a prize of $500 our team had to win six games straight. This was a tremendous achievement since the teams we played against were progressively stronger. Both teams this year had a very good blend of skills and vigour and displayed excellent teamwork and fighting qualities.

BEST PLAYERS: 10A's: A. Nicol, N. McGlew, A. Evans, A. Huchins, M. Johnson.

10B's: D. Potter, R. Abbey, M. Calthrop, V. Lindfield, B. Scovell.

SQUASH

As squash is not a P.S.A. sport we have no official competition with other schools. This is a pity because we have dominated social matches and we have a strong following throughout the senior and middle school.

Squash is a popular sport for first and third terms, so popular that we had to hire outside venues in order to accommodate so many students. It is an individual's game and so does not lend itself well to school activities but I would stress the value of playing squash as a recreational activity. Many boys take advantage of the opportunity to use the school courts on the weekends and after school. It is a great game because you can do yourself so much good in a relatively short time.

GYMNASTICS

From the first day of school this year all gymnasts started getting a grip on new skills. The steadily driving influence of Mr. Kovacs took us to an early competition before Easter, boosting our momentum in piecing together our exercises. Near the end of First Term Mr. Kovacs departed for his well-deserved Long Service Leave and Second Term found the gym club in a stranded position. However, our temporary coach, Kosi, gave his best encouragement towards helping us to achieve success in State competition.

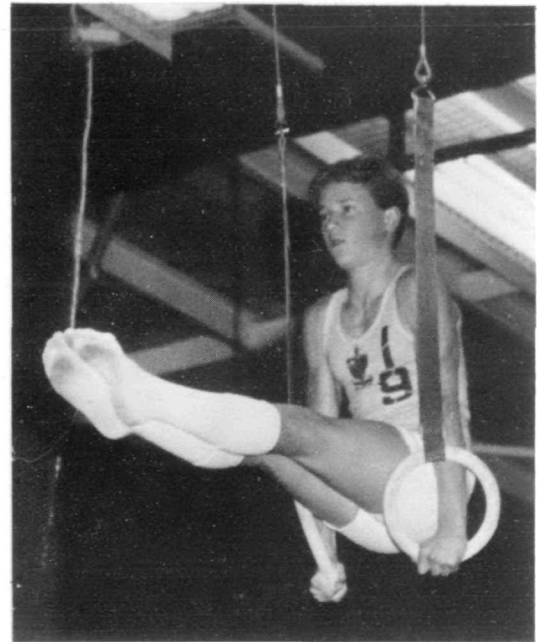

Apart from the Christ Church Gym Club as a whole having a good influence in State and Interstate Competitions, Alister Jones made the Level Seven State Team. He competed in the Nationals at Len Fletcher Pavilion and he managed to get into the top third of all the competitors who numbered about twenty-seven. In the Level Seven State Championships Alister came third and Jake Minnear was fourth. Level Six team had three competitors, two of them making the top three places. Robert Pontgue was first, Julian Mann came third just managing to scrape in in front of Steven Power who was fourth. The Level Six Team also won the Team competition.

A week later the Home Championships were held at the Christ Church Gymnasium. Unfortunately there were only five competitors in both U/15 Open. Robert Pontague put on an excellent performance in U/15 and took the first place. Julian Mann was in second place with Steven Power third. In the Open the final result was Jake Minnear first with Alister Jones second. In the Preparatory School Championships Leon Semmens was the champion after some very close competition. Adrian Eldred won Level Five, Craig Elliot was second, Troy Taylor was third and Chris Cook fourth.

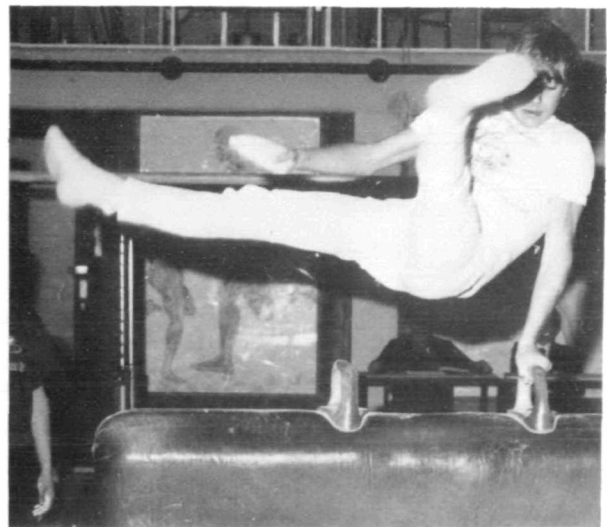

Now that Mr. Kovacs is back the gymnasts are developing their exercises with the utmost enthusiasm and are looking forward to next year's competitions.

Julian Mann

NOTE: This year the Gym Club lacked senior boys to fill the role of club captain so the position remained vacant.

ATHLETICS

With last year's disastrous season behind us, where we finished as Mr. Grist would say, "stone, motherless last", the Aths team set themselves the target of getting off the bottom of the table. This we achieved, finishing in 6th place ahead of Hale. More importantly we made an improvement of almost 200 points on last year's meagre 774 points. It must also be remembered that the competition was very close with just 78 points separating 3rd place from 6th place.

In the past our high jumpers and middle distance runners have been our strength. This was again the case with Steve Russell breaking the U/17 Quads high jump record and then finishing 2nd on inters day. Scott van Heurck, Tim Bailey and Blair Keenan were the pick of the distance runners.

The performance of the sprinters was well above expectations. Tim Baxter and Steven Briggs came of age, gaining places in their respective races. Chris Brown U/14 proved to be another Carl Lewis in the making, winning three 2nd division events, the 100m, 200m and long jump. We also had top performers in the jumps with Chris Parkinson, Anthony Brooks and Darren Manuel.

Our two star field athletes were Jason Yeitz and Duncan Synnot. Jason won the U/15 discus while Duncan won and also broke the record in the U/14 shot put.

As these results show there is a lot of potential in the younger age groups and only a slight improvement next year is needed to lift the team into a place.

Mr. Grist took over the management of the team this year with Mr. Butler as his offside. Through their efforts there was a more positive attitude towards athletics and this was reflected in the large turnouts at training and our improved results. These two staff members were well supported by the other coaches Mr. Marsland, Mr. van Kampen and Mr. Pate, throughout the season. Next year's team should now be able to go into the Inters full of confidence.

HOUSE NOTES

CRAIGIE

House Master: Mr. R.F. House.

Tutors: Mr. J.W. Bates, Mrs. J.M. Drummond, Mr. P.J. Rickey, Mr. D.M. van Kempen, Mr. H. Woodall.

House Officers: J.P. Rees (Captain), A. Patrick (Vice-Captain), T.F. Walsh (Secretary), R. Gibson (House Rep.).

1984 saw vast changes made to the house system, and determined to lead the way in style, Craigie started well by winning both the swimming and life-saving. Tim "Big Boy" Walsh led the house with class by being the Open Swimming Champion as well as winning the Iron Man title by a streak. Others who excelled in swimming were Marcus Donato, Richard Bowman and Peter Crommelin, but the overall results reflected a strong team performance.

Thanks must go to Justin "is my hair in place" Birchmore, Jonathon "Gut" Moss, Richard "Sarge" Gibson and Nick Masters who did an excellent job marshalling the Craigie competitors.

Our softball also performed well, finding the untapped talents of Robbie "Billie Idol" Phillips and a famous vocalist Jeff "Bono" Brown, who managed to hit a few homers and make us finish high up in the order.

House spirit was at an all time high as we revived the three cheers for Craigie in second term and set about demolishing our opposition.

The winter competition began and our determined rugby players, led by Andrew Cameron and supported by the well oiled, rippling muscles of Ben Patrick, could only manage a fourth placing. Whilst hockey slumped somewhat to finish third, even though excellent matches were played by Richard "Smiley" Saleeba and Danny "Rickets" Sudlow. The football players were forced to play volleyball but the change of surroundings did not seem to hamper them and they finished equal third. However it was the middle school rugby, football, hockey and soccer teams that maintained our position in the quest for the Beatty Cup.

Debating wound up the second term with Steven "Arfur" Daly and Simon Lee combining to win some fiery, tongue twisting debates.

Third term saw the return of Mrs. Drummond (nee Miss Luke) whose marriage boosted the spirits of Craigie and was seemingly responsible for our excellent effort in the house cross-country. Excellent runs were made by Danny Sudlow and Tim Lee.

The House athletics was Craigie's last "hurdle", with Wolsey and Romsey close behind we had to finish sixth or better to take out the cup. Neil Gibson, Danny Sudlow and Tim Lee, with help from Mr. Van, had put together a solid team. On the day everyone contributed and with excellent efforts from Peter Dowling who won the hurdles (and Under 16 Championship), Chris Brown (who proved the less hair you have the faster you run) in the 100m sprint, Andrew Patrick for a mercy run in the 110m hurdles as well as a final bid in the relays, we were able to attain sixth placing and grasp the Beatty Cup.

Thanks go again to our marshalls, Tim Walsh, Rob Phillips and Nick Masters. The success of Craigie House would not have been possible without the long hours and hard work, coupled with the excellent organisation of Mr. House and our Tutors. I take this opportunity to thank them on behalf of Craigie House and to wish Craigie House the best of luck for next year.

JUPP

Housemaster: Mr. R.T. Woollett.

Tutors: Messrs. G.C. Ferguson, K.W. Hopkins, A.C. Monger, T.M.D. McGill, C.J. Williams.

House Officials: C.D. Kelsall (Captain), D.S. Bloomfield (Vice-Captain), R.G. Pyett (House Rep.).

This year Jupp achieved the prestigious honour of occupying one end of the results table. Well done to whoever won!

In the First Term Swimming Carnival it became obvious that the Jupp species was not aquatically inclined. However, such mutations as David Yu and Nelson Woss were exceptions to this — hopefully there'll be a few more of you next year. However, with our backs to the wall, we fought our way to a respectable fifth, in the House Lifesaving.

During the winter, we were most successful in coming third overall in the Debating, with the Senior team, complete with big mouths and sagging tongues, arguing its way to the final. This feat couldn't have been achieved without such brave volunteers as Jonno "Red" Cox, with his extravagant yarns, and Andrew "Pretty Boy" McNeilage, who gained the audience's attention with his Pinteresque pauses. Ian Ludlow lent stolid support too when required.

Meanwhile, out on the sportsfield, Craig Brooks and Nick Du Cros led the soccer players to fourth place, and Dal Harper performed admirably, to ensure the same position in the Squash. These quiet achievers got on with the job, and showed that Jupp is a force, if we apply ourselves. Well done, boys.

Other winter successes were somewhat camouflaged. The Senior Cross Country came second, with Nelson Woss and Chris Kelsall both winning their respective age groups. The senior Hockey came fourth and the Senior softball was up there, too. Unfortunately the overall placings were somewhat reduced.

Now for a true measure of our strength: the Athletics . . . and what better way to end the year by finishing third? Outstanding performances came from Chris Parkinson, who was equal u/14 champion, and Tim Bailey, who was U/17 champion. Jupp's athletic talent was further illustrated by Nelson Woss, who somehow managed to propel his lean frame around the track ahead of all rivals and Richard Pyett and Tom Warner, who were both notorious for their successful "coming-out-of-no-where-to-win" tactics. Fiery runs came from the sprinters Lindon Timms, Nick Du Cros, and young Brooks — all managing to hit the line, just in time . . .

Whilst still in this spirited state of mind, I would thank Mr Woollett and the tutors for their stoic support throughout the year.

To those who are staying let's see if you can carry the attitude and achievement shown in this year's Athletics into 1985 and do fuller justice to the name of Jupp. Good luck.

McCLEMANS

House Master: Mr. R.H. Dixon.

Tutors: Mr. A.W. Hallett, Mr. M.R. Hart, Dr. A.D. Needham, Mr. A. Schulte and Mrs. M. Watson.

House Officers: Cameron McGregor (Captain), Scott Mayes (Vice-Captain).

It has been an interesting and varied year. We welcomed Mrs. Watson's switch to McClemans and the introduction of Mr. Hallett to both the school and our house. Mr. Dettman left at the end of second term to take up an exchange posting in Germany and his counterpart, Herr Schulte, took over his tutorial group, an event which prompted one farmer's son to remark, "Jeez he speaks English better'n me". We wish the Schultes a happy stay.

