SECTION ONE

THE YEAR IN REVIEW

The Mitre Committee boys worked hard during 2008 to assist me with the compilation of this edition. Early in the year we agreed that it was time for a new look, and we have particularly tried to increase the number and quality of our photographs, as well as to feature more of the boys' own writing about the school year. We all very much hope that you will enjoy the new design and that we can continue to build on this format in the lead-up to the School's Centenary in 2010.

Congratulations to Thomas Drake-Brockman, whose cover design was selected as the winner of a competition for this purpose. Thank you, too, to his fellow Year 9 Graphic Arts student, Matthew Stewart, whose profile provided Thomas with his inspiration and to Gisela Zucher-Mogall, for her coordination of this project.

Many members of staff in both the Preparatory and Senior Schools have also contributed reports and photographs. Thank you to them all. I was particularly grateful for the assistance of Jamie Fagan, who once again volunteered to coordinate contributions from the Preparatory School. I would also like to acknowledge the generous encouragement and assistance given by Garth Wynne, Mark Morrissy, Jo Mulligan and their respective teams throughout the year.

All of the boys on the Committee contributed in a variety of ways. They spent many hours checking on the spelling of surnames and the accuracy of initials, as well as proofreading reports and assisting me to issue reminders. Thankfully this exacting but uninspiring work was often balanced by the opportunity to take cameras out for the afternoon or go off to conduct interviews. Whatever the task, the boys were enthusiastic and committed, and provided me with a great deal of encouragement and entertainment throughout the year. It is no easy task to compile a publication for a school as busy and diverse as Christ Church, and the assistance of the Committee members was greatly appreciated.

We hope that you will enjoy The Mitre 2008.

FROM THE HEADMASTER

Schools are interesting institutions in that although so much stays the same from year to year, there is also change because each year the students who make the school what it is are different to those who have gone before. The well-known musical Les Miserables makes its transitions from one time frame to another with the words 'turning, turning, turning through the years' and is so doing captures the essence of time. For Christ Church, 2008 was another remarkable year because of the character of the boys who were the Year 12 cohort and naturally it was another year when things were done in that special Christ Church way. Their leadership and example in all aspects of school life was memorable as they led the School to exceptional outcomes in all that we offer. It is my view that this was achieved through the refined development of the 'Atmosphere of Excellence' which is what we aspire to at Christ Church Grammar School. This atmosphere is a combination of the engagement of our parents, the commitment of teaching and support staff and the purpose of our boys. It is the consequence of intent through all levels of the School, 'beginning' at the Council and 'ending' in the relationships that are encountered each day between our boys.

2008 was a particular significant year for me as my own son, Lachie, graduated after having been here for eight years. My pride in him and what he has been able to achieve is also a pride in our School that has such an incredible influence on developing wonderful young men. My wish for my son is what I wish for all our graduating Year 12s each year, and this is captured in my words and the words of Robert Kennedy from my speech at the final Valedictory Prize Giving and Service, which I share with you here.

This particular occasion brings a sense of nervousness each year to me as I look out at the faces of you who are about to conclude your time with us. I wonder if we have taught you what are the most important things for you to lead a full and enriching life. We have certainly made you learn a lot, attend a great many classes, write quite a few exams! But have we stressed enough to you that which you need to know, to nurture you on life's journey?

When trying to summarise my thoughts I found a quotation from Robert Kennedy capturing my hope for what are the enduring lessons of a Christ Church education. He speaks of wealth - something much aspired to by the young:

"The gross national product (the measure of our nation's wealth) does not include the beauty of our poetry or the strength of our marriages, the intelligence of our public debate on the integrity of our public officials. It allows neither for justice in our courts nor for the justice in our dealings with others. The gross national product measures neither our wit nor our courage, neither our wisdom nor our learning, neither our compassion nor our devotion. It measures everything in short - except that which makes our life truly worthwhile."

Today is the beginning of the rest of your life. I trust your time with us has made you wise enough to measure yourself only by those things that make life "truly worthwhile".

The Mitre of 2008 is special and captures so much of the spirit of another year in the rich history of our School. Its contributions come from all parts of our community and consequently it fosters the strength that we have within from the diversity of who we are.

Valedictory Assembly 2008

What a five years it has been. Just as we assembled here on the 31st of January 2004 for Orientation Day, here we are for the final time. There are striking similarities between now and then: the same emotional cocktail of uncertainty, apprehension and excitement is present within all of us as we prepare to meet the next challenge, life outside Christ Church. Today is a celebration of achievement as much as it is a celebration of the contribution that this year group has made to fashion the image of the school. I would like to consider that image.

Christ Church is so very diverse and this enables us to appreciate others and our differences. We have boys from varying backgrounds and each is as valuable to the school as any other. We are proud of this. At the PSA Swimming, when we were asked to 'show our passports', we brandished our fake passports with no qualms because that is the depth of the unity that we feel. Is it any wonder then that this proud group of boys was able to rise above and distinguish themselves as PSA Champions?

We foster a culture of success and, more specifically, co-operative success. We have countless talented individuals such as Daren Tan, Adam Froese and Lawrence Ward, but these boys are not alone in their quest for excellence. Each is supported, whether it is in a Chemistry class, by a Geography teacher or as part of a hockey team, which allows others to feed from and contribute to, the success of these outstanding boys. For more evidence of our cooperative success you need not look further than the Rowing Club. The Head of the River race cannot be won by an individual; it takes eight of the strongest physical and mental competitors supported by one of the most well-equipped and coached clubs in the state to achieve victory. This is about what the Christ Church boy is all about: given a task, he achieves at the highest standard and takes advantage of the amazing support he has around him.

We also give to the community around us, not just time but effort. Boys may make themselves available to march in a cadet parade on ANZAC Day, volunteer to provide assistance through Lifesaving WA or the ENCOMM programme or actively raise money and awareness to combat indigenous disadvantage in the Kimberley, all of which provides vital support to needy members of the wider community. The Christ Church boy is respected for this and our reputation has been strengthened by the Pilgrimages of Hope, which have given boys the very special opportunity to serve some of the most disadvantaged people on the planet. An appreciation of the work of these boys highlights how responsive we are to the needs of others, another fantastic quality of a Christ Church boy.

I personally am very proud of the contribution to this image that my year group has created during our time at Christ Church. It continues the long legacy of our forebears of whom we recognised at the Founders' Day Service. Moreover, it sets an example for the younger boys so that they too may carry on the tradition.

Christ Church has also played its role in our development by providing us with some outstanding programmes and initiatives. The first of these is Venture and of course the Year 10 boys are about to embark on their own journey. This is a truly amazing experience because you will not find many other students of comparable age who have completed a 140km walk over ten days in the wilderness. The reliance upon others around you means making compromises to ensure the group goal is attained and, most importantly, you have an enjoyable time even if the conditions are, at times, exceedingly difficult.

We are also lucky to be involved in the premier sporting competition in Western Australia, the PSA. Participation in this competition for five years in various summer and winter codes has made me appreciate the boys' unity and the immense sense of pride in belonging to Christ Church Grammar School: this is often demonstrated in the infamous linga after a hard-fought victory. This team celebration and outpouring of emotion is indicative of how proud we are to represent our school.

I should imagine, given the diversity offered, that at some stage everyone would have been involved in an organized co-curricular activity, be it debating, mock trials, music, drama, chess or the plethora of others on offer. These opportunities are integral to the development of the boys in their chosen fields of expertise and provide an outlet for any talent or special interest.

It has been a very humbling experience for me to captain Christ Church Grammar School in 2008, given its renowned reputation for excellence throughout Australia. I sincerely thank the school for the opportunity and I will cherish the experience forever. Thank you also to Jono Lau and the prefects and all of the boys who have supported me in this role, because with that support my job was a pleasure.

Today is to be enjoyed and we must finally say goodbye to the school that has nurtured us for the past five years. The same boy who sat here in 2004 remains but his experience has been enhanced because of the richness of the school. The image we have developed reflects the school's motto: boys educated to know, to do, to live with others and to be, emphasizing our positive contribution to what the school is about. We have been fortunate to have a Christ Church Grammar School education and it will no doubt serve us well in the years to come. Best wishes, Valedictorians of 2008.

ACADEMIC & TEE RESULTS

It is not so important to have all the answers as to be hungry for them.

Carol Ann Tomlinson 'The Differentiated Classroom'.

One of the most significant and influential studies in recent years on student achievement at school was undertaken by Professor John Hattie from Auckland University. The study was conducted over 15 years and analysed data from over 180,000 studies involving over 83 million students and covered almost every method of innovation. The study was unequivocal in concluding that the key to effective teaching was the quality of the feedback students get and their interactions or relationships with teachers and peers. Hattie was able to rank 138 aspects of schooling, what he called effect sizes, and he found that the aspects at the top of this ranking were all concerned with relationships, rapport and the ability of teachers to establish an atmosphere of trust, and mutual respect between students and staff. Other key influences, particularly a student's prior cognitive ability, instructional quality, challenge of goals, peer tutoring and parent involvement have all been shown to influence student achievement.

It is reassuring to note that the major conclusions that Hattie has arrived at are also the aspects of learning that are most highly regarded at Christ Church. The quality of teaching in the classroom and the way in which our teachers are able to engage, care for and enthuse their students and the means by which teachers can generate an atmosphere of excitement in learning have all contributed to the wonderful achievements at Christ Church during this year. Both staff and students operate within a culture of excellence with high expectations of every individual student. Curiosity and a sense of wonder and a willingness to engage are qualities that we foster and want to develop over the academic journey at Christ Church – we want our students to be hungry for the answers. The pedagogy at this school reinforces the importance of the teacher, the environment, the well being of the individual and the quality of the learning experience and this is amply demonstrated in the following pages. Whether it is the reports from the academic disciplines, or the information about the F1 in Schools Challenge, you will get a taste for the rich variety of activities and subjects in which our students are engaged.

The TEE results and the WSA results of the 2008 leavers were outstanding and help confirm that the academic programme at Christ Church is appropriate and relevant to the needs of the students. In fact the results from the TEE students were as good as we have ever achieved at Christ Church and on a number of rigorous measures Christ Church was clearly the best performing boys' school in WA. Particularly satisfying was the depth of the results with the median score placing Christ Church first out of all schools in the state and there is no doubt that our overall results were as strong as, if not stronger than, some highly selective schools in the eastern states. The culture of expectation from staff and students has also played a significant part in maintaining the consistently good results over the past five years, as is the practice of individual students forming study groups to help each other through challenging academic work.

At Christ Church we are proud of the results our students have achieved in all aspects of their academic work from those early tentative steps at the beginning of Year 8 through to the most difficult courses in Year 12. Our boys are engaged, focused and they want to put in their best performance because of their desire to do well and the willingness to help each other along the way.

As Howard Gardner said:

You learn your best when you have something you care about and can get pleasure from being engaged in it.

Narelle Beebe

Narelle Beebe came to Christ Church in 2000, as a library technician in the senior school. Her bright demeanor and the enthusiasm with which she went about her work quickly ensured her popularity. She was always helpful, if a student had difficulty finding a book, or was confused as how to use the virtual library catalogue on the computers.

Ms Beebe was friendly to everybody, and the atmosphere within the senior school library was always happy when she was around. Ms Beebe will be missed by all and we wish her luck with her future at the South Perth Library Service.

Jonathon Chiam

Shirley Dix

Shirley Dix left Christ Church at the end of 2008 to embark on a private tutoring business. Shirley worked in the Learning Development Centre with boys from Years 2 to 7 who required assistance in literacy. The students will remember Shirley as an energetic, somewhat flamboyant and extremely positive teacher who gave everything to developing self worth and a 'good work ethic' in her boys. Teachers will remember her for her persistence, focus and her ability to celebrate the small achievements in teaching.

Those that worked closely with Shirley in the LDC will remember her messy desk, insistence on 'end of term parties' and her farewell speech! Years of research, study and practise made Shirley an outstanding teacher and a wonderful colleague. All at Christ Church wish her all the best in her future endeavours and knows that any child in her care will be safely tucked under Shirley's wing!

Belinda Edar

Karen Duffy

Karen worked in the Peter Moyes Centre at Christ Church for more than eight years. I can think of many other words to describe Karen: efficient, patient, tactful, fair, enthusiastic, creative and compassionate are just a few. She loved the boys and had a will of iron in ensuring that they were included in everything and were accepted by everyone.

Karen was a great mentor over the years, not only to staff at Christ Church, but outside school she has given up her time to give lectures and presentations to professionals and parents. She is a good communicator who connects with people. Karen truly connects with the boys and their families and they love her to bits. Several years ago Karen received an award at the National Excellence in Teaching Awards at a ceremony in Canberra, which recognised her dedication and excellence in teaching and supporting boys with disabilities.

The staff wish Karen every happiness and success and the best that life can possibly bring in whatever she chooses to do.

Linda Murphy

Nicola Dunn

Nicola Dunn taught Chemistry at Christ Church Grammar for eight years, and was the Head of Hill House for six. Students and staff alike will always remember her for her devotion to both the House and her subject. She was a lively and passionate Chemistry teacher, whose method of teaching often involved muesli as an example. She always encouraged students to reach their potential, and worked hard to support them to the best of her abilities.

Her joviality and energetic attitude was always obvious when it came to House activities. Her optimism was second to none, and boys were often rewarded for their effort in carnivals and other competitions. The boys in Hill House will miss her good-natured approach to activities, be they academic, co-curricular, or otherwise.

Ms Dunn took a year's leave in 2007 and resigned from her role as Chemistry teacher and Head of Hill House in 2008 to teach at St Hilda's. The school community will sorely miss her and we wish her well in all that she does.

Jason Ah Teck and Albie Iskandar

Tim Evans

Tim Evans spent eight years at Christ Church as an English teacher. The Mitre itself benefited from his photography skills, and he ran a digital photography course for some years. His laid-back air will be something every boy misses. Mr Evans was also very supportive of boys, even after they had left school. Jamie, who won Big Brother in 2006, had been in his Tutorial group and many of Jamie's votes can be attributed to him.

Mr Evans' English classes were always interesting. He had his own type of teaching method, which allowed for boys to use their imagination to the extreme. His quick wit and friendly demeanor will be missed, and as he leaves Christ Church, we wish him well.

Terrey Fisher

Terrey Fisher joined Christ Church Grammar School 30 years ago as secretary to Headmaster Peter Moyes. Since then she worked for Headmasters Tony Hill, Jeremy Madin and Garth Wynne. She began using only an electronic typewriter, and saw the first computers arrive at Christ Church.

Her work at Christ Church has been extensive as well as vital. She was always behind the scenes, pulling the strings. It is thanks to her that everything has run so smoothly during her time at Christ Church. Mrs Fisher was an integral part of Christ Church and her efforts will not be forgotten as she leaves us for a well-earned retirement.

Crispin Irish

Sue Fox

Sue Fox retired last year after decades of service to the School, with her smiling face and unfailing courtesy being the first experience of Christ Church gained by many staff members, teachers, parents and boys. One of Sue's greatest assets was her intimate knowledge of how the classroom, the house system and the activities of the School actually worked. She was able to apply this knowledge in guiding parents and the general public with the various requests that came her way. Her support of the drama programme saw her at many productions, and proselytising for drama whenever this was appropriate. As one of the 'upfront faces' of Christ Church she was a wonderful advertisement for us all.

Sue will spend time in retirement on her many interests, particularly guiding visitors around her beloved Rottnest. We wish her much happiness and birdsong.

Michelle Gore

Michelle Gore started her years at CCGS in 1999, as a teacher with a good and joyous humour and a passion for English. Before teaching at CCGS she taught in the Catholic System, then became the Head of English at Aquinas where she passed on her knowledge in Literature and cricket to a young Justin Langer. Mrs Gore then moved on to the position of CEO English Consultant where she managed the Catholic School English Teaching networks throughout WA and represented the Catholic sector in syllabus development at the SEA and then the Curriculum Council.

Her time in CCGS, however, was a memorable one. She started as an English teacher who had a depth of knowledge, experience with students, and a good sense of humour. She had a very strong passion for Literature. To students, she was a great teacher with an attitude that will be remembered forever. Mrs Gore subsequently became the Director of Staff Development, a job she did with style. She was always fair-minded and supportive of staff.

Mrs Gore also produced a couple of Leavers' Books and coordinated the activities of SCRAM, steering the team towards a national championship in 2008. Mrs Gore also had a passion for gardening. She would spend hours if not days to perfect the art of gardening, as she would in class, to perfect a student so that she could leave a part of herself in their lives forever. We hope she has a wonderful retirement and will be proud of what she achieved at CCGS, for she changed lives in many ways.

Alison Hewson

Alison Hewson joined the Christ Church Grammar School community in 1988 as a teacher librarian. During her 20 years at the school she worked tirelessly and held a number of roles including Moyes tutor, chess coordinator, soccer coach and mock trials coordinator.

In her capacity as teacher librarian in the Collaborative Learning Centre, Mrs Hewson assisted in the development of the Reading for Life program and the establishment of the Book-speak parents and community book club, as well as the Year 9 CCGS-MLC combined book club, of which I was a member. Throughout 2007 I worked closely with Mrs Hewson in my capacity as a student leader of this group and her commitment, kindness and patience became apparent.

Throughout her time as chess coordinator, membership of the club grew significantly, and this was a further testament to her dedication to her work. Mrs Hewson was also instrumental in the institution of PSA inter-school chess tournaments.

Her work as Moyes tutor was much appreciated and I know she will be greatly missed by her students and colleagues. I would like to thank Mrs Hewson for her exceptional service to the school over the past twenty years, and I wish her well in her retirement.

Christopher Wong

Ron Hutchinson

Ron Hutchinson first came to Christ Church in 1998, and was an important part of the community in his role as School Marshal. His approach to his job, his seriousness and above all his enthusiasm in his role in the school community earned the respect of all, students and staff alike.

From a student's perspective, as School Marshal, Mr Hutchinson was always willing to lend a hand to the smallest problems, from lost locker keys, to missing books and property, whilst having to juggle other issues such as detentions and both staff and student duty rosters, as well as other administrative roles.

As Mr Hutchinson retires after 10 years at CCGS, we would like to wish him farewell and the best of luck for the future. He will be greatly missed and leaves a great void in the pastoral system at CCGS; however, at the same time, the impact of his dedication and vigor will be seen for years to come.

Kylie Jones

Kylie Jones joined the Christ Church Grammar School community in 2002 as a teacher in the English Department. She left after six years at the school, during which she served as Assistant Head of Noake House from 2006 until her departure. Having had the privilege of being taught by Ms Jones for two years, I know that her admirable commitment to her subject was always apparent. She made time for each of her students, and worked hard to resolve any questions they might have. Her patience and kind, honest approach will not be forgotten by her students, colleagues and the wider school community. We wish her well as she begins full-time motherhood.

Andrew Lane

Andrew Lane worked as the Physical Education and Health teacher in the LW Parry Preparatory School for five years. In that time, Andrew's ebullience, professionalism and industry were ever present in the busy life of a prep school.

He was always promoting physical fitness to the boys and staff: one would see Andrew riding his bike, surfing the waves or engaging in a hit of tennis with the staff or boys. Andrew ensured the staff and the boys were well catered for in all aspects of physical education. He furnished the boys with a myriad of sporting equipment at recess and lunch so they could practise their kicking, marking, bowling, hitting, baskets and handpassing.

Whatever sporting event was on offer, Andrew was quick to promote the benefits of the event. Local biathlons, surfing events, running races, bike riding, hockey and lacrosse were some of the sports Andrew advertised so boys and families could improve fitness and skill levels. Andrew will also be remembered for his quirky sense of humour and willingness to don silly outfits or colourful wigs at the various assemblies and chapels. He would also get up on stage and perform outrageous or athletic acts in order to promote a good cause.

The staff, boys and parents are indebted to Andrew's pursuit of excellence. We shall not forget the way he would go out of his way to cater for the boys' and staff needs. Andrew was approachable, fair, considerate and, at all times, professional. Andrew Lane, we salute you.

Jerome Griffin

Helen Oke

Helen Oke served at Christ Church for nine and a half years, as both a warmhearted Social Science teacher and an enthusiastic Craigie tutor. She was a thoughtful, upbeat, and compassionate mentor whose concern for her students knew no bounds. Passionate about her Geography lessons and always ready to assist those boys needing help, she will always be remembered with fondness as the teacher who would go several extra miles to help out, even if it meant candy, cakes or aromatherapy sessions for the boys.

Ms Oke was Editor of The Mitre for a number of years and was an organized and optimistic leader of the Environment and Community Cadets, helping out in visits to an Aged Care Village and conservation activities in particular. She always aimed to help the boys to reach their full potential, and could always be relied upon to be there to support them in whatever they did. Boys, staff, and the wider school community will all miss her, and it was with much genuine sadness that we saw her leave us in 2008. We wish her well in all that she chooses to do.

Jason Ah Teck

Clark Wight

Clark Wight joined Christ Church in 2004 as the Headmaster of the Preparatory School. His effect was incredible. As Headmaster, he was the driving force behind the Prep School's expansion, with many year groups doubling in size, and the decision to change the Preparatory School's name to The LW Parry Preparatory School. He was also the instigator of the famous 'Prep School handshake'.

He always had time for the students, no matter how insignificant or trivial their problem might be. He encouraged all students to reach their potential, and as a result of this, most did. His commitment to charity was also admirable. He encouraged the donations of goods for Anglicare hampers every year, and even shaved his head for The World's Greatest Shave. He left, in mid-2008, to take up a position as Head of the Shaker Heights Campus in Ohio. We wish him well in this exciting new venture.

Helen Wilson

Helen Wilson was Teacher in Charge of Music in the L W Parry Preparatory School when she left at the start of Term 3, after 24 years at Christ Church. Ms Wilson watched the Music Department grow from two small choirs and an orchestra to the highly successful and talented Music School of today. In 1989, Ms Wilson established The Yahoos, a select choir comprising Year 6s and 7s, and this became an institution much loved by the staff and boys. As the president of the Carl Orff Society in WA, she employed the methodology of the Orff teaching style during her time at Christ Church, to which the boys responded fantastically.

Ms Wilson was also a staff member on the very first Midnite Tour to the United Kingdom to celebrate the Australian Bi-centenary in 1988. As Assistant Musical Director to John Bates, she was pivotal in supervision of the 30 piece orchestra which accompanied the actors and technicians in that history – making it a 'first' for Christ Church Grammar School. Helen was also chorus music supervisor in many subsequent Midnite productions including Oh, What a Lovely War and Joseph & the Amazing Technicolor Dreamcoat. Other contributions included many years on the Social and Professional Development Committees. She will be sorely missed but we wish her all the best for a less busy but equally musical future.

JAPAN

Nineteen boys studying Japanese gathered at Perth Airport in April, ready to depart on the Japan Tour. A wide variety of experiences awaited us. The first week, spent in Tokyo and Kyoto, included:

- the insanely popular Akihabara electronics paradise
- a day trip to Tokyo Disney Sea, with rides such as Raging Spirits, the Tower of Terror, Journey to the Centre of the Earth and the simulator Stormrider
- a visit to the Atomic Bomb Memorial Museum at Hiroshima
- an all-day Mt Misen hiking experience - only one group managed to get lost after following a mountain goat track
- a bicycle challenge in Kyoto, with the most impressive site being the Kiyomizu Dera Temple.

We then arrived at Hotoku Gakuen High School, nervous about meeting our host families. After some brief introductions, we were separated for the first time in seven days to be taken to their houses to settle in and prepare for our first day.

The highlights of our time at Hotoku were:

- Mr Matson bringing down the house in their school assembly talking about his favorite guitars and his interest in Death Metal
- kendo - the martial art of Japanese fencing. The boys enjoyed taking out their anger on padded up dummies while yelling 'MEN' at each hit
- a trip to Himeji castle, famous for the Cherry Blossom trees that surround it – and they were in blossom. The castle was very big and gave us an insight into what the building may have looked like a long time ago during samurai times

- doing judo in pairs, where one person had to hold the other in a headlock on the ground, and the other had to get out in 30 seconds. Even after thrashing about, kicking and some biting, not everyone got out of the hold.

The Japan tour offers a unique insight into a culture very different to our own. From little things, like taking off your shoes when entering a house, to not-so-little things, like taking communal public baths. Although some of us were a little out of our depth at first, we managed to come to grips with most things that were thrown our way, be it chopsticks, train travel, the endless amounts of rice and sumo wrestling for those who bravely tried it.

As anyone who has been on an international exchange will agree, staying with a family can be a pretty daunting task, especially when their culture is so different. Many of the touring party were rather shocked at how these new families' lives differed from our own, be this an hour and a half on the train to get to school every morning, or staying at school until 8:30pm for sport training.

On behalf of all those who went, we would like to extend a big thank you to Mr Armstrong. The trip around Japan was superbly organized. Mr Armstrong knows how to make a tour fun, and Mr Gillies and Mr Matson ably assisted him.

PILGRIMAGES OF HOPE

*Tell me and I may forget, show me and I may remember,
but involve me and I will understand*

In 2008, the Pilgrimage of Hope took four groups of students to serve with Mother Teresa's Missionaries of Charity Sisters. They travelled to India in January, Fiji in April, Alice Springs in July and Nepal in October, accompanied on each occasion by Brother James and a range of school and support staff.

India

In January, a group of 75 students and staff from eight schools across Australia set off to Kolkata. The pilgrims served at a number of Missionaries of Charity homes for the destitute and dying, the mentally and physically handicapped and at orphanages. They also served at the Rainbow School, founded by Sister Cyril, a Loreto Sister. This is a rooftop school for street children.

The day started at 4.30am, and after breakfast the pilgrims walked for 40 minutes to the Mother House, home of the MC Sisters. There they celebrated Mass with the Sisters and other volunteers from around the world before embarking on their day of service. In the evening, the pilgrims gathered for a time of relaxation, followed by dinner, a time of sharing, teaching and journal writing. Thomas McKeesick reflected:

I wasn't entirely sure why I wanted to go to India on the pilgrimage this year. I wanted to experience something new within myself and to find some sort of spiritual or religious direction. The pilgrimage gave me all that and more. I made friends for life, immersed myself in a different city, a different culture and found a new direction. It taught me that the most rewarding thing you can do is help somebody else, but not in the way I first thought. I worked with street children, the destitute and dying and the most important thing I could give them was my company and a smile.

Fiji

The Pilgrimage of Hope Fiji provided 34 Year 7 and 8 students with a rare opportunity to experience a different cultural environment, gain a better understanding of themselves and learn to consider the needs of others. Charlie Evans (Year 7) put his hand up to go on the pilgrimage because he had never done anything like it before, while Blair Ward (Year 7) said he wanted to find out why the Fijian children he had seen in pictures were so happy. "They sing from their hearts," Blair said. "There was one kid who was sick but even he was still smiling and singing."

A typical day began at 5.30am with prayer and finished with an hour of singing and evening prayer. The pilgrims were assigned to such duties as gardening, cleaning, repairing fly screens and building a bike shed. In the evenings they spent time with their 'buddies' helping them with their homework and playing rugby and other games.

Alice Springs

During the July school holidays, 22 Christ Church students and their fathers journeyed to Alice Springs on the first father/son pilgrimage. The group's aim was to assist students from the Yipirinya School - one of the few genuinely independent Aboriginal Schools in Australia. The group helped install 24 e-Mac computers, a data projector and an interactive whiteboard, which were donated by Christ Church. What follows is a father-son account, by Matthew and Martin Stewart, of their time on the pilgrimage:

We learnt a lot about the land too. We were taught about Aboriginal culture and bush life at Simpson's Gap and taught some facts and history at Emily's Gap. We learnt dreaming stories of Uluru and Kjata-Julu and we walked around King's Canyon. Everyone involved in the running of Yipirinya School has our highest admiration and respect.

Nepal

In the October school holidays, 35 students and staff from Christ Church Grammar School, St Hilda's Anglican School for Girls' and Peter Moyes Anglican Community School set off on the first Pilgrimage of Hope to Nepal.

This was a rewarding, although at times confronting, experience for the group of young people. Towards the end of the pilgrimage, the students were asked to write a 'reflection' on their time in Nepal. The following excerpts were taken from these reflections by Callum McKeesick and Phil Mummert.

Seeing Mother Teresa's sisters at the home for the dying, each pilgrim faces something different to their expectations. Being told of a past pilgrim's experience means nothing when you hear the life story of a woman whose hands and feet are deformed, so that she is unable to fend for herself. Seeing the smile on a blind man's face when he feels a hand on his shoulder is something unforgettable. This is what the pilgrimage is truly about.

The first day I entered the CWIN home for street youth, all the boys were shy and reserved and just stared at us almost in disbelief because they had never had volunteers to serve there before. As soon as we got a ball out and indicated that we wanted to play with them, they completely came out of their shells and were very happy and excited. This showed that even though hardly any of them knew a word of English, and that we were complete strangers, the most simple thing such as a soccer ball or a cricket bat can start such a connection.

FATHER & SON FOOTY WEEKEND

Melbourne Anzac Weekend

The second Father and Son football trip to Melbourne took place over the Anzac Day weekend. A Thursday afternoon flight had the party of 16 Dads and 17 boys arrive rather hungry at about 8.30pm Melbourne time. A quick luggage drop off at the Seasons Botanica on St Kilda Road and we were straight onto a tram for Pinocchio's Pizza Restaurant on Toorak Road South, South Yarra. One father took the whole journey to work out how to use the ticket machine on the tram. (Should have got his son to do it!) Great pizza and all headed back excited about the following day.

Anzac Day started with the dawn service at the Shrine of Remembrance, which rather conveniently was across the road from the accommodation. As always it was a very moving service for those who managed to make the 5.45am start (3.45am Perth time). Then back to hotel to relax and get ready for the big game.

Anzac Day in Melbourne is fantastic. After the dawn service, we visited the parade and then went to the 'G' early to really soak in the atmosphere. Being at this game is almost as good as being at the Grand Final. Unfortunately Essendon were outclassed by a very strong Collingwood side and the second half was a little bit of a let down. Most fathers and sons went home to watch the Dockers v Geelong only to be yet again disappointed with the Freo team.

Saturday saw some shopping, a visit to the 88 storey Eureka Tower which includes a glass platform walk, the art gallery or perhaps a sleep in. The tour lunch was again at the famous

Young and Jackson's Hotel in Chloe's Brassiere. The afternoon and evening was again football with the Crows too good for Chris Judd and Eagles getting belted at the Telstra Dome. Melbourne lived up to its reputation with the weather changing each day. Saturday night was rather cold after a very warm Anzac Day.

Sunday again was rather cool and most took the opportunity to spend some time together walking, playing tennis at home of the Australian Open or just having a relaxing morning in the hotel.

We arrived early at Telstra Dome so that the boys could visit the North Melbourne Rooms before the game. The game was close all afternoon and North Melbourne looked like doing enough until Sydney charged home late. North Melbourne somehow managed to hang on and game finished in a very exciting draw. The boys again went into the rooms at the end of the game but didn't see a lot as North Melbourne coach Dean Laidley took the players straight into the coaches' room. The boys still managed to hear a very disappointed and vocal Dean Laidley even with the door shut!

Then it was time for a train and tram back to the hotel to have a bit of a debrief, tell stories and expertly provide a synopsis of the games.

Overall the trip was most enjoyable, a time for dads and boys to hang out, go to the footy and experience Melbourne together.

SYDNEY CRICKET TOUR

On the 20th of January, the 2008 Senior Cricket Squad embarked on the final phase of their pre-Darlot Cup campaign with an eight day tour to Sydney. The schedule was comprised of four competitive fixtures against First XI quality opposition, daily training sessions with an emphasis on skill development, a Sydney Cricket Ground indoor session and team building activities. The performance of the team mirrored that of the legendary 'Invincibles' as CCGS remained undefeated in all official matches; the only loss being in a social Twenty/20 game.

After being greeted by torrential rains, which impacted on our Shore School fixture, the players settled into the daily feast of cricket, sport, sightseeing and fellowship with gusto. The tour cemented many of the Club standards that had been identified at the beginning of the pre-season, such as batting in partnerships and executing game plans. Individual highlights on the pitch included Reid Turner smashing an unbeaten 35 not out off 12 balls to secure a victory over Scots College with just two balls to spare in the match. Blake Stove's effort with the ball in taking 6 wickets for 12 runs, including a hat-trick, helped us to roll over our host school Cranbrook for just 26 runs. Shyam Narayan's 220 runs from just three innings included the biggest six of the tour.

We also enjoyed an excellent day at the SCG completing a challenging four hours of net practice, combined with watching the Western Warriors versus NSW Pura Cup match and the Sri Lankan Test and One-day Squad's training session. In between games we visited the sights of Sydney, which included the climbing of the Sydney Harbour Bridge: a fantastic experience.

On behalf of the touring party we would like to thank our Coach and Tour Coordinator, Mr Haskett, and his assistant, Mr Watson, for all their efforts. The tour was great fun and proved to be a very successful preparation for the Darlot Cup season that followed.

DRAMA

20th Anniversary International Drama Tour to the United Kingdom – 2008

It was a very emotional moment. The whole theatre audience had stood to its feet and was singing "Will ye no come back to Wales". We had just finished the world premiere of our production of "The Premiere" on the main stage of Newport's (Wales) imposing 'Riverfront Theatre'. Twenty years ago the Midnite Youth Theatre Company had received a standing ovation from our Welsh hosts when we opened our first tour in 1988 for the Australian Bicentennial Celebrations in the UK. Ten tours later, and they still want us back!

Co-Captain of Drama, Andrew Sutherland, when speaking in Chapel following the tour said: "Drama Tours from Christ Church are unique – other schools who do them, usually organise trips to Sydney or Melbourne to see The Lion King and a workshop with the local acting academy students. Our drama tours take us overseas, put us into a full-scale production of a play, which we then perform for ticket-paying audiences in theatres like London's famous "Sadler's Wells Theatre" or Wales' new performing arts centre, do workshops with members of the "Les Miserables" Company, and see brilliant West End shows like Alan Bennett's History Boys performed by the Royal National Theatre of Great Britain. Of course, we do all the usual 'touristy' things, including visits to Buckingham Palace, Westminster Abbey, the Tate gallery, and so on. Balancing hotel stays with time living with families, allows international friendships to grow, a major part of our drama tour experience".

Thirty seven of us had departed Perth Airport on January 1st. The Coach from Heathrow took us straight to South Wales, where our Welsh Representative, Dennis Toomer, repeated the superb organisation he has arranged since our first tour in 1988. Risca Comprehensive Community School provided us with rehearsal studios (and very welcome meals!) as we prepared for the opening night at the 'Riverfront'. It wasn't all rehearsals: we spent time exploring the Welsh capital Cardiff, Caerphilly Castle, Tintern Abbey and Chepstow castle. After that emotional opening night, mentioned above, it was off to Hereford in England, and to a civic reception from the Mayor himself! One of the "Three Choir Festival" cities, Hereford's Cathedral is magnificent. It was as my colleagues (Jay Brien - Company Secretary and Costume Designer, and Peta Flanigan - Assistant Director and Choreographer) and I were walking to the Cathedral to meet up with company members, that a phone-call from the Headmaster in Perth, told me of the sudden death of the immediate past chairman of the Friends of Midnite, Mr Tim Willoughby. It was this sad news that I imparted to our boys inside the Cathedral. Without being asked to, and without saying a word, the boys lit candles in Tim's memory. Our highly successful performance at Hereford's 'The Courtyard Theatre' was dedicated to Tim.

Our next stop was Newbury, the home of the playwright and composer of The Premiere, Ben Myers and Phil White. Ben, a CCGS Old Boy, now has an extremely successful career as published author and film director in the UK. Having both writer and composer sitting in the audience gave an extra impetus to everyone, and we were again rewarded with a tremendous reception. It was here in the Greenham Arts' Centre that our technicians, led by Tom Stoney, aided by the actors, turned an uninteresting square black box into an intimate theatre – and all within three hours. An incredible job of ingenuity and hard work.

Next tour date was Sadler's Wells-Lillian Baylis Theatre in London. This was the sold-out VIP performance, with WA Govt Agent-General and Headmaster Garth Wynne hosting theatre, diplomatic and business personalities. Many former Midnite members were present, including Nigel James (the very first Captain Midnite of '87-'88!). With so many ex-pat West Australians in the capacity audience, we dedicated the show that night to the memory of long-time supporter Sir Charles Court. The experience of performing in one of Britain's iconic theatres proved to be another emotional and theatrical highlight.

We were in London - and now we had five days to explore and experience! Our hotel was right in the heart of Westminster, with Buckingham Palace, Houses of Parliament, the Abbey, and the West End all within walking distance. And walk we did! London is truly an exciting place and five days saw us attempting to fit 25 hours into every day. Mr Wynne joined us on the tour of the "Les Miserables " theatre, a workshop with company members, followed by a performance. We saw a myriad of other plays and musicals, including The Lion King, Wicked, The 39 Steps, Billy Elliot, The History Boys, Cabaret, Chicago, Spamalot, Avenue Q, Lord of the Rings and The Royal Ballet. We saw exhibitions at the National Gallery, The Globe and The Queen's Gallery – and we shopped!

Rejuvenated after 'the London Experience', it was time to get back to work. We gave two performances at Wellington College. From there, it was a long coach journey to Glasgow, and workshops and performance at The Scottish Youth Theatre and in Edinburgh at Merchiston Castle School. Our Scottish hosts in both cities were kind and very hospitable. Hospitality has always been the keynote of the way we have been treated in our long association with Gresham's School, at Holt in Norfolk, where we went next. This tour was no exception. We also had time to spend a day in the ancient town of Norwich, with its Castle and the Cathedral – and yet more shopping! The Auden Theatre at Gresham's saw the final performance of The Premiere on tour – and is also where we left behind Richard Symons who spent the remainder of 2008 on the Midnite Exchange as the Auden's Trainee Director.

Our 20th Anniversary Tour came to an end as we landed back in Perth, late afternoon of Sunday 3rd February. There is so much more that I could write – of the outstanding performances of cast and crew throughout the tour, of the insightful conversations with company members about the shows we saw, the people we met and the experiences we shared, of the incredible support given to us by our England Rep., Dennis Hunt, our Scottish Reps., Elizabeth and Douglas Briggs, and Betty and Dennis Toomer in Wales, of the kindness of hosts in the places we stayed and the theatres in which we worked, of the genuine expressions of praise of our young people as both artists and human beings from perfect strangers who had attended our performances, or who had met them in shops or cafes. Certainly, CCGS, our city, state and nation, could not have better ambassadors than the Midnite Company members who made up the International Tour celebrating MYTC's 21st year of existence. My staff colleagues, Jay Brien and Peta Flanigan also deserve nothing but thanks and praise for their tremendous contribution to the Drama Tour to Wales, England and Scotland, 2008.

ARMY

The Christ Church Grammar School Cadet Unit's year began with selected Senior Leaders for 2008 attending the 01/08 Cadet Under Officer and Warrant Officers Courses for promotion in January. The results for the Christ Church cadets were exceptional, with SGT's Noe and Stove placing second and third respectively and SGT's Basanovic and Stein placing in the top ten on the CUO course. SGT Payne was the sole Christ Church participant on the WO2 Course and he distinguished himself, placing second on the course.

The first term Bivouac was held at the RAAF Muchea Training Facility where cadets were first exposed to fieldcraft, cooking rations, erecting houthies, and living in the field. The highlight was the Night Camouflage and Concealment Exercise, which saw the cadets attempt to infiltrate a secure compound tightly guarded by the Senior Leaders.

Twelve cadets represented the Unit in forming a guard of honour at the Rats of Tobruk Service in Kings Park. Further we provided a body of troops to march with the banners of the 2/28th Battalion in recognition of their valour and gallant service. Four of our JNCOs attended the Adventure Training Course. This grueling survival camp was a great opportunity for our junior leaders to gain experience and their Adventure Training Award Badge.