The next move is being made by Mr. Dixon who goes on exchange to America at the end of this year. After five years as Chief of Clan McClemans he deserves a break. Best wishes to him and his family.

We began our sporting year with an all-out effort in the inter-house swimming and lifesaving, improving on last year's performance by one place. Our one star, Choong San Lee, newly imported for his swimming prowess, quickly proved his worth as a competitor and vice-captain of the team and the House Iron Man. Support came from all members who really showed great house spirit. Mention should be especially made of the efforts made by Chris Hughes, Brent Bonadeo and Adam Rocchi and of course Mat "Mang" Moyes, the most laid-back captain ever to lead a team.

Our softball team was something of a disappointment. It looked impressive but apart from all-rounder Adam Rocchi, it lacked co-ordination. Too many rugby players!

In debating, the Briggs, Offer, Turnbull combo gained more laughs than points, but our junior team didn't even materialise. A forfeit — shame!

On to the winter competition in rugby and hockey in which we acquitted ourselves well especially in rugby where we were able to field some of the school team heavies like Daz Burling and Andrew Smolders. Our quiet achievers in the chess team did well too, gaining fourth place.

We really hit our straps however in third term beginning with the cross country in which we had the strength at all levels in Sewell, Hutton, Gorman, Hannah and Tanner. Bruce Sewell was the Junior Division Champion. Our first place was well deserved.

In athletics we battled it out with Walters to come a close second. Our outstanding athletes were Andrew Smolders and Stephen Briggs. Once again the Rocchi featured but there were other notable efforts from a wide range of boys who showed true house spirit.

All in all it was a good year — our fortunes fluctuated but never our spirits. We always had a go. Let's keep it that way, McClemans.
Cam McGregor (Captain)

NOAKE

House Master: Mr. K. Holloway.

Tutors: Mr. L.W. Hutchinson, Mr. J.A. Pemberton, Mr. H.C. Ryder, Mr. M.J. Sibson, Mr. B. Tingey.

House Officers: M.P. Lucas (Captain), T.S. Baxter (Vice-Captain).

1984 proved to be a year in which Noake excelled in some house activities and was not so successful in others. Overall it was a most enjoyable year for everyone.

The first event on the house calendar was the swimming. We obtained a creditable fifth place. Excellent individual performances came from Peter Galvin, who was the U15 champion, and from the three Holme brothers who all performed well.

Noake's life-saving has never been a strong point and this year was no exception. We finished a very average seventh.

Softball and debating proved to be the highlights of Noake's year. The softball performance was made possible in the senior school by some superb hitting from Jonathon "King Watty" Watson and Chris "Rupey" Holme. In the middle school it was generally a strong all-round effort. Debating was won due to a consistent senior school team of Jason Dymond, Glen Leighton and Tim Baxter and an unbeatable middle school combination of Nathan Cochrane, Ian Crooke and Ben Carnley. Even without those tips from "Master in Charge of Debating" and House tutor, Mr. Ryder, this was a formidable team.

Another activity in which we excelled was chess. Thanks to another great all-round performance we finished equal second and were unlucky not to win the competition.

The other second term activities were fairly disappointing except for a third in rugby, in which we fielded a team of German tanks, and an equal third in hockey.

Noake's athletic ability proved to be down on recent years with an eighth place in cross-country and the House Athletics Carnival. After these performances it is staggering that, at present, we remain undefeated in the inaugural Dual Meet Competition, which relies heavily on overall house ability. The House Carnival, however, should not be passed without mentioning the performance of Tim Baxter. Tim took out the Open championship in achieving the rare triple of the 100m, 200m and 400m events, the first to do so for many years.

Finally, we would like to thank our ever-green House Master, Mr. "Noake, no joke in '84" Holloway, for his faultless organisation of the house activities. Thanks is also extended to house tutors and Year 12 students for their support and co-operation.

Good luck to Noake next year.

QUEENSLEA

House Master: Mr. P. M. Draper.

Tutors: Miss L.F. Day, Mrs. L.J. Matthews, Mr. D.J. Morrissey, Mr. A.D. Froude, Mr. D.G. Lamond, Mr. S. Gipson.
House Officials: C.J. Walker (Captain), P.A. Jenkins (Vice-Captain), D.W. Elsey (Secretary).

This year, with new blood at the helm and the introduction of the new house system, Queenslea faced 1984 with new vigour and expectation. However, early success did not come our way as we could only manage third in both the swimming and lifesaving, a good start but disappointing as we had won the lifesaving and came second in the swimming last year. However, strong individual performances came from David Elsey and Mark Barboutis in the open division, Andrew Coppin and Adam Hall in the U16, Willy Graaug in the U15 and Dion Mephram in the U14.

Second term's activities seemed to lack the quick, quiet, quaintness of Queenslea's quality with quizzical results. The senior debaters, led by the ever quizzeling Dishan Weerasooryia, came equal seventh. As with the squash, soccer and softball all finishing in the bottom position, due not to lack of skill or interest but mainly to poor determination and lack of support.

The highlight of the term was undoubtedly the rugby, finishing equal first overall, under the captainship of Paul Jenkins in the senior school and brother Lloyd in the middle school. John Hui led the hockey players to a fine second by the closest of margins. Success was due to team effort and perseverance, something which Queensleans seem to thrive on.

Third term started with a rush, the first major event being the House Cross Country Championships. Once again Dion Mephram came through for the big "Q", winning the U14 championship in the cross-country. We finished fifth overall but with a great effort by the middle school. Things are looking up for the coming years for there is much strength coming up through the House.

The final event for third term was the Athletics. Once again Queenslea came from behind to pull up in equal third position; a great effort mainly accreditable to the younger age groups once again. David Mak winning the U13 championship (how versatile is this youngster!) and Dion Mephram the U14. Good performances came also from Adam East, Richard Pate and Mark Ferguson, all first division winners.

Queensleans may have lacked in other areas this year but they proved they had deep pockets and straight eyes by winning the trophy for house collections in second term, and winning the shooting competition, neither of which sadly counts towards House competition. (Actually, if truth be known, David "Billy the Kid" Elsey, held a gun to everyone's head as he went around rattling the House collection tin every Thursday morning.)

Prospects for 1985 are shaping up for Queenslea with many outstanding performers in the middle school.

This year thanks must go to Mr. Draper and the Tutors for their tremendously enthusiastic organisation and support, to the House seniors and to the House for their sensible and helpful co-operation. Good luck next year, Queenslea. I am confident that, with the talent we have amongst our ranks, we shall be the force in 1985.

ROMSEY

House Master: Mr. J.A. Leach.

Tutors: Mr. R.D. McFarlane, Mr. G.D. Porter, Mr. A.L. Pate, Mrs. J. Weeda, Mr. K.A. Grist, Mr. L.W. Owne.

House Officers: B.J. Beresford (Captain), S.A. Johnson (Vice-Captain), N.J. Dixon and S.J.G. Leach (Treasurers).

In their quest to top the House Competition, the Romsey boys achieved some remarkable successes over the year.

The swimming carnival was first up and our second place was a great effort. Blair "Little Skinny" Keenan, Chris Michael and Tom Kelly were our star aquanauts. Complementing the swimming, our lifesaving team performed admirably. Andrew Maslen's freestyle swim in a wade and breaststroke relay provided the entertainment of the afternoon.

Without a doubt, the senior school winter sports afternoon was the highlight of our year. Romsey won the rugby, the hockey, the volleyball and came a close second in the soccer. Simon "Sponge" Johnson excelled in the rugby, absorbing all the opposition's forward thrusts while Steven Forgan (6'7") proved more than an effective spike in the volleyball.

Gerald Clayton led by "example" in debating with a personal and emotive display on the subject "That homosexuality should be decriminalized".

In softball young Matthew Warren found out just how dangerous Tom Kelly is with a softball bat after being struck on the head by one. The senior team did exceptionally well, coming third, but we were let down by a mediocre middle school performance.

Romsey led the way in house collection due to the efforts of Nicholas Dixon and Stephen Leach.

For the majority of the year we held down second place overall but disappointing results in cross-country and athletics meant we slipped back slightly.

The Romsey resurgence can be attributed to a new confidence and enthusiasm in the house. Simon Johnson, Brad Keenan, Steve Russell, Chris Michael, Ashley Nicol, Paul Potter and Ben Culley were major contributors to the house, filling positions of leadership and responsibility superbly.

WALTERS

House Master: Mr. K.J. Parish.

Tutors: Mr. M.S. Brackenreg, Mr. C.T. Gannon, Mr. P. Hardy-Atkins, Mr. O.D. Van Kampen, Mr. B. Marsland.

House Officers: S. Byrne (Captain), (Vice-Captain),

With the big event of the year being the House Athletics, Walters, with their truly professional attitude came outright first place over McClemans House who were put under the thumb after the series of relays which both U17 and Open teams won. Outstanding athletes such as Darren Manuel who took out the U15 champion cup with wins in the 200 metres, long jump and triple jump. Jason Jeitz taking the U15 discus medal with a record breaking throw, Neil Bowman the Open discus champion, plus David McKenzie who surprised everyone with his unbeatable long jump in the Open. Special mention should also go to Phillip Moore who showed us what determination meant in the 1500 metre event.

Early Third Term saw a battle of stamina and sweat at Perry Lakes for the gruelling "House Cross Country". The middle school team of the "White Knights" once more proved to the house how to strive for the top with determination, especially the run by John Railton who finished second within his field. Bruce Halleen 35th and Neil Bowman 36th led the House senior school runners with their great battle. The rest of the senior school runners came home utterly exhausted, in the middle of the field. With this magnificent effort by all those who competed we finished a well earned second place.

With our sights set on the Beatty Cup early in the year we approached the House lifesaving and swimming with the spirit of winners, instead obtaining a comfortable sixth placed in both events. With the addition of Mike Briggs to the house swimming team, and also with the help of Jeremy Keam and our illustrious Neil Bowman the Human Tank as Ironman it was an outstanding effort, beating McClemans both times.

Then the time came for other such events in which we excelled, these being the softball, with our addition of Chris Lewis the hit-man, we finished a good second place. Debating saw the middle school threesome astound the opposition in their debates to take out the "Middle School Mouth". The addition of soccer to the winter carnival proved most advantageous for our boys in white, as most of the school first eleven players were from Walters. Led by such players as Bak Lau, Jeffrey Pha and Mark Cox, our senior school team won, also the middle school team won with stars showing in Gavin Loughton and Albert Soong.

The rest of the winter competition saw Walters winning the middle school football and coming second place in the squash competition. Rugby, hockey, volleyball and chess all finished comfortably adding to our consistently growing points score.

WOLSEY

House Master: C.H. Watkins.

House Officers: P.G. Davies (Captain), Q.B. Webster (Vice-Captain).

1984 saw the revival of Wolsey as a force in the house competition with a good solid effort in all events. This year we managed to obtain an overall 2nd placing.

The swimming and lifesaving set the trend for the year with a creditable fourth in the swimming and a magnificent second in the lifesaving which marked the revival of house spirit in a big way. Notable performances from Bruce Munns, Neil McDonald, Chris Johnson and Dave Treleaven lifted the house.

First term also included the softball competition which was spiced up by the antics of Bruce Munns who refused to play in anything except his knee-length multi-coloured boardshorts. Here a large majority of boys in the house participated with a determined effort from the middle school team giving us a fourth place.

In second term the academic side of the house had its run with an equal record by the chess team ably captained by Jason Webb — that is when he came to school. The house debating competition saw a great effort by the senior school team, consisting of different combinations of Quentin Webster, Matthew Winter, Sam Thompson, Jason Webb and Peter Davies. This team through the use of incredibly witty arguments which seldom made much sense, ground all opposition into the dirt to win their final in fine style. The squash was the other highlight of second term. The team, captained by Gavin "Grumpy" Hall, went on to win their final in a nail-biting finish that saw both teams equal with one game to play but then Grumpy's little brother Kelvin stepped on to the court and nothing else needs to be said — he won easily.

The only disappointment of second term was the house carnival in which Wolsey suffered from a lack of numbers. Good performances were put in by the middle school football team and the senior school volleyballers who came third and second respectively.

In the athletics we showed great house spirit and put on a respectable effort to finish fifth, holding our overall position in the house competition.

Thanks must go to our House Master, Mr. Watkins, all the tutors and the Year 12s because without their efforts nothing would have been organised. Wolsey promises to better itself next year with the great talent coming up through the middle school; best of luck Wolsey.

KOORINGAL

All camps have been a great success. Kooringal has an atmosphere of progress, challenge and growth — I welcome Angus Firth, Krik and Kublai Saggers to our happy “outpost community”. Our new building has been well tested — it is an outstanding facility of which we are all very proud.

My thanks are extended to Mr. Neil Saggers for his swift and professional acclimatisation to Kooringal; to Mr. Toby Moore for his enthusiasm, help and hard work during the winter term; to the Year 11 leaders for their maturity, interest and smiles during the Year 8 programme; to all staff who willingly involved themselves in the busy life of Kooringal, especially Mr. Frank Fraser, our “behind the scenes man” and Mr. Andy Froude who surfaced from the Murray River when the water level dropped. Without this continued support, Kooringal cannot continue to grow — Thank you.

ATTENTION ALL ADVENTURERS! 1985 will see the introduction of an Adventure Unit option for Year 10. A major expedition will be our goal. I look forward to an exciting 1985.

Year 8

The Year 8 Outdoor Education Programme was held in second term, when Kooringal can be a cold, wintry place, but with brief sunny days.

The activities were strenuous and demanded a good deal of personal effort in order to achieve results. Some boys thought the required effort was beyond them, but with encouragement from staff and fellow-students, most reached the goals set, resulting in immense personal satisfaction.

Each science set of about twenty-six boys lived at Kooringal for twelve days. The initial periods of orientation and instruction built onto the foundations set from the first day. Mr. Firth has designed the programme so that each new day teaches skills which complement those learnt on the previous day. The initial compass lesson led to native scrub orienteering, followed by overnight hike navigation. A half-day introduction to kayaking skills was followed by a full day canoe trip, from Naga Bridge, downstream about 15km through white-water rapids to Kooringal. The overnight hike, towards the end of the first week was the trial run for the three-day hiking expedition in the second week.

To some people who haven't experienced it, Kooringal may sound like a hard-labour bush camp — the boys do all the cooking, cleaning and general housework, they are worked physically hard, some activities appear intimidating and the boys are away from home for 12 days. But as they progress, they find that Kooringal is really about living together, learning skills and having fun.

Kooringal in Year 8 provides a stepping stone for advanced specialised activities in later years. But in Year 8, Kooringal is about personal effort and achievement, and living successfully in a small community with compassion, caring, compromise and co-operation.

Year 8 Quotes from "Koorinal Reflections"

"I've pretty well decided to buy Koorinal and live here."

"One thing I learned was to always trust the teachers!"

"At Koorinal it's not so much a case of surviving. It's how well you survive that counts."

"When I heard Mr. Firth say "You are holding your mate's life in your hands by that rope," I realised that Koorinal would be a very different experience from anything else I've done previously."

"You really learned to appreciate the bush at night. It was so calm and friendly, just like you had lived there all your life."

A control checkcard from a group which was very lost!

"Time: 2.53 Gp.1. All well. The other group bungled it severely and are going in completely the wrong direction. At least that's what we think . . . Eh! Should reach camp at 4.00. Signed: "Sore Shoulders."

The Year 9 Camps

As seen by a very perceptive Year 9 himself!

(To enlighten readers as to the nature of Year 9 camps I present my view of the White Water Canoeing Camp.)

From the first afternoon and initial contacts it became obvious to all 20 of us in the white water canoeing camp that much more was expected of us this year. But of course we had all experienced the 12-day camps last year and although the building was new the routine seemed very familiar. We were at work in groups at once.

As the explanation of the 6-day camp unfolded I had a thought of how easy it might have been to choose bicycling, hiking, rock climbing/abseiling or canoe touring instead even though friends had reported how demanding and tiring these had been. But even to have the camp later in this third term, or early in first term, like other Year 9 camps would have helped. Still it was my choice at the beginning of first term — I would have to stick with it.

All of Day 2 was taken up with a 24-hour exercise in navigation, bushcraft and group living as groups of five successfully(?) manoeuvred through the jarrah forest around Koorungal free this year from leaders or adult guidance. This was most enjoyable, but I saw it only as a chore before the canoeing began.

So down to serious paddling on the Collie river (3 hours drive!). The first morning was spent tidying up our strokes and manoeuvring skills as well as practising capsize drill and trying the "Eskimo Roll" — some of my group managed straight away.

The slalom course — approximately 400m of river with six or seven rapids between start and finish occupied us for the afternoon. Our first tentative struggle down now seems pathetic as we are all now very confident and competent — thanks to lots of practice and coaching.

As the day finishes we drag ourselves away from the water to the camp site to confront our other big challenge of the week. We are expected to fend for ourselves for three nights — the teachers simply look after themselves! We quickly recall skills learnt last year, improve on early mistakes and begin working as a group very soon. It turns out to be a successful and enjoyable three nights camping. We also tackle the day trip down the Collie River — some 15km of rapids which proves a real test of skill and endurance. All of us easily survive to exaggerate stories on the bus returning home on the Friday. Waterfalls very easily grow to 2m high and the numerous capsizes and mistakes are pushed aside and considered only for what they really are — part of learning itself.

Apart from the heroic stories on the return journey the entire atmosphere and feeling is one of achievement. This canoeing is really just a walk in the park — brave words as we sit warm and dry having completed it all. But as we arrive finally back at C.C.G.S. we all quite rightly consider ourselves fair paddlers, as Mr. Firth soon acknowledges. We thank him for a week very well spent — extending us from Year 8 at Koorungal, developing our skills in this specific area, and giving us the opportunity to share and co-operate for the good of all in a challenging environment.

I'm sure whatever camp the Year 9's chose, they would have experienced the same sort of things — far different from anything at school — things they can do, enjoy and learn from as well.

I look forward to future ventures into the outdoors.

MUSIC

This has been another challenging year for all members of the music department. Our most important venture occurred at the start of the year, when the school linked up with St. George's Cathedral as a "choir school." Boys from CCGS made up the treble and alto line in the Cathedral choir, with some senior boys singing tenor and bass. To make this scheme work, a new member of staff was employed to assist Mr Hutchinson — this was Mr John Bates, who had taught previously in New Zealand and Victoria. Mr Bates is the assistant organist at the Cathedral and also teaches at school.

Although the work at the Cathedral takes up much time, it has been a most exciting year for both school and Cathedral, and the Cathedral choir is now at a very high standard. There are now 16 trebles and 4 altos, with plans to increase that number slightly next year.

In August, we received news that Mr Southwell would be leaving Christ Church to take up a new position with the A.B.C. His work over the past years with prep. choir and prep. orchestra, senior string group and playing the organ has been greatly appreciated. We welcomed in his place, Miss Helen Pedrotti, who came to the school with considerable experience. She has already made her presence felt in class teaching and with prep. choir and prep. orchestra. Next year, she will be responsible for the music in the preparatory school.

Another exciting scheme was the "Short term visiting choral scholar" idea — one of Mr Hutchinson's brain-children. Under this scheme, several budding Cathedral choral scholars, or organists, who have just finished their "A" levels at school in Britain, come to Perth for six months, and sing in the Cathedral choir, as well as helping out with music at the school. In 1984, we had Nick Brown and Sandy MacLaren — who fitted in marvellously with the scheme. In 1985, we will welcome three young men, who come with the highest references and considerable musical background.

The various performing groups have worked well and their reports occur in this section. We have now 3 full-time members of staff, 15 visiting music teachers and roughly one third of the total school population learning an instrument. Certainly our accommodation is tight, but we are delighted that once the new Prep. school building is complete, we will, again temporarily, move into the old main prep. school block. This will help a great deal.

The Tasmanian tour was our highlight for 1984 — but we sang and played in several churches, including the Cathedral, for several hospitals and for old boys' luncheons at the school. We had two major concerts, as well as the Easter Carol service, and the Advent Carol service. 1985 will provide further challenges for us.

L. W. Hutchinson, Director of Music

The "Ad Hoc Chorale"

This has been another adventurous and exciting year for the Chorale, which increased its membership to twenty-five. By far the highlight of the year was the Tour to Tasmania during May. For this tour, we prepared many new works — sacred and secular. Mr Hutchinson arranged the school rules to psalm chants — and these were always well-received. He also arranged "Ill Wind" — one of the Flanders and Swann songs — to the Mozart Horn Concerto theme. In this, we had some hilarious moments with James Kish and Richard Bowman singing the cadenza — "I miss its music more and more."

Our most difficult work was the 5 part motet "Omnes de Saba" by Jacob Handl. But what a reward to be able to sing this marvellous work — with 5 separate independent lines. We also sang "Ave verum" by Byrd, as well as madrigals and the famous "Mermaid".

Many of the tenors and basses sang in the "3 Choirs Festival" which is written up elsewhere.

Since the Tasmanian tour, we have changed our repertoire — to tackle more polyphonic works such as "Sacerdotes Domini" by Byrd, "Cantate Domino" by Pitoni and the fabulous Broadway hit "Hey Look Me Over".

It has been a great year — our standard has increased as well as our ability at sight-reading. We consider ourselves to be a first-rate singing group — able to sing music from all periods — and although we have only a brief rehearsal time each week, we produce music of a high standard. Thanks to Mr Hutchinson for his able and sound direction. We look forward to the challenges of 1985.

The 3 Choirs Festival

On Sunday, 10th June, in St. George's Cathedral, Perth's first ever "Three Choirs Festival" took place. This was based on the British festival of the same name, in which the choirs of Worcester, Hereford and Gloucester Cathedrals combine. For the Perth festival, the choirs of M.L.C., Christ Church and St. George's Cathedral combined to sing the "Gloria" of Vivaldi, Handel's "Zadok the Priest" and Benjamin Britten's challenging "Rejoice in the Lamb". As this was the first such festival, we imported a conductor — Dr Dean Patterson — director of the "Corinthian Singers" of Adelaide and senior vocal teacher for the Education Department of South Australia. His charm, enthusiasm and competence encouraged us to sing magnificently — the Cathedral was full to over-flowing for the recital.

There were thirteen Christ Church tenors and basses, plus the lay clerks from the Cathedral, to support the altos and sopranos from MLC in the concert accompanied by an orchestra — of professional players, with some of our own students assisting. The whole venture was tremendous — musically because we tackled such rewarding works and performed them to a very high standard, and socially because of the interaction between the 3 choirs. We look forward to next year, when we plan to repeat the festival, this time singing “St John Passion” of J.S. Bach, conducted by Michael Leighton-Jones, formerly a member of “The Scholars”, now resident in Brisbane.

Concert Band

The concert band has had a somewhat varied year. Many good things were achieved and a number of performances were given. The most dramatic improvement in the band’s standard was achieved at the music camp held at Koorinal in September. The band’s repertoire was expanded, the group’s ensemble was much improved and everyone experienced the pleasure of participating in some very good music-making.

This proved the point that if the continuing problem of a suitable rehearsal time can be overcome and each member of the band is absolutely reliable, then great things can surely be achieved. Amongst the band’s repertoire this year were Polovetsian Dance, Showcase for Showoffs, Theme to Brideshead Revisited, Johnny Todd, Sweet Caroline, American Patrol.

We welcomed some good younger players into the band during the year, the experience of playing in a group being a very important adjunct to their music tuition.

We look forward to further expansion of this important group in 1985.

J.W.B.

String Orchestra

This year has been a very successful year for the String Orchestra. The group — Andrew Hassell, Simon Yeo, Simon Yung, Andrew Clayton and Jonathan Lawe-Davies on violin, and Andrew Patrick and Tim Davidson on ‘cello, under the direction of Mr Southwell, toured Tasmania with the Brass Group and Ad Hoc Chorale. This was certainly the highlight of the year. The tour was a great success and made the months of long rehearsals really worthwhile. Our music included the Bach Concerto for two violins, the Handel Arrival of the Queen of Sheba and a Boyce Trio Sonata.

After the tour, the newly-appointed string teacher, Mr Henryk Pisarek, took control of the group and under his guidance, the orchestra underwent a period of reformation and reconstruction, with some members, rather unfortunately, dropping out to concentrate on studies.