The Term 2 Bivouac was the cadets' first exposure to the vast Bindoon Army Camp north of Perth. The 24 hour 'hide and seek' mission was reformatted to cater for the three platoon structure and it was 2 Platoon's task to recover the 'radioactive box' from the other two Platoon harbors located in different 1km grid squares. The harbors were found (albeit with difficulty), and the platoons engaged, however, it was the defenders who maintained possession of the box. Congratulations to CUOs Stein and Basanovic.

The Senior Non-Commissioned Officers Course was held in the July holidays and our cadets performed very well. The course held at Leeuwin Barracks in East Fremantle was efficiently run by our own Unit OC Capt Law supported by WO1 M. O'Sullivan MM and senior leaders CUOs Noe and Basanovic and WO2 Payne. Our students performed exceptionally with CPL Strong being awarded the Student of Merit award for the best performer on the course, closely followed by LCPL Harley.

The Term 3 training programme continued as usual with the cadets excitedly engaging in weapon training with the AusSteyer. The Unit conducted a ceremonial parade in preparation for the Headmaster's Parade where the CUOs and WO2 were presented with their Promotion Certificates. Finally the term was concluded with a visit to 16th Battalion.

The Term 3 Bivouac provided the final preparation for the troops before we moved to Bindoon for Annual Camp. The highlight of this camp is the shoot: congratulations to CUO Basanovic who shot extremely consistently to overcome, in the last few shots, LCPL Pytte.

The cadets embarked on Annual Camp in the September holidays to reclaim the highly sought after Chromed SLR for the 'most proficient unit' statewide. The unit achieved at a very high level, placing first in five out of the eight competitions conducted, and second in two of the remaining three. This effort saw the unit reclaim the coveted Chromed SLR.

The year came to a close with the Headmaster's Parade which proved to be of the highest order and a fitting way to recognise our position within the school. The parade was conducted faultlessly indicating the dedication of the cadets to their task. The Christ Church Grammar School Cadet Unit is held in the highest regard throughout Australia. We thank Captain Law, WO1 O'Sullivan MM, Colonel Peterson RFD, Lt. Barbour and Lt. Gibson and acknowledge the support of our foster unit 13CSSB and the old boys from the Army Reserve. Best of luck to the cadets of 2009.

ENVIRONMENT & COMMUNITY SERVICE

During 2008, Year 11 and Year 12 leaders were placed in a variety of care facilities and a bush restoration area as part of the Environment and Community Programme.

Mr Ben Hodsdon supervised boys at Hollywood Seniors Village. They served tea and played pool and bingo with the elderly residents. The programme benefited both the residents and the boys who provided mental stimulation and friendship over the year. The fact that the students were there and taking an interest in the residents was often more than enough to make the exercise eminently worthwhile.

Mrs Melanie Hazebroek's group of fifteen boys (including Year 12 leader Warwick Bell) worked in Braemar Lodge in Bicton, and Braemar House and St Vincent de Paul in East Fremantle. At Braemar Lodge, the boys got to know many of the elderly people really well. Some boys developed close relationships, with particular residents often having their 'favourites'. Activities throughout the year included golf, quizzes, concerts and even making pancakes. Several sessions were also spent rehearsing for a pantomime. The boys performed Rumplestiltskin for the Lodge, which was very well received by the residents. The boys thoroughly enjoyed their experience at the Lodge and the residents were always seated and eager for them to arrive each Friday.

At Braemar House the boys spent time playing cards, bingo and other games with the elderly and talking to them about their lives. Towards the end of the year the boys started to record details about the residents' lives and the changes that had occurred as they grew up.

Two of the boys spent Friday afternoons working at St Vincent de Paul in East Fremantle. They helped out in the store, organising new stock that had arrived and clearing out the stock room. Their help was invaluable.

Mrs Jane Ferguson supervised a group of students at Wearne House in Cottesloe. The boys spent their time interacting with the residents, serving afternoon tea and assisting the staff with kitchen duties. They also organised and ran bingo sessions each Friday afternoon. The staff and residents at Wearne often commended the boys for their good manners, cheerfulness and for being willing to take on any task. The boys gained a great deal from visiting the residents: they enjoyed talking to them about life before the IT revolution and acquired skills in the field of hospitality.

Mrs Mary Brunsdon supervised students at the Alzheimer's Association in Shenton Park and Mercy Care in Wembley. The students participated in various activities, encouraging the residents at the daily respite centre to join in with them. These activities play an integral role in maintaining each resident's long-term memory and sense of wellbeing. Bingo, card games, golf-putting and sing-alongs were thoroughly enjoyed by all.

Another group of students were placed at Mercy Care's child-care centres where they provided 'hands-on' assistance with the three- and four-year-old day care groups. They showed great artistic flair in the activities as well as fine diplomatic skills in defusing the interesting situations that always arise when dealing with young children. All students responded with patience and care to their responsibilities and were fine ambassadors for the School.

Canon Sheehan had a group that worked in the Cancer Wellness Centre in Cottesloe, mainly helping with the processing of raffle tickets that came in regularly. Their help was greatly appreciated and the staff at the Centre commented on the fact that the boys were reliable, helpful and friendly. Chris Wong worked with TAPSS (The Aged People's Support Service), and he too was reliable and helpful when answering the telephone and performing secretarial duties.

Mrs Julie Harris had a group of eleven as well as a Year 11 student leader. This group worked at restoring bushland at Chidley Point in Mosman Park. They worked exceptionally hard this year and Carol Burnett (the supervisor from Mosman Park Council) was very impressed with the sheer volume of what they achieved. Never before in our four years of involvement has there been so much competition involved in bush rehabilitation. One afternoon the boys succeeded in planting 200 native plants. This involved digging the holes, inserting native fertiliser tablets, inserting the plant, refilling the hole, compacting the soil and putting bamboo canes and a plastic protector around each plant: no mean feat in a single afternoon! The group spent time doing primary and secondary weeding, whipper-snipping, pruning, chopping and lopping and various other tasks that really brought home the fact that bush rehabilitation is a time-consuming business. Positive comments from Mosman Park residents continued as they use the sanctuary and observe the Willie Wagtails and New Holland Honeyeaters that have made the place their home.

Mrs Helen Oke had a group of twelve boys, including a Year 11 leader. This group worked at Riversea Hostel in Mosman Park where the boys were engaged in a variety of activities.

SURF LIFE SAVING

The 2008 Surf Lifesaving programme began with a change of scene, as we ended our affiliation with the Swanbourne Nedlands club and headed a kilometre south to North Cottesloe Surf Life Saving Club. Led by coordinator, Mr McGurk, in his trademark wide-brim hat and sunnies, we set off for our beach adventure, armed with boardies, thongs, sunscreen and a tube of bronze zinc.

The boys worked towards achieving their Surf Lifesaving Bronze medallion over the season. For those not wishing to attempt this, the Surf Rescue certificate was a viable option. The awards included practical water components such as the run-swim-run, tube and board rescues, as well as other surf-related skills. We were also required to learn about the theory behind surf rescues and first aid. Resuscitation techniques formed another important skill for the boys to work on.

The Year 10s were divided into six surf patrol teams, named after significant contributors and long serving Christ Church staff members. Bowker (Dean Bowker), Dixon (Roger Dixon), Draper (Paul Draper), Leach (John Leach), Morrissy (Don Morrissy) and Pate (Arthur Pate). These boys competed for team points in a range of activities that included beach flag, tube, board and swim races, as well as rescue techniques, signals and the ever-popular body surfing contest.

The Year 11 Surf Cadet leaders helped conduct the programme, as well as participating themselves. However, the antics of the leadership group sometimes left Mr McGurk scratching his head as to whether they were participating in the programme as the leaders or merely there to hit the surf with an assortment of boards, fins and floaties. The leaders were assigned to the various patrol teams and assisted boys in getting through the programme to attain their award.

We were lucky with warm sunshine persistent throughout the year. However, the few cold, winter Fridays were well met by the heated school pool.

The two-day lifesaving camp this year was held in late September in extremely challenging surf conditions with many planned activities such as surfing having to be cancelled. The boys, however, responded well to these unfortunate circumstances. The upside of the challenging conditions was that the boys were rewarded with the experience of watching a 'real' search take place, complete with helicopters, search vessels, police and television camera crews, for a missing paddler who capsized along the coast out from Swanbourne. The North Cottesloe club members assisted with the rescue task and our own Lachie Bisset was an essential link as he manned and relayed radio messages between rescue services.

The boys would like to thank Mr McGurk for his wonderful contribution to the programme throughout the year. Also, thanks go to Mr Hodnett, Mrs Fricke and to Mrs Finkemeyer for the great organisation, knowledge and approachable nature, as well as Leith Weston, Kelly Moss, Cam Dimsey, Nick Scanlon, Lachie Cooke, Michael Ford, Sam Rowe and David Kordic for great administrative and instructional support. The programme has provided boys with surf awareness, community service, teamwork skills, as well as the great leadership experience. Surf Lifesaving Cadets continues to move forward as an integral component of the co-curricular activities at Christ Church Grammar and has been wonderfully successful with the keen support of our local community surf club, North Cottesloe.

CHAPEL & CENTRE FOR ETHICS

It has been another busy and enjoyable year within the Centre for Ethics. In February, we were visited by a group of Tibetan Buddhist monks who were touring Australia. The monks constructed a sand mandala on the chapel floor and gave various teachings about compassion and mindfulness. The dissolution of the mandala took place on Ash Wednesday. This could not have been a more appropriate day for such a ceremony. As the sand was carried to the river in front of the chapel, the lesson concerning life's transience was not lost on the students, staff and parents who had gathered.

Phoebe Hammond, who graduated from St Hilda's Anglican School for Girls at the end of 2006, spoke to the Senior Assembly. Phoebe told us about her work in Central America with Raleigh International, a British non-profit organization sponsoring service programmes around the world. Pulitzer Prize winner, Geraldine Brooks, spoke about her work People of the Book whilst on Harmony Day, Sheikh Muhammad encouraged us to seek understanding in the cause of peace. We were also delighted to welcome the poet Les Murray to speak about his body of work.

Term 2 began with an address by the distinguished Indian philosopher Sunandaji. She addressed the complex ethical question: "When people know what is right, why do they do what is wrong?" It was a great pleasure to have Tim Winton with us again for another book launch. This time, Tim was speaking about his acclaimed work Breath. Through the generosity of the Parents' Association, we had an evening with Celia Lashlie. Celia spoke to a packed chapel on her book He'll be OK: Growing Gorgeous Boys into Good Men. Travel Editor of The West Australian, Stephen Scourfield, spoke about his book Other Country, a work that has since achieved great critical success. We were once more very pleased to have with us Dr Michael Carr-Gregg who addressed all boys in the senior school and also presented an evening for parents. This too was made possible through the generosity of the Parents' Association.

In Term 3, Ted Graham told us the story of the successful search for HMAS Sydney. Professor Bruce Robinson gave another wonderful talk about parenting. He spoke about issues that are dealt with in his splendid book Fathering in the Fast Lane. Just before travelling to Oxford University as the WA Rhodes Scholar, Daniel Vujcich spoke about "The Value of Service". Miranda Green told us about the Lionheart Project. Anglican priest and clown, Roly Bain visited us again to tell us about love and forgiveness. Sister Veronica Brady addressed the issues in her most recent book The God-Shaped Hole. Throughout the term, Parisse Kailis gave some meditation classes for Senior School boys. These were much appreciated. At the end of term, all Year 11 students took a retreat. Some visited the Bodhinyana Monastery at Serpentine where they were under the direction of our old friend the Venerable Ajahn Brahmavamso. Others made the journey to New Norcia where they were able to spend time in prayer with the Benedictine monks.

In Term 4, Dr Adam Cox presented a stimulating evening for parents and some talks for staff. Dr Cox is best known for his books No Mind Left Behind and Boys of Few Words: Raising our sons to communicate and connect. We are grateful to Mr Wynne and the International Boys' Schools Coalition for bringing Dr Cox to Perth.

Our final guest was the ABC's much loved and respected gardener Josh Byrne. Josh spoke to boys in the Preparatory School about being an ethical gardener. It was a delightful experience for us all. Josh returned the next day with some worms for the Early Learning Centre's garden.

Once more, we held services on the first and third Sundays of the months. There was a truly beautiful Easter Service, the usual magnificent Advent Service, a Nativity Play that draws an audience of hundreds and the beloved Mass on Christmas Eve. A big thank you to Mrs Teresa Scott for her extraordinary work within the Centre for Ethics throughout another year. We don't where we would be without her hard work, incredible attention to detail, sense of humour and kindness to all.

CHESS

What a successful year 2008 proved to be. Chess went from strength to strength with attendance remaining high at Chess Club during lunch times throughout the year. The Middle School Championship was keenly contested with Matthew Wozniuk and Christopher Doukakis vying for honours. Christopher eventually succeeded but both boys benefited from the competition. Congratulations go to William Blake who was pushed all the way by his peers in pursuit of the much-coveted Open Chess Championship award.

Individual achievements were, however, eclipsed by the performance of boys in the inaugural Chess Tournament for PSA Boys' Schools. Up against stiff opposition from Hale and Scotch our boys worked together as a team to secure a glorious victory. This was a notable achievement as two of the team were Year 8 boys. The full team was: Michael Chan, William Blake, Christopher Doukakis and Matthew Wozniuk.

CCGS sent four teams to the Chess Association of Western Australia 2008 Western Australian Secondary Schools Teams Chess Tournament. After the rigours of the recent Chess Tournament for PSA Boys Schools this tournament provided a welcome opportunity for boys who do not ordinarily compete to get a taste of tournament chess. In the B-Grade division four of our Year 8 boys fought successfully to win. This was a notable achievement as they were up against teams with older students. The successful team members were: Christopher Doukakis, Matthew Wozniuk, Kieren Tan and Derek Chia.

I took over the chess reins in Semester Two this year and am of the view that the future for chess at CCGS is very bright. The success of chess at CCGS, in the past, however, is due to the tireless efforts, vision and organisation of the outgoing teacher in charge of chess, Mrs Alison Hewson. She built chess up at CCGS over many years and as she moves into retirement she can rest comfortably in the knowledge that chess is a force both within the School and between schools. From the entire chess community we would like to extend a heart-felt thank you!

The Debating fraternity at Christ Church has always been referred to in hushed whispers. A reputation for quick wits, sharp critical thinking and refined oratorical ability is attributed to the boys wearing the Debating badge. Such a reputation drew boys from all corners of the school in 2008 to participate in the West Australian Debating League (WADL) competition.

To help foster the development of debating skills amongst all boys, the Debating Committee was quick to organise the help of Old Boys and debating veterans Alex Nock and Nik Barron. Year 11s and 12s studied the finer elements of argument, and steeled their nerves in a practical session that tested them against impromptu topics and points of information. Boys in younger years also listened attentively as Alex and Nik introduced the boys to essential debate etiquette and structure.

Thus armed, we approached the WADL competition with confidence. Topical premises such as 'Facebook does more harm than good' were proven and refuted, while some, such as 'Greed is good', came from left field. Year 9 Christ Church students defeated Year 10s from other schools and a Senior line up of School Captain Blake Stove, David Eng and Joshua Helsby intimidated MLC into forfeit, whilst going on to prove that 'WA does not need another newspaper'.

The results of the WADL season were mixed. Teams of all year levels performed well in various rounds but were denied the opportunity to progress into the finals, when they came up against tough opposition at the outset of the knockout rounds.

Christ Church Senior 1 debated tenaciously but lost their footing on a rollercoaster ride of postponements that plagued its season. Year 11 Senior Team 2, comprising strongmen Richard O'Halloran, Patrick Mackenzie, Will Adamson, Ben Gammell, Matthew Hargreaves and James Harford performed well, despite also being dogged by postponements. The Year 11s have high expectations for next year's "Dream Team".

For those eager to refine their debating finesse, the AHISA competition in Term 3 provided the opportunity for boys to gain further first hand experience in a less competitive environment. The Year 11s proved their willingness to step up (as the Year 12s moved into exam mode) and refine their technique for WADL next year.

The season ended with the annual dinner in the School's refectory. Mixed feelings pervaded, some of dissatisfaction and some of elation as results were discussed. The occasion gave the fraternity the opportunity to farewell those senior boys ending their tenure with the Christ Church Debating fraternity and acknowledge the young guns stepping up through the ranks. No matter what the result, the 2008 debating season was certainly beneficial to those involved in all years. All students took away improved argumentative skills and greater speaking confidence.

Thanks must go to the Debating Committee. Debating at Christ Church is possible because of the tireless efforts of Teacher-in-Charge, Ms Crawford, who gave absolute support at every competition evening and administered the season without fault. Ms Nock and Ms Slater directed the Year 8s and Juniors respectively throughout the season and were crucial to the administration of the middle school teams, and we thank them for all their efforts.

DIGITAL FILM PUBLISHING

As a Year 11 student at Christ Church Grammar School, we have the opportunity to participate in Digital Film Publishing. In this activity we learnt to brainstorm, storyboard, film and edit our own slideshows, advertisements, short films and web-pages, to reflect the interests of students and the many different aspects of life at Christ Church.

Over an intense 25 week course, we collected footage from events such as the Inter-House and Inter-School Swimming Carnivals, the House Arts competition, the School Athletics Carnival, Years 8 and 9 Friday afternoon sport and the Cadets' Headmaster's Parade. Using this footage and the technology provided by the FutureSphere, we learnt to assemble different types of films and presentations to be shown at Chapel and the Founder's Day Service. Creations included a documentary, "A Day in the Life of a Boarder", DIM (Department of Intense Media) and numerous sporting and educational videos. All these films were compiled and archived in anticipation of the 2010 School Centenary.

Coordinated and directed by Ms Lorraine O'Brien, Digital Film Publishing has provided an understanding of producing Digital Presentations. It has been a rewarding experience, both on a personal level and also as an archival service to the School.

DRAMA WORKSHOP

2008 has been another exciting year in Drama Workshop. We participated in many new and challenging creative pursuits including motivational film-making, Theatresports, Readers' Theatre and a 'tour' of local old people's homes with the play Burger Time by Matt Worzala.

By far the most challenging aspect of this year's Drama Workshop were the afternoons involving street dancing, hosted by the Japanese 'Renta' who was with us for Term 3. We were rehearsing for Burger Time and learning the tricky dance steps that were to be part of our routine. It certainly made for a busy afternoon, especially for Tom Bajrovic, Tom Iffla, Amal Meemeduma and Adam Cranfield, who were involved in both activities at the same time!

Our motivational film was about a teenage student who, tired of receiving bad grades at school, decides to tackle his schoolwork the same way Rocky prepares for a big fight. Complete with the Rocky III anthem, 'Eye of the Tiger', the film is both motivational and very entertaining. The quality acting was enhanced by some creative and efficient camera work and slick editing by Michael Richards, Lachlan Kelsey and Mitchell Smart.

The play Burger Time, starring Tom Bajrovic and Tom Iffla, tells the story of one man's fight against the modern dilemma associated with the world's population explosion. His answer to the ever-increasing time he spends 'waiting in line' is, to say the least, very inventive. Not all goes to plan as the Russian Mafia (Ben Davis) and a Health Inspector (Aaron Butler) attempt to foil his plans. Excellent performances by Bajrovic and Iffla as well as supporting roles from Butler, Davis and Cranfield went well in front of very appreciative audiences at Riversea and Bicton.

Thanks must go to Mr Willesee for the fun and challenging tasks and guidance all year, and to Miss Webb and Yuya Kanzaki for their contributions to Drama Workshop.

eV CHALLENGE

The Electric Vehicle Challenge is an endurance event hosted by Swan TAFE in Midland. The objective of the event is to design and construct an electrically powered vehicle to be raced around a track of approximately 500m length for a period of one hour.

After the teams had their designs on paper, they headed to the metals technology workshop to commence construction. This involved cutting members for the mainframes, mostly, this year, in aluminium, with only one group deciding to employ solely steel in their construction.

Building the main frames took most of the year. Once they were complete, along with the two braking systems required by the competition's rules, the teams started installing electrics. This involved wiring batteries to controllers, controllers to motors, motors to switches and inserting the prerequisite fuses into the circuit. Construction was complete for two of this year's four groups a few weeks before the race. However, in some instances, it was down to a few hours before the race. Obviously, the more time for testing, the better, and the teams ready in time for testing had a distinct advantage. Unfortunately, one team discovered only the day before the race that their motor was non-functional and was unable to compete.

The first test came early on the morning of the race day. Fortunately, all competing Christ Church teams passed their scrutineering tests, and were deemed safe to race. Christ Church was represented in the first event of the day by two teams, competing in the Yuasa class. These consisted of Tom Baston, Leo Showell and Anish Philips, and Miles Bradley, Archie Stoney and John Fox-Slater. Theirs were believed to be the fastest of the Christ Church vehicles. Unfortunately, Miles, Archie and John's car suffered engine trouble soon after the start of the race, and, despite attempts to rectify the problem, was forced to withdraw. Tom, Leo and Anish's car, however, continued on to take third place for Christ Church.

In the second race, categories B and C, for secondary students and open division, respectively, Christ Church was represented by the remaining two teams, one reusing the successful car from the previous race. Unfortunately, one vehicle, built by Will Crisp, Daniel O'Keeffe and Will Hodge, had to retire before the end of the race, having run out of battery.

This year's eV Challenge has been a unique experience for all involved, and one that I am sure will be remembered for some time to come. A special thank you to Mr Barbour for his advice and expertise.

The Enigma programmes offer an enrichment programme to some 15-20 talented boys in each of Years 8, 9 and 10. The programmes are designed to expand the academic horizons for these selected boys who have demonstrated a high level of ability across several disciplines, enthusiasm for new challenges and a desire to explore new and interesting material.

The Year 8 programme included such topics as the history and relevance of some codes and ciphers, substitution ciphers, the use of strips, cipher wheels, scrambling keys and polyalphabetic ciphers, Braille, genetic fingerprinting and DNA testing, Morse code, codebooks, public key encryption and the RSA algorithm, arithmetic coding, culminating in the Enigma machine and the breaking of the Enigma code. Sessions were held after school one afternoon per week for most of Terms 2 and 3. Throughout the programme the boys did most of the work without computers, looking at letter frequencies and the use of cribs to break the ciphers, but they also used computers to look at the more advanced topics later in the programme such as the use of virtual Enigma machines.

The Enigma Project in Year 9 is made available to about twenty boys who are selected on the basis of internal and external assessment and who are invited to join the programme in the middle of Term 1. Initially the students charted the path from the monasteries, repositories of knowledge in troubled times, to the emergent cities of Boccaccio and Chaucer and the secular literature, art and music that came so clearly into vision in the 14th century. The role of the mediaeval universities and the impact of new technology were also touched upon. Term 2 started with a comparison of the world of Ibn Battuta with that of a Western contemporary and then we travelled through the High Renaissance, Reformation and Elizabethan England to a study of different European empires (the Venetian, Spanish, and Dutch) and their impacts. Focus in Term 3 was initially on British scientists, inventors, thinkers and writers followed by an introduction to the tentative taxonomy of the Baroque, Neoclassical, Romantic and Realist. The boys concluded with an investigation into and interpretation of Impressionist and more modern art.

This year the Year 10 programme, entitled "Man in the Cosmos" was highlighted by the presence of our "Astronomer-in-Residence" Professor Quinn, a WA Premier's Fellow and Professor of Astronomy at UWA. This was made possible by a generous grant by the Parents' Association and gave us the opportunity to talk to a leader in world astronomy especially in radio-telescope. We began again with the early history of cosmology as considered by the ancient Egyptian, Babylonian and Greek impressions of man's place in the cosmos but this year the emphasis was more on the collection of data, especially on the structure of the large telescopes in use today. We looked at the problems of detection, the analysis of data, and the theories the data either supported or challenged. We examined planets, galaxies and other large structures, extra-solar planets and how are they detected, and questions such as where are they, and could any support life. Brief consideration was given to SETI (The Search for Extra-Terrestrial Intelligence).

The series culminated with the mysteries of black holes and phenomena such as colliding galaxies. It was again clear that the big questions of "life, the universe, and everything" are probably too big for the human mind, but with the help of astronomy we may be getting closer in our understanding.

LIBRARY SERVICE

This year's group of Year 11s consisted of Justin Goh, David Xing, Vincent Chung, Brandon Kueh, Jonathan Kwong and Eric Poon. Throughout the year they learnt new skills, became familiar with our collection and broadened their reading interests.

After Semester One, we lost the valuable services of David and Justin. The remaining four boys coped well and continued to contribute a high level of service during the remainder of the year.

"It's been a great experience in Library Service. I have a better understanding of the workings of the library. I've learned how to shelve, tidy and search for resources. It will help me in searching for materials for next year." Eric Poon

"Glad to contribute to the school in this way. Learning how to shelve and organize the books might help in the future. I've enjoyed working in this quiet environment with three of my peers." Brandon Kueh

"Through Library service I have learnt skills I will be able to use in the future." Jonathan Kwong

"Library service rocks!! I learnt the art of book shelving." Vincent Chung

ROBOTICS

Robotics had another successful year in 2008, with a number of teams entering the state competition. The activity consists of two groups of students – one after school for Years 8-10 and one on Friday afternoons for the Year 12s.

Each year the students learn about how to control and program small LEGO robots, and enter the Robocup Australia competition where schools compete against each other in several categories. These include Dance, where teams construct a robot to move in time to music, with points given for originality and timing; Rescue, where teams construct and program a robot to autonomously navigate through obstacles to reach and rescue a "victim"; and Soccer, where teams of two robots play soccer against each other.

In all cases robots must be completely autonomous, which makes for a challenging competition. CCGS once again did very well, with all students who entered the state competition achieving high places against a field of approximately 100 other teams. All the boys gained considerable experience and we are looking forward to another successful year in 2009.

The 2008 Mock Trials team entered the season on the back of a very successful 2007 campaign which saw all teams make the final 16 and one win the state title. The committee and Year 12 participants were encouraged to see a large turn out of talented Year 10 and 11 students at the team selections; this augurs well for the continuing success of the Mock Trials fraternity in the future.

The first trial of the season saw Christ Church representing an angry plaintiff who was seeking damages after his BMW disappeared from the grounds of a service station. Christ Church had to prove, on the balance of probabilities, that the service station did not take reasonable care in ensuring the safety of the vehicle. The factual scenario was complex, but Team 3, led by Josh Helsby, secured a massive win and Team 2, led by Vice-Captain Blake Stove, also narrowly secured victory. Team 1, led by Captain James Sprivilis, suffered a loss at the hands of a brutal Penrhos College team.

The second trial saw the boys defending a University student in a criminal trial, which saw the accused charged with the assault of an old man during an alleged altercation in Northbridge. Team 3 continued its winning way with another comfortable victory. Team 1 secured a confidence boosting first win of the season and Team 2 established itself as a finals contender with a comfortable win.

The boys were provided with a humorous document which outlined the facts of the case for the third trial. CCGS, acting of behalf of the plaintiff, was given the unenviable task of representing a plaintiff who had chosen to travel to Ruritania, a fictional location undergoing a violent civil war. The plaintiff held it was the false advice of the travel agent which had led to her choosing the holiday destination. Christ Church entered the round with both Team 2 and Team 3 seeking a perfect record for the season and a place in the finals. Team 3 secured the win to ensure a finals berth, however, Team 2 was unlucky to suffer a loss, a disappointing conclusion to its season. Team 1 also concluded its season on a negative note with a tight loss to Guildford Grammar.

The fraternity's focus shifted to Team 3 as it entered the first stage of the knock-out finals series. Unfortunately, however, the team was unable to secure a victory and concluded a very respectable season with a loss in the first stage of the finals. Although not deserving of the accolades of the previous season, the Mock Trials season in 2008 was very successful, with all boys enjoying their participation and learning a great deal about the functioning of a court trial. The team would like to thank old boy Shaun Hardcastle for his invaluable legal advice, and, of course, the activity's coordinator Ms Eril-Jane Reid for her tireless work both organizing and coaching the team. The team said goodbye and thank you to its administrator, Mrs Alison Hewson, who retired from CCGS in 2008.

I strongly encourage all boys to participate in Mock Trials. The activity provides a valuable insight into the legal system and develops public speaking skills. Most importantly, however, it is very enjoyable. The committee and departing Year 12s wish Ms Reid and next year's team the best of luck in continuing the proud Christ Church tradition of Mock Trials.

OUTDOOR EDUCATION

One of the major aims of the Outdoor Education programme is to help Christ Church boys to see how much they can achieve if they push themselves and to develop some resilience for when things get tough. Having just been with the Year 10 boys as they completed their Venture in some very challenging conditions, it is remarkable what our students can achieve when they think positively and work as a team.

Term 1 commenced with camps for Year 7 and orientation activities and camps for Year 8.

The Year 7 boys journeyed to their overnight campsite, sleeping in hoochies by the river before canoeing along the Murray back to Koorungal. Orienteering, cooking and the 'Ribbons of Blue' health study of the river were among the many and varied activities. The abseiling activity at the conclusion of camp was enjoyed by all.

Boys in Years 8 and 9 spent most of their days and nights away from Koorungal, exploring the Lane Poole reserve with canoeing or kayaking the Murray River the highlight for many.

The last camp at Koorungal was for the students from Year 6. Many hours were spent in Scarp Pool building rafts and swimming and the overnight bush walk and camp out are the first introduction for many to sleeping under canvas. Ms Mitchell's famous damper competition was followed by the building of shelters and making of boomerangs. The final day's boomerang chuck-off provided plenty of entertainment.

The Year 10 Venture rounded off a busy and successful year.

ROCK WORKSHOP

Rock workshop celebrated its thirteenth year in 2008. We had a smaller group than usual but it was every bit as keen and gifted. One group, "The Ready Set Go", was already rehearsing at the start of the year and the others readily formed themselves into a "big" band. Lunchtime concerts provided the boys with some appreciative audiences.

Students spent Terms 2 and 3 writing and performing their own music, which was then recorded in the mid-term break. This was particularly challenging this year as none of the boys had ever written any music before. Two groups recorded two songs each and there was a fifth song by a solo vocalist using one of the other bands as back up. This year also saw the inclusion of trumpet and keyboards, two instruments not usually represented. One vocalist this year had never considered singing before.

As with last year, there was an excursion to a professional studio during Term 4.

MIDDLE SCHOOL SPORTS ASSISTANTS

During 2008, thirty Year 11 boys supported Christ Church Grammar School's sport programme as sports assistants.

These boys were involved in a diverse variety of roles, including coaches, photographers, sports reporters, umpires and co-ordinators of middle school sporting carnivals.

These assistants helped deliver sport services to the wider school community, and as such, made vital contributions to the overall promotion of sport through their individual roles.

As the majority of the sport assistants all played in senior sport teams as well, they also acted as role models to up and coming junior boys as their behaviour and attitude towards sport is closely mimicked by junior boys.

While the school gained much from the efforts of the boys involved, it is hoped that these skills can be employed by these boys in the wider community as members of clubs later in life.

SCRAM – STATE & NATIONAL CHAMPIONS 2008

SCRAM (School's Conflict Resolution And Mediation) is an interactive role-playing competition for Western Australian Year 9 & 10 school students, which facilitates the development of peaceful dispute resolution awareness and skills in secondary school communities.

In 2008, Christ Church Grammar School had a team of eight boys in the competition, and through careful preparation and training, as well as fantastic support and enthusiasm from our coordinator Mrs Gore and our coach Mrs Ciffolilli, the Christ Church team was successful in not only winning the State championship, but also the National title.

In a typical SCRAM competition, six members of the team would divide themselves into three groups: two pairs of role players and two mediators. The team members then must undertake a mediation of a specified dispute – mirroring the procedures required for commercial mediations. The four role players enact a role as a member of an aggrieved party in a typical dispute (usually a conflict centering around life at school). The role players were required to solve the dispute amongst themselves, with the help of the mediators whose role required them to ensure that the conflict was resolved within the strict one hour time limit, that certain guidelines were followed that the shouting and threats of violence (which were the norm) remained within acceptable limits.

The final SCRAM team for 2008 consisted of Dominic Donaldson and Ben Power as mediators, Sam Matyear, Lachlan Macdonald, George Ford and Nick Terpkos as role players and Ben Percival and Daniel Scott as reserves.

Through the four rounds of the competition, Christ Church performed solidly, with many of the boys trying out the positions of both mediator and role player. With each round, the team members grew more comfortable with their roles and the team emerged second, thereby qualifying for the State final against Perth College. After a solid win against Perth College, the Christ Church team of six boys went on to win the National championship at the Hyatt Hotel against Seven Hills High School from New South Wales. It was an honour to receive the prize trophy from Mr Chris Stevenson, an Old Boy and long-time supporter of the SCRAM programme.

Thanks go to Mrs Gore, for all the hours she spent organizing and supervising us, as well as Mrs Ciffolilli, whose expertise and patience proved invaluable.

As well as providing us with something to do after school on a Friday afternoon and at seven o'clock in the morning, SCRAM provided all of us lucky enough to be involved with an invaluable life skill that will hold us in good stead for years to come. We would fully recommend SCRAM to any boy who has an interest in mediation or conflict resolution for 2009.

STUDY LAB

What goes on at Study Lab?

2.30pm: A busy Medical student leaves the UWA campus and heads south, hoping to beat the traffic and arrive at his old school by 3pm. He greets the Librarians and settles down in the large, open, well-resourced space called the Collaborative Learning Centre (CLC). He is the Study Lab Mentor for the day.

3.10pm: Formal lessons are over for the day, yet students from Years 8 to 12 are seen visiting the canteen for an energy boost before heading the CLC where they are welcomed by the Mentor, sign the Study Lab Book and quickly settle down to work until around 5pm.

3.15pm: A small group of Year 11 and 12 students greet the Mentor and register as Peer Tutors on duty for the day. They move around the CLC, helping students to complete homework or prepare for assessments in a wide range of subjects. When they are not helping students from other years, they work collaboratively on their own assignments; part of their duty is to lead by example, to demonstrate how to study.

3.20pm: Two teachers arrive and quickly find themselves immersed in various projects across five year groups. They are supported by the Mentor, who somehow remembers all those lessons, in all those subjects. The Mentor is also called upon to discuss subject selections, how to gain University entrance and what life is like at University. Study Lab buzzes...

4.30pm: The younger students join a lively queue to receive a Study Lab sticker from the Mentor. After attending four times, each student receives a treat – an incentive to come back for more. Study Lab keeps buzzing ...

5pm: Study Lab is winding down: some students rest on the new couches and read magazines while others keep working, keen to complete an assignment. When they leave, they know they have done a good day's work and deserve some leisure time at home.

Whom do we need to thank?

Peer Mentors (CCGS Old Boys): Tom Friberg, Julian Bradley, Arthur Yau, Brandon Wong, Kieran Kusel, Charles Qiu, Tom Lawrence

Peer Tutors Year 12s: William Baron-Croston, Sandip Mukhopadhyay, Shrimal Fernando, Darren Tan, Shane Morrissy, Leon Zhang

VENTURE PLUS SEA TREK

In the last week of Term 3 a group of fifteen adventurous Year 11s and two teachers embarked on an expedition to the Dampier Archipelago. What followed was an idyllic experience encompassing fishing, snorkelling, sailing, night watches, with the following highlights:

- The fleet was led by an experienced set of sailors in the form of Ben Colquhoun, Giles Dewing and Daniel O’Keeffe
- Matt Rawlinson, Miles Bradley and Jampal Williamson chanced a swim in from their boats, regardless of tales of sharks and stingrays, making it safely to shore
- The Professor of Fishing, Miles Bradley, caught a Giant Trevally and others shared in the spoils of Spotted Mackerel, Long Tom, Queenfish and Golden Trevally
- Shark fishing into the early hours of the morning, by Jordan Travers, the Professor, James Taylor and John Fox-Slater; later, Jon Parry caught a nice School Mackerel
- Snorkelling at the coral gardens, which was home to beautiful coral and thousands of colourful reef fish, a highlight for Tom Baston and Mr Bayly.

A special thanks to Mr Bayly and Ms Mitchell who organised the trip, as well as our camp leader, Mr Prizmic, whose knowledge about the area enriched our experience. I would highly recommend the trip to anybody who enjoyed Venture, as many of the memories will stay with boys for life.

VENTURE

My friends all thought I was crazy, the doctors warned it would be tough, but the boys and support staff were keen as mustard to see me on my way, so there I sat, two and a half weeks out of a three month spell in a leg cast, and on my way to Venture.

I really didn't know what to expect as I watched the scenery grow less and less familiar out the window of the bus; I'd heard so many things said and tips given. The truth of it is, that none of it really mattered when we got down to Walpole. We were 14 people in the bush, with a big challenge ahead of us.

The first day of walking was relatively easy. The heat was hot, but the Valley of the Giants provided a backdrop against which complaint was hard to justify. Sitting by the river that evening, fatigued but satisfied, I figured that it wasn't going to be so bad after all. After we had endured a rather gruelling day of lots of hiking, and a kayak voyage down a windswept stretch of river, I was certain that I had been at least partially mad to make such a rash comment. I must say, though, that there is something magical in the simple pleasures of dry thermals and a handful of scroggin after several hours spent freezing one's nether regions in a plastic tub!

The night of that second day was the rainiest that I have ever experienced. Official reports recorded 100mm+ of rain in nearby Albany, so I was most thankful to have the shelter of a Bibbulmun track hut over my head. The raindrops on the corrugated tin roof had everyone snoring like babies in no time, except for one anonymous individual who made the hugh-ge mistake of taking a few swigs from a badly placed disinfectant bottle in the dark. Hilarity ensued, and a new marching song of '100 bottles of diso' on the wall' was sung with gusto over the next days.

We set out the next morning, aiming for an early arrival time to make preparations for the vital food drop. Proceedings were halted, however, as after scaling a steep sand dune to make a shortcut, my ankle resisted the efforts of a medically unsound dose of painkillers, and I couldn't carry my weight on it. Trying to soldier on was not an option, I was told, and my heavy belongings were soon stowed away in the recesses of the other boys' packs, and with calls of encouragement I was on my way again. Pausing to think of this moment is powerful for me. Before I went on Venture, I barely knew any of the boys in my group, and there, within five days they were all pushing their own limits just to make sure I got through. It was really touching. Getting into the campsite that night, I realised that I couldn't risk needing evacuation, and causing the other guys to carry more than their share, so despite their incredible efforts to get me through it, I was picked up and taken back to base camp and Clare House after the food drop.

This is a view of Venture that is rarely seen by a boy, and it was very interesting to be one of those to behold it. A little house in the middle of the bush, containing enough food to feed a virtual army, and a handful of the most hardworking people I've ever come across. There were Mr Farmer and Mr Tate driving off to help groups in the dead of night, Mr Morrissy and the Rentas taking care of the rafts and dinghies, Mr Turkich and Mr Hodsdon helping out a group with a leader who had to leave at the last minute, and of course Mrs Morrisey making sure the house didn't fall down around them. This really opened my eyes as to how immense an undertaking Venture is; the amount of work and organization that goes into getting all the Year 10 boys through ten days in the bush is simply epic.

Another few big hikes for the lads brought us to our final night, and a welcome barbecue with sausages galore, along with a special treat of some blocks of chocolate. Scrubbing Trangia pans clean of 10 days' worth of dirt and muck was no mean feat, nor were the efforts of some boys to scour a black enamelled wok to a shining state of silver. Elbow grease taken to a whole new level! By this point, the work was no big issue for us, and it was all taken care of with a minimum of fuss.

There we sat, watching the barbecue coals burn down. We were 14 people in the bush, an incredible and unexpected challenge behind us. It's true that every boy who has completed Venture will tell you a different tale of it, but the tale of 2008's was one worthy of esteem. The wettest yet, but my spirits were not dampened and I will always look back with fond memories.

A closing word of advice to all Venturers in years to come: take a good raincoat, and be prepared to smile no matter what hell breaks loose around you.

SECTION THREE

HOUSES

HOUSE SWIMMING

The 2008 House Swimming Carnival was held inside Challenge Stadium and as with every year, brought fun and enjoyment, but at the same time fantastic results from some exceptional swimmers. The boys gave their all, and new talent was displayed by the younger swimmers from Year 8.

Alex Woodman from Moyes took out the Open McGlew Cup with two first places and two seconds. Closely following were Joshua Tan, Lawrence Ward and David Cullingford. The under 16 Giles Cup was won by Richard O'Halloran with two first places and two seconds, followed by Michael Palleros and James Webster.

Jake Smith-Wright proved to be the surprise package on the night, with easily the best performance with four straight first places, winning the J Healy Under 15 Cup by 12 points to George Ford in second and James Moorman in third.

The under 14s Curtis Burking Cup was won by the dynamo Sam Foster, with three first places and a third. Second and third places were taken by Alexander Mitchell and Zachary Vinten respectively. Finally, the under 13 Staff Cup was taken out by young gun Thomas Cunningham, who is one to watch in the future. Close behind Thomas were Sam Hall and Tom England.

The overall Lapinski-McCoubrie Cup for the champion Swimming House was a close finish with the scores fairly even between first place and fifth. But scraping through by 23 points, less than a relay win, was Wolsey. With the final standings as follows: Wolsey, Noake, Hill, Queenslea, Moyes, Jupp, Romsey, and Craigie, the annual House Swimming Carnival proved to be another successful event.

HOUSE ARTS

The 2008 House Arts Competition began in the second half of Term 1 with some fresh energy. A change in the weekly calendar, moving Chapel Services to every second Thursday, allowed a greater focus on the Public Speaking, Debating, and Chess competitions. This arrangement also allowed the House Prefects increased flexibility in organising boys to participate in and prepare for the competition.

The Debating Committee managed to invent some topical and controversial issues for boys to speak on in the Public Speaking Competition. Moyes was undefeated throughout the competition. Thanks in particular to the efforts of talented students Michael Williams and Jeremy Rogers, Moyes took the grand final by storm when they convinced their audience that 'Global warming is a hoax'.

Those with supremely logical minds, or who were simply shy of standing in front of audiences, were welcomed by the Chess Competition. Tension ran high as reputations formed in the lunchtime chess room were placed on the line. Surprise struck when regular vanquisher Shyam Narayan was checkmated by dark horse Matthew Storer in only four moves. In the end, Wolsey emerged victorious, thanks largely to the efforts of Weijie Weng.

The new chapel arrangement allowed Debating participants an extended period of preparation during Thursday tutorial that was greatly appreciated. In the end, Hill House proved its adeptness at entertaining its audience whilst outwitting its opponents. The Hill boys slammed home the grand final as they opposed the topic 'Oil is Everything'.

HOUSE SHOUT

The House Shout, for many, was the high point of the House Arts competition. In only its third year, this event is recognised as an often deciding factor in the Beatty cup competition. With sweet memories of 'Penny Lane' and 'Yellow Submarine' from the Beatles, boys this year embarked upon making a Motown masterpiece.

Soon enough, the likes of Marvin Gaye could be heard pouring out of tutorial rooms. Although emphasis was placed on singing, some boys were evidently keener performers than others. Imaginative costumes and choreography were devised, and boys focused hard on learning lyrics off by heart. The big day soon arrived. Honoured guests from the music departments of The University of Western Australia and Presbyterian Ladies' College were brought in for the special House Shout assembly to provide their judgement on each house's musical talent. Some performances were enthusiastic, but lamentable, whilst others were fresh and original. Music Captain Andrew Summerlin provided an outstanding saxophone accompaniment to Jupp House. Unfortunately this didn't disguise the fact that many boys didn't know the words! After some dubious deliberating over rankings in the middle of the field, Craigie House emerged the clear winners with a stunning rendition of Marvin Gaye's 'Heard it on the Grapevine'. Crisp lyrics were supported by an excellent soprano chorus line of Breff O'Shea, Alistair Campbell, Oscar York, Greg Eskinazi, Harry Annear and Andrew Macdonald.

Thanks must go to Mr Mandin, Mr Gillam, Ms Croston and Ms Wilson for providing House Captains and Staff with highly valued musical guidance. The supporting band of Phillip Bailey, Simon Harker, Luke Hynes, Paul Millard and Marty Perva also provided flair, and on some occasions outperformed the houses!

HOUSE TEAMS CARNIVAL

The House Teams Carnival in 2008 was a little different this year. For the first time, both the House Summer and Winter sports carnivals were combined into a one afternoon sports event. Whilst some sports were omitted from the combined event, cross-country, football, speedball, rugby and soccer (two divisions) remained. With a tight competition for the Beatty Cup, all Houses needed to boost their points score by performing competitively in this carnival. With a lot at stake and Wolsey already in front, after their good showing in the House Swimming, other Houses were keen to make their mark on the competition.

Unlike some of the previous winter and cross-country events, the weather for mid-winter proved to be excellent, even spring-like. The cross-country event started the afternoon and the middle school Parents' Association Cup was won by Sam Foster, for the second year running. In the hotly contested senior school event Barret Oliver and Alex McMillan were beaten into the minor places by the eventual winner David Gilmour, whose talent away from the water was evident in his strong finish.

With the boys taking the field for the other team events, each House brought their determination and skill for the challenge of working in teams. Wolsey and Noake fought out a tight contest in the speedball with Wolsey emerging as victors. The rugby competition proved to be very close, with Jupp narrowly winning over Hill. Romsey managed a win in the soccer and backed this up with a second in the football from Queenslea. Wolsey rounded out the carnival with a solid win in the cross country from Craigie .

With the day bringing plenty of excitement and hard work, the competition proved to be as hard fought as ever, but, to the dismay of the other Houses, Wolsey took out the day and cemented their place at the top of the Beatty Cup standings.

Senior Prefect – Sport

HOUSE ATHLETICS CARNIVAL

On a warm, sunny late winter's day, the eight Houses congregated at Perry Lakes Stadium for the last time before its demolition next year. With the Beatty Cup still within reach of up to four houses, the day would prove decisive in the race for the coveted House Beatty Cup. With Queenslea the defending champions and comfortable with the tag of favourites, the other houses were out to spoil their chances of back-to-back Akos Kovacs Shield wins.

The first events of the day, the hurdles, always provide the crowd with early entertainment as falls, dramatic falls, are common. However, it was the next event on the schedule, the titanic 3000m, which provided an enthralling spectacle. With the likes of Peters, O'Shea, Helsby and Maeder in the field, the event was destined to be an epic, yet out of nowhere, Sports Prefect Adam Froese stole the spotlight, beating his fancied opponents to take the event.

As the day moved on, records were broken and names went down in history. Sam Foster from Year 9 and Ben Robinson in Year 8 claimed records in the 90m hurdles and 1500m respectively. Both boys took out their individual age groups as well, with Ben claiming the shot put and discus along with his hurdles record. Sam won every event he put his spikes on for, increasing his reputation as the Christ Church Athletics machine. In the U-16s, Patrick Dyer reclaimed his Champion Boy position with victories in the 100m, 200m and Triple Jump, whilst in the U-17s Lucas Fisher made a clean sweep of his events with victories in the 100m, 200m, 110m Hurdles and Triple Jump.

The most hotly contested division was the Open Division. Adam Froese had stiff competition with the likes of Jeff Bonnick, Luke Davies, the Smart Brothers and the odd roughie but was able to hold off the others, taking the Jennings Cup by one point over Luke Davies who in turn beat Michael Smart by one point.

The biggest event of the day was the final one, the Open 4x100m relay. It was not a battle of Houses, more a battle of House v Record. The time of 45.6 seconds was the time to beat and it seemed destined to be broken. It was however not to be with the Dream Team falling short by 0.1 of a second.

The race capped off a great day for Queenslea who retained the Akos Kovacs Shield, beating second place Wolsey by 104 points.

CRAIGIE HOUSE

2008 was a year of change for the young men of Craigie. The gold snake shed its old skin and adapted to the new leadership of Ian Hardy. This year also saw the addition of a new tutor: Mr Lamb stepped into the position of Helen Oke and his guidance of the boys in his tutorial was invaluable. Mrs Oke did return for a period and it was with a real sense of sadness that we bade her farewell mid-year. Although a dark cloud swirls around the award of the Eagling Cup for academic performance, we do know unequivocally who won the House Shout because we heard it on the grapevine.

The year got off to a great start with the introduction of a promising group of Year 8s, all of whom stepped up to the plate in the inter-house swimming carnival. I know a man ain't supposed to cry, but despite the effort of the boys we were only just able to grasp a top eight finish. This was no surprise as swimming has not been one of our strengths in recent years but we still enjoyed the exciting competition and the brave efforts of Jeremy Dawson, Reddy Pramathanath, Ben Rosenstrich and James McDonald.

Next up was the house arts competition. This involved teams of boys from different years competing against other houses in chess, debating and public speaking. Some might call this our pet event, and it showed with a strong performance in all disciplines, thanks to Lachlan Ormonde, Morgan Palmer, Adam Larbalestier, Elliot Cook and Breffny O'Shea – honey, honey, yeah.

This year the summer and winter sports carnivals were combined to form one epic day of sports. Again we proved that sport was not our forte, however the day was enjoyed greatly by all involved. The House Mural squad was ably directed by Eugene Yang and our effort reflected a gentle humour.

Our House Shout team got off to a frantic and slightly disorganised start. However under the guidance of Mark Harrison the boys were able to belt out Marvin Gaye's "I heard it through the grapevine" with great aplomb. The Craigie men managed to pull off a fantastic win and special mention must be made of our trio of Year 8 soloists.

It can be said that many of the boys were suffering from Olympics fever when the inter-house athletics competition came around. We performed strongly and again our level of participation was unrivalled. Unfortunately the effort wasn't enough to come away with a win. Special mention must be made of Ben Robinson, who was awarded champion boy in the under-13 age group.

As it has been for many years we did not judge our level of success on scores or results, but instead on the level of participation which, as always, was unparalleled. Special thanks must go to our dedicated team of hard-working tutors and Ian Hardy. Congratulations to James Carpenter, Morgan Palmer and Matt King who were all presented with Craigie trophies for their service, contributions and character.

HILL HOUSE

2008 was another successful year for the Hill "family". Once again the raging orange bull struck and we finished as champion Academic house, winning the Eagling Cup for the second year running. Our debaters, led by prominent school debater and House Prefect Leon Zhang, managed to win the Inter-House tournament whilst our Public Speakers, led by House Vice-Captain Peter Davis, managed to pull off a very commendable second place.

The Inter-House Swimming Carnival was the first event on the Christ Church Inter-House calendar, and with new leadership from Peter 'that's a pathetic excuse' Thorne, Hill House was sure to stand out as a strong contender for the swimming title. After strong performances throughout all age groups, the boys from Hill managed to pull off a third placing, the best finish for the house in the last decade. Special mention must go to Tom England, James Raymond, Zac Vinten, Tom Van Beem, Ollie Marshall and Ben Swallow, who all swam very strongly on the night.

Next up was the House Arts competition, in which Hill has traditionally been strong. As usual, our debating team finished first with Leon Zhang and Patrick Mackenzie contributing well. Public Speaking placed highly with consistent performances from all involved. Hill's success continued at the Athletics. With disappointing results from the previous year (finishing last), the boys from Hill could only go up, and up we went. After strong performances from Tom England, Ben Power, Julian Chung and Luke Davies, the boys from Hill climbed up the athletics results table to an improved seventh. At this rate the Hill community should be looking to celebrate success in 2014. Well done, boys!

It is important to note that the success of the House is not measured solely by its Beatty cup placing. Are the boys happy? Is there a strong camaraderie encouraged by the leaders of the house, within the House, for the House? Is the house a friendly home, a friendly 'place'? The answers to these questions are a resounding yes, yes and yes!

Special thanks must go to Mr Matson, our Assistant Head of House for 2008, for his excellent work. To the tutors of Hill House, on behalf of the graduating Year 12 body I extend a very big thank you. Lastly, to our 2008 Head of House, the man who ran the show – Mr Thorne. The time and effort he put in with every single boy within the house was phenomenal, and for this, we thank him! Finally, I would like to thank my prefect team, the Year 12 group and all members of Hill House. It is YOU who create the atmosphere that makes this particular House so special, and I wish all of you the very best for the future.

JUPP HOUSE

From the first day of school, change was evident in Jupp. We had a new Head of House, Mr Downing - codename: D-unit - stepping up to the plate, ready to make his mark; new tutors, Mrs Slater, Mrs Reberger, Mr Phillips and Mr Turner and, finally, we even had new students, in the form of Year 8s. So, the Jupp year began, with its usual forgotten locker key and false teeth shenanigans. Even so, we were armed and ready to hit the first event of the Beatty Cup calendar, the awkwardly revealing, Swimming Carnival. The extraordinary performance of the whole House in the preliminary stages of the night opened up a renewed vigour in the lungs of the Jocular Juppian Cheer Squad. The outstanding swimming of our Year 8 recruit, Tom Cunningham, saw him receive the award for Under 13 age group champion. Ultimately, the strong effort put in by every boy in the House did not go as well as planned. Despite only placing sixth, the determination of the boys did not lessen.

Next was the long and extremely demanding marathon-like House Arts competition. Our chess, public speaking and debating teams were ably led by Will Blake and Anthony Huynh, Will MacDonald and Matt Huffer. Special mention must go to the chess team, which, up until the grand final was sitting in first position. The same disappointment occurred for the debating team, finishing a disappointing second, after a difficult final. The fruitless season of the public speakers was not deserved, with dodgy adjudicators clearly to blame.

The House regrouped under the fearless leadership of Mr Downing. We regained our morale and managed to organise our teams for the House Teams Carnival. The touch team was clearly too classy as its strength, stamina and skills placed it in a fantastically flawless first. The cross-country teams ran like they were on fire. David Gilmour led from the front and won the whole event, paving the way for the rest of the team, with Jupp filling three out of the top eight spots. Well done, chaps. Less than great performances in football (the round ball), AFL and speedball, saw the House thoroughly underperform, finishing equal sixth.

Following this was the House Athletics Carnival, being the final event for many Year 12s. Seasoned athletics veterans Nick Maeder and Jeff Bonnick showed great strength throughout the day, performing well under the sweltering pressure that this, in the words of Jon Turner, "world-class event," produces. However, singling out individual performances is denying the truth of the event. Jupp, on aggregate, performed in a sublime fashion. It truly is a pity that all seven other houses were able to do that little bit better on the day.

Behind the scenes, throughout the entirety of Term 3, Will MacDonald along with a few others worked tirelessly, producing a piece of art for the House Mural competition. The team finished a pleasing equal third.

Finishing the House Arts competition and also the Beatty chalice competition was the House Shout. Training was long and arduous, under the guidance of Mr Downing and on the odd occasion renowned conductor Jon Turner. As a result, many went down with stress fractures to the trachea and tonsillitis. However, in true Jupp form, someone stepped up. Alex Ure showed that it is possible for men to sing up as high as the whistle register. The effort of the House was admirable, with over 50 participants in the group. We finished equal seventh.

2008 was, surprisingly, another year where the Cup of Beatty eluded us. Whilst the wooden spoon is at least a tangible award for our efforts, it is by no means desired. The House has, however, shown extremely positive signs and this comes as a culmination of not only Mr Downing's long hours, but also the efforts of the tutors, the House Prefects and every boy. Being in Jupp House has had incalculable monetary, intellectual and spiritual worth for me, and I'm sure it has had the same importance for most of my fellow year 12s. On that note I would like to thank absolutely everyone for the thoroughly fulfilling experience. I'll leave you with a Kenyan proverb, "A bundle of sticks is unbreakable".

MOYES HOUSE

The first house activity of the year was the Moyes House Sundowner held in the Prep School Staff room overlooking the school ovals, on a stunning autumn day. House Prefects, our legendary Moyes Staff unit and the Moyes parents' fraternity attended the event. The boys enjoyed the event nearly as much as the parents: we all enjoyed seeing staff outside the classroom and mingling with the folks of the Moyes boys.

Next up on the house agenda was the swim carnival, with the team supported well by the very vocal Louis LeMessurier and Rensen Liu. Despite a few clowns arriving to swim in full length Skins, (we love you Mashie) the night was looking promising with a few in-house water babies like Michael Palleros, the Basson twins, Alex Woodman and Huw Flatau Harrison. Promising it was, as for much of the night we held our place in second with consistent top three finishes. However, the last hour saw us drop three places to finish in fifth place overall.

Nevertheless, the boys carried their fighting spirit on into the house arts competition. As always, our chess volunteers outnumbered both public speaking and debating combined. Cultural prefect Josh Helsby skippered the debating team as they sailed into the first few rounds, pushing some very strong points and engaging in both heated and very humorous debates. Michael France also played a big role in the team and took the helm as the Year 12s went into midyear exams. Our first and only victory of the year went to our public speakers who really did dominate the event this year. The combination of great management by prefects Lloyd and Didcoe and the immense talent of the team was deserving of nothing less than a win. Jeremy Rogers and the Williams brothers played a consistent role in sealing the deal for Moyes.

As we began the second semester, there were high expectations among the Moyes soccer boys going into the winter sports season, having claimed a victory in last year's winter house carnival. Due to a few not so sweet rule changes in the soccer regulations our team battled to adapt to the indoor style of play and this let us down, resulting in a third place for soccer. Overall, another midrange finish in the winter carnival was the result.

Athletics started off well with no rain and track conditions prime for pushing the limits. A mention must go to Gus Mickle for his all round support and effort on the day and to all other Moyes marshals who made sure few if any of the boys missed their gun. Events like these have a very different feeling and meaning when you are doing them for the last time and I am sure for many of us Year 12s there was an inkling of sadness as the last relays were run.

Motown legends like Marvin Gaye, The Temptations, Aretha Franklin and Diana Ross were brought to life in the house shout this year. Our in-house muso Vaughn Beaver took the reins as conductor and mad Motown fan Tim Lloyd worked as Quality Control. This event really brought out the soul in a few of our boys like Trevor Lee, Kangdi Peng and most of all Shyam Narayan, as they revealed their inner voice to "Money, That's What I Want". Mr Harris attempted to get the boys into some actions and groove to the beat of the 60s, but after much effort the boys were not into boogying and swinging and went for the more modern mosh pit style dancing. The lead-up to the event was a bumpy ride with many clashes popping up during scheduled rehearsal times. Final Thursday seemed to arrive so quickly and on the day we knew we were in trouble after Ms Crawford's first grade choirboys gave a performance not far from the standard of the "The Temptations". The Moyes boys decided that we don't have the quality and so went with quantity and got most of the house on stage and gave the judges something to shout about.

Many thanks must go to all the staff of Moyes and especially Mr Harris for their support, organization and leadership throughout the year. It is a sad time for the Year 12s as we say our farewells and we will all miss the life that Moyes and Christ Church provided for us. The relationships I formed with boys like the infamous Shyam Narayan, Tim Lloyd, Mack Daddy Kangdi Peng and many others have made life at school so much more fun and at times interesting.

NOAKE HOUSE

2007 was a most successful year for Noake. We finished first overall and captured the illustrious, yet elusive, Beatty Cup for the first time in our history. This set up extremely high expectations for 2008. With a dedicated prefect group, strong cohort of boys, and the powerful combination of Ms Crawford and Mr Farmer, back-to-back titles were a definite possibility. Unfortunately the House let the Cup slip back into the hands of Wolsey. Results aside, the year brought its triumphs and enjoyment.

In recent years swimming has been Noake's shining light, with a top two finish being an expected position. This year proved to be a challenge because the House had lost many star swimmers at the end of the previous year, but because the depth of the House was strong, another good performance was expected. The boys pulled through, narrowly missing out on top position and finishing a very respectable second. Congratulations must go to Alex Mitchell, James Moorman and Richard O'Halloran who all displayed exceptional performances, topping off a well-deserved result for the House.

In the House Sport Carnival the boys managed confident results with a second place in handball and fifth place in football. Cross country, soccer and ruby saw the house struggle with two sixth places and a fifth, leaving the House with an overall position of sixth. While not the result we were hoping for, participation and camaraderie were high.

Noake House has previously performed well in the House Arts Competition competition, especially in the debating arena. This year, however saw us struggle. On a more positive note, the House fundraiser for 2008 consisted of the collection of medical equipment for the Pilgrimage of Hope, to help those who needed such basic items as antiseptic cream and vitamins. These bags were taken to India by the CCGS boys, who went on the pilgrimage in the third term holidays. The House worked extremely hard on this project and collected many medical kits.

With the season rapidly disappearing, Noake looked to the House Shout and Athletics carnival to finish the year on a high. There were many morning rehearsals of Motown's "Stop in the Name of Love" under the direction of Ms Crawford. After a first place finish last year, expectations were again high for 2008. The extensive practice and stunning musical talent in the House paid off, as the boys managed a very respectable second place.

Following this exceptional result, the House faced the Athletics carnival, arguably the biggest event on the Beatty Cup calendar, and with our second place finish in 2007 the boys expected another high placing. Unfortunately this was not to be.

Many thanks must go to Ms Crawford, Head of House, and Mr Farmer, Assistant Head of House, whose tireless efforts and boundless energy helped to make all achievements possible. Thanks must also go to the Noake tutors for all their support throughout the year. Unfortunately we couldn't win back-to-back Beatty cups, but I would like to acknowledge and thank all the boys for their efforts throughout 2008.

QUEENSLEA HOUSE

This year once again saw Queenslea regularly place among the top houses in each facet of competition for the cup. Around the time that the Year 11s were still frantically changing subjects and the Year 8s had just discovered the nearest block of toilets, the House Swimming Carnival was held and Queenslea swam its way to third place. Congratulations must also go to all the boys who swam on the night, particularly the outstanding performances from Andrew Ford, George Ford, Lucas Fisher and Josh Tan.

Queenslea has traditionally been a more physical House and has struggled in the cultural domain. Despite the efforts of the Prefects and Mr Gibson in organizing the teams for Chess, Debating and Public Speaking in the House Arts Competition and coming up with interesting and dynamic combinations, Queenslea once again found it hard to compete with the other Houses. Special mention must go to Joel Stein for organizing the Chess Team and also to Andrew Sutherland and Charlie Peter who organised the Public Speaking.

In 2008 the Summer and Winter Sports Carnivals were rolled into one event. We finished a very respectable second overall, while the Senior School Football team won the "unwinnable" Grand Final against a Romsey team stacked with firsts players. The Cross Country race saw the boys excel. Congratulations must go to Charlie Peter, who finished second in the Senior School race, and to James Knox and Gideon Forward, who ran strongly in the Middle School race.

Next came the third Annual House Shout Competition. This year the theme was Motown and Queenslea was dealt the infectiously catchy "Dancin' in the Streets" as our song. Despite the obvious reservations some boys felt about performing in public, most boys got into the swing of it and on the day the House finished a well-deserved fourth place. Many thanks must go to Dr Rose, Mr McPartland and especially Ms Harris for orchestrating the rehearsals.

The House Athletics trophy has become such a fixture in the Queenslea trophy cabinet that most boys can't remember the last time we didn't win it! In a house boasting the likes of Siyang Zhang, Sam Hall, Andrew Ford, Jerome Scaffidi, Gideon Forward, George Ford, Lucas Fisher, Charlie Peter, Sam Fong, Joel Stein and the unbeatable Smart brothers Sam and Michael, Queenslea House cruised to victory. An undoubted highlight was the Open 4x100m relay team in which we came first by roughly 70m and missed out on the school record by only 0.1 seconds, a truly awe-inspiring performance. Congratulations to Lucas Fisher who was Year 11 Champion Boy and also to Michael Smart who won the Sprinter's Cup for winning the 100m and 200m.

The year also saw consistent fundraising by the Queenslea boys which resulted in a donation of over $5000 to the Make a Wish Foundation.

At the end of the year Queenslea was able to finish a very respectable third in the Beatty Cup, despite the failure to submit the House Mural and the subsequent loss of points. I am sure that with a concerted effort from all boys the 2009 Beatty Cup will be Queenslea's for the taking.

Special thanks must go to Mr Gibson who initially stepped in for Mrs Megan Pentony and carried out his role without fault. Mr Gibson was responsible for the fundraising initiatives this year and was incredibly proactive in organizing those activities. Mr Gibson was also able to initiate the Queenslea Quiz, which was distributed to the Tutorials each Friday and provided the boys with some fun competition between the Tutes. I know I speak for all the boys when I say that we appreciate the efforts of the Queenslea tutors. Thanks must also go to my Vice-Captain Jake Ransom and the team of House Prefects. I'd also like to thank all the boys in Queenslea House whose efforts, participation and enthusiasm in all House activities this year set the benchmark high for years to come.

ROMSEY HOUSE

In 2008, it has been great to see how Romsey boys and tutors have come together to pull off a superb effort in the Beatty Cup, undoubtedly our best performance for many years. The atmosphere of the Swimming Carnival was filled with apprehension and excitement. Although not traditionally our forte, the boys were able to show some serious commitment and house spirit, enabling us to finish seventh.

Roll on House Arts! We were given an opportunity to capitalise on our swimming efforts, and it was great to see the high level of participation shown by everyone. I would like to thank all the older boys who provided guidance for the younger students. The efforts of boys like Vibhu Manchanda, Will Turner and Denver Stove enabled us to perform creditably. The House Shout event gave us a valuable chance to secure our strong placing. After seeing all the other houses put on their lacklustre displays the Romsey boys sauntered up to show them how it was done. The magnificent efforts of the lads, coupled with pro tambourine player Alex Popoff-Asotoff, gave us a well deserved third. Next the arts boys amongst us got together to create what would be a fantastic House Mural. It was no surprise to see it pull off first place, and it will definitely look more at home than the Romsey Optimus Prime mural. This great triumph owes much to boys like Rob Purdew and Jasper Harding providing leadership and inspiration. Once again, Romsey was able to lead the field in the House Arts, giving us many memorable memories, and a handy springboard. At the Sports Carnival, our pride and dominance shone through at the end of the day, with touch rugby, soccer, handball and footy all providing stiff opposition to the other houses, giving us a second placing overall.

Shortly afterwards the House Athletics carnival awaited us. The boys were eager to get stuck into the events, with the confidence that it was one of our strong points of the Beatty Cup. After having a few panic attacks about the placings throughout the day we found ourselves with only the relays left. Although having slightly mixed results we were able to lift and managed to secure third place overall. The efforts of "Quick Feet" Patrick Dyer and the many relay teams was instrumental in achieving this.

I'm sure our second year of involvement with the Peter Moyes Centre was much appreciated by all the PMC students, especially our Romsey boys Michael Tobin and Tom Stone. We appreciated the chance to get to know them. Many contributed to our fundraising cause, the Children's Leukemia & Cancer Research Foundation. We were able to raise almost $2200, which will no doubt be of assistance. This was thanks to the efforts of our vice-captain Tim Stone and prefect Nick Blackiston.

I'd finally like to thank our House Tutors and Head of House, Mr Barbour, who have kept up with the many busy tasks that come with being a part of the Romsey community.

Everyone chipped in to lift us to a second placing overall in the Beatty Cup, by far the best result in a long time. Every boy should be extremely proud of his own contribution, and to be in such a great house as Romsey. I hope you will all have just as great a school life as I have had. And remember, "Semper Excelsior"!

WOLSEY HOUSE – CHAMPION HOUSE

After Wolsey's near miss last year, the Beatty Cup was at the forefront of every Wolsey man's mind. With a stronger and wiser team, aided by the arrival of Mr Peterson as a tutor, we were looking sharp for the year ahead.

The House Swimming Carnival was the opening event on the calendar. Going into the relays with a strong and convincing lead set the house up for its first place victory on the night. Special mentions go to Jake Smith-Wright (U/15 age champion), Sam Foster (U/14 age champion), Lachie Wynne, David Cullingford and the cheer squad led by a group of Year 12s.

With such a great start to the year, the men of Wolsey were intent on backing up their performance in the House Arts Competition. Wolsey has previously been a dominant force in the cultural domain, with this year being no exception. We were placed first in Chess, second in Public Speaking and third in Debating – first place, overall!

The Wolsey motto "Excellence through team work" shone through at the Winter Sports Carnival, where we won the cross-country and speedball, and came a close second in the soccer. These results were a reflection of the depth, team spirit and strength of the Wolsey team.

In the Athletics Carnival, Sam Foster excelled in the middle distance running and we were happy to finish in close second place to Queenslea House. Everyone gave 100% on the day and should be proud of their efforts.

After such a competitive year, Wolsey won the Beatty Cup, obtaining 31 points out of a possible 32. The goal for the year was complete. Every individual must be congratulated for their efforts throughout the year. The Wolsey boys worked closely together to achieve success.

I would like to thank the tutors – Mr Haskett, Ms Reid, Mr Dwyer, Mr Harnwell, Mr Peterson, Mr Watson and Mr Chandler, along with our leader Mr Saggars, for providing support in such a great year. Best of luck to Wolsey boys in the year ahead, and thank you from the Year 12s for helping to make our final year such a great one.

WALTERS BOARDING HOUSE

The Walters Residential Community had a wonderful year. We had a great mix of boarders from all over the world and a warm and supportive, caring, yet fun environment to make up for living away from home. Despite a wide range of backgrounds and ages it was really great how all seemed to get along so well.

Some of the recreational activities that we participated in were socials, barbeques, residential dinners and swaps, rugby and football matches, paintballing, river cruises, and movie nights. We even had our own version of the 'The Great Amazing Fremantle' Race with the Knutsford boys with map, camera and questions in hand, competing in teams of three as they discovered Fremantle in their own race against time.

Residential dinners are held four times a year, with boys from their house sitting at a central table with their House Captain, Head of House and other tutors. Each boy then has to stand up and deliver a one-minute speech about themselves. This was a perfect forum for us to get to know all of the boys in the boarding community, and all were keen to hear what the next boy had to say.

The Amanda Young Foundation visits the boarding community to educate us on the dangers of meningococcal infection and the need for special care here, especially with the use of our own water bottles. Jeremy Hill, a renowned local naturopath, spoke about the need to maintain healthy eating through a balanced diet, and gave us some special tips about how we can apply this through our own choices. We even had a magician who had some fun with us all during one chapel assembly. Jon Doust, old boy comedian, speaker and writer, spoke to both Christ Church and MLC girls about his forthcoming novel for children about a young man in boarding.

Many thanks to the Health Centre Joanna Simpson, Mrs Giudice, Mrs Tuckett and Mrs Silberstein for keeping us healthy.

Mr Foster encouraged the Year 8s and 9s to get out and active on the oval and also to get involved in local sporting clubs. This was very successful and we had busy, fit boys who were doing really well on the local club level. Another extended initiative was the development of Year 11s as Peer Leaders who resided down at Knutsford for a term, which enabled the younger boys to form some very real friendships with the older boys. Similarly, the Year 12s assisted each weekday evening to get the boys ready for bed.

The New River Recreation Room down in Knutsford, which opened in Term 4 for all the Knutsford boys, has been a welcome addition to their space and a huge success.

Karen Watson introduced Power Learning to the Year 12 students, and we were taught methods to improve the efficiency of our study leading up to the exam period.

I would like to thank all of the boarding staff for their help and guidance over the past year, in particular the Director of the Walters Residential Community, Mr Shane McGurk; the Year Group Coordinators: Mr Foster, Mr Bourne and Mr Turkich; housemothers Mrs O'Hare and Mrs Dodds; Residential Assistants, Colin and his catering staff Josh, Chino, Christina, Doris and Sue and many thanks to the cleaning staff. Thanks must also go to Canon Frank Sheehan for all his help during the chapel services.

Finally, a genuine and appreciative thank you to all the Residential Prefects of 2008 for all of your support: Dylan Corker, Felix Clarke, Alistair Hall, Bruce Smith-Wright, Jonathan Lau, Irwan Suharto, Paul Douglass and Vice Captains Nick Michael and Jonathan Lim. You made my job much easier and a lot of fun.

SPORTS

ATHLETICS

The CCGS Athletic season started with some intensive morning training sessions to help the boys switch focus from their winter sport to the fast paced athletic season.

This year saw the inauguration of the CCGS Gift, a handicapped 90m sprint race similar to the Australia Post Stawell Gift. The race involved the fastest two boys from each year level. The back markers were the likes of Year 11 Lucas Fisher and Year 12 brothers Michael and Sam Smart. The eventual winner was Year 9 Ruairidh Williamson with a close second going to Year 8 Siyang Zhang. The fantastic atmosphere on the school oval as the boys buzzed down the track with cheering spectators on either side set the scene for an exciting couple of weeks.

The Ray House Run was again a hotly contested event between the boys from their perspective houses. The race takes in all aspects of the school with the boys racing around the school over a distance of approximately 800 metres. Congratulations go to the following winners:

- Year 8 Andrew Ford – Queenslea
- Year 9 Sam Foster – Wolsey
- Year 10 Julian Chung – Hill
- Year 11 Peter Schurman – Jupp
- Year 12 Nick Maeder – Jupp

The Quadrangular athletics carnival held at Perry Lakes unearthed some exciting talent. Ben Robinson from Year 8 ran extremely well in the 90m Hurdles and then threw the discus a mile winning first division. Another Year 8, Siyang Zhang, was impressive finishing a close second in the 100m and 200m races. Other top performers were Jeff Bonnick and Michael Smart in the 200m, along with Year 11 boys Matt Rawlinson and Lucas Fisher in the 100m. The standout relay team of the day was the Year 11 4x100m team, consisting of Matt Rawlinson, Nick Maschmedt, Denver Stove and Lucas Fisher, which finished a clear first. Well done to all boys that competed for Christ Church on the day as it was a fantastic event and the boys all left feeling happy with their effort and looking forward to the PSA Inters the following week.

The PSA Inters was a tough day for the Christ Church team. While our effort and school spirit was outstanding our boys struggled to match it with the boys from some of the more athletic focused schools in the PSA. Special mention must go to the following boys: Year 8 Best Team Man Andrew Ford for his terrific work ethic at training and Siyang Zhang was the best performer on the day with a 1st in Div 2 200m and a 2nd in Div 1 100m. Year 9 Best team man was Nick Harris for a gutsy run in the 4x400m relay where he clawed back a number of places. The best performance on the day for Year 9 and probably the whole school was Sam Foster finishing 4th in the 800m and then 1st in his pet event the Div 1 1500m, Well Done Sam! Will Crohan won the Best Team man for Year 10 for displaying an outstanding attitude and determination for running. Patrick Dyer was the best performer for the year group finishing 3rd in the Div 1 100m and anchoring the 4x100m relay that finished 3rd. Frank Ansey displayed terrific leadership amongst his peers and was a catalyst for the fantastic team spirit shown. The best performer for Year 11 was Lucas Fisher. He had a very busy day finishing 3rd in the Triple Jump and Hurdles and then 4th in the 100m. The Year 11 age group was our strongest across the board and this award could have been won by Jon Parry, Denver Stove, Matt Rawlinson, Nick Maschmedt or Frank Ansey. I would like to thank all the senior boys because I understand it is an extra large commitment for them as they were studying for their upcoming examinations. Charlie Peter's leadership and enthusiasm at training was first class and Luke Davies was an easy selection for Best performer on the day as he came 4th in the High Jump, ran in a relay that placed 3rd and was 1cm of winning the Open Long Jump. A fantastic all round performance.

I would like to thank Tim Maguire, Charlie Peter, Sam Smart and Michael Smart for their leadership throughout the short but intense season. Lastly I would like to thank the staff Mr Lynch, Mr McPartland, Mr Dwyer, Mr Miles, Mr Downing, Mr Armstrong and the outside coaches for their assistance throughout the season. The athletics squad does not just come together, it is through these men and the terrific attitude of our boys that we can continue to improve the athletic culture at Christ Church.

BADMINTON

The first and second badminton teams were made up of both Year 11 and Year 12 students. Many of the previous year's players had graduated and we lost quite a number of strong players as a result.

Our Second VI team performed better than our First VI, winning a total of 7 out of 10 matches. The First VI knew it would be difficult but tried very hard each Saturday, impressing the very strong opposition.

The boys are to be congratulated on their enthusiasm and professionalism. This year, in the Second VI, Heem Teo won the Coach's Award and Shishir Prajapati was recognized as Best Player; in the First VI, the Coach's Award went to Daren Tan, Brandon Kueh was awarded Best Player and Chun Tan was the Most Consistent Player.

2008's Winter Season kicked off with a rough start for most sports, and senior Cross Country was no exception. The season began on home turf against the reigning PSA champion, Trinity. This did little to boost morale. Unfortunately further defeats followed, with a string of Christ Church losses gaining continuing unbroken until the fixture against Guildford in the latter part of the term.

Yet these losses did little to reflect the individual talents of Christ Church Cross Country runners. Admittedly, the top end of the team suffered from the departure of a talented Year 12 cohort from last season, requiring the elite three, Vice Captains and strong performers, Joel Starke and Nick Maeder, along with Captain, Josh Helsby, to step up and fill the power vacuum. Nonetheless a strong middle ground remained. Vibhu Manchanda, Will Adamson and transfer Michael Williams surprised all with consistently strong performances over the entire season that reflected these boys' commitment to training in and out of school.

Overall, the team suffered not from lack of quality, but lack of quantity. This gave our opposition more opportunity to take the leading positions in our one on one fixtures. Despite these defeats, the squad maintained good morale, and trained both supportively and effectively.

Christ Church was finally rewarded with a spectacular victory over Guildford on their home ground. Matched by a team of equal size, the pressure was on, and the boys, no doubt inspired by the scenic and rural, if somewhat hazardous, Guildford course, came home to victory, taking all four points. None were left to Guildford. Christ Church was now sixth on the ladder.

Over the course of the fixtures, the boys worked hard to maintain their ladder position, out of Guildford's eager reach. Beginning with the washed out five man by three kilometre relay at Scotch, the boys were forced to adjust to shorter distances, a faster pace, and a widely spread competition. However the nature of the relays allowed the spent runners to offer support at key positions along the race track. The enthusiasm carried away some, who (unwittingly) paced their runners home against PSA rules. Trinity's six kilometre course was a memorable one for this year's line up, and pushed the endurance of all runners as they completed a circumnavigation of the foreshore on both sides of the Swan River, between the Causeway and Graham Farmer Freeway. Of the whole competition, this fixture was easily the most gruelling. Teams of three runners were each required to run a 30+ minute leg each in turn, making for a long morning. It was not uncommon for runners at all stages to lose sight of the competition both in front and behind.

The heightened intensity of these early 'all school' competitions raised the stakes in preparation for the PSA Cross Country's Holy Grail, the eight kilometre All Man's Race. Aquinas's rough, all terrain course played host this year, and challenged all runners with much soft earth, up and down hill, and a scorching distance. Psyched and ready, with the Old Boys' Association Trophy in the offering, the Christ Church squad put in their all, and were happily rewarded. Our runners finished largely close together in the upper echelons of the middle pack. Year 11 James Hockings helped lift the scores over our Hale and Guildford rivals to finish a happy fifth on the day. Nick Maeder led the boys across the line, and contributed to what was an outstanding Christ Church performance that was a credit to every boy involved, and a testimony to their dedicated training and marvellous spirit.

Over the course of the season all boys made significant contribution to the Cross Country Team, from the determination of Ethan Jones, who ran consistently and at his hardest all season, or Christen Litten's unique ability to always win the warm up. The year ended with our regular windup, at which Vibhu Manchanda, Will Adamson and Josh Helsby were recognised as the individual points winners for their cohorts. Other awards went to Cameron Yuen, Ethan Jones and Joel Starke.

Thanks must go to Dr Bonner for his leadership this season. His relaxed but supportive approach to training allowed for strong squad cohesion, and allowed all runners to train for their personal best. The 2008 Cross Country Season has undoubtedly produced some talented athletes who will go on to represent the School in next year's line-up and middle distance events in the PSA Athletics Competition.

FIRST V BASKETBALL

First V

The First Basketball team had a mixed season with three very good wins and three disappointing losses.

The first match of the year was against traditional rivals Scotch College. As always this was a very competitive and exciting encounter with the lead changing numerous times. Showing great character and well led by captain Sam Fong, Christ Church steadied in the final minutes to win by 7 points.