We have now formed a string quartet, consisting of Simon Yung, Jonathan Lawe-Davies, Tim Davidson and our new viola player Josh Thomson. Now with more practice together, we hope to form a close-knit group, which plays chamber music of a high standard.

Brass Group

The past year for the Brass Group has been both an exciting and rewarding one for all those involved. Under the continuing guidance and baton of Mr Allan Wigglesworth, the Brass Group contributed to what was a very successful tour of Tasmania — certainly the highlight of our year.

The lead up to the tour, was almost as hectic as the tour itself. The reason for this was the need to build up a new repertoire that would stretch over three concert programmes.

Membership changed just prior to the trip with the addition of Angus Dobbie, who at that time had been playing for less than one year, and must be congratulated on his efforts. Following the tour, James Kish found it necessary to leave the group — and we thank him for his contribution over the past 3 years. Stephen Prescott (trombone), has been an invaluable member and leaves us this year after his year 12. We wish him every success in the future.

We have played in both school concerts, in the Cathedral for special services and for several local visits. We look forward to 1985.

the services of Mr Tony Howes of the ABC as a guest director for this production, and he showed in his directorial expertise the crowd control of Cecil B. de Mille and the patience of Job. Despite many set-backs and technical problems, caused not only by the complexity of the show, but also by the difficulties in staging such a large play in the much used Chapel, Mr Howes eventually produced a show of a standard and dramatic intensity that will be remembered for a long time. Our thanks to Mr Howes for his time and talent must be matched with thanks to the MLC girls who participated in the show.

DRAMA

I don't think that anyone could deny that 1984 was a bumper year for drama at Christ Church. All students in the school had the opportunity to become involved in a number of productions, and gratifyingly, many did.

The year kicked off with a festival of short plays presented by all the Year 8 English classes. Produced in the Chapel, the festival saw a diverse range of presentations that covered the gamut of theatrical genres from the modern, student-written version of Chaucer's "Pardoner's Tale", to the traditional melodrama of "Unhand Me Squire". Importantly, though, ALL Year 8 students were involved in some capacity in the productions, whether as actors, or on lights, or in stage management. Hopefully, through this festival at the beginning of their senior school careers, many of these boys will participate in drama as they progress through the school.

In contrast to the lighthearted content of the Year 8 festival, we moved directly into a massive and ambitious production of the Peter Shaffer classic, "Royal Hunt of the Sun". We were fortunate enough to gain

In order to keep the school and public completely off-balance, we then staged another radically different production. The offering this time, in conjunction with our own Music Department and PLC, was the Lloyd-Webber/Rice musical, "Joseph and the Amazing Technicolour Dreamcoat". Although frequently dubbed the most performed musical in the world, I think it fair to say that the cast gave it their own, unique interpretation. The most impressive aspect of this show, though, was the enthusiasm and commitment of the company, actors and stage crew alike, who were prepared to work long hours into the night in rehearsal. All this labour paid off, for on the night they achieved an infectious energy and enjoyment that ensured the success of the season. Nelson Woss, who had an appendectomy the week before the show, but still made sure that no audience missed out on his fluid hips as he sung his way through "Pharaoh", epitomized the spirit of the production. In short, there was only one star in this show: the company.

As the star-dust settled from the two major productions of second term, we were finally given the opportunity to try out the as yet unfinished Memorial Hall Theatre Workshop. The honour of opening was shared between the Preparatory School and the Senior School in a double bill of "Ned Kelly" — a short musical adaptation of Kelly's life — and "The Freeway" — a light satire written by our own Arthur Pate. The Preparatory School musical showed that we have a lot of talent coming through to the Senior School and augurs well for drama in the future. The impressive thing about "The Freeway" was the enthusiasm that the students, together with girls, this time from St. Hilda's, generated for the play. And, once again, we saw a production of a high standard that reflected a true ensemble presentation.

The final production of the year was the Year 9 presentation of "The Thwarting of Baron Bolligrew", directed by Mr Bob Woollett. As with "The Freeway", the Memorial Hall was used to its fullest effect, and it was shown that the Year 9's could perform with the same discipline and aplomb as the older students. As with "Joseph" and "The Freeway", too, the students were committed and enthusiastic even when what appears to be the curse of Christ Church drama — appendicitis — once again raised its ugly head.

No review of drama would be complete without an acknowledgement of the people who put in an inordinate amount of time into producing and organising all the plays. Uppermost, of course, are the members of the English Department who worked tirelessly (almost) in ensuring that all the productions succeeded. As well, I must put in special mention of Mrs Margaret Smeulders who was a whirlwind of organisation in the costuming of "Bolligrew" and "Joseph". Without the experience of Mr Ian Nelson-White, we would have been in the dark for all our plays; without Mr Graham Nielsen, nobody would have heard us. Our thanks also go to Mr Andrew Tait, Mr Bryan Tingey and Miss Sue A'Court for their work in design and construction of sets. However, our main thanks must go to all those thousands — yes, thousands! — of people who came and supported drama at Christ Church. May next year be as successful and rewarding!

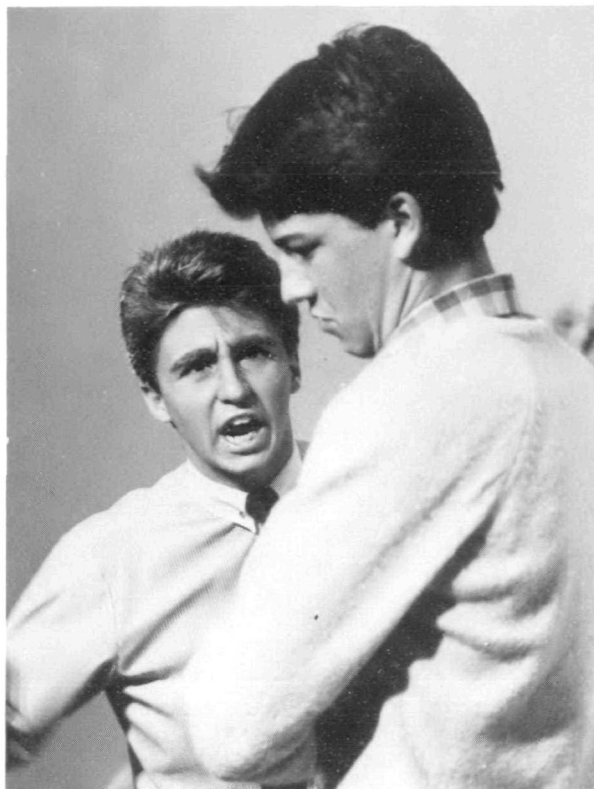

S. Gipson

This account of the resurgence of drama at Christ Church would not be complete without due recognition of the work done by Mr Gipson as master in charge of drama. Not only was he either producing or directing every play but he was involved in set design and construction, stage management, make-up and the many other aspects of theatre, particularly, and perhaps most importantly, the training of boys in all these skills. His enthusiasm, expertise and experience, his rapport with students, have breathed new life into all who have worked with him.

In addition, Mr Gipson has instituted an extended programme of theatre so that boys of all ages have had an opportunity to go to the wide variety of plays offered by Perth theatres, large and small, throughout the year.

The School looks forward to learning from his professionalism again next year.

DEBATING REPORT 1984

1984 saw the second year of the amalgamation between the prestigious Christ Church Debating Academy and the debating club of the Methodist Ladies College. In keeping with all trendy relationships of today, ours more or less dissolved early in its brief existence. This was in some measure attributable to a difference in opinion between the accommodating Mrs. Bev. Hollyock and the obdurate Neil Bowman! A stronger factor in the rift however was the decision by the W.A. Debating League Committee not to allow C.C.G.S. and M.L.C. to enter a combined team in the schools' competition this year. Fortunately the strong popularity of our secretary, Nelson Woss, with the girls (well, OK then with Emma in particular) kept the waters between us smooth . . .

It must be said that we had a very enjoyable camp with M.L.C. early on in first term in the newly-built Koor- ingal buildings. The camp culminated in a highly charged parliamentary style debate in which the Christ Church year twelves violated all sexual discrimination acts by suggesting that women should be either bolted to the bed or chained to the sink. Anyway Gerald Clayton was nominated Marlboro Man of the Weekend and a lovely time was had by all . . .

Back at school, inspired by the oratory talents of Mr. Hugh Ryder, we entered the W.A.D.L. competition with a hankering to emulate the eternally revered Berger/Bowman/Stienstra combo of 1982. Hence the origin of the Beresford/Clayton/Bowman/Kelsall combo.

For the first time in Christ Church debating history the limitation of four teams to enter the competition necessitated an elimination debate prior to the season. Condolences must be extended to Steven Daly, Royce Monk, Dishan Weerasooriya and Jason Webb who were eliminated in a close contest.

Other teams entered in the competition were a year eleven team featuring Simon Lee and Ian Ludlow, the dazzling year ten team with Nelson Woss, David Yu and Paul Sheiner, a combined year nine and ten team as well as a potentially great year nine team.

The overall number of wins and losses broke even this year for all teams so success and failure were met in equal proportion. Nevertheless the enjoyment was as great as ever. Glory finally came to the Academy in the form of the State Debating Trials in which Neil Bowman achieved the distinction of being selected as fifth member (second reserve) in the W.A. debating team. Also Gerald Clayton untied his tongue and is now able to thank audiences for their attendance without sexual innuendo, whilst his casual, laid-back approach mellowed into a Hoganesque manner beginning debates with 'G'day audience'. Brian Beresford was particularly useful in the preparation room, coming up with such impregnable definitions as 'flogger' for the opposite of a 'do-gooder'. Chris Kelsall's deeply philosophical nature came to light in preparation sessions when he would habitually pace the floor musing, 'But what would the Russians do?'

In this year's House Debating Competition Walters relinquished the coveted mouth trophy to Wolsey in a bid to share it around a bit and illustrate that boarders are not the most argumentative group in the school.

As this article goes to press the Annual Debating Dinner has just been held at a certain pancake restaurant locally. Unfortunately Mr. Ryder and Mr. Gipson were unable to attend, so public thanks must be extended to them for their wealth of wisdom given over the course of the year.

CHAPEL REPORT

George Orwell predicted the triumph of the anti-religious forces in 1984. At Christ Church, however, there have been some exciting innovations in our Chapel activities.

The most important change was the introduction of House Chapel for day-boys. Each day-boy comes to Chapel with his House once a fortnight, and Year 12 boys have assisted the House-masters and Chaplain in working out just how House Chapel should be worthwhile for the boys in each House. We have been trying to keep a balance between the need to build House identity and the importance of letting boys hear about the Gospel of Jesus. We are working towards a House Chapel in which House spirit and the Christian gospel are seen as complementary.

An exciting innovation has been the Year 12 Chapel option, in which boys can choose to attend a Eucharist in school time. The celebration of the Holy Communion is preceded by a discussion or Bible study.

Boarders celebrate the Eucharist every Sunday, and there is a good feeling of unity at these services. A successful experiment this year has been to allow Year 12 to choose to come to most services (they have to attend the major services each term.) This allows them to exercise their own mature decision making, and they have responded positively to the change.

The Chapel Prefects chose to use the Boarders' Chapel Collections to help homeless and jobless young people in Perth through Anglican Health and Welfare Services and orphans in South India at the Goodwill Children's Village in Thandigudi. Mr Anthony Dixon visited boarders' Chapel in Term 1 to talk about the work of the Anglican Health and Welfare Services. As an Old Boy, and the son of the Senior House-Master, he was a most welcome old friend, and he spoke eloquently about the needs of disadvantaged teenagers in Perth.

The cross which was given to the School by Mr John Foster, the Founder of Goodwill Children's Village, and made by the boys there, was mounted over the font, and reminds us of the love of Christ linking us with his people at Goodwill.

Steven Daly was confirmed at a joyful Easter Carol Service in Term 1, and 25 boys were admitted to their First Communion during the year. The Chapel is the place of activities through which people come closer to the Lord, and we thank Him for that.

VULTURE MAGAZINE: THE END OF MY ERA

I had a really great piece done for the Mitre about the VM, ya'know? It like had all this great stuff about how good the Mitre was, and this stuff about debating, chess, budgies, hangovers, and just like, y'know man? Shakespearean micro-epics:

Editor: I've had this idea for a play, y'know? like one of those totally absurd-as-in-senseless type things that seem a great idea at the time, but, welll . . .