We went to Wesley College buoyed by our good form and confident of a win. Unfortunately, we played poorly and gave Wesley too many opportunities. This was a disappointing loss. Third game was against the strong Trinity College who were favourites to win the PSA title. The game was a tough assignment for Christ Church, with Trinity out-rebounding and out-running us to record an easy win.

Our confidence had been dented when we went to play Hale School, but we played ourselves back into form. From the start of the game we threw everything at Hale and it was a great game. Although we lost 77 to 69 it was a much-improved performance. Hale went on to win the Blackwood Cup and this was their toughest game. With renewed enthusiasm we finished the season well, firstly beating Aquinas and then accounting for Guildford.

Overall it was a successful season with all players training hard and improving their skills. Congratulations to Sam Fong, Ryan Fitzpatrick and Matt Rawlinson who led the team well and were the major award winners at the end of the season.

Geoff McPherson, Coach

Seconds

The Second V had a very strong season, recording only one narrow defeat against eventual winners Scotch. We had two special highlights from the season, firstly our exciting 'come from behind' victory against a highly favoured Trinity side, with outstanding individual efforts from Douglas Morgan, Frank Ansey and James Kandiah. Later in the season as we grew in confidence, we started to play a full court press, which proved very effective against opponents, especially Hale School, where the boys played defence with such tenacity they took full advantage of many easy scoring opportunities and at half time led 45 points to 3.

Particular mention must be made of the two departing Year 12s, William Blake and David Eng, who both produced fine performances during the season. Fortunately the remaining eight players on the roster are all talented and athletic Year 11s. Thanks must go to Mr Kalebich and his meticulous organisational skills during home games; his encouragement of the boys was also most appreciated.

Jack Leeder, Coach

The 10A squad had another tremendous season, finishing with a 5-1 record. The boys were very disappointed to lose the first game to Scotch, but bounced back in style, winning the next five games. MVP for the season was Angus Vaughan, whose season highlight was a buzzer-beating 3 pointer to win the game against Wesley. Andrew Silberstein took out the Coach's Award for his great attitude and vast improvement. With Jim Hall in the USA, the squad welcomed Cedric Taylor, who was an exciting player and will be a force in future.

Brad Downing, Coach

The 10B Basketball team was indomitable in Term 1 2008. Undefeated throughout the season, each player proved himself a committed individual and team player. The team's most impressive performance was against Hale, who handed us our only loss in two seasons, back in Term 4 of 2007. In the 2008 rematch, after skipping away to an early lead, Hale whittled the margin back to six points. The CCGS boys stepped back onto the accelerator in the second half to win by a comfortable twenty points.

A core of solid performances by Billy Carew-Reid, Cameron Kenny and Albie Hunter was invaluable throughout the season. The Best and Fairest medallion was awarded to Weiwen Weng and the Coach's Award for most improved player went to Andrew Popovic for his steady improvement and commitment in each game.

James Matson, Coach

The first term of 2008 was a good one for the 10Cs, with more wins than losses and several exciting games decided by only one or two points. We jumped to a good start to our season with three straight wins. After a convincing win over old rivals Scotch, we were all excited about the prospects for the rest of our season and we were not disappointed. The 10C team certainly shows much promise for the future.

Ben McAllister, Player

The boys started the season strongly, defeating their neighbourhood rivals Scotch in a nail-biting 1 point victory, but the next two away games were both defeats. It was good to play at Christ Church gym again with the hope of getting a win against Hale. The boys played awesomely, clearly their best game of the season, and were winning by 1 point with 6 seconds left. But alas, the opposition scored a buzzer beater and Christ Church had to accept an excruciatingly painful loss, then lost again at home to Aquinas College. For the final game of the season against Guilford Grammar, they played a solid game and won easily. Tim Rose was our Most Valuable Player and was the highest scorer for the 9A squad; David Davies won the Best and Fairest award and Matt Smith the Coach's Award.

Kian Kuchak, Coach

2008 was a great success for the boys in the 9Bs basketball team. After limited success in the past, the players were able to improve their ability and this resulted in winning 5 out of 6 games. The boys really enjoyed the season and made good progress. Special mention must go to Jonathon Dimovitis who won this year's Fairest and Best Award and Tom Goodbourn who won the Coach's Award. Others to impress included Peter Milsom, James Doherty, Andres Pfeifle, Logan Green and Sam Stopforth.

David Bourne, Coach

9C

The 9C team had a very successful season finishing with five wins and one loss. A very strong spirit was evident with each player working hard for the group on the court. There were several excellent performances through the year, including some victories by over 30 points. With a solid effort all year, James Hammond took out the MVP for the season after some fine big man performances. John Morillo-Villaruel took out the Coach's Award for his determined efforts throughout the year, especially his stirring efforts in defense. Well done to all boys for a great effort.

Gareth Phillips, Coach

The mighty 8A Basketball boys were not particularly tall or athletic, but they were enthusiastic and keen to learn. They finished with an impressive 4-2 win loss record which came on the back of the speed attack, fantastic defensive pressure and solid blocking out and rebounding. Throughout the season we worked on the 1-2-2 trap, man on man defense, our 1-4 and "fist" offences, some inbound plays and our fast breaks. Most Valuable Player was Laurence Hutt, and Louis LeMessurier received the Coach's Award for his enthusiasm and impressive fitness and his will to win.

Antony Kalebich, Coach

The 'Killer Bs' had a good season with a 3-3 win loss ratio. Beating local rivals Scotch by 22 points was a highlight and a 1 point loss to Trinity had enough excitement in it to last the whole year. Trinity was very relieved to get away with the win. Performances were mixed with losses to Hale and Wesley but we decided to call the Trinity game a draw! Congratulations to Sean Carlton-Moyle who was awarded Best Player for his consistent performance and to Derek Chia who received the Coach's Award. The team thoroughly enjoyed the season and thank Mr Hallett for being so patient and tolerant.

Lachlan Hanna, Player

CRICKET

First XI

The cricket season began with the Newson Cup and team success proved elusive, but the confidence the boys required was gained on the Cricket Tour to Sydney, from which the team returned undefeated in its three fixtures. The culmination of these strong results, bowling machine practice at lunchtime, the notorious Hour of Power as well as intense weekly trainings, saw the boys enter the first game of the Darlot Cup brimming with enthusiasm. Mount Claremont was the backdrop for the first game against traditional rivals Scotch. We were bowled out for a disappointing 205 after a brilliant innings from Shyam Narayan and Blake Stove. Scotch rallied with a very technical performance to pass our score comfortably with Harry Cleaver claiming 3/39 as the standout bowler.

Our next game was against the eventual winners of the PSA title, Wesley College. After putting ourselves in a strong position at tea on Friday, we lost late wickets and were eventually bowled out for 217, with strong performances from Shyam Narayan and Jack Champion. The strength of the Wesley side was in their batting and they passed our score. At Trinity we elected to bat first and managed to post a total of 289. This was the debutant game for Year 10 Ashton Turner who stood out with 6/62 and after a great catch from Lachie Wynne and a last gasp wicket from Blake Stove we managed to pull off a well-deserved victory. Hosting Hale, a team in contention for a top two finish, we were confident. Batting first, we scored 285 with Ashton Turner scoring 50, Jack Champion 29 and Nick Blakiston 25. The bowlers then shared the pickings with Ashton Turner claiming 3/37 and Blake Stove 3/54 to claim victory late on Saturday.

Two consecutive victories against strong sides saw us searching for a third as we faced Aquinas at home. Bowling first we got off to a flyer with Lachie Wynne claiming early wickets on his way to taking 4/32 for the innings. Aquinas declared their innings at 9/329. A strong start from the openers with Greg Eskinazi and Tim Lloyd both scoring 27 was followed with 85 and 56 respectively from Shyam Narayan and Jack Champion, and we decided to have a go at the total at the risk of defeat. Our hopes lived on until Reid Turner was dismissed and it was left to the lower order to hold out for the draw. This positive result was achieved through the combined effort of all 11 players, a defining characteristic of this team.

The final game of the season saw us travel to Guilford on a day where we elected to bat first on a lively wicket. Disappointingly, due to inclement weather on the Saturday, this proved to be the end of the season.

Our thanks go to our coach, Mr Haskett, and his assistant Mr Watson. Congratulations to the team on the success attained this season.

Second XI

Although we only had the two victories in the 2007/08 season, the Second XI showed a lot of promise as was highlighted by a great win against Trinity and some fantastic individual efforts. In the bowling, Lachie Macpherson, Matt Hargreaves, Pat Mackenzie, Adam Ellis, and Nick Alexeeff were steady performers, while James Harford was our best batsman. Openers Will Hodge and Andrew Grant ably supported James together with Ryan Simpson's gritty batting at number 3. There were also useful contributions from all rounders Andrew Fordham and Henry Burton. At the end of season windup, James Harford claimed the Best Player Award for his batting and keeping efforts, with Tim Maguire receiving the Coach's Award for contributing in all facets of batting, bowling and keeping wickets. Thanks go to Mr Harrison for coaching us.

Lachie Macpherson, Captain

Third XI

The Third XI had a successful season in comparison to our lean run of recent times. We managed to win two matches, lose three and our final game resulted in a draw as a consequence of a wash out. The team was well led by Martin Astbury and capably supported by shrewd tacticians Mack Buck and Michael Clare. Martin Astbury led the way with the bat with the superb average of 63 runs whilst Andrew Prior averaged 29. Luke Evans proved a solid batsman on most occasions. The pick of our bowlers was Gurpreet Singh, with his 4 for 5 against Scotch being one of the season's highlights. In the two games he played for us Nick Alexeeff bowled very well, including 5 for 16 against Trinity. Riley Burkett, Matt Lumsdon, Geoff Hodgson and Mackenzie Buck also produced some very good spells of bowling over the course of the season, and we unearthed a very solid wicketkeeper in Anish Harris.

Simon Hunn, Coach

In our first fixture against Scotch, Obby McDonald took a brilliant four wickets aided by the tight bowling of Vibhushan Manchanda. In the next fixture against Wesley College, Ashton Turner dominated with the bat, scoring 156 with three massive sixes, and Sherhan Sidhu was equally impressive with the ball scoring a brilliant Hat Trick. The next match was against Trinity and saw strong batting from Will Crohan and Peter Keeves. Sebastian Ewing starred with the ball alongside Alex Cowan. Ben Lawrence starred against Hale with a fine 70 while Patrick Dyer bowled a tight spell. Against Aquinas, there were strong bowling performances from Matt Mackay and Ben Wall and solid batting from Brian Henneker and Matt King. Over the season there were many strong performances from Michael 't Hart and James Bai.

Peter Turkich, Coach

The Mighty 10B team was arguably the most successful team in the School Cricket Club this year. Some of the individuals to shine were Peter Keeves, Ben Wall, Brian Henneker and Scott McConnochie. Other players who were solid contributors were James Bai with his sensational swing bowling, Jake Welton, Crispin Irish and Nick Eyres. Tullem McKiever and Liam Monaghan made great contributions and Sammy McGinn was without doubt the best fieldman. All in all a fantastic season, coached superbly by outstanding old boy Mr Kyle Hookey.

Peter Turkich, Manager

The 9As had an enjoyable and successful season with wins coming against Scotch and Wesley and a narrow loss to Guildford. Some of the highlights included Jack Featherby bowling four overs and conceding no runs and the team goal of bowling four consecutive maiden overs being rewarded with cans of Coke. Mark Crawford was also a standout throughout the season with both bat and ball. We all improved, had great fun and thank Mr Greig for coaching us.

Stevie Eskinazi, Captain

The 9B team's cricket season was not the most successful one but there were many highlights that can be drawn from it. David Cowe was very consistent in his run scoring and did a great job behind the stumps. Morgan Emms bowled brilliantly all through the season as did Patrick Gill, which earned him the Most Valuable Player. Congratulations must go to Brian Wong who played very well in his first season of cricket.

Alex Horton, Captain

Despite not managing to register a victory, the 8A boys competed well and enjoyed their cricket. After holding out for a draw against Scotch to start the season, the boys fell just short of the 200 runs required for victory against Wesley. We were then outclassed against an impressive Guildford team in the final fixture. Positive encouragement became a feature as the season progressed and both Ben Hooper (Coach's Award) and James Burnett displayed strong team support at all times. Ben Monro showed a great deal of talent with the bat and gloves, whilst in the final game when things looked grim at 5/28, Jackson Moody (41) played a determined and confident innings to help the team score 138. It was also a pleasure to watch Gautam Gandha (Best Player Award) open the batting and bowl some impressive leg spin in every game. Special thanks must go to Ryan Simpson (Year 11) for his assistance throughout the season.

Jamie Foster, Coach

With a couple of wins, a couple of defeats and an exciting tie, a brief but most enjoyable season was had by all. The emphasis was on giving all boys equal opportunities, with the 20/20 format agreed upon by most opponents ensuring entertaining, exciting games. All boys contributed at various times, with Arjun Jeyadevan, Auni Khan, Fraser Carroll, Kieran 't Hart and Harrison Tyler featuring prominently in most matches. An enthusiastic support crew including Robert Agnew, Jasper Brisbout, Troy De Knock, James Glover, Albert Hondros, James Parker and Liam Strike all enjoyed their moments of success.

The 8C squad was enthusiastic, keen to learn and improve. They were very disciplined, going about their various drills in all skill areas of the game. As far as results go, we lost more than we won, we even drew one game but the excitement and commitment during each game were unsurpassed. Most squad members did improve in some area of the game during the season: a commendable effort.

The first game against Trinity was tough, so in the next match against Wesley we knew that we needed to beat them to get the season going. We went out hard in the first quarter but a poor second half meant that we were down by two goals at half time. We came out firing in the third but in the last Wesley ran all over us to win by eight goals. Scotch was our next opponent and in the end it was a good win in the rain. We went into the Hale game believing that we could win the game even though they had a very good side. But in the end the bigger bodied Hale side jumped all over us and beat us convincingly. Our next game was against the top of the table Aquinas side. On the day we were just out played by a better side. The game that everyone looks forward to playing is Guilford at Guilford but we weren't able to put in a four quarter effort, and as a consequence we lost the game.

Then it was back to the start, playing Trinity again. This game was probably the best win we had ever been a part of at Christ Church. The team was very amped before the game and went into it with nothing to lose. We started off well, leading in the first quarter. Another good quarter saw the side stay on top, going into the half-time break. Trinity clawed their way back into the game, leading by a goal at three quarter time. But with a great final quarter goals from Sam Fong and the sealer from Matt Rawlinson the team came over the line to win 11.8 = 74 to Trinity 10.8 = 68. It had been seven years since we last beat Trinity!

Unfortunately, we went on to lose to Wesley and Scotch. The final game of the season was Hale. We went in to the match wanting a win from the final match to send out the Year 12s in a winning way. But once again the team started poorly and never recovered. Fairest and best went to Matthew Rawlinson and Runner up Fairest and Best was Frank Ansey. The Coach's Award went to Michael Clare and Lachie Macpherson got the Most Determined Award.

Reid Turner, Captain

Second XVIII

The season was off to a tough start with matches against Trinity, Wesley and Scotch with losses of twenty, seven and four goals respectively. There were many positives and as the squad's fitness and hardness began to improve the intensity started to lift. The next three games saw the squad take on Hale, Aquinas and Guildford. The group had set themselves for Guildford, and with solid performances against the former teams they were able to hold their heads high. A tight game against Guildford saw some opportunities lost and in the dying minutes the game slipped away. With Mr Gillies struck down by illness, Mr Lynch stepped in to take the remaining games. The game against Wesley saw a close game with a three-goal loss and a four-goal loss against Scotch. The final game against Hale also went down with a loss but a spirited effort. The season finished without a solitary win but was successful nevertheless.

Congratulations go to individuals such as Lachlan Brown, who won the coveted Coach's Award from a list of worthy contenders. Congratulations also to Nick Michael and Martin Astbury who received the Runner-Up Best and Fairest and Best and Fairest, respectfully.

Whilst the intention was to galvanize and prepare our Year 10A team for a successful contribution to First XVIII football in ensuing years, that moment arrived ahead of schedule for six boys in the 2008 season. Kadin Bauer, Harry Fry, Ben Lawrence, Chris Reynolds, Ashton Turner and Angus Vaughan not only gained invaluable experience but also acquitted themselves well at the highest level. Congratulations to Alex Cowan whose development and commitment to the team set a fine example, and to Cedric Taylor, winner of the Best Player award.

The boys started off the Winter Season at the beginning of Term 2 with a magnificent 100-point loss to Trinity College. Unfortunately the losing continued throughout the season but I'm glad to say that the boys' spirit, intensity and team unity went from strength to strength after every loss. The boys played their hardest every game, at times playing with fewer than 18 players on the field. The golden boots for our top goal kickers went to Benji Kotkis and Max Malcolm. The Best and Fairest Medal was given to Jake Welton and the Coach's Award was given to Andrew Popovic.

Kian Kuchak, Coach

The Year 9A football season was one of disappointing results on the scoreboard but the level of player improvement was significant. It was extremely pleasing to see players such as David Angliss, James Knox, Sam Foster, Kanichi Shioji, Alexander Angliss, David Davies, Lachlan Hunn, Gideon Forward, Jeremy Dodds, Matthew Smith and Jonathon Dimovitis improve as the season progressed and I congratulate Timothy Rose and Alex Horton on outstanding seasons – they are definitely players to watch in the future.

Luke Dwyer, Coach

This year saw the formation of a combined Year 8/9B Football team. The season opener provided us with a rare victory over perennial football powerhouse, Trinity. This was followed by a massive win over Wesley, with James Blackburn scoring goal of the year from the forward pocket, then comprehensive defeats at the hands of Scotch, Hale and Aquinas. Wins against Guildford and Wesley later in the season provided some highlights for the boys. The trophy for Most Valuable Player was presented to Joshua Bell. The Coach's Award was presented to Braeden Webb and noteworthy mentions should also be given to Ben Rosenstreich, Dusty Grant and Daniel Collopy.

Simon Bosustow, Coach

The season proved to be quite testing as we came up against strong team after strong team. Our closest games came against Wesley and although in winning positions in both games we fell just short. The loss at Wesley late in the season was the hardest to take. The boys had led all through only for Wesley to kick the winning goal with a minute to play. Our last game of the year was also a special effort. We took Hale to 10 points and with a little bit of luck (something we didn't seem to get during the year) we could have caused the upset of the year. Congratulations should be given to all the players for their efforts throughout the season with special mentions to Andrew Ford for winning the Fairest and Best Award and to Aiden Albert for winning the Coach's Award.

John Dimmer, Coach

The 8Bs had a reasonable season, as they gained from being combined with the 9B team. Standout player was Linus Goh and most improved was Matthieu Palleros. Other solid contributors were Trent Hillam, Hugo Lane Fry and Elliot Vercoe, whilst Ben Mitchell played so well that he was promoted to the 8As. The spirited way that the boys played the game was a pleasure to watch.

HOCKEY

First XI

The team had high expectations for this year's season after the tremendous successes of '07. Old boy and ex-captain Mark Boyne was our coach once again and the inclusion of high profile player Andrew Jacobs made the season appear promising.

After an intense preseason's training the boys were excited about what the competition would bring. Our first match against Wesley was predicted to be a good preparation for the following week's match against Scotch. However, lapses in defence and few chances at goal resulted in a shock defeat of 3-2, immediately dampening our hopes of a back-to-back competition win.

The Scotch game is always the biggest game and we held our own until ten minutes before the end, when lapses in defence saw us hand over a penalty stroke and with it the game. Two losses in a row had us searching for answers.

The match against Hale was more promising, with the boys winning their first match and crucial points in the Tregonning trophy. This was followed by a tight win against Guildford and a strong win against Trinity. With the first round coming to an end, the much-anticipated match against Aquinas saw the boys go down narrowly 3-2 to a well drilled side.

The second round of fixtures saw mixed results for the team and left us a solid but disappointing third position in the overall competition. However, congratulations are extended to students selected as State representatives: Sebastian Ewing (under 15s), John Parry and Sam Kendall (under 16s) and Adam Froese (under 18). Our thanks go to Mr Saggars, Mark Boyne and Andrew Jacobs for a very enjoyable season.

Second XI

Our first few games this year did not reflect the solid training and effort we had put into the pre-season. We lost three out of the first four games by only one goal, often after having led for much of the second half. Darram's enthusiasm and knowledge as our coach started to shine and the Guildford game was a real turning point. We gained valuable confidence and the following week dominated a quite strong Trinity team, winning convincingly. The final few games showed that we had learnt many lessons about holding the ball and higher level skills. Amal and Cameron, who often played up in the Firsts, gave us great drive and penetration when they were available, and at the other end of the field, Ryan was sensational in goals, making many memorable saves. The 15 boys who played Seconds all happily interchanged positions on a busy reserves bench as Darram asked them to run hard for 10-15 mins, then have a rest. The most promising thing to come from the season was the huge group of talented Year 11s who gained valuable experience and who should take the next step and play Firsts in 2009, or totally dominate the Seconds competition.

Neil Saggars, Teacher in charge

Third XI

The Third XI Hockey team had a fantastic season, winning the competition for the first time in many years. Outstanding contributions throughout the season from our core players – Brendan Storer, Adrian Jensen, and James Kirkness – meant that others in the team could concentrate on improving specific skills to suit their positions. Blair Sist, Dominic Wu and Seth Levendoski were all vastly improved players by season's end. Special mentions must go to Matt Didcoe for his leadership (and winner of the Coach's Award), Sam Jeanes as Best and Fairest and Jeremy Rogers as Runner Up. Well done to all those who played and contributed to the team and especially on becoming champions of 3rd XI PSA Hockey for 2008.

The season started off well when I arrived at McGillivray Oval and told the boys to take out their 'pucks'! Over the season, however, I grew to understand the game and thoroughly enjoyed watching some of the close and suspenseful matches. It was a year of both sweet victories and devastating losses for the 10A and B Hockey Teams. Many players from the 10Bs were required to step up throughout the season due to the four year 10s playing in the 1st XI. The 10As responded well to this challenge with Peter Keeves (awarded the Best and Fairest) and James Cowe (awarded the Coach's Award) taking charge and providing encouragement and motivation. The 10A's record for the year stood at four wins and six losses. The highlight of the season was the final game where all the boys performed admirably with a 5-2 defeat of Hale.

The 10Bs also had a rollercoaster of a year. Their depth was seriously challenged when they were required to compete with just seven players. Much focus was based on improving fitness and team morale. The season finished with a record of three wins and five losses. The highlight for the season was the team's double defeat of Hale. The low point was their 3-10 loss to Aquinas but all boys showed determination and persistence in the face of adversity. George King was awarded Best and Fairest and Lachlan MacDonald was awarded the Coach's Award.

Claire Wood, Manager

The 9As, with 10 wins from 10 games, were the champions in this competition, scoring 42 goals and only conceding one. This was achieved in spite of almost all boys missing a game because they were on camp at Koorinal, and a total of 17 boys playing As during the season. It was great to see so many Bs stepping up and handling the increased pace and intensity of the higher grade.

The 9Bs had just as successful a season and won all but one game. Thanks to the great band of parent supporters who saw every game, even the away Guildford game.

Neil Sagers, Coach/Manager

The 8A team had a strong 2008 season with plenty of fierce goals and strong tackling from the boys. Ben Monro took away the Best Player trophy after scoring 23 goals for the season. Charlie Jude won the Coach's Award for his outstanding leadership skills and team performance. Angus McMillan was a standout each week, showing some great pace all over the pitch, while the dangerous attacking double of Ed and Will Kermode kept goalies Dan Meehan and Mason Prior without much to worry about for most of the season. Coach Grant Shepherd was an inspiring mentor for the boys, encouraging true sportsmanship on both training and game days.

Claire Bradley, Manager

With only 11 players or fewer the majority of the season, some of whom had never played hockey before, the mighty 8B team played an excellent season. The boys developed much greater width to their style of play, utilised the passing and trapping skills on which we focussed and become much more cohesive as a team. Jacob Bailey was our leading goal scorer for the season and took out the Fairest and Best Award. Newcomer Louis Payne was terrier-like in his tenacity on the field and was rewarded with the Coach's Award for most improved new player. Special mention must also go to Guy Barrington, whose skills in defence constantly improved throughout the season.

ROWING – HEAD OF THE RIVER CHAMPIONS

2008 heralded the beginnings of a new phase in the chapter of Christ Church Rowing. Steve Saunders, Director, devised a plan to make the lads work harder and longer than many believed possible. Steve also decided to purchase an Italian model of rowing boat and this meant that every crew after the First XVIII was given a newer and essentially better boat.

The boys trained up in the hope of dominating the first regatta, Guildford. They performed well in conditions ill-suited for sprint rowing and were proud of their efforts. After a holiday break, during which the Seniors went off to South Australia, the first regatta was really an ergo competition where the likes of Jasper Harding and Felix Clarke featured, with Jasper breaking the Christ Church record.

The Christ Church Regatta's highlight was in the first heats, where the Second XVIII clocked a time that put them fifth overall out of an amalgamation of both First and Second XVIII's. The regattas continued and the training somehow grew more intense. At the Aquinas Regatta the notable performance was the First Quad in their 1500m race, clocking a sweet second. Hence began their domination of such races, behind Trinity College. Other memorable times were when the First XVIII took Trinity's cup at their regatta; the First Quad placing multiple seconds; the 10A VIII beginning to shine at the Wesley regatta, getting a close third, along with the Third XVIII; the Second XVIII bringing high hopes for the future with their constant seconds and thirds; the Third XVIII also coming third by 0.3 seconds; the enjoyable Year 8 race at the Scotch Regatta; and the 9A Quad busting out second at the Hale Regatta.

On Head of the River morning, most crews tended to perform out of their skins. The 10A XVIII finished an equal second with two other crews. The Senior Quads both placed seconds, partying hard after six months of heavy work. Unfortunately, the club only benefited from one win this day, that being the First XVIII race. The lads in this crew brutally smothered the opposition by seven seconds, winning the Challenge Cup.

The rowing season usually culminates in the Head of the River, however, this season was much more than the six minutes or four and a half minutes on said day. It was a season of enjoyment and speculation, a season that promised many more great seasons through depth in the club. It was a season filled by the uncanny witticisms of Percy, the delegation of tasks to Jono Payne, the happy hour of Year 9 coaching. It wasn't tough training, but more insolent bonding between cheeky rowers and equally mischievous coaches who sacrificed their mornings to make the club what it is. It was filled with the excitement the Year 10s always seem to bring, the impressive First XVIII and a general sense of amusement and satisfaction. That is how a great season should be judged, and therefore I would say 2008 was a great season.

RUGBY

First XV

The 2008 rugby season can only be described as what could have, would have and should have been, but never was. At each obstacle we would match our opponents, even outshine them, but when it mattered, when it came down to the final test...we came up short. Placing last on the ladder was a disappointing fall from coming second in the previous year. Despite an absence of victory, the boys remained focused and immense improvements were made through to the last whistle – evidenced by the improved score line against Wesley the second time we played them.

Our pre-season was interrupted and the First XV entered the first fixture against Trinity with only one training session as a complete team. With Lars Guyton and newcomers Harry Cleaver and Will Crisp attacking relentlessly in the back line, we were tied at half time, only to let Trinity back into the match to win 31-17.

For the rest of the season we always seemed to be one step behind our opposition. Game leaders like Lachie Wynne and Lucas Fisher would often keep the defence on the back foot, showing great tenacity and determination, and setting the standard for many of our young players. The First XV was plagued by injury with John Ogilvie, Lachie Wynne, and our Zimbabwean friend Bruce Smith-Wright forced to the sideline with early, season-ending injuries. This was compounded by other key players Peter Davis, Harry Cleaver, Breffny O'Shea and Mark Kelly all having extended injury breaks during the season. Unfortunately we only won one game this year, against the touring George Watson College from Scotland, most likely due to the coaching debut made by Andrew Greig and the rekindling of the notorious Death Row (the second row consisting of the formidable Breffny O'Shea and Jonathan Lau).

The highlight for me this year was to see how far the boys had come in the final match against Hale. Players like Tom Halsted, Vaughn Beaver and Kane Nelson put their bodies on the line for Christ Church. We played the best set of rugby we've ever played, holding the indomitable Hale to 3-5 in the first half only to let it slip to 34-3 by full time.

Thanks go to coaches Brendan Loag and Will Reid whose coaching efforts were greatly appreciated by all the boys. A special mention to Stuart Carr who was badly injured years ago but remained dedicated to the team at training and as our touch judge. A final mention to Mr Greig who managed the team and poured his effort and spare time into making our season run smoothly. Mr Greig has been with the boys since Year 10 and some of our best rugby was played when he was coaching. His serious/playful presence was greatly cherished. It was a great year despite the results!

Second XV

The 2008 Second XV season brought together a young group and significant improvement was achieved across the season. Individual performances and injuries to the First XV combined to see the likes of Chris Hands Frewer and Lucas Fisher given opportunities in the top grade – and they showed that they were ready for the higher level. Team improvement was evident across the season and wins against Trinity (twice) and Guildford made much of the hard work at training worthwhile.

A huge thanks must go to coaches Steve and Ben Saunders and to the tireless efforts and leadership displayed by Captain Courageous, Andrew Summerlin. Congratulations to Eugene Yang who won the Best Player award. There is little doubt that he will benefit from his year in senior rugby and, along with the other Year 11s from the Seconds of 2008, should form the nucleus of a strong First XV in 2009.

After not being able to field a team in Year 9, it was with much excitement and anticipation that we entered a team for the 2008 rugby season. With a group of 28 players on the team list, things were looking positive and spirits were high as we approached Round 1. Overseas exchanges and injuries quickly took their toll on our playing roster, but those who were left stepped up and by the end of the season were showing great potential.

The season started with a good win against Trinity, where the team played with plenty of enthusiasm and excitement at being back on the field again. The game left us with a number of areas to work on but overall it was a pleasing result. From there the season took a bit of a slide as injuries and illness hit the squad and the lack of depth was exposed. After an unlucky loss to Scotch where the team tackled all day only to be denied in the final stages of the game, there were several disappointing results. The boys kept persisting and after some tough training sessions started to show signs of improvement, culminating in an excellent showing against Hale in the final game of the season. Although we lost, the boys played extremely well and almost came away with a win against the strongest team in the competition.

Everyone should be congratulated on their efforts this season, especially those boys who had never played the game before. It was very pleasing to see their skills and knowledge of the game improve and start to resemble a Rugby team by the end of the season. A special mention must go to David Scott who was thrust into the unfamiliar position of prop early in the year and thrived on the challenge to collect the Most Improved Award. Other players who led from the front included Luke Cranswick, Hywel Evans, Cullan Grindlay, Adam Larbalestier, Michael 't Hart, Dave Mulhern and Anders Terry. A big mention must also go to Troy Pixley who had an outstanding season, despite playing the majority of the season injured. As a result he was awarded 'Fairest and Best' for 2008.

Finally congratulations to all the boys who played throughout the season and thank you to everyone who helped out, it was much appreciated. Although there were some disappointing times, we hope that everyone will be back next year to pick up where we left off.

Chris Miles & Chris Anderson, Coaches

The 2008 rugby season was filled with sweat, fun, victories, losses, improvement and laughs. With a squad of 28 boys, we were blessed with raw talent along with some more experienced players from the previous year.

Every single one of the boys made a huge contribution to the team. Although it is very difficult to pick out individuals, some of the highlights included the passion of Jackson Jens, the great improvement from Jeremy Dawson, the skill of Andrew Barr, the speed of Claudio Spadaccini, the step of Charlie Adams, the kick of Ben Teague, the spearing pass of Jack Cleaver, the leadership of George Haggett and the unbreakable tackle of Alex Mitchell. Every boy displayed great passion whether he had the ball, was defending his own line or urging teammates to keep going.

The first game against Trinity was a hard fought battle with a tragic loss by only two points. This was disappointing, but it only drove the boys harder towards the taste of victory. The next game against Wesley was 12-12 at half time, the players showed fantastic spirit and a never say die attitude to record a 32-12 victory. Despite the size difference between CCGS and every other team we consistently showed great heart and application to be competitive in most games.

But our best game was not a win, but a draw. It was the penultimate game against Scotch, the second strongest team in the competition. This really showcased the significant improvement of the team, with boys such as Alan Leith and Cliff Punyanitya pounding the Scotch boys before they took a step. With only three minutes to go, the score was 12-5 in favour of the much larger Scotch team, but Matthew Vear broke the Scotch line to score in the corner. With an almost impossible kick from the sideline, Ben Teague managed to pull off one of the greatest kicks of all time. The score ended at 12-12. The Christ Church boys took it as a victory, and went off the field exhausted and happy with their efforts for the last home fixture in 2008.

These victories were assisted by the support of the parents. The attendance at all home games was excellent and the Christ Church boys would like to thank all of those parents. But our main thanks go to Mr Watson and Alastair Buckley for their coaching, passion and experience.

George Haggett, Captain

This year's Year 8s have been a team of mixed abilities with some experienced players and others having never been on a rugby pitch before. Our one win doesn't reflect the improvement shown by all players. Many games came down to the last five minutes, a couple of these being against the stronger sides. One fine example of this was against the top ranked Wesley College, when we held them off until the dying seconds of the game. In the end they broke through the line and scored a try to win, despite a magnificent effort by the Christ Church team. We came across some really tall opponents, but this didn't stop Wyatt Rawson, who gave his all in every game.

Overall, our team improved immensely and is to be congratulated. The Most Improved Award went to Oliver Newton and Most Valuable Player went to William Brogan for great leadership. An enormous thanks goes to Mr Dunn for being such a great coach all throughout the season and teaching us so much. Thanks also go to Mr Hardy for being a really encouraging and knowledgeable coach/manager and for his inspirational half time speeches. Finally the last big vote of thanks goes to all the parents who came down every week to watch and support the whole team.

The Christ Church Grammar School Sailing community had another busy and exciting year. More sailors joined the cohort in each level of the sport and were welcomed by the elite top-level senior sailors.

David Gilmour led the team as Captain of Sailing, with a pure passion and ambition to achieve at the highest level, encouraging others to follow suit. Many sailors amongst the Christ Church Grammar School sailing programme reached new heights, including David's captaincy of the A teams racing squad which was victorious at the Secondary Schools State Teams Racing Championship in the Easter holidays. Members of the A team included skippers Samuel Gilmour and Leo Showell, assisted by crew members James Turner, Patrick Sims and Alex Knight. The B team, including Mitchell Barns, Andres Noe, Ben Colquhoun, Tom Morrissy, Zac Riccelli-Evangelisti and Tim Sandhu, sailed a very respectable regatta finishing fifth out of the eighteen teams in the event.

Shortly after the Teams Racing State Championships, Christ Church Grammar School was represented at the WA Schools Fleet Racing Championship held at Mounts Bay Yacht Club with racing being held on Melville Waters. Out of 46 boats and five long races over two days Alex Knight finished fifth, Zac Riccelli-Evangelisti finished ninth, Mitchell Barns and Samuel Gilmour finished eleventh and Tom Morrissy, new to competition sailing, finished forty-fifth.

The National Teams Racing Championship was held in Sydney during the July school holidays. Christ Church, which finished third in 2007 and first in 2006, was placed a respectable fourth in the regatta where lack of wind resulted in just two days of racing with only 13 races completed. The team performed extremely well and was in a good position to take a top spot had the final day of racing at Woollahra Sailing Club not been cancelled. Another challenge for the boys was racing in a RS Fevas, a new type of English boat. They held their own and handled the challenge like professionals. The team, including David Gilmour, James Turner, Samuel Gilmour, Alastair Campbell, Mitchell Barns, Patrick Sims and reserve Zac Riccelli-Evangelisti, had its share of wins and losses over the two days of racing. When spirits were down, the boys held their heads high and remained positive, learning from their mistakes.

In conclusion, all boys who sailed in the Christ Church Grammar School Sailing programme during 2008 have taken a wealth of knowledge and experience away with them. This will serve them for the rest of their lives and those who choose to join the programme again next year will be able to build on the very strong foundation created this year.

Patrick Marshall, Director of Sailing

SURFING

The 2008 surfing season was a busy and relatively successful one. Our first meeting produced a strong turn-out of surfers of all year levels and this was reflected in the rather eclectic leadership group elected. These office bearers were: Ashton Maloney as Captain of Surfing, Peter Davis as his deputy and James Harford and Clay Wooles as committeemen.

Our first contest, the senior short board, was held in the second week of Term 2 in chest to shoulder high conditions at Cove and Seconds. The winner was Ashton Maloney with a much improved Daniel Potter in second place and Nick Maeder and Charlie Hammond third and fourth respectively. The contest was enriched by a visit from well-known Cottesloe identity Skeg, who impressed the boys by his ability to paddle out to the break on his back, singing songs of praise to nature on the way.

The second competition for the year, the Junior Short Board Contest, was postponed due to a severe weather warning, which saw rapidly increasing winds and lightning licking the horizon at Cottesloe. Fortunately, however, the weather was a lot more reasonable when the Senior Bodyboard contest was held in good waves at Scarborough Beach. This contest was won by Peter Davis with the versatile Ashton Maloney surfing into equal second place with Nick Barclay and James Harford in fourth position.

The Year 8, 9 and 10 Bodyboard Competition was held at North Scarborough in clean waist high conditions, late in Term 2. The contest was won by George Ford, with Tom Van Beem surfing into second place. Harry Wise was third and Alexander Angliss fourth.

The rescheduled Year 8, 9 and 10 Shortboard Competition was held in beautiful conditions at North Scarborough on the last day of the July holidays. Nat Maloney won the day with George Ford second, David Angliss third and Alexander Angliss surfing into fourth position.

Our last internal competition was the open longboard contest, which was held at Isolater's Reef in perfect head high conditions. Ashton Maloney surfed into first place with Elliott Fisher second, Clay Wooles third and Jasper Harding fourth. Despite the good surfing of these boys, the highlight of the afternoon was the inspired exhibition of traditional longboard surfing put on by Cottesloe surfer and multi pro-am winner Jock Bahen. Jock's dazzling display was acknowledged by frenzied cheering from the CCGS lifesavers who lined the cliff overlooking the break.

Our internal contests over, we had teams ready for the WA Schools Titles and the PSA Titles. The first of these contests was the former, which was held at Triggs Beach. The zone three day saw some 26 schools competing. All but two of our six teams progressed through to quarter or semi finals. Our highest finishing team was our junior body board team of George Ford and Patrick Davis who surfed into third place in the zone final. Our best stand up surfer of the day was Tom Van Beem who was awarded the highest individual wave score.

The PSA Titles was held on the Friday of the Term 3 long-weekend in fairly indifferent conditions at Scarborough Beach. We tried hard to retain the Title but despite our best efforts we tied for third place with Trinity. Scotch College surfed into first position to win the PSA Shield.

While this final competition result was a disappointing one, the CCGS surfing community was buoyed by the news that Year 9 student Tom Van Beem had won an invitation to travel to northern New South Wales to take part in a week of elite surf coaching at the Mark Richards Training Camp.

To conclude, we had some wonderful internal competitions this year in great conditions, so the school surfing year was a successful one. With some emerging talent at junior level we will be working hard in the year ahead to win back the PSA Title.

First XI

Finally... after many seasons of high expectations and disappointing results, CCGS Soccer decided to release their potential. With a newly assembled team, a mixture of experienced Year 12s and impressionable Year 11s, the season looked like it could be a success.

With second year coach Mr Phillips and captain Mark Tissiman, the team looked anxiously to the first fixture against Trinity but lost 4 – 1. Next came a controversial game against Wesley, which finished 2 – 2, with School Captain Blake Stove and defender turned striker Felix Clarke both scoring.

Next came the rivalry round against Scotch. The game seemed destined for three points when Joe Backhouse, eventual winner of the Akos Kovacs trophy, netted an early penalty. But after a necessary substitution of central defender Nick Alexeeff and a missed opportunity to seal the game, when Rory Garven decided to pass to the goalie instead of scoring, Scotch went on to score two goals.

The win that defined the fighting spirit of CCGS Soccer came against Hale, with goals from Backhouse, Taylor and Clarke. The game finished in a fantastic 3 – 1 victory for Christ Church. Ninja kicks from Rory Garven decided the next game, a solid 2 – 1 victory over Aquinas. Unfortunately the away trek to Guildford was a game of highs and lows. After a poor first half, in which Guildford scored four goals, the CCGS spirit shone through. A brace from striker Will Blake, and goals from defender Jeff Bonnick and Felix Clarke gave the game a score line of 4 – 4 very late in the game. Unfortunately, a hopeful bomb from Guildford resulted in a goal to a Premier League hopeful.

With the season in the balance, an injury to Garven dampened the mood. However, with the addition of Felix's brother, Max, the team's spirit lifted. The boys were hopeful of a result against Trinity to cement our spot in the top three but the game ended in a very creditable 1 – 1 draw after another wonder strike from James Taylor. This was in fact the best result achieved against Trinity for many years.

A comprehensive 5 – 1 win against Wesley showed the quality of the team with some quality interplay and clinical finishing. The OBA Spectators Day gave us a moral victory against title contenders Scotch, although the game ended 1 – 1. The season ended with a game against Hale who were playing for top spot. After a fighting performance, a determined Hale proved victorious 3 – 1 with the benefit of two penalty decisions.

The '08 season was a time of many more highs than lows and has definitely lifted the profile of the Christ Church soccer club within the PSA. The team committee would like to thank Mr. Phillips and Stanley Seow for all their time, commitment, patience, passion and support throughout the year.

Mark Tissiman, Captain

Second XI

2008 proved to be a very successful year. The team consisted of a great blend of Year 11 and 12 players, who immediately gelled into a solid unit. Throughout the season the boys were resolute in their defending, led by goalkeeper Alex Payne. Initially, our attacking players often failed to capitalise on our possession, meaning some games ended in disappointing draws or narrow losses. Despite this, the team went on a stellar run towards the season's end and narrowly missed out on finishing in second place with a nail-biting 3 – 2 loss to Hale on the final day. All the boys should be congratulated on a wonderful season. Oliver Hosking received the Coach's Award and Weijie Weng took out the Player of the Year. A special mention must also go to the team captain Shyam Narayan for all his help throughout the year and his unwavering leadership.

Todd Harnwell, Coach

The Year 10A team began the season with high morale. Mr Hallett put some goals and game plans in place and we hoped that these would set us up for the rest of the season. Our first fixture against Trinity saw us defeated by their well-oiled side, but we went on to beat Scotch 1 – 0 at home. With just that one win we earned three points, which surpassed our season total for last year! Team unity grew with every win but a social the night before our match against Hale saw us defeated 8 – 0. Mr Hallett was not pleased. Just as we were looking for direction in the next few fixtures, three exchange students arrived from Germany and England. They became regular names in the starting line-ups and gave us the extra firepower needed to maintain wins against Wesley, Aquinas and Guilford. At some points, games got heated, owing to some tough competition, and it was a credit to all the boys that no red cards were received during the season, whilst our opponents collected half a dozen. A real highlight was the last game of the season against Hale. Although we finished down by two goals to one, it was still a vast improvement against arguably the strongest side in the competition. Congratulations to our Best and Fairest, Nicholas Terpkos, and Weiwen Weng, who received the Coach's Award.

The Year 10B Soccer side had an extremely successful season, finishing second on the ladder, whilst still managing to strongly support the A side. After losing the opening match away to Hale, the side went on a magnificent five game winning streak against all the other teams in the competition. The return match against Hale at McGillivray was a mouth-watering prospect and the boys were unfortunate to go down 3 – 2. However, they picked themselves up and won the rest of their fixtures in a convincing manner. The team spirit all year was underlined by the goalscoring of Duy Vo, the heading of Daniel Ibbitson, the tough-tackling of David See, the acrobatics of Achilles Deligeorges, the endeavour of Ben Thomas and Victor Yau, the persistence of Chris Cash, and the leadership of James Bai.

David Cox, Coach

9A Soccer was a force to be reckoned with this year, beating every other PSA team throughout the season. David Cowe was new to the team and filled the role of goalkeeper, on many occasions called upon to keep the ball out of our net. James Doherty found himself being shifted from forward to the key position of sweeper and performed a superb job there for the team. Goals were plentiful from the boot of Nick Harris and, later in the season, from Max Welton. Hamish McCleary was drafted from Aquinas and filled the midfield role admirably, often assisting Jacob Nazroo in controlling the game. As a team, the boys performed well. All in all, a top season, culminating in Nick Harris being awarded Fairest and Best and James Doherty the Coach's Award.

Michael Ristovsky, Coach

The 9Bs started on a poor note, losing to Trinity 11 – 1. However, thanks to a fantastic effort by Mr Lamb, we managed to come out on top over Wesley, winning 1 – 0. The majority of the following matches, though, were unsuccessful losses and draws, as we were still unsure of our team's strengths and potential. However, against Guildford, we won 4 – 2, and against Scotch, we won 3 – 2. The Best Player Award went to Matt Chadwick and the coach's award went to Thomas Bevilacqua. Credit and thanks must go to Mr Lamb.

Andrew Hill, Player

The season's results did not adequately represent the team's abilities. The Fairest and Best player, Josh Do, deserves special mention as he showed himself a star of the future with deft turns and touches in the midfield. The Coach's Award was given to Stephen Kikiros. The team was also blessed with some outstanding goal-keeping from Sam Stone, the extraordinary ambidextrous kicking of Andrew Grapsas, Harry Hosking's penalty-box clearances, Nick Rinaldi's ability to keep getting up after being wiped out by hefty Hale forwards, Siyang Zhang's speedy turn of foot, Sam Hall's relentless running, Tom Wright's right foot, Derek Chia's left foot, Nathan Debnam, David Ellis and Fraser Carroll's even performances and, of course, a genius coach.

James Matson, Coach

The mighty 8Bs enjoyed a most successful season, with only Trinity getting the better of us in two very tight games, whilst the other five schools were all well beaten. Many represented the team over the two terms but Jo Di Francesco, Chris Doukakis, Gautam Gandha, Arjun Jeyadevan, Shaza Schutz, Josh Lane, Kieran 't hart, Kieren Tan, Tom Shenton, Will Mackay Borthwick, Caleb McGlew and Chris Ash were ever-present. Chris Doukakis eventually earned promotion to the As, Tom Shenton was top scorer and Josh Lane was player of the season.

Swimming Season 2008 was quite simply a year of milestones for the Christ Church Swim Team. Our success marked the break in a long drought of PSA titles for CCGS as the team emerged as the Swimming Champions for 2008.

The year began early, with most boys down at the pool from the 7th January. The first test for the year was the annual Scotch Meet held at Scotch pool and also attended by Christ Church, St Hilda's and PLC. The most pleasing aspect of the meet, however, was the enthusiasm of the boys, particularly the Year 8s who were clearly looking forward to swimming in the Senior School and the Year 12s who were anticipating what would be their final year of Interscholar Swimming, and as events proved, their finest.

Week 2 of the season saw more and more boys down at the pool taking on Bill Kirby's advice and completing his rigorous training schedules. The week culminated in the CCGS Time Trials Meet held at the CCGS pool, with competition against MLC, Scotch and St Hilda's. The first serious meet for the year was The State Schools and Colleges Relays Competition. The senior half of the event began with the Pop Agnew Relay Race. With CCGS having won the race in 2006 and in 2007 with a record time, the pressure was on to retain the Pop Agnew Trophy for the six fastest 50m freestyle swimmers in the school. Jake Smith-Wright, James Webster, Lucas Fisher, Richard O'Halloran, Michael Palleros and Alex Woodman did the school proud, winning the race in a near record time of 2:35.18. Following this highlight all boys competed admirably with a number of A Teams winning medals. At the conclusion of the afternoon it was announced that Christ Church had in fact won the overall meet, putting an end to Wesley's seven year reign.

The Quadrangular Meet was held on the Tuesday after the long weekend and served to showcase CCGS swimming talent to the competition. Despite some outstanding performances from Tom England, Richard O'Halloran, Jake Smith-Wright and Alex Woodman, CCGS unfortunately came a close second.

The night before Inters marked our traditional Pasta Night, with inspirational speeches from Olympic Rower and CCGS Old Boy Todd Skipworth, our Head Coach, and Olympic Gold Medallist Bill Kirby and a number of the boys on the leadership committee.

Inters night arrived with many of the boys feeling nervous as the tension levels rose. The Interschool Swimming Carnival marks the culmination of the swimming season and is one of the biggest events on the PSA calendar. The meet began brilliantly for CCGS with a number of boys finishing strongly in the last 15 metres of their races, jumping up the places and scoring extra points for their team. During the night CCGS won many Div 2 events but only one Div 1 individual event – showing the real team nature of the win. Christ Church then proceeded to dominate the relays by winning 11 of the possible 20 relays. Success of this kind was unprecedented and in the lead up to the final races all of the boys were on their feet and losing their voices for the Christ Church cause. We took out the title of PSA Champions for the first time in 13 years, 54 points ahead of Wesley, followed by Hale, Trinity, Scotch, Aquinas and Guildford. I know many of the boys (particularly the Year 12s) will never forget the roar after being announced as winners and the Dr KG Tregonning Cup made its way back to CCGS for only the sixth time in Christ Church history.

The Presentation Evening at Lawrence Ward's house can only be described as a rather raucous affair. A number of presentations were made, including the Jack Mah Cup for the best PSA Inters 1st Division competitor in Freestyle, Backstroke and Butterfly. This year it was awarded to Alex Woodman after he came second in the 100m Freestyle, second in the 100m Backstroke and third in the 50m Butterfly. The Van Hazel Team Trophy for the best PSA Inters Relay Team went to the Under 16 Division 1 Medley Relay Team consisting of Michael Palleros, Luke Basson, Ben Swallow and Richard O'Halloran. In addition, the McCarthy Family Trophy was awarded to Sam Foster as the Most Improved Christ Church swimmer over the course of the year.

A number of other presentations were also made with Best Team Man in each age group awarded to Tom England (Year 8), Harry Howe (Year 9), George Ford (Year 10), Richard O' Halloran (Year 11) and Lawrence Ward (Year 12). Trophies were also awarded for Best PSA Swim on the Night to Nat Halligan (Year 8), Alex Mitchell (Year 9), Jake Smith-Wright (Year 10), Michael Palleros (Year 11) and Huw Flatau Harrison (Year 12). There were also some outstanding performances from Josh Tan, Tom Cunningham, Luke Basson, James Moorman, breaststroke gun David Cullingford and the talismanic Bruce Smith-Wright.

On behalf of the team I would like to thank the parents who have supported the boys throughout the season and the brilliant coaching staff and age group managers, Mr Neil Saggars, Ms Katie Finkemeyer, Ms Amanda McGillivray, Ms Elisabeth Gerber, and Mr Jason Lamb, whose efforts in organising and coaching the team have been much appreciated by all. Thank you must also go to Teacher in Charge of swimming, Mr Luke Farmer. Finally, I would like to extend a big thank you to Bill Kirby who took charge of the swimming programme at Christ Church six years ago with a vision for the future.

I must also thank the leadership Committee and my Vice Captains, Alex Woodman and Nick Maeder, who provided such excellent support as well as setting a very professional swimming standard in the pool and in the stands. I hope that the winning culture of the team will continue for years to come.

FIRST VIII TENNIS

First VIII

The 2008 First VIII Tennis season was a very successful one. In essence, tennis is considered an individual sport, however, the nature of the PSA competition requires the overall result of the team to decide the winner.

The first fixture was against the 2007 Corr Cup winners Scotch College. The boys played some outstanding tennis and were eventual winners 13 sets to 11. The round 2 fixture was held on the hard courts at Wesley College, this proved to be a very challenging morning as the more experienced hard court players of Wesley showed their dominance with a 13 sets to 11 win over the highly competitive Christ Church team. In round 3 we played Trinity at Manning Tennis club, this proved to be our toughest win for the season. The boys showed strong determination and character to come out on top: 12 sets in all, 113 games to 110, a three game win.

Hale School was our next opponent in round 4 and the boys played some outstanding tennis, coming out eventual winners 15 sets to 9. This set up a virtual grand final fixture against old enemies Aquinas College. The final result was 14 – 10 in favour of Christ Church, putting the team in a position to win outright or share the Corr Cup with Scotch College. The final round of fixtures was unfortunately washed out which left the Christ Church team with four wins and one loss. The 2008 Tennis Corr Cup was shared with Scotch College, a fantastic achievement by the boys.

There were some wonderful individual performances throughout the year, notably from Adam Froese, Thomas Bracewell, Peter Davis and Captain Tristan Bloor, and Most Improved Player of the year, Robert Purdew. Younger members of the team, Daniel Ibbitson and Linus Goh, were very consistent at the number 7 and 8 positions respectively.

Finally I would like to sincerely thank Dave Culley, the Head Coach at Cottesloe Tennis Club for his invaluable guidance and preparation of the team, and to all the parents for their assistance with morning teas on match days.

Luke Dwyer, Coach

Second VIII

The Second VIII squad suffered narrow losses in our initial fixtures against local rival, Scotch (10 – 14), and Wesley (10 – 14), but our fortunes turned against Trinity (14 – 10) and continued in our favour yielding strong wins against Hale (17 – 7) and Aquinas (22 – 2). The fixture against Guildford was abandoned.

The trophy for Most Valuable Player was presented to Nick Rogers. Other boys who were in close contention for this award were James Duncan and Bo An Lu, both of whom performed well throughout the season. The Coach's Award was presented to Michael Dunne, who demonstrated a consistently high level of skill, endeavour and sportsmanship in training sessions as well as in all the matches. A noteworthy mention should be given to Ben Gammell; the degree of enthusiasm that he demonstrated during training and matches was infectious. Thanks to all the boys for a terrific season.

Simon Bosustow, Coach

Third VIII

The Third VIII had a mixed season, with a number of losses and some wins. During 2007 we won convincingly against Aquinas and Guildford, were outclassed by Wesley and had a very close game with Hale, finally going down 10 – 14 sets. Warwick Bell won all four of his sets in a very tough competition that day.

In 2008, we managed one win, against Trinity, when David Wood performed very strongly. However, the boys enjoyed their tennis and some good individual performances were seen throughout the season. The Coach's Award for consistency, high performance, good humour and attitude was awarded to Seth Levendoski, whilst the Best Player went to James Ly, who only lost one set in both singles and doubles this season.

Sharyn Bana, Manager

The 10A team was very successful this year with the addition of some new players. As with last year, we remained undefeated. Disappointingly, the last fixture of the season against Guildford was a washout and 'stole' the true clean sweep. Still, winning 86 sets out of a possible 120 is a fantastic result that earned us the top spot on Year 10 level in the PSA competitions. Congratulations to Sam Berrell for receiving the trophy for Best and Fairest player. The Coach's Award was given to Nicholas Terpkos. I would like to thank our manager Mrs. Züchner-Mogall for supporting us throughout the season.

Nicholas Terpkos, Player

10B

10B Tennis had it all: players turning up to the wrong ground, bad weather, lots of home games and wins. The team bonded and played some fantastic games. Special mention needs to go to Scott Jordan, who often played opponents four times his height, Allan Abang-Noordin for getting lost going to a Cottesloe home game and Dominic Donaldson for talking his way to a win with constant questions. Most consistent were Henry Parker and Jonathon Chiam and the 'ice cube' award went to Aron Smit. Finishing first for the season has shown the great depth that is developing in all levels of CCGS tennis.

Jeff Chandler, Manager

The 9A Tennis Squad performed very well on the court, but also had fun and provided entertainment off of it! The result was a very successful season as measured by effort, attitude, improved skill and PSA results. The most pleasing part from the perspective of this coach was that all of this was accomplished with a smile on their faces. In this regard, particular mention must go to Sam Flynn, Andrew Manderson, who was rewarded with the Coach's Award for his overall improvement, and George Haggett. While it was agreed Kanichi Shioji was the standout player of the year and a future player to watch, the players' and coaches' poll awarded the best player to Kaustav Pal rewarding both his attitude and talent.

Michael Gillies, Coach

The attitude and spirit of the 9B Tennis team this year was exceptional. They didn't win a lot of games but they enjoyed playing and being part of the team. The Fairest and Best, voted by all of the team, was Braeden Webb. He was ranked our No 1 player and put in 100% effort at training and matches. Tom Walton received the Coach's Award for his excellent sportsmanship and resolve.

Jody Clarke, Coach

The 8A tennis team enjoyed a very rewarding season, with five convincing wins and one loss. Julian Bell was awarded Best Player for his consistent wins and Tom England received the Coach's Award for his leadership skills and sportsmanship. The top four players at the end of the season were Angus McMillan, Tom England, Julian Bell and Harry Kasten. Overall, the season was an immensely enjoyable one.

Claire Wood, Coach

The Year 8B tennis team has every reason to be proud of themselves this season. Out of all the PSA matches they played, they only lost one, against Aquinas, and that was by only seven games! Congratulations go to Christopher Doukakis, the winner of the Fairest and Best Award. The Coach's Award went to Nat Halligan for his tenaciousness and for never doubting his ability to win under any circumstances.

Linda Curlewis/Sue A'Court, Coaches

8C

The summer season results for our Year 8C tennis team have been outstanding. The boys have had convincing wins against Hale (97 – 49), Trinity (77 – 35), Wesley (83 – 48), Scotch (95 – 30) and Guildford (82 – 46). We had a very close win against Aquinas where, after the first round of tennis, both Christ Church Grammar School and Aquinas were 31 games each. With determination our boys excelled in their play and eventually won by 5 games (67 – 61). This proved to be a very exciting afternoon for the team as the Year 8C team were then undefeated for the season. As all twelve players made an enthusiastic and consistent effort in training and playing their very best during matches, it was difficult to choose award winners. However, James Newcombe was awarded Best Player, for his consistent wins and excellent sportsmanship and Brody Rezos won the Coach's Award for the most improved player for the session. I look forward to seeing the boys continue to develop their tennis skills and fitness to an even higher level in readiness for next season. We look forward to an equally rewarding season next year.

FIRST VI VOLLEYBALL

First VI

First VI Volleyball began with much hope and anticipation. This was, however, short-lived, with a number of players ruled out due to injury even before the first game and a number of boys away on tour throughout the season. The first game against Scotch started in the way we expected, with Christ Church showing domination over Scotch. Then mid-way through the third set, after winning the first two sets, an injury took our minds off the game. Scotch came back to win the set and fell over the line to snatch the draw. This seemed to set the pattern for the rest of the season. Almost near perfect sets were followed by the complete opposite in the next set. The team won against Wesley, Guilford and managed a draw against Scotch, but lost against powerhouse Aquinas and Trinity, also with a shock loss to Hale. This season saw the Firsts fall short of our potential and it was a big disappointment that our strongest combination of players wasn't on the court once during the entire season. A big thanks to Peter Thorne and all the boys who turned up to all trainings and all games and put in the effort required. Congratulations to Ollie Hosking (Best Player) and Sam Smart (Coach's Award).

Rob Venn, Coach

Second VI

The season did not meet our expectations. The team played some excellent volleyball at times but was unable to sustain the effort when it mattered, winning only one match, a resounding 3 – 0 set victory against Scotch. However, I wish to thank all boys for their participation and hope they found their involvement enjoyable. The most pleasing aspect of the season from the perspective of the coaching staff was the development of all players' individual skills. Congratulations to Daniel Cahill for being voted Best Player and to Adrian Jensen for receiving the Coach's Award.

Peter Thorne, Coach

Third VI

It was a tale of what might have been for the Volleyball Thirds. Whilst recording impressive wins against Scotch, Guildford and Wesley the team lost narrowly in a fixture with Hale that was keenly contested. Trinity showed why they were favourites with a commanding 3 – 0 victory but it was the 3 – 0 loss to Aquinas that finally broke the Christ Church spirit. Much progress has been made since Year 10 but powerful and precise spiking is required if this squad is to shower itself in glory.

Dominic Hodnett, Coach

Yr 10

The season started soundly with our first match against Scotch providing us with a win, and there were promising signs from the boys as they looked to have retained some of their skills from the previous year.

By the second week the plague that cursed us for the remainder of the season had begun: injuries. Still, the boys held strong and we limped away with our second win in the Wesley fixture. Unfortunately, this was followed by losses against Trinity and Hale. Aquinas, recognised for some time as the school to beat in volleyball, was far too skilled for the few players that were still left standing. Our opponents scored 75 points in just over 30 minutes. The final fixture was against Guildford, who regrettably could not field a Year 10 team and so the season for us finished in a disappointing way.

Well done to Elliott Beamish who received our Best Player Award and Vincent Nunes who was presented with the Coach's Award.

John Harris, Coach

Middle School

The 2008 Middle School Volleyball teams came off a strong previous season, but the first training session brought a number of Year 8 students who had not played volleyball previously. This had both coaches worried, but as the games went on all players became well drilled and well seasoned. The As took to the court with confidence and only lost to Aquinas and Wesley during the season. One highlight was against Hale, where Claudio Spadaccini stepped up to serve in the second set down 3-1 to Hale and went on to serve the next 24 points in a row to win the set 25 – 3. This was a huge triumph.

Congratulations to Matt Vear (Best Player), and Harry Hosking (Coach's Award) in the A team and Tom Bevilacqua (Best Player) and Jacob Bailey (Coach's Award) in the B team. I would like to thank all the boys and Mr Harnwell for an outstanding season.

The First VII had an outstanding run, remaining undefeated until the final matches. In round 5, Christ Church were equally matched against a slick Hale squad. In round 6, the Firsts fought a hard and highly contested match against an aggressive Aquinas team, narrowly losing by two goals. Despite these two unfortunate setbacks, our First VII played as a tight unit with great wins in the remaining rounds.

The team was capably led by David Cullingford and his vice captain Tom Magee, ably assisted by committeemen Nick Maeder and Ashton Maloney. These fine and inspirational young men worked hard to keep the First VII in top gear throughout the season, and their dedication was fully realised in the team's fighting spirit and initiative. The team trained hard to develop strong strategies and a highly physical game, and this stood them in good stead at the Saturday matches.

The Second and Third VII teams also aimed for excellence, and managed a couple of good wins during the season. Ryan Wood, Lucas Fisher and Oliver Marshall played some superb shots in matches, and while these teams did not achieve the same win ratio as the Firsts, they still demonstrated skill and prowess in the pool.

Finally we thank our coaches Tom Jasper, Scott Crystal and Ben McLeary, whose expertise and dedication were invaluable assets to the Christ Church Water Polo community.

Gemma Slater
Manager

Middle School

This year has seen a large influx of enthusiastic Year 8 players. The A team was solely comprised of Year 9 boys and they enjoyed a successful season that included crushing wins over Trinity and Wesley. Alex Mitchell was outstanding and was ably supported by Tom Van Beem with Jamyang Williamson and Callan Sturgeon showing great improvement.

The B team was a composition of Year 8 and 9 boys and they had a solid season that will stand them in good stead for coming years. Some of the better contributors included Andrew Ford, Tom Cunningham and Charlie Foster.

For the first time, we fielded a C grade team although finding an opposition to play did prove to be a challenge on occasions. This team played quite a few games against Hale and found the opposition very strong. The boys are to be commended for their dedication. Many thanks to Lachlan Cooke for his assistance in coaching the team. With such a large and enthusiastic playing group, the future for water polo at Christ Church is very promising.

DESIGN & TECHNOLOGY

2008 marked the beginning of a new era in Design and Technology, with the opening of the new Design Technology Visual Arts building at the commencement of third term. After eighteen months of planning, followed by another eighteen months of construction, the opening of the new building heralded the arrival of a state of the art facility that provides both teachers and students of Christ Church with the very best in teaching and learning in Design and Technology.

Whilst both the teaching staff and students made light of the difficulties of operating out of temporary facilities scattered across the campus, their efforts to maintain the strong representation of Christ Church in state wide competitions were somewhat thwarted by the transition phase.

The department was well represented at the annual CO2 Dragster State Championships, conducted at Shenton College. After a series of speed trials conducted in the new centre, eight dragsters (the maximum possible) were selected to represent the School. Unfortunately, they were unable to repeat the successes of previous years, and for the first time since entering the competition, came away without a major placing.

As the defending Secondary Schools Champion, Christ Church approached the eV Challenge with an optimistic outlook. Whilst the temporary facilities made the early stages of production difficult, the move to the new facility provided superb welding and machining equipment. Countless hours went into the production of five vehicles, of which three were completed on time. Race day at the Swan TAFE course in Midland dawned wet and gloomy, and racing was delayed until the track dried out. Unfortunately, all three teams experienced problems in some form or other, and results did not match expectations. Best of the teams was the Year 11 combination of Leo Showell, Tom Baston and Anish Philips who finished a very creditable third in the Secondary Schools division. A special mention must be made of the contribution of Mr Alex Barbour, who, in addition to his role as the co-ordinating teacher of the Christ Church entries, also served as the Chairman of the organising committee of eV Challenge.

Christ Church was also represented at the Science and Engineering Challenge by a large contingent of 32 Year 9 boys. Under the guidance of Mr Drew McDonald, the boys competed against students from seven other schools in a series of problem solving challenges over the course of one day at the Convention Centre. Other groups of schools competed against each other in the same activities on each other day of that week. Although the event was highly competitive, it was also a lot of fun, with the team finishing fifth on the day.

After a year's absence, Christ Church was again represented at the Solar Car Challenge, this time by a team from the Year 11 Engineering Studies class under the guidance of Mr Geoff McGillivray. Whilst they were unable to match the efforts of previous winning teams entered through the Science Department, the small team of Gabe Ayres-Paddon and Daniel Robinson thoroughly enjoyed the experience of the elimination heats of the first day, and were delighted to make it through to the finals. The cloudy conditions of the final day did not suit the team's vehicle, which was unfortunately eliminated early. Nonetheless, the boys are much the wiser for the experience and are keen to make a second attempt in 2009.

The Formula 1 Schools Innovation Design Challenge proved to be the one competition in which Christ Church excelled. After months of dedicated work outside regular school hours,

Mr Jeff Chandler, who coordinates the program, took three teams to the State Championships held at Swan TAFE in Midland in early October. Two of the teams, comprising several Year 10 students who were members of successful teams from the previous year, were slotted into the Senior Professional Category. The other team consisted of Year 9 students who were new to competition. As it turned out it was the inexperienced Turbo Chargers, who took the honours, winning the Junior Professional Category. As a result, this team automatically won selection to compete in the National Championships conducted in Canberra. Against formidable opposition from every state of Australia, the Turbo Chargers team consisting of Tom Morrissy, James McDonald, Callum Stocklinger and Calum MacDonald, finished a very creditable seventh out of twenty four teams, and was by far the best performed of the three Western Australian teams. Special congratulations must go to Mr Chandler, who gave so selflessly of his own time, to ensure the best possible opportunity for success.

DRAMA

Last year the drama department was 22, and our production company was 20. We thought that was a busy year. However, 2008 has maintained the pace, and in many ways exceeded it! Our tour to the UK in January was a tremendous success and is chronicled elsewhere in The Mitre. The production from that tour, The Premiere, was given its Australian premiere at the Playhouse Theatre in the city during the second week of March, in the distinguished presence of our Patron, His Excellency the Governor and Mrs Michael.

With the financial assistance of the Archbishop of Perth and Perth Anglican Diocese's 150th Committee, plus the management of The Playhouse Theatre, we were able to stage the Australian premiere of Helen Edmundson's adaptation of Jamila Gavin's Coram Boy, which had only been seen previously in London and New York. Our Midnite actors were joined by two of WA's most highly regarded professionals, Caroline McKenzie and Michael Loney. Other guest artists included St George's Cathedral's deputy Organist, Stuart Smith, who not only played the organ throughout the production, but arranged Handel's music which interweaves the play.

Our production received an emphatic 'thumbs up' from the critics with resounding praise from The West Australian. Jay Brien's 120 period costumes and Dean Morris's imaginative lighting and settings, were masterly. Peta Flanigan's choreography was truly evocative of the period, as was Gillian Croston's direction of the orchestral forces. Of course, Caroline and Michael's performances were superb, as were so many of the very large cast: far too many to mention them all! However, I must single out Andrew Sutherland and Morgan Palmer. This was one of the finest casts with which I have been privileged to work. As our guest of honour at the opening night, Archbishop Roger Herft, said of the production, "It brought us more than food for thought, it gave us joy and inspiration".

Chris Willesee directed Anton Chekov's The Cherry Orchard in a sensibly economical translation by Julius West. Chris, together with his Assistant Director Amy Webb, brought out the rich humour, as well as the poignant tragedy of the piece. The cast of twenty players was uniformly strong, with more than creditable performances from everyone. Again, settings, lighting, and costumes (by Dean and Jay, respectively) gave an assured surround to the actors on stage.

Alistair Smith, one of Perth's foremost young pianists, joined the production team as music director for the Jones / Schmidt musical masterpiece, The Fantasticks. To him must go significant credit for the success of our production. Based on a story by Rostand, The Fantasticks has been playing almost continuously Off and On Broadway since 1962. I consider Midnite's cast to have been totally 'right' for the show. Perth audiences are known for not being demonstrative, so it was significant that this production received standing ovations!

Jon Godber's irreverent look at school-life, Teechers was the production chosen to showcase our younger members in the 2008 season. Callum Ormonde, who last year was the Midnite Exchange trainee director at the Auden Theatre in Gresham's School in Norfolk (UK) was joined by our 2006 Captain of Drama Colin Thomson, to co-direct the production. Again, the very large cast delighted in the fast paced verbal and physical comedy demanded by the author and directors.

Two 'in house' productions also pointed to a strong talent base. The Year 9 classes and Year 10 classes presented Showcases of their work at different times in the year, mostly directed by class members, with encouraging supervision by Mr Willesee and myself. The Midnite Drama Dinner, held at the Royal Perth Yacht Club at year's end, saw Caroline McKenzie receive the 2008 Midnite Award for her contribution to the arts at CCGS and in the wider Perth community. Also some 20 "Leo Awards" were given to our talented performers, together with the announcement of our 2009 production schedule and the Drama Council for next year. The Minister for the Arts was represented by Mr Bill Marmion, MLA, member for Nedlands.

Well over 400 young people have 'strutted their stuff' (as the Bard has said) on, behind, or in front of, our stages this year. Such numbers could not have been assisted in their endeavours without the dedicated support and expertise of my colleagues. The drama staff is not large in number, but it is in talent. Jay, Dean and Chris work tirelessly to see every opportunity to excel is available to our charges. Peta Flanigan and Alistair Smith join us to assist whenever asked. The Friends of Midnite continue to support us, in every way. Our professional theatre associates – from performers to theatre managers to technicians – give unstintingly at all times. Our Patrons, from his Excellency the Governor, to Mr Max Kay and the Vice Patrons, continue to 'open doors' for us here in Perth and overseas. Mr Wynne, as Chairman of Midnite and Headmaster is always ready to support and encourage us.

Finally, I would offer my special thanks to Captains of Drama Andrew Sutherland and Max Thompson Clark and the Drama Council of 2008 – you have always worked hard for the good name of drama at CCGS. I feel very privileged to be associated with so many who do so much for the furtherance of drama - at Christ Church, in Perth and beyond.

ECONOMICS & COMMERCE

It has been a dynamic year for the Economics & Commerce Department with individual and team awards being achieved at both national and state levels. Whilst individual awards for excellence rightfully gain attention, it has been the efforts of nearly all of our students in their course work, which has been most pleasing. The inquisitive manner in which students have explored issues such as the US sub-prime credit crisis, the pending global recession, the end of the commodities boom, the stock market crash, the depreciation of the Australian dollar (particularly relevant to our international students) and resource use in hypothetical scenarios has made for excellent and relevant learning experiences.

Entrepreneurial spirit flourished in our students through their participation in a number of competitions. The Australian Stock Exchange Share Market simulation activity tested the students' investment skills with syndicates being allocated $50,000 to trade in shares over a period of three months. With the bear market conditions, the majority of syndicates struggled to make a final capital gain in a market where the All Ordinaries fell 18%. Remarkably, Year 11 student Charlie Hammond was able to flourish in this environment with a minimalist trading methodology to win the Western Australian competition.

The Year 9 and 10 Commerce and Enterprise classes participated in the Australian Financial Literacy competition with some pleasing individual results affirming the course objectives studied by the students. The on-line University of NSW examination highlighted the accumulated knowledge possessed by the students from their studies in a subjects ranging from Mathematics through to Commerce. High Distinctions were awarded to Ellis Xanthis, Thomas Drake-Brockman, Morgan Emms, Harry Stevenson and Brian Wong.

The Year 12 Accounting students undertook the Business Educators of Western Australia's Accounting Competition as part of the latter stages of their course. This competition, combined with the all-day Saturday revision seminar hosted at Christ Church, provided an excellent opportunity to apply their knowledge as a dress rehearsal to the TEE examination. Furthermore, in May this year, Matthew Didcoe and Conly Manolas of Year 12 gained entry into the Curtin Business School's specialist Accounting program. Selected as part of a group of 58 students from across the state, the boys undertook what is effectively a first year university course. The program was conducted over four months with the objectives of an extension to their Year 12 Accounting studies, establishing a direct pathway to Curtin's Business School and the potential for a cadetship with Pricewaterhouse Coopers. Through a combination of collaborative and lecture based instruction for three hours on Tuesday nights Matthew and Conly were able to achieve Distinctions in the course.

At the Western Australian Chamber of Commerce and Industry's Student Economic Forum in Term Three, Christ Church was also well represented by Year 12 students David Cullingford, Andres Noe, Daren Tan and Weijie Weng. It was pleasing to receive a letter of commendation for their performance in analysing current problems confronting the economy.

In Year 10, the CPA Australia Plan Your Own Enterprise Competition flourished with Jason Ah Teck winning first place in the Open and U/16 Division for his business plan of recycling glass into designer ornaments for households. In addition, Victor Yau and Riley Skevington achieved Certificates of Excellence for their concepts.

In the Group category Cameron Yuen and Michael Ng were awarded first place. This competition in Term Three required the students to combine the skills they had acquired to that time in the course. It is an excellent example of the constant endeavour by the teachers and students to cross the divide between classroom theory and real world practice.

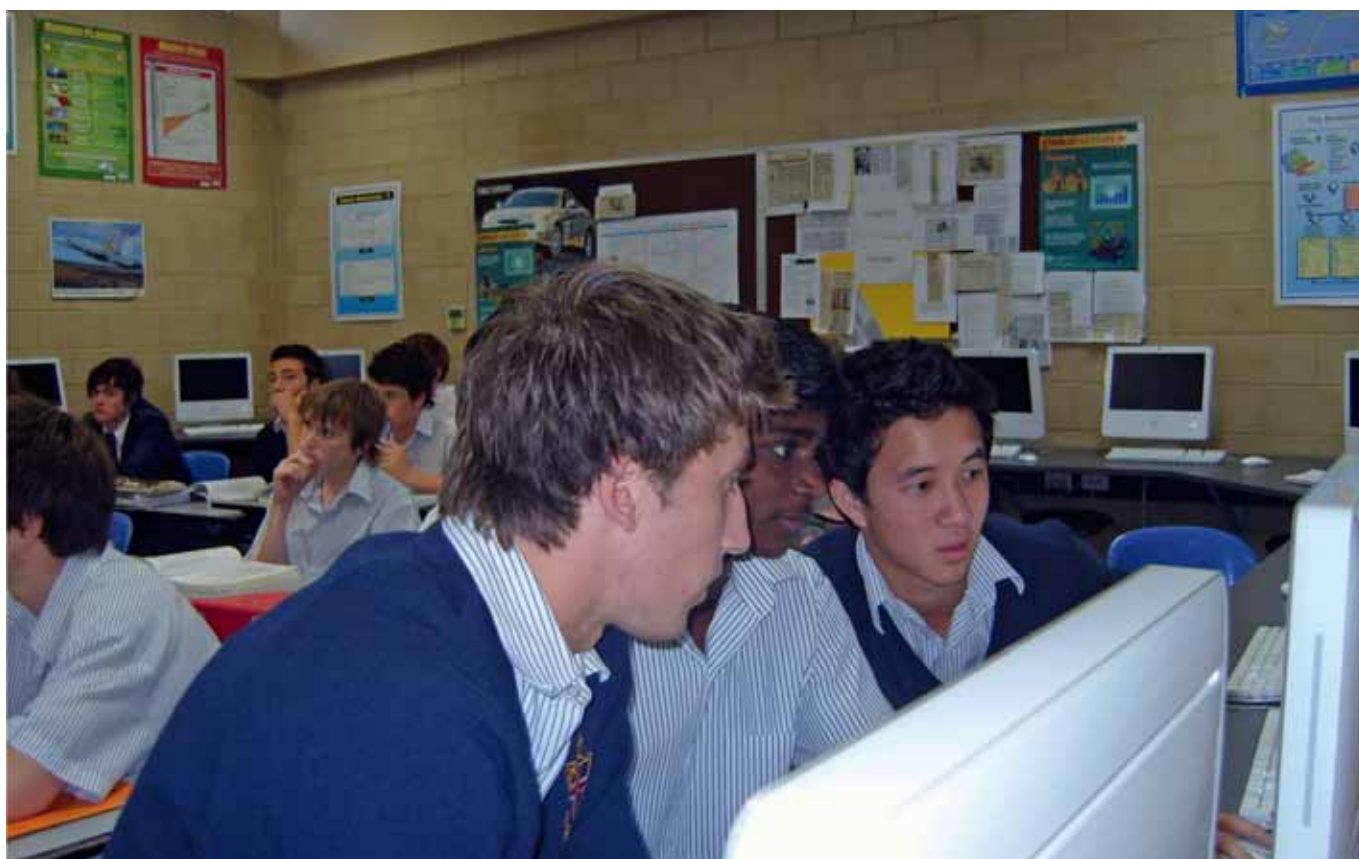

Fieldwork experiences were again used as a basis for the teaching of course theory. The visit of the Year 10 students to Coca Cola and the Year 11 Economists to the Swan Brewery were both educational and enjoyable. For the first time all Year 12 Economics students attended the RBA seminar on monetary policy. The classroom environment was also complemented by the visit of guest speakers.

The main curriculum implementation occurred in Year 8 Commerce and Enterprise with the new financial literacy course. Highlight for the students were My Duck competition, Easy Money simulation and the acquisition of their own official tax file number.

In conclusion, the progress achieved by all the boys this year, is a credit to them and their teachers. I particularly thank my colleagues for their efforts in creating learning environments that have produced such enjoyment and success for their students. Their willingness to undertake a wide range of professional development designed to enhance the learning environment was appreciated. I also wish Mr Andrew Greig all the best as he moves into the new role of Head of Economics next year.

ENGLISH

The year started magnificently with news of some impressive results from the 2007 Year 12 cohort. With an average final combined scaled score of 74.24 our Literature students finished 8.47 marks above the state average of 65.77 and we were placed within the top 10 schools in the state for the subject, the only boys' school to do so. Special mention should be made of James Waters who with a combined scaled score of 100% earned a Certificate of Distinction. The English cohort performed as impressively with a combined scaled score average of 63.3, some 7.46 above the state average of 55.84. Benjamin Purser and Stephen Siopis earned Certificates of Distinction with scores of 93.6 and 92 respectively. Our ESL boys also did well with a final average of 69.22, again above the state average. Both students and teachers should be commended on their diligence and commitment in producing this excellent set of results.

While these results suggested we were on the right track in our approach to the new English Course of Study, we have continued to refine our take on the subject as the nature of the examination undergoes subtle change. We have also developed two new units for Year 12, which will be undertaken for the first time in 2009. These two units, 2C and 2D, have been designed to cater for the fact that next year will see the first mandatory Stage Two external examinations being taken by a group of boys who, in the past, would have been our Non-TEE cohort. 2009 will also be the first year that Course of Study units are undertaken in Literature and to meet that end we have constructed two new Literature units for our Year 11 students to study next year.