Scene: Large circus big-top. Piles of circusy-type stuff, focus of attention on high-wire where William Shakespeare (short, fat, balding) crossing whilst making up the script of "Benny, Prince Of Denmark II: The Wrath of Khan" in his head. Sounds of huge crowd GASPing in awe, which is odd 'cos there are only two people there and they are busy talking incessantly and eating popcorn and taking no notice whatsoever. The two are enterprising young oboeist Daz Petit-Moi (DPM) a young tough who is Classical's answer to skinhead-dom, and the Editor wearing a blue jacket (sewn-down collar and lots of badges) and a "Frankie Say WAR! Hide Yourself" T-shirt with several J.R. "Bob" Dobbs badges on it, and dyed-black jeans.)

So it's a pity I can't give that to you, yeah. Of course, if you had the good taste and intellectual tremendousness to read the VM this term, you'd have seen it. Ah well.

Possibly the major achievement of '84 was buying Letraset. Saved LOTS of time trying to hand-design titles. Spent ages chasing contributors up to get their stuff written (Hi there Dishan). Adopted deadlines for the first time, saving lots of '83's heartbreak trying to get just ONE MORE THING in this issue while the rest gets more and more dated.

My typewriter double-clutched a lot this year.

This year, let's thank Mrs Greenhalgh (gh pron. zh) again for typing (1st term) and printing the VM — and for ordering the beautiful pink paper we all found SO nice to look at — and Mister Hughy C. Ryder for well I'll think of something just give me time oh yes buying the Letraset in the first place, the Library staff for infinite tolerance in the face of millions of crazed jelly-bean addicts, the many typists the English dept. threw up against the BBC wordprocessors (computer fodder), our many/varied contributors (some more so than others) and especially (most deserving of the lot) I'd like to thank myself for putting up with this lot. Nice one Ed!

I had something else to say here (right HERE) but I've forgotten what it was. So let's just say that I'm sorry if you don't appreciate it, but I did try to wake you up a bit, even though your tastes seem merely to be base humour (?) and little else. I've tried to culturally enlighten you (to New Order records mostly) but I can see it's been a thankless task. Well, good riddance, that's all I can say. Tzz tzz tzz.

SOCIAL SERVICE

Despite the Committee's optimism at the start of the year I feel that in some of its more important aspects, Social Service was not particularly successful.

Within the school we fell down badly in collections, having raised a little over $500 at the time of writing this article. This represents about 7c per boy in the senior school; a pitiful effort if it really indicates our concern for those in need. We have the potential to raise many times that amount and as a Christian school we should all be happy to do so. It is time we re-examined the whole concept of collections; of giving in this way and one of the first tasks the 1985 committee should undertake is to do just that.

In the area of community service where we ask members of the School to give time and effort, again the response is disappointing in terms of the potential we have to really make a worthwhile contribution. As usual our volunteers to help with the two door-knock appeals we traditionally support, came from the boarders. Their efforts on the two Sunday mornings raised more for Red Cross and the Salvation Army than the whole School gave in its collections.

Again the in-coming committee needs to look at ways of involving more day boys in this aspect of Social Service. Surely a few hours of your time is nothing to ask in return for bringing a little happiness to someone else. Helping others also helps develop you as a person.

We had a slightly better response with volunteers for the numerous street appeals which are supported throughout the year, rattling cans with considerable success in the Claremont shopping centre.

If the concept of service is to really mean anything we need to re-think our whole approach. Christ Church is part of the wider Claremont community and we should be involving ourselves in activities which serve needs of that community; working amongst the elderly, the sick, working with existing services on community projects. To begin with we need a change of attitude so that Social Service takes on a new status. Best of luck to the 1985 committee!

It only remains to thank those loyal people who did rally to the cause, the committee, named elsewhere in this magazine and our co-ordinator, the ever-patient Mr. Williams.

Nicholas Dixon (President)

LOST PROPERTY

This year the committee has the following members: John Dandie, Martin Shephard, Joe Marafioti, Ian Dandie and of course, Mr. Fraser. The Lost Property Office is now situated at the side of the gym, next to Mr. Fraser's Office. Students have got further to walk so that probably accounts for the lack of interest shown by some students in retrieving their lost goods. There are two collection points for Lost Property — one in the staff room and one in Mr. Marsland's office. We collect regularly and it's great fun sorting through the gear — apart from the socks.

Mr. Fraser is our supervisor and he sits in his office and works hard. If we have any problems he will come out like a charging bull. Fortunately, we are able to deal with most problems. Joe Marafioti thinks his Mafia connections might help!

There are many reasons why we work in Lost Property. Martin did it because he had nothing to do at lunchtime and he likes doing something for the school. John enjoys working for Mr. Fraser and thinks it is like work experience where you learn all about how a system operates. The main thing is that we are doing something worthwhile and making a success of it. This year we have made $102 and we are trying to reach the $130 mark by the end of the year. This is the biggest profit ever! We are either working very hard or students are becoming more careless. The lucky dip was a great success and we raised over $20. There were a few surprised faces — especially when small parcels turned out to be jumpers, not calculators!

In conclusion, the committee would like to thank Mr. Fraser for all the support and help he has given us. It has been a great experience.

SKI TRIP 1984

On Sunday, 26th August, the Christ Church/Penrhos Ski-Sortie met at Perth Airport awaiting departure to Merrijig in Victoria. Everyone was in high spirits as there had been recent reports of heavy snow falls on Mt. Buller when only a few weeks before cancellation of the trip was considered due to lack of snow.

We arrived in Merrijig and met Chris and Sandy Dunlop, the owners of the lodge. Chris told us of excellent snow on Buller, issued us our boots, stocks and skis then we moved to our rooms to get some sleep for the big day ahead.

An early rise and the group travelled to Buller. Snow was falling at the base of the mountain — a good sign. Upon reaching the top we saw the best snow fall on Buller for four years! All ski lifts were operating and snow was still falling. The first day proved to be a memorable one with the beginners being introduced to their instructors and quickly discovering skiing to be harder than meets the eye, whilst the experienced brushed up their techniques. The beginners were soon practicing stopping, turning and catching poma lifts up the mountain. Everyone returned to the lodge and tales were told of the day's most spectacular wipeouts.

For the next two weeks the group skied and skied. The beginners soon began to tackle the more difficult slopes testing their skills to the limit. Four of our nine days skiing were spent under blue skies allowing us to see the breathtaking views and to get the mountain into perspective. In the course of the second week a group of skiers discovered a 2.5 metre ski-jump on the side of a run. The whole group went over it, some faster than others but the end result almost always seemed to be a contorted skier minus skis lying face down in the snow!

An onlooking instructor couldn't believe his eyes at some of our attempts to get airborne.

On Thursday evening we left Merrijig with fond memories of Buller and the lodge. In Melbourne we stayed at the Victoria Hotel. The group spent Friday exploring the city then on Saturday left for Perth.

On behalf of the students I would like to thank Mr and Mrs Tooke for organising a great holiday. Also thanks go to Mr Saggars and Mr and Mrs Browne for their assistance and involvement in the trip.

ART ACTIVITIES

This year the school art students can quite deservedly be proud of themselves.

The work of all boys is getting better, with the up and coming art students showing much potential.

This year the Western Australian College of Advanced Education inaugurated the "Art Awards", the topic being "1984 — Orwell's Predictions, Truth or Fiction". This exhibition was designed to stimulate visual responses from students of secondary school age to some of the problems and pleasures of living in their particular communities in 1984. The challenge was to realise ideas, feelings and understandings through a visual statement.

The following boys from Christ Church received special commendation from the judges and their work was exhibited at the Art Gallery of Western Australia.

Grant Betts — Year 11 — Space Light

John Lewis — Year 11 — Iradicate

Nick Gee — Year 11 — Why

Michael Bullock — Year 10 — Equality

We also had the Year 8 and 9 Art Camp which is an annual event held at Koorinal. It proved a success yet again.

All boys would like to thank Mr. Tingey and Mrs. A'Court for their advice throughout the year.

Standing beside Grant Bett's painting are the four artists whose work was exhibited in The State Gallery. The competition was The West Australian Art College '1984' exhibition.

CHESS

The results of this year's chess competitions were mixed. In the interschool divisions all teams commenced the season in high spirits. Unfortunately in the senior school teams this was soon undermined by bad playing and a lack of administration. Thus the A and B teams finished well down their tables in 6th and 7th respectively.

However, the junior teams never lost their match winning flair. The J1 team would have topped their table but unfortunately missed the final playoffs. The J1 team finished an excellent 2nd and the J2 a creditable 5th. Well done.

In the interhouse competition, C. Nadason, the Craigie Captain, led both his senior and middle school teams to make a clean-sweep of the House chess. In the senior division, McClemans and Romsey tied for second and in the middle school, second was Noake.

Because of the loss of Mr. Dettman for a year, Mr. Hopkins will take over as Chess Master next year. We wish him and the teams the best of luck.

Thanks must go to all boys who competed in this year's competitions and to Mr. Hopkins and Mr. Dettman.

LIBRARY

This year was as exciting as usual, y'know? We welcomed two new staff members, Mrs. Jan Weeda (part-time super-heroine, full-time participator) and Miss Elizabeth Ryan (extra-large glasses). They were quickly broken in and put to work. Sixteen mothers and one father have worked in the library on a voluntary basis. The library has supported boys embarking on a farm management course affiliated with TAFE and informal lunchtime programmes, during which academics and professionals drawn from the community, have given their time and expertise thus helping to enrich the school community. We had library prefects AGAIN! This worked as well as expected, with the original twelve falling down to three.

We know, we know. It's a bit short. But then, it was a quiet year. It always is. This is a Library (capital L). We work to have a good time and get rid of any fools who dare come to the desk and get Andrew to put books away. In co-operation with the AV centre, we are going for the world tea break record too. We managed this year to introduce the library to New Musical Express (popular) and Sub Genius propaganda (for the twisted). Both seem to be working out pretty well. Yep, so much for 1984. We passed 17,000 books accessioned by September, the library prefects caused more trouble than they were worth and the VM clogged up things a lot.

PHOTOGRAPHY

The darkroom this year has been well used, with more people taking advantage of the facilities offered by the Photography Club and the Year 11 and 12 option groups. Access has also been open to Year 9s for project work.

Use of the darkroom has increased over the year and appropriately its facilities have also been increased with a new Ilford Computerized Enlarger/Processor Timer, making the darkroom extremely compact and well organised.

this year students have had the opportunity to do colour photography, sepia tonings and high contrast work to but a few of the many things possible, besides black and white photography.

The Year 11 and 12 option groups have produced some high standard prints which have done exceptionally well in competitions, with Guan Tay winning first prize in the Colour Slide Section run by the Sunday Times.

For the first time a small group of Year 12s have had the responsibility of doing most of the photographic work in this year's Mitre. This task has not only meant that all major school activities have needed a photographer there, but also required a lot of time processing these negatives each week.

Finally, I would like to thank Mr. Nelson-White for all his help and support through the year.

CADETS

It was late afternoon, and we were armed to the teeth; flour bombs bulging in every pocket. A cry was heard up ahead on the road — just around the nearest bend. We froze, listened and then ran into the bush, to wait the section's arrival. Minutes later a spread-eagled bunch of whistling, talking, gum-nut kicking cadets were trooping past . . . NOW!! We emerged as their shouts of surprise and horror were lost in a flurrying cloud of our flour bombs . . . and so started a typical ambush on this year's August camp.

The excitement and reward of cadets this year was epitomised by the above. First term saw all of the Junior Company receiving tuition intended for the initial three-day camp at Koorngal. In this case, the rank structure, having recently crawled its way through a vigorous and pressured summer promotions camp, taught the raw cadets everything from how to wear the uniform properly, how to tie knots and lashings, to first-aid, orienteering, map craft and bush survival. Not forgetting, of course, good old drill — it required a lot of time to give the cadets a working knowledge of coming to attention, standing at ease, marching, halting, turning, right dressing, etc . . . nevertheless, many sore throats and hoarse voices later, we realised that the hard work was beginning to pay off.

Likewise, the Senior Company was a hive of activity. The three sections specialised in their own way; firstly, the Pioneers made use of spars and ropes to make those constructions the school saw proudly standing on the oval at one time of the year or another. Most common were the tripod or quadripod flag pole structures. This section, under C.U.O. Walker, also aided in tuition of the Junior Company on the subject of knots and lashings. Secondly, there was Signals, who under the experienced radio man, C.U.O. Rob Magee, learnt not only how to operate one of those green boxes with lots of confusing buttons and knobs on, but also how to speak into it, with the correct "high-pitched" voice, and code-word terminology. Credit must go to this group, who were responsible for keeping the entire unit in communications while on bivouac. Thirdly, there was Sgt. Jory and his frogmen — that is, Scuba. To a casual observer, this crew could be seen as only blurred and rippled blotches, at the bottom of the local swimming pool — no, they weren't drowning, they were merely learning the skills required for them to pass their diving course.

CADET C.O.s

 Front: Lt. A.D. Froude, Maj. F.A. Fraser, Lt. I.C. Bishop (N.C.R.).

At last the time arrived for the first term camp. The Senior Company commenced activities such as shooting and the ropes course, down at Koorngal. No-one, not even one of these big, burly senior cadets, liked to admit that he was afraid of the dark. Nevertheless, some of them had to admit it after exercise Solitaire, where they were required to survive on their own for the night. The next day (or, a "sleepless-night-later"), many felt "ten feet tall", after this challenging experience.

On the other front, the Junior Company hit Koorngal and had a go at shooting, the ropes course, river crossings and abseiling on Frog Buttress. The usual lessons on section format, camouflage and concealment, methods of stealth movement, and hootchie erection, were followed by a highly challenging two-day hike — with a stealth-war one night to keep everyone on their toes. Many thanks to Mr. Burns for his helpful support.

A camp with a difference this year was that of the Scuba section. They sped off to Rottnest for five dives. One was on a wreck, and one consisted of a night dive; this included underwater night navigation around a triangular course, each leg of which was 350m. Luckily, anyone who got lost in the darkness was not alone. With their bright glow torches, they had their little friends, thousands of excited prawns attracted by the light, to keep them company.

When August arrived, the Senior Company hopped on a bus to Harvey, and then trekked 89km in four days, back to Koorngal. Reports say that the highlight of this was trying to dodge the falling trees in the very windy conditions. Are we to believe this? After all, they say that exhausted men say funny things. Following this, they were kept occupied by the ropes course, white-water canoeing and searching for the lost Ken Wyatt, whom they eventually found, at 7 o'clock in the morning. Rest assured he was quite happy under the softly humming power lines, keeping him company in the darkness.

Meanwhile, Junior Company was down at Waroona. With the kind permission of old boy and ex-school captain, Phil Hewton, we were allowed to camp in the bush surrounding the end of his grassy airstrip. From here we did shooting and archery and then windsurfing in the dam nearby — the latter activity was surprisingly successful, despite near arctic conditions. A ropes course was also a highly satisfying activity. At night, we had an orienteering exercise, and a stealth exercise, in preparation for a highly exciting inter-platoon stealth war where some cadets in each platoon were required to guard their harbour sites, while those remaining had to infiltrate that of the enemy.

Top cadets Cpl. N.G. Gibson — The Alexander Todd prize.
 C.O.U. G. Cox — The Beresford Memorial prize.

Later, the extremely successful inter-section flour bomb war was held. Someone up above couldn't make up his mind about coats and jumpers, taking them off, and putting them on again, as the days were periodically interspersed by cold, rainy skies and warm, sunny ones. Nevertheless, morale was high — it was kept this way by such comments over the radio as: "We are not at our present location." The logic of Stephen Prescott somehow eludes me! This was concluded by the junior exercise "Solitaire", where again the cadets were required to camp out in the bush for one night on their own. Any childhood fears of the dark were soon extinguished, when all awoke the next morning in one piece. No doubt many were thankful, if not surprised.

The camp culminated with a massive all-against-all flour battle, involving the entire unit. This was the only chance in the year for the cadets to get their own back on the C.U.O's. — There's no prize for guessing who came out second best! Therefore, the end result was a horde of white flour-caked snowmen. Only providence held the rain back at this stage, otherwise we would have instantaneously had over a hundred two-legged soggy dampers . . .

In all, this year's success was evidence that cadets can still be cadets, even if the government decide to withdraw their support — which they did. Without hesitation, the school stepped in and this worthwhile organisation has a lot to be thankful for — especially to the Headmaster and the School Council. Endless gratitude must go to Major Fraser, who determinedly battled on despite these adverse circumstances. Likewise, the August bivouac was made as great as it was by the dedicated efforts of Lt. Brackenreg and Lt. Bishop. On behalf of the cadets I would like to thank them, as well as the other officers of cadets and old boys, whose efforts were essential in making 1984 a very fine cadet year. With such organised officers I know that next year's cadet activities will match the success of this year's.

The Boarding Community

THE BOARDING COMMUNITY

Up on the river bank it's been business as usual for the one hundred and ninety or so boarders. We've kept those cars parked for all those concerts, plays and parents evenings, we've provided guides for parents, removalists for chapel furniture, work parties for sporting occasions, cleaners for the pool, and audiences and congregations as called upon.

Just for a change it hasn't been a year of change. George and all the Joans have kept us fed, we've had our comings and goings amongst the House Masters and Sister Ward is our second Matron for the year, but apart from that it's been fairly quiet. Let each House tell its own story.

"At the Whitehouse"

With the impression left by 1983 5th year's Walters House found it had a reputation to live up to, in 1984 (the year of the cools). With a number of shows and social gatherings the tradition remained. The No. 1 Ralph (Neil Manuel) would have to be regarded as the star of Yr 12 with his close encounters with the 3rd sex. The "man of might" also led the GANG on our ordeal at "Ciceros".

With David (Skelly), being the third and final McKenzie through Walters House he certainly showed out as the black sheep of the family, taking the belle of the ball to the Prefects' Dance, and also filling the position of Ralph II.

The Ocean Beach Home became an accidental meeting place for housemasters and students. Lawrence (Jetsetter) Perera, Brett (Kojak) Morgan, and Gavin (Glowbug) Bailye, being the students and the masters being Mr Open Browne 'I and Mr 'Co-ee' Palmer. This saw Gavin leaving the boarding house, Lawrence leaving the state and Brett leaving his drink!

Due to the influence of many Koorungal Camps, two junior members of the house, bringing back their knowledge, explained the importance of fire breaks in the house Rec. Room.

With our faithful "Joan" leading the Dining staff, this year's menus have included such dishes as flying fish and chips on Friday evening, the propelled pea and the odd spring bean which cruises with surprising velocity and also dangerous land mines such as Rich Piercey's spilt spag.

The afternoon's entertainment has generously been provided by the young luscious ladies from M.L.C. This is due to the groundsmens' upgrading of the access gate which diverts the girls past the Walters House balcony.

Now to our resourceful housemasters Dutchie Van Leuven, the party king, Wolfman Whitford and Mr Super "Moresothanever" who have all now left with a sigh of relief. Newcomers such as "J.B." Bradley the one legged midget, the quiet achiever, Mr McKellar and Ultra Cool Mr Shillo's babe! who have equipped themselves to the boarding way of life. The rare and almost extinct house mother (who ever she is) who has said to have been sighted between the minutes of 10.00 a.m. to 10.02 a.m. and manages to leave small trails of work behind locked doors which is no obstacle for certain members of the house. Now to a serious note, the Yr 12's thank you, Mrs Abbott, for a great year.

Finally, to our beloved musically inclined Mr "P"arish (whose Tassy jokes were a bit much at times) and family we all sincerely thank you for putting up with the gang throughout the year.

Dr Ant Latham, Stu "JC" Byrne

McCLEMANS

If there was one topic of conversation which took precedence over food this year, it was curtains. At long last we got them and we like them. Mr. Dixon may think we're troglodytes and deplore the way they block out the view but we like them. Our thanks to the Mothers' Auxilliary for the material and to Mrs. Holloway for making all four floors of them.

The new order at the top of the House began to function. There was the Turnbull-McGregor partnership, each deciding the other was House Captain when the nasty jobs came up; Daz Burling trying to develop a new image, Scott Mayes "billed" as House Secretary but claiming his spelling disqualified him; Red Dog Werner wondering if he'd make the last part of his stretch in the pen and whether it was worthwhile putting in his own phone, Will Harvey laid-back as ever, except for his hair, Sass Roberts getting away from it all on his wind-surfer, Big Dan Gunnell who forgot to go home at the end of 1983, Bonners self-appointed Janitor of level one, keeping the escape hatch open, Rocchi emerging as sportsman of the year; Fletch claiming he'd grown .25cm over the holidays, Wis Drayton, the only guy in the school ever to be told to go and have a shave just after he had; Wal Heinrich offering to maintain any new Housemaster's car for a cup of coffee, Nick Gee hard at work on the first day back, Schills competing for the title of the quietest guy in the House and Guan Tay photographing everybody.

Then there were the new and not so new Housemasters. Mr. Dettman, planning to go on exchange to Germany in second term, Mr. Barrett-Lennard coming and going, mostly the latter, and Mr. Glaister, House Attorney, "Rumpled of the Bayley" and then at the top Mr. Dixon struggling back into harness after long service leave and beginning to wonder if it had really happened. In second term "Jible" finally made up his mind and Mr. Meiklejohn took his place. Just when we thought we settled Jim Turnbull he finally decided to stay out officially and become a day boy. At that point Cam decided to return to his books and keep his door locked. Bonners, broken-hearted at the separation, decided to kick it down. How much was that bill, Brent?

Farther down the House the characters began to emerge. Marlborough Man Abbey was elected president of smokers anonymous unopposed and took over the throne room as the club's winter quarters until Mr. D. blitzed them all. Back to Durric Ledge fellas — except for the few who want to roost with the pigeons — eh, Ross?

Level two established itself as the floor to avoid if you wanted peace and quiet with the Abbey, Archer, Offer trio always in good voice.

The social committee organised the usual quota of socials, the most innovative being a toga party in the chapel courtyard which we broadcast to Swanbourne and Mt. Claremont! "Smozza" did a great job actually, both in that area and with the "Tuckie" which he and Mal took over from Sass & Co.

This year is the fifth and final year on the boarding scene for Mr. Dixon and family. He leaves for a year's teaching in America handing over to Mr. McGill in the House and Mr. Bowker as Senior Boarding Master. We wish him and his family all the best in their new venture and thank them for all their help in the past. Apart from the times when a notice on the door advised that he had actually stopped for a meal it seemed to most of us that Mr. D. could be found at his desk at any hour of the day or night. For those of us who he guided through our secondary years as boarders we know he was never too busy to stop and listen and help. Our special and appreciative thanks.

Parry House Notes

Parry House has been our FAIR HOLME for the many school WEEKS of 1984. We have seen a number of people come and go throughout what has generally been an enjoyable year.

At the start of the year we had a NOBLE gesture from two Englishmen, Mr. McLAREN and Mr. BROWN as they came to assist our housemasters. They have since left, as have the KHOO brothers, Glenn RUSSELL, Peter DETTMAN, Adam LOHMAN, Kim FLINTOFF and James TAN.

Throughout the year we have had many memorable occasions. Amongst these have been a pool competition, tennis competition and a table tennis competition. Stephen SUN was the only real STAR we found. We've also had a Quiz Night where everyone was KEENE to compete, except Simon McLEVIE who had his enthusiasm dampened. It has been decided we still need MOORE social events so a DAY has been set for a disco. Since our HALL is now a drama theatre we have had to find another venue, especially as we know it couldn't cope with the PEARCEing noise. We thought of a HILL where the TRI-TAR-IS found, down near WILLIAMS. The tree though, was being used by the local ARCHER. Our hopes turned GRAY until we looked WEST AWAY and found M3 and M5. We know it won't be a BLAND occasion as the boys will be the ROSES between the thorns.

Despite these social events, order has been maintained. Many people have spent Saturday mornings completing MANUEL labour. Some, however, overstepped 'the mark' and received rather LONG BOT-TOMS. They were heard to let out a loud "KAU, that hurt!"

All members have appreciated the video recorder that was donated by the Mothers' Auxiliary. We have seen many DANDIE movies, but one we remember well was about an Irishman called FOTHERINGHAM, a real D'EMDEN, who was PURSUERing someone called MORRISSEY down the street on a Massey-FERGUSON tractor when a policeman came out and said, "STEADY-MAN, HOLD-it-MAN right there! Now, WATS-ON here?"