Christ Church English staff have continued their heavy involvement with the development and review of the English and Literature Courses of Study. Dr Michael Bonner is a teacher representative on the English Reference Group and Simon Hunn remains an AISWA representative on the Literature Reference Group. Margaret Brophy, Assistant Head of English, has been involved in the "Pairwise" marking process, which the Curriculum Council has used to develop grade descriptors for the English Course of Study.

Throughout the course of the year we have continued our on-going process of reviewing and refining our Year 8 to 10 English Course and this has seen the introduction of a greater number of Common Assessment Tasks (CATs) across all the lower school year groups, as well as the introduction of additional minor novel studies.

2008 has seen the arrival and establishment of three new English staff. Ms Claire Wood took the place of Kylie Jones who took a year's maternity leave, Ms Gemma Slater replaced Mr Jeremy Baker and Bronwyn Fricke commenced as a part time staff member to cater for additional classes that have sprung up. All three have proved excellent teachers and quickly gained the trust and respect of our students. We are lucky that Claire Wood will continue in 2009 as the replacement for the hard working and effervescent Kylie Jones who has resigned in order to concentrate full time on maternal matters. We wish her the best of luck and thank her for the wonderful job she did over six years for our boys.

This year our boys have experienced a multiplicity of English based interaction with the wider community. Early in the year a large number of our Year 12 English and Literature students went to see an innovative and moving performance of Stephen Hawke's play Jandamarra, which was performed at the Convention Centre during the Festival of Perth. Year 12 English students honed their image analysis skills in third term through a guided visit to the Art Gallery of Western Australia. Our lower school boys also undertook a number of theatre visits, with our Year 9 students attending a performance of Shakespeare's As You Like it and our Year 10 boys experiencing a performance of David Williamson's popular play The Club. A significant number of our Year 8 and 9 boys went to Hale School to hear successful author Robert Muchamore talk about his writing.

Once again we have used a visiting lecturer programme with our Upper School cohort and this has proved a useful augmentation to the English and Literature Courses. Our Year 12 English cohort was lectured on two occasions by the erudite and amusing Mr Rod Quin, former English Chief Examiner, President of the English Teachers' Association and UWA Education Faculty Lecturer. Rod's lectures focused on the reading, writing and viewing sections of the English Course of Study External Examination. Our Year 12 Literature cohort were enthusiastically and informatively lectured by Emeritus Professor Christopher Wortham on Shakespeare's Othello in first term, and later in the year by Dr Kieran Dolin from UWA and former Literature Chief Examiner, on the poetry of William Blake.

As a valuable adjunct to our visiting programme, we once again attended the Curtin University English and English Literature Seminar late in Term 2. Not only did this allow our boys to hear lectures from prominent Curtin academics and guest lecturers, it also allowed them to experience a slice of university life. While the logistics of transporting 180 boys and accompanying staff is quite demanding, the Curtin Conference proved a stimulating and worthwhile experience yet again.

Over the course of the year our boys compete in a number of internal and external English related competitions. Five of our Year 11 students – Robert Kwok, Eugene Yang, Chris Holt, Matthew Hargreaves and Oscar Morlet – were involved in the UWA run SmARTS Programme. SmARTS is an Arts Faculty based research experience for Year 11 students from a number of secondary schools, where students, guided by a UWA tutor, undertake research on assigned topics over two terms, culminating in a written and oral presentation. We also had four Year 8 boys – Harry Smallbone, Weiyan Fan, David Ellis and Matthew Price – take part in a prominent interschool spelling bee. Our internal competitions saw much frenzied and purposeful activity from a plethora of students. The Gresley Clarkson Prize for Communication was won by James Sprivulis in the Upper School and Adam Larbalestier in the Lower School. The PD Naish Poetry Prize was won by Joshua Mao from Year 12 who also won the Prize for Creative Writing in the Upper School. The winners of the English Department/Centre for Ethics Writing Competition were: James Fletcher in Year 8, Ruaridh Williamson in Year 9, Julian Chung in Year 10, Eugene Yang in Year 11 and Joshua Mao in Year 12.

Sadly we are losing some fine English teachers at the end of the year. The energetic and enthusiastic Gill Youngleson leaves us to take on a support role at Scotch College, where she will be closer to her two sons who attend that school, and Heavy Metal guitar hero and popular teacher James Matson leaves us for Hale School. Tim Evans also leaves us for new ventures. Finally our Director of Staff Development and long serving Literature teacher Michelle Gore has retired after a prominent career at a number of schools, the Catholic Education Office and the Curriculum Council. All these fine teachers are to be thanked for their committed and generous contribution to the lives of our students.

As I close I would like to extend my grateful thanks to my wonderful colleagues in the English Department. They have outdone themselves in their professionalism, diligence and perspicacity, in not only navigating the murky waters of the OBE and the Course of Study but in producing the best set of Year 12 results the School has seen, in the performance of the 2007 cohort. Many challenges remain, the continuing twists and turns of the Courses of Study, the amalgamation of Year 7 students into the Upper School in 2010 and the rapidly oncoming National Curriculum to name but a few. All in all though, with their great dedication, work ethic and good humour I am confident that we are, with apologies to Tennyson, "sitting well in order to smite the sounding furrows... to strive, to seek, to find, and not to yield."

HEALTH & PHYSICAL EDUCATION

2008 has been another very good year on the west side of the campus. Firstly I would like to start off by thanking the Physical Education staff for their efforts over the year. The boys are very lucky to have such a dedicated, professional and knowledgeable group of teachers.

We had an increase in the number of boys studying PE Studies, the first year this was a TEE course. The course is a combination of sports science and sports performance. The boys worked hard during the year and really enjoyed the practical sections of the course. These include:

- Various sports
- An archery experiment to demonstrate biomechanics of flight
- A tough exercise in the heat lab
- A fluid dynamics experiment in the pool where Olympian Jim Piper participated in the experiment in one of the new speedo shark suits
- An analysis of coaching styles and the watching of the movie Coach Carter.

All of this took place within a rigorous theoretical programme.

The top students in the PE Studies course for 2008 were

Year 11 PE Studies (1A)	Oliver Cox
Year 12 PE Studies (3A)	Tristan Bloor
Year 12 PE Studies (1C)	Reid Turner

The following boys won the PE awards and they have all set a fantastic example to their peers

Year 8	Andrew Ford
Year 9	Matt Smith
Year 10	Ben Power

A special mention must go to Sam Foster (Year 9) who reached level 15.10 in the 'Beep Test' during the Fitness Testing Unit. This is a remarkable score for a boy of his age. We continue to make the pursuit of health and fitness a major priority. Of course we can all do more to improve our own fitness and we have seen good improvements across the board over the last four years.

2008 has seen further promotion of riding to school. This year we gave away a couple of bikes and continue to work very hard to encourage as many boys as possible to ride as often as possible. It has been great to see a number of Prep mums and dads riding with their boys rather than using the car.

2009 will see the gym refurbishment completed. The boys will have some fantastic new facilities, including

- A massive strength and conditioning area with a lot of new equipment
- A new sports-science classroom
- A multi-purpose room primarily for the prep school
- New storage facilities.

All boys will have the opportunity to achieve their fitness potential in the coming years.

Other activities in the large PE and Health programme in 2008 included:

- All Year 8s completing a St John Ambulance Skills for Life Award
- All Year 9 and 10s completing the Bronze Star and Bronze Medallion
- Year 11 and 12s having the opportunity to participate in recreation programme focusing on fitness and fun. Included here were sports such as Canoe Polo, Kayaking, Weights and Lawn Bowls
- All Year 8 and 9s completing an introductory Rowing Course which has resulted in many boys taking up Rowing as a sport
- A health programme focusing on positive health but also including units on SunSmart, contraception and alcohol.

Mr. Andrew Lane is leaving at the end of 2008 to move to New Zealand and I will miss his professionalism and enthusiasm. He has been a great asset to the School and it has been a pleasure working with him to make the PE programme truly K-12.

Darren McPartland

Head of Health / Physical Education

It is very difficult not to be repetitive and start every INSTEP report with 'It has been another successful year' because the fact of the matter is that this is a fantastic subject where students are able to achieve great success.

All of the 25 students from Year 11 and 12 who have undertaken INSTEP this year have had the opportunity to discover their passion in a variety of different work places of Certificate courses.

Louis Bradley, Henry Gower and Jeremy House completed a Certificate III in Business; Michael Merrison, Reid Turner, Frank Ansey and Luke Davies thoroughly enjoyed the practical aspects of the Certificate I in Engineering Production Systems; Rovin Choi, Cameron Croll, Sam Templeton and Geoff Schoonakker were able to discover whether they could be the next Jamie Olivers by doing the Certificate II in Hospitality. All of these boys now have qualifications they can use to gain credit into TAFE or to gain employment.

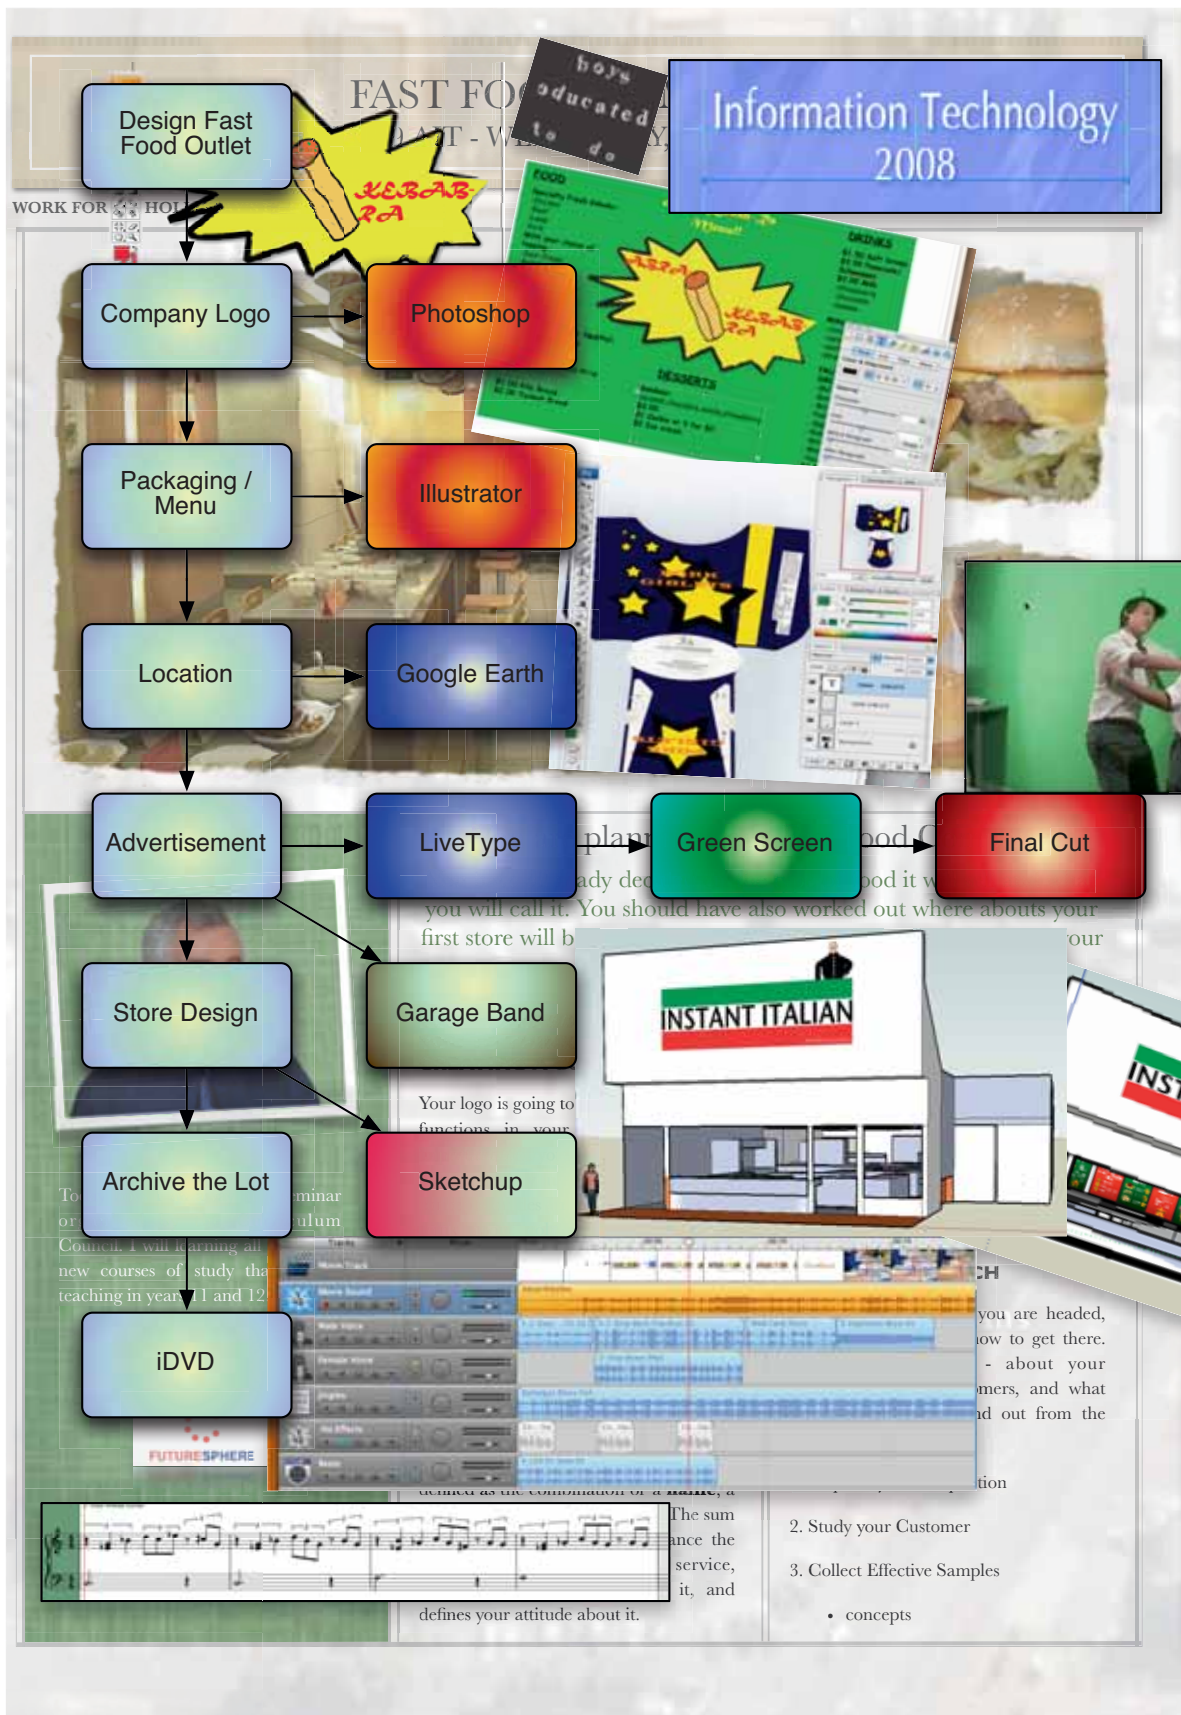

There have also been boys doing a variety of work placements including Oliver Cox at St John of God Hospital, Lucas Dunbar-Tapp at Abel McGrath Property Group, Drew Morris at D'Alton Design & Advertising and Jordan Lindley at La De Da to name a few. Blake Wiltshire, who was working for Rio Tinto Shared Services, and Doug Morgan, who worked at Nedlands Toyota, both received Certificates of Excellence in the Workplace, for which they were nominated by their employers. This certificate recognizes outstanding enthusiasm and motivation in the workplace and reflects exceptional diligence in meeting all of the program's requirements.

INSTEP is an excellent means for Year 11 and 12 students to gain experience in the work force and begin training while they are still at school. The result is a smooth transition from school to further training, study or the workplace.

LANGUAGE STUDIES

New staff, new directions, new challenges, even a new language: 2008, UNESCO's designated Year of Languages has been an astonishing year for Languages at Christ Church Grammar School! With new Head of Department, Elisabeth Gerber, keen to raise the profile of languages, the year has been remarkable for fresh ideas, high energy and very positive signs for the future.

The year saw three new staff begin: Mr Henning Holzheur as a German and French teacher, Miss Diane Hooley as a German and ESL teacher and Ms Phillipa Nock whose brief was to introduce Chinese into the secondary school. With French assistants, Sonia Haidri and Kevin Fontaine, student teachers Anne Chamot, Cat Harrison and Nikka Mamich and mentees Christoph Gross and the break-dancing Yu-Ya Kanzaki as well as stalwarts Mrs Linda Curlewis, Mr Michael Armstrong and Mr Jamie Foster, the Languages office has rarely been quiet and never been dull.

This dynamism has had a wonderful impact on the boys with far greater numbers choosing to continue their language studies and to prepare themselves for the global society of the future. Numbers in all language classes have improved and it has been heartening to see the vast majority of Year 8 boys choosing to continue with their language studies in Year 9. Some have even elected to add a second language to their course. With the top eight universities, including UWA, now offering a bonus to Year 12 students studying a second language there is now a tangible reward for those student who keep up their language study.

Christ Church Grammar School is the only boys' school in Perth offering four languages and the students are fortunate to be able to choose from French, German, Japanese and Chinese. The response to the introduction of Chinese has been most enthusiastic and future Christ Church Grammar School leavers will be well-positioned to capitalize on the opportunities available in this powerful economy.

2008 has also seen Christ Church Grammar School students shine in both the French Alliance examinations and the German DAS examinations with a number of students taking out the top prize in the relevant category. In the Alliance the following boys distinguished themselves: from Year 12 came three students in the top thirty, Joe Backhouse, Will MacDonald and Peter Davis; Robert Holt, from Year 11 took out first prize, winning himself a trip to New Caledonia, and Joseph Wong won seventh prize while from Year 10 Adam Larbalestier (first prize and a trip to Réunion Island), Vibhu Manchanda (third prize and a digital camera), Julian Chung (fifth prize) and Michael Cassie (ninth prize) also excelled. In the DAS examinations James Prindiville won first prize in Division 2 and Ben McAllister was awarded first prize in Division 3.

The department has been very fortunate this year to have the assistance of both a German and a Japanese Renta. Christoph and Yu-Ya worked individually with students to develop their oral skills as well as creating panoramic time lines showing the history of Japan and Germany. Their assistance has been invaluable and appreciated by both staff and students.

As well as normal classroom activities the department has been busy organising tours for languages that provide the boys with wonderful learning experiences in a much wider and more authentic classroom. In the Term 2 holidays a group of 19 boys headed for Japan, 30 students from Christ Church and Iona Presentation College visited France, and a contingent went to Germany in June and July. As part of the school's reciprocal exchange programme, students from Lycée Saint-Jean et la Croix also spent time at Christ Church.

The year has also seen the students participate in cultural learning experiences related to the country of the language they are studying. Year 11 Japanese students showed their culinary expertise in preparing a traditional Japanese meal of Sukiyaki, Year 8 German classes continued with the tradition of baking biscuits for advent while the Year 6 and 7 Chinese students enjoyed a day of games, competitions, Chinese conversation and traditional Chinese dancing at the Panda Olympics. Fortunate French students have sampled delicious French pastries at an authentic patisserie!

2008 has been a milestone year for the Languages department and it is with much anticipation that staff and students approach 2009.

LIBRARY

It has been an exciting year for all in the CLC Library. Increased student involvement, the fostering of reading for pleasure and the teaching of Information Literacy Skills have been the three main areas of focus this year.

A diversity of strategies designed to foster reading for pleasure and a more meaningful connection to the CLC Library have been utilised this year. These included:

- Expanding the Travelling Library collection to include Graphic Novels, Comics, Fiction, general interest Non-fiction and audio-tapes to cater for the broader interests of the boys
- Forming a student committee to establish a Comic Book / Magazine Exchange where boys could swap old favourites for other different and exciting issues
- Utilizing the unique storytelling talents of Glen Swift who captivated the attention of the Year 7, 8 and 9 boys with his tales that he created from books he had read and events that had taken place in his life
- Involving students in the WA Young Readers' Book Award which encouraged boys to voice their opinions and vote for books chosen from a list chosen by young readers from around Western Australia
- Lunchtime screenings of the Olympic Games combined with fantastic eye-catching displays that we had to replenish many times due to heavy borrowing
- Creating a comfortable, vibrant and casual classroom sized reading area instantly seen by everyone who enters the CLC Library.

At the end of Term 2 Alison Hewson retired after many years of dedicated service and after almost nine years at Christ Church Grammar School, Narelle Beebe resigned to take up a promotional position in the public library sector. Their dedication to the staff and students, professionalism, loyalty, knowledge and experience will be missed by all.

Of course, when someone leaves new staff take their place. We have the very good fortune to have Helen Knight and Margaret Chapple joining our team in a job-share situation next year. Both come with an enormous wealth of knowledge, experience and expertise in both teaching and librarianship.

Lastly, a big thank you to the FOLA volunteers who have been magnificent in helping the CLC Library team process and shelve resources. With all the new staff and the many initiatives we would like to trial, we look forward to yet another exciting year.

MATHEMATICS

Preparation for the new Courses of Study and for the addition of Year 7 to our secondary programme has been the main focus for us in Mathematics this year, and we are confident that we are well resourced and ready for both of these major changes. As well as these changes we have to cope with the required addition of Computer Algebra System calculators, which is at once exciting and time-consuming.

As usual competitions have been important supplements to our class work, and the MAWA Have-Sum-Fun competitions were among our best ever. The Junior team of Ben McAllister and Patrick Dyer (Year 10), Harry Briedahl and Guy Coleman (Year 9) and Alistair Morgan and Samuel Morgan (Year 8) won the competition ahead of Hale, Chisholm, All Saints' and Trinity and 80 other teams. The Senior team of Daren Tan, Sandip Mukhopadhyay and Shrimal Fernando (Year 12) and Jason Kong, Bo An Lu and Joseph Wong (Year 11) also were first, ahead of Shenton College and Hale as well as some 75 teams from Perth and Bunbury, winning the prestigious Larry Blakers Award for that success as the top WA team.

In the AMC (Westpac) competition we had 400 entrants, and CCGS boys earned 93 Distinctions (top 15% of the State), 32 High Distinctions (in the top 2% of WA), and 5 prizes. These boys (Joseph Di Francesco and Weiyuan Fan of Year 8, Thomas Drake-Brockman and Harry Briedahl of Year 9, and Jason Kong of Year 11) were in the top 3 per thousand competitors.

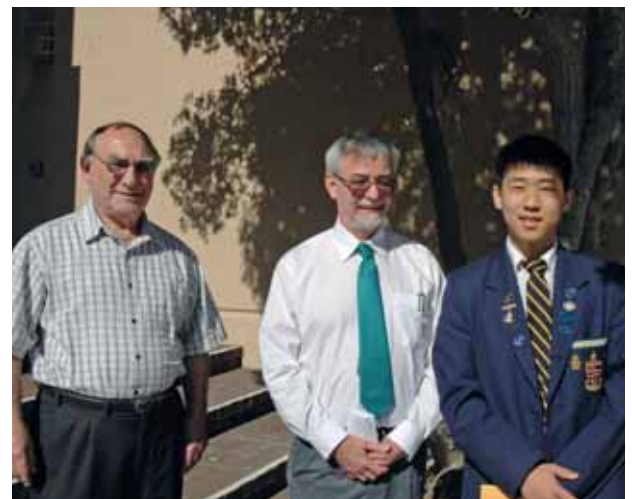

The Mathematics Challenge again was a productive programme conducted over two terms. The results for the Year 8 group taken by Mr. Ferguson were excellent, with his group earning six High Distinctions and six Distinctions. In Year 9 taken by Mr Mailes we gained six High Distinctions and one Distinction, while in Year 10 led by Mr Ruthven we gained two High Distinctions (Jason Ah Teck and Ben McAllister) of the 12 awarded in total in Australia. Victor Yau also earned a Distinction in this very demanding programme.

At a higher level again Patrick Dyer, Robert Buttner, Ben McAllister and Weiwen Weng earned Distinctions in the Australian Intermediate Mathematical Olympiad and Jason Kong was awarded a High Distinction in the Australian Olympiad Senior Contest, placing him in the top five in Australian for Year 11 students and top in WA. To surpass that would be a challenge, but Jason also earned a Silver Medal for the top student in the State in the Australian Mathematical Olympiad, a wonderful performance. These performances contributed to the award of the Phill Schultz Award to Jason as the best-performing student in the State at Olympiad level.

MUSIC

The Music Department enjoyed a very successful 2008 with some outstanding group and solo performances. The Jazz Tour to Melbourne in April/May was a great energy boost for those students and staff involved. Staff and students have also coped well with the change of building, and our new classrooms and offices provide more space, flexibility and river views!

In Term 1 the focus was on the combined St Hilda's/CCGS Concert, with the Pergolesi Magnificat as the central piece for Choir and Orchestra. This proved to be a superb showcase of solo voices, choral work and vibrant string playing. David Golding and Jesse Bartle gave confident and sensitive performances as soloists, and Ms Croston's detailed conducting made the most of phrasings and dynamics. Other combined items from Senior Orchestra, Band and Jazz Bands added to the wonderful spirit of the evening.

The Melbourne Tour in April for the 20 Jazz Band students, accompanied by Mr Gillam, Mr Mandin and Mr Guazzelli, was a great success. Performances at Scotch College and Bennett's Lane (the home of jazz in Australia) were warmly received, and students and staff were also amazed at the skill levels of players performing in the International Jazz Fringe Festival. Various sightseeing opportunities included the MCG, St Kilda, Old Melbourne Gaol and the Melbourne Concert Hall.

Term 2 brought with it the Scholars' Recital Night. This is always a great evening of virtuosic instrumental playing from the Music Scholarship holders, and the 2008 concert was no exception. The crystal clear acoustic of the CLC Foyer added much to the success of the occasion.

Concerto Night in Term 3 was a standout event in the year's calendar. Our Year 12 soloists Tim Sandhu, Daniel Nazroo, Ryan Alciaturi, Sam Carew-Reid, Andrew Summerlin and Tom McKeesick performed wonderfully with Daniel nearly destroying the MLC drum kit in the process! Recognition must also be given to all of the CCGS boys for their work in accompanying the soloists – the Orchestra and Jazz Band were very polished.

Also in Term 3 was the WA Schools Orchestra Festival, and our three representatives – Chamber, Symphony and Preparatory – performed extremely well. The awards of Outstanding, Outstanding and Excellent respectively are a real testament to the very high skill levels of our string and woodwind players – well done to all.

The Advent Carol Service to close the year was a joyous evening, with the Choir singing with great spirit. Joseph Nolan on organ added much grandeur to the service, and the Prep Choir, led by Ms Seaman, the Staff Choir and the Senior School Chamber Choir (directed by Philip Murray) also sang very well.

Throughout the year the Music Department has also been involved in a number of other concerts. These include the St George's Cathedral Lunchtime Concert Series (in Terms 2 and 3), the Week 9 Blues in Terms 1 and 2 (a big thank you to Mr Millard for his efforts here) and performing at various charity fundraising concerts. The fortnightly Assembly items from Music Department ensembles and soloists are also an important part of the musical tapestry in the School, and many students had the opportunity to perform in front of their peers. Notable performers in 2008 included Jason Kong (violin), Riley Skevington (violin), Fraser Wallace (violin), Bo An Lu (piano), Daniel Nazroo (drums), New Dog (rock'n'roll band) and the Jazz Combo.

The musical year also included several excursions, including trips to performances by the WA Symphony Orchestra, WA Jazz Orchestra, WA Opera as well as to SciTech. On all of these occasions, the music students showed a willingness to engage themselves in the experience, and were excellent ambassadors for the School.

Of course, music making requires much rehearsal and administration, and those staff "behind the scenes" should be acknowledged. Thanks to Mrs Greenwood (Music Department Admin Assistant) for her superbly efficient and friendly manner, to Mr Guazzelli for his great work in many roles as Music Librarian, and to Mr Lamb (accompanist) for his great mentorship and musical guidance. We also say farewell to Kade Brown who worked in the Prep and Senior Schools as classroom teacher and conductor, and thank him for his efforts. The advice and support of Friends of Music should also be recognized, a vital group in the School's musical life. Here's hoping 2009 is as musically rich and rewarding!

PETER MOYES CENTRE

The PMC classroom is often a venue of feverish activity, with students honing their Functional English and Math skills, developing their workplace safety skills, participating in discussions on good work habits and their roles and responsibilities in the workplace. The PMC boys are often seen moving off in various directions to collect paper from around the school, maintain a worm farm or attend a variety of mainstream classes.

For most of the year many of the students have been involved in the Friday Community Based Learning program. This program has provided the boys with the opportunity to develop their orientation, mobility, social and functional math skills in the Claremont precinct. Luke Andrews is to be congratulated on his success at his work placements at the Wearne Hostel and Target. James Fraser was awarded a Silver Certificate for his commitment and hard work at his INSTEP placement at Scotch College. It is rewarding to see our students grow in both confidence and ability in the workplace. They continue to be fine ambassadors for the Centre and we wish them well with their next placements.

The PMC boys have been involved in a wide range of activities since the beginning of the year. One of the highlights would have to be our visit to the science laboratory where the boys under the watchful eye of resident science guru Mrs Julie Harris examined the unusual properties of liquid nitrogen. The session culminated with the students enjoying the end product of the experiment – ice-cream.

The boys continue to look forward to the Monday music sessions under the direction of Maestro Mrs Gillian Croston who has helped to further the boys' appreciation of music in a fun-filled environment.

The ACC Para Sport Carnivals have been another popular activity. These activities have provided the boys with the opportunity to participate as a team in a competitive environment where sportsmanship was the order of the day. I commend the boys on their success especially on winning the soccer carnival.

We often find the boys in the kitchen developing their independent living skills. Their cooking and social skills were put to the test when they invited the girls from Methodist Ladies College over for pizza and their grandmothers to afternoon tea. Both events were such a success that the boys are hoping for more opportunities of this type.

My sincere thanks go to all the teachers for their support in providing an inclusive learning environment for the PMC boys in their tutorials and classes. I would also like to thank the hard working Education Assistants: Ms Wolfenden, Ms Meiers, Mrs Ryan, Mrs Deacon and Mr Mann for their good humour, support and professionalism. Our boys continue to experience success in many areas of their programme. It is rewarding to see our students develop into wonderful young individuals who are developing important skills that will help them deal with many of life's challenges.

I wish them all the best for 2009.

PHILOSOPHY

It has been an eventful year for Philosophy, Ethics and Religion at CCGS. Students in Year 9 were introduced to the structure of reasoning and encouraged to apply this knowledge both to advancing and evaluating arguments. The same process was reinforced with Year 10 students as they grappled with philosophical and ethical themes during lessons.

This year witnessed the introduction in Year 11 of the new Philosophy and Ethics Course of Study. This was an historic event as philosophy and ethics has not previously been an option for students in Western Australia.

A successful foray into competitive inter-school philosophy discussion resulted in Christ Church taking the honours in this year's Hale School Philosothon. 16 schools competed and the topics up for discussion were divided into four branches of philosophical inquiry. First, an issue arising within the philosophy of religion, how can a good and all-powerful God permit innocent suffering? Second, an issue arising within the philosophy of mind, can a robot be conscious? Third, an ethical issue, is there a right to be rescued? Fourth, an issue arising within epistemology, the branch of philosophy concerned with knowledge. The question here was why are human beings easily deceived? Post-graduate philosophy students facilitated the communities of inquiry and lecturers in philosophy from all four local universities judged individual participation. Judges were interested, primarily, in the cogency of participants' arguments. The successful team members were Alistair Morgan (Year 8), Hugh Edwards (Year 9), Ben McAllister (Year 10), Tom Bransden and Robert Kwok (Year 11).

The introduction of senior student philosophy, ethics and religion seminars saw the entire Year 11 cohort meet on three separate occasions during the year to hear invited speakers present. In Term 1 Richard Pengelly (a water polo Olympian) talked about the relationship between sport and spirituality. In Term 2 Ajahn Brahm (a Buddhist monk) talked about Buddhist philosophy. In Term 3 Roly Bain (a priest clown) talked about Christian ethics. All three events proved stimulating for the boys.

SOCIAL SCIENCE AND ARCHIVES

Social Science

This year proved once again to be a most productive and rewarding one for staff and boys and the department takes great pleasure in noting the achievements of many boys at State and National levels. The success of boys in many contexts of Geography, History and Politics reflects the conscientious and dedicated work of all the teaching staff within the Department over several years of education, mentoring and guidance. It is pleasing to reflect on the strong bonds that have developed between the staff and boys over recent years. Long may it continue.

In no particular order we congratulate:

Christopher Wong, from Year 10, who will be going to the battlefields of the Western Front in April 2009 as a winner of the ANZAC Student Tour Essay Competition. Chris secured his place after completing a 1000 word essay on the importance of the ANZAC Day Commemorations, presenting a five minute speech on the topic and being interviewed by a panel of judges.

Lawrence Ward managed to combine his love of History with his talents in Geography as he represented Australia in the International Geography Olympiad in Tunisia. Lawrence came away with a bronze medal but also managed to satisfy his curiosity for History as he toured and investigated the sites of Carthage.

Also in the field of Geography, Patrick Mackenzie and Tom Baston represented Western Australia in the National Finals of the Australian Geography Competition. The Final involves problem solving and fieldwork in and around the town of Noosa in Queensland and the team to represent Australia in 2009 will be chosen from all of the State Finalists.

A number of Year 11 students attended the Western Australian State Schools Constitutional Convention. Blake Stove was selected to attend the National Convention in Canberra and was able to debate and discuss issues relating to Australia's Constitution alongside other State representatives.

Achievements such as the ones mentioned above are the cumulative result of a depth and breadth of learning experiences and teacher guidance and mentoring. All members of the teaching staff are to be congratulated on their contributions to the greater picture of learning within the Department.

Incursions are considered to be a significant part of the programme and this year we once again hosted a very informative and instructional visit by a team from the Joint Civics Education Programme. In educating boys about the operation of our Nation's and our State's electoral system we are offering them the opportunity to become informed citizens. The work that is done in Year 9 prepares boys for the voting process conducted in School to elect Prefects and later for State and Federal Elections.

For the first time, a group of Year 10 boys entered the Spatial Technologies in Schools Competition and worked closely with a professional mentor to construct and research their topics. This connection with the 'real' world provided relevance to the fascinating world of Geographic Information Systems and motivated a number of boys to enquire about career opportunities in this area.

Once again, this year is witness to the energy of staff and boys extending well beyond the classroom: a reality about which we all may be justifiably proud.

At the end of Semester One we bade farewell to Ms Helen Oke after eight years of enthusiastic teaching, especially in Geography. Nobody exemplified the energy of the department more than Helen did and we wish her well in her future endeavours.

Archives

The School History and Archives unit continues to be popular with students. This unit has been enhanced by the development of a teacher workbook to support the student workbook. Feedback from the staff and students was again positive with the Heritage Walk and Archives visit being among the more popular activities.

A major task of the Archives this year has been the digitisation of The Mitre and Chronicle magazines, which are now available on the School's website. The magazines are in PDF format and can be fully searched using keywords. Preparation for digitisation involved the copying of older, fragile pre-1930 issues, collation, indexation and lots of checking. These tasks were made easier with the assistance of volunteers Jenni Townsend and Aliya Porter, who made sure all pages were there and in the right order.

Jenni, Aliya and old boy volunteer Berkeley Allen have also been involved in assisting with the appendices and compilation of a centenary register for the School's history publication. Volunteers Karen Moller and Maria Barr have been of great assistance describing and rehousing our photograph and museum collections.

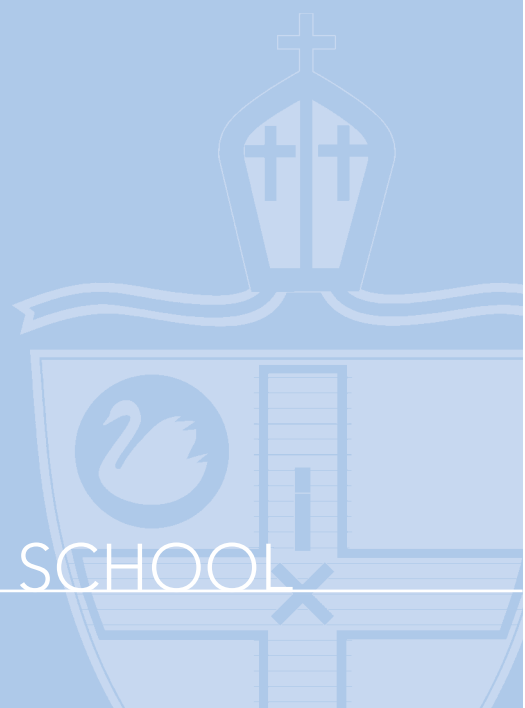

A significant part of the Archives programme has been the recording of oral histories. Oral histories document the history of the School from the personal perspective of the participant, giving a unique insight into life as a teacher or schoolboy in the past. Oral history interviews are an important source of information for the School's historian Wendy Hillman, who is currently working on the School's history. Segments of oral histories are also used in the School History and Archives unit where students can hear first-hand accounts of life and events at the School in the past. Thank you to all of the participants in the oral history programme who so generously gave their time.

SECTION SIX

FROM THE HEADMASTER

It is with a great deal of pleasure that I reflect on 2008.

We wished Godspeed to the Year 7s, not far from the 100th group to leave us, and we farewelled staff who made incredible contributions to the boys and the Christ Church community.

Each boy in the Preparatory School was given the best chance by a combination of circumstance and good planning. To those who so skilfully guided them academically, emotionally, physically and spiritually, I offer my thanks.

The boys were blessed with a staff that had only one thing at the forefront of their minds and actions: the boys. Their collegiality, enthusiasm and integrity made the Prep school a unique place, one which I enjoyed being a part of each and every day.

As I have often said, change is our constant. This year was no exception. We farewelled Mr Wight earlier in the year and I would like to acknowledge again the great contribution he made to the School.

Miss Karen Duffy, Mr Andrew Lane and Mrs Shirley Dix also be 'graduated', albeit to a different stage of their journey. Miss Duffy was an integral part of the school as captain of the Peter Moyes Centre and taught us all so much. Her passion for the boys and her great leadership in this field left us with a lasting legacy – one that truly encapsulates inclusion. Her "see the person, not the problem" mantra will echo down the corridors for many years to come.

Mr Lane moved across the ditch from Australia to New Zealand. Since coming into the Prep School Andrew had an incredible influence on boys and staff alike. His enthusiasm and positive attitude saw PE and Sport flourish.

Mrs Dix also made connections with boys that will be remembered by many of her charges. She worked tirelessly ensuring all boys had the opportunity to become the best they can be. For that, we thank her.

We farewelled Mr Rickman, who is going to The King's School in Sydney next year, with the aim of broadening his teaching experience. His work with his classes, in particular in regard to literature and written expression, is renowned. Thanks also went to Kade Brown and Ruth Telemcos for their contributions.

To the Year 7 boys who left our part of the school to explore new challenges and opportunities in the Senior School, your time with us has essentially been preparing you for this moment. Our measure of success will be found in how you go about your journey over the next few years.

Boys, I offer my congratulations on your achievements, but in particular, I thank you for what you gave the Prep School. You led the school in so many ways and continued to live and learn with vigour, resiliency and good humour. That so many of you sing, learn instruments, draw, paint, play sport, dance, act, and read only intensifies for me the value of difference and how that difference is celebrated at the School.

Perhaps the best advice I can offer you is from Dr Seuss. It's entitled:

Oh, the Places You'll Go
Congratulations!
Today is your day.
You're off to Great Places!
You're off and away!

You have brains in your head.
You have feet in your shoes
You can steer yourself
Any direction you choose.
You're on your own. And you know what you know
And YOU are the guy who'll decide where to go.

You'll look up and down streets. Look 'em over with care.
About some you will say, "I don't choose to go there."
With your head full of brains and your shoes full of feet,
You're too smart to go down any not – so – good street.

And you may not find any
You'll want to go down.
In that case, of course,
You'll head straight out of town.