"NORTON," said the Irishman, "and I am STEADY-MAN." He continued, saying, "He just used SLAING in front of my neighbour and tied her AND-ER-SON up with a SCARFFE. D'YAR-CY now why I was chasing him?"

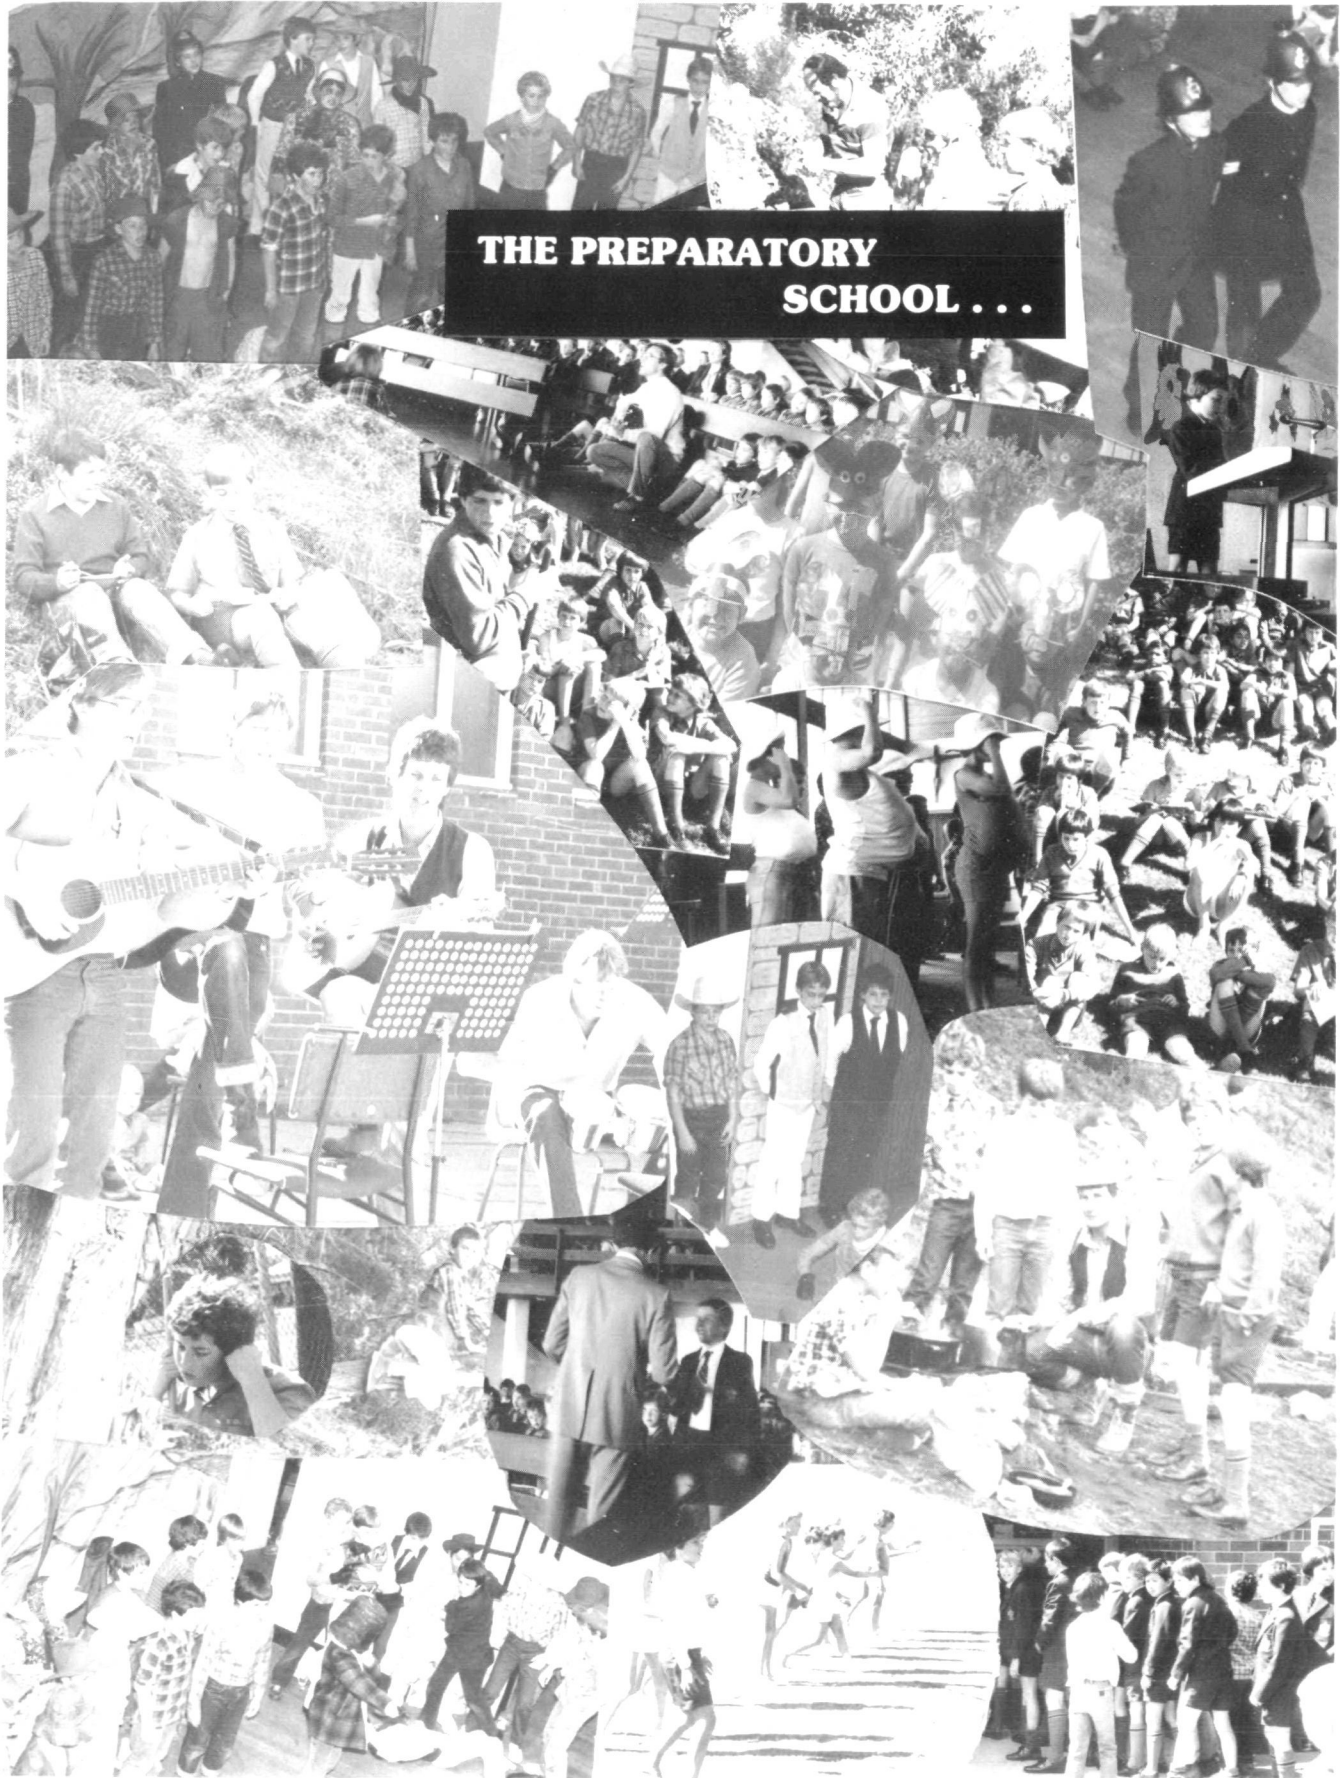

"Yes," said the policeman, "but we HATH-A-WAY of dealing with him so no HARMER will be done. We'll put him in the CROMBIE van and take him to the station."

There was also the movie about Dave DAVE-IS a SHEARER who went out in his boat called The HANCOCK. Dave was lucky because the TAYLOR, well HE-BIT-ON to the bait. Dave took it home and tried to NAYL-OR to the wall. He didn't succeed so he turned to his wife and said, "GO-BETTI and borrow BEN'S NETTS so we can hang it up that way."

Yet, despite all the great movies, HYNAM and PASCOE still weren't happy so they asked if they could go to the VEITCH. Unfortunately, Mr ARCHER, Mr WARD, Mr MAWSON and even Mrs. STOFFLES said they KEAM not go.

However, Mr BOWKER has managed to keep everything in the PALMER of his hand and this has meant it has been a good year. We would like to thank everyone from the kitchen and Brenda, our cleaner, for all their efforts. There are people leaving our house for 1985 and we wish them "All The Best".

PREPARATORY SCHOOL NOTES

During 1983 it was decided to alter the format of the Preparatory School section of the Mitre so that its purpose would be to record the important events of each year. A separate publication, called "Freshwater", will contain the student's original work. The change aims to provide more scope for pupils to have their work published, because "Freshwater" is produced twice yearly to provide an avenue for illustrated stories and poems, and for jokes, puzzles, riddles and so on. The idea of "Freshwater" is not new. Mr. Matthews organised boys to produce such a magazine some years ago and their efforts were well received. From now on "Freshwater" will be published on a regular basis and will provide continuing experiences in magazine production for the older boys in the Preparatory School.

Just as this literary development should provide new opportunities for creativity, the weekly House Assemblies in the Preparatory School provide occasions for the boys to develop their talents in the dramatic field. Through varied first-hand experiences which reinforce the class-room drama, the students learn the rudiments of stage craft culminating in such activities as "Ned Kelly" a musical which was the first public performance in the Hall Theatre.

This year also, students and teachers have been given a preliminary exposure to computers in the classroom. Giant strides have yet to be made, but at this stage there is a Preparatory School Computer Club that meets regularly on Thursday afternoons, and also some computer activity in all classes.

NEW BUILDINGS FOR THE PREPARATORY SCHOOL

A healthy organisation constantly needs to develop new and better ways to achieve its goals. It should grow, change and react to community needs. For some years the Preparatory School with its 11 traditional classrooms has been a somewhat inadequate structural environment for the diverse activities that should flourish in a primary school. Now the School Council has given the staff the opportunity to participate in planning the design of the total working and playing environment of the new school. Acceptance of this rare chance has been an exciting task for the teachers.

The new buildings will cater for the same number of students that attend at present, so there will be eleven classrooms. However, the rooms will be much more spacious with moveable walls and flexible furnishings. In addition the new school will have many interesting learning environments both indoors and outside. Our library will grow in size and facilities to become the focal point for the development of language and the growth of knowledge.

Adjacent to the library will be a large activity room for films, drama and related studies. Experimental work in science, stifled somewhat because of poor facilities should flourish in the new science room which also has a section for computers. The Art room, with its additional space for crafts such as print making, ceramics and sculpture will be a welcome replacement for the present G Block Undercroft. Auxiliary rooms in the new building will provide also for interviewing, testing and storage. Special Education will be catered for with rooms for Extra Reading and for Extension Classes.

The new building has been designed with the Perth weather in mind. Wide verandahs outside classrooms provide covered ways and there is a large under cover area for boys to have lunch and play informally in inclement weather. It is true to say that a school is not the buildings, nor the equipment but rather the people who are part of it. Nevertheless, equally it is true to say that a suitable school environment engenders a feeling of well-being, satisfaction and pleasure amongst those who work in it. The new Preparatory School buildings will provide new creative possibilities for students and staff alike.

Siteworks are planned to begin before the end of the year so that the new buildings may be opened in time for the 1986 school year. At that time the present G Block will become available to the Music Department which needs the additional space.

In deciding to build a completely new school for the primary pupils, the School Council has taken an initiative that will have far-reaching effects. Certainly, Christ Church will have a Preparatory School with incomparable facilities and with the capacity and flexibility to cope with future change.

CHOIR

1984 began with a large influx of new members mainly from years five and six. The delightful two part "Evening Prayer" from Humperdinck's Hansel and Gretel and the dramatic "Shadow March" provided the challenge and were very well received at the Open Day Concert.

During second term and for the first part of term two the musical Ned Kelly took the energy and attention of many of the choir. There were many songs to learn including several solo parts. The training received during choir practices certainly enabled a more professional performance from both soloists and chorus.

Mr Southwell left at the end of second term and we shall all miss his skill and enthusiasm which over the years has built a very high standard in Prep School Music. The choir welcomed Miss Pedrotti as their new conductor. Mention must also be made of the fine contribution the choir makes to Prep School Assembly. The strong lead which they provide encourages the whole school to sing very well indeed.

ORCHESTRA

The Prep. School Orchestra has had a very successful year and grown in numbers to become a very fine performing group. We now have eight violins, four flutes, one cello, two clarinets, a drummer and two percussionists. The performance on Open Day was most impressive. Under the baton of Mr Southwell the orchestra was resplendent in dress uniform and carnation button holes. They performed "The Crazy Klock", "Our First March", and an arrangement of Haydn's "Surprise Symphony".

Some of the orchestra were also involved in the performance of Ned Kelly adding interest and colour to the piano accompaniment.

FOUNDATION DAY 1984

*There was hustle,
There was bustle
For the word had passed around.
On the banks of the Swan
There was food to be found.*

This verse is wrong and right. There was hustle and bustle but food had to be cooked. The occasion took place in order to commemorate Foundation Day.

It was a day to be remembered, for the kids anyway. To them it was a holiday in more ways than one. In the classrooms a huge assortment of vegetables and meat was being thrown into huge pots in order to make a stew. On the river banks, large fires were blazing fiercely.

Lunch arrived and masses of boys dressed in settlers clothes were seated eating their stew. (Others decided to skip lunch that day.)

Lunch was over and everyone seated themselves in the quadrangle listening to the teachers form a band and sing just like "professionals" to the best of their ability, songs like "Waltzing Matilda" and "To Me Way West Australia".

Everyone was tired and although many didn't like stew, it was a terrific day.

Well cooked everyone!

Well sung teachers!

LIBRARY

The library is much indebted to the mothers who worked so hard during 1984. Their loyalty and efforts were greatly appreciated and the library could not function without them. They were Mesdames Michael, Edmond, Saleeba, Culley, Pedersen, Thomas, Price, Gray and Martineau.

Boys were on duty at morning recess and lunch when each had a scheduled day. Some of the tasks consisted of working at the circulation desk, shelving books and maintaining the library generally in a presentable and orderly condition.

Thank you Mrs. Forrester and Mr. Wheatley for your help too.

On Open Day a number of books were displayed which could be donated. A tremendous response meant that 115 books costing $1200 have now been added to the library. Thanks to all parents and boys who made donations.

Exciting times are ahead with a new library being built next year.

Mr. R. G. Morrison

YEAR 7 ART

This year, Year 7 art was taken by Mrs. A'Court. We have covered many types and many different aspects of art this year, such as print making, drawing, painting, kite making, pottery, and we are just starting to make tapestries. We have had quite a number of exhibitions, the one at the Grove Plaza in Peppermint Grove and the Open Day exhibition, congratulations to those people who had works at the Grove Plaza. Contratulations to all those people who won prizes, especially Darius Tang, Paul Hopwood and David Pitts, and the winners of the kite competition. The younger grades also produced some fine art too and overall the standard of art this year has been very high. I would like to thank Mrs. A'Court for being so patient with us, as we are a very noisy group of boys.

SOCIAL SERVICE

This year the prep. Social Service Committee decided to nominate Lady Lawley Cottage as the recipient of our collections.

Mr. Matthews contacted the Matron of Lady Lawley Cottage and inquired as to what they would like us to do. We were informed that they were in desperate need of two Buggy Majors — a type of wheel chair, the cost of which was $250 each.

The boys responded extremely well to this goal. Within two months we had raised the money for 1 Buggy Major.

To date we have bought the second Buggy Major, and we are well on the way to purchasing a video camera and recorder for the centre.

Thanks must go to Mr. Matthews as the instigator and prime motivator in this, initially, daunting project.

CRICKET

The Prep. School 1st XI had a mixed season this year. We played four inter-school matches, losing two and winning two.

Our first game was against John XXIII. We batted first and scored a creditable 62. We thought we had the game won, when in the last over they were 9 for 51, needing 12 runs. Their No. 10 batsman managed to hit the required runs; John XXIII won the game off the last ball.

We lost the second game to Guildford rather convincingly. We made 49 off 20 overs, and they hit up 53 in only 16 overs. The next two games we won rather easily. We defeated C.B.C. comfortably, 36 runs to 29. Our bowlers took full advantage of the damp wicket, taking the last 5 C.B.C. wickets for only 8 runs.

The final game against Carmel was another easy victory. We made 120 runs and they were all out for 37.

Our overall performance this year was encouraging. The boys' fielding was of a high standard and their bowling was also quite accurate. The standard of our batsmanship was at times disappointing, with too many "playground" strokes being played at crucial times during the games.

Best players during the season were, Stuart Walker, Tim Smart, Ben Matthews, Nicholas Phillips, David Snow and Paul Hopwood.

SWIMMING

The swimming season this year was a very exciting one. It was opened by the Prep. School House Carnival which was won convincingly by Forrest, who were especially dominant in the relays. Shane MacDermott, Chris. Lapinski, Lachlan Lidbury and Chris. Tylich were outstanding performers on the night.

Later in the season Christ Church hosted two inter-school carnivals. The first saw Christ Church pitted against Carmel, C.B.C. and P.C. Although there is no declared winner of the carnival, Christ Church was the dominant school on the night, winning 28 and drawing one out of the 36 events.

The second carnival was a much tougher affair with strong opposition provided by Hale, J.T.C. and P.C. Christ Church again acquitted themselves with distinction, with some fine individual performances, and complete dominance in the relays.

Some outstanding individual performances in both carnivals must be mentioned. Shane MacDermott (8 wins — 2 inter-school records); Chris. Tylich (5 wins); Robert Murphy (3 wins); Chris. Lapinski and Roland Natrass (2 wins each). Congratulations to all boys and thanks for training so hard in the mornings.

Messrs. Ranger, Ward and Archer

TENNIS

This year, tennis has once again shown a healthy development. Unlike previous years when only a handful of boys experienced inter-school competition, 1984 saw teams of ten and fifteen boys having the opportunity to play against another school. This opportunity is of enormous benefit to all players.

Christ Church played four inter-school matches against Carmel, C.B.C., John XXIII and Guildford. Our one loss was to John XXIII where we were beaten by only a handful of games.

Special mention must be made of Howard Styles who was a new boy at the beginning of 1984. He quickly displayed his tennis ability to secure the number one position in the team.

It was disappointing at times to see poor behaviour displayed on the tennis courts, by both the opposition and our own players. It is worth reminding all players it is how you play the game that counts. Winning is a bonus.

The 1984 school tennis competition is currently under way. This year sees a record number of entries in both the singles and the doubles. Good luck to all players. I would once again like to thank Mrs. Iffla and Mrs. Mortlock for their assistance with coaching on Monday afternoons.

FOOTBALL 1st XVIII REPORT

The 1984 season has proven to be one of the most successful for the C.C.G.S. 1st XVIII in recent years.

They performed very well throughout the year, being competitive at all times. In each of the three games lost they had many chances in the last quarters to win.

Although we had some outstanding individuals (five made their local council combined sides) the pleasing aspect developed throughout the year, was the emphasis the boys put on their team work, and realising that this was the most important factor in winning games.

This factor was certainly brought out in the Lightning Carnival, where the boys showed great character, winning all qualifying games, and only just losing the grand final to Trinity.

Throughout the season the boys demonstrated a willingness to listen and learn, which will hold them in good stead for the following years.

The team was well led by Ben Matthews and Jason Cooley, they epitomised the teamwork and determination that made this team so successful.

A special thanks to all the parents who offered the team their support each week.

Mr. K. Malcolm

HOCKEY 1st XI

It was a successful season for the Preparatory School Hockey 1st XI, as the boys won seven games and drew six out of a total of nineteen games, this includes two lightning carnivals.

Throughout the season the boys developed their skills and they combined these with a short passing style of hockey. This meant that all team members were involved in every game, but unfortunately, the task of goal scoring was found to be difficult. Therefore a number of games that were close, were either drawn or lost, as the boys were unable to capitalise on a lot of the chances they created.

It was pleasing to see the way this team developed a keen attitude to the game of hockey. Some of the credit for this can certainly be given to the team's Captain, Daniel Minchin, as he set a fine example by encouraging other team members and by always listening to advice. He was ably supported by Jeff Brown, who played attacking hockey, and Toby Barrie, who developed the ability to play well in several positions. All members of the team should feel proud of the results they did achieve this year, but unfortunately, they did not get the success they deserved. Finally on behalf of the boys, I would like to say a special thank you to the spectators who turned up to watch our games. It was appreciated.

Mr. I. Ward

SOCCER

This year saw the introduction of soccer as a winter Sport. All other schools in our Association have been playing soccer for several years, so it was logical that eventually we should follow. Soccer is increasing in popularity among children and offers a game to children who prefer a non-contact game. All the boys from Special Education joined this group and were able to participate and improve their skills.

The season began with a group of about sixty boys and five staff to do the coaching. We had an introductory coaching session run by the W.A. Soccer Federation which proved to be very valuable.

After a few introductory games among ourselves the season of inter-school games began. Usually we played two sides against other schools, but on some occasions four teams had the experience of a school game. The results of the season are listed below:

Game 1 v Wesley 7.6.84

RUGBY

A highly competitive and dedicated group of boys has participated in Rugby in the Preparatory School this year.

From the results it can be ascertained that this was quite a successful season. However, it wasn't only success that made the season so rewarding. Enthusiastic training sessions were held and determined matches were played. The boys put themselves and their learned skills to the test, each time demonstrating their willingness to combine as team members while giving their best as individuals.

Most boys used the opportunity to improve their skills, applying them tenaciously and efficiently. One aspect, particularly noteworthy, was in the tackling department. Tackling skills were practised and used with increasing confidence and effectiveness as the season progressed.

It was also the boys' privilege to participate in the Saturday morning mini-rugby competition at Langley Park. The experience was invaluable as the boys were exposed to further match-playing opportunities. This aspect of the season culminated in the boys winning the Under 12, seven-a-side Knockout Competition.

The season concluded with an exhausting, but exhilarating, Lightning Carnival at Scotch College. Although they didn't win, the boys played each game vigorously and fairly. It was a fitting climax to a most enjoyable season.

Mr. T. J. Bourke

ATHLETICS

The athletic season this year was one of concentrated training and participation, resulting in some very impressive performances.

The House Athletics Carnival was a keenly contested day, with the eventual winners being Dale House followed by Giles, Forrest and Stirling.

Three records were broken; 9 yrs. 100 metres by Chris Thompson; the 11 yrs. 60 metres hurdles and the 11 yrs. 800 metres by Lachlan Lidbury. Other outstanding performers were Kjell Neave, Traeq El-Mugheiry and Angus Keogh.

In the Interschool Carnival held at Hale School the team performed very well. Special mention must be made of David Rutter who won the five events he participated in. Christ Church proved to be particularly strong in the relay events which was most commendable.

All boys would like to thank the various staff members for their time and excellent coaching.

TENNIS 1st VIII CORR CUP FIXTURES, TERM I

DATE	OPONENTS	H/A	RESULT	BEST	COMMENT
18 Feb.	Guildford	H	Won 13-11	Kelly, Culley, McGlew	An uncomfortably close match. Our players were rather tentative but at least started with a win.
25 Feb.	Wesley	A	Won 14-10	Venerys, Culley, Sawyer, Ng	A Mixed performance with some good and not so good individual results. Overall our doubles were a little disappointing.
3 March	Aquinas	H	Won 19-5	Phillips, Culley, Kelly, Sheiner	We won every doubles set and had an excellent win.
10 March	Hale	A	Won 13-11	McGlew, van Heurck, Venerys	A fine effort to win against a very strong side.
24 March	Trinity	H	Lost 15-9	McGlew, Phillips	The grand final for the Corr Cup. A great effort from all but Trinity had too much talent. We lost 3 tiebreakers and 2 sets 7-5. If the tiebreakers had gone our way we would have won. So close and yet so far!
31 March	Scotch	A	Won 22-2	Phillips, Venerys, Culley, Kelly, van Heurck, McGlew	A marvellous way to end the season.