It's opener there
In the wide open air

Out there things can happen and frequently do
To people as brainy and footsy as you.

And when things start to happen,
Don't worry. Don't stew.
Just go right along.
You'll start happening too.

You're off to great Places
Today is your day!
Your mountain is waiting.
So... get on your way.

SKI TRIP

The Falls Creek Experience

This year, with the promise of good snowfall, thirty-two eager boys hopped on the plane ready for the holiday in the snow. It was the trip we had planned, discussed and anticipated all year. We were asked to be at the domestic air terminal at 5:30am, but most of us were so psyched that we showed up at 5:15am. When we got on the plane, everyone was excited because we had TVs on the flight. When we were taking off most of the boys were trying to decide what to watch, but, then the screen put on a message saying, "To keep enjoying this product swipe your credit card now." It was not to be. The flight was still enjoyable to all and even a glance at our teachers proved that they were on the same wave length as us.

On the way to the mountain we stopped at McDonald's where we discovered that some of the boys still love the playground. Then it was back on the bus for the final stage of the journey to the mountain. On the way, we went past some wonderful scenery and got a little shook up by the weaving road that was close to the edge of the cliff. As you can imagine one boy's stomach couldn't take it. After arriving we made our way to Viking Lodge. We had pizza for dinner, played, unpacked and went to bed.

The next day was thrilling. Some boys got up too early and got dressed ready for snow which was hours away. We went to the ski shop and got fitted for ski boots and helmets. Then it was time for lunch which was pricey. Finally, it was time for most boys to have their first skiing lesson. The more experienced skiers went with different teachers and learnt fancy things like the 360 jump. After the lesson, our teachers came and got us. Then the whole group tackled Wombat's Ramble. Most boys lost their way but were easily found. The first day was a success.

For the rest of the week, we skied in our groups. On the last day we went down many new runs such as Highway 83. We enjoyed watching each other make progress on the slopes but the best thing was skiing in a snake formation. After skiing, we usually had a hot shower and enjoyed meals made by Viking Lodge. There weren't many complaints about those at all. We were allowed to make our own hot chocolate and helped clean the dishes. After dinner we were tired so we played Connect 4, Monopoly or watched a little TV and then went to bed.

At the end of the week everyone was tired and getting ready to go home. The bus trip home was a lot more pleasant because the television was on and most boys were watching. After we arrived at the airport we checked in our luggage and had some dinner. We finally boarded the plane and settled in for the flight home. Most of the boys were very tired and slept whilst others listened to the radio. After a four hour flight we landed in Perth and were greeted by our parents.

Over all, the trip was enormous fun and the skiing conditions were great. On behalf of all the boys on the trip, I say thank you to Mr Fagan, Mr Williamson, Mrs Lee, Mrs Joseph, Mrs Hallett and Mrs Knight. Another large thank you to Mr Fagan for organising a really great DVD for us all to remember our holiday.

CHESS

The past year has seen an increase in the number of boys wanting to play Chess, especially in the younger year levels. Each Thursday boys enthusiastically competed against one another and learnt new moves to try out on their opponents.

Mr Wight coordinated the group with the assistance of parents until his departure at the end of Semester Two. Mrs Gale took over with the help of Mr David Seggie, an old boy of the School and a very able Chess player.

Mr Seggie used part of the club's time to instruct the boys of ranging abilities and ages and then supervised and encouraged. He will continue in this capacity in 2009.

The Preparatory Chess Club was successful once again this year winning the IPSCHA trophy against 27 other schools. The team comprised of Liam Kearney, Vaughan Greenberger, Christopher Jones and Gagan Singh.

Thank you to all of the boys for their commitment, time and effort while building their chess skills.

DALE HOUSE

2008 was a marvellous year for Dale House. There were numerous individuals who achieved outstanding results in their academic work, musicians continued to shine, our efforts in both the Swimming and Athletics carnivals were our best for many years and to top it all off we won the Giles Shield for the second time in three years. Dale's consistency as a House has been the benchmark in the Giles Shield competition, having finished in the top two in each of the last seventeen terms!

Our House teachers, Mr Rickman, Mrs Joseph, Mrs Gale, Mrs Miller and Mrs Feaver were extremely proud of the Year 7 leadership group. Captain Simon Swan and Vice-Captain Rohan Golestani got us off to an excellent start in Term 1 while Tashi Stewart and Charlie Evans consolidated the House's position in Term 2. Jack Teague was our Captain in Term 3 with Luke Liu as his Vice-Captain, whilst Charlie was back again with Warwick Montgomery for Term 4. These boys ensured that our Duty responsibilities, line-ups, hats and general demeanour as a House were first class.

Our "Achilles' heel" in recent years has been our sporting performances but not so in 2008. In the Athletics Carnival we accumulated 1109 points to finish in second place behind Stirling (1284). The "team game" results were particularly encouraging, as they reflected not only our competitiveness but highlighted our focus on the little details within the respective activities. The third placing in the Term 1 Swimming Carnival was also a pleasing performance.

From an individual perspective, congratulations to the following Dale boys who were recognised for their application and talent: Alex Chua (Orchestra Prize), Nicholas Dormer (Basketball), Charlie Evans (Football), Rohan Golestani (Parents' Association Art Prize) and Hugo Hardisty (The Gresley Clarkson Prize for Communication). Academic Excellence awards were presented to: Simon Swan (7JK), Hugo Hardisty (6PW), Elliott Smith (6NP), Albert Qiu (5VH), Nicholas Brennan (5JL) and Terry Pham (5BC). Class Citizenship Prizes were earned by: Christopher Akehurst (5BC), Jeremy Fatouros (5JL), Christopher Popovic (6PW) and Campbell Draper (7TG). Class Merit Prizes were awarded to: Nicholas Hart (4BH), Harrison Shearn (4JG), Stefano Tudor (5BC), Tristan Colli (5VH), Hunter Jackson (5VH), Matthew Carulli (6PW), Alex Chua (7AR), Nicholas Dormer (7AR), Rohan Golestani (7GM), James Quackenbush (7JK), Luke Liu (7TG) and Cameron Schoonakker (7TG). On behalf of Dale House we wish the departing Year 7 boys good health and the best of luck in the Senior School.

FORREST HOUSE

With the onset of 2008 Forrest House set a goal to win the Giles Shield for the first time in many years. We identified key areas on which to focus and improve our position in the rankings.

Early in first term the school swimming carnival was held. It was a very exciting time, for the depth of competitors in our house was very evident. Forrest House won the swimming carnival: we were victorious owing to all boys competing to the best of their ability. It was a great occasion for the boys and provided the basis for a strong house spirit.

At the end of the first semester we were two points behind Dale and aimed for a consistent effort for the following half of the year. A big thanks goes to Blair Ward's mother for purchasing pizzas and bringing them to school for a celebration. All boys enjoyed the activities and went off on holiday with happy hearts.

At the commencement of second semester, all members of Forrest felt confident we could complete our mission and win the shield. Early indicators suggested we were on track but we faltered towards the end of third term. Our line-ups and chapel money contributions were lower than other houses', which cost us dearly. Compounding the problem was the points awarded at line-ups for a hat count. Too often we lost valuable points, which proved costly at the end of the year.

Our annual Cross Country season is brief, but exciting. Each member of the house ran as well as he possibly could and this was clearly evident with the many flushed faces at the end of the event. All boys were very proud of their efforts and overall win. Athletics season also provides a wonderful opportunity for the house to bond. This was the case again as the team united to gain a creditable and close third place.

After a long year, Forrest House came agonisingly close to winning. After a 35 week competition Dale House reigned supreme by a meagre twenty points. Having come so close to winning the competition the boys were understandably disappointed. This will provide the impetus to do better next year and be consistent in all areas of the competition.

Our leadership group this year was very pleasing. Each boy assumed responsibility well and was very committed to the house and its direction. The standard has been established and all members of Forrest House are eagerly waiting for 2009.

GILES HOUSE

Giles once again demonstrated our House traditions of strong leadership, enthusiastic participation and healthy competition in 2008. We started off the year in good spirits and all got involved in the Inter-House Swimming Carnival that was held on a warm evening early in Term One. Individual medallions were won by Lawrence Mitchell, who was outstanding in winning the Year 5 50M Freestyle, Butterfly and Backstroke events. He also came second in the Breaststroke event. Other boys to do well were Simon Cunningham, Callum White and Mark Matthews. Jack Birchmore, Nicholas Millar, Lukas Pfeifle and Matthew Carroll also gave their heart and soul for their house.

We spent a great deal of time training for the different track, field and team events in Term 3's Inter-House event, the Athletics Carnival. Everyone displayed good sportsmanship and a willingness to do their part for their House with all boys competing in at least two events. There was great excitement when we won both the Junior and Senior leaderball and all the boys showed incredible commitment to the tug-of-war. There were many boys with shirts full of ribbons and cheery grins to match. Congratulations to all on their positive attitude and fine personal performances.

The Cross-Country Carnival was another opportunity for the boys to show their House spirit and aim for a good personal performance as well. All boys who participated earned points for completing the course.

Giles has once again enjoyed the guidance of excellent House Leaders this year. Ashwin Ramanathan, Joshua Wong, Beau Christian, Jack Birchmore, Matthew Carroll, Alasdair Henderson and Thomas Sheminant set a fine example for the boys. Congratulations to Ashwin Ramanathan for being elected as a captain twice throughout the year. His positive, encouraging style of leadership also earned him the Old Boys' Association Citizenship Award at Speech Morning.

Thanks go to the staff who are part of the Giles team: Mrs Helen Adams, Miss Nicole Pascoe, Mr Ross MacKenzie and Miss Emma Whiting have helped at various House events throughout the year. A special mention must go to Mr Jerome Griffin who has helped considerably with many of the responsibilities of running Giles with me this year. It has also been wonderful to have the support of the Giles parents who came along to cheer us on in our different endeavours. We have once again had an enjoyable year. Well done Giles!

STIRLING HOUSE

What a year it has been for Stirling! Our Term 1 leaders were Patrick Burton and Tom Wambeek and they inspired us in the Swimming Carnival with their house spirit. We were looking to make it a record six years in a row of winning the carnival. Our juniors put up a strong fight and our senior boys put in stellar performances, enabling us to retain the swimming title once again. A number of our new boys contributed significant performances on the night.

In Term 2, Mrs Knight led the house. Many thanks to her for all of her efforts. Our House Captains were Edward Southall and Liam Stocklinger, who did a brilliant job, especially running the Mothers' Day raffle. This raised a lot of money for charity. Our duty scores were a little low in the beginning of the term, but they increased as the term progressed.

In Term 3 our house captains Liam Stocklinger and Adrian McKenna were very busy, especially Liam who was also the School Captain. During the Athletics Carnival, Stirling ran strongly, especially the Year 6s and 7s, and many Stirling boys were invited to run in the championship races. Stirling did well and at the end of the day managed to win the carnival just a few points ahead. At the Cross-Country the Stirling boys ran their hardest, with higher scores as the year levels went up. By the time we came to the Year 7s, we held first, second and (maybe) third place. At the end of the day when everyone was tired and puffed we were pleased to learn that Stirling had come second.

Term 4 went very fast. Our House Captains were Edward Southall and Tom Wulff, with Edward doubling up as School Captain. We were involved in two charity activities: one to collect supplies in support of the Pilgrimage of Hope to India and the other to make Christmas tags for the many food hampers packed for Anglicare. Whilst we didn't win the Giles Shield, Stirling had a wonderful year. Thank you to all the captains and vice captains and the other house teachers Mrs Knight, Ms Duncan, Mr McPherson and Mr Fagan for helping to make our house a great one in 2008.

ATHLETICS

This year, Athletics was a frustrating affair. The house carnival was rescheduled and the interschool carnival was cancelled due to poor weather. Highlights included Lachlan Bahen (Year 7) running in the inaugural CCGS Gift, which was a handicap race for the fastest sprinters from Year 7 to 12.

The pre-3 Athletics Carnival was, as always, a highlight of the year as it is very exciting to see the boys enjoy the thrill of the race.

Inter-House Athletics

After being cancelled due to a poor weather forecast the week before, the Year 4-7 Interhouse Athletics Carnival was held at Mt Claremont on Monday September 22. It was a glorious day, and the boys had a fantastic time competing for their houses. This year the medallions were awarded to athletes who earned the most points in championship races.

Interschool Athletics 2008

The 2008 Interschool Athletics Carnival was to be held at Aquinas, however it was cancelled due to rain. The CCGS athletics team members were most disappointed when they arrived at school to find they had to spend the rest of the day in class instead of running for their school.

BASKETBALL

The 2008 Basketball Squad was outstanding in its enthusiasm and willingness to put into action the skills learnt at training. Whilst the boys had reasonable successes in terms of wins, their ability to play as a team was second to none. As forecast in last year's Mitre, the long-term outlook for basketball at the LW Parry Preparatory School was bright and with this year's playing group working hard, that forecast was proved accurate.

The focus on individual ball handling skills along with shooting skills continued in 2008. A stronger emphasis on the boys 'driving to the basket' was also introduced. However, our most significant gains were at the other end of the court playing smart, aggressive defence. It was most apparent in matches that our players understood the need to be accountable for a player and to follow the team instructions of 'not reaching' and 'cutting off the sidelines'.

Nick Dormer was the student who most epitomised hard, competitive basketball and great sportsmanship and skill. He was awarded this year's basketball prize.

Tashi Stewart, Adrian McKenna, Bronte Sutherland, Chris Popovic, Ryan Moriarty, Jack Birchmore, Thomas Golovoda, Warwick Montgomery, Max Welborn, Jacques O'Brien, Paddy Fisher, Nic Power, Nic Millar, William Hoffmann, Lachy Gilmour, William Thomas and Edward Blake all continued on from 2007 and played important roles for their respective teams.

James Quackenbush and Andrew Reynolds added height, strength and talent for the 'A' team while Cameron Schoonakker and Henry Mony de Kerloy provided aggression and speed.

A very special thank you to Ms Vanessa Hallett, Mrs Julie Knight and Mr Ronan Kinsella who all coached at various times this year. Well done to all players for their efforts in 2008. Good luck to our Year 7 boys in their sporting endeavours in the years ahead.

The Prep cricket season 2008 will be remembered as a year of disparity; in Term 1, four teams were regularly fielded, with several players left over, whilst in Term 4 we scarcely had enough players to fill the A and B sides. Happily, this fall-off in numbers did not stem from waning interest in the game itself. Many boys simply found themselves playing so much cricket for their clubs by the start of Term 4 that they opted for one of the many other summer sports available at the School.

Most of our strongest players persevered, however, so neither the standard of the cricket the A team played nor the results it achieved seemed to suffer unduly from the downturn. Across the season, we won more games than we lost and, in those games where we were unsuccessful, the winning margin was never so great that we could justifiably accuse ourselves of having been totally outclassed.

Special mention goes to Sam Blakiston. Sam is a medium-paced left-artermer who can bring the ball back in late to right-handers. This ability brought him a number of wickets during the season, and umpires were kept busy with leg before wicket appeals when he was bowling. Kyle Kerton and Matt Horton both scored runs at opportune times and also chipped in with some useful wickets.

Nic House was awarded the Cricket Prize for 2008. Not only did he bowl fast and look at ease with a bat in his hand, but as captain he also set sensible fields according to the way the game was progressing.

CROSS COUNTRY

The beautiful sunny day on August 14 was perfect for this event. After our winter sport programme, our boys were well prepared for our first event on the athletics programme. It was great to see all boys from Year 1 to 7 competing in their house colours and giving their best effort.

The best thing about cross-country is that it does not always matter what place you get when you cross the line. Every runner who competed earned valuable points for their house, and at the end of the day it was very close.

FOOTBALL

At the commencement of the 2008 football season fifteen key indicators were identified as the main focus for our game and training regime. Constant practice and awareness of these provided the team with the nucleus of playing a good, effective brand of football. Along with the points of focus, the frequent message of 'you play like you train' was instilled with the aim of developing a quality training programme and each boy's football ability.

The season commenced with our first interschool fixture at Guildford Grammar School. It was a wonderful contest with CCGS managing to win a tightly fought encounter by 9 points.

A week later we travelled to Wesley College and had another victory. Whilst it was a convincing victory, aspects of our game were disappointing and below the standard we had aimed to achieve.

The game against Hale School was always going to be challenging. We were clearly outsized and were comprehensively beaten.

A follow-up game against Scotch College was very demoralising for the group. The boys from Scotch were much larger and physically a lot stronger. At the end of the game a number of our boys were dejected but after putting things into perspective we shifted focus to the next match.

The point was made to the boys throughout the season that each boy should aim to be a little better as each week went by.

The team rallied and we had a draw against Trinity College. It was a terrific game and both sides were complimented on their determination and persistence.

A follow up victory against Aquinas College put the season back on track. Confidence grew and greater self-belief became apparent.

Further victories over Wesley and Guildford boosted the team's confidence and provided what was needed for our final game against the undefeated Hale School. In what was a classic game we remained in touch for the first three quarters and kicked five unanswered goals in the final quarter to lose the game by three points. We felt that another two minutes would have enabled us to provide the upset of the season.

At the conclusion of the season the annual lightning carnival was held. Games went pretty much to script and we came away gaining a creditable third for the day.

The messages that went with the group were the need to train properly at all times and aim to improve at least one little skill each week.

Charlie Evans was awarded the Football Prize for his commitment to the team and his disciplined, high standard of play.

GOLF

During Terms 1 and 4 a number of boys went to Cottesloe Golf Club and Lake Claremont Golf Course to have lessons and play games of golf.

The group was made up of some experienced golfers such as David Hu, Sherman Chua, Zach Browne and Lukas Pfeifle, and some other boys who were just beginners in this great game.

The Golf Pro at Cottesloe, Bruce, and the Golf Pro at Lake Claremont, Andy, gave us tips in chipping, putting and driving, and then we would play a few holes.

We were lucky with nice weather on most Thursdays and all boys got in lots of practice. The improvement in style and swing during the term was most noticeable.

On the last Thursday of the year a competition with handicaps was held and the winner was Troy Mogan from 6PW. Second was Andrew Fowlie and third was Alexander Harcourt. Well done to everyone for playing so impressively.

Finally, I hope all boys will turn into excellent golfers of the future.

HOCKEY

Hockey once again proved to be a popular choice for the winter season in the Prep School. We had a number of boys who had played for a number of seasons, and they formed the foundation of the squads.

Our training sessions each week were aimed at developing improved individual skills and team playing patterns. The focus as in previous years was to ensure that the basic skills of trapping, hitting, passing and moving to space were progressively improved. It was encouraging to see that over the year all boys improved in all facets of the game. In particular the teams showed a much greater awareness of the positional responsibilities and how to react in different game situations.

Last year's Year 6 boys, including Sam Blakiston, Matthew Edgar, Scott Hinton, Harry Sanderson, Liam Stocklinger, Ben Wittencoom and Hamish Keay, formed the key aspects of the 1st X1. A number of new Year 7 boys made their way into the 1st team with Lukas Pfeifle and Alex Sparrow making great contributions in all games. We also had a number of Year 5 and 6 boys who played exceptionally well and should continue to develop into fine players for the School.

As we progressed through the season, each of the teams representing Christ Church was extremely competitive and showed tremendous sportsmanship. In particular, all coaches were appreciative of the way boys responded to being put in positions they might not have experienced previously.

The Lightning Carnival is always a highlight and this year was no exception. In the Thursday afternoon competition Christ Church experienced a very successful season winning most of the fixtures. The Lightning Carnival played as 20 minute games proved to be a very tight competition with the boys losing only to Scotch and recording a number of draws.

Congratulations to all boys who played hockey this year and in particular Sam Blakiston for his fine leadership resulting in him being awarded the Hockey Prize for 2009. Thanks must go to Mrs Hookey and Mrs Gale who spent much time coaching and managing the 2nds and the Development Squad.

The 2008 rugby team included a number of boys who played regularly for their club teams on the weekend, as well as a plethora of young fellows who wanted to try the 'game played in Heaven'.

The Christ Church boys came up against much bigger and more experienced opposition but, to the boys' credit, they persevered and gave of their best at all times.

We had many memorable matches: one was against Wesley where we were behind two tries to nil in the first five minutes - until the opposition players were counted - Christ Church were playing 12 against 15! The situation was soon rectified and a much more even game ensued.

Another great match was the game before the Lightning Carnival against Hale. During the week leading up to the match, Tai Mclsaac, the hooker from the Western Force, gave the boys (and the coach) some brilliant training drills. The rugby boys took Tai's advice, coaching tips and manoeuvres into the game. Unfortunately, the Christ Church lads went down narrowly by a single try. It was a superb game of rugby where we had the ball in our half for much of the game but Hale's tackling kept us at bay.

The words persistence and determination were the keys to competing in the Lightning Carnival. The Christ Church boys played 'out of their skins' and were beaten by a solitary try on three occasions. In the last match against Hale, it was a see-sawing battle with both sides sharing the spoils as a draw was the end result. The rugby boys gave everything for their team and school.

Firstly, I would like to thank the two captains, Tom Sheminant and Nick Dormer, for their enthusiasm, support and leadership.

Secondly, I want to thank all the boys for being such a wonderful group to coach. I have thoroughly enjoyed taking you all each Tuesday and Thursday. It is always hard to get motivated when one is on the losing team all the time, but the Christ Church boys displayed grit and an ability to rise above adversity. I also think Tai Mclsaac's presence helped the boys believe in their ability.

I will feel honoured if I have encouraged you or helped you in some way to be a better person or a more skilful rugby player. Thank you for your efforts, boys.

SAILING

This year in Sailing we have had loads of fun with lots of new skippers getting out there and developing their skills on the river.

As has been the case for the last five years, we sailed out of Royal Perth Yacht Club every Thursday afternoon. We have had a lot of new boys taking up the sport and all boys have had experience at rigging, crewing and taking the helm.

The start of each term was marked by lots of tests such as the swim test, the capsizing test and the rigging test. The swim test required the boys to jump off the jetty (in a life jacket) and swim back to the shore. This was to make sure that we could swim safely and strongly wearing a floatation device.

Our aim is to never capsize our boats but sometimes that happens and we have to be ready. We practise this skill all the time. We have to capsize our boat deliberately and get it upright quickly and with all crew aboard.

We usually have races from marker to marker trying to beat the boys in the other boats. Other times, we just have a trip around the river looking at the sights and keeping out of the way of the ferries. Sometimes we sail all the way over to the Old Swan Brewery and occasionally we sail across the river to the South of Perth Yacht Club.

The weather conditions have been quite good during the year although there were a couple of times where Mr Fagan thought that it would be too windy for us. When we are out, Mr Fagan always steers the tinny around the boys making sure that everything is running smoothly. At the end of each session we sail into the bay and prepare the boats for the senior school sailors.

On behalf of all the boys who took sailing this year I would like to thank Mr Marshall, Mr Robertson, Mr Lane and Mr Fagan for their great patience and understanding in teaching us about this great sport.

SOCCER

At the commencement of the season a large number of eager players vied for a place in the A team. The standard was extremely high, resulting in what was an outstanding team; so outstanding in fact that the boys went through the season leading up to the Lightning Carnival without losing a game, with the worst result being a draw against Scotch. Although we were disappointed to lose our first couple of games during the Lightning Carnival, the boys should be extremely proud of their efforts over the season.

Jack Richardson, who modelled brilliant defensive skills as well as the gentlemanly conduct that we expect from all of our students, ably captained the team. He is to be commended for his achievements and congratulated for being awarded the Fairest and Best Player.

It has been difficult to come up with standout players as the boys played so well as a team throughout the season. Saying this, there are some players who, along with Jack, were also outstanding. James Criddle as goalkeeper and Maddi Akehurst as the highest scoring striker are to be commended. James was fearless in goal and took a lot of pride in keeping the team in a strong position. Maddi was effective in front of goals and has a challenge on his hands to score as many goals next year. To the rest of the team, congratulations on a stellar season!

It has been a pleasure to coach such a wonderful group and I look forward to working with many of the lads again next year.

SWIMMING

This year, the House Swimming Carnival was split into a Year 6/7 Carnival held on Thursday February 21 and a 4/5 Carnival held on Friday February 22.

Having the carnival split over the two days meant that boys were able to swim in more races and earn valuable points for their houses.

It was also fantastic to have our Year 7 house leaders running the Year 4/5 carnival. Any event is always made special when our boys take on the responsibilities of leadership.

Congratulations to the Stirling boys for earning the most points over the two days, and well done to everyone who performed at their best.

TENNIS

In Term 4 CCGS continued to dominate the Interschool Tennis Competition, just as it had in Term 1. Besides continuing to re-enforce court etiquette, our focus at training was to play aggressive tennis and aim to make the opposition player work hard to earn every point. By adopting this approach the boys played a very attacking and varied style of tennis. Each week, Christ Church Grammar School won every interschool fixture in a very convincing manner.

The most pleasing aspects of the season were the depth and quality in our team. We continued to field very strong teams across all levels. It was pleasing to see the improvement in Teams E and F who started to dominate their section of the competition. Their tennis skills improved significantly.

Alistair Baker was unquestionably the best player in the competition. He led the school team well and was always prepared to offer advice and encouragement to other team members. Ethan Gill was our second seeded player for the season and he ably supported Alistair. This was a wonderful achievement by Ethan, who was in Year 5 at the time.

The school tennis competition has always been a popular event. Due to the large number of entrants over recent years the end-of-year tournament was divided into three singles categories. The Year 5 component was conducted in Term 3 with the top four players then invited to participate in the Year 7 event that was held in Term 4. Similarly Year 6 had their own competition and two of the boys also joined the Year 7 competition.

In between camps and other co-curricular activities, the finals were held. Alistair Baker and Ethan Gill played off in the singles final which saw a big audience and some excellent tennis. Alistair won the event and was congratulated for his achievement.

The doubles tournament was open to all Year 5, 6 and 7 boys who had entered the singles. The final was played by the top seeds, Alistair Baker and Matt Carroll against Matt Freind and Michael England. It was a close match with Alistair and Matt winning in a convincing manner.

The Tennis award for outstanding contribution throughout the year was presented at Speech Morning to Alistair Baker.

WATERPOLO

Our year started off with several new players, many of whom had not played the game before. With enthusiasm and team spirit, they developed their stamina and skills to play strong water polo by the end of Term 1. The A Team results of four losses and one win left room for improvement in Term 4.

The Lightning Carnival on 10 April was a challenge with narrow losses in most games and, unfortunately, no wins. The boys gained lots of experience and showed exceptional sportsmanship. The day also served as a team-building exercise.

Term 4 was more successful with a few new players coming into the squad. These boys went straight to the A Team, due to their experience outside school. This made a huge difference to the scores and the morale of the team. Mr Ross McKenzie began coaching the B Team as he learnt the game of Water Polo. His success with these boys by the end of the term was remarkable with an exciting win over Guildford B Team.

The A Team developed true team spirit and became a force to be reckoned with. Owing to the large numbers of boys in the squad, we had to rotate players often to allow boys sufficient time in the water. This was at times an impediment to the flow of the game. CCGS won three games: once against Scotch and twice against Guildford, and lost to Wesley and Hale, an amazing turnaround from Term 1. Two boys had outstanding performances during the year: Charles Moorman (medallion winner) and Lachlan Bahen, but the whole team should be congratulated for their improved gamesmanship.

Well done to all boys in the squad for a very successful year of water polo, particularly in Term 4. I would like to thank my fellow coaches Grant Shepherd (Term 1) and Ross McKenzie (Term 4) for their dedication to the boys.

LIBRARY

This year was once again exciting and busy in the Prep Library. Due to an increasing numbers of boys in the Prep School, we welcomed Mrs Kate Marshall, our new Teacher Librarian, to the Library staff part time. She has a wide background in literature and we are very fortunate to have her working in the Library with our boys.

Many boys enjoy coming into the library at lunchtimes to play chess and boardgames, read on the lounges and meet with friends and with the growing number of boys in the school the library is really very busy.

Our annual Book Fair was very popular with boys buying lots of books in support of the Hope for Children charity. We raised $1200 in commission and thank parents for their support.

Mrs Hookey was away on Long Service Leave during Term 2 and Ms Patricia Wilson taught the boys and managed the Library, doing a wonderful job. She started the Readers' Cup competition group who met at lunchtimes and carried on into Term 3 when Mrs Hookey came back. These boys were very knowledgeable about the books nominated for "Book of the Year" and they came a creditable third place overall in the competition, with stiff opposition from eight other schools. The team included Christopher Jones, Gagan Singh and Hamish Goater, with reserve Hock Yew Tan. Ms Nicole Pascoe also taught in the Library in Term 2 while Mrs Marshall taught in Pre Primary.

Term 3 was packed with activities in the Library with Book Week and Authors in Residence. The classes all participated in the annual "Decorate your Classroom Door" Competition and prizes were awarded to 1HM and 1HA together for the junior door and 7GM for the senior door. Boys and staff are becoming more creative every year with their doors and this year's prize could have gone to a number of outstanding classes. Some of the classes now run a competition to choose the door design. With the theme of "Fuel your Mind" the interpretation of the theme was impressive.

The Book Week parade was a highlight of the week, with boys finding many different characters to dress as. Most of the teachers joined in and the excitement was obvious while Ms Seaman played the accompanying music for boys to parade around the chapel.

To link in with the Beijing Olympics, we held a Chinese writing session during Book Week for boys to learn how to hold the pen and paint some Chinese characters. Everyone soon discovered that Chinese painting is not as easy as it looks.

The Staff play was outstanding this year, with the art teachers providing a specially painted backdrop and the music teachers playing original music for the different characters to move. The staff presented the story "Bunyips Don't" by Sally Odgers and featured Mr Robertson in his final year in the Prep School as 'Old Bunyip'. With the brolgas dancing, the wattle birds singing and the children having a birthday party, much fun was had by all.

Some classes visited the Claremont Library for their Book Week program of authors and illustrators. Years 4, 5 and 7 attended sessions with Katy Watson Kell and were all inspired to read her latest book.

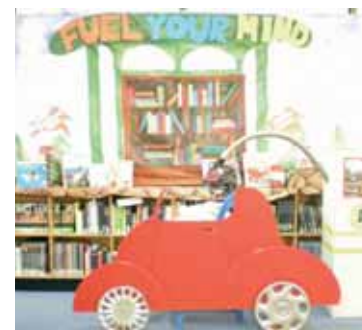

Later in Term 3, thanks to the Parents' Association, we hosted authors Christine and David Harris, who took writing sessions with all classes from Pre Primary to Year 7 and many boys and staff would love them to come again. Boys wrote many styles of story, several under the theme of "potatoes". The activities taken by Christine and David ranged from interviews to guessing games, to guided writing and ideas came thick and fast.

The Book Club enjoyed their 'Getting to know you' lunch with the authors and found out a few new stories about them and their lives. This was the inaugural year of "Year 6 Father and Son Brekky". After a light bite to eat, the boys and their fathers enjoyed an informal talk and discussion with Christine and David on books and reading. This was most enjoyable and a great way to encourage reading between father and son.

The Prep School decided to hold their first Comic Book Swap in Term 4 and the Book Club boys were very efficient in organising this for the whole school. Boys from as young as Year 1 brought comics along to swap and there was great enthusiasm.

Book Club operated in Terms 1, 3 and 4, with bookshop visits, an excursion to All Saints' Literature Festival, literary lunches, author emails, quizzes and other activities. Our boys are always keen to talk about books and it's amazing how they spur others on to read. The group changes each term and this year has had another interesting bunch of boys who've had fun together.

Our Library Monitors this year have been outstanding. Their willingness to help in any task shows the sense of community that the boys feel in our school and they are a tremendous help in running the library. Special thanks to them all for a great year.

Also thanks to Mrs Christine Hindmarsh and Mrs Peta Sawyer, our Library Technicians, who answer everyone's queries as they walk in the library door. They are both gems who are always willing to help boys, staff and parents.

Last, but not least, a big thank you goes to all the parents who have helped in the Prep Library this year in FOLA (Friends of the Library and Archives). Their time and effort are invaluable and the Prep Library could not operate as efficiently without them.

Happy Reading from the Prep Library!

Teacher Librarian

2008 has been a year of change and activity. Music is flourishing at Christ Church. A great number of Preparatory School boys come to school early at least once a week for rehearsals of the various instrumental and singing ensembles. Everyone also has class music lessons, where they sing and play percussion instruments, move to music and use their creativity to compose and perform new works.

In Term 1, the Yahoo choir performed Pergolesi's Magnificat with the Senior School and St Hilda's choirs. Years 4 to 7 prepared for an exciting incursion by professional percussion group Tetrafide in Term 2, and performed at the Preparatory School Music Concert, which doubled as a farewell concert for the Preparatory School Music Coordinator, Helen Wilson.

After 24 years of dedicated service to Christ Church Grammar School, Helen Wilson retired at the end of Semester One for a well earned break. The Orff Schulwerk method of music lessons, with plenty of xylophone, recorder and percussion playing, visits from Musica Viva and artists-in-residence, the growth of singing at Christ Church and the founding of the Yahoo choir are just some of the legacies left by Helen, who really created the Preparatory Music Department as we know it. We acknowledge the enormous contribution made by this remarkable teacher, whose influence and memory will remain long after she is gone from our school. Sarah Seaman, who has taught music at Christ Church for several years, stepped into the role of Coordinator of Preparatory School Music for the famously busy Semester Two, assisted by Kade Brown, who took the year 6 and 7 classes and year 6/7 Choir. Term 3 saw the return of Artist-in-residence Paul Tanner, who created a percussion ensemble from selected boys, all the choirs and ensembles prepared for performances during the Week of the Arts and the Open Day and the Year 5 boys enjoyed an incursion from Simon London, the brother of our Preparatory School teacher, Jane London.

The boys from Preprimary to Year 3 spent much of Term 4 getting ready for the traditional Early Learning Centre Nativity play, while older boys practised musical items for Speech Morning and the choirs prepared for singing at the Advent Carol Service.

Year 3/4 Choir

Year 3/4 Choir has been a great success this year. Rehearsals were attended with enthusiasm and the absentee rate was pleasingly low. The boys sang for the Preparatory School at a Music assembly and performed a Christ Church favourite, Don Gato, at the Preparatory School Music Concert at the end of Term 2. At this concert, they also joined with the Yahoo and Year 6/7 choirs to form a massed choir for a beautiful rendition of We Are The Young. After another massed choir appearance at the Open Day assembly, the Year 3/4 choir sang at the Advent Carol Service in the last week of Term 4. Judging from this record, the future of singing at CCGS is in good hands.

Year 5/6/7 Choir

The Year 5 choir is a flexible one, adding to both the Year 3/4 Choir and the Year 6/7 Choir for part-work. The Year 6/7 choir leads the singing at assembly every Friday and provides items for Music assemblies – notably a hearty version of Cape Cod Chanty in February and a moving performance of the African chant Ke Arona together with the Year 3/4 Choir at Term 3's Open Day assembly. Year 6/7 Choir also formed the backbone of the Preparatory School Music Concert, when they bade Ms Wilson farewell with a gorgeous rendition of We Are The Young. The final performance for Senior Choir was in the Advent Carol Service where they made a fine contribution.

Yahoos

The Yahoos are the only auditioned choir at Christ Church Preparatory School and they work hard for the honour, rehearsing before school two mornings a week, as well as being a part of the Year 6/7 choir. The Yahoos have had many special opportunities to perform this year. They provided music at Year 5 teacher Vanessa Hallett's wedding in the school chapel, sang Pergolesi's Magnificat at a Combined Schools' Concert with St Hilda's and even got a paid gig, singing for an old boy's wedding!

The Yahoos are also an important part of Term 3's Night of the Arts. They finished this year's evening by singing the Irish folksong By The Rising Of The Moon and Just A Single Voice, with beautiful solos by Adam Droppert and Tashi Stewart. Term 4 is always very hectic, and this year was no exception. As well as Music assembly appearances, the Yahoos performed at the Advent Carol Service and Speech Morning, and also visited St Louis retirement village to treat residents to a morning concert of Christmas music. Special thanks must go to Head Chorister Ashwin Ramanathan and Deputy Head Chorister Alex Theobald, who were an enormous support to Miss Seaman in second semester.

String Orchestra

The Head of the Music Department, Kevin Gillam, directs the Preparatory School String Orchestra. His talented leadership made the ensemble a unified and disciplined group in which the students have a perfect introduction to ensemble playing. The boys played at Music assemblies throughout the year, most notably in Term 4, when the ensemble accompanied leader Alex Chua as he performed the solo of the first movement of Bach's A minor Violin Concerto. The String Orchestra also took part in the Western Australian Schools Orchestra Festival and received an assessment of 'Excellent' in the A division of the Primary String Orchestra section.

Concert and Jazz Band

The Concert and Jazz bands have had another very successful year under the guidance of Marty Pervan, and have become an important part of the Music Department. The aural skills needed and the teamwork the boys have worked hard to develop was evident in all performances. The bands played at the Term 2 Preparatory School Music Concert and provided entertainment at Term 3's Night of the Arts. As a special treat for Speech Morning, Mr Pervan arranged the 60s hit So Happy Together for Jazz Band, Yahoos choir and String Orchestra. We are very sad to say goodbye to Marty and thank him for his brilliant contribution to music in the Preparatory School.

Guitar Ensemble

Guitar Ensemble made a slow start in 2008 but in Semester Two, led by new director Simon Harker, the group grew in members and enthusiasm and was soon ready to demonstrate the progress it had made. Special soloist Christopher Jones performed at the Night of the Arts in Term 3 and the whole ensemble played several pieces in chapel in Term 4. Sadly, Mr Harker is leaving Christ Church at the end of 2008 to spend a year travelling and surfing around Australia, so we must say goodbye to a fine teacher!

Percussion Ensemble

Term 3 Artist-in-residence Paul Tanner formed a percussion ensemble from interested Year 6 and 7 boys that quickly gained a reputation for being an exciting and cutting edge group. Following an amazing performance at a Music assembly, the group worked hard over only a few weeks to present their work again at the Night of the Arts. We look forward to the continuation and development of this Percussion ensemble in 2009.

All the boys of the Preparatory School deserve congratulations for another wonderful year of music making.

VISUAL ARTS

2008 has been an exciting year of creation in the Preparatory Art room.

The Year 1 boys surpassed all expectations, learning amazing skills and creating artworks to be proud of. They experienced many forms of art including drawing, printing, sculpture, painting and textiles. Some highlights were the ceramic Tiny Turtles, Fishy Feet sock puppets, amazing mosaics, Winter Blues collograph prints and dragonfly tiles. Their boundless energy was inspiring.

Art for Year 2 boys has been a hive of activity, creating wonderful art that has been enjoyed by the whole school. Their astounding and colourful silk flags waved visitors into the Art Exhibition and were a feature of several parades and performances throughout the year. Another highlight was their Giant Giraffe drawings and ceramic and mosaic snails, which have delighted all who have seen them. The boys worked with great skill and pride on all activities and have impressed us all.

The Year 3 boys have proven they have skill, talent and creativity. Throughout the year they explored many artforms and continued to develop their drawing, painting and sculpting skills. Their Fishermen sculptures were a highlight of the Art Exhibition and truly a work to be proud of. Ceramic musical instruments that can be played were a construction marvel. Well done, boys!

The most incredible three dimensional creations have been the highlight of art for the Year 4 boys. Beginning with working on shape and detail for their ceramic Dirty Dogs, recycling household packaging for their Junkyard Chooks and winding wire for their Fabulous Flying Machines, through all projects the boys have been dedicated and creative.

The Year 5 boys have demonstrated skill and precision in their detailed self-portraits and beaded barramundi fish. They played with their profile to create a bold Mambo head sculpture and got a buzz from painting with coffee for their inspired mixed media piece created with Artist-in-Residence, Nat Poli.

I was continually amazed at the incredible standard of work produced by the Year 6 group. The boys took pride in creating their best work that reflected their understanding of the skills for each project and a great appreciation for many artforms. Some highlights were the marionette bird puppets, sensational linocut printed dog characters and big cats, fantastical ceramic dragons and astounding Samurai paintings.

For the Year 7 boys, the year in Art began with an exciting visit to Sculpture by the Sea which inspired an amazing array of printed deckchairs. The boys honed their sculpting and sewing skills with our Artist-in-Residence, Nat Poli, as they created a veritable forest of colourful leaf sculptures. Other highlights were drawings, paintings and sculptures inspired by Shaun Tan and the Fearsome Mask project which brought out the wild side of many boys' imaginations. Some boys were lucky enough to experience the new Art and Design Department and the amazing facilities it has to offer.

The After School Art program has continued to be an exciting and enriching time for boys with a passion for art. We have seen the creation of many special artworks, including giant printed beach umbrellas, captivating self portraits, beautiful linocut roosters, a caravan of raffia camels, and some truly beautiful Japanese inspired riso prints. A special thanks to Ruth Temelcos for her continued inspiration and assistance with After School Art.

The opening night of the Week of the Arts was an exciting event, showcasing the incredible results of the boys' hard work, enthusiasm and creativity. It was the perfect opportunity for boys to admire and be proud of not only their own work, but that of their classmates and boys in other year levels. It was truly inspiring to see all the beautiful finished pieces on display. Special thanks go to our volunteer team for preparing and setting up the exhibition, their contribution was greatly appreciated.

The Artist-in-Residence Programme brought local artist Nat Poli to the Preparatory School to create some amazing artwork with the boys. It was a wonderful opportunity for every student from Years 1 to 7 to experience at first hand how an artist works in our community and they were inspired by her own work and fantastic ideas.

Special congratulations go to Rohan Golestani for winning this year's Parents' Association Art Prize for his outstanding achievements in all projects across the areas of drawing, painting and sculpture. Well done to Jock Stewart who won the Preparatory School Art Prize for his passion for Art and consistently striving to achieve his best, resulting in wonderful pieces such as his linocut print and ceramic dragon.

Thank you to all boys who have worked so hard to create, learn and astound. They have made the school a more colourful, exciting and inspiring place to be.

PETER MOYES CENTRE (PREPARATORY)

This year was a time of change for the Peter Moyes Centre in the Preparatory School. We kicked the year off in our new classroom downstairs and have benefited enormously from the improved access and increased space. We were also very lucky to have a new kitchen and toilet facility purpose built for the boys in the PMC.

There were many new faces joining the Peter Moyes Centre in the Prep School in 2008. James Osborne, Justin Rae and Thomas Luscombe started in Pre Primary, Peter Larard in Year 1 and Hugo Donaldson returned to Christ Church as a Year 5 boy. We have enjoyed getting to know these gorgeous boys and they have added yet another dimension of fun to the activities undertaken in the PMC. Each of the twelve boys supported by the PMC this year has contributed to the life of the Centre his own unique way.

We welcomed Lucy Spielman to the teaching team in the Peter Moyes Centre. Lucy divided her time teaching between the Senior and Prep PMC, wearing out a path on the oval moving between the two Centres. The introduction of Lucy's role has provided a vital link between the two classes, and is particularly beneficial for those boys transitioning to the Senior School. Lucy made an impact immediately with her positive approach and enthusiasm. She instigated some fabulous projects with the boys including the world's most impressive vegetable garden. Thanks to Lucy for her amazing work and all she added to the Prep PMC in 2008.

The PMC team also had a changing face with new Education Assistants and Speech Pathologist. We farewell Chelsea Evans at the end of Term 1 when she left to have baby number three, Ruby. Kathy Viljoen stepped into Chelsea's role as Speech Pathologist in Term 2 without skipping a beat. The boys have enjoyed getting to know Kathy and participating in her 'hands on' speech therapy activities, especially the cooking. The PMC was also blessed to assemble an amazingly talented group of Education Assistants – Kिरrily Mitchell, Kiara Slater, Caroline Novatscou and Perri Maloney joined the PMC staff – complementing Linda Murphy, Kate Nossiter and Liz Royle who returned in 2008. At the end of Semester One we were sad to farewell Liz Royle who returned home to England with her family. The blessings continued with Sally Nelson deciding to move from her role in the Pre Primary into the PMC to take over from Liz in Term 3. The boys also enjoyed several visits from previous staff members and their beautiful babies - Chelsea, Annette Dimitrovski, Kylie Cole and Lisa Broxton. The PMC staff are certainly a remarkable group of people who work together to provide every opportunity possible for the boys.

Camps again provided the most unforgettable moments of the year. Scott and Kiara headed to Koorringal in March with Year 7JK. Kiara and Year 7 teacher Julie Knight were impressed with Scott's level of independence and the way that he involved himself in all the activities on offer. In Term 4 Caroline, Hugo and Alexander excitedly headed to camp at Point Peron with Jane London and the Year 5s, while Jake joined his Year 6 class for their camp at Koorringal. Then came the camp to end all camps... the camp for which we had been waiting all year! The PMC Camp was held at Point Peron Camp School October 29 to 31. Lucy Spielman was given the very important task of coordinating the 2008 camp... the pressure was enormous given the level of expectation from some very excited boys. The camp was the biggest and best yet, and we all had a sensational time. Some moments will be etched on our minds until Camp '09 comes around – the glorious sunshine at Penguin Island, the impressive moves on the dance floor, Luke's birthday celebrations on Rockingham Beach, the cricket matches, the laughter and the sense of togetherness.

Other highlights in 2008 included:

- Going to Cottesloe Beach for Sculpture by the Sea is something we enjoy every year, especially the hot chips on the beach!
- In Term 1 Mr Robertson and Mr Fagan took some of the PMC boys sailing on the Swan.
- We were proud to be involved in Earth Hour, which prompted a lot of discussion and action amongst the boys and staff.
- Our new kitchen was completed in Term 2 and has been well used over the course of the year. We were pleased to see other classes in the Prep School making the most of the facilities too.

Back Row: Miss CA Novatscou, LA Murphy, KT Duffy, JD Rae, HJD Donaldson, JCC Osborne, Miss KJ Mitchell, Mrs SA Nelson, Miss KJ Slater
Front Row: JJ Dimovitis, TJ Harper, WM Andrews, PA Larard, TG Luscombe, AN Harcourt, SE Henderson, Ms K E Nossiter

- Term 3 we welcomed some new additions into the PMC in the form of little green caterpillars. We were fascinated as we witnessed their transformation into the most beautiful monarch butterflies.
- We surprised Mr Jamie Fagan with a party for his birthday in August. Jamie is one of our all-time favourites and we appreciate his continual support of the PMC.
- In August we had a visit from Mr David Knowles and his 'Spineless Wonders' – we came up close and personal with giant cockroaches, beetles and stick insects. Hugo was in heaven!
- Mrs Julie Harris organised a 'Zoo Peru' experience for us in the Senior School, and we got a chance to examine a piranha.
- Sally Nelson arranged for some special visitors to join us in the PMC... a couple of slithering pythons. The boys proved braver than the staff, happily letting the snakes twine around their necks.
- We had some fantastic excursions in September to Perth Zoo, Landsdale Farm and Darglish Fire Station. Squirting the fire hose in the direction of the staff was probably most exciting!
- We enjoyed many cultural experiences such as Hungarian dancing, a concert by the Western Australian Symphony Orchestra, performances by the Youth Ballet and movement lessons with Joan Pope.
- In Term 3 we celebrated Book Week – Peter transformed into Nemo, while Julian, Will and Scott all became Harry Potter for the day.
- The PMC boys again participated fully in the many annual events in the Prep School – Harmony Day, Clean Up Australia Day, Foundation Day, Grandparents' Day, Rice Day, Athletics Carnival, cross country at Mt Claremont and Book Week festivities.

Thank you to Heath Stewart and his Ground Staff for all their help in getting the PMC vegetable garden up and running. The way the men have interacted with the PMC boys reflects the wonderful community that is Christ Church. My father, Dan Duffy, became the resident bus driver in 2008 for shopping trips and excursions. His help extended beyond the wheel as he participated in the activities with the boys. Lorna Matthews gave us time when she could to assist the boys in the PMC; she is always welcomed back with open arms. Sportsmaster Mr Andrew Lane introduced a Multi Sport option into the Thursday afternoon program in the Prep School this year. Our boys in the PMC have benefited enormously from this less competitive sport option. Thanks must go to Andrew for considering the needs of the PMC boys in planning the Sport program.

The PMC benefits from the expertise of several visiting teachers and therapists who contribute to the program for the boys – thanks to Veronica Wooller from the Vision Education Service, Triston Hunter from Step Ahead Therapy, Sebastian Della Maddalena from the Association for the Blind, Melissa-Sue Clark and Deanne Mollica from Therapy Focus, Chris Allen from the Centre for Cerebral Palsy and Maria Rosenius from Skillbuilders.

Thank you to Clark Wight and Murray Robertson, who in their roles as Headmaster and Acting Headmaster in 2008, embraced all the boys in the PMC with respect and genuine interest. The brilliant group of people making up the team of Prep Staff continue to amaze me each year with the way they advocate for children with disabilities and strive to include all boys in every aspect of school life. I would like to make particular mention of those teachers who have included the PMC boys in their classes so successfully this year – Barbara Bosich, Olivia Harnwell, Helen Adams, Rebecca Duncan, Brad Hilliard, Jane London, Peter Williamson and Julie Knight. The specialist staff also do everything they can to accommodate the individual needs of children with disabilities, and their support has been invaluable to the overall experience for the boys. Christ Church began catering for students with disabilities back in 1966 and the staff of 2008 continue to lead the way in making inclusion successful for all.

This is my final Mitre report after eight and a half memorable years at Christ Church. I wish the staff and boys all the best for the coming year. I will miss them all terribly and I look forward to catching up and hearing news of all the wonderful things they are up to in 2009 and beyond.

EARLY LEARNING CENTRE

The Early Learning Centre has grown. More boys, more classrooms, more teachers, more educational assistants – and that all adds up to more exciting experiences for the youngest boys in the school.

We now have two pre-primaries, two Year 1s, two Year 2s and, in 2009, two Year 3s. We don't all fit under one roof anymore and have spread ourselves across the grounds: physically separated, but not philosophically or pedagogically. There was great excitement last year as we prepared to move the Year 2 and 3 classes into the newly refurbished Music Department, which had been the Preparatory School until 1986.

The transformation of the rooms was fabulous and with the creativity of the boys, together with Sallyann Lee, Jenny Joseph, Alicia Hill, Rebecca Duncan and the ingenious Kerry Maddern, Anna Wood and Tiffany Hoad the whole complex is now an exciting educational facility brimming with great inventions and stunning displays. There was barely space on the floor to walk when the Year 2s constructed their own Olympics – complete with stadiums and pools. The Year 3s draped their room with a camouflage net and a paper squid the exact size of the giant specimen caught in New Zealand during the year.

Having two Pre-Primary classes, with Barbara Bosich and Olivia Harnwell at the helm, also meant the renovation of another classroom to accommodate all the different requirements of an environment where boys tend to do more work on the floor than at desks. Both groups have had a very busy year, especially enjoying our excursion to Landsdale Farm, the Perth Zoo and the variety of incursions, particularly Roly the Clown Priest. Our garden grows beautifully, helped along by Josh Byrne who worked across the Early Learning Centre discussing conservation, recycling, the making of worm farms, and the benefits of growing your own food.

Sally Nelson, Deb Moran, Jo Kolbusz and Sally McMillan have been wonderful educational assistants who continually make us all look good.

This year Holly Miller and Helen Adams, our Year 1 teachers, have worked collaboratively to have the boys from the two classes work together as much as possible. Mathematics and Language stations are popular – the classes have a combined lesson and then break into a variety of activities based on the skill or concept to be learned. Marilena Cappelluti spends time with both classes where the rooms are buzzing with the noisy sound of boys engaged with both hands-on and more formal work. They have loved the focused play areas created in their rooms: the space station, the boats, the aeroplanes and the regular Friday cooking with mothers and grandmothers.

PRE-PRIMARY BB

We are a great bunch of boys

We had a fabulous year with lots of very creative times both in and out of our room. We loved being outdoors, swimming, gardening and going on some great excursions like the one to Sculpture by the Sea at Cottesloe Beach.

Most of our class loved playing chess and sometimes we had three or four games going at once. We nearly all knew the rules and we had good robust discussion about the finer points of play.

We have loved our Artist-in-Residence, Dr Joan Pope, with whom we did some amazing things with potatoes. We made lots of buildings and fantastic constructions, started to read and learned to love our school and our new friends.

PRE-PRIMARY OH

The boys in Pre-Primary OH had a gorgeous year together. We formed wonderful friendships and grown in all areas. Our room was frequently transformed, from an underwater world to a dinosaur research centre, knight's castle, bike shop, space dome and Santa's workshop, when exploring topics initiated by the boys.

Our most memorable moments included a trip to Jandakot Airport, a visit from a pizza chef and trips to the blue web playground. We loved experimenting with coloured potions in the ELC sand area and always looked forward to riding our bicycles in the rubber playground.

We made tremendous gains with our early literacy and mathematical skills, created magnificent block constructions and had a year full of fun!

Literacy Centres...

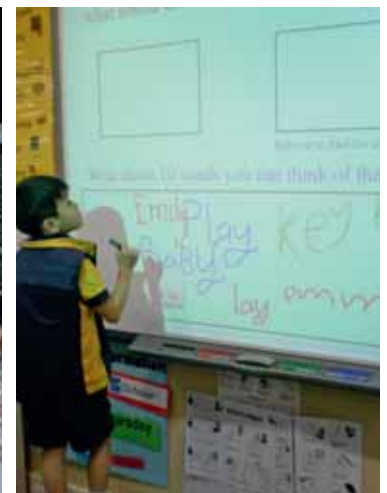

The boys in Year One have been learning and exploring new literacy skills through many different activities and games during the literacy centres. All the Year Ones were divided up into groups and they then rotated through four stations each session. Through the hands-on activities boys can learn and consolidate their skills and knowledge of reading, writing and spelling.

Classroom Activities...

Our classroom has been transformed into many different play areas. We have had a hospital, a mechanics workshop, a shop and a plane just to name a few. These setups allow the boys to role-play and act out the learning that has been a focus in the class.

Excursions & Incursions...

We have been out exploring the school and bringing the outside to the school. Going to the Perth Museum, the Bug Man, the Zoo, to the beach, to the river, bike riding and our fishing expedition.

YEAR 2SL & YEAR 2HJ

We were given the opportunity to learn about Antarctica.

It was a fantastic experience for both the boys and teachers. They were immersed in literature, videos, practical activities and a talk. Marilyn Boydell and Michael Carr gave the boys an excellent talk and slideshow on their experiences in Antarctica. The boys were enthralled and the opportunity gave way to much discussion and a great desire to learn more. During this project the boys created an Antarctic base, made dioramas, created penguins out of clay, drew and painted life size penguins and a whale, created a large Antarctic display, read books, watched video, investigated ice and wrote reports. The boys discovered the joy of learning and transformed their classrooms into an environment that displayed their enthusiasm and learning.

2008 has been jam-packed with fun,
The excitement in Three simply can't be outdone!
Icecreams at Peters and a trip to the zoo,
Walks to the river and a shopping trip too.

Learning in Year 3 is always hands-on and creative,
We've proven to Miss Duncan that we're SMART Board-natives!
Forever on the lookout to help a good cause,
Fundraising for Tortoises and PMH earned us lots of applause.

We've studied creepy crawlies, the universe, machines and the rest,
Though our 'environment' inquiry was simply the best.
We're now keen recyclers – protectors of the Earth,
We know how much our endangered plants and animals are worth.

A year filled with learning and plenty of laughs every day,
Watch out Year 4 – we're on our way!

YEAR 4BH

My favourite part of Year 4
Was building paper houses
That we put onto the floor.
Jordan and I did make a cone
Although we planned a dome.
The wind did blow
Very hard
It was called 'Hurricane Hilliard.'
It was tense for a moment
We stood and stared
But the house stood still
And everyone glared.
Some houses fell down
But ours was strong
With its unique design
It could not go wrong.

Thomas Pennell

2008 has been a year of challenge and change for the boys in 4BH. The challenge has been achieving to one's best by working in a number of subjects, becoming more organised and still keeping the enjoyment of school as a core ideal. The class had two staff members, Mr Birch in the first semester and Mr Hilliard for the remainder of the year. The boys have managed the change admirably and should look forward to the new challenges of 2008.

YEAR 4JG

Finally after Year 3
I went into 4JG

Mr Griffin's expectations were high
They reached up to the sky

The room was full of cheeky boys
They were making lots of noise

There was plenty of work to do
Like Maths, Science, English too

The second term was really fun
But we couldn't believe the first was done

We talked about some foreign places
With obscure foods and different faces

Oh my gosh it is Term 3
We read Blueback about the sea

The year is going oh so fast how much longer will it last?

A student teacher, Miss Freap
Taught us well and taught us deep

Finally Term 4 it is
The year has gone in such a whiz

We are studying the planets and stars
Like Venus, Earth, Saturn and Mars

We made a lovely veggie patch
The gardening fever we did catch

We studied food and calories
Like apples, pears and celery

At last, the year has come to an end
It has had some twists and bends

But the best thing about 4JG
Is that Mr Griffin has been kind to me!!!

YEAR 5JL

In 5JL we believe that we learn by 'doing'. We have been involved in lots of practical experiences to enhance our learning over the year. Some of our favourites were: Virtues plays, learning first aid, investigative science activities ranging from making a interactive game with a working circuit board to collecting arthropods, having Class Parliament to pass a law outlawing homework, a visit from a police sergeant who answered all our questions about the law, conducting a local area litter survey, statistical data collection involving tasty jelly beans in Maths and operating a chocolate chip mine to make large amounts of profit in Society and Environment.

Excursions that we enjoyed were visits to Herdsman Lake Wildlife Centre, Francis Burt Law Centre, Fremantle Prison, the World of Energy Museum and going on camp to Point Peron. There's always something interesting to learn in 5JL.

Class motto

"If it is to be, it is up to me!"

This year has been fantastic, from art and music to blowing up bottle rockets. It's been fun all year round.

This year has been our last year in the Prep School. I've been here since Year 4 and much has changed. As Year 7s we need to keep all other years in shape. We have had good examples from past school captains in this class, Liam Stocklinger, Edward Southall and Ashwin Ramanathan. Although many boys aspire to become school captain, the great responsibility it commands makes it one of the hardest jobs in the school.

On the departure of our Head Master, Mr Wight, and Mr Robertson becoming leader, the number of bad jokes have hit the cosmic region. Many of Mr Robertson's jokes aren't funny, even if he thinks they are! Year 7 is a great year for opportunity. Heaps of new learning areas open up like the chemistry labs, the gym and the LOTE department. It really gets us thinking about the opportunities coming up in Year 8. One of most enjoyed activities was camp at Koorungal. It was a great experience and we learnt how to make rope and survive in the native bush. On the campout people 'claimed' to have seen supernatural happenings, although everyone knew that they didn't happen.

Joshua Wong and Nathan Tang

Views on the Year

"It's been great, I've been having a lot of fun"
Sherman Chua

"It has been fun. I can't wait to get out!!"
Edward Blake

Ruaridh Kerr

"Blowing up rockets is fun!"
Nathan Tang

"Great year, Mr Mac!"
Joshua Wong

"Lively boys plus lots of work and plenty of fun equals a great year!"
Mr McPherson

Each new day brings new beginnings

Science

This year, we enjoyed going to the senior school and investigating electrical circuits. In Term 1 we made solar ovens out of pizza boxes to see who could melt their marshmallow the quickest.

Charlie Evans

English

We have learnt about debating this year and we enjoyed doing the research and writing the speeches in our teams. We also liked competing against 7TG.

Henry Pennell

We wrote descriptive narratives this year and I enjoyed writing mine, which was about a wizard who was stuck in the future.

Donald Sutherland

During Term 3, I enjoyed writing two poems about sports in the Olympics. We made a display of them in the classroom and they look really good.

Simon Swan

Class Sport

7JK have enjoyed playing tee-ball amongst themselves. In P.E. we have played ultimate frisbee in teams.

Matt Edgar

Art

In Art, we have loved creating masks – we could use any materials we liked.

Vaughan Greenberger

Excursions we have enjoyed

- Mr Knight's paramedic incursion
- Sir Francis Burt Law Centre
- Fremantle Prison
- Sculpture By The Sea

There was great excitement at the beginning of the year. We were all welcomed to Year 7, especially the five boarders and five new day boys. To get to know one another we played some cooperative games and interviewed each other. This was to be the first of many opportunities to speak publicly. Throughout this semester the class formed a tribe and had regular meetings where we could all voice an opinion about issues of importance to us. Kooringal was challenging for some but mostly a lot of fun. We said farewell to Caspian, Jack and Christopher who all left to attend schools in Europe.

Scientists in Schools – Matt Rocks!

Throughout Semester Two we became involved in the CSIRO / Scitech Programme. Matt, a geologist, regularly visited, sharing his expertise and helping us with our inquiries into geological formations.

Camp – Kooringal is 'Kool'!

This year we returned to Kooringal with everything back to normal after the bushfires of 2007. We camped out, learnt about bush medicine, abseiled, went canoeing and completed the Ribbons of Blue Programme.

Health – Brains and Bodies

Michael Carr-Gregg explained to us that our brains won't mature until we are 23, while Mr Lane explained our bodies had already started! Avoiding alcohol consumption until later will help us stay smarter.

Society and Environment – Horrible History – NOT!

A culmination of the inquiry process saw us independently researching an aspect of WA History that interested us. From Pingelly to Kununurra, the Batavia to the RFDS, from CCGS Houses to Fremantle Prison, the presentations were exceptional!

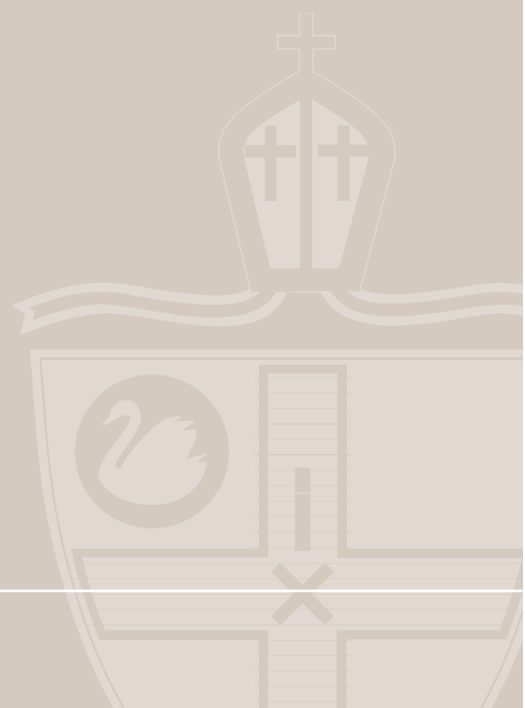

Our final semester in the Prep School was one of the most challenging yet as we studied geology with Matt, who works for Rio Tinto; designed and made gliders; learnt about ancient civilisations; completed oral presentations on alcohol and the brain; debated; worked on our History Prize projects and rehearsed exhaustively for our final Prep School Speech Morning. We worked with both Mrs Gale and Mr Mackenzie during the year.

Whilst we are excited about our futures, we will miss all of our great friends and fun times in 7TG!

NOTABLE ACHIEVEMENTS

ACADEMIC

ACADEMIC EXCELLENCE

Christ Church graduating students have excelled across a wide range of subjects in the 2008 Tertiary Entrance Examinations and Wholly School Assessed Courses. Of the 173 students who obtained a Tertiary Entrance Score, 21 students achieved a Tertiary Entrance Rank (TER) of 99. 63 boys achieved a TER of 95 or above and 100 students (58% of TEE candidates) achieved a TER greater than 90, which is the largest group ever to have achieved at this level. Of the 19 Wholly School Assessed (WSA) students, the School is delighted that Henry Gower received a Certificate of Distinction and Reid Turner was awarded a Certificate of Excellence. Christ Church obtained four General Exhibitions which are awarded to the top 40 students in the State. Congratulations to School Dux, Daren Tan who was placed eighth overall, and fellow students Weijie Weng (16), Andres Noe (31), and Sandeepan Mukhopadhyay (37). Subject Exhibitions, for the top candidates in each subject were awarded to Weijie Weng (Chemistry), James Sprivulis (Economics) and Timothy Ikeda (Japanese: Second Language). Certificates of Distinction, for the top 0.5% of candidates in each subject were awarded to fifteen students:

Joseph Backhouse	Discrete Mathematics
Riley Burkett	Physical Education Studies
Elliott Fisher	English
Henry Gower	Hospitality (SWL)
Thomas Halsted	English, Geography
Timothy Ikeda	Japanese: Second Language
Sandeepan Mukhopadhyay	Chemistry
Andres Noe	Chemistry, English
Joshua Sampson	Chemistry
James Sprivulis	Economics
Blake Stove	Chemistry
Andrew Swan	Chemistry
Daren Tan	Chemistry, Physics
Lawrence Ward	Geography
Weijie Weng	Chemistry, Economics, Physics

A Special Certificate of Distinction was awarded to Trevor Lee for Discrete Mathematics for his performance as one of the top 0.5% candidates.

Certificates of Excellence for achieving ten A grades in Years 11 and 12 (and no grade less than a B) were awarded to nineteen students from the 2008 graduating class:

Michael Chan, David Cullingford, Shrimal Fernando, Huw Flatau-Harrison, Thomas Halsted, William He, Jonathan Lam, Shane Morrissy, Sandeepan Mukhopadhyay, Andres Noe, Joshua Sampson, James Sprivulis, Blake Stove, Andrew Sutherland, Andrew Swan, Daren Tan, Reid Turner, Weijie Weng and Leon Zhang.

These academic achievements end a terrific year for Christ Church. 2008 also had its share of sporting success with PSA trophy wins in Swimming, Rowing, Tennis and Golf as well as first place in the inaugural PSA Boys' Schools Chess Tournament and the State Secondary Sailing Teams Racing Competition. In addition, the CCGS SCRAM (Schools Conflict Resolution and Mediation) Team became the masters of mediation when they won the 2008 SCRAM National Grand Final and our philosophers won the Hale School Philosothon.

Headmaster Garth Wynne said the School was proud of its students. "It is a combination of their refined focus, the support of their parents, the excellence of their teachers and many years of hard work. The School's focus to develop boys as individuals and creating an atmosphere of excellence is demonstrated in the many wonderful achievements across the co-curricular, sporting and academic arenas. Congratulations to all students on their exceptional results."

Christ Church Scholars

At the end of each school term students in Years 10–12 who achieve five or more A grades in subjects undertaken that term have their achievement recognised by being included in the Dean's List.

A Christ Church Scholar is a student who has appeared on the Dean's List for all four terms of the academic year. The honour is bestowed in perpetuity with the year of the award appended to the title. Only boys in Years 10 and 11 are eligible for the title of Christ Church Scholar and they will carry that title in the following academic year. Congratulations to the Christ Church Scholars for 2008.

ECONOMICS AND COMMERCE

Why were Year 10 and 11 Economics and Commerce students dressed up as scuba diving instructors, hula dancing teachers and fishermen? The exercise was part of an interactive workshop aimed at increasing their financial skills in daily life. Year 11 Economics students learned about smart investing while Year 10 Commerce and Enterprise students participated in a smart earning workshop, led by Sasha Jovanovic from the Commonwealth Bank Foundation's StartSmart programme. The Year 11s, who are currently studying the stock market, were given tips for smart investing and warned of the pitfalls of hidden costs associated with purchasing cars. Year 10 students were offered earning, saving and spending advice such as putting caps on mobile phones. The workshops were part of the Economics and Commerce Department's guest speaker programme.

MATHS

The Australian Mathematics Challenge, a national programme running for the entirety of Terms 2 and 3 is run by Mr Ferguson, Mr Mailes and Mr Ruthven and includes many highly detailed and difficult questions. Christ Church Grammar School excelled in the challenge with two students out of forty Year 10s in Australia achieving a High Distinction, eight of our boys out of one hundred and fifteen Year 9's around the country scoring a High Distinction and eleven of our Year 8 receiving a High distinction along with only ninety seven others in Australia. Year 8 Distinctions go to Matthew Stewart, James Knox and Alex Horton. A Year 9 Distinction goes to Riley Skevington. Year 8 High Distinctions go to Harry Breidahl, Guy Coleman, Declan Davis, Thomas Drake-Brockman, Christopher O'Keeffe, Fraser Wallace, Ruaridh Williamson, Huw Glossop, Daniel Hing, Hugh Edwards and Sam Foster, and Year 9 High Distinctions go to Robert Buttner, William Crohan, David See, Patrick Dyer, Vibhushan Manchanda, Ben McAllister, Michael Ng and Victor Yau.

Jason Kong (Year 11) and Daren Tan (Year 12) were among WA's top four performers in the recent Australian Mathematical Olympiad (AMO). Jason was the only WA student awarded a silver certificate with the fifth highest score for a Year 11 student in Australia. He has subsequently been invited to represent Australia in the Asia Pacific Mathematics Olympiad next month. Daren was one of three students from WA to be awarded a bronze certificate in the high standard contest in which competitors tackled eight questions in eight hours over two days. The top 100 students from across Australia were invited to participate in the AMO programme after achieving outstanding results in the Australian Mathematics Competition and the Australian Intermediate Mathematics Olympiad. Jason, who was one of 31 students selected from around Australia, will sit the Asia Pacific exam in Perth on 11 March. He will then have to wait to see if he is invited to represent Australia at the International Mathematical Olympiad – the pinnacle of competition between students of pre-university level from different countries. However, Jason and Daren are no strangers to the waiting game. The clever duo is also awaiting news of selection in the Australian Chemistry Olympiad Team after attending an intensive chemistry school at the Australian National University during the school holidays. While the boys completed their practical exam whilst in Canberra, they are yet to sit their final qualifying exam, from which the top four students will be selected for the International Chemistry Olympiad in Hungary in July.

A number of Christ Church students were honoured in recognition of high performance in three major mathematics contests. The School's results in the Australian Competition for the Westpac Awards, the Australian Intermediate Mathematics Olympiad Competition and the Mathematics Olympiad Senior Competition this year were outstanding. Five Christ Church boys earned prizes awarded to less than one-third of one percent of entrants in the Westpac Competition, which attracts more than 500,000 entrants. These boys were Year 8s Joseph Di Francesco and Weiyuan Fan, Year 9s Harry Breidahl and Thomas Drake-Brockman, and Year 11 Jason Kong. A further 32 boys achieved high distinctions, placing them in the top two percent of all competitors. Four Christ Church boys achieved distinctions in the Australian Intermediate Mathematics Olympiad, a competition for about 300 invited Year 10 students throughout Australia. This placed students Robert Buttner, Patrick Dyer, Ben McAllister and Weiwen Weng in the top 100 of that group. Three Christ Church boys were invited to participate in the Australian Mathematics Olympiad Senior Mathematics Contest, a competition for only 78 invited Year 11 students at the highest national level. The students Kaledas Flintoff, Jason Kong (in the top eight) and Bo An Lu (in the top 20) are to be highly commended for their efforts.

The School recognised some outstanding performances in Mathematics during 2008. Christ Church took out the junior and senior divisions of the Mathematical Association of WA's 2008 Interschool Have Sum Fun team's competition. The junior team took first place from a field of 30 schools while the senior team won the northern division as well as the Larry Blakers Award for the top performance in the State. The winning junior team comprised Patrick Dyer and Ben McAllister (Year 10), Harry Breidahl and Guy Coleman (Year 9), Alistair Morgan and Samuel Morgan (Year 8). The senior team included Daren Tan, Sandip Mukhopadhyay and Shrimal Fernando (Year 12), Jason Kong, Bo An Lu and Joseph Wong (Year 11). Earlier this year, Jason Kong and Daren Tan tackled the Australian Mathematical Olympiad – a contest open to the top 100 mathematics students in Australia. Jason finished in the top 25 and was awarded a silver certificate while Daren made the top 50, earning a bronze certificate. At an even higher level, Jason was one of 30 students in Australia invited to compete in the Asian Pacific Mathematics Olympiad in March.

SCIENCE

Six Christ Church chemistry students were commended for high achievement in the Australian National Chemistry Quiz. The boys, who were placed in the top 800 of almost 130,000 entrants in the competition, were awarded plaques for their efforts. These were presented by Dr Scott Stewart from the School of Biomedical, Biomolecular and Chemical Sciences at UWA. Chemistry student Winston Kint will also be presented with a Certificate of Excellence for achieving the perfect score.

Year 12 student Sandeepan Mukhopadhyay attended the National Youth Science Forum in Canberra. Sandeepan, who was nominated to attend the summer school by Christ Church and sponsored by his local Rotary Club, joined more than 140 students from around the country at the Australian National University (ANU) for the two-week programme. The forum gave students a rare opportunity to meet some of Australia's leading researchers in the laboratories they work in. "We also got to see what university courses were on offer and found out about several others, which I never knew existed," he said. Talks by university staff and past students from the programme offered an insight into the dynamic career paths available after gaining a science or engineering degree. "The forum was an amazing experience," he said. "Not only did it allow me to see groundbreaking research, understand universities, their courses and university life, it also gave me a great network of friends across Australia." Sandeepan hopes to study mechanical engineering in Perth followed by a post-graduate in aeronautical engineering at the ANU in Canberra.

PSA SPORT

Rowing	First (Head of the River)
Rowing	Third (Hamer Cup)

Rain could not dampen Christ Church's parade as the School's First VIII rowed to Head of the River glory – 50 years since it first won the prestigious event. The First VIII crew, including Alex McMillan, Tavis Harling, Johnno Payne, Felix Clarke, Jasper Harding, Alex Payne, Breffny O'Shea (Captain of Boats), Andrew Summerlin and coxon Charlie Peter, won the Challenge Cup from rivals Trinity by 7.3 seconds. Wesley, then Aquinas and Hale, followed in a tight tussle for third place. Three members of the first Christ Church crew to win the Head of the River in 1958 braved the elements to support the boys. David Evans, visiting from the UK; David Smallwood, of Esperance; and John Deutscher had attended their 50-year reunion at the School the night before. The 2008 VIII, coached by Laurie Anderson, went in as the pre-race favourites after winning the four regattas leading into the event. Trinity collected the Hamer Cup for the best-performed school followed by Scotch and Christ Church. Other strong results on the day included the Year 9A and 9B IVs, who finished in fourth place; the Year 10A VIII, First Quads and Second Quads finished second and the Second and Third Vllls finished third. Director of Rowing Steve Saunders said it was the fifth time in seven years that Christ Church had won the race. "I was very proud of their determination and the way they rowed on the day – especially the efforts of the First VIII," Mr Saunders said. The day may also long be remembered as the final Head of the River regatta to be raced on the Canning River course if the PSA moves the regatta to the Champion Lakes International Regatta Course in Armadale next year.

Athletics Seventh

The CCGS Athletics Team completed the PSA Athletics Carnival in an honourable seventh place but with a first-class attitude and many personal bests on the day. Teacher-in-charge Luke Farmer said while the overall score was disappointing, Sam Foster, Lucas Fisher, Will Brogan, Siyang Zhang, Patrick Dyer, Daniele Milio, Nick Maschmedt, Luke Davies and Peter Schurmann produced some strong performances. Well done also to the Year 12 4x100m Relay team, which finished third. Award winners for the 2008 PSA Athletics season:

Mr Farmer thanked Mr Lynch, Mr Dwyer, Mr McPartland, Mr Miles and Mr Armstrong for their coaching and support of the boys in the lead up to the event. "Also Tim Maguire, Captain of Athletics, and his leadership team including Charlie Peter, Michael Smart and Sam Smart for a job well done," he said.

Sailing Second

Christ Church sailed into its seventh consecutive victory in the SunSmart YWA Secondary Schools Teams Racing Championships during the school holidays. Eighteen teams from 15 schools around the State competed in the three-day event hosted by South of Perth Yacht Club. The CCGS A Team claimed the grand final just ahead of a gallant Scotch College, who were undefeated during the round robin phase. CBC Fremantle followed in third place, Rossmoyne SHS in fourth and the CCGS B Team in fifth. Officials managed to complete the 130 races required for the round robin phase despite conditions ranging from idyllic through to periods of no wind. Director of Sailing Patrick Marshall said the team was very happy with their performance. "The result was a reflection of the all the hard work they put in over the term," he said. The A team, led by Sailing Captain David Gilmour (Year 12), included Leo Showell (Year 11), Samuel Gilmour (Year 10), Jamie Turner (Year 10), Patrick Sims (Year 11) and Alex Knight (Year 9). Members of the B team were Mitchell Barns (Year 12), Andres Noe (Year 12), Ben Colquhoun (Year 11), Tom Morrissy (Year 9), Zac Riccelli-Evangelisti (Year 10) and Tim Sandhu (Year 12). In the grand final, Christ Church won the first race 8-13 with Scotch hitting back to take the second 7-14. Racing was very tight in the final race with Christ Church scrambling to the line to beat Scotch 7-14. Both schools earned themselves an invitation to represent WA at the Australian Schools Team Racing Championships in Sydney in July.

The CCGS Sailing Team missed out on a top three finish at the 2008 Australian Schools Team Racing Championships in Sydney. Christ Church, who finished third in 2007 and first in 2006, were placed a respectable fourth in the regatta where lack of wind resulted in just two days of racing with only 13 races completed. Director of Sailing Patrick Marshall said the team had performed extremely well and was in a good position to take a top spot had the final day of racing at Woollahra Sailing Club not been cancelled. Another challenge for the boys was racing in a new type of boat.

"The boys competed in RS Fevas – an English boat used for the first time in this regatta," Mr Marshall said. "They held their own and handled the challenge like professionals." The team, including David Gilmour (Year 12), James Turner (Year 10), Samuel Gilmour (Year 10), Alastair Campbell (Year 12), Mitchell Barns (Year 12), Patrick Sims (Year 11) and reserve Zac Riccelli-Evangelisti (Year 10), had its share of wins and losses over the two days of racing. "When spirits were down, the boys held their heads high and remained positive, learning from their mistakes," Mr Marshall said. "I am extremely proud of how they conducted themselves in the regatta. They are a credit to the School and their State." The final results were The Hutchins School (TAS) in first place, followed by St Virgil's College (TAS), Brisbane Boys' College (QLD), Christ Church (WA) and Scotch (WA). Christ Church earned an invitation to represent WA at the event after winning the WA Schools Team Racing Championships in April.

SCHOOL RECORDS

Yacht Club represented Australia as the third team. All members of the team are under 21 which would normally place them in the youth category. Competition rules state that only two youth teams from each country are eligible to compete and this forced the Third Australian team to compete in the Open category. American or English teams traditionally win the regatta and this year was no different. The Perth based team finished fourth in the Open division behind USA, England and New Zealand. Given the average age of team members, this position also made them the top youth team competing at the championships. The Worlds will be held in Perth in early 2009 and the team is aiming to win this regatta giving Australia its first gold medal in the event.

PSA Swimming First

The CCGS Swimming Team's 2008 season culminated in the ultimate prize when it won the PSA interschool swimming carnival at Challenge Stadium. CCGS, who last won in 1995, held off second-placed Wesley College by 54 points to win the Champion School's cup with a total of 856. Hale School finished in third place on 679, followed by Trinity (668), Scotch (570), Aquinas (543) and Guildford (380). The team, led by swimming captain Lawrence Ward (Yr 12), collected three other major trophies on the night. The under 16, division 1 medley relay team, including Michael Palleros (Yr 11), Luke Basson (Yr 11), Ben Swallow (Yr 11), and Richard O'Halloran (Yr 11), won the Van Hazel Team Trophy for the best relay team in a time of 2.01.64. Alex Woodman (Yr 12) was awarded the Jack Mah Cup for the best first division competitor finishing second in the 100m freestyle, second in the 100m backstroke, third in the 50m butterfly and swimming backstroke in the first-placed medley relay team. Sam Foster (Yr 9) collected the McCarthy Family Trophy for the most improved swimmer over the PSA season swimming. Other trophies awarded on the night included:
